Louis Missouri this will be taking place Saturday May 31st 2014 this is a one-time-only all-day seminar and it's going to be taking place at the arden mead center the arden mead center which is at 17 Selma Avenue in st. Louis Missouri the doors will open at 9 o'clock a.m. I will begin the morning session of the seminar at approximately 9:30 a.m. and go for about three hours and then there will be a lunch break for an hour and a half beginning at 12:30 the afternoon session will begin at about 2:00 p.m. and then there will be a go for another three hours to complete the the lecture component and then there will be an extended question and answer session starting at 5:00 p.m. for this all-day event advance tickets are only $20 a $20 donation and at the door tickets are only a $25 donation you can get advance tickets by calling three one three four eight eight four four five four once again for advanced tickets to the st. Louis seminar right here on the air today we're gonna do a little trivia contest while I'll be asking some questions and please um you know when you call in after i given the call-in number when you call in later when we do this trivia only take the trivia questions only attempt to answer the trivia questions if you are planning on going to the seminar in st. Louis if you are capable of going to and you are actually going to use the tickets that's what the trivia little contest tonight is going to be for so we'll we'll be doing that a little bit later in the show ladies and gentlemen you're not going to want to miss next week's broadcast of what on earth is happening because for the first time next week my very special guest right here on what on earth is happening is going to be the legendary Jordan Maxwell and I'm really excited to be able to make that announcement that is going to be my guest for next Saturday night April 26th right here on what on earth is happening Jordan is uh someone who I consider a personal mentor with his information and we are going to be talking about his view on non-human intelligence and its possible interactions with our species we're going to be getting Jordans take on human origins and in general the future of humanity so really excited to be able to bring Jordan onto the show next week also we're going to be talking about the unfortunate situation that Jordan has been going through of late people have actually co-opted his name and have been harassing him and trying to attempt them to stop putting out the information that he's been putting out for many years so he'll be able to come forward and talk about that situation a little bit next week so those are the event announcements I have I want to give the calling number for today's show the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening is 803 one three nine four four three once again the calling number to join us 800 three one 390 443 okay let's uh let's see I also wanted to mention that there is a support donation button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening comm website if you feel you've gained value from the information I have shared throughout the course of this radio show feel free to make a voluntary donation by clicking that button on the left hand side of the website so I want to direct everyone to ten into the water on earth is happening dot-com radio show page where as always during the live broadcasts I put underneath the player on the radio show page that's the radio show tab of the website images for tonight's show they are listed as numerical links and if you click on them it brings up a small slideshow that you could follow along with the slides that I've prepared for the concepts and ideas I'll be discussing on tonight's show so the main topic for tonight is going to be how does scientism see the process of evolutionary development versus how have many different mystery traditions and mystery schools over time seen this same process and how do these things compare and how do they contrast how are they alike and how are these concepts as discussed by these two schools of thought drastically different from each other so on the radio show page and with the podcast and again this will be podcast number 152 image number one was simply the poster the flyer for my streetwise spirituality lecture in seminar in st. Louis that's there you could feel free to share that on any website or social media or print it up for whoever you might know who might be able to attend image number two is this very simple chart that I have built regarding two forces that are at work in our lives at all times and places these are the two forces that are essentially at work in the universe all around us at all times one is the force that moves us forward one is the force that holds us back we'll pick that up on the other side of the break we'll be right back [Music] [Music] and [Music] [Music] by postmark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the topic for tonight's show is how the ancient mystery schools saw the force of evolution and how they how their worldview regarding this force was different than the way scientism sees the evolutionary force at work in the world specifically through the theories of Charles Darwin and how that's been applied in our modern world particularly through what is known as social Darwinism so slide number two I made a very simple chart or you know just a graph of these two forces and what they involve and on the left hand side you'll see that in the green coloring I've put the force of evolution there and directed arrows moving from left to right the same direction that we you know write text in here in the Western world and you know that's supposed to represent that it's moving forward it's moving from something that is lesser to something that is greater it's moving from someplace that is less advanced to a place that's more advanced and it's moving in a forward progression so that's really what evolution is all about it's about forward movement the word itself comes from the term to unfurl or to unfold to roll out is literally what the word means it means to roll out okay so evolution is an expansive force in creation and you know just as a brief aside I just want to say I'm covering this topic because it seems that the universe wants me to really talk about this because of synchronicities that have happened to me in my life over the past several weeks everything keeps coming back to people's view of what real evolution is in in my life when I'm speaking to people and it seems that one of the major things that are holding back people's worldview in life and holding them in a state of mind control and unconsciousness is their completely erroneous notion of what evolution is based on their religious acceptance of the Darwinian theory of evolution proposed and propagated by scientism and when you see how rigid what how absolutely rigidly they are attached to this belief system and it is only a belief system because it is only a theory and has never been 100% factually proven scientifically as I said last week on the show macro biological macro biological Darwinian theory has never been borne out in the fossil record it is still only a theoretical approach to how biological organisms propagate themselves in diffuse into the future and preserve their their genes and advance their genes and while I would say that I tend to agree with some of the concepts contained in Darwinistic theory like adaptation natural selection things like that I don't subscribe to macro biological Darwinian evolutionary theory that prop propagates the notion that a species becomes a completely different species and then there's a bunch of transitional fossil species in the fossil record the reason I don't subscribe to that is because the main thing that would espouse and support that theory would be evidence in the fossil record there would be many transitional species found in the fossil record for all kinds of species and the evidence just doesn't support that claim especially for human beings most of all for human beings there is not one bone in the so-called hominid ancestors of humanity that is present in any human skeleton that has ever been uncovered on the face of the earth okay so there's many more why I feel it doesn't hold as much water as people think that it doesn't put as much faith in it as other people do which we will get into in the future but the reason I'm bringing this up is because the topics that I'm going to go into in the future on this show coming in future weeks are going to be very dependent on a view of evolution it is going to be about what is better what is worse what really propagates progress what really holds back progress these are really the forces that we're talking about as have been taught by again ancient philosophical traditions ancient wisdom traditions what we really have to see these two forces on this slide as evolution and involution I'm speaking of are the one force that helps us to move forward and then the other force is simply what holds us back and is working against our unfolding okay and against our expanding all right it's that what shuts us down this involution Airy force so let's look at some of the differences between these two forces and how they work against each other the evolutionary force again is the force of forward progression and creation within the universe it is that which is moving things according to the will of creation okay it is moving things in an orderly progression forward in betterment in greater levels of order and complexity conversely the involution Airy force is that which is working to create stagnation it is where it is a degenerating force it breaks things down it doesn't order things it breaks them down okay and it separates and it divides the evolutionary force is sin tropic now many people will never have heard that term it is the opposite of entropy centra P is what scientists have postulated as meaning the ordering force in creation it is that which is the opposite of entropy scientists refer to this as negative entropy because they didn't have a real opposite for entropy we an entropy again is the chaotic force or the force that creates disorder in a system or breaks things down and we see that you just leave something to the default conditions and how it it is already and things become more and more disorderly I mean you don't you don't do anything within a house within a living space for months or years it becomes absolutely you know there is just total breakdown of order things become dirty things become dusty there's just things become chaotic disordered eventually all matter works toward that tendency the tendency to break down the the entropic tendency entropy is always at work in the universe it is a force that is 100% continuously operating through time and as time moves forward and Trippi keeps you know exerting itself and breaking things down further but there is this other force that is actually counter balancing entropy it's called centra P so that's the evolutionary force it is thus entropic force within creation that means that it is the ordering force it is the thing that creates higher levels of order and it does this through will again this is how the occult schools see these two forces it isn't just something that just magically happens it occurs through the will of intelligence that exists within the universe it's not something that is working like clockwork the involution Airy force is something that just works like clockwork okay that works without an intelligent organizing principle behind it it's just there by its nature okay that works against this evolutionary force to provide some pressure or some kind of feedback or something to just give it something to push against okay so and again that's that law of compensation and that law of rhythm that we've talked about when we went over you know the principles that underlie natural so we'll pick this up this breakdown up on the other side of the break stay with us everyone [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to warm on earth is happening under host mark passio before the break we were talking about the difference between the two universal forces that are really always at work in our lives as discussed and propagated by ancient wisdom traditions throughout human history they were referred to in occult schools as the force of evolution versus the force of involution again involution is a term not many people may have heard about or seen unless they have looked into a cult schools of philosophy but we were discussing what evolution does and it is the ordering force within creation because it is driven by intelligence it is driven by holistic intelligence it is driven by will and it is something that creates greater levels of complexity and diversity conversely involution is the stagnation force it is the force which wants the whole back worth for forward movement forward progress creation and is it wants to degenerate things now degeneration right in the word you have the word genera genera okaythat's comes from the latin verb genera which means to make or to create so to degenerate means to do the opposite of to create it's to destroy or to break down as such involution is the entropic force the force that goes against ordering it creates chaos and it creates disorder within any given system it is always looking to create lex less complexity by breaking down things down into their more simple constituent forms and until there is absolute uniformity within the system and this is where I would say science agrees these points that we've made so far modern science would agree that that's what these two forces basically do if the even what they wouldn't call it involution they would simply refer to it as an for but up to this point we have agreement between the worlds of spirituality or occult schools of thought if you will and modern-day science now where I'm going to get into a big dichotomy that the whole notion of Darwinistic evolutionary theory completely leaves out is in these next three categories and then we'll conclude this chart by looking at you know what is the end goal what is the end result so I would say that and again as taught by you know a myriad of mystery tradition schools of thought evolution actually contains within it the advancement of consciousness it is always creating more consciousness because it is creating more complexity and order that's what consciousness is all about okay consciousness is the ability to recognize something that has taken place the ability to become aware the ability to see patterns of what's taking place not only within oneself but in the environment in which the self is operating okay and then as a result of that consciousness you have the ability to then use the will to create more order and and create more complex forms and more diversity and the process continues to unfold and again that's ultimately what were is completely left out of the Darwinistic notion of evolution because it leaves out freewill it leaves consciousness at the door okay consciousness doesn't even enter into the equation when it comes to people thinking about this from a scientific perspective okay it's just about matter and genes propagating okay like clockwork like that this Newtonian worldview clockwork mechanism mechanistic view of reality of nature of science okay consciousness doesn't play a role in that so this is where it completely diverges from science the scientific definition of evolution okay and as a result of more consciousness when you are able to see patterns when you're able to recognize the differences between things and then choose by will that which is going to advance you forward okay that which is going to create more order more complexity more diversity more advancement of consciousness what you are going to then understand more about and then choose between and then develop more of is moral behavior so there is more morality morality more morality as the evolutionary force progresses or in other words as we are becoming more and more evolved that by definition means that we are becoming more and more moral as a people so without true morality without consciousness and morality I would say and all of the ancient traditions that attempted to teach wisdom to human beings taught and concurred that that force of evolution would have to contain within it morality and consciousness or it wasn't evolution at all it was nothing of the kind it was exactly the opposite it was involution it was stagnation and it was degeneration so again this is where Darwin and the theories and the people who have adopted his theories and have propped up his theories as religious dogma will never touch will never go near and you hear people kicking around the term evolution evolution you know and they're really not understanding what true evolution is all about what they're doing is they're ascribing the Darwinian worldview of evolution to the actual force that is at work in nature and by leaving morality out of the equation they think that just if something physically survives and propagates its genes that that means that it's evolving that is not what real evolution is okay or if you want to call it simply evolution as taught by ancient wisdom traditions that is not how they saw nor is it how I see the Neri force at work in our lives at all whatsoever so when we have these qualities and we're developing them and they're coming from more order they're coming from more complexity they're coming from forward progress in creation that being consciousness and morality the the result that goes to work in our lives as a species that has the capacity for holistic intelligence what we receive as a result of that is more freedom now what will more freedom produce in our lives it will again play right back into that system like a feedback loop we have more freedom we have more ability to create more order there's more we're going to be able to create new things there's gonna be more complexity and diversity and cult in the culture amongst the species therefore consciousness the ability to recognize patterns and meaning with respect to those patterns is going to increase and as such we're going to be able to more clearly see the difference between right and wrong and then choose the right over the wrong and increase morality and then keep increasing freedom as a result because you could see this is a snowballing effect or is you know it is a feedback loop that feeds back into itself okay conversely the force of involution does exactly the opposite it is always breaking consciousness down through fear because that's what it does it breaks things down it is the entropic force which ultimately creates nothing but chaos and it creates less complexity okay and it breaks things down into their constituent elements okay and when we're applying this in the sense of consciousness what that means is it's always instilling greater amounts of fear so therefore there is less consciousness there is less ability to recognize patterns and meaning and therefore people are not going to be able to distinguish things because they're not going to be really thinking clearly okay and again these things that I've put in brackets here okay to make this very clear these are the forces once again that were the qualities I should say regarding these two forces that are left out by a scientism by the Darwinian view of evolution and/or involution and/or entropy if you want to call involution entropy and these apply to beings with the capacity for holistic intelligence I want to make that absolutely abundantly clear should have put that on the slide but again I just wanted to make this a simple chart without you know too much clutter okay the things that are in the brackets apply to intelligent beings they don't apply to the beings with less complexity and more uniformity that's why they don't apply to single celled organisms okay single celled organisms goal is to evolve eventually into point where they develop more complexity more diversity and evolved to larger beings okay therefore they would have the capacity for more consciousness see that's where we cross the line between biological evolutionary progression okay these four that are not bracketed at the top of the list these four qualities that are not bracketed into the realm of true holistic intelligence or again you don't want to say it's definitely holistic intelligence but it is the capacity for holistic intelligence because human I wouldn't apply that term to humanity humanity is not a holistically intelligent species not yet where some of us are trying to work our way toward that end goal to become a truly holistically intelligent being okay and then propagate that to all other beings in our cult in our society and make it a truly holistically intelligent society but that's not what we are right now by any stretch of anybody's imagination if you if you think that I think you're extraordinarily naive human being okay we have the capacity though for that holistic intelligence we'll pick this up on the other side of the break stay with us everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening okay folks were back in listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're talking about evolution versus involution these ancient these Universal competing forces that the mystery schools of the ancient world broke down and helped to try to help humanity to understand that these forces were always at work in our lives and that they they governed the free will decisions regarding how we choose to behave and what we get as a result okay when we think about evolution in scientism terms in Darwinistic terms it leaves consciousness at the door it doesn't even consider morality as having to do with evolutionary progression of a species like us that is gifted with the capacity for holistic intelligence it looks at things in a clockwise mechanistic mechanical robotic dead lifeless sense which is an ancient as far as I'm concerned and I don't mean ancient and meaning like you know spanning Aeons of time back I mean as outdated fossilized and completely no longer viable view of a scientific paradigm this is a Newtonian paradigm that has long since been really completely disproven and blown out of the water by modern scientific thought and you know the problem is that these new modalities of science really don't reach the public's eyes and ears certainly not with any level of intensity or level of import you know that that they need to be reaching people so when a new science emerges in the modern world it usually takes somewhere between 15 and 20 years for people in the to even really hear about its findings and that gap is now widening it's not shortening as science you know moves forward and progresses and starts to learn new things about how the world really operates more and more people are trapped in old world views and old notions that have long since been disproven and you know that gap is now probably closer to 25 30 maybe even 40 years amazingly even in the information era so to go back to this chart that we were breaking down this is image number 2 on the wall on earth is happening calm radio show page or with the podcast the three fields here that we're looking at that completely diverged when it comes to seeing evolution in the occult sense versus seeing evolution in the modern day scientists ence is consciousness morality and freedom does the evolutionary force have to do with these qualities of human beings of human behavior and I would suggest that they absolutely have to do with those qualities 100% definitely the more consciousness the more morality the more freedom the more we are moving forward that's what it means to evolve and progress okay and that's what advances human beings survival or the survival of intelligent species or again species with the capacity for true intelligence okay so the involution Airy force conversely when there is less consciousness that is you know unconsciousness at work not being able to see the patterns being rooted in fear and then not being able to really tell the difference between things to distinguish to discern okay which is what real higher-order thinking is about it is about discernment and being able to make a delineation between things that are truly different from each other and we need to do that when it comes to behavior when it comes to right versus wrong behavior which we've talked about endlessly here on the show when we do that there will be more freedom if we choose the right over the wrong conversely if we are allowing involution to take its course and we're not evolving our consciousness we are not progressing in morality that will result in less freedom okay this is the law of freedom at work through natural law as morality increases freedom increases and as morality declines freedom declines ultimately you know and where this branches back into I guess you could call it an agreement of scientism is that the evolutionary force is what advances survival and the involution Airy force or the entropic force is what advances extinction or prevents survival but what I want to bring up here is just survival the ultimate goal of evolution si is a physical survival the ultimate goal of evolution I agree that survival is one of the goals of evolution but it is survival in a more advanced form okay not just biological survival in completely entropic and disorderly and chaotic and conditions that promote more and more suffering and really if you're just biologically surviving in conditions like that is that true evolution is that true progress is that forward progress I would certainly state no it is not forward progress it is anything but so when you get rooted in the whole it's nothing about propagating genes thing okay which is what I am hearing more and more about what people think evolutionary evolution is it's only about propagating our genes it's only about propagating DNA it's about natural selection so that the genes can be propagated into the future in the future time well that's not necessarily what evolution really means ladies and gentlemen it doesn't just mean biological survival something can be biologically surviving and degenerating simultaneously the true meaning of evolution is forward progress you are progressing from the to the complex you are progressing from the uniform tonight the diverse you are progressing from less consciousness to more consciousness you are progressing from less morality to more morality you are progressing from less understanding to more understanding you're progressing from animalistic behavior to truly civilized human behavior you're progressing from less freedom to more freedom you're progressing from less willpower to more willpower and I could go on and on there is a distinguishment there is a delineation there is one thing that is not as good and one thing that is better it is about forward progress from the bad to the good literally and there's so many people who are trapped in this Darwinistic worldview when it comes to what this force means that it only means the propagation of biological material you know anything can do that that doesn't necessarily mean it's more evolved just because it survived doesn't mean it's evolved once again can't you imagine the condition where something survives and degenerates and or and or stagnates even though it's continuing to survive what's the point of survival if you're not really making forward progress in consciousness if you're not making forward progress in morality I would certainly say you're not truly evolving then if that's the case and this is how the ancient wisdom schools taught evolution to their you know acolytes and adherence they were trying to explain there yes there's biological evolution that's at work but only up to a point then when something develops the capacity for true intelligence and being able to choose and having developing true freewill you're not just the creature of biological instinct you're more than that you've developed the capacity for holistic thought both logical thought reasoned thought mathematical and scientific thought as well as intuitive thought creative thought compassionate thought nurturing thoughts okay there there there both of these forms come together to create intelligence that's why people in the modern world and in scientism unfortunately only equate mostly intelligence with intellect in the modern day you know that's they have intelligence quotient and it's all about verbal and math skills well that where's the compassion where's the creativity that has nothing to do with holistic intelligence that's intellect quotient an IQ test that's what it should be called it shouldn't be called an intelligence quotient it should be called an intellect quotient then it would be highly more accurate you know but you're leaving out the right brain hemisphere you're leaving out the the feminine component to the consciousness you're leaving out the right brain qualities you're leaving out creativity you're leaving out compassion you're leaving out nurturing you're leaving out intuition you're leaving out common sense you're leaving out morality okay so that's where the word generate to create comes from the creative side of the mind that's why you have to put that together with the intellect to create intelligence Intelli is intellect and jens's creativity that's why it's called intelligence ladies and gentlemen it's right there in the word so we'll pick this up and move forward with a discussion about genetics versus epigenetics when we come back after this quick break we'll be right back [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone who listens you what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm into the second hour of tonight's broadcast let me give the callin number once again callin number to join us you could talk about anything you want ask any questions you want to ask and we're I'm also gonna start the trivia questions and I'll read that the first question right after I give the callin number the calling number is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again the calling number to join us 831 three ninety four forty three we're going to have a trivia contest the prize is four tickets to the st. Louis seminar that I'll be conducting in st. Louis Missouri on May 31st called streetwise spirituality for tickets these four tickets were purchased and donated for giveaway on tonight's show by Jo from Kansas City so Jo from Kansas City thank you so much for that very generous donation of that very generous act to give tickets away to four lucky individuals and we'll make you work for it not too hard the questions won't be exceedingly difficult but if you've been listening to what on earth is happening or you know just have taken in some general knowledge about the occult and wisdom tradition teachings throughout the world it should be a piece of cake I'll read the first trivia question when I take calls if you want to answer please only answer the trivia question I'll ask you if you are going to attempt to answer it but I want the people to answer it who are capable of attending we're not trying to give tickets away and then they go to waste we want people to attend the actual seminar so if you're not planning on attending if you can't travel to st. Louis or if you're not in the st. Louis area around May 31st of this year please don't answer the trivia question okay I want to make that abundantly clear so we'll take some calls after I wrap up with a couple more slides I don't have too many more slides but I just want to breach the next topic which is genetics versus epigenetic and this ties hand-in-hand with evolution versus involution and there's a reason I'm bringing this up and hopefully in future weeks this will make a whole lot of sense why I did this at this time I know people are really hungry to hear more information on human interaction with non-human intelligence and I am going to get very deeply into that on future shows this topic however is going to play essentially into that information and knowledge okay because what I'm really going to be talking about and postulating and looking at evidence for by you know many researchers who have uncovered evidence throughout time by ancient scriptural texts that have been left down meticulously preserved and handed down from generation to generation by our ancestors to tell us stories about what happened in our ancient past I'm going to be telling a overall enactment okay a general series of events that happened in the ancient past dealing with the hijacking of our species dealing with the genetic modification of our species dealing with the willful and deliberate interjection in the natural evolutionary course of development that our species was undergoing and then D railing it from that evolutionary progression by other intelligent beings that are not human and again there's a lot of ancient accounts that discuss this and there's a lot of evidence for it in the in the ancient world and in the modern world as well the problem is people have a particular worldview that they're attached to and therefore they don't want to look at the evidence they don't want to look at any evidence they want to say I have a religion and this told me all about where we came from and therefore evidence be damned or they want to say I follow science I'm a worshipper at the altar of scientism the priests and the white lab coats didn't tell me anything about that you know you know I never heard anything about that from my anthropology professor and you're not going to either you know because there are paradigm protectors there are people out there trying to protect a paradigm all religionists are every religion wants to protect its paradigm they're not interested in truth truth is the last thing anybody who's an adherent of religion once they don't want truth they want reinforcement for their religion they don't want to look at where the evidence leads they don't want to adjust their worldview accordingly based on new evidence being brought to light you know they just want to say this is what I believe because this is what makes me comfortable this is what I'm most comfortable hearing even if the truth is highly disturbing the people who really are seeking truth will go there and they will take it in and they won't accept it blindly they'll look at the evidence they'll filter it they'll decide does that make sense does that fit or is that contradictive and does it not fit that's what the process of truth discovery is all about it's about going where the evidence leads looking at what's actually there not just believing in something and unfortunately modern science has become just another religion that's why I call it scientism and not real science because these people are just protecting a worldview they're not going where evidence leads they're not looking at what's there often what happens in anthropology and archeology if actual real-world physical evidence contradicts the long-standing stories of these traditions you know what happens to it it gets buried not literally buried back in the ground but it gets buried in a basement in some University Museum you know or some historical museum somewhere never to be seen again you know put in a box marked as an anomaly a couple of researchers had ever had their eyes on it this doesn't fit in with our paradigm we have no way of no mechanism for explaining this anomaly and therefore can't show that to the public no way you know the public gets different ideas about the story that actually happened here in the world in our world that the we say happened in the ancient past there goes my tenure can't have that my paycheck would dry up you know I might have only one Lexus in the garage instead of three you know how dare we go where the truth leads where the evidence leads not possible this is the ego that currently controls science ladies and gentlemen they're not conducting real science never have been never have been it's a religion just like any other you know that this you know calls to mind this whole argument between you know when it comes to evolution okay is it macro biological Darwinian evolution or is it creation did God just make it all happen you know never thinking that there's some third position or a fourth or a fifth or sixth you know it's just these two dichotomies these these polarities warring with each other that do nothing but but ultimately create more strength from the paradigm protectors just to keep more and more people off the path of truth that's all it's really about that's all protecting these two paradigms of Darwinian macro biological evolution versus you know God did it all you know suddenly spontaneously spontaneous creation you know we don't want to think that it evolution could just be a continuous force beginning from you know time immemorial forever forgetting having no beginning forget a beginning you know and just progressing continuously and simultaneously working against it is a counter force a counter balancing force that occultists have termed involution and what it's all about is consciousness and consciousness can have abs and flows this can have peaks and valleys to its wave of propagation we can become more conscious at one time and then less conscious at another depending on what happens depending on what ideas were propagated depending on what may have happened us in relationship to other species depending on what natural events may have occurred on the planet that were have we happen to be living on all of these factors play into things you know we don't want to look at it holistically like that we want to say real simple oh no it's just a mechanized force or God did it all see how childish and yoonah dimensional that is I personally think it is but you know a lot of people are just rigidly attached to their belief systems and that's all I'm here to do I'm trying to put something out there to get people to see something in a little bit different of a perspective and maybe that perspective might make a whole lot more sense than anything that they've been clinging to and believing in all these years maybe it just might so let me give the first trivia question and then people could you know start actually well we'll do that right on the other side of this break since there's the intro music [Applause] [Music] all right right at the top of this segment let me give the first trivia question for the night and the correct the first call or the calls in that wants to attend the st. Louis seminar and can actually attend the seminar that gives the correct answer to this question will win a free ticket to my May 31st seminar in st. Louis Missouri the question is name the titles of the first three degrees of Freemasonry I want the titles of the Blue Lodge degrees of masonry that's the first trivia question fairly simple we'll start the mise Ian get a little bit harder as things go on not too much but that's the first question for the night if you want to try to win tickets call one number to join us eight hundred thirty one three ninety four forty three let's go right to the phones in this segment let's hear from Dylan in Washington Dylan you're live on what on earth is happening and the first question I want to ask you is are you going to attempt to answer the trivia question and win a ticket to the st. Louis seminar I will not I okay far away not a problem what do you have for us here tonight well I got two things and your evolution involution slide here pop something into my head I majored in chemistry in college yes and I wouldn't necessarily call myself a chemist because I believe I got taught a bunch of crap but you mentioned that modern science seems to have have both this entropic and sin tropics yes and it seems to fall out of the way when we get into this Darwinian evolution thing and I just remembered my science classes there was just this huge push and I didn't take a lot of physics because this is more in physics than it is in chemistry right that there's only entropy yes everything is getting more and more disordered and there's nothing we can do about it and the fact that we're all alive is totally incomprehensible yeah and nothing could be further from the truth because there there certainly is an ordering force within creation it's called consciousness it's called will it's called true care you know it it involves everything that we are capable of if we put those gifts to use if we put those gifts of creation to use we can become a centric force within creation through our consciousness definitely and and I just wanted to point out that this Darwinian like mechanistic degradation to rubble right really seems to persist in the other sciences as well yes absolutely yeah I agree it's a really great point you know they're only teaching one side of this and saying that's all that exists you know and this other forces and even out there yeah that's why it took so long for scientists to even name this force to postulate a name at the ordering force and it's been called Sentra P or extra P some other scientists refer to it as extra P I like Sentra the the force of Sentra P thus entropic force personally but I just call it the ordering force that's all it's the force that has intelligence as its underlying ordering principle that's how I look at it so yeah really great point did you want to say anything else yes the second thing I wanted to bring up was so a week well you haven't gotten too far into epigenetics yet right what maybe you don't want to answer this quite yet and do it a little bit later it's okay go right ahead like personal looking at yourself and dealing with yourself at the genetics what are like specific techniques for giving over like your own body prison because I mean these beliefs put your yourself in the prison of your own body sure because they'll don't curtail certain behaviors they'll curtail actions that you could be taking you know if you have a hold a certain belief that's going to ultimately affect your behavior and you know that that could have to do with diet that could have to do with exercise that can have to do with activism it could have to do with a whole range of things going on in your life you know and it could hold you back from doing so much techniques well of course employing all of the three modes of thought both concentration meditation and contemplation simultaneously I mean not at the same time but using them all in your life to create balance to create holistic balance in the brain hemispheres you know engaging in scientific thought reading about science you know studying you know all kinds of different scientific disciplines also then getting into studying natural law you know studying about morality you know really understanding that difference looking into consciousness looking into emotional qualities you name the field of endeavor but it has to be balanced that has to be a balanced approach so my real answer that question is anything that is conducive to balance you you want to become a generalist you want to but you also want to be able to develop laser-like focus to okay you want to engage the right brain hemispheres hemispherical modalities of compassion intuition creativity art can help do that music can help do that but you also want to you know be versed in mathematics and be versed in other physical sciences you know to ground yourself and that's left brain thought so anything that promotes holistic thought processes is one of the things that can really help us to get over anything happening in the bodily sense or in the the gene code sense I would also say there's specific other specific techniques like EFT acupuncture and acupressure I mean there's things dealing with actual energy work in the body to what you can do I don't specifically specialize in those but I know a bit about them and one of the things I am going to do when it comes to this is just explain to people how the mechanism of epigenetics works and put people on to a specific researcher that I think his name is dr. Bruce Lipton and he I think studying his work specifically wisdom of your cells and biology of belief people can really understand how we are not slaves to our genetic code and the reason I'm bringing this up at the beginning of what I'm going to be getting into is because the material I will be getting into is so heavy and dense okay that I don't want to tell that information to people without preparing a framework to say we're not bound by this this is something we can ultimately get past and progress past even though it's this bad I'm not here to fearmonger people I'm not here to paint a picture that it's completely hopeless okay I'm not also trying to you know blow smoke up somebody's rear end and tell them it's all just gonna magically work itself out either I'm trying to present a balanced perspective to understand yes has something been done to us probably at a genetic level that is going to be very difficult to overcome yes but can it ultimately be overcome if we employ our knowledge and willpower and our care to it absolutely yes it can be overcome nothing is beyond our reach when we step into the the truth and we employ our consciousness to better ourselves we can progress even beyond that which has already been done to humanity and quite a bit of negativity has been done to us as many people are aware when I get into some of this heavy dark material regarding non-human intelligence some people are not going to want to accept that some people are going to say that's too horrific to even contemplate how bad the situation really then must be but I'm not telling people that to you know completely shut them down and that's you know what some people will try to accuse people who do that although there there's some how agents they're trying to tell us this is all beyond hope and it's other beings that just did this to us so what chance do we have no I'm trying to from the very beginning tell you even if it is that bad even if that is the situation it is still overcome beable we still can transcend it because there is a mechanism within us that goes way beyond physicality that goes beyond just physical genes and that is the force of consciousness so uh do you have anything else or is that it I can keep going it like you got more color than the other thing alright I'll let you stay and ask one more thing on the other side of this break and then we'll get to some other calls [Applause] the cold side we don't dare speak wall between us [Music] little rim so deep we keep rated there but there's nothing wrong [Music] Pasi oh we were talking to Dylan just before the break Dylan I'll let you wrap up with your last question or a point and then I'll go to some other calls okay yeah I just wanted to go onto meditation the first time I heard you was over at peace revolution podcast when you did a new a GPS yes podcast and you made the mention that of yoga and meditation in particular are used but when used correctly to get both brain hemispheres back into balance that's right now I I've been exposed to many methods of Metta meditation throughout my life and that was the first time I had heard that and when you said it was pretty clear like Oh dah that's that's why we're supposed to be doing this and I wanted to know what when I say specific techniques do you use any specific meditation techniques specifically for balancing brain hemispheres I do small amounts of what you might call general Transcendental Meditation for five to ten minutes if that daily and that's it I don't use it for extended periods of time because I feel that that will take you over into right brain imbalance I've had many times on the show about a tale that a researcher and a a spiritual teacher dick Sutphin are told about his friend who was excessively meditating and it literally became impossible for him to focus and do his job you know and he was his relationships were suffering he went to his doctor and his doctor did a brain scan to try to figure out if it was anything actual physically wrong with the brain and while there was no you know signs of tumor or cancer or anything like that he said he said that the brain looked like he had been abusing drugs and he asked him like what drugs are you taking and he said I'm not taking drugs and you know your brain is showing that you're doing something similar to like I don't know like you know taking uh you know excessive amounts of cannabis on a daily basis or using you know opiates on a daily base or something like that you know really abusively and he he said well I do meditate about eight hours a day or you know or something ridiculous number like you know like whenever he's not at work he's meditating and with all of his spare time and it was just like you know well that's it you know that's what was leading him into that kind of brain imbalance so it is there for if you are a predominantly left brain individual you want to use it to hold that state of centeredness that's what it literally means to take it to take or to bring or to carry to the middle that's what the word meditation actually means so it's for people who are predominantly in that left brain modality chronically to balance that and bring it to centeredness and if it's used properly and there's there's no proper specific form of meditation I mean there's there's walking meditations you could meditate you know of while riding a bus or a taxi cab or it doesn't make a difference where you're at you could meditate while walking okay there are different forms of meditation you can get on a exercise bike and meditate you know it's not it's not all the same exact practice or technique so there's many different forms of it I personally like just a simple calm you know sitting in one place quietly and doing a form of transcendental meditation but it's there's many different styles of it and you could choose one that is appropriate for for yourself and what you feel most comfortable with and then just practice it that's all you have a wreck admitted source of where to look at more information about it off the top of my head I mean I would say look into Sutton's work I like all of his work in general I think he puts a pretty balanced approach for when it comes to that but let me let me think about that and if you want to email me on my contacts page I'll try to find some source material I probably have some books that I can put you onto - okay and can you spell that name for me real quick SUT pH en Sutphin great great thanks so much for the call all right yes let's hear from let me read the trivia question again the first question for a free ticket to the st. Louis seminar on May 31st is named the titles of the first three degrees of Freemasonry the titles of the first three degrees so the Blue Lodge degrees I want the titles of those degrees let's hear from Phil in Oregon Phil you're live on what on earth is happening welcome okay sorry about that Phil looks like he dropped from the caller list let's go to Connor Connor is calling from Japan Connor welcomed what on earth is happening hey Mark how you doing doing well I'm assuming you're not going to try to answer the trivia question since you're in Japan no no I I wish I you know I wish I knew the answer and I wish I could go no worries so what do you have for us okay so I got a few things here I'll eventually get to your topic your current topic but I want to talk about the season of sacrifice just for a moment sure that we are still in yes yes and there's a couple things that happened recently there's one in Japan and one in South Korea okay amethy okay April 15th I have a headline here it says government this is the Japanese government government complete call of 112,000 chicken after bird flu outbreak so they so I don't know it's related but they watered 112 thousand chickens on April 15 mass animal put down there yeah yeah and his there and there's April 16th in South Korea maybe you've heard about this one South Korean ship sinks hundreds feared dead in ferry boat disaster and these are over around 200 high school students that are feared bad yeah you know I did hear about this one and I thought about it for a while whether that might be you know an event of this nature or just a mechanical failure of some type that's a tough one to call but that you know I did hear a little bit about that I don't know too much about the the surrounding circumstances but it's something to ponder for sure yeah yeah no I think tomorrow was a date we really should watch they seem to love April 20th you know it's right in the middle of the this season of time we talked about it's Hitler's birthday you know it's oh yeah it's the anniversary of many of these other events that they've done these sacrifice rituals so and it's also Easter Sunday this year which would kind of make it all the more special you know symbolic of the rising of the Christ energy so tomorrow is definitely a day the people should be vigilant okay all right and then also I really like your bumper music I think we're kind of kindred spirits on in that aspect you play do and audience oi I want to throw out a few recommendations to listeners there's some obscure music people might not have heard but from maybe artists that they've actually heard of but they haven't heard these songs for example there's a band Montrose when Sammy Hagar was the lead singer and he has a song called paper money and it's about the Federal Reserve System and I get that from this 7ds I think interesting yeah it's called the song is paper money I think the album might be called paper money too but the song is called paper money by Montrose the singers Sammy Hagar the CEO though foreigner foreigner has a good song called at war with the world is basically about libertarianism and that's from I think the late 70s nice good band there there you know there's so many of the this message there's so much of this message incorporated into music incorporated into art it's how a lot of people choose to put it out there to others because they are in that receptive modality when they're listening to music certainly and you know of course the opposite works as well you know a lot of dark occultists or interjecting you know their message and their review when the music as well so it works both ways but the great suggestions do you have anything else well yeah a couple more or there's an obscure band called the Ashbury I think it's a sh bu are lies the Ashbury okay there you can find them on YouTube I think their whole album is actually on YouTube the name of the album is endless skies and they have some really good to this kind of like American blues ashrak kind of really chunky you know hard rock and they have a couple tunes there's one called vengeance and the other is hard fight okay and it has a little bit of a little bit of a spiritual bent on it I guess you would say about as much as like Lord of the Rings might have kind of like a spiritual bent on it you know kind of like fighting evil I think it's not overtly Christian or anything like that but it definitely it you know it has a method behind it the spiritual major awesome I'm definitely going to check these out Connor thanks so much for your call we're coming up to another break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] and [Music] and [Music] broadcasting I'm your host mark passio we're gonna continue taking some calls and then I'll wrap up with the last couple of slides probably in the next hour but I want to read the trivia question for the prize for the correct answer is a free ticket to the st. Louis Missouri all-day seminar that I'll be conducting called streetwise spirituality on Saturday May 31st of this year you know if we don't give all the tickets away tonight we could probably pick this up next week and continue with the the trivia questions so let's go back to the phones let's hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Raphael are you there oh there he is sorry about that I had not a problem are you going to attempt to answer the trivia question for the ticket for the st. Louis seminar no unfortunately I'm not a problem what do you have for us tonight um always a pleasure to speak to you mark just wanted to mention the odds kind of like would you touch upon earlier today I broke down the word intelligence and in past podcast words such as soldier soul die or government culture just words that have different meanings but you know in talking to people they they'll just be in lockdown because they'll tell you oh that's just English it only works in English and they have that mentality that oh it doesn't work that's odd it's only worked in the English language right there's many different puns that work out in many different languages that are that are also apply to different languages throughout the earth French is another huge one that a green language works in there's many different green language puns the French language but I to my knowledge English is the one that has the language that has the most of these these occults synchronicities that are embedded and encoded within

English and it just mean just like his quarter maxwell expounds on the federal system and the banking system as far as like the banks and the bench at the birth certificate and like when you go to the judge they don't the judge that you can't talk to the judge because he he considers you dead your corpse murray and it's amazing you know but people shut down because he's either nonetheless brain or right brain you know old ali's always talked about in but you know these alters call people they refer to people as the dead that's their name for the general population that is unconscious they actually that's what all the dark occultists that I ever worked with when I was involved in the Church of Satan and other affiliate satanic organizations they never just called them the masses or you know the heard that their name for people was that the dead that's what they called the average human being the dead it wasn't the the non initiate or the uninitiated or the profane or the unwashed no they called them the dead when I was in the dark occult just amazing I mean just through your podcasts are so full of information that everything you give us but so many people wouldn't even give through half of them because once you touch on one of theirs as you talked about their barriers of self-realization they would stop because it's like oh he's touching my real religion he's touching my what I belong to and it's ah you know just everything you talk about it's just it's amazing because just it just expands on everything that you've talked about that stops people from moving forward yeah it's it's all this identification process this is me and that's not me and as soon as somebody you know touches one of those identities and says hey are you sure that's you is this something you're so certain about that it always must be that way or is this something that you've taken on as a piece of probe that you don't even really know where it came from you don't know its origin you don't know why you really think that way that was taught to you that's a learned thing that was taught to you you know and you just accepted it and made it part of your identity and many people can't you know just see through that that's simple you know identification process they can't see through it and if anything tries to put a chink in that armor they're right there saying oh no I can't have any of this you know and their programming kicks into high gear at that point that's a great point and just you know like I have heard in a prior podcast and it's kind of funny but it's a sick joke it's you know when the guy asked what's worse ignorant or at the teen heels I don't know and I don't care no unfortunately that's where a lot of the people when in this world are at and it's up to the people who are conscious and are responsible and are knowledgeable to really help to assist to change those people by putting the truth out there at all times and places so really great points Raphael and I thank you for your call let's hear from Swami in Illinois you are live on what on earth is happening welcome namaste mark good to hear from you again Swami shivananda Giri welcome to the show great to hear from you hey I bet that's the reason I joined in tonight to get this ticket I'm only like a couple hours from st. Louis all right you know if I go for it tell us the titles of the first three degrees of Freemasonry first is the entered apprentice correct then the fellow craft correct you and master Mason you got it Swami shivananda Giri ladies and gentlemen speaker from the free your mind to conference is the first winner of a free ticket to the street wise spirituality seminar in st. Louis Missouri congratulations Swami and what else are you have for us this evening well in regard to your caller who was asking about meditation I have know a thing or two about that sure and it up if he would be interested in guidance from a world recognized certified master of meditation I would be most happy to assist he can check out my website at meditative living dot info my email address is on there what we do is we teach you to focus your attention into the frontal lobe area focusing on what's commonly referred to as the third eye right between the eyebrows and you hold your attention there as best you can and you utilize a mantra which the mantra you know the word mantra means to transcend mind so so we can do battle with the intermittent and sporadic thought patterns by utilizing a mantra and this helps you to then focus and slow the mind down so it doesn't throw off these random haphazard thoughts as quick and overtime with the proper amount of practice I never heard of anybody I mean doing eight hours you're gonna be so green you're not going to be able to function exactly but uh but we start people out at about fifteen minutes in the morning and you just you just work at well the way it works is if you were to take a jar of water and place a handful of dirt in there and then stir it up you try to read the newspaper through it it's not going to work because the dirt is interfering with seeing through the water and that's what most people's minds are like all the time almost yeah yep that's what those thought patterns do because this is just the way we are and if you sit and focus these thoughts will settle down their speed will slow and then you'll begin to recognize the gap between the thoughts and as you begin to recognize the you can then begin to peer through it and eventually you can you can move into transcendental states while being fully functional you're still aware of of your surroundings you know this is not a thing we're in in the system I teach which is purely yogic this has been going on for millennia and it's not about ignoring the physical world is about yoga which means Union unifying the spiritual with the physical so that neither blocks the other out row you have both at all times 24/7 and you're not taking on a left brain imbalance worldview of matter being superior to spirit nor a right brain imbalance worldview of spirit being superior to matter instead there is a whole list that can balanced an integrated view of both of those dynamics right and and when you're when you're holding attention towards the third eye area you're holding it into the frontal lobes no so you're holding it right in the center and you are medicated Swami hold on right there we're gonna take a break we'll be right back you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] No [Music] welcome back everyone listening on earth is happening we're into our number three for tonight's show now and in the last hour just before the break we were talking to swami shiva nan de giri he called in and he won the first free ticket in the giveaway contest here on what on earth is happening tonight to attend the street right let's go to another call let's let's hear from mark in Ohio mark you're live on what on earth is happening welcome okay mark dropped off so let's go to MacRay in Denver mccrane Denver Denver Colorado you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark hey thanks for taking my call sure answer the next trivia question which I'll have to read first were you going to try it is a good thing I would guess I would've got the last one wrong I was just the initiator princess master but do you want it do you want to give a shot for a free tip okay I want to ask you you will be able to attend if you win the ticket right what today to get on it may 31st Saturday May 31st I want to make sure because if you give the right answer and you know you win the ticket I want to make sure these tickets aren't going to go to waste so people well you know what you know I'll just go I'll go on to the question and I'll leave for somebody who can not but not a problem not a problem so what else you have for us this evening we just think you thought your work you know everything you taught me about natural law you know I try to express that to people all the time and I'm really my question is uh you know I've been following you for about a year I've been in kind of on the past for about three years on this one I thought and I just see like it with your recent your e recent states going into this like non-human like interaction non-human intelligence you know and and how that applies to our history and you know you've kind of seen it's like a speculation you know so I was just wondering if we could also throw out maybe like a pre human you know manipulation like a uh you know there's a lot of evidence pointing to you know pre hominoid you know so maybe there was a pre civilization before that bits his problem you know that was an intelligent race of beings that was living here before we came onto the planet and it's quite possible I wouldn't completely rule that out and you know that they possibly died off the the thing that I will eventually get into is that there is a lot of speculation and ancient records not even speculation which is written accounts in ancient records that these beings you know left earth left the planet literally like actually went off planet and were from elsewhere and talked about the other worlds that they were from so there's a lot of written information regarding that they were actually from somewhere other than this planet but I wouldn't rule that and I would not rule out yes let's just throw it out that that maybe it was just a pretty civilization that ended up becoming like a super civilization and they were physically bigger than us so we have this plate big daddy complex it's actually like a real thing that you know and then they can't physically do this chair anymore because the atmospheric conditions well I would not rule a hypothesis out such as that and also you know when you are when you look at some of these ancient accounts you know who is to say that there wasn't another human-like civilization like the the the hypothesis I proposed as part of what could have created psychopathy one of them was did we do it to ourselves so what if it was something similar to that in such that it was just a civilization that predated our actual species and they may have done this as we were coming up in our evolutionary progress in our evolutionary development and they did this for reasons of their own that we don't understand it's it's really possible you know and it's something that we should look into an explorer and the other as well I just want to throw that out there just yes I totally read your work majesty there's like going this direction so we should like encompass all the ideas absolutely and that's that's what this is all about this is about keeping an open mind to all of these possibilities and then doing the work and the research to put these fragmentary pieces of the puzzle together to find out what actually did occur here in the ancient past some people think that's not knowable I would suggest that if events actually have occurred and manifested a reality they are ultimately knowable the farther we get away from them and the more destroyed actual information regarding those events you know maybe it may be more difficult to come to that understanding but I think if all of us do our due diligence and we put the pieces of the puzzle that we do have come to understand onto the table for all to see I think we're going to see a clearer picture emerge at some point and that's gonna radically change our overall world view and it's gonna have the potential transformative power to change humanity as a whole you're right it's probably a combination of all these things you're right sure so yeah thank you so much absolutely thanks so much for all really great you know speculation there and it's something that should definitely be considered and looked into so let's hear from Bill in Seattle Bill you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark thank you very much for having me absolutely and I'd like to try to win free tickets to the st. Louis seminar unfortunately I'm not going to be able to attend the event I actually looked at ticket so not a problem not if I don't so what do you have for us tonight well I just want to share my gratitude with you first off for taking the time to share your knowledge with all of us has actually really actually calmed me down it's connected a lot of dots and I've enjoyed listening to all your podcasts and and you know the last couple podcast you talked about the abandonment and I think that it really really struck a chord especially now as people are starting to wake up and hear the truth for the first time and and just ringing and you know it been we know it rings true with our whole be and it's just like yes there it is and then we go to our friends and family and want to share it with them and a lot of times they abandon us yeah and it's you know that's that's you know when and and I'm experiencing now you know and just trying to point out you know that the poisons that they're consuming and and you know just trying to walk the walk myself just like Gandhi says be the be the path that you want to you want to see in the world and you know I have a different perspective because you know I watched the pharmaceutical industry almost killed my wife right you know she was on 20/20 pharmaceuticals she was gray mark I was looking at her and I'm like you're dying you're dying and I live up here in Washington and we have cannabis right and I I thought you know what I'm gonna try it let's let's try the skin a bit she's gonna die happy that's what I thought bill stay right there I'll let you pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere [Music] you know today disguise the night night divide today tried to run try to hide do the other that's all we have to do we have to break on through to the heart of our fellow man and our fellow women so that we can break through that calcified rigid belief system that they've built up that is holding them back from the truth and that's going to take work that's why it's called the great work it's not a vacation it's not called the great vacation it's not called the great play time it's called the great work for a reason it's gonna take a lot of concentrated effort to get that done we were talking with a bill from Seattle bill oh you're still there I'm still here Marcus okay you go ahead and continue okay so before the break and by the way I love Jim Morrison before the break we were talking about my wife and her predicament and just so everybody knows she was diagnosed with juvenile onset rheumatoid arthritis and they had a hard time really diagnosed and it just because it had it just acted atypical and and the tests that they that they did and you know what I found out that they really don't know a lot about about autoimmune disorders you know and they were like it could be this it could be that and and and so I'm like you know that that was my first question and then I started doing the research on my own and then I'd had questions for them and then I saw them getting flustered you know the doctors and and I'm like look this is somebody that I've traded my life to be with this is this is my everything and you know what you're not taken you know the time to answer these simple questions about the interactions in the audio there long story short I decided to get her on cannabis and what I was saying before the break is you know what I I thought because I know history and no prohibition and and knew that alcohol went through a medical phase before they phase it or they ended the Prohibition era and so I thought that's what I was going to do is going to be you know a prohibition so we just went got her medical from a doctor and got some bud and we started smoking it and she started coughing and it put it into a spasm and she started flaring and I was like what the hell are we doing you know and so then I started looking deeper into it and that's when I found Rick Simpson oil oh yeah okay people need to look at this okay Rick Simpson oil and there's a movie out there called run from the Cure amazing man yeah hi I highly recommended people should definitely check it out and understand the depth to which the suppression of the cure for cancer is going because they want to keep that business going that's all cancer has become as an industry to these people and you know I highly recommend you you check out what Bill's telling you look up run from the Cure and watch this documentary about Rick Simpson and the curative power of cannabis oil because it's certainly absolutely real well at knowledge is power mark that's right there's another another one out there it's called what if cannabis cured cancer and that's free as well on YouTube yeah check it out and what an repetition is the mother of all learning okay so watch it over and over and over again get these facts locked down and so when people try to you know discount it we have it we know that we have an endocannabinoid system in our body you know no why does it have such a dramatic effect on our appetite our core temperature you know sleep mood because there's a symbiotic plant with our evolutionary development without any question in my mind right and and and you know what when I saw this when I saw the effect man I and what got me was I couldn't remember last time I heard my wife laugh you know and that's because of all these pills that she was on and and the thing is is that it made her forget about her pain and the other thing is that it made her laugh and made her optimistic and we our body regenerates itself right okay and if you regenerating yourself from a place that you you're so curled up and paying and you know just so moody all day it will understandably so because you can't you know you get through everyday because the pain is so great you know when you can forget about that for a second and laugh right and allow your body to rebuild itself from now an optimistic place and that's what the process is about the process we've been talking about all night is it's the unfolding it is the opening up instead of being you know tightened and you know curled up on top of yourself you know it's like that flowering expression you know that's what we need when it comes to everything when it comes to the understanding of truth the opening our mind to the truth when it comes to opening our mind to alternative types of you know medical knowledge and and you know practices and techniques and approaches and you know another documentary I want to recommend to add to the ones you already suggested is American drug war to cannabis destiny and it's a very disturbing documentary you know if somebody watches that and doesn't feel so sick saddened and enraged after watching that documentary I would tell you that you're borderline or possibly full-blown psychopathic and there's really something missing in your psychological and emotional makeup because you know cops confiscate medical marijuana supplies and Rick Simpson oil from a eight-year-old child that is taking them to eat his cancer in check and that child dies as a result they murder well it media look at mainstream media I mean not makes me media media mainstream medicine but what was his name drew or dr. drew or whatever is on there and he's and he's discounting it 100% because you know they they've got those bills to pay or you know but whatever and let them you know I want to go after the truth you know I got my wife here I and and that's you know I could care less about them and and I see the fallacy of what they're doing because I know what the truth is and I'm Rand then imagine that there's a group of people that would try to say you may not ingest a substance into your body that may actually not only that you have the right to ingest whatever you want into your own body regardless of what its power or capability is but imagine somebody telling you for you or your loved ones you're gonna have to sit and watch them die when there may be something that can actually help improve or possibly even cure that condition I mean and people think this isn't actively going on every day and and hundreds of thousands of people are dying needlessly as a result millions of people dying needlessly as a result so bill this is something that I definitely intend to talk more about on on future shows really great information thanks so much for bringing this to the the listeners attention and it's something that people really need to look into more and more so I want to thank you for the call I want to read the next trivia question briefly so we could um see if we can get some more callers in to win some of these tickets for that that Joe from Kansas City so kindly donated for the Seattle seminar let's um let's give the next question out here we go the next question that if you call in and you answer correctly you can win a free ticket to the st. Louis seminar I'm conducting in on May 31st Saturday May 31st please only attempt to answer it if you're going to attend if you plan on attending the the seminar here's the question name the four major Sabbats or holidays of the occult calendar the four major Sabbath's of the occult calendar I don't want the Minor Sabbats or the lesser

Sabbats I want the names of the four major Sabbats of the occult calendar and you know they've been called different things in different traditions so if you at least have one of the names correct you know for each of the four seasons that will suffice okay so the four major Sabbath's of the occult calendar first person who calls in with the correct to answer to that we'll win a free ticket to my st. Louis seminar called streetwise spirituality on May 31st let's take another caller let's go to Patrick in Oregon Patrick you are live on what on earth is happening welcome know what Patrick hold on right there we'll get through right after this break you're listening to what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting we were just about to go - Patrick from Oregon before the break caught up with us Patrick are you there yep I'm here mmm okay do you want to try to take a shot at winning the ticket for the st. Louis seminar I'm sorry I can't make it no problem what do you have for us tonight okay just wanted to recommend three scholars related to what we've been talking about sure um you vote you've already mentioned dr. Bruce Lipton about epigenetics sure and I just in one sentence I want a summer summarize his findings he basically says that perceptions or our consciousness affect our proteins in our body and then the proteins affect our genes so our perceptions and our behavior and our base they are consciousness we can use that to heal ourselves I agree that is that is that basically a summary of lift and I believe he's basically saying that we are not controlled like a computer program is controlled by code through our genes and this is what I'm going to get to in the epigenetics slides that I have for toward the end of the show hopefully I'm going to get to him before the show ends he's saying that when what genes really are are a biological tendency for expression okay it's like the the and the environment is informing those tendencies so if we change the environment by changing our consciousness we can influence or even change the tendency and then what the gene codes for it will not be coding for that particular thing and we could switch that particular tendency often switch on other genes which code for different tendencies so in other words through through consciousness through how we perceive things and whether we're taking certain information in and using it and employing it okay we can actually turn off certain genetic code that 10 that codes for a certain tendency of expression and then turn on others so that something different can be manifested or is impressed okay yeah thank you for that clarification sure um and then another scholar that has worked with Bruce Lipton is dr. Luber Sheldrake oh absolutely and he has the theory of the extended mind and the Norfolk genetics field and they they're actually very complementary so when you are study when if the listeners want to look into lip and also look into Sheldrake they're very complementary idea and they're both busily talking about basic simple interconnectedness and how whole systems affect us and we inform whole systems and actually connect and inform and influence everyone else around us as well there's some other in in the movie we just showed as part of our documentary screening night that we host here every month in Philly there was some researchers which I may link to or talk about in a future show I don't have it right in front of me but I am fishhead talks about this level of interconnectedness that we share in social networks and social bonds when we form these bonds and networks with people around us how we affect our three levels of separation of people are for our we affect our friends and and family members we affect those who are friends of them and those who are friends of those friends so it's three levels it's like a ripple effect that we affect directly effect through our consciousness and an hour you know perception we affect three levels three layers of separation of human beings away from ourselves which is pretty amazing and it's pretty interesting and cutting-edge research so I'll probably maybe link to that as well this part yes yes and what I like about Lipton and Sheldrake is that they actually have a hard science you know they they they they're scientists but they do talk about spiritual matters right Lipton comes from you know actually both of them come from a biology background so this is like studying spirit from the physical manifestation of our body yes you know so just as a brief aside real quick I saw Rupert Sheldrake speak here near Philadelphia just outside of Philadelphia at Haverford College and he was he was on tour with his book I think he calls it over in England the science delusion but here in the United States he's selling it under the title of it's a different title it's something about like science as a religion or science as a belief system I can't quite I mean yeah I think it's called free there it is science set free thank you and you know he made a lot of really great points about how science isn't going where the truth leads it's not about research or anymore it's about government grant money it's about protecting a paradigm it's about protecting tenure there's so much ego in science because it's all left brain and many of these people still are working on outdated outmoded Newtonian paradigms that have been turned over for almost a hundred years now these notions of how the mechanized read so-called mechanized reality works and these people are still trying these so-called scientists are still trying to you know apply this outmoded paradigm to the things like the human body not only the physical universe but the body yeah in and I love that title science that free because you know listen listening to you mark and you know watching lifting and Sheldrake and Michael Pitts Arion and David that you know David Icke I really feel set free you know in their feeling is I could just wait that like you know this because this John's mother just kind of weighs you down right and and you take it you know people take it for granted but then there's these people that you know in you to mark you know open people's eyes and you can you see it's like it's like enlightenment I mean who knowledge you know that's you know that's all this is about this is about understanding something that is within our capability to understand it's not super mystical or you know unattainable that's not what enlightenment is and enlightenment is about knowing what's going on that's all just knowing what's going on around us knowing what has already occurred you know through our studies of the past and through that knowledge transforming ourselves to do that very task set us free and the human condition of slavery you know we're not there yet we have a long way to go certainly but you know I'm glad that you say that this is at least motivating you and influencing you to keep going forward that's what I do this for and you know we have to do that we have to continue to do that with everybody around us like the last caller was talking about how hard it is to get through to people I understand that absolutely that doesn't mean you give up that's where that turning the other cheek notion really does come into play your family and friends may have immediately rejected what you're saying and even ridicule you for it you keep bringing it to them that's what that's what turning the other cheek is about not forgiving you know immoral behavior endlessly it's about saying well you didn't want to hear the truth now I'm gonna keep coming back to you with it and I'm gonna keep bringing it to you because I understand this is what you need it may not be what you want to hear but it's what you need to hear you know and if we all do that work we're going to see radical transformation in our world for the positive yeah and one last caller I want to recommend that maybe listeners haven't heard of is Graham Hancock absolute and especially his his more latest work he's also written works about alternative views of history and things like that yes I his more recent work called Supernatural it's about the what's called the ancient teachers of mankind and it's based on a theory that perhaps forty thousand years ago that humans had ingested some kind of plant psychoactive plant that allowed them to communicate with other other dimensional beings and that it could be that the so called UFOs that see now are actually the same introduced interdimensional beings that we were seeing way back then I know we let out at all because the the nature of these beings is something I do not profess to know with any certainty could it be an extra demand extra dimensional nature absolutely it's very well one of the possibilities for sure just a quick side note is that Sheldrake and grant odd Hancock was both banned on the TEDx talk I heard about that yes yeah yeah which that area limiting that you know they're trying to protect the paradigm there the currently introns are dime amazing people who profess to say these are about revolutionary ideas and world-changing ideas and then on the point of meditation you talked about earlier yes and then Swami was talking about working on the third eye and people can look up information on the net for detoxing the pineal gland and there's there's certain supplements and things that you can take to relent and like a certain diets you can follow one simple thing is is what's called GAD FCAT which is just sugar caffeine alcohol tobacco if you really want to practice meditation seriously take those four things out of your your your lifestyle you know at least for a while while you're trying to meditation that's too much refined sugar or caffeine alcohol and tobacco and I'll add one to take the fluoride out of your drinking water get a reverse osmosis system filter your drinking water because that's the one thing that doesn't even more than anything else is fluoride great points Patrick thanks so much for the call we'll pick this up on the other side [Applause] [Music] - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com last segment of the show tonight before we go to some more callers I want to just briefly break down this concept of epigenetics in slide number three you'll see I just put the title here genetics versus epigenetics and put on the left hand side a picture of the DNA spiral you know the double helix ladder molecule and then a fully enlightened individual or representation of a fully enlightened individual on the right-hand side and this is what it really comes down to which what do you really believe that we are do you really believe that we are just a big huge pile of interconnected molecules and cells and that's it and they're just working in a clock clockwork mechanized dead purposeless you know motion they're just to animate us so that we propagate more of those animated molecules that's it that's all that's all that's the purpose of everything in the universe that's what evolution is or are we a living holistic dynamic connected form of consciousness and energy that is living with purpose and that purpose is to learn and to grow and to expand and to unfold to reach higher levels of complexity to reach higher levels of diversity to reach higher levels of consciousness and morality and freedom and we'll you know well given that choice I'll take that that image on the right any day of the week over some random collection of atoms strung together in a double helix that's what I would say we are about ok so this thing that we are just our genes and all the purpose of evolution is is to propagate DNA is again it's a very Newtonian and Darwinian based paradigm that actually has really completely been disproven by modern cutting-edge science in the modern world again that information is very slow to reach people because of how advanced some of it is and how much how deeply entrenched the current currently entrenched paradigm you know is and has hold over the minds of people and also how it works with money when when money comes into the picture again government grants tenure you know of Technology etc you know having to keep those systems propped up so on the next slide slide number four I just put the etymological root of the word epigenetics where it comes from I think people can probably work this out for themselves just seeing the word but epigenetics is derived from the Greek prefix epic we're putting that in front of the word genetics epi epi epi means beyond further than or past not past in a time sense but having gone past something having gone beyond okay so that's what it means beyond further than or past something else and then the Latin verb which is where the word gene comes from it comes from the the latin verb genera genera means to make or to create and again the genes are our constituent elements the building blocks of what make us up they're not what we actually are who we are they are building blocks that make up who we are and code for certain characteristics and traits and behaviors but that is not set in stone genes are not something that it's just this way it always works this way and it always will work this way it's just something that's something that people think regarding this again this outmoded Newtonian worldview about how genes work all right epigenetics literally means that which is beyond the genes or that which goes beyond our genes well is there something that goes beyond genes is there something that is past genes is there something that is further than just these molecular structures called our genes yes there is it's called consciousness consciousness goes beyond genes okay our ability to perceive our ability to recognize patterns our ability to will ourselves to change to go beyond the current condition that we are experiencing right now so we are not controlled by genes I'm moving to slide 5 now to wrap this up we're not controlled by genes like a computer program is controlled by code this is a fallacy propagated by both Newtonian and Darwinian based scientism for almost more than two centuries okay certainly since Darwinism came in in the mid-1800s without any question but what genes are there are only a biological tendency for expression they're not something that locks in what we are what we are like how we behave this is a complete misunderstanding of genetics and this is so important this is such an important important foundational framework for the material I'm about to build on top of this okay so really try to understand what genes are only a biological tendency to express something in the physical manifestation changing our state of consciousness can influence or even change completely this potential tendency for expression that is encoded into our genes when we change our consciousness we can then actually change our code it can be rewritten the genetic code can actually literally be rewritten because we're switching off certain genetic tendencies and we could switch on other codes so you know a different manifested reality can then be created as a result of a shift in consciousness consciousness ultimately lies beyond the genes and it is what is controlling the genes not the other way around genes do not control behavior and consciousness so we're not this code that we say that we are as our DNA her DNA makes up our physical body and it codes for certain things but it can be changed it is not something that is completely unchanging from the minute we're born to the minute we die we are the writers of that code okay we're the influencers of that code I would say we're the co-authors of that code you know there are other forces that created that code the force of creation itself has something to do with it and I would say dark forces also have epigenetically and directly genetically manipulated that code in our lifetimes not in our physical lifetimes but I mean in the lifetimes of human human species but we are the co-authors of that code we always have the ability to ultimately influence or completely change the expression that we're from the information that is informing our genes and I can't highly recommend enough the work of bruce lipton to understand this as the former caller said also Rupert Sheldrake and Graham Hancock are also good resources when it comes to understanding certain aspects of epigenetics especially Rupert Sheldrake so I'll wrap up there and let's see if we have time to squeeze in at least one more call let's go to Ivan from Phoenix before we wrap up the show Ivan you wrapped up the last show so here you go again regular correct now there you go my friend already answer the question can you make it to uh st. Louis I am gonna try and make it to st. Louis but I don't think I have the answer to this one so I'll let somebody else try it out later no worries what do you have for us you take us out my friend oh okay well then synchronistically as always every time it's synchronicity with us you were on mumbles show earlier this week and I brought a manly P ha yeah now I looked at the pictures you had here for this week's show and something resonated with Manley P hall audio that I listened to maybe two nights ago at work I asked forwarded through it and I found it and it was one of his talks here about Armageddon war and in peace so I fast order to a part that kind of resonated with this and we're at right now even with the epigenetics that you're talking about the epigenetics is I would guess the Minor Arcana to what Amy P Hall we're talking about here in this quote which is I guess Major Arcana and this is what I wrote down okay you are not the victim we are not the victims of history we are not the victims of the earth imperfection we are the victims of our own mistakes it is not heaven that brings down a nation it is the works of humanity misunderstood works corrupted works that will bring down the greatest nation the world could produce it is all in the last analysis a problem of man's own development of integrity so that that for some reason stood out with what you were talking about earlier tonight absolutely brilliant what a great teacher Melanie Hall is and I'm glad things are resonating with you Ivan in a synchronistic sense that's what this is all about ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening remember there's only two mistakes you can make on the path of truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you here next week you [Music]

Jordan Maxwell Jordan welcome to the show thank you are absolutely my honor to have you here tonight so I'll start off by just asking you how long you've been involved in the work of exposing hidden knowledge to the public how long have you considered yourself a do cultist of hidden information and what was really the the the thing that put you over the edge to decide to start doing work like this actually I always even as a child always interested women though a hidden world B I realized at that early age I don't know why I just gravitated toward the idea probably something in my personality when to start but I are always new I just had a gut feeling England as a kid that is there's a whole world of knowledge you're not aware of you know there's things going on in the world and in the university you're not being told and then adults around me did not know anything about and so I just always had a hankering do I want to know what's really going on I mean I want to know what's really behind the scenes and so as a kid I started as that gravitated toward looking not just that what you're seeing but when did not see what's the rest of the story and of course my mother always said that no matter what we would hear happening in the community you know she would always say well there's two sides to every story and sometimes those three sides and so I always knew that just because you're reading something in the paper about somebody and what they want they're supposedly have done whatever there's all kinds of other information if you're not privy to know about probably most of it as it's propaganda and the rest of it is prejudiced and so you never know unless you are and you are yourself involved and you will know I remember an ABC News man many years ago on radio made an interesting statement that stuck with me he said if you want to know how corrupt and how corrupt in inaccurate the news that you hear on radio and television you want to know how bad it really is just wait till they do a story on you wait on something that you are personally involved in comes out in the newspaper that on radio well you were the one that was there i watch what they're saying about you what would their watch what the media is saying about the situation about the problem about you you will know yourself what the real truth is and you will now hear the way the media is presenting it so I realized that a long time ago heaven the more I looked into what I was believing what my family was involved in [Music] [Applause] the cold while between us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm tonight my very special guest is a cult researcher mr. Jordan Maxwell Jordan I have another question for you since you've begun doing the work that you do many years ago have you yourself do you see any actual perceivable recognizable difference in what you would consider the overall state of consciousness of humanity or at least I'll qualify that and say at least an increase in the interest in occulted knowledge and information what is your take on that well I know yes yes I can hear okay I would say probably the opposite I would say this there seems to be less interest in anything intelligent today than it was when the Oh back in 60s 50s 60s and 70s it was probably a lot more open and open to here and you know and Monica love interest where today there seems to be so much going on in the world that's young useless stuff baseball and football and sports and movies more to where people really aren't getting it found out the bottom line is people just don't get it what's really going on and so why they become sucked into and a part of the systems to such an extent that I don't really see people waking up very much yeah there aren't going to be those people who are but there's going to be a very small very very small number it compares because there were none so blind as those who choose not to see and so it doesn't mean that humans are so stupid they can see metal on most people at this point in life were scared and they don't want to see they don't want to hear anything that might frighten them all my you know they don't want to engage in any conversation which is not talk about polite company I are you still wonder about that why is it we don't want to talk about bad things certain people have done well even in my family well even if your uncle was a criminal we don't want to talk about that at dinner we don't bring that up why not well because we don't talk about religion or politics or anything unpleasant in polite company we don't want to talk about that well and so the criminals say thank God this way nobody is talking about me I can continue to do what I do if nobody wants to talk about it so I you know I I think that we are less aware today than we've ever been and but those who people those people who are aware are very much aware and doing what they can to enlighten themselves and that's the people that I am directing my voice to I'm not interested in saving the world the world can't be saved period Jesus trying to do work and all the other prophets and intelligent people trying to do something take a like Chester trying to like the world and all he got for her was thrown into a you know thrown into chaos in his life and died a pauper so I know that you're not going to save the human race it's impossible to do what is possible is to help those individuals who are trying to do something to help themselves and to understand the world as the less who aren't directly my comments or those who want to know you know I hear a lot of people think well you know people are waking up today and my comment to that is yes that's what people do when they're in prison every morning Alcatraz and the big prisons of the world people wake up and when they wake up they're still in prison but at least they wait at least they were woken but they're still in prison so it just because people are waking up it doesn't mean they know anything and they have no power even the people who are awakening today in fact have little to no power to do anything about the world situation even though they're awakening and they may be quite a few but there's still the billions of people around the world who couldn't care less and so when I write what I hear people saying that there is a light at the end of the tunnel I always say yes it's a train coming so I don't see that civilization and the human race is going to be acting to be able to extricate itself or get itself out of the mess that we're in I only see chaos coming and when I have to tell you I'm there looking at for 50 years under what I'm talking about I tend to agree that we definitely don't have a mass awakening happening it's happening in small isolated pockets and scattered to the four corners of the earth most certainly I see some more people coming on to the desire for a cultic knowledge and hidden information and starting to look into things and do research for themselves but I I do see that as being a very small movement when you compare it with the you know a multitude of the mindless masses that are out there that haven't even begun researching any of this information oh you know I think if we apply our will to talk about those hidden issues that we that you just mentioned like the the corruption that is going on and many more people do that work then maybe we could start to reverse that trend but I certainly don't see that as something that is happening and mass in any way as well so I tend to I tend to largely agree with your view when it comes to that can you give us your take on you know I've been accused of this in the past and actually up to the current day and I've heard other people calling you a New Ager and call myself a New Ager I don't consider myself a member of the New Age movement by any stretch of anybody's imagination most of all my own and I certainly don't consider you a a New Ager by any means whatsoever can you give me your honest take of what you know many people would call the quote New Age movement or New Age spirituality as a loaded question that's a very very heavy duty question because if you want understand the the Bible to understand which Christians across the board do not one thing that most Christians have in common is they do not understand much of anything and so if they don't understand ancient history you don't understand the culture from which survival has come from and in terms in the words and haven't looked at the etymology of the concepts and the ideas expressed in the Bible and you're never going to figure out what's been what's going on and you've got to call people names well that's what small Minds refer to if you don't understand what's going on you're not educated or not to intellectually discuss something then just call people names and then that'll take care of you you don't have to talk about the subject at all you know how to listen to anybody who knows what they're talking about just calm and they call a New Ager and that implies implication is that they are mentally disordered and demon worship with the devil worshipers and all that well who is it as calling people into Agers is born-again Christians who have no conceptual idea of what new age or age or any of it means they have no idea what it means and there are a few out there who are leading as the Bible said there would be blind leading the blind and both shall fall into the pit and so by their fruits you shall know them as when Jesus said and that is something you need to keep in mind by their fruits you showed those I'll talk about that later very important words to keep in mind ladies and gentlemen my special guest this evening Jordan Maxwell you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Applause] [Music] [Music]

[Music] [Music] listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio tonight my special guest joining us is jordan maxwell a cult researcher jordan you were saying before the break you were talking about the concept of you shall know them by their fruits you shall know them by their works i think it's a very very critically important advice for people to take to heart and I feel that the the fruits of what we would call the quote unquote New Age spirituality movement is in action it is uh more than really alerting people of their current true predicament in our world and how the world is going deeper into bondage and slavery I think what they're doing is giving people a watered-down feel-good variant of so-called spirituality that's really keeping them in sort of a trance of inaction would you agree and can you speak to that well I'm sure there's something to what you're saying but what I think is even more important is the fact that the whole idea of a new age comes directly out of the Bible now unfortunately most Christians have no idea what I'm talking about some Jews do but the whole idea of the Bible stories as talks about the new age and today all over the world and especially in America look at the literature published by Christian denominations all over the country I don't care what denomination look and read the literature like I have for some 54 years we the literature and you will see everywhere the term the church age and our and our age today and the gospel age of the gospel age and today we're in the we're in the church age and then they always called and Matthew when Jesus said go for go forth baptize and the name of the Father Son and Holy Spirit and I would be with you to the end of the world that's what it says and then the last chapter in the last verse of the book of Matthew Jesus said I will be with you to the end of the world there's a mistranslation the word and Greek has a on AE om which was mistranslated world go back and do some homework instead of calling people names go back and read the Bible and instead of Jesus and I will be with you to the end of the eight-armed AE o n which is translated correctly age so Jesus that I will leave with you to the end of the age so Christians will then say oh well that that was the gospel legend so now we're in the church age when are you talking about ages the understand and using the word age well from the gospel age now we have the church age could we say that the gospel age is a mind on era as a bygone age and that the church age was a new age and if that is the case and one their ages before the gospel age maybe there was other ages before that was you once you get into the Jewish literature and begin to read the Rabbinical that are true you begin to see that the entire story of the Bible but only new but especially the New Testament is an is an an astrological story and it's talking about the new age that's what Jesus said I will be with you to the end of the age and so what what are you talking about it's a very big story it's a very lot of material handsome to cover but Jesus tells his apostles because the 112 fossils and they were following their their leader godson well he was referred to as the light of the world when was the Sun is a life of the world what else like the world about the Sun and so his 12 followers or his 12 apostles on the 12 signs of the zodiac on the 12 months of the year whatever you want to call it the twelve asked God son now that you're going to die where are we supposed to go who was next and in the Book of Luke and the New Testament Luke 22:10 go read God's Son the light of the world said to the twelve to his 12 followers go into the city and you will see a man carrying a water pitcher go into the house of the man with the water pitcher well one thing Bible scholars know that Christians don't is that nowhere in the Middle East in any country in biblical times out today nowhere does do men carry water pitchers in the Middle East it is a woman's job to carry water not a man period it would have been ashamed to see a man carrying water that's a woman's job this is what Jesus was always talking but to the women at the well women carried water not men period therefore why would Jesus they go into the city and see the man carrying the water pitcher go into the house of the man with the water pitcher well anybody who's got mark of sins knows that the symbol for Aquarius is a man with a water pitchers and anyone who's done any research at all which most Christians haven't but if you have you will know that the symbol for Christianity and the ancient Roman Empire was to fish crossing to fish that's where Jesus feeds his crown with two fish them the Book of Luke the two fish are course obviously the symbol for Pisces they age of religion in the Roman Empire and has started about the 4th century so Jesus represents the master of the of the Age of Pisces he bends and he think this whopper tooth fairy Pisces get it and then with the when he's getting ready to leave the world 2,000 years later he's getting ready to leave the world his 12 followers the 12 signs of the zodiac to 12 months of the year the 12 brothers of the 12 brothers of children the 12 apostles bygone there's all kind of 12 in the Bible and nobody seemed to put it together the 12 on the 12 signs of the zodiac the 12 months of the year okay so when you see the 12 the 12 followers of the Sun asking where are we to go now that we've been in the age of the two fishes now where are we to go well the master of that under the Piscean age says go into the house with a man with a water pitcher well obviously you've got find when it brings out you know the Aquarius follows Pisces and so the next sign it should be the Aquarius and so well let's go backwards let's go backwards before Jesus before the inauguration of the Age of Pisces what would we end there well if you go back at the time of Moses Moses was even before Moses the world was in the Age of Taurus the Bull and therefore the Jews of the ancient Hebrews were worshippers of God's Sun the light of the world in the age of Taurus the Bull that's why you have the golden calf the Sun is golden and a calf is from a bull so the golden calf was the Sun in the age of Taurus now and when this end of the age of Taurus was coming God calls Moses up to the mountain to give him a new law and he goes up into the mountain he gets the new understanding the new revelation the new law and comes back down to give to the Hebrew people and what did he do if he finds the people worshiping a golden cow why is telling you that the people were still worshiping the way they were in the age of of tourists the bull Moses comes down and says we've got a new arrangement God just gave us a new age a new time and he is that that means we are now in the age of Aries the RAM and therefore instead of worshiping the golden calf without supposed to blow the ram's horn and so it's really interesting how today we are we're seeing the Jews worshiping the realm blowing the ram's horn and never ever suspected that it's all astrology the whole thing so astro theological metaphor or allegory who were the proper movement of the Sun through the precession of the equinoxes that's exactly what it is and if you're hearing fireworks it's because there was a big celebration here in the city and fireworks and so don't really excite that does all this not a problem at all Jordan Jordan stay right with us we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening my special guest the savings are in max well stay with us [Music] welcome back what on earth is happening I'm your host Marc Pascoe my special guest this evening Jordan Maxwell Jordan I want to shift gears a little bit and go into some even deeper waters if we can can you tell us your general view of human origins and do you think it's a possibility that in our ancient past there was a direct non-human intervention in the creation of humanity or at least the creation of the current human condition whether that was done through possibly genetic or epigenetic manipulation your take on that good question there's no doubt in my mind what when I was transpire I've said many years ago that the word evolution and the concept of evolution is is incorrect to look at the evolution is not important the word you need to look at the conceptual idea you need to research is intervention not evolution let me explain the Bible clearly says and I'm fascinated with the wisdom that's encoded in the Bible that was there for anyone to just sit and read but if you do the homework on breaking down the words and the etymology of the words and going back into the ancient language of Archaea linguistics which is a study of the ancient languages and ancient concepts and ideas of the other pre you know the prehistoric world and how it's come down to us today you will begin to see how there's a lot of fascinating stuff encoded in the Bible that Christians and Jews didn't see I would so I would say this that the bible does not say that God created man I am used to sit and talk with rabbis many years ago at the Salomon simon wiesenthal center for Holocaust Studies in Los Angeles I'm talking about many many years ago and even before that back in the 60s with a rabbinical friends of mine and it became apparent that from what they were saying that they were that they were intimating that God did not create man and so I got interested in guys and wintermint what do you say and the rabbi said first of all God the the Scriptures do not say God created man that's that's a new flung that's a new idea it's a new concept when it has nothing to do with Judaism or ancient Judaism of the Bible at all no no where does it say God created man go back and read it correctly and and so I began to see that he was right because the word man in Hebrew is ish is h ish is man in Hebrew well in the Bible and it says in God so he was God was creating Adam and Eve and doesn't saying God can get an ish it doesn't say that the word is 8dm in Hebrew a dumb not Adam we added an a and and become the license on a Jewish name Adam no no not Adam ad em a dump means something in Hebrew and so the scripture says that God said come let us make man in our image when the word man there is not ish it's hot down so the correct translation if you if you do it right and collected you're rich on the room is God said come let us make a dump in our image after our likeness that is in rabbi told me many years ago I am fascinated by this because he said go back and read the scripture correctly it doesn't say God created man is as God said let us make man in our image after our likeness not make man but make a man in our image after our likeness so he will look like us and so I said wait a minute God says come let us who was us and then later on God looks down on the earth and said see man has become as one of us or on Tom has become one of us and so what are you talking about us not talking to himself or no who's he talking to well go back to Genesis 1 when it says in the beginning God created that I've got created to happens of the earth that's not what it says in Hebrew it doesn't say that go back and read the word because in Hebrew the word for God as el e el el is God but that's not the word that is in Genesis 1:1 none at all go back and read it in Hebrew and it says in the beginning Elohim created the heavens in the air not Al and so Elohim is a plural as like putting an S on the end of an English word you have C AR is one thing but CA RS means many cards more than one in the plural so L is God but Elohim is a plural meaning more than one therefore the correct translation if you want to be accurate and Rida in the Hebrew the way it was actually written not the way your pastor said not the way in churches but if you want to go to the original then it would be correctly translated in the beginning that God's created the heavens in the earth more than one so then when we hear that the he brutally Jews of the AGV bros were the worshipers of one god they were the first monotheistic people and in point of fact that is absolutely ludicrous on the face of it the Hebrews have never been a monotheistic people ever in history you cannot prove that at all they have never been a worshipper of one God what the term is is not monotheistic is he no spell H P and O go looking up in a dictionary h-he and O he no means he no theistic means to pick one God from a group so on to understand what I was saying is if you have say 15 guns and they're all equal and they're standing in front of you and you pick one God that you are he is your favorite so you pick one God and you tell him I want to make a pact with you you'll be my god and I will be your Europe your follower well what you've done now is you have picked one God from a group so we could say you are the worship of one God but that's not saying that there's only one God no it's the one God you picked and that's why correctly under the Hebrews were a he no theistic people they picked one God and that's why today we could say that they will worship of one God but then when you understand who were the other gods well that's why in the Bible says God said no Elohim instead they God said come let us make man in our image after our likeness so it's not saying that gods the gods made man ish no no gods made a new kind of man they came here and intervened in our evolution and created a new kind of creature that the Hebrew call them a DM look it up in a dictionary so therefore when you understand and then and to to go on with this whole thing it opens up a can of worms because in ether the Genesis 9:1 after the flood of Noah's day in Genesis 9 weren't this is after the flood mm-hmm it says that God said it means be God says to Noah and his and his family after the flood go forth multiply and replenish the earth so I asked the rabbis is that a correct translation go forth multiply and 3r he replenish the earth because read means to do it again and rabbi said yes obviously if God if there were many people on the earth and God has just destroyed mankind with a great flood well if you're going to have people on the earth again that somebody is going to have to breathe or he do it again replenish the earth make sense and I sent to the rabbi all right exactly the case then what about Genesis 1:28 where God is creating Adam and Eve and he says go forth multiply and replenish the earth do it again does that mean that Adam and Eve were a new creation or recreation of a new kind of creature yes obviously in your face then where there has been civilizations on this earth for millions of years fascinating information Jordan ladies and gentlemen stay right with us we'll be back after these words in the second hour of tonight's broadcast my special guest Duren Maxwell stay with us [Music] you know today disguise the night-night divide today tried to run to the other side welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm today of course my special guest preeminent occult researcher mr. jordan maxwell before the break Jordan was talking about the possibility that non-human entities had intervened in the possible creation of the human species not only the current human condition but may possibly be he quote gods that the biblical texts of the old text Testament talked about as he said the word Elohim is actually plural in Hebrew and it means God's Jordan I want to ask I want to get your take you know we talked about the possibility that these uh beings came here and had you know their own intentions in mind and didn't really care too much about us they were going to use us for their purposes and you know then certain groups of human beings chose one faction perhaps of these gods or one of these beings of among the many to worship and to venerate but how do you see the possibility of their being part of the possibility of positive non-human entities or presences that are here to not use humanity but to uplift humanity so that we might pursue our evolutionary development on our own do you see any possible presences that are here to assist us I don't think so no no I don't think so I think that if you look at the whole picture something I would add to what we said before remember in the ten commandments that God that particular God Yahweh that was picked by the Hebrews that particular God said one of the commandments he laid down on that new arrangement that those people who chose him he said I am the Lord your God and I shall not have strange gods before me I am the Lord your God not all my the whole universe know I am that God you chose so I am the Lord your God and I shall not have other gods before me you didn't say there were no other gods I just don't want you worshiping any other God because you made an agreement with me and so it's like the guy is on the girlfriend I'm gonna you know I'm gonna be your steady I'm gonna be your boyfriend I don't want to see you with other boys I'm your boyfriend your steady I don't want to see you dating other well the concept of the same they God and they picked said I am the Lord your God and I don't want any other gods coming before me I don't care when it down some of their silly stuff but don't worship many gods before me because I'm the one that you picked I'm the Lord your God so when you understand how this these scriptures are to be interpreted correctly and how the words in the Bible are telling is something that's encoded and people don't understand it being a word than a hand coded symbolic that's why they even asked Jesus they asked Jesus why is it you talking riddles and you're only talking only and the Bible said the only talk and rentals only that's the only way Jesus talk was in riddles and what was the other term that was used but the point being is you're only talking to riddles and then Jesus and I talk in riddles because I don't want you getting saved I don't want you around me I don't want you hearing and getting saved I don't want you around me at all so I speak in such a way that the whole world will hear me but only those who the father calls will understand what I'm really saying only those who are truly spiritual and who are chosen by the father will hear the rest of you will all just young you look with your eyes and don't see in you listen with the ears you know hear and with your heart you don't get the sense of it so that's why I haven't talked riddles and teach in riddles is because I don't want you to understand most people I don't want them in my company so I get the point this is why things are encoded in government government encodes messages because they don't want other people to read these if it gets out people won't be able to read what the government saying because it's encoded and so that's why today I'm saying that of both the old and new Testament are heavily encoded well by God we've heard all kinds of books and lectures about Bible codes when you better go back and look at that idea because it's true there are codes in the buying biblical codes and then so when you start looking at words and terms as little rabbis used to tell me you know the way you Gentiles read something you've got your own take on it and you proclaim yourself to know what you're talking about you've got your home claim when in point of fact there are encodes there are coded messages in there that the rabbinic authorities know that you don't know and so you you need to go back and do your homework if you're going to translate them correctly you've got to go back and look at the culture of the people who wrote it one of the words meant back then not what they mean today and look at the entire picture as an encoded message and when you do that you begin to see that there's more than one God there's many gods and when Adam and Eve and Cain and Abel Cain kills his brother and God is going to now banish him from from his family and take him away and send him out into the wilderness where Cain says that God oh my god don't send me out there I'll be a vagabond and if you send me out there they're going to find me and when they find me they're going to kill me and and God said no I'm not gonna let them kill you I'll put a mark on you so they may find you they're not going to kill me and and you've got to ask yourself what are you talking about this out of and he came in Abel Kane just killed his brother and now God is sending it out to the world and Cain says to God don't send me out there because anybody out there that finds me will kill me and now he's got God believing there's somebody out there and God said no I won't let them kill you if they find you who are you talking about that's in out there that that will that's different from you and they'll kill you if they find you though I thought there was only three people at this point Adam and Eve the cake the table and now now there's only three people because I have one killed the element so what are you talking about well what we're talking about is that there have been civilizations on this earth for millions and millions of years the the history of life human intelligent life or intelligent life goes back millions of years and this is why incest I think again I'm saying this is why it says in Genesis 1:28 when God is being Adam and Eve went down and he you know form multiply and replenish the earth do it again so you need to you need to understand that there's a bigger picture here and most people are no idea I'll make this picture really is how far back it goes we're finding temples enormous structures in the oceans of the world were finding pyramids on the ocean on the ocean floor and the Atlantic were finding enormous structures and temples off the coast of Cuba off the coast of Japan Okinawa we're finding enormous temples around the world on in the bottom of oceans what does that tell you when the oil rigs of drilling into the earth in the oceans they go down miles beneath the ocean to hit the oil but before they hit the oil they're sucking up the something that they're coming through and they're finding handmade artifacts under the ocean floor wake up you need to wake up and find out that the earth has got a history you're not aware of and I think what you're saying in so many words is that in this replenishing of the earth after the deluge what was really being done was they were just rebooting the matrix of slavery all over again we'll be right back everyone stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest tonight Jordan Maxwell Jordan on the other side of the break you were talking about you know that there have been many many ancient civilizations going back for possibly even millions of years and this system of slavery has really been ongoing and has been you know wiped out and rebooted possibly several times to switch that back to what's going on in the modern world obviously we're still entrenched in a system of control and slavery so I wanted to I want to ask you what could be construed as a controversial question but here it goes anyway what is your personal take on the ideology that is referred to as pacifism and let me get your take on that first and then the second part of this question I want to ask is is there an inherent right of self-defense on the part of people who other individuals consider as their slaves or their property to use their our physical ability their physical power to physically rebel and free themselves from that imposed condition that is imposed upon them called slavery well I think that whole thing on the obvious it's really a philosophical question how you view freedom I mean I I'm in the system that I live in i I'm not complaining about it I live in a system I understand it I I'm the ones been talking about for many years about how the system works and but I as a matter of fact I don't have any problem with it as such because I realize it's just part of it is what it is it's part of the continual flow of power over the human creatures and over the intelligent creatures of the years have always been dominated by occult powers by hidden the hidden powers of the world we call them Illuminati today I don't care what you call it obviously at the top of the world you can go like in the organized crime you have the street criminals and then there are captains that cut holes and then down to that you have you know they in the heads of the families and after that you've got the Commission and after that it is and he just keeps going up the ladder and dr. London till finally comes to the bottom line upon line and the big boss boss of all bosses at the top well the boss of all bosses at the top in the steel in this theological world I believe are demonic I believe that this wooden structure says the Bible says that all of your gods are demons and you're worshipping the worship of demons and Devils I think there's probably something to that because I think that's exactly what's happening I think religions today are the are the product of higher of the world intelligences who have are misleading the whole human race and that's the whole race you know go back to the scripture where it says that Jesus will take him to the pinnacle of the temple and shown all the kingdoms of the worlds and I will give you all these kingdoms if you worship Me well obviously you couldn't give all the kingdoms of the world if you don't own them well the scripture actually says the god of this world is the devil and all the religions of the world are from the devil's from evil demonic depravity well again like we started to show up again by saying by their fruits you shall know them so what is the fruit each of the three major religions and the world today Judaism Christianity and Islam is world chaos world wars violence and we can start dissecting each one of those will agenda and begin to see the real story buying what these religions really are where they come from and then you get into the sexual perversions and the lies rubbing it on the entertainment of propaganda Wars and the violence the mistreatment of children independently on the horrible stuff in the circumcision of children and babies and cutting me the foreskins off of children the baby's penis and sucking the blood what is all of this incredible stuff that we humans are subjected to and Noma but he has saved the question where does this stuff come from where do these ideas about God and I remember beckoning in everything else cool then years ago teacher emphasized the point when you're discussing something with other people define your terms understand that other people may have a different view of the word you're using so that's why I always ask if we're talking about theology that's another very interesting word theology because it go back to the word feels which is God in Greek the else on Theo in Greek is God that's what you and so and the ancient Greeks where they used to go to hear about God Christians go to churches well the ancient Greeks and then go to churches they went to the painters so it was called the God show they went to a theater until the DA to talk to them about the isn't part of theology so this is where today we get the idea that when you go into a big show if you're going into a theatre well that's what you do when you go to a church you're going into Church and some theatres a show the God show and people pay money and the and they are entertained and then they go out and leave they are anta fide because they saw a good movie they are no good serving or something does it mean you've learned anything no no saint people have gone to the same church for 46 years and you can ask them a question of theological question and they can answer it they don't know what you're talking about so I kind of say to myself if you've been going to a theater or to our into a class in a theater or to a church for 40 years and I asked you a question and you can't answer it that tells me how kind of an education you beginning and this theater or this church which is by their fruits you shall know them so when you start breaking down religion you find out that the people who are very religious also are totally ignorant LLL inform unread and have no understanding of the word God and where it comes from they have no concept of what they're talking about and it something used to turn Christ freestyles Christ Jesus where did these words come from clove God as I've always said I'm few famous was saying that God has simply don't know all backwards and this way of dogma in the church you begin to understand the etymology of the hidden or occult significance of religions where they come from why did we only have three major religions like Islam Judaism Christianity why three there's a reason why why do all religions almost all religions in the world have a triangle in God's servants you know the Hindus at Brahma Vishnu Siva Egyptians have Alzheimer's Isis Horus the count that Christians have Father Son Holy Ghost and the Jews have Abraham Isaac Jacob all ancient religions have I try Oh God why it goes back very very far that's a very good reason for the concept of a triune God the triune God is one God but three divine persons well it goes back to Sun worship the Sun in the morning was the newborn Savior and the Sun is your Savior and the dose was it rises every morning so he was your risen Savior and if you don't think the Sun is your Savior wait till it don't come up so the Sun shall risen Savior at noon the Sun became known than the ancient where others the Most High why cannon don't get any higher than high new well therefore he's the most high later on he's dying so therefore is the baby in the born in the morning he becomes full-grown at 12 billion and now he's going to die have his old age three persons and one gun hold that thought right there we'll go to another break ladies and gentlemen my special guest tonight Jordan Maxwell stay with us [Music] [Applause] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm this evening my special guest occult researcher jordan maxwell before we go back to asking Jordan a couple more questions I just a couple more questions I want to run by Jordan and then we're going to go to your calls in the third hour I want to give Jordan the opportunity in this second hour second half of this hour to let the listening audience know about a very stressful situation that he's been undergoing regarding actually of all things his own name Jordan do you want to inform the audience about this it is very distressing you have no idea how mistrusting it is it's you know because 70 almost 74 years old I don't really understand the technology of today I've got a I've got a phone cell phone I don't know how to use it I just you know I'm doing the best I can with just working on computers and so I don't really understand the technology of today I've studied my subject and so I have to depend on somebody to help me be because I have nothing I owned I think I have no property I don't own a home I don't have a family I have no checkbook no credit card no car I own and has nothing so I have to depend on someone who's younger because me to help me to do my work all I'm worth is the my work out in the world and do what I do but I need help doing them because I don't understand the technology so when someone comes to visit me which people do all the time they come to visit me and they see how I live with nothing they say oh my god look you know let me help you oh you want to help you and I say I wish you would appreciate if somebody would help me so they say oh yeah let me let me let me do your deed the website for you these is the end and will handle your distribution product and will connect your email for you and will just help you and so all we need to do is we need to get permission to do this from you so we need you to sign this piece of paper that gives us permission to the you webmaster and do all this stuff for you so I do my assignment BB and then they have my web now they have ownership of my website for me and so what happens and and has happened is when I found out the webmaster I had four years ago four five four and a half years ago when I found out that this young girl was not who I thought he was and I found out his proclivity than who he went what when is trying out life is really like I didn't know I'm just an old man and the young man comes in once the hobby but when I found out what he was really all about it shocked me and I had and so I decided I don't want you to be me I don't want you to my company more I don't want you to do anything for me anymore just give me back my website and you go your way and I'll go mine to which he said oh no no nobody walks away from me and so I found out that he went into the back of my website and changed the ownership from my name to his name he changed the email my private email that I've had with my website he redirected my private email to himself and of course he had already redirected the bank account to his personal bank account and then behind my back not knowing that he went to sent to Washington DC and copyrighted all of my all of my books and tapes and videos that I produced over the years and copyrighted them all he'd be by my back and I didn't know anything about it then he went to the trademark Department and tried to trademark my name so that he would actually own my name by products like money my email my bank account everything he owns at all when I confronted him on this he said look it just get out there make me some money and so at that point I I was devastated I didn't realize the death that people will go because I've had people cheating me before but this this took the cake I've never had anyone steal everything I own and then talk to me like I was a fool so I had to talk to lawyers and not lawyers of course would say oh this is terrible we could do something about this but it don't cost you ten thousand I don't have a nickel I never have any money and whatever money I did have it goes the end now so four years so the past four years all the products that have been sold on my own website Jordan Maxwell calm jordan maxwell calm has not belong to me for four years because my webmaster he's the one that has the the codes and the passwords and the username i know i never knew anything about usernames i don't know anything about passwords and codes I'm 74 years old but he does so he went into my web site stole my website stole my money redirected my emails which is mail fraud I'm told by attorneys and now people writing me all over the world goes to him and he answers as if it was me and and you sending out invitations to the ramen to to donate money to Jordan Maxwell he needs your help financial health as well people are sending money to him unbelievable unbelievable criminality and in their face but I can't do anything about it because I'm broke I have nothing but my life's work has been stolen from me and so the best I can do is just get a lawyer if I had the money so I've had some people come in and say Jordan will let us help you you don't have to sign anything you don't have to give us your life's work we're not going to steal from you we'll get you a good attorney and we'll put a kick stone or something up there and on some kind of a donate button to at least get some money in to get an attorney to get your life back to get my work back so that's why I have a little radio show that was done for me I don't know anything about radio let me how to put a show together I just do what I do but I am a radio show now it's a little podcast called Jordan Maxwell show very simple the joint mexico show and on that I've got about 36 little more than 36 different shows it's all free I have guests on tonight talking around Revlon myself on my own show but it's a podcast Jordan Maxwell show and if you go there there's a button for a Kickstarter and there's another button there for a direct donation to me so I'm just asking anyone who would like to help me get my life back and and be able to pay an attorney because I've got a very good copyright motion picture copyright attorney who saw my plight and said wouldn't this is criminal let me take care of this in court I'll do this I'm gonna get your life back you your money and everything else that was stolen from you so well but you know attorneys cost money Vanover heaven for all these he's working on in anyway so I appreciate that but I would like to be able to pay em and I'd like to also continue to do the radio shows but I don't have the money for that 250 you know as long as I can with possible marketing you a radio show patina but I don't have it expect expenses associated with equipment with bandwidth with you know hosting it's not free as many people think you know it's not as easy as people think it is to do as far as you know the technical know-how goes you know right when I edit this podcast I mean I sit here for you know an hour or two even after the show is done edit out the commercials I have to upload it to a site I have to build an article on a content management system it's not like you press a button and a podcast puts hosts itself you know it doesn't have I don't know how to do any of that I don't even know I just learning how to work out the computers I don't know how to do that but I have a dear friend complicated and I've come in to help me and a puppet if they put a website together for their podcast in the show and they put a little like Kickstarter up there so I can have a kick starter and portable by the way I've heard your new radio show the new incarnation the Jordan Maxwell show and I just want to say it's absolutely brilliant it's really great work that you're doing on that show I've listened to them all and I think it's a phenomenal show and let's be very clear and tell the audience the exact website that is yours okay Jordan Maxwell show.com that is your official web site so it is going to any other website that is not Jordan Maxwell's official site and if you are putting any kind of donations toward that site or buying anything through that site that is not going to Jordan none of those proceeds will go to Jordan the only site that is valid for Jordan is Jordan Maxwell show.com be very specific and make sure you get to that correct site to pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere you're listening to what on earth is happening with my special guest for this evening Jordan Maxwell we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Applause] the cold [Music] that we don't dare speak while between us there in so deep we keep rated there that there's nothing wrong earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest this evening a cult researcher Jordan Maxwell Jordan in this segment I'll let you wrap up your thoughts on the very unfortunate series of events that have been conducted against you uh let's call this what it really is this is pure and simple identity crime I mean the individual stole your very identity and and stole you know the proceeds of your your life's work and the research that you've done over the many years and I'll let you I'll continue and wrap up what you want to tell the listening audience regarding that situation well it's true that's exactly what happened when I found out like I said because this is what I found out he what his private life was all really about I wanted nothing more to do with him and I told him that I said because you know you work for me and you know I was supposed to be my friend and helping me you're younger than I am I thought you meant to help me I don't want you around me I don't have nothing to do with you now now in the element so his response was okay I own you now I own you I own your name on your product on your bank account I own everything so now you know you're not going to get rid of me I own you so I was told by every other phone you need to get out there old man and make me some money that I owe you I own your name on your website oh yeah your email the bank account your products you know he fell off he bailed on an affidavit on the penalty of perjury and sent it to the trademark Department to trademark my name then steal my name from me well he got caught on that one such as caught him on that one and so he backed off of that but he's still copulating all my products stole everything from me and left me penniless so that's why my friends have put this on this donate button up to hopefully donate some money so that I didn't pay my lawyer and get my like that's a lot of wine Jordan do you alright if you want out this individual by name on the air here tonight well I think it's I think it's already out there I think it's already out there name was Joseph jos do you have joseph dolars el gol ici a dualism and it's his father and his brother you know three of them in the car there are three of them in the company Joseph Dolezal and Jacob Dolezal I'm glad you're naming them by name because it's good that people should know not to deal with individuals like this and the only way they're gonna know is if they're outed by name right there so that besides that's already out there on the lawsuit if you go to go to the federal trademark departmental to see where they signed it and trying to trademark my name stole my money and down and Jacob Dolezal told me we've done a new plant that you old man you're going to get out there and make us some money so get off your lazy butt and get out there and start making us a bun unreal or at that point I just don't know this is a twenty six-year-old kid and he's telling me at seventy-four stuff like that so that's nice God unfortunately that's the God that they worship you know so I will be sure with this podcast to include the proper link to your site and I'll have a link there for your Kickstarter campaign as well and that is under the player for tonight's show if you're listening at the what on earth is happening calm radio show page you'll see under the player there is a link underneath Jordan's biography his short bio there it says you could visit the Jordan Maxwell Kickstarter campaign so if you feel like Jordans information has been a value to you through the many years he's been doing this research and providing it for people you can make a donation at that Kickstarter page so um Jordan if you want to do a few more questions in the order of this segment and then we'll go to some calls in the next segment and hear what listeners have have to ask ok great just a couple of quick personal questions if I may what do you what would you say to you is the most influential if you had to pick one single influential book that you want to one book to recommend to people what would that most single influential book on your entire mindset throughout your life have been and why well that's really a difficult question because I've had hundreds of reference books and one half of them are prices pieces of working and they are profoundly important but I guess I would have to say for especially if you're interested in the modern day where elders are living in the book is called fire in the minds of men Fira fire in the minds of men as written by James Billington and James Billington today is the chief librarian for the Library of Congress so you don't get any more academically correct than the chief librarian for the Library of Congress and he has written many books but there's one particular thick volume called fire and the minds of men is a mind trip reading this this guy has an incredible storyteller but he documents all of the occultism and politics religion secret societies the emblems of words terms Illuminati where the Democratic and Republican Party really came from and talks about the Illuminati the Mormons of Jehovah's Witnesses of sex the cults and the money the banking industry the whole entire dirty world of hidden knowledge hidden power hidden wisdom thought she library for the Library of Congress James Billington wrote a phenomenal book called fire and the minds of men I should take you about ten years to go through that all right great let's uh let's let's see what other questions do I have here about if you could spend some time with any individual living or deceased past or present okay and you could pick their brain for a while who would it be and why well again I'd have to think about that because there have been so many brilliant people that I've already been in the front and the presence of all my life I have they did blessed to be in the company of extraordinarily brilliant people I think it would be my girlfriend's father my first girlfriend in California her father I would love to be able to sit and talk with him again but that's a personal thing because he was one of the most extraordinary experiences I've ever had my first girlfriend without bothering me up you may have heard me tell the story about it he bound him and my girlfriend when I was 19 years old but he was an extraordinary man and I would love to be able to talk with him again they have you ever heard the story I'm talking about my girlfriend and his father father I have not go ahead well I was in back in 1959 and 19 years old 19 year old kid freshly from Florida and I'm in Los Angeles and North Hollywood and one morning I go into the restaurant in downtown North Hollywood 1959 and there was a there was no room anywhere except one one chair at the at the counter so I'm sitting down next to this young girl on my teaching phone May 17-18 and we got to talking confirm that she only lived a couple blocks from me and Molly lived about three blocks in town she had walked downtown I had to so we walked back home together and so we started meeting each other on weekends downtown and would walk home and so but she lived about two blocks further than I did so she knew where I live when I never followed her home so I didn't know exactly where she lived and one night she came over to my house and she said my dad wants to talk to you and of course I wasn't interested to talk your father she said no my father is very important very interesting and he wants to tell you something so I thought that sounded interesting so I went with her and when I went there to cut it short the her my girlfriend and her younger sister they she the two girls sat on the floor the mother was in the kitchen the father and I sent home alone so far he said on one end I said on the other and we were talking and you know it's a small talk ask me how I am working in how would you like the job how long have you been here center cetera and so I felt all right about him but there was something very very very strange about him but I felt confident and wasn't threatened because he was talking about normal things that I could really do and so in the conversation he then when I was feeling all right about him because he realized that was very sensitive to who he was and and then he said to me and remember back when you were eight years old and when your dad built a new back porch back in Florida and your uncle helped your dad build a new back board remember that before he tore down the old back boards and he built a new one and he built in back boards with green lumber and it smelled funny remember you were about eight years old and and your dad got the new back porch remember doing that happening and it frightened me I didn't want to show tears in front of my girlfriend but it scared me cuz he was right I didn't do my dad didn't follow my voice what I would say and I won't look where would he know that and then he said to me he's and then remember one night you were in bed you were supposed to be sleeping but you got up and you went out in the back porch and looked at the moon then the moon was full you remember doing that and I just looked at him but I do remember doing that and he said then you looked up at the moon and you was you are kicking the wood with your finger because it's so funny like the green lovers and you were picking the pieces though you know with your finger and pretty in your mouth like a toothpick remember and I just looked at him because he was absolutely frightening me I had no idea in the world I knew that and he said to me well how in the world did I know that and I said I don't know how you know that he's our world did you do what I said I said yes you're right needs to what happened I don't that but I don't know he says while I was there I saw you will pick me so there another side of the break stay with us folks

[Music] [Applause] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening we're into the third hour for this evening with my special guest a cult researcher Jordan Maxwell Jordan I'll let you wrap up the story that you were telling about a former girlfriend's father and I'll let you pick it up where you left off before the the last break yeah so he said to me in front of the two girls I said on the floor but he and I all stood on the sofa and he said you know he told me about my dad building a back porch with my uncle which was which he did and he said that he used green lumber and a smell funny which it did and then he said that one night you said you was supposed to be a bear but you got up and he went out and set it on the back porch and you were looking at the phone which I did I remember that this tinkling and he said and then you talked to God didn't you and I just looked at him he said well did you would didn't you I said yes I did and he said well what did you say to God and I didn't say anything to him I just looked at him he so I'll tell you what you said and you said to God that you wanted to do something important with your life you wanted your life to have a purpose for something to do and you wanted to do I'd like to be important to do something with it and he said so is that what you said and I looked at him and said yes that's what I said and he said to me how did I know that how would I know all of this and I said I don't know how you know I have no idea how do you know this and he said I know this because we were there we were right there watching and I said what do you mean we were watching vegans and we were there how would I know everything that you did if I wasn't there and I said I don't know whose name cuz me and he said well it's not important what you need to know is that we've been watching you for a long time we and you did ask after all you did ask so we're going to give you an opportunity to do something with your life and he said but what you're going to do for us you will not do to the very last part of your life so just understand we have something for you to do and you will do it but it will not come until the very last part of your life so I ask them is it so what is it I'm supposed to do and you said that's not important because even if I explained it to you you wouldn't understand now but there will come a day and when in the last one of your life where you will know what you have to do and what you're doing and so and you'll know what what we have for you to do so as it turns out that was very startling that was a very incredible experience but I do know I do know what I have to do what I'm doing and why I do it but I do it they hope my fellow man too long waiting my fellow man and I thought I was doing something of dying to help people to research and wake up and to and so I started talking about the conspiracies a government back in 1959 6061 I was going around giving lectures at little Mickey Mouse occasions like in bookstores and women's clubs and all that back in the early sixties and seventies so you know Hanzo it's been my life's work well now on toward the end of my life sport now I'm 74 years old I now see that all the things I was talking about that were happening asleep the society Illuminati and the Federal Reserve and all the Knights Templars and all of these subjects that I've been talking about I used to talk about these things in Hollywood but years I would go around to the motion picture studios at night and there's the working class people not the executive but the working people will get me in and I'd go into the sound stages at night at and one of others in different motion picture studios and give slide presentations little Mickey Mouse cheap little slide patience to a bunch of people they don't beyond now all these were you know off them working and just sitting on the soundstage if you set up a camera I mean projector and and I wasn't talking about Illuminati in and I'll call societies and all the stuff going on by religion and the dark occult forces in the world and Knights Templars in loominatee and banking and all that well today narrow forces everywhere in Hollywood now it's all over da vinci code national treasure who got that all the rest of it but this is the stuff I was talking about many many years ago and today you are you today I have far more that I had never told today and a lot of the stuff I can't talk about in public but I'm trying my best to alert my fellow man to all the dangers which are going on and what I received for his young people coming in and taking my website taking my everything I've worked for stealing at all and treating me like a fool so I just I just my feeling is at this point I'm very philosophical about my life my mind my mortality I high-end I've already come to terms with that I'm not going to be able to longer so I do the best I can to help my fellow man in the face of people stealing from me lying to me and taking everything I own but I feel the dole Ezell's will eventually have to go to jail because they have really committed some serious crimes and they they have no idea that there are some felonies big time felonies that's going to put them in jail and it does these are come join us wait on the Great Spirit minute call God because I believe in God so I just wait and see what this brief Spirit will do to help me to get my work back and get my life back because I feel but I still have a lot to do yet well sure let us part of my life and and what I can do it you will continue to do it and you'll do it effectively because you doing the great work for a very long time and the universe is going to open up its arms and ultimately reward you for having done that work that I feel that is the the greatest form of protection that anybody can really bring upon themselves is when they step into the truth and speak it and do so unapologetically because it is the right thing to do as you have done because I personally have a very strong belief in the presence of the God that moved out my mind that there's a higher intelligence profoundly wise and all-powerful profaning the universe and especially of us but I don't have any problem with God I have a problem with organised corporate takeover of the world by men who are dark and evil and have sinister plots against the human race well I understand it I know it's all about because I've been talking about it for 50 years but I really would like to get out from under these young punks who are installing everything from an old man and ridiculed me on my own on my own website that ridicule be a public and at the same time they're ridiculing me and calling me names they're trying to sell my client byproducts obviously because they're making a lot of money while they're medically I should tell you something about their men it tells you everything you need to know about their character because their character is based in in the desire for Mammon that's there you know especially that's that's going to bring them cosmic retribution that being though no doubt about it absolutely especially Joseph duo dealt the kid with his pregnant life stuff that I know about I you have no idea and the world is in - so when I found out I want nothing more to do with him his immediate reaction is well okay what are you going to do about it I own everything I'm in control so I changed everything go to me so I own at all and he probably things like with the corrupt court systems and everything that you know they'll side in his favor or something like that and that's probably where the good surprise yeah

I do the better thank you I'm still doing what I can do in Georgia we appreciate you for doing it so you want to take some calls absolutely all right great let's go to the phones our first caller on the line this evening is Jay and Pennsylvania Jay welcome Oh Jay is this Jay Parker yeah Jay yeah I'm gonna get to your call on the other side of the break a comer a commercial break is catching us right here but stay with us and you'll be the first person to be able to ask Jordan a question on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening with my special guest Jordan Maxwell we'll be right back [Music] Oh [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm special guests this evening Jordan Maxwell we were about to go to the phones I apologize I wasn't paying attention to the time clock in the last segment so we were on the line with Jay Parker in Philadelphia Jay is one of the speakers of the first two for your mind conferences right here in Philadelphia Jay is also a survivor of satanic ritual abuse and Jay actually hosts his own show on satanic ritual abuse and uh it's a show that also discusses solutions to the problems that humanity faces in our world Jay welcome to what on earth is happening and what do you have for us this evening well I just wanted to thank Maxwell Jordan Maxwell for all the work he's done certainly a great volume of work and although the numbers are small I believe that people who are doing due diligence and researching and studying they they are real human beings and should be encouraged to wake up and to long these secrets of the occult I have a question for Jordan pertaining to something that was on his website years ago that I saw and it was a symbol like it was in a circle and it was like an electronic symbol and you were asking if anyone knew what that symbol was on your website and I saw that symbol I was shown it when I was about five years old in the Illuminati group that I grew up in and they were asking me if I knew that symbol was and I wanted to know if Jordan still had a copy of that symbol and if he could get it to mark passio yes let me are you talking about the symbol where of those little arrows pointing all out all directions from circles and little arrows and long arrows pointing out provide circle is that what you were talking about the one I saw on my left there on my website that I saw this on my on my computer is that there's only one thing yes yes someone someone sent it to you lovin you posted on your website and were asking me people do you know what this is and I have I was shown that exact same symbol when I was about five years old and my mother asked me she was an Illuminati which worse than the DuPont's and she by the way with someone who Mon control program John du Pont the heir of the du Pont fortune that killed the wrestler Schultz she set him up and I just want to say that I really want to get ahold of that symbol again so I realize I don't know how important if you want to email my go on my my website Jordan Maxwell show and and ask for that symbol I'll tell the people who are Manning my site to look for your email and put a cult symbol in the in the title and then I'll I'll send it to you I've got it or I don't I would never forget that symbol so I make copies of it on all my hard drive so yeah I've got it I'll send it to you I wouldn't be surprised to see what you might have to say about them well that's great Jordan and I just want to thank you again and keep up the good work one thank you much I appreciate it and you email me I'll get back to you thank you excellent thanks so much for the call Jay let's hear from Don in South Carolina Don you're live on what on earth is happening with my special guest Jordan Maxwell welcome John hello mark how are you doing it's John by the way Shawn I'm sorry it's okay doing Jordan how are you doing I I just wanted you to know I'm 65 years old and you can this is one person that you can say that you're responsible for changing his life because I kind of grew up with a lot of this stuff when I was coming up I grew up as a Jehovah's Witness and I learned as an early age how wrong that was so I got very interested in investigating things especially in the biblical sense because the entire Western world sat accused is based on their interpretation of the Bible so I spent my early years doing a lot of that and then after my first divorce I was in a hotel room and watching TV this was before a whole lot of things started on the internet and watching TV and on a one of these oddball stations it had Jordan backs well I've never seen Jordan before and it was showing some Illuminati stuff and Jordan gave gave a speech I can't remember what it was but I thought about that for a couple of years and when I found Jordan on the internet I probably spent a month sitting there now watching every video that he did every video I could find and I just you know he really made a big big difference in my life and I just wanted him to know that thank you very much I just do what I do and hopefully whoever supposed to hear me will what was not supposed to hear me wrong so I appreciated them don't get AB any good comments I have I have a question for for you Jordan if I may and also one for mark too you were talking earlier about the Hebrews being you know they're you know phenyl Fiesta car is that correct what about the design astir sect is that do they not or at least put out the idea that they're monotheistic man yeah well scientism is not Jewish as zero nothing to do would be Hebrew or Jewish as a very very hidden well hidden political society it's a very profoundly dark and well hidden operation has nothing to do with Beecher which at all Zionism has zero to do with Jewish and Israeli period and the reason why some of the things you need to know about the Zionists is that when he the original Zionists she and Wiseman and and Herzl Herzl GM Wiseman's the people who were founding Zionism who they really were what they were connected to the secret societies that they were connected to but when the Zionists were looking to for my their own homeland their own base of operations political base of operations the first place they picked was Uganda Africa that's a fact in the of history they take Uganda but the British after looking at it decided that doesn't sound like it's going to work so they they abandoned the Zionists abandoned Uganda as their as a home lamp of the Jews and then they went to they went to other they went to four other places on the earth they even talked about the even had discussions with the president at the time about the president you asked about having a homeland in Texas but detective but detective state in the end the federal government decided that's not going to be very smart having as I oh man in Texas so they abandoned on one of the bottom three or four more on the places that they tried to set up their homeland and finally finally they decided well let's go to the Middle East if nobody knows it's there and so they went to the Middle East well you need to understand that if it was really based on the Bible and the biblical idea of God's chosen people they would have went to Israel to start with they wouldn't have gone to be Conde in Texas and all the other places is in the history books look at all the different places that Zionism one to set up a home that that didn't work out there we're coming up to another break ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back after these words you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] you know today disguise the night-night divide today tried to run hi welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my special guest this evening Jordan Maxwell we were taking a call from John from South Carolina and he had asked Jordan about Zionism and Jordan you were talking about the orders within Zionism had been debating among themselves about setting up a base a political base of operations I'll let you pick it up from that point I said it has nothing to do with God God gave this land to the Jewish people and I and others as a fulfillment of Bible prophecy knows a bunch of bull you go back to go back to the beginning of Zionism and he read what Baron von hearse and she and Wiseman and the other Zionist wasn't what they were really talking about if you go back and read it and find out where the money came from always traced the money and complicated that detectives will tell you that always trace the money where did the money come from and so when you trace the money behind scientist I've been traced to secret societies that gave the money to desireless and then when you see that the Zionists wanted to establish their first home where and like I said Africa Uganda and that didn't work and they will come put in Texas I didn't work well they don't put it through more other places before they finally decided to put it in the Middle East into what we today call Israel and so if you understand where the word Israel comes from and I've been talking about that a long time and you will find out that what we're talking about is a secret society a very old well-established well-funded very powerful secret society in Europe that has been around for hundreds and hundreds of years is connected to the Vatican from again that 282 logic and the Vatican is connected to the Hanseatic League untied insurance as has to do with the whole financial religious system of and from the alcohol society's i'm here's a hell of a story when you begin to unravel this mess and find out where all of the stuff really comes from and trace it back to where did that money comes off dude was financier and there's a very interesting question but it's a very loaded question because I'm telling you Zionism has nothing whatsoever to do with the Jewish people got all the Jewish people don't know that they're dancing around and supporting Zionism today I work for a moment suspected but the same thing is true of Christians and of the Islamic religion to Muslims or dancing around supporting their God Allah never for a moment suspecting where Allah came from and where the concepts of Christianity actually in fact came from so you know it's a point of story we don't find to get into all but all I would say is that Zionism is nothing more than a plan of the secret societies to either look at Giuseppe Mazzini Albers point how the secret society is within the fraternal orders of Europe behind leave leave behind the what was I think royalty of Europe some very dark stuff has been going on behind the scenes but on manipulating and exploiting Christians when they Mulaney lying and distorting the truth for Muslims and and for Judaism so having said that if you know if you want to do something to some we search look up help fuzzy on ugly Tontine insurance you know and where the money comes from and who prints out money today and where that comes from is all one ball of wax is all one story the continuation of something very very big very dark that's been going on for hundreds and hundreds of years in Europe and now as the world by the throat and it's all being orchestrated from behind seasons got nothing to do with being Jewish you better ticket you better go back and start looking in the back and sequence society up again to do 82 and all this die and some of those organizations operating out on the damages ask where you either start looking doesn't they may think they do a big Jewish so then we hear all these stories about the truths our goodness the Jews are doing that now you've been a legend at Bannock Vatican represents Caesar Caesar was they improv for the whole Roman Empire and the Jews were empress of nothing so when I am here about all these things that the Jews are doing this the Jews are doing that though do you let her go back and we look at this picture because it has to do with the Vatican has nothing to do with being Jewish and and Zionism has nothing to do with being Jewish and the big story and I would love to one day Department I was one day I would like to explain this story so that people would hear it and understand it for the first time what's really going on it is a sad story about how the entire world has been hoodwinked and lied to and tricked into believing all kinds of silly nonsense and often the very people who are the most hoodwinked by that society are the ones that are moat the most oppressed by them the people that they get to back it yeah oh you got that waiting enraged account let's uh let's take another caller let's hear from Diane in Nebraska Diane you're live on what on earth is happening with my special guest Jordan Maxwell welcome well thank you and thank you Jordan for being here tonight and for for everything really all the inspiration all your hard work I wish you all the best and getting your your identity back and and getting back on your feet and I'm going to do my part to help read the word and thank you Mark for getting Jordan tonight my question I've been watching some interviews of you Jordan and I hang on your every word you inspire me so much excuse me and one thing I noticed in a couple of interviews you had mentioned that you had brought David Icke over to the United States mm-hmm you regretted it and I was wondering if you don't mind sharing why that was that you regretted that well I don't regret helping David because David never did anything to me no David didn't nothing to be I did bring David over here when I was in San Diego I was working for a company called truth seeker and I was pretty much running the company for two and a half years and so I had access to the the trust fund which was very large and so the company had money and I was pretty much running it at the time and so I brought David Icke over to America at the behest of a lady who younger Alton's came to me and asked me if I would do that if I would help David so it's a long story but I really got to my the people around David II never know anything about it but people here that were promoting David to me and what I did for them I gave them money I gave them a place to live I bought him a car I gave him credit cards on the on the corporate account I gave him jobs paid about $2,500 a month I did everything I could to help this girl and the guy that was with with her because they were trying to promote David Icke and so I gave him a job like I said I gave him a place to live a credit card to keep the money they travel all around the world the two of them and and they spent enormous sums of money to promote David Icke and in and and and used me and used by engineers at E and ultimately took everything from me got me fired and filled out the street and lied about me and got me thrown into the streets with no job at all so that was the thing you I got or or that's a whole story Wow you know how that happened and what I did and how I was treated I lost everything because I fought david icke over here because the girl that came to the ocean was so sweet and she wanted to help uncle unfriend David I don't at the morning enough but she wanted to help David and so I said okay I'll do whatever I can I don't know who he is but bring him over here I won't keep your credit card on and I'll give you a job so I gave her a job $2,500 a month and I am a nine on office and I had the outfit the office and the boys with the guys but there I gave him a job and they have a car so on one of my car and they had that place than them so I got him an apartment and they have to have furniture in apartments I gave them both $3,200 a goodbye furniture as I give them credit cards money anything they needed and the idea was that the two of them would work for me and at the same time they can promote David I do and so everybody was making money off of me and then after David Icke was being becoming now well-known the girl went into the the company headquarters and suggest that they fire me and bring day that I came to take my place in which which ultimately knows what they did so I got fired by the same girl that I am fighting in and giving her money a home a place to live a new car and a job and given her a credit card so she could travel all around the world with our girlfriends all my on the my credit card and for that she got me fired and thrown into the street and the bring David I came to take my place so that the thank you I got from my name was Alice Ferguson Alice they're adorable we'll pick this up on the other side the vertical story [Music] welcome back everyone last segment of this edition of what on earth is happening coming at you right now my special guest this evening Jordan Maxwell Jordan before the break you were answering a call or regarding a situation that occurred to you with promotion and I just like to briefly interject and say you know it seems that whenever there is even modest sums of money let alone when large sums of money come into the picture you just find out where people's real intentions and loyalty lies and you know where they're there you know the thing their value system is that the thing that they really want to put their attention and focus on as opposed to the truth you know do you find that to be the case the case my god I could go for hours and tell you about the people I trusted and the people I have been around that now they come in as they all would just love what you're doing and you know sign this piece of paper and give us this and give us that and I trust and I out why hopefully I'm trusting that to me help me and then if I don't know they went to the bank and took everything out they ripped it off the listing stole the money stole the the products they stole everything and so yeah unfortunately that's what we have to live with in the world they say they have dollar signs in their eyes unfortunately they doubt about it yeah and incidentally you know you mentioned that and the dollar sign you remember the original sign for a dollar was a I going to an S sure when I remember that sure like the word is yeah that's right so so high going through the S the iron stood for the I stands for insurance and the asses for script so the the symbol for money because of money as an insurance scrap and so if you're going to talk about the Federal Reserve and the Internal Revenue and why is the Internal Revenue called the Internal Revenue not for the whole country was the Internal Revenue and why is the intern revenue and the Federal Reserve Home Office in Puerto Rico not in a Marilyn I'm in the u.s. then the state's whole office of the Federal Reserve an internal internal revenues is in Puerto Rico why it has to do what Pirates of the Caribbean and once you see how on the

Pirates of the Caribbean are tied to the Knights Templars because that was a symbol for the Pirates of the Caribbean is a Black Plague it was called the Jolly Roger it was a black flag with a Stalin crossbones and so that was a symbol of the Pirates no no no that was a symbol of the Knights Templars of Europe the ancient Templar order of Europe which was in a Catholic order American water and they are the ones that gave us what we call international banking or Pirates of the Caribbean and that's why ABC television and movies and Hollywood have been making all those movies about pirates of the Caribbean that's why Disney had it and in Disneyland parents of the Caribbean who was a Pirates of the Caribbean the the the order of knights templars the people who gave you what you call international banking and so they can all of their gold and everything that was stamina stealing pirates and Caribbean they hid it on the island of Puerto Rico so that today photo Rico is the capital is the corporate headquarters for the Internal Revenue and the you know for the Federal Reserve so you need to understand that the I asked similar for money as an insurance scrip this is why it goes back to the idea that the insurance companies back in 1871 that was set up were the real powers there was setting up something called insurance companies insurance companies are based on your body the buying and selling of human bodies and has to do with ton tying insurance and they caused the article either you know there's a big story here so if you want to talk about the Federal Reserve and all lifetime stuff there's a far bigger picture yeah I mean is really big and it's old and ancient and well-established and people have no idea how far gone this world really is you know you confront the Federal Reserve you confronting something that's at least a thousand years old it has formation it goes all the way back to the Phoenicians Canaanite system of water law along water maritime Admiralty parents of the Caribbean pirates it's a hell of a story there's one incredible story but there's really reading there really trading and selling people's souls as they see it that's how they interpret what they're doing you know trading their identities trading their you know very soul you could say well I'll tell you what when a baby is born the hospitals will always instead of taking out a fingerprint or thumbprint they roll the the the the ink on the bottom of the baby's son and they and they put the footprint of the baby because that's where your soul is and so that that's what they own they they now own your soul so they own your soul for the baby's soul before he puts his soul on the ground once you foot is on the ground now you are a man on the land but before you put your foot on the soul we say that before you put your foot on anything we we already own you but you were born we but we we got a copy of your soul and now in there in the high-tech world they're even taking genetic sampling at birth exact in your genetics yeah there's that and so if people do not realize to what extent the the Christian Church has said nothing and they do about this the Vatican knows the Vatican's behind the the the Billy Graham's of the world all the holy rollers and and wealthy father stapler gee they know they don't was going on because in in their system canon law lies even behind our Admiralty that's exactly right there'd be like it's all legitimate you know I mean it's a it's a clean whole thing yeah the whole thing is it would you know entire concept we'll have to do another show on just that information sometimes because that's a fascinating study to delve into boy you've got that language you get into churches and where the word church comes from people going to church

I've no idea what that word means where it actually came from and what that word being do be surprised and shocked that the word church really after the ancient goddess seer can write that well it's a really interesting start again and people know Christians use the term Christ Jesus Christ they have no idea where the word Christ are priests those comes from and what it means in the ancient world would priestess of Christ men asked us it has to do argument a I'll give you our again it has to do with sex the whole idea of a Christ a priest owns the Christ is sexual term that was used as sex worship thousands of years ago Kristoff's price sex wake up and smell the roses there's something going on that's why you have all the sexual perversion and pornography and all kinds of stuff going on in religions today with the Islamic religion marrying little seven-year-old girls you can you know marry sickly old marry his seven or eight year old is absolutely outrageous priest was a priestess was actually lubricating a will that's right it was a lubricating oil and that's why the king of queens of the Europe when they became came the Queen their their heads were anointed with holy oil and that when the Queen of England was anointed with the queen she had oil poured on her head that goes back to the the penis being lubricated with oil three stops to Christ sex worship you don't think so do some research on it you'll find out the whole life dia of the anointing the anointing and in an ancient world was sexual lubrication of the phallic before sex incredible stuff going on right in front of you and the people of the world have no idea at all Jews Islamic the Christians have no concept of what's really going on but you can see you can see the residue of it with all the sex going on in churches and all that and all the stuff that we're hearing about every day that's all part of it Jordan we're coming up to the end of the show I want to just say it's been a pleasure to interview you this evening and I want to give you the last a couple minutes of the show the floor is yours well I thank you I suggest if you want to help me I've been trying to help I follow them if you want to help me just go to my website join me thanks world show and if you would like to help me then contribute to either buy it by a buddy donation button or do if you want me to give to my Kickstarter okay so much ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this edition we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Music]

people how these two imbalanced paradigms lead to the continuation of human slavery and human manipulation so that's coming up on the show tonight I'm also gonna take your calls in the second half of website if you go to the news section you could check out a couple of new interviews that I've done I was truth warrior with davidwhitehead last week I was also on a cult Empire with Bob from Cincinnati two really good interviews that I'm very happy with how they went and a lot of good information in there so also up on the water on earth is happening calm website in the in the video section and on the news section my new seminar from Asheville North Carolina new-age BS and the suppression of the sacred masculine revisited with even more new-age deceptions exposed that whole six-hour seminar is on the water on earth is happening calm website as promised I simply edited it to the slides the audio is a little spotty because again we had some technical difficulties with the audio but Steve from Florida was kind enough to record with a handheld recorder from the front row the seminar so it wasn't a total loss at least we did get some audio recorded and I was able to get that from Steve and therefore I was able to actually make a video of that seminar and the information was not lost so very happy and thankful to Steve from Florida for saving the day on that one and for those who want to check out that seminar with a lot of great information about the new-age deception to subtle new-age deceptions propagated often by wrote as false feel-good pseudo spiritual teachings you could check out that seminar it is live on my website and on my youtube channel as well I have two upcoming interviews this week I will be on ghost in the machine with Steve travesty on revolution radio on Tuesday May 6th 2014 from 8 o'clock p.m. to 10 o'clock p.m. Eastern Time you could check that out at freedom slips com I will also be on truth connections with Kathy Buckelew along with my good friend Jay Parker so both of us are going to be interviewed on truth connections this Thursday may 8th 2014 from 10 p.m. to 12 o'clock midnight eastern time you can check out Kathy buck Lu's website truth connections calm the free documentary screening and discussion night hosted by truth freedom prosperity we will be screening a a new free documentary film this not this Thursday the following Thursday May 15th Thursday May 15th this meet-up takes place the third Thursday of every month and Thursday May 15th we'll be doing it from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Guarin Recreation Center 1600 Jackson Street in Philadelphia the Guarin Center is on the corner of 16th and Jackson and there's a free parking lot entrance entrance that is on Wolfe Street between 15th and 16th streets the meeting room when you enter the building through the main doors is the last room on the right and again it's the third Thursday of every month it's free to attend there is we do ask if you can make a voluntary donation because we do have to pay for the room it's a small donation that we have to give to the Guarin Center but if anybody you know wants to voluntarily contribute a few bucks it is it is welcome you can also bring your own food and drinks at the Guarin Center the film for Thursday May 15th is going to be a repeat we showed it previously here in Philadelphia at the Essene meetup when we used to do it at of scene foods but on Thursday May 15th at the Guarin Recreation Center we will be showing again innocence betrayed because of how powerful and informative and important critically important this documentary film is a read a brief description the film the documentary film innocence betrayed 170 million civilians have been murdered by their own governments in the 20th century alone 170 million men women and children who were defenseless to protect themselves 170 million victims of gun control innocence betrayed is a very powerful documentary that is produced by the group Jews for the preservation of firearms ownership a great gun lobby group of firearms ownership group here in the United States I think they're probably the most active gun lobby group in the whole world this group produced this documentary called innocence betrayed which explains how government have historically deprived people of the ownership of firearms and then soon after doing that have engaged in mass exterminations of their populations innocence betrayed shows what happens when government alone has all power and how licensing and registration were key elements to disarming populations leaving them vulnerable to methodical slaughter this film exposes facts that the mainstream media has ignored and concealed for decades in a sense betrayed is a documentary that will open eyes destroy myths about gun control change people's minds and save lives so that's the screening that we're going to be doing here in Philadelphia at the Guarin Center on May 15th once again that meetup is scheduled on the third Thursday of every month I will be doing a live all-day seminar in st. Louis Missouri entitled streetwise spirituality streetwise spirituality is going to be taking place on Saturday May 31st 2014 at the Arden Meade Center at 17 Selma Avenue in st. Louis Missouri it's going to be taking place Saturday May 31st at the Arden Meade Center in st. Louis the doors will open at 9:00 a.m. morning session from 9:30 to 12:30 lunch break from 12:30 to 2:00 afternoon session 2 to 5 and then followed by a question-and-answer session to round out the seminar advance tickets are only $20 a $20 donation you can call to reserve purchase advance tickets three one four four eight eight four four five four or you can email ray mummy at gmail.com I've been pronouncing that incorrectly the last couple of weeks I apologized to Ray for that the name is Ray mummy RA Y mu mm e at gmail.com to purchase tickets at the door donation will be $25.00 so it should be a really great seminar about what does it really mean to be truly spiritually awake and I'm looking forward to going to st. Louis to present it I'll be continuing tonight on the air right here to do a giveaway of three additional tickets we already gave one away swami shivananda giri won the first one a couple weeks back when I started this contest we have three additional tickets to give away on the air tonight to the streetwise spirituality seminar in Saint Louis Missouri I'll ask callers when they call in if they want to attempt to win the ticket again it's one ticket that you can win per per call and per correct response because you will have to answer a trivia question correctly and please only attempt to answer the question if you can attend the seminar we don't want to just give tickets away and then people waste them and can't attend so please you know only call in and attempt to answer the trivia questions if you are looking to attend the seminar in st. Louis on May 31st I want to thank Joe from Kansas City for purchasing those four tickets and allowing me to give them away free on the on the air as part of a trivia giveaway so thanks to Joe from Kansas City for doing that I want to just briefly announce that I'll be spacing out some alternative interviews like interviews on other radio shows I've really really been going full steam ahead with interviews on other shows for the past few months and this is I believe because of the natural law seminar that took place late last year in Connecticut when that hit the web in late January it sparked off a whole lot of interest traffic to my site went up I may need to be looking at a faster web server pretty soon because the site is clearly gaining popularity and more people are going there to download content so it has slowed down a bit as well but that's a good thing again that's a good problem to have as problems go but hopefully it won't get too bad but as far as the interviews go when when this seminar hit the web a lot of people contacted me a lot of shows contacted me a lot of sites linked to that interview and that's a great thing because I feel that it is the most critical information that I've put out there that people really need to understand and and integrate into their lives but the pace as far as the interviews go has been pretty demanding so in order to focus more on my content and focus more on live speaking engagements and of course this radio show number one I am going to start spacing interviews out a little bit and limiting interviews mate on other shows perhaps one or two tops a week so I just wanted to mention that on the air so people know that you know as far as other interviews go I will be again not taking a complete respite from that but I will be limiting the interviews that I take again more so than anything else in order to focus more on this show so one other quick thing the there is a support donation button on the front page of the wat on earth is happening comm website I don't sell anything on the website but if you feel that the information that I have freely given here on this show over the past few years has been valuable to you and you've gained value from it if you want you can make a voluntary support donation and you could do that by clicking the donate donate button on the front page of the wat on earth is happening comm site ok let's get in start getting into the content for tonight and as always I like to direct people's attention to the what on earth is happening comm radio show page where the player on the site is at and if you go to uh if you click the radio show link on the tab at the top of the site that will take you to that page underneath the player you'll you'll see when the show is live images for tonight's show and then there are a group of numerical links there you can click on any of those numerical links they are slides that I will be referring to during the course of the show and there'll be some visual imagery there to go along with the concepts and ideas that I'll be talking about so image number one there of course is the poster for the street wise spirituality seminar coming up in st. Louis feel free to disseminate that to whoever you want posted on social network sites it's there to be shared image number two what I'm gonna get into tonight is this polarizing dialectic that goes on it's it's what you might call the Hegelian dialectic in action and again the Hegelian dialectic is named after the philosopher friedrich hegel hegel was not an evil individual in and of himself that the Hegelian dialectic is actually about synthesis between two seemingly polarizing opposites to present a choice that often assure some sort of an outcome whether that outcome is really contrived and or whether I should say that outcome is like kind of contrived that's it's predetermined but it could be for a positive purpose that the Hegelian dialectic does not have to be for a manipulation deceit deception and control okay so Hegel was using it as a mechanism of basically getting people to arrive at a conclusion by way of choosing between things which is what dialectic simply means by way of choice when we break down the the word in its etymology dia in Latin means I'm sorry in Greek means through or by way of and lect us in Latin means choice so it simply means by way of choice but what I'm talking about insofar as dialectics go here is dialectics which polarize people which get people to fight amongst each other which creates a divide and conquer strategy that the powers that should not be that the the sorcerers for consciousness that the mind controllers used to divide people against each other and therefore make them easier to rule over so this dialectic that I'm going to get into today which I call the polarizing dialectics or the polarization paradigms okay they they are in regard to where we came from and really they're in regard to where everything comes from the whole idea of what drives creation and specifically what has driven human beings to get to the condition and the position that we are in today okay so it's about creation and it's about human origins and these two polarizing dialectics one of them works through a left brain form of imbalance and the other works through a right brain form of imbalance and again since day number 1 on this show I have been talking about the imbalances in the masculine or feminine side of the personality and these are reflected through imbalances through the left and right brain hemispheres in the human physiology so and again these aren't hard or fast rules when it comes to it's all just left brain and the left brain only does these things of course human neuroscience is more complicated than that and you can't just say all of these functions only interact in the left brain hemisphere and there is no activity going on in the right brain hemisphere when we're engaged in those functions of course that's not what this overall model for left and right brain qualities and interactions means okay people who are hearing it and that live level of reductionism and simplicity are understanding the generality that is being made here when it comes to left brain forms of interaction with and right brain forms of interactions with consciousness we have to be a little bit more mature and open-minded about that and understand that this is a general model and it's not something that what you know 100% works that way all times and places okay and is you know rigid rigid rule [Applause] Sakuni decide that we don't dare speak wall between us them so we keep their like there's nothing wrong welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening on your host mark passio I was talking about the before the break I was talking about the two overarching polarizing paradigms when it comes to human origins and creation and the forces that drive creation so again one of these is an extremely left brained imbalanced worldview and one is an extremely right brain imbalance worldview and I was talking about there are no hard and fast rules when it comes to the interactions of the left and right brain of course every every modality of thinking is going to involve some crossover between these two hemispheres but I'm talking in general terms that largely the left brain is used when it comes to things like scientific thought linear thinking time bound awareness analytical breakdowns of things you know math verbal skills etc okay and largely the right brain is involved when we're talking about intuitive thinking non time-bound awareness seeing the big picture you know you're ristic type thinking creativity of course nurturing compassion etc okay so one is the masculine part of the brain that being the left brain hemisphere one is the feminine side of the brain and personality largely driven by the right brain hemisphere so let's look at the first polarization dialectic involved in human origins and again this is all a lead-in to discussing the answer to the question where did humanity really come from and what created the current human condition as it exists right now because most people come down on one of the two sides of this aisle of this divide that I'm going to be explaining here tonight almost everybody there's so few that don't fit into one of these two Hegelian dialectic 'el polarization paradigms okay that you can practically count them on one hand very very few people don't buy into one of these two paradigms or another and you know what it's some thing that the universe I was starting to say this a couple of weeks ago the universe has almost been telling me this is what you need to hammer on this is what you need to absolutely bring the sledgehammer down upon because this is what's keeping people totally trapped in a mind-controlled state the their belief on how does a human being arrive at the condition that we have arrived in right now so almost everybody has this so completely wrong incorrect believe in their position from a complete state of imbalance not from looking at any facts okay from believing in a religion whether that religion be traditionalist religion type thinking of any given cultural religion or whether it be from the religion called scientism which is also a religion you know it's a religion where your priest class is the guys in the white lab coats and the in the laboratories and research facilities who are telling you exactly how reality is and you're buying it buying into it wholesale and eating it up with it with a spoon and a straw and what's leading to all of their conclusions isn't truth it isn't real research it isn't real science it's what did the government grant money allow us to do this week what did Big Daddy say we were approved and given funding to do because he wants the outcome to be skewed in that direction you know that's what science is in the modern day and I've been hammering on this on interviews lately and I'm telling you folks if you don't think that's exactly how so-called science is done today you are kidding yourself okay I worked in one of the premier research facilities for an Ivy League college I be lead University okay the University of Pennsylvania I worked in their medical research facilities supporting their laboratories in departments that research cancer specifically blood answers in their department that reached large heart diseases and I support computers in those laboratories for years and I'm telling you exactly how their science is done they beg the money for government on a yearly basis they're not interested in looking for anything that's really going to radically transform the world and largely they're involved in agendas that are connected to government that advance things like eugenics and I'm telling you folks it's an animal it's an animal sacrifice factory for 24 hours a day around the clock non-stop not really doing anything with those lives except snuffing them out - I'm not telling you you know if I ever wanted to release photos that I have from what goes on inside those facilities I'm telling you it would bring a hailstorm down upon people maybe I should do it one day I'm telling you people have no idea what passes off as science at all at all and how it's completely driven by money in the financial institutions and totally directed by psychopaths in government they want the outcome of science to be how they want it to be not how the truth is they could give a damn about truth I'll tell you a conversation I actually overheard just while I'm giving this anecdote you know to show people that science so-called science what I call scientism doesn't give a damn about trying to find a cure for a thing I was in a laboratory in the hematology oncology department working on a computer on the other side of a cubicle and I was I was unable not to overhear a conversation that was going on between one of the heads of the department and one of the researchers who had just been hired and brought on board and was in this cubicle in this laboratory doing some research and on I guess gene work sequencing work or whatever and she was I guess doing some research into certain substances that she was working with and how they may have affected animals and or animal tissue and she said to the one of the heads of the department this is a really encouraging result don't you think something to the effect she said something to the effect that if we keep getting results like this I mean maybe this might some at some time in the future lead to a cure for this type of blood cancer and you you know when you hear somebody saying that you would think that the reaction on the other side of this department head who is that basically you know he's the main researcher of this entire department that I was supporting would be very encouraged and so and want to know more about it instead it was as if she just said I'm going to kill both of your children and eat them you know with a little bit of hot sauce on the side now I'm you might have thought she said that to this guy because he like whipped his head around and said don't ever let me hear you say that word again in my presence don't ever let me hear you say that word again in my presence and what was the word he was talking about cure cure she dared to utter the word cure in this research department okay and what he meant by that is if you find a cure for anything there goes our gravy train he said he didn't say it like that of course I'm saying that that's exactly what he meant but he said to her we don't look for cures we look for treatments to be able to mitigate diseases we are not here to try to find a cure so don't ever let me hear you say that that's what you're doing or trying to look for trying to prop yourself up on that pedestal he said this directly to this new researcher who had just been hired okay now that is how modern science is done ladies and gentlemen and if you don't think so you are a fool a fool because that's what scientism is all about it's about the money it's about the tenure it's about just keeping the process going year in and year out so I have my job my job and it's set and it's secure they don't they're not interested in overturning the entrenched paradigm of how science is done they're not interested in finding the cure for a damn thing all right so let's look at this right this extreme chronic left brain imbalance and the paradigm that basically works through it the Darwinian quote unquote evolution paradigm why do I have evolution in quotes there okay what AM what am i saying by putting that in quotes I'm trying to make people understand it's not actual evolution again we looked at this two weeks ago when we broke down the difference between evolution in occult terms or in terms that take consciousness into consideration versus Darwinian evolution which is altogether different there's the break music we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on the Republic Broadcasting Network don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] and [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn before I get into more material that I'm covering tonight regarding the polarizing dialectics regarding human origins I want to give the first trivia question because I'll be opening up the phones going to the phones probably in the next hour sometime to take your calls and to see if anybody wants to attempt to win a free ticket to my seminar in st. Louis Missouri so I'll give the first trivia question if someone who wants to attend the seminar wants to try to answer this question and you answer it correctly you will be you will win one free ticket to my streetwise spirituality seminar in st. Louis Missouri on May 31st the question is the trivia question is name the four major Sabbats or high holidays of the occult year of the occult calendar okay name the four major Sabbath's or high holidays of the occult calendar and I want the seasons that they are respective to the seasons that they are in the very middle of so I want the names of the four major Sabbats of the occult year and the and the seasons that they are each individual Sabbath is associated with okay the first person who calls them with the correct answer to that question will win a free ticket to my streetwise spirituality seminar in st. Louis on May 31st so let's go back to the material again we were talking about the imagery in slide number two the Darwinian evolutionary paradigm and again of evolution true evolutionary development is in regards to moving forward toward higher consciousness more complex forms okay more morality more freedom if you are just propagating genetic material you could be evolving but you could also be devolving okay so this force called involution the chaotic force that breaks things down and puts things into more uniformity less complexity less freedom more chaos alright less individuation all right that could be leading to the evolution devolution just because genes are propagating does not mean that consciousness is evolving I think humanity is living proof of that or at least the bulk of humanity is living proof of that not necessarily all of us but that's why I've put this double quotes around the term evolution in this term describing this paradigm the Darwinian model the Darwinian theory is an evolution at all in the true sense when people are calling that evolution it is actually a misnomer it is actually you're applying the term evolution to it which when you really look at what the Darwinian model postulates it's not evolutionary development at all okay all it is is out of control left chronic left brain worldview that sapotes promotes that matter is supreme and everything is just an interaction between you know subatomic particles and the propagation of those particles is all that really is of any significance or concern and the consciousness can be left at the door okay so let's look at this paradigm in depth it's it's basically trying to get people to believe in and again this is a religion once again this is all religion I keep trying to explain to people religion false religion is that which holds us back from where we say we want to go false religion is what holds back consciousness from the term relig RA in Latin to bind to tie back to hold back or to thwart from forward progress most of all in consciousness to thwart from forward progress in consciousness in awareness in growing in morality in understanding of natural law in understanding moral law okay so this left rein Darwinian evolutionary paradigm states matter is supreme and spirit is either completely non-existent doesn't exist okay or it's insignificant we don't even need to worry about that because all we need to understand is the interactions of these particles that we call matter there's no underlying true underlying intelligence or intelligent design or consciousness that is driving nature okay it's just all clockwork mechanism nature's a dead mechanized clockwork that has no purpose no grand purpose there's no real reason for existence you're there to propagate your genes for physical continuation of survival that's all that matters okay humans and here's the main thing what how does someone who buys into this left brain imbalance worldview how do they see themselves often or almost always let's just not even say all often almost always and I would say I'd qualify that and say not always not blanket statement but almost or in all situations when somebody's trapped in this paradigm they see themselves as someone who is completely controlled by genes with no true freewill choice a vast majority of people who buy into this paradigm as a religion think that human beings are permanently and hopelessly controlled by their genes just like a computer program is controlled by you right code and you know you program it into a computer program and you hit execute and then the program runs that program is bound by the code that it was written by and that's how they see us that's how people trapped in this left brain paradigm regarding human origins and creation the processes that underlie creation that's how they see themselves and everybody else in the world they see themselves as controlled not able to truly make decisions on their own because all their decisions are going to be colored by interactions in the brain that are ultimately controlled by genes that are coded for by G and as we were talking about two weeks ago on the show this is actually a completely outmoded and outdated view in science it has been completely overturned and disproven 100 percent disproven but the problem is that the consciousness of the people of the world don't often catch up to new scientific true scientific advancements that are truly born out by actual research repeatability actual scientific methodology instead of paradigm protecting which is what Darwinian evolutionists do they will have to protect this paradigm at all cost it doesn't make a difference is difference if thousands of examples to the contrary are found in the fossil record it doesn't matter if no evidence supporting their theory is found in the fossil record you know we need to sweep all that under the rug and keep putting this forward as if it's absolute gospel truth because all they're worried about is protecting the paradigm the paradigm that keeps their tenure and universities that keeps them writing and making money on textbooks ok that keeps them entrenched at the top of the anthropological societies and archaeological societies it's all about ego folks it's about ego and money if you haven't figured that that's what drives science once again you're an extraordinarily naive human being and I don't know what to tell you it's the mind of a child if you believe that science is actually really all about the discovery of truth in this world you have the mind of a child you like the kind of person that doesn't accept that psychopaths exist which brings me to the next part of this paradigm you know when the left brain is totally out of control chronically and it's all that's dominating the person's thought processes what does it lead to what does this buying into this kind of a paradigm as a religion ultimately lead to and for people who are like appalled by me saying this who are are you know believers in the Darwinian paradigm don't worry about it I'm going to offend the other half what we'll get we'll get to ultimately pissing everybody off and in the process of the before the show is said and done I'll go after the traditional religionists and then that part when we get to the right brain imbalance paradigm of creationism you know that won't be left out because there's got to be two parts to the to a dialectic you know it has to form that strong arch so that both of these structures stand up and constantly do war with each other and keep people from the recognize recognition of truth that's what this is all therefore this war between these two paradigms okay so let's look at what this left-brain imbalance Darwinian quote unquote evolutionary paradigm ultimately leads to or can lead to it doesn't have to lead to this but it can lead to this and let me tell you something folks I have heard this from people's mouths it's not just me like you know reading about this or you know hearing a thing or two about what somebody else heard over said people have said things like this to me about what they believe about psychopathy and there's the break music catching us all pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on Republic Broadcasting Network don't go anywhere we'll be right back [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm let's continue talking about the two overarching entrenched worldview paradigms when it comes to the processes that underlie creation and most of all human origins and I know this can seem like pretty simplistic it can seem pretty simplistic but the reason I'm doing this is because in my encounters with other people especially recently I'm telling you ladies and gentlemen these paradigms are so deeply entrenched and so many people accept these as like absolute gospel truth not only that but again the worldviews that it leads to most of all what I've heard come out of people's mouths when it comes to Psychopaths or when it comes to not having any inherent right for self-defense or when it comes to total hopelessness you know or that we deserve this you know just inherently things like that and you realize that all its leading to all these too entrenched paradigms lead to is inaction all these to entrench paradigms leading to is giving up all they lead to is this is just the eternal way things are and it's just too damn bad because that's how it's always gonna be the destruction of will is what these two paradigms lead to let me just preface this whole next section with that that's why I'm trying to explain how dangerous both of these worldviews are and to get caught in them is to get caught in a trap because your consciousness isn't moving forward when you buy into one of these religions so and you're certainly not going to understand where we really came from or you're going to be very close mine into even entertaining a alternative possibility than the very limited scope that these two worldview paradigms even postulate so let's look at what when somebody's in this left brain Darwinian evolutionary paradigm you know the belief that matter is supreme and genes control everything you know let's see what this ultimately leads to it can lead to this very left brain and bound imbalance belief system that psychopaths are actually the alpha humans that they're the epitome of our species and again ladies and gentlemen this isn't just speculation I've heard people state this okay psychopaths are the alpha humans because the process of natural selection chose them due to their gene set you know of not having any emotions okay you know because they don't have the capacity to feel that's some kind of evolutionary advantage that it allows them to you know survive because though they're willing to do whatever they want to do to somebody else and they're not constrained by conscience in any way you know they're not constrained by empathy in any way whatsoever and you'd be surprised to learn how many people think that's a great thing you would be shocked and appalled I'm telling you that right now I'm not saying that to try to make anyone you know hate other people or be fearful of the current situation I'm just telling you that's how it is this is what our work is to change in other people by telling them how ridiculous that is and what it will lead to is only more suffering and chaos in the world you know they think that psychopaths are alpha humans because natural selection chose them the rule humanity and therefore their existence the existence of the psychopath and the way of being the way of living in the world that the psychopath engages in it's not something that should be decried it's not something that should be looked at with horror no no no we celebrate it the psychopaths are the epitome you know we should actually aspire to them they have this evolutionary advantage that we the rest of us don't you know this is something other human beings should actually aspire to I've actually heard this leave other human beings mouths and it's mental illness that is mental illness folks you know I know most of my listenership at least the listenership that's been listening to me for a while will recognize that at least I certainly hope they will but I'm telling you I know there's probably people listening out there who are just regular listeners listeners the RBM and you know Davin specifically followed my work who think this way like I almost guarantee you there are and if people don't think that's a problem once again there's something wrong with you because this is what's keeping the dark occult satanic powers that be ruling over you by how we think about ourselves and others in the world and I'm telling you that is a mental sickness the people who think like that let's look at the opposite the aura let me let me rephrase that I'm sorry let's look at the oppo same as David Icke likes to say okay love that term because it's so accurately and brilliantly describes what the dialectic is all about you're not presenting the opposite of this thing it's the same exact thing it just takes a slightly different form a right brain imbalanced approach instead of a left brain and balanced approach because you know we have to appeal to the other imbalanced morons out there okay and you know we get them to believe in a very similar not nonsense that ultimately leads to the same conclusion that's what the dialectic is all about leaves are the same conclusion you know Oh what which which maze path are you gonna lead this cattle through because they all lead to the slaughterhouse you know the left-hand path leads there the right-hand path leads there it doesn't matter which one you choose they choose to be led down there going into the meat core finder the same thing with these human origin paradigms so let's look at the right brain half imbalanced half of this equation the creationist paradigm the religionist you know thought system people trapped in the nonsense of religion religious thinking which is equally as nonsensical as scientism thinking both lead to more shackles more chains no I hope you're enjoying your chains I know I'm not you know I am mentally free I am psychologically free I am spiritually free unfortunately I'm still physically chained here with the morons that are here with me you know unfortunately because of the way they think that binds me because of how irrational and completely close-minded and absolutely unwilling to look at where the truth leads because of their fear of what it might mean what the implications might present that then they're gonna have to wrestle within themselves and God forbid you look in a mirror we can't have that now we can't have that you know and religionists are the same you know they're the same type of closed mindedness that scientism that the left rein super skeptical have it's just a different form that's all you know this one works through belief whereas the other one works through we're walling off every other possible place that any truth could come to us from and saying only you know government monetary grant funded science can produce the answers that describe how the universe works you know that's what scientism is well religion is the same limitation putting consciousness into a box saying my religion my cultural religion is the only place truth can come from oh good luck with these two completely idiotic moronic limiting belief systems because they know what they're gonna get you more of bondage and enjoy it enjoy it while you think like that because that's all that and manifested we'll pick this up on the other side of the break don't go anywhere ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening they'll be right back

[Music] [Applause] [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divided today tried to run we got a break on through to the other side in our understanding we have to become more open-minded we have to entertain the possibilities to be a true intelligence true intelligence ladies and gentlemen is about being able to hold a possibility in your mind without immediately accepting it or immediately rejecting it and unfortunately this is what most people are unable to do the overly skeptical immediately reject and the overly you know right brain imbalance the blind believers immediately accept so let's look at this second polarizing paradigm of creationism of course this works through chronic right brain imbalance and it postulates the notion that spirit is supreme its primary to matter matter is lesser and inferior to spirit and matter should be looked down upon it's bad it's inherently bad it's flawed ok God the creator of the universe who is separate from the creation ok not part of it all it's separate from stands outside of the creation ok God separate is separate from the creation controls every event within the creation so there's nothing that we can do to create change certainly nothing we could do to create change in our lives our conditions our situations or circumstances if God doesn't want it to be that way God doesn't will that to be so well then there's nothing that can be done so since the way the way things are slavery I guess that's God's well there's nothing we could do to change it this is actually how these people think you know I mean I asked religionists do you think God wants freedom for Humanity do you think God wants humanity to be permanently controlled to be slaves to be limited in their thinking you wouldn't you think God would want the consciousness of humanity to come closer to his form of consciousness if he is the all being all-seeing all-knowing powerful creator of the whole universe the underlying intelligence that underlies everything in all of creation wouldn't you think that creation is actually trying to move the individuated forms of consciousness closer closer and closer to that level of majesty no no it wants a prison to be here to continuously punish that that's this is such complete imbalance thinking it's the imbalance thinking okay of a person who loves their slavery it's the imbalance thinking of a person who's totally trapped in self-loathing who hates themselves and they certainly can't have any kind of a majestic notion of a living creating god of an intelligent being that whose intelligence underlies the essence of everything no matter what you see that form of consciousness as if you see it that way that it made the universe to torment the beings that it injected into the universe well I think that is a extraordinarily low form of consciousness to look at as a God just my opinion I certainly don't think that place is that God upon any kind of a pedestal whatsoever and it's no God I want to worship it's no God I want to even believe in you know and this whole notion that matter is bad you know spirit is absolutely supreme to matter its primary it's another it's just as imbalance as the reverse that there is no such thing as spirit or it's significant and matter is all that all that is meaningful well this is just the exact it's the oppo same that's it the exact opposite you're just reversing the positions saying spirit is supreme matter doesn't matter or it's bad it's it's flawed it's evil so what will this type of a paradigm if it's held on to if it's stubbornly cling to and attached to for long enough what will what are some of the things it can lead to and I'm saying some of the things it can lead to can lead to this doesn't have to but it can when it's totally out of control it can lead to a form of pure right brain imbalance belief system that the whole entire manifested universe is some form of an unchangeable cosmic prison or a hell so to speak which serves simply as an endless torment for all the incarnate beings within the universe and I'm telling you not just religionists believe this but so do the New Age movement people and I'm telling you they've said it directly to me I was at a conference a MUFON conference once I wasn't speaking I was tabeling I went there to see Travis Walton speak and some some other speakers and I tabled at the conference and met a lot of great people had a good time heard a lot of great great speakers great information but I'm telling you there were some New Agers there let me tell you where their head is at it is frightening it is absolutely appalling solipsistic trapped in ensconced and self-loathing you know people who don't believe in truth at all people who think that there's absolutely nothing we can do to change the human condition you know it's all born out of self-loathing and right brain imbalance people who believe everything is an illusion the whole physical universe and I'm not even I'm not even saying I believe in the total solidity of matter and that everything is so actually real and this isn't some sort of a construct for learning and growing in consciousness of course I accept that's what matter is what else could it be you know things aren't as real as we seem to believe they are in a very left brain from the left brain perspective but don't go all the way into such right brain imbalance that you say the universe is a total illusion so nothing that occurs within its construct matters doesn't make a difference this is all it's all just to fool you into believing this is real well I'm not fooled into believing that it's real in the sense that there's no deeper underlying intelligence or reality underneath the so-called physical matter which is all just a vibratory energy that is here as a construct so that consciousness can have an experience and learn and grow I get that but I'm not going to go so far to say the whole physical universe is such an illusion that it doesn't even make a difference what happens here of course it makes a difference what happens here of course it is important what happens here otherwise what did you learn you know what was the whole point of the experience it is an experience but it's not just an experience as so many new agers want to say that term it's just an experience it doesn't matter how good or how evil it is it's just an experience those are just judgments bull bull good exists and evil exists its called knowing what actions are rights because they don't cause harm and knowing what actions are rights because they do cause harm that's what the New Agers haven't gotten yet that's what most religion is haven't gotten yet at all at all you know their sense of morality is all about whims and preferences I don't like homosexual encounters so therefore they I am deeming that they are immoral well is that true or not you know these religionists insists of a particular preferential lifestyle makes it immoral because they themselves don't find it palatable well I'm heterosexual I don't find homosexuality palatable for me okay that's my sexual preference but that doesn't mean that two homosexuals engaging in sexual relationship together is immoral because as long as it's consensual and it's something that they have both agreed to and there's no coercion or violence or violation of their rights involved in it then whatever do what you want as long as no one else is harmed and this is what religions have become especially something like Christianity in the exoteric sense of the term and the xoxo teracle religious Christianity you know morality is what my preferences are about and that's called moral relativism just like these New Agers think that there's no such thing as the difference between actual right and wrong objectively well because those are judgments that's bad you're judging you know you're saying something is bad and everything has to be positive utter bunk utter nonsense and just it's children these this is a further hallmark of stunted development in con it's being a child in your mind in your psychology and you've never actually grown up to actual adulthood inside of yourself that's all it is that's all it is and that's what these children these New Ager type children and these religionists type children they just believe it's all an illusory contract here to somehow torment also we can never know the truth about anything we certainly can never change it we pick this up on the other side stay with us everyone [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone I'm your host mark passio and this is what on earth is happening so we were going through some of the world views that can result as a result of accepting whole mindedly this creationist paradigm or just what I would call a right-brain paradigm when it comes to the human condition and human origins and it's the first part of this is a total belief that the universe is fundamentally a bad place okay and it's not a construct for the experience of consciousness so that that consciousness can learn and grow no it's a torment facility it's a construct for torment of consciousness a hell if you will cosmic prison that's completely unchangeable when somebody's in right brained imbalance they go into self-loathing and they believe their situation is totally unchangeable and they also believe it shouldn't be changed because they somehow deserve it and this comes from this belief okay that matter is bad and since we're comprised of matter we must be bad all right and what when we think this way that everything's just an unchangeable prison what do you think is gonna happen you think that person's gonna be involved in trying to change the dynamic that's at work no it promotes total inaction even in the face of total evil going on continuously in our presence and that's that there could be no better description of religion in my book I mean I'm just have I just not described religion all of religion in a nutshell and most of all the New Age movement how many religionists and New Agers are activists they're actually trying to do something to truly change the world hardly any a handful I was saying this on a radio show the other night okay what priests do you see stepping up and talking about the police state measures that are in place how about Buddhists you see any Buddhist monks talking about how people are totally being stripped of their rights and how that's immoral and wrong and should not continue because I don't hear a one not a one where's all the Imams you know of the Islamic faith where were they at stepping out talking about the police state how about the Jewish rabbis you see any Jewish rabbis talking out against totalitarianism and the police state measures that are going on in the United States and throughout the world because they're magically absent as far as I'm concerned if you do hear about them please what point enlightened me point them in my direction I'd like to know about them because I don't know about a one not a single one no they're busy propagating their little box for consciousness that's it because that's what they've been brainwashed and indoctrinated into believing in and now we got to get everybody else in the same box with me in my limitation with me it's called a child a child and they're fearful and all they want really all these religions really one is their 501c3 money you know once they get into that that's it you know then you can't speak out against Big Daddy you can't speak out against it or your tax exemption will dry up real quick you know then Big Daddy will be beating on your doors for all taxes and all of those donations and and you know collection plate money that you get we can't have that all the dialectic all working through money all one hand washes the other and again it's just like idiots that blindly naively accept science you know the whole scientific paradigm scientism let me let me qualify that you know the scientism paradigm it's the same thing with people who blindly accept that religion is somehow something that's good just because they believe in it all controlled by money you know the very tenets of half of these religions the belief systems that don't really have to do with truth all came from dark occultism anyway but people don't want to accept that you don't want to believe you're believing in the same pay in Seoul are cults that the dark occult came from of the old religions you know you don't want to accept that know that you're worshipping an astro theological Sun God no no because my religion has to be right you know all right you want to worship the astrological star gods you know the Elohim you know hey how about the Ashley the Ashley theological moon God moon goddess you know that that's the Islamic tradition just like the Stars or the the Judaic tradition you know after the three heavenly lights the the Sun the moon and the stars we have one religion for each cult you know but most people have never even looked into Astro theology so their religion is right doesn't make a difference whether this was all a construct developed to keep people under control that doesn't matter it's my religion so it has to be right all their times spent into trying to make their religion into the truth but never ever will they try to make truth into their religion you know no because the truth be damned they'll spit in the face and that's what they don't understand all these religious people don't understand God is truth God is truth and truth is God they are one in the same and they're constantly spitting in its face all day long every day you know with a belief system with their rigid belief system scientism is no different it's a rigid belief system it's just left brain imbalance instead of right brain imbalance so what's another thing that this can lead to this form of right brain and balance and I'm not just specifically talking about creationists here I'm talking about anybody that buys into this spirit is superior to matter worldview well one of the other deplorable ideologies that can lead to is pacifism and let me definitively and clearly state the difference between pacifism and non-aggression ISM the non-aggression principle is not pacifism pacifism is not the non-aggression principle okay pacifism embraces the non-aggression principle but it goes beyond that and fully wholesale Lee rejects the self-defense prints enlightenment is about the non-aggression principle which is the Sacred Feminine principle in consciousness combined with wedded to in union with married to the self-defense principle which is the sacred masculine principle in consciousness that's what enlightenment is about no Bing that is claims to be enlightened that doesn't understand any being the claims would be enlightened that it doesn't understand both of those principle principles and has wedded them together in their worldview and has is living both of those principles they're not enlightened they're just claiming that they are so pacifism has nothing to do with enlightenment at all understanding the non-aggression principle absolutely that's one half of understand understanding of enlightenment but pacifism is a belief or a religion that only evil may ever wield force an evil of course wields force in an immoral capacity that's why it's called violence it becomes violence when it's wielded in a way that you have no right to wield force but there is a rightful usage of force and it's called the self-defense principle when you wield force in self-defense that is a right and inherent right but pacifists claim only evil can ever wield any kind of force there's no such thing as a moral employment of this of self-defense for force for self-defense okay and this is stemming from their right brain imbalanced worldview that spirit is superior to matter so therefore if you take any position that tries to defend your materialistic existence your body's existence and preventing it from experiencing harm or even beyond that protecting your rights from being usurped if you do that in the physical domain that oh that's somehow violence and it's wrong and I'm till here telling you it absolutely is not that is not violence number one that is the moral usage of force in the capacity for self-defense and it is not wrong it is an inherent right and these people have to get out of their New Age religion and understand the self-defense masculine principle because you're not in unless you understand it I'm not telling you that's my belief system either I do not believe that I know it definitively that is eternal truth whether you want to accept it or not no matter who wants to accept it or not enlightenment is a twofold principle encompassing the Sacred Feminine principle of non-aggression wedded to in Union and in balance with the sacred masculine principle of self-defence eternally and pacifists are nothing of the kind at all there are people in right brain and balanced religion worldview of spirit is superior to matter so now that I've just pissed the entire world off okay and I've explained the two worldviews of imbalance the left brain imbalance Darwinian so-called evolutionary paradigm and the right brain imbalance creationist or spirit is superior to matter paradigm okay I want to ask a very fundamental and important question for people to consider what do these two polarizing paradigms share in common and will answer that question on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Applause] [Music] and listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I left off in the previous segment asking the question what do the two polarizing paradigms that I've just outlined share in common what does the Darwinian left-brain inbound so called evolution paradigm share in common with the right-brain creationist paradigm or the paradigm that postulates that spirit is superior to matter well they share quite a bit in common actually and I think it's what we have to understand is ultimately keeping is one of the factors one of the main factors that's ultimately keeping the human condition the way it is and the very first thing that does that the first trait or characteristic that these two polarizing paradigms share in common is the total dismissal of free will within the individual the total dismissal of free will now just think about it think about it what does the left rein imbalance Darwinian evolution paradigm say about free will well it says free will is essentially an illusion you know it's an illusion because genes control everything the interaction of subatomic particles and electro chemical interactions of matter in the brain are ultimately determining behavior it's a deterministic way of looking at the world ultimately through the idea of randomness it's so far into randomness that it basically comes bright back around to determinism and says well there's nothing you can really do to change because that's just your nature that's just the way you were made okay because the the particle is the physical map material particles that comprise your body your physiology you know there are what they are what our ultimate ly determining the way you think in your behavior forget about epigenetics forget about circumstances forget about programming forget about conditioning forget about consciousness most certainly you know forget that and it completely dismisses the dynamic of four we'll and that's isn't that exactly what creationism or super right brain imbalance religionists type thought does it says well since God is controlling everything of course everything is deterministic you know we can't counteract the will of God things are the way the way they are well certainly God must have wanted them to be this way so what good is our action what good is us trying to change anything the world will change when God wants it to change not when we want it to change you know so freewill is ultimately an illusion in the religionist paradigm and I'm telling you it's just like that in the in the new-age community just like that I've had New Agers look me dead in the face with a straight serious expression on their face and say free will is a complete illusion there is no such thing you don't have free will neither do I neither does anyone new New Ager saying that with a completely straight face and I'm telling you folks if you haven't understood the importance and the reality of free will you are not awake at all at all not a bit you're not enlightened you're not awake you don't know what's really going on you don't know the self and you certainly don't know the dynamic to get out of the mess that we're in if you accept either of those notions whether coming at it from the left rein worldview or the right brain worldview if you accept the notion that freewill does not exist enjoy the chains morons enjoy the chains I don't care how harsh you think that is I don't care what you think of me for saying that saying that like that I'm not here to win a popularity contest or for you to like me I'm here to tell the truth of how the dynamic works that is keeping the current condition the way it is and if you say you won freedom and if you say you want order and if you say you want justice and if you say you want peace and if you say you want prosperity you have to understand how that dynamic works in natural law and natural law includes free will to align your behavior in harmony with laws of creation or to choose to live in opposition to them through your own free will that is the gift of the creator of the universe and everyone has it every being with the capacity for holistic intelligence has free will animals are creatures of instinct we are not just animals we are animals that are also have the component of free will because of the level of the complexity of our consciousness meaning that we have the capacity for holistic and intelligence and understanding therefore we have free will we have the free will to move our consciousness forward epigenetically we have free will to change our circumstances we have free will to change the way that we think and therefore we have free will to change the way that we behave and if you don't accept that you are the perfect slave and you should you should be in Chains if you believe there's no such thing as free will whether you are coming at it from this left rein Darwinian paradigm or you are coming at it from this right brain religious paradigm you belong in Chains as a matter of fact you don't only belong there that's the only condition that you can manifest it's the only condition that you are capable of ever manifesting is slavery so enjoy it enjoy it until you change your mind until you change your thinking your thinking has to change for that manifested result to change the end it's eternally like that get over it and this is the problem this is the problem that people want to think they can keep their flawed fundamental axioms in place and still create the kind of change that they say they want well if you want to keep those flawed fundamental axioms in place that can only lead to the condition of slavery stop saying that you want to be free because you're a liar the next characteristic that these two paradigms share in common absolutely share in common is that they completely dismiss the power of consciousness and the ability of consciousness to create change in the world which is what I've just described consciousness is left at the door do you ever hear scientism believers really talking about consciousness except some types of electrochemical interaction in the brain no they don't talk about the power of consciousness to epigenetically affect change in the world no and certainly religionists often see consciousness as equated with the devil you know New Agers talked about consciousness but they don't really understand what it is you know they think it's meditating your way into some higher state when the way that you bring yourself into a higher state is by aligning your thoughts your emotions and your actions and they leave the masculine active principle at the door they leave a third of consciousness at the door so therefore you might as well leave it all at the door but none of these paradigms embrace and actually integrate deeply consciousness into their equation none they all both of these paradigms externalize all power the externalize ation of all power because look in the left rein Darwinian paradigm this so-called evolutionary paradigm which it's nothing of the kind ok not true evolution we are at the mercy of genes these little molecular structures you know comprised of some amino acids we're at their mercy these tiny little sabotage you know these tiny little collection of atoms you know they control us we're at their mercy like clockwork it's just the universe is just big a big wind-up clockwork mechanism just running on its own gods the the blind clock maker okay and genes control everything and then in the right brain religious paradigm of creationism God controls everything so ultimately human being is just a human being is just a puppet just it's just a wind-up toy soldier doll a puppet on strings you know we have no say in what happens to us everything is just being done to us victim mentality victim mentality can you see can can people who are within the sound of my voice are you really hearing what's being said do you understand how these worldviews have created have maintained okay the current human condition they propagate it they propagate slavery because they are both deeply entrenched belief systems that the human condition can not be changed that's what they both share completely in common they can not the human condition can not be changed and I'm here to tell you that that position is 100% utterly false the human condition absolutely most certainly can be changed will it be changed is another story stay with us everybody will pick this up on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] [Applause] the cool side we don't hear speak Wow between us there are in Seoul [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we're into the third hour for tonight's broadcast I want to go to the phones in this section I'm going to just simply wrap up talking about the main topic for tonight which was the polarization dialectics regarding creation and human origins the - brain imbalanced worldview paradigms that perpetuate the human condition I I asked the question and answered the question what do they both have in common their dismissal of free will and consciousness their externalize ation of all power postulating that we are either at the mercy of genes or God and a deeply entrenched belief that the human condition cannot be changed which of course is a lie it is one of the biggest lies that we face that is holding the human condition of slavery in place of course the human condition can be changed of course God doesn't want us to remain in a state of slavery of course we are not at the mercy of genetic code of course we can epigenetically change ourselves and our situation what will power must be applied knowledge must be applied care must be developed and applied it doesn't just magically happen itself so my last question which I will begin to answer next week I'm going to try to take some calls in the last hour of tonight's program and see if I can't give away some tickets to my seminar in st. Louis but the question about these paradigms is of course both of these paradigms are leading humanity to the same place that's why it's called the dialectic they basically are opposed aims that lead to the same place people think that they're so different they think oh I'm a Christian I'm a Muslim I'm a Jew I'm so different than all of those believers in Darwinian evolution and then people say oh I'm a scientist in a white lab coat I'm so different than those people who believe in religion no you're not you're both kidding yourself you're both pranksters your jokesters okay you're both played you're played okay you're both going to the same place and it's called slavery because of how you think your puppets on strings and not only are you puppets on strings by buying into these polarizing dialectics you believe that your puppets on strings by the very nature that you have accepted those polarizing dialectics and you know what the Satanists of this world are doing you know what the dark occultists are doing you know what the powers that be are doing they're laughing their asses off at you their bathroom with big out-of-control belly laughs non-stop and I'm telling you I've heard them do it from their lips to my ears I've been in rooms with them laughing at you and you just keep going on believing in your absolute BS nonsense religion on both sides of that equation okay because you're being mocked you're being mocked and you don't even know you're being mocked one day on the air I don't know if I don't think it'll be today but when I developed maybe I'll practice it off air and try to try to you know get it just right I'm going to try to do the laughs that a Satanist unleashed in my presence one time at a ritual here on the East Coast at Val Purchase not and he was mocking a cop who was watching the ritual house outside the house okay and protecting all of these Satanists and armed off-duty police officer who was a member of the satanic cult coven you know it they're they don't call them covens they call them grottoes and Satanism and this dark occultist who was smoking a cigar and he was wearing a suit and he was eating some hors d'oeuvre that they had served after the ritual was looking outside the window through this kind of like semi octagonal or hexagonal enclosure in the front of this house he was looking over at the patio where this cop was standing watch at the door and he was laughing so hard that his face became red and engorge with blood and I thought he was gonna choke on the food that he was eating and that's how much he was mocking and laughing at this cop calling him a complete unconscious idiot you know for serving the sate satanic agenda our agenda as he said okay and just said these people are power pets there are dogs there are animals on a leash and that's exactly how they look at people and you know what as I've said before people can say Oh mark you're in such a dark world view for even saying something like this they're correct they're not incorrect I'm not telling you I agree with their approach or their worldview or the way they think I'm just telling you they're correct they are they're their pets their dogs their animals that just follow them whatever they tell them to do that's it and the people who believe in these completely imbalanced worldviews are really no different they're just absolute puppets on a string and they've been given their belief systems by these Psychopaths they've been given their very belief systems by these psychopathic lunatics so my question that I'll end the presentation part of tonight's show on is is there any kind of a possible reasonable sensible alternative to these two imbalance prevailing paradigms about human origins about the processes that underlie creation well that's what I want us to try to start unpacking in a deeper way on this show and this is setup or framework material to do that because you have to understand the entrenched paradigms that are already at work and what they lead to so with that having been said that's the end of the presentation for this evening and now I want to go to the phones to see if we can give away some tickets or talk about the topic for tonight or anything else you guys want to bring up the calling number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three once again the callin number to join us here on what on earth is happening 831 394 43 let me give the trivia question for the chance to win a one ticket per call or to the seminar that I'm going to be conducting in st. Louis Missouri on May 31st named the four major Sabbath's or High Holidays of the occult calendar the occult year and I want you to when you give me the names and you can give me any alternative names there's a couple of things that they could be called each okay I want you to give me the seasons that they are associated with that is the full question and to have it right you need all the components of the of the answer correct okay so that's the trivia question call in to answer that and you'll win a free ticket and please only try to answer that question if you can attend the seminar in st. Louis so let's go to the phones let's hear from Brandon in Boston Brandon you are live on what on earth is happening welcome and let me ask you are you going to attempt to answer the trivia question for the tickets to the st. Louis seminar yeah I'll give it a shot yeah okay know who can't attend correct and win you're going to come to the seminar correct absolutely not right away and you know give Moy yeah great okay no problem go ahead he's my best shot you know just getting into this stuff so I'm gonna go with Saul and that is one of them what what season at Halloween that I guess wouldn't he said would be with he's in harvest his went there midwinter I'm sorry no that's not correct you did have one of the holidays correct you said so and and unfortunately it is not in winter so sorry but no win on the ticket to the saint st. Louis seminar but good good try so what else do you have for us this evening any questions or comments yeah I'll just leave the other ones that I had so but uh yeah just this question of fate versus free will you know about God Maryann and if you do and if you don't Brendan heard it right there we're coming up to a break you can continue that on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] and [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio before the break we were talking to Brandon in Boston Brandon are you still with us today mark yep okay continue with your comment all right yeah so you know you know it's interesting that we give up one priesthoods for another you both you want to take you know one with with a white lab coat one with a black coat and they both want to take away your free will the question I have is that you know we are free to choose whether or not we want to follow those things and that in their therein lies our free will in our faith I think we can be faded and furry and the same kind of the same thing we kind of it's kind of a tough thing there's only there's only one thing we are not free to do we are not free to behave without consequence we choose and through our choice our free will we put our thoughts into action through behavior in our lives but there are immutable laws that govern the consequences of those choices so if you want to look at freewill as a dialectic or a paradigm a controlled paradigm in that sense and say well then it's ultimately an illusion that's like that's splitting hairs or I would say that's semantics the the freewill choice still exists but you what you are not free to do is act without consequence there are always going to be consequences because according to the laws of this universe cause invariably precedes effect there is a deterministic component within creation and there is a randomness component within creation called free will what we get to choose is how we will behave we do not get to choose that there will be consequences for the way that we behave that is pre the laws that determine that outcome are predetermined what we have to do is bring our consciousness up to the level of understanding such that we know how those laws operate and therefore we will be able to align our decisions wisely with those laws and therefore we will not create self inflicted suffering as a result of a poor choice so we still have free will but we don't have free will to act without consequence there are always consequences so I hope that clarifies at least my position on that yeah I would agree completely and also with some responsibilities and and and you know - we can do the other people who are suffering around us know that is doing the great work and that is so critically important we do if we understand how this dynamic works we most certainly do take into ourselves personal responsibility to speak that truth and to share it with others so that we call can also help to elevate the consciousness of our fellow men and women great point Brandon thanks so much for the call really all good insights that work you thank you thank you you as well let's hear from David in Boston David you're live on what on earth is happening do you want to attempt to answer the trivia question for an attempt to win a one free ticket to the st. Louis seminar that's not why I call Mott okay so just go ahead and make your comment then or question yeah like there's a comment in a question like that really be easier to us to see how you come down on this because I've only do you show a couple of times but I really already have come to respect your team like spiritual achievement and anyways I want your opinion on this but let me spit it out here so you know what I'm talking about this past Sunday my was what the roman catholics call Divine Mercy Sunday and John Paul the second was canonized by Pope and now he is a known as st. John Paul the great now john paul ii was beatified by his immediate successor who was you know Cardinal Ratzinger who became pope benedict xvi yes and and in all the centuries of the Roman Catholic history it's unprecedented mark that that is that a new pope would be a defy the Pope successor would be a defy his immediate predecessor that some stuff identity and then of course we know that didn't have Bennett Benedict the 16th went on to mysteriously resigned yes yeah now some have speculated that was because of his involvement in the cover-up of a lot of the Vatican sex crimes that took place during his administration as a cardinal exactly he was Pope John Paul the second right hand men but mark we are asked to believe that pope john paul ii during his he wasn't popular partner for just a year or two he was he was the the so-called visible head of the Roman Catholic Church for over a quarter of essentially he had one of the widest pontificates and we are asked to believe the Roman Catholic Church would have us believe mark that john paul ii he never caught a clue he didn't have a clue what was going on during his pontificate and within his pontificate he didn't have a cool about this global people pedophile William you believe that I have a bridge in Brooklyn to sell you as the saying goes mark not the book in Brooklyn I said I haven't in doubt if you people believe that I have an indulgence up like this Bell yeah exactly yeah a movie I highly recommend a documentary a film I highly recommend on this topic is sex crimes and the Vatican it's extraordinarily disturbing when people watch this I mean they're going to be horrified by what they see but you have to understand what's really going on within religious institutions on the face of the earth and I would I would postulate this is going on in all religions it's not just Christianity it's in Judaism it's in Islam it's in all religion because they're using a lot of these Psychopaths who have infiltrated the religious institutions are using the people's trust to gain access to their children I mean let's face it this is going on yeah no no Matt this is my suggestion to the Pope the Pope Francis you know I don't know if he'll get wind of this but I hope and pray that he does but what my suggestion is now that pope john paul ii now that he's officially a Saint John Paul the great I would I would urge the Pope Francis Toula designate him the patron saint of pedophiles it would probably be fitting because like you said there's no way impossible that he knew during his papacy that this was going on that this was going on there's no way he didn't know that this was going on he obviously was in full awareness of it and allowed the Cardinals to perform the administrative duties of just moving a lot of these pedophilia priests to other our communities and and also using Vatican money filtered through you know of banks that the Vatican operates with like p2 Lodge etc and the bankers associated with them obviously filtered a lot of the Vatican money to pay off family members to prevent them from pressing charges in their local communities so David oh really great points that you've brought up and yeah I I tend to agree with you maybe he should be you know the saint of protecting the pedophiles and they're they're you know crimes so good points thanks for the call I want to see if we can get a winner for one of these tickets in in our st. Louis I'm really anxious to have a give another ticket away on the air so let's go to the phones and the remainder of the show and see if we can get another winner for that you're listening - what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm ladies and gentlemen I have found a representation of the laughs of the Satanists that I was talking about and it's not exact but it's probably a it's it's close enough in spirit to how I heard a Satanist laughing at the police the military the mindless masses of the world because of how on their puppet strings through mind control through the belief in their very systems of belief that they have people and I haven't really tried this I'm gonna just try to play it over the air I don't have a mechanism for just you know digitally playing this but I think it'll translate through my condenser microphone if not maybe I'll give it to my producer and he could play it or put it somehow into the show where I we could cue it maybe next week if it doesn't translate very well but here goes I'm gonna try this for the first time and see how this translates over the air this is a as close as I could find in a short amount of time to a the belly laughs that I heard a Satanist do at a ritual this was probably back I would have to guess it was probably around 1996 or seven or eight or something like that and again he was laughing at a police officer an off-duty cop who was guarding the ritual room or guarding the ritual house I should say okay here here goes this is a Satanists belly laughs laughing at someone who they call their dog [Laughter] [Laughter] like I said that about sums it up in spirit it may not have been exact but it's close enough and I'm telling you that's how hard they're laughing at most people out there that's how hard let's continue to go to your calls let's hear from Jason in Illinois Jason you're live on what on earth is happening and the first question I'd like to ask before you get to your question or comment is do you want to try to win the tickets to the st. the a ticket to the st. Louis seminar sure yeah I'd like to try okay now you can't attend correct yeah I would like two hours away great okay the question was named the four major Sabbath's or High Holidays of the occult calendar and the seasons that they are associated with go ahead okay Walpurgis night or Beltane correct that's correct and then Samhain or Halloween yes would befall correct and then you'll the winter verse Saturnalia I'm not sure I think it's I think it to you all right no I'm sorry that that is not correct that is one of the minor Sabbats which represents one of the lesser arms of these the solar cross the High Holidays or major Sabbats follow what is called the galactic or grand cross and are the midpoints of the seasons the Yule holiday is one of the solstice celebrations which is of the lesser cross so I'm sorry that's not the correct answer but a very good attempt so thank you all right I'll let you get to your question or comment now sure I was gonna ask you about the relationship between like the Gnostic philosophy and American Indian philosophy by your spirituality and then I was ha me questioned yeah a second question was related what do you which since I noticed that you had long hair I was wondering if you like if you think there's some kind of relationship to long hair and intuition okay two interesting questions I would say I'm not aware of a direct connection to from the Gnostic tradition and the Native American traditions I know of course one developed in the ancient Middle East and one is native to the Western Hemisphere but I wouldn't discount that there may be some overlap in their philosophies there I would say where they would differ is in their overarching view of nature to me the Gnostic ideology while I agree with many points of it is very dark in its view of what the nature of the universe is and many Gnostics believed that the Demiurge or a dark God or dark form of consciousness rules the entire universe and the universe is one of these you know hellish constructs like a constructor or is enforce all that we have to somehow transcend or escape from I do not subscribe to that worldview I think it's a very imbalanced part of the some of the Gnostics ideology not all Gnostics think like that but many do whereas I feel that a lot of the spirituality of Gnosticism they do have on point and correct and I would say that the Native American philosophy definitely takes a more integral or integrated view of nature and sees it as a more holistic mechanism which I tend to gravitate more to in at least the worldview of nature or the universe is concerned so it will be interesting to look into deeper connections between those two philosophies or belief systems but I wouldn't specifically tell you that there is any direct connections or any that I could speak to that's the first part that's my first answer the second one was regarding long hair today long hair is a symbol of maintenance of a part of you that is of a feral nature I'm not going to be tamed okay I do integrate the animalistic component of the the psychology and the personality and while I integrate that component I also integrate the higher consciousness so it's that concept of the the serpent and the Dove it's that concept of you know the higher form of consciousness integrated and married and wed to the form of consciousness that is going to be willing to defend itself if provoked or attacked I don't I see it let's put it this way if long hair where the style I'd shave my head bald okay so it's it's it's a non conformist approach to what is the status quo condition and also taking a razor to one's face is all about you know being tamed being you know putting a tie around your neck it's all about being tamed being D masculinized being taking the feral aspect of the nature away and basically bringing someone into a condition that is more domesticated it's a it's a Adi masculine and it and turning someone into somebody a male who is more emasculate emasculated and I would say it's about ultimately domesticating someone so I've left my hair long in the sort of spirit of rebellion that that came with my my origins in being in the the rockin and metal community when I was young when I was in my youth those are the preferred you know musical approaches that I enjoyed because of its rebellious attitude and and its rebellious nature I still prefer those types of music because of those qualities and you know I always like to see more conscious bands coming up that are integrating you know positive lyrics and talking about mind control talking about the the agendas the dark agendas that are at work and and promoting human freedom to get past those agendas and to defeat them so long hair was about that to me I don't really see any kind of mystical or magical quality ethical reason like the Rastafarians of the Sikhs or Native Americans thinking like you know I can understand that they had beliefs I don't necessarily subscribe to those beliefs about long hair to me it's more of the effect as it is as it is seen that you know I'm not domesticated and like I said if everybody was wearing long hair I'd probably take a razor to my head and shave the competitive bulb just to do the opposite ever heard of the urban legend or whatever I don't know what it is but supposedly during Vietnam the military used Native Americans as trackers and then when they got their first military issued haircut they lost their tracking ability interesting marinades for us and they blamed it on intuition I mean I don't know if this is a true story or not but they know I do know many Native Americans don't take the long hair seriously and do believe that it somehow does imbue them with certain characteristics or qualities once again that is their belief system I don't know whether I would say I agree or think the same way but you know my take on it was it's a it's done in the standard of rebellion as far as I'm concerned there's some kind of ancient connection maybe to like Fanta and look light I would say there may very well be and it is definitely certain people's belief system that it has some kind of magical or you know imbue some type of quality or capability once again I don't know I I wouldn't necessarily say that I definitely believe in that but I wouldn't totally dismiss it and just rule it out entirely it's something I would probably want to look further into okay well thank you Mark absolutely good questions all right so let's go to Raphael in Indiana Raphael you are live I actually hold that because we're coming up to another break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back with the last segment of the show for this evening stay with us [Music] [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divided today hi to the other welcome back everyone and you're listening to what on earth is happening last segment of the show for this evening and it seems like I can't give these tickets away come on we need a winner here somebody win one of these tickets make me feel good before the show is over maybe I need to make the question questions easier I thought these were fairly easy to material I've covered on the show before but let's try to get a winner going here Raphael in Indiana you're live on what on earth is happening welcome and would you like to try to make an attempt to win the ticket for the seminar in st. Louis um sorry Marc I will not be um trying for a ticket tonight no worries you can continue with your question or comment then um I just wanted a Paul role powerful presentation as always Marc um I'm not sure if your listeners are aware or realize but you'll really appreciate that you're on the side of truth because flipside is pretty scary thought and just want to thank you for that I appreciate that I'm doing what I can do so if everyone just chipped in and did that and put the word out there to people maybe we could change the dynamic on this planet and build a world that's truly worth living in in the future and we truly appreciate it Marc um I came across some kind of like a comment it was like a like a quote so to speak is from Bruce Lee and I I thought it fit perfectly of what tonight's presentation you gave um it says because the one does not want to be disturbed to be made in certain he establishes a pattern of conduct of thought a pattern of relationship to man etc then it becomes a slave to the pattern and takes the pattern to be the real thing Wow a very profound very profound and very appropriate for what I was speaking about this evening great quote and Bruce Lee was a great individual yeah and he just you know ironically synchronistically I came across at this Thursday and I thought it was fantastic you know and uh today's presentation is epitome of what that is about oh absolutely great point and again a bringing up definitely on an individual who had some deep understanding going for himself in the way of Bruce Lee for sure and you know just just from everything you've talked about I grew up in that same upbringing as yourself and you know people you know that Ray Perrine as far as you know it is God's planned and we're here you know to serve his will and and in their regards I comment nowadays from you know listening to your show it's like so then we're just rated mindless slaves and puppets for an old full purpose or free will yeah just accept slavery because that's what God wants for the human species don't you know you know that's not so kind of a god I guess these people believe in you know a God who wants slavery to be in place for his own creations that makes a whole lot of sense to me I don't know you know I can actually think like that one less common mark I was uh contemplating you know I've been going through your podcasts I jumped around I started all over again had a third way through taking notes and going through stuff and everything and and you know I dawned on me there's this popular TV show it's called The Walking Dead you know they had zombies and and I started thinking about it's like are they really talking about the zombies are they talking about the people that's now it's allegorical symbolism they're saying we are surrounded by the Walking Dead you know these are about people that have lost their mind that have absolutely no ability to think that have completely abandoned reason that a completely abandoned rational thought that have completely abandoned free will you know there's certainly completely abandoned truth and an understanding of natural law without and it's like they're like you said their belly laughing and thinking that these people are you know talking about the zombies and in fact you're talking about them that's right that's right when people are watching that what they are what those zombies represent is the majority of the human population out there in the world absolutely it's a it's a spiritual allegory in many ways you know and it that it's showing what people the will that they're going to have to use to transcend this and then many of the things that they're going to do that are completely imbalanced than that are and that are completely completely out of harmony with natural law as a result of you know this level of imbalance that we have let the world fall into you know so it's I think it's a good allegorical story you know I've actually I've actually engaged in reading the graphic novel for the purpose of uh you know breaking into that allegory and decoding it a little bit and it's it's very disturbing and very graphically violent depictions of things but I think there's some profound statements that are made within it as well about you know what human beings are going to do when survival is at stake what human beings are going to do when they're surrounded by total unconsciousness it's a definitely an interesting allegorical account and I totally agree with you it's not about zombies it's not just a fictional thing it is an allegory about humans who have completely abandoned their faculties for reason definitely and uh and that's honestly what all your Posse has doing your information it'll lighten us with information work you've talked about in the past where you you start that Trek on that hill and once you're halfway through it and then that even once you're on that path and you look back at the level based level and you see all these people there it's like you've met that state of consciousness where they're ads is like really right right absolutely great points you know because that's what that's what our job is to do we have to enlighten these people to transmute them out of that zombiefied condition to get them back to a point where they're able to think on their own you know it's not about doing it for them it's about working you know a muscle that has been completely atrophied and these people have been turned into something that's not really their nature we need to go and help them to build that muscle up again so to speak and you know start to do things for themselves research into things for themselves start working on themselves we have to be an assistant in that process for people who want to you know listen to more about that process which is known as the true great work I just did a two-part series with Bob from Cincinnati on that on is a show a cult Empire it's on my news section so Raphael thank you for the great points that you've made there thanks for the call let's see if you can get a winner for the tickets in st. the ticket in st. Louis let's hear from John in South Carolina John you're live on what on earth is happening welcome and do you want to attempt to win a ticket to the seminar I'll be presenting in st. Louis Missouri mark I'll have to pass on that I'm in South Carolina it's a little little far for me my friend no way what do you have for us this evening I have a question for you just sort of bothering me mark and I would see what you think about it I was watching one of your tapes it's been six or seven months ago and it was only marala G and you gave the demonstration where you were decoding the 1776 dates was the three triangles yes democra and yeah about a week ago I found a video on the net did a candid found of two triads constructed in New York on the World Trade Center site no words there they're steel structures there might be standalone when there's two of them and then on the same site he's got a picture of that plane that was hijacked and it's you know I think it was flight 7:30 or 370 777 and it's got a picture of a triad on it so that's three triads and I was thinking the three triads three triangles the three sevens on the top and the 666 on the bottom right it was just too convenient sanding for me now I'm a you know I'm a light person on this but they just did look too convenient to me is that am I on the right direction on this it sounds interesting I can't really speak to this because I haven't seen this article or this image that you're talking about maybe if you want to email it to me I'll take a look at it and I can give you my take on it at another time but since I haven't seen it I really honestly can't speak to that right now yeah I email it to you a couple of weeks ago you may have skipped past it but I'll send you another copy didn't I do that I will attempt to take a look at it and I apologize I mean my email is so out of control it's it's difficult for me to even stay in touch with people that is very important for me to stay in touch with and I get bombarded with so many questions and comments on a weekly basis is very very difficult to manage and I don't have an assist a secretary or anything like that it's just me so to go through hundreds and hundreds of emails is can be a daunting task so bear with me on that but send it again and I will there endeavor to take a look at it and get back to you with some take on it if there's something there to see so thanks thanks so much for bringing that to my attention John and thanks for your call so let's hear from Bill in Idaho bill you are live on what on earth is happening welcome and my first question is do you want to attempt to win a free ticket to my seminar in st. Louis I would love to and yet at the same time have no opportunity but I'll study upon the issue I was built and Bill I am so sorry to have to cut you off like this call in the next show we're out of time for this show ladies and gentlemen there's only two mistakes anybody can make on the path to truth ladies and gentlemen not starting and not going all the way that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening we'll see you right here next week [Music] you

Louis Missouri so I want to direct everybody's attention to the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page underneath the player as always there are images for tonight's show with slides that are going to deal with the concepts and ideas that I'll be talking about we'll jump right into the topic on the other side of this break stay with us everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm before the break I was letting everybody know that there are associated images for tonight's show as always during the live broadcast they are underneath the player on the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page just click the radio show tab on the homepage of the site that'll take you to the radio show page and right under the player you'll see images for tonight's show with along with some numerical links if you click any of those links they will it will bring up a little slideshow with slides that I'm going to be talking about on the show tonight as always these slides are always archived with the podcast of the radio show in the podcast archive on my website so image number one up there was the poster for the street wise spirituality seminar I always put any live engagements that I'm going to be involved in in these images sections if you section if you are so inclined to share it you could share it on social media sites or with any friends that might happen to live in the st. Louis area so image number two I just want to say before we get started I planned on having a little bit more intensive of a slideshow but for today's show but unfortunately everyday life interfered with that this week you know and I think this is something I should just mention as a brief aside a lot of people think that you know I have I put all of my time into doing this I put as much time as I am able to put into doing this work you know and if everybody did that I think we'd be making a lot of headway in progress but I'm mortal and human just like anybody else is out there I have to deal with the everyday daily events of life I have to clothe and feed myself I have to keep up with entropy around the house you know I have to prepare meals etc take out the trash and unfortunately this week I ran into a couple of issues with technology that I had to get solved and luckily uh you know there were some very kind people that helped and volunteered their time to to help me with some of that I had a printer break down on me this week and I also had a pretty bad plumbing issue go on in the house that I had to deal with so again I only put a small investment of time into the slides for tonight but the topic is what's ultimately important not just the imagery and I think the imagery does speak volumes but I want to say thanks to both Michael falsetto and Jay Parker for helping me out this week with the problems that I was having so regarding the investment of time as I was saying I put in what I can do and that ends up being a whole lot of time but that doesn't mean that all the other events of life aren't going on I think you know I think a lot of people think I am 100 percent at the disposal of the quote great work and it's not necessarily true we all have things that we have to deal with that take us away from in you know investing the time that we want to invest in this work and I think a lot of people just don't do it they ignore it altogether and they just get absorbed in that I try to strike a balance at least and put as much time in as I can with the great work and then there has to be some you know left over time for what I need to do in my life you know personally individually again this appeal is more about asking people to get involved in this work because as the old saying goes many hands make light work many hands make for light work if we have more people involved in trying to raise consciousness and trying to put the truth out there then that work will go smoother and it won't be such a heavy burden on the small amount of people who are doing this at the current time and investing a lot of time in their life and carrying a whole lot of that burden upon their shoulders and I have you know constantly been saying from day one we need a whole lot more people doing this type of work and when you do it you'll see what an investment it is it isn't just you know you switch on you know the microphone or hit the record button and then just you know it's all off the top of your head you have to prepare shows you have to think about things linearly you have to you know structure things logically so that when they come through over the air people understand them you know and then I put imagery to the information as well because that helps reinforce it and solidify in people's mind so just wanted to put that out there that it's not every single day that I have to put 100% of my time involved in this and people do have to understand that and they also have to understand I'm not always seated at the computer ready to engage with them or you know answer questions or you know any aspect of this because there are other aspects of life also taking place and I'm not telling people to completely ignore those aspects I'm saying the things that we may want to do individually egoic Lee in our own lives may have to be sacrificed and you may have to take a little bit less time for that so you can invest some time in speaking the truth and putting it out there to other people who need to see and hear and understand it that's really what the great work is all about and if even I would say maybe a tenth to a quarter of the human population got involved in it we'd make tremendous headway but we're nowhere near that kind of a number not even close not yet so um let's just review briefly what I was talking about last week which was the two polarizing dialectics and this is beginning with slide number two on the water on earth is happening comm radio show or the images with the podcast I was talking about theories regarding human origins really creation you know Universal creation and the origins of human beings in general and there are two main polarizing paradigms as I called them last week that share a whole lot in common they are the left brained imbalanced Darwinian quote unquote evolution paradigm and the reason whenever I refer to Darwinism I'm always going to put the term evolution in quotes all the time because for people who you know think that whenever I say evolution I mean Darwinian evolution it's unit dimensional thinking it's the kind of people who think a symbol only ever means one thing it can never mean anything different in a different context or circumstance when I use the term evolution by itself I'm not talking about Darwinian evolution if I mean if I'm talking about Darwinian evolution I will specifically refer to it as the Darwinian evolutionary paradigm and I'll wrap evolution in quotes because I don't see Darwin's theory of evolution as actual real evolution I see it as biological progression and the survival of biological material regardless of what in the form of genetics regardless of what is happening epigenetically or in consciousness and therefore when genetic material survives but consciousness isn't growing that's no form of evolution at all I would call that the degradation of a species I would call it devolution de-evolving you're not really evolving if consciousness is not evolving and growing more complex and larger in its scope and more able to perceive truth and more able to align behavior with morality if that's not happening there's no evolution taking place ladies and gentlemen and Darwinism doesn't really take that those aspects those dynamics into account certainly not to any great extent and that's why I wrap it in quotes I do not subscribe to this left brain imbalance worldview of the Darwinian quote unquote evolutionary paradigm I see it as a very left brain scientism based worldview and I think it has led to an enormous amount of harm in our world that really needs to be addressed and corrected so we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Applause] [Applause] [Music] [Music] we uh [Music] welcome back everyone Alyssia - what on earth is happening here on the kalmyk Club under host mark Casio my website birth is happening calm before the break I was talking about the two completely imbalanced paradigms regarding the theory of human origins and what they share in common so Darwinian evolution which suggests that you know biological material is evolving over time and in vast tracts of time and ultimately genes dictate what happens in the realm of human thought and behavior and we're ultimately some sort of a victim of genes because all of it is going on is this biological material is trying to preserve itself and survive and we're just involved in that process and you know free will doesn't really enter into the picture this is very actually similar people think it's of the opposite of creationism I call these like David Icke refers to them as opposed Sainz I love the term because it so very clearly depicts how similar these paradigms really are in what they output in the way of the worldview because people think you know Oh creationism you know a biblical worldview it's so drastically different than Darwinism but really it essentially does all the same things as far as what it does to the human consciousness as you know as as far as consciousness is concerned it shuts down consciousness in the same way it keeps the slavery system going because it completely dismisses free well you know this says God's in charge of every event in creation it's all predetermined just like genes predetermined things in the Darwinian paradigm it totally dismisses consciousness and its ability to create change you know why would if God is all-powerful and he's controlling everything well what role does consciousness play in anything then what role does freewill play in anything and not all religionists you know think like that but many do and a lot of New Agers think like that as well they they take this attitude that free will is an illusion complete illusion there's no such thing you know this uh cosmic force is just controlling everything making everything happen you know people are like puppets on strings you know that's why I put the that image in the next slide which we'll get to in a moment but you know the right brain imbalance creationism paradigm I would just say religionists the paradigm really religion religious creationism is a better way of looking at it it's not just biblical or Christian paradigm it's all religion you know I like wonder what a lot of these people think in their minds you know the world was suddenly brought into existence with a snap of a finger by God 6,000 years ago and then some what a hand came down from the sky and placed people already formed on the earth you know place people from the realm of you know God into the world already formed on the earth or do they just magically appeared you know I mean both of these paradigms are really actually childish if you really sit and think about them you know one says there's no purpose for anything to exist except the continuation of matter and the other one says God did everything and consciousness and freewill don't really play into this equation what they both do and this is why the system loves both of these existing the control system the dark occultist they love that both of these paradigms are propped up and that these are the two competing polarizing paradigms they love it because what what is happening in the minds of people is all their thinking as a result of buying into one or this one or the other of these two totally imbalance worldviews whether it's the left brain worldview imbalance or the right brain worldview imbalance is you are powerless to change anything you are powerless to actually create change in your life and in the world that's what this the what both of these paradigms reinforced in the mind in the worldview because they completely dismiss free will they completely dismiss consciousness they completely dismiss our ability through consciousness to create real world change and they externalize all of our power in the Darwinian quote unquote evolution paradigm we are at the mercy of genes and in the religion inspired religionist creation paradigm we are at the mercy of God so human beings don't have any control over their destiny in either of these paradigms by what we think by how we think feel and act that you could throw all out the window the aspects of consciousness throw them right in the garbage can according to both of these paradigms and what that reinforces once again is this enormous Lee entrenched paradigm that people are clinging on to that the human condition as it is right now in the present moment is impossible to change that it somehow must be that way and this is a lie it's a lie ladies and gentlemen that is a falsity if you if you yourself think that way you have bought into a falsity thus the human condition can be changed it is a matter of summoning enough will on the part of the individual people of the earth to change it but it can be changed can and will are two different things and if you don't understand that yet you know I mean just go back into the the archives you know of this show I've been talking about this since day one I've been talking about this totally imbalanced worldview when we talked about randomness and purposelessness versus total determinism and how these were symptoms of brain imbalance almost from day one maybe the second or third show is on that but if you you know aren't familiar with this concept you need to go back in the archives and listen from show number one which is what I recommend for everybody who might be a new listener to this radio series you need to go back to show number one in the podcast archive on my website and listen forward at your own pace at your own progression from number one without skipping around I mean if if you've joined the game to just today okay or even recently you're missing a whole lot of material and the the material we're getting into now requires prerequisite knowledge about consciousness about worldview about the occult etc okay about mind control about natural law that this is the material that is all in the in the archive section and again I recommend listening to it in order at your own pace without skipping around that's how the tapestry is woven it's a very stepwise linear progression so moving on to the next slide slide number three I asked at the end of the show last week is there an alternative to these two imbalanced yet prevailing paradigms regarding human origins and creation in general does a balanced alternative exist or does just any alternative exist even if it's extreme even if it's sounds extreme is there some other alternative if both of these worldviews create the same thing and they're not really any different they're basically the same you know and they both put human beings in the same position which is into slavery do we have an alternative worldview that we can look into we don't have to accept it right off the bat we need to explore it we need to be open-minded regarding it we need to look at it and ask the question does this make sense does this explain the current human condition better then the other two imbalanced paradigms these this is the question we really ultimately want to ask ourselves when we look into the theory I'm going to postulate and that many others have postulated I'm not the first and I won't be the last I just might have a slightly different take on it or I might structure my argument regarding this theory or this worldview slightly differently than some others have I would like to think that I'm going to in a pretty logical progression as I do with most of my other material but you know some people will still insist though he's an agent because he's talking about the possibility of non-human intelligence interacting with our planet you know as if that's such as strange and crazy and out there thing with all the life that is more likely than not teeming in the universe and the amount of planets that have already been discovered you know what people still in 2014 don't want to entertain the notion that intelligent life of non-human origin has already visited this planet and has been continuing to do so so you know again I think that the way I'm going to tell this story or postulate this worldview is going to be a lot more involved and balanced than the way some others put it out there but again I can't just hold my tongue on this anymore because with what I've researched and come to pretty much put the the puzzle pieces together again it's fragmentary and no one has all of the pieces I would be remiss and I would be doing people a disservice if I didn't start talking about this possibility so we'll look at we'll start looking at that on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] as a cool [Music] we don't dare speak so while between us no in Saudi we keep it there but there's nothing wrong cold of size and a catalog welcome back everyone we listen to what on earth is half under host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm very appropriate bumper music yes a code this code of silence regarding the possibility of extraterrestrial or non-human interference in our origins cannot be maintained and does need to be spoken even if people only consider it with an open mind as a possibility because what we have now is a dualistic paradigm regarding where we came from that ultimately puts our mind in chains so that the condition of humanity stays in a state of slavery that's what we have right now so I asked the question last week is there an alternative to Darwinian evolutionary theory quote-unquote evolutionary theory and religious creationism and my term for this alternative is interference Theory you may have heard it as the ancient astronauts theory you may have heard it as interventionism I believe when Jordan Maxwell was on the show a couple of weeks back that's the term he used to describe it I believe that's also the term that researchers like Lloyd Pye have used to describe this concept I don't prefer really either term I I like to call the interference theory of human origins the interference theory of human origins and there's a reason for that I mean if you just think about the term intervention I mean that could have you know positive overtones or connotations to it you know an intervention when when it comes to talking to someone about things that they're doing bad toward themselves you know has a very positive overtone it's like oh I'm intervening on your behalf I'm trying to help you out you know and I don't think this was anything pause I don't think this was anything in the way of trying to help us whatsoever if if anything it was the exact opposite it stunted us it stunted our growth that stunted our development we're going to go into some extreme detail on this and later shows but I'm just introducing this concept tonight to put the general idea out there into the people's minds and state it in a way that you know people can consider it without going all the way to the end oh it's just you know aliens and there's no hope all right we have to look at this from a reasonable and logical perspective and ask the questions is it possible if it was possible and and possibly did occur then does that explain things right now and then what are our options if this is indeed our troubled past to say the least - as an understatement you know is that if we did have this kind of traumatic birth or childhood however you want to look at it and our parents are celestial or cosmic parents if that turns out to be the case did treat us or make us as slaves okay and then abandon us what does that say about who we actually are if anything do we have a choice in what comes next you know is there anything we can do about the situation because that's where people disagree with with this not because they don't think it's possible but because they don't want to think about the implications see that's that's why people don't want to even look at this theory they're uncomfortable with the possibility of it the implications of this occurring and so since the implications are so traumatic and possibly dire they say well that can't be that I don't want to live in that world it's just like the cognitive that when you you get when you talk to people about 9/11 being an inside job as a polarizing event - you know wage war in other countries and take freedoms here and at home in America again a friend of mine told me that his sister told him that if it were if it can't the people who did 9/11 came out in the open and admitted it and showed exactly how and why they did it she would still perfect choose willfully choose not to accept that as the truth and willfully believed in in something that she knows to be a lie which is the official story even if that were to get the case and of course says well of course that can't be the case because I don't want to live in that world you see when people put this notion out there that the people who are trying to tell people it may be even worse than you had previously assumed are quote-unquote agents that we're working for the bad guys because we're trying to get to the bottom of what really happened here in the ancient past you know as absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with trying to make people feel hopeless the truth will never create hopelessness the truth can only create empowerment would you rather not know the truth even if the truth is dark and foreboding or would you rather know it and if you know it aren't you in a better empowered position to do something about the situation if that is in fact the truth I'm not telling anybody they have to accept it or believe it I'm saying just like 9/11 you know if you already say I refuse to even look at that as a possibility because I don't want to live in that world well who are you you're the arbiter of truth then you're the arbiter of truth you get to decide what's real or not real see to me there's no bigger way of making the claim that you're God than that I'm not saying I want it to be any particular way I'm not saying that I'm going to accept it being whatever way I'd feel comfortable with who would I be to say that how much hubris would I have to be in to make a claim like that to say something to the effect of because I'm more comfortable with this possibility existing then that has to be the truth or because I'm not comfortable with an alternative possibility existing that that can't possibly be true who would I be to make that statement what I would be claiming is that I am the arbiter of truth or hence God you know I could just make up what's true based on my comfort level it's not just cognitive dissonance I mean this is almost a euphemism the psychological condition of cognitive dissonance has almost become like a euphemism because really what we're talking about goes beyond psychological illness I mean it's somebody making the claim that they control reality that they control what is true or not I'm not approaching this from a perspective that it's true or not true I'm saying let's go where the evidence leads let's take an honest look and then you have other camps of people out there saying well it doesn't it's not important we don't need to know our origins I mean imagine that you don't need to know where you came from it's the number one way almost the number one method of how people are controlled is that they are cut off from the origins of where they came from they are cut off from their past and the past of their ancestors you know if you can't see where you came from and how you got to where you are how are you going to understand where you're headed you're not you're going to be navigating blind there's not gonna be any compass for direction it is absolutely critical that we look into our origins because that will is going to inform us about our current condition it's not necessarily going to permanently tell us who we are okay if you don't want to look at an exploration of origins like that number one because if you think if it turns out we were made as a slave species that doesn't mean that that's a permanent condition because the real force of evolution as we talked about in occult terms the force which moves consciousness forward against the opposing force of involution of entropy okay is still at work and that means we there's no such thing as the way things are permanently except for natural law that is a boundary condition of the universe the laws of nature the way things are aside from that nothing is set in stone we can evolve our consciousness by our free will to choose to learn to choose to grow in our understanding that's a choice right now it's not something that is just running on all autopilot an automated process yeah there's a part of evolutionary progression that is automation I would say that's the biological component the physical component and we'll talk about that momentarily but there's so much more to true evolutionary progression than just the biological component we'll pick it up there on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] and [Music] welcome back everyone our number two of tonight's broadcast of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm tonight on the show we're talking about the interference theory of human origins as an alternative to the too imbalanced yet prevailing world views or paradigms of where we came from which is of course Darwinian quote unquote evolution not actual evolution but Darwin's left brain imbalanced theory that has been taken up by the religion of scientism and religious creationism that God just suddenly made it all happen in a flash and both of these paradigms as we talked about earlier leave free will and consciousness at the door or on the back burner they externalize all power they say that we're not we're alternately at the mercy of either genes or God and they leave people with this feeling that the human condition cannot be changed whatsoever and that's why they are so promoted by the control system they want you to believe that nothing can be done to change or improve the human condition well there is an alternative theory that postulates how human beings came to be the way that they are today not saying who we permanently are and again this is what I was talking about before the break if you want to think that you know there is a permanent way things must be and something is making it be like that permanently forever that's actually an illness you're actually mentally ill that is actually a complete 100 percent extreme form of either either left or right brain imbalance and nobody has ever really described it as such - people that's why many people don't even understand they say oh we evolved like that and so that without we're permanently like that you know this whole notion of you know you hear this postulated in things like well we we have been doing this we have been eating meat for this long we have been living this way for this long we have been being dominated by people who look at themselves as God and but who are actually psychopathic dark occultists for this long well who cares how long something that is immoral has been going on for that doesn't make it right it could be going on for eons and eons of time and it's not gonna make one damn bit of difference when it comes to whether it's moral or immoral so the people who you know postulate this notion that because it's been going on for a certain amount of time and at that time is a real long amount of time that somehow that puts into their mind this notion that it should continue on that that should that's it that that's okay for it to just continue being that way the fact that something has been going on for an enormous amount of time says nothing regarding its its morality and it says nothing regard regarding whether it's true or not okay so you know people have been believing in these two paradigms for a whole a really long time that doesn't make it that doesn't make a difference how long or deeply they're entrenched you know that doesn't say anything about whether they are true or not certainly doesn't say anything about whether they're going to be good for Humanity you know if we accept them and take them in to our makeup because if we take something into our makeup that's untrue and then we act on it of course we're going to get chaotic results only when we take truth in understand it and then do something that is balanced with it are we going to get orderly results so again even though the theory I'm going to lay out here may be very dark and foreboding that doesn't make it untrue and nor does it mean that understanding it won't be an empowering thing if it does turn out to be the case so let's look at this alternative to these two entrenched paradigms I call it interference Theory again because I don't like the term intervention intervention again has a positive connotation as far as I'm concerned it's as if you're intervening on someone's behalf and interference paints the connotation that you're getting in the way you're blocking something you're preventing something from happening you are interfering with something that was already underway and you got involved and you stood in the way of it which again I don't know how well this came out on the slide but this image is actually like a road and on that road you see the bricks in the background and there's a shadow looming and then there's someone that you can't make out standing in the background you know and we're standing in that person's shadow and he's this this person or this figure is blocking the way blocking the way forward that's the way I look at the interference Theory you know I deliver you know it I deliberately chose an image that was kind of shadowy because again this is a shadowy circumstances it's a shadowy topic to go down we don't really have a complete picture of it we need more people who are going to take it seriously and research it we need research that has been deliberately suppressed and put into hiding to be taken out of hiding and shown to the people if we're going to make any headway in understanding this let's look at some of the main points and I think I'm gonna go to some callers and see if we could get some winners of the street wise spirituality tickets in the next segment but let's look at some points in this segment of what I mean when I say interference theory of human origins and how this takes into account natural evolutionary progression or what I would call real evolution real evolutionary progress in consciousness and does it actually incorporate elements it in court this theory incorporates elements of both creationism and what I would call biological evolution because I'm not telling people that there isn't a process in nature that deals with biological evolution nor my telling people that there isn't processes in nature that deal with the creative force creative intelligence that underlies everything or if you want to call it god that's fine I think the truth of course lies somewhere in between and is a mixture but not in the way that either of the entrenched paradigms have put forward so the first point or tenet of this theory if you will is that there is a natural evolutionary progression operating and it works first I call this natural evolutionary progression NEP for short okay so any P or a the natural evolutionary process not Darwinian evolution okay not this theory that it's all just about biological survival about the survival of genes and the propagation of genes okay that happens of course that is going on but only up to a point you see that's not the be-all and end-all of this process that I'm calling natural evolutionary progression because this is about evolution not only in the biological domain but in the epigenetic domain or the domain of consciousness so point number one natural evolutionary progression works first in the physical or / biological / genetic domain and eventually proceeds to the epigenetic domain or the domain of consciousness okay the domain of mind which again that's why mind control is so important in controlling what we are going to do whether we are going to evolve ourselves or whether we're going to remain stagnant understanding how mind control works is such an important part of getting out of the epigenetic manipulation of humanity the manipulation of the mind all right so there's two processes at work in nature there's there is physical biological or genetic evolution okay and yeah there are new forms being generated over vast vast swathes of time but that's not the be-all and end-all that's not the whole purpose for that process ultimately it is to evolve consciousness this is up on the other side you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] No [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio continuing on on slide number 4 interference Theory of human origins I was a basically putting forward a few main points the second of these four main points I want to go through is this process of natural evolutionary progression is an automated process up to a point and it's directed by creation itself the underlying intelligence that orders everything that underlies all matter God if you will up to a point and that point is until it enters the epigenetic domain now what do I mean by entering the epigenetic domain here in this sentence I mean when biological progress has advanced to the point where now the being is capable of holistic intelligence which human beings are and have been so when it enters the epigenetic domain whereupon the free will of the beings who have developed the capacity for holistic intelligence then becomes involved alright so the process is an automated process directed by creation until it enters the epigenetic domain whereupon the free will becomes involved and again free will is a capacity for beings who have developed the capacity for holistic intelligence that's why animals don't have free will at the same level than a human being has free will animals are creatures of instinct they are largely controlled by instinctual responses this does not have to be true for a human being it can be true when a human being has not done any work upon themselves to evolve their consciousness then you're going to be like an animal you're going to live as a don't as an animal lives in the field you're gonna be at the beck and call of every little biological instinct okay it's called absolutely living for the the base survival needs only okay living inside the pure instinctual response that's not really a human being that's descriptive of what an animal does so we are more than just another animal again the concept that we are just another animal for people who out there who still believe in that nonsense that is Satanism that is one of the actual big tenets of Satanism that man is no different than any other animal man is most certainly very different than all other animals 100% absolutely true we are not that's just the same and just another animal that is a complete fallacy and that's a fallacy that Darwinian scientism has you know really done a lot of damage to the human growth and development as a result of so many people buying into that absolute crap so once free will becomes involved that it becomes involved at the point where the natural evolutionary progression this force that's operating in nature what you might call the ordering force okay thus entropic force that works against the entropy has gotten biological evolution up to a point where then it goes epigenetic it goes into the realm of mind and then creation lets up at that point that's why we're not being pushed forward by quote-unquote God by creation by you know we have to align ourselves with this with that force in order to step into its flow it's still there but it's not it's not willfully pushing us because that would be control God doesn't control the the entirety of the creation controls it up to a point it orders it up to a point then there is free will given when the being has the capacity for holistic intelligence at that point the creation doesn't say you must do anything then it says you have free will do you align yourself with the natural law or do you refuse to align yourself with the natural law then there are consequences for both of those things that's it you you align yourself with moral law you get one set of results it's called evolutionary progression and consciousness and you can create whatever you want as long as it's still in harmony with natural law you want to live in opposition to natural law to the laws of morality well then a different result is handed to you by creation by natural law consequences and that's called slavery and which is where humanity is at stagnation of our evolutionary progression slavery held in Chains not able to move forward not able to evolve it's a choice it is not being done to us and and I will vehemently vehemently oppose that notion to my dying day it is a choice and it all begins and ends with a choice we have the choice whether to evolve our consciousness or not it is absolutely within our capability we have the capacity for holistic intelligence so after this point where upon freewill is operating then the amount of aggregate consciousness a species develops through free will is largely responsible for the future progression stagnation or regression of that species I'll say that again after the point where free will becomes involved in this natural evolutionary progression ok the amount of consciousness that the whole species has been able to develop through their free will meaning through what what are you going to pay attention to are you going to learn are you going to grow okay are you going to try to understand what's true are you going to understand the boundary conditions of creation called natural law do you want to learn about morality do you want to learn about yourself self-knowledge the knowledge of the universe the knowledge of natural law the knowledge of the spiritual laws of creation once the either that species develops through their free will that aggregate consciousness I mean conscious it's called common sense common sense reality alright either we develop that common sense or we don't and that's what that will to do that or the lack of will not to do that is what's going to determine whether we are going to progress as a species whether we're going to stagnate as a species or whether we're going to regress as a species and go deeper into bondage now those first three points were my view of how this progression works how this actual natural evolutionary progression or what you might call occult evolution works the unseen force of evolution that isn't work in our lives not Darwinian evolution the fourth point brings up the crux of interventive interference Theory almost made a Freudian slip there and said intervention theory it's been called intervention theory I call it interference theory this natural evolutionary progression this process could be interfered with on the part of other forms of consciousness who have already entered the freewill stage of that process they have already come to the point where they are at the capacity for holistic intelligence and therefore they have developed free will they are driving their own either evolutionary progress or evolutionary stagnation and they could get involved through understanding technology and understanding physical laws of nature in the development of another species that is absolutely very possible for that to happen that way and you know people have to entertain that as a possibility with an open mind to understand that there absolutely could be other life forms and they don't and again to talk about their nature they could be of all different natures they could be in in the same biological domain as us the 3d universe where they you know may have developed some kind of technology to travel from one world to another they maybe exist in other frequencies of existence like a dimension of some type their nature could be many different things and we'll pick that up exploring that right there on another side of this break stay with us [Music] [Applause] [Music] you know today disguise the night night divided today tried to run to the other side welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark pasión so in the last segment I was talking about the four major points of this theory that I was laying out known as interference theory of human origins the first tenant were point was that natural evolutionary progression works in both the physical or genetic domain and then eventually proceeds to the epigenetic domain the domain of consciousness the second point was that the process is an automated one in the first step or in other words it's directed by creation in the biological or genetic domain until it enters the epigenetic domain the domain of consciousness at that point freewill becomes involved in the beings that have the capacity for holistic intelligence and then they are partially directing their evolutionary development after that happens the amount of consciousness that that species develops in the aggregate through therefore their usage of their free will is what is largely responsible for the future progression of that species however that natural process that I am calling an EP or natural evolutionary progression could be interfered with by another form of life another form of consciousness who has already gotten to that stage that epigenetic stage where they're directing their free will progression and I was saying it's very possible you know what I again I go back to the idea that the reason people don't want to even accept or acknowledge or even entertain the notion at all that this is possible is because they just don't want it to be true that has absolutely nothing to do with whether it's true or not that's arbiter of truth syndrome as I call it so I think I'll leave that right there and I'll leave the last slide for a little bit later on in the show because I want to get to some and I want to see if anybody is gonna win this some of these tickets for the st. Louis seminar so let's go to the phones let's hear from mark in Ohio mark you're live on what on earth is happening in the first question all I ask you is are you going to try to win one of the tickets to the st. Louis seminar oh yes mark alright great go right ahead that question was for the listening audience once again to name the four major Sabbath's or the High Holidays okay not the lower Sabbats or the lesser Sabbats the major Sabbats of the occult calendar and their associated seasons so go right ahead mark okay that would be in bulk I would be associated with winter that is correct uh Beltane which we just passed through it would be associated with spring that's correct I guess I'm pronouncing this right Lamaze would be associated with summer yes and Samhain would be associated with autumn or oh that is correct and there you have you've won one of the tickets for the st. Louis seminar now listen when you go off the air I want you to stay on the line and my producer is going to take your information so I could tell you who to get in touch with so you can get that that ticket reserved okay so but I'll just repeat the answer it was Beltane we could have also accepted for Beltane of all purchased not or I would have even taken Mayday that is the spring season the middle midpoint of spring Lamas or midsummer which is the midpoint of the summer season soin or hallow mass or Halloween for the fall or autumn season and then in bulk or Candlemas for the winter season so mark you have won one free ticket to the streetwise spirituality in st. Louis and like I said just hang on after you're off the air and my producer will take your information for me but do you have anything else for us congratulations and do you have anything else about tonight's topics I just like to like make an observation about the sort of the what I would consider the active an active proof of this interference would be the you know the rampant use of antidepressants you know you know I've directly affecting you know the the pineal gland which you know which is not to balance the brain sure the mind you know and especially you know the the giving of these to our to our children this is a particular sore point with me actually I was I attended the the Asheville your Asheville seminar and spoke with you about this and I know that that would be the part of the shadow I think in the in the background here this which I would consider to be a malevolent interference as opposed to weight but Noble and intervention you know I mean it's not only physical and working on the biological processes of course it interferes in the epigenetic domain as well because it is directing the emotions in the way of numbing them out and that is having an effect on the overall aggregate quality of consciousness in our species there's so many people hooked on these I mean for years and years and years I mean they've been on them and you know just look at it as there is no possibility or chance that they could get off of them I mean members of my family have been taking these things for up upwards of of almost twenty years now you know so basically since they've even been in there more experimental stages and not quite as popular as they are now but they're looking to get more and more children on these things to it's definitely one of the manipulators methodologies we talked about it on in the past on this show SSRIs SNRIs I call them the demon drugs you know because they're people who are the cons of the form of consciousness it's putting people in as demonic and the people who are propagating these things are demonic yeah and you know as far as the children go I mean what better way to to you know keep this going in the future you know I you know yeah I mean the ultimate goal of this is just to have people continue never to want to look at themselves and I won't I won't say the person's name but a family member of mine basically tried to wean off of antidepressants and then when this person felt emotions again they were like oh my god this is so far into me I don't want to feel like this but they were feeling natural emotional response ranges that is nor are normal for human beings to feel and it was so alien and foreign to them they're like I want to go back to the way I was where I was numb and you know leveled out all the time and never never had high emotional uplifting experiences or got really angry or really sad or really depressed depressed it's like they actually began to prefer because they got so used to it the actual numbing out of the true emotional response range that's so sad because what they've essentially given up is what it really means to be a human being to feel right you know as far as as far as children go which actually it's this is my daughter I'm speaking of Hawaii I'm divorced so I don't have the actual control over this situation so you know to me it's just a natural growing process that they go through these you know they go through anxiety like you know teenage years for instance you know and and they're they're being told that oh no you have anxiety disorder so here here here take this this this will help so you know they get this then they get this leveling that they talk about you know and they think oh this is it this and they tell them oh you won't be on these forever but I'll be damned if that's not what happens absolutely and it's a vicious cycle to break because you know once the will is compromised you know that's that's what we're relying on to help motivate our behavior motivate our actions once these things that interfere with the whole process of will then it's going to be very difficult to to wean yourself off of them or to want to go back to feeling a full normal emotional response range so very difficult to break you if you're gonna break the cycle with any drugs or but mainly antidepressants you really have to look up a proper wean and I would say do it under guidance by somebody who really knows what they're doing and knows they're talking about when it comes to these substances and knows how to draw up a proper Wien because you can't just go cold turkey with these it can be more dangerous than the actual effect of the soap this so-called medication the drug itself yeah great great points and I want to say congratulations again on winning ticket one free ticket to the st. Louis seminar streetwise spirituality hang on the line and my producer is gonna take your information off the air okay thanks so much grant you alright so let me give another question because mark just won that ticket so here's the next question to win a one free ticket to the st. Louis seminar I'll be hosting on May 31st called streetwise spirituality and again if you're gonna call in to try to answer this question please only call in if you can attend we don't want to give these tickets to people who won't be able to use them okay because then you'll be keeping it out of the hands of somebody who actually can go and and attend and get a lot out of this seminar so please if you're gonna call in and answer the question be sure that you are going to attend the seminar okay here's the third the question for the third ticket give me the Hebrew language names of the four worlds of Kabbalah of the Kabbalistic tradition in ascending order from lowest to highest I'll repeat the question on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm great we gave a ticket to the st. Louis seminar streetwise spirituality away in the last segment I'm happy that that happened and that Marc from Ohio was a winner number two in our little contest here let me read once again the third question for a single ticket to the st. Louis seminar give the Hebrew language names of the four worlds of the Kabbalistic tradition the four worlds of Kabbalah now again to clarify this I'm not looking for the names of Sethi wrote on the Ceph erotic tree I want the names of the four worlds of Kabbalah in ascending order from lowest to highest okay from ascent in ascending order from lowest first to the highest world okay and I want the Hebrew language names so that's the question for if you have the answer that you can win a free ticket to the street wise spirituality seminar in st. Louis on May 31st let's um let's go to the phones again let's see who else do we have holding we have Jason and Illinois Jason you're live on what on earth is happening do you want to take a crack at winning a free ticket to the st. Louis seminar oh yes I am okay great name the four worlds of the Kabbalistic tradition in ascending order from lowest to highest go ahead okay the lowest would be aasaiya that is correct and then Yetzirah yes then Berea yes and absolute that's correct slightly off on the pronunciations but I'm not going to you know you know hold it to that you know level of specificity that I would I would say if I were to give the pronunciations as closely as I know them to be its hacia yet Zira briea and not salute but I couldn't be slightly off in those but in general yes you are correct that is those are the four worlds of Kabbalah in ascending order from lowest to highest so you've won a free ticket to the st. Louis seminar on May 31st congratulations Jason and again I'll let you get to your point but just after the after your call hang on and my producer will get your information from you okay so I can get the ticket information to you all right so what do you have for us this evening well I have a question will an observation basically like the secret societies that are interested in occult knowledge and like in the Mormons the LDS they all seem to be like obsessed with finding Giants and like ancient because this kind of fits into your whole intervention or your whole theory about like ancient astronauts or whatever they seem to be interested in finding like these bones and nine-foot Giants and stuff like that particularly like Joseph Smith and if you ever heard that what is it the Kinderhook plates in Illinois I have not heard that I know I do know that certain um you know Mormon traditions have extraterrestrial hypotheses and you know deal with that topic but specifically what you're referring to there no I'm not tell me about it okay well the Kinderhook plates that's actually like 20 miles from where I live basic and they thing was 1843 some people were digging in a farm and a mound Indian Mound and they found these brass plates which were buried next to a giant supposedly the whole thing was a hoax and this guy stepped forward and it was in the newspapers at the time this guy stepped forward and said these plates were forgeries and they were trying to trick Joseph Smith but he was a freemason he was inducted into the Illinois Lodge he created a lodge and Nabu when they were here I just wonder if there's any action I mean if they'd if she was like keeping this knowledge alive in the Mormon religion I was wondering if that's why they're interested in you know my take on the whole thing regarding religion is I think a lot of the high-level darker cultists who are behind exoteric religions do know the truth about human origins and are deliberately withholding that so that they can maintain their positions of power over other people in a yeah yeah so that's absolutely I don't know enough about the Mormon tradition particularly to um you know comment on those specifics but in general I would tell you that my take is high level religionists are really the priests class that are running the show here on the earth you know they are a dark occultus and the dark occult has given us our exoteric religions to keep us in line well I like their temple ordinances are all based on Masonic rituals the symbols they have on their their sacred underwear all their have like the chronic definitely enacted connected with masonry no doubt and more likely than not dark masonry not the true esoteric tradition of and they're involved in genealogy I'm kind of to try to treat I'm sure their trail of lines like what like that to go back to you know lineages that had more of the the gods DNA or the gods ancestry many of the people who are in positions of power and are psychopathic and are you know obsessed with bloodline are also very deeply into tracing their lineages back to the point where they believe that their bloodlines mingled with the blood of the gods you know and that also leads to racist ideologies not only does it lead to eugenics ideologies racist ideologies it leads to you know looking for the traits that are that they feel are in their their bloodlines that continue the psychopath psychopathy that runs in the family you know so there's so much connected with with blood with genetics with DNA that has to do with these ruling classes that I definitely there there is involvement and and you know overlap when it comes to religion in this I would say that religionists are doing that just like people in royal families just like people in high-level positions of political power genetics plays a huge role in it and there's a reason for that and it's because these people believe that they're tracing a lot of their power and lineage to the time when the the gods quote-unquote were living and breeding amongst humanity yeah I think that's probably why Joseph Smith was killed because he was trying it's because he wasn't this wasn't a secret he was like talking about this stuff publicly and that might have been one of the reasons why he was killed because he had I mean these ancient origin theories very possible but great points Jason and uh congratulations again on winning the the third ticket to the st. Louis seminar thanks I'm looking forward to it you got it and hang on the line my producer is gonna take your information okay okay great okay thank you all right I'm happy about that we have two winners this evening maybe we can give all three of these away again these tickets are courtesy of Joe from Kansas City who graciously donated them he bought four tickets and then gave them away and you know told me I could you know maybe do a giveaway on the air so that's just what I'm doing and we've given away three of the four we have one ticket left to give away let me give another question since uh our existing questions were answered correctly all right this should be a relatively easy one for people named the three steps of the Trivium in order and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order okay so that's the total question name the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects subjects I should say not steps the three subjects of the quadrivium in order they have to be in order otherwise you know it's not a correct answer the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium now for the Trivium I will accept either the classical Trivium steps or the modern variant of the Trivium steps i will actually also accept the computer analogy Trivium method steps if people want to give that one okay if you want to show your knowledge you could say all of them but as long as we get one that's correct an order I'll accept that okay so the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order and there is an order to both so that's the question let's see if we could get a winner for the fourth ticket let's hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome are you going to try to win a ticket to the st. Louis seminar unfortunately not Marc sorry no worries what do you have for us this evening I just want to say thank you for everything you do I appreciate everything you do and I understand and I realize how hard it is to do what you do on a daily basis and every Saturday night what you present us and I want to thank you for that I appreciate that so much thank you and just commenting on kind of like what you've been talking about in your presentations or is the two dialectics views and you know just how people are buying bound to one side or silver side in I'll let you hang on and I'll let you pick up right there on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] [Applause] we go [Music] welcome back everyone in listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're into the third hour of the show this evening we were talking to Rafael from Indiana just before the last break Rafa are you still with us [Applause] Rafael if you're there you can continue where you left off can you hear me Marc there you are yes okay sorry I just had a comment and also question um you were talking about there polarizations I like this dialectics and just commenting on you know my I came from a Catholic background and I I'm surrounded by people like that and from your presentations everything you give us like far as like the the occurrences in the World Trade Center the Columbine you know seasons of sacrifices the Columbia the goddess Virginia Tech the killing of the king the architecture of the streets the green language all that stuff is like you know everything is like in plain sight right there but but yet those people will reject it but yet they'll still believe in and wait for the revelation of the beast there was a certain aspect which is like toy asinine but you know everything just it's totally contradicting one of the bees the bees Society is right before them it's right out and right open before them yeah but but but they they believe in that word for word literally but they will not believe all that all your presentations everything you you've presented to us that in right front of your eyes that's the parallel religion my friend it's it's sad but true I mean religion is a strong mind controlling force and when people have made up their mind that they're not going to look at evidence and they're just they're gonna believe a system because that's easier than thinking and reasoning things out and seeing the patterns that are right in front of your face you know well you know good luck I mean that that's mental bondage of the first order and all that's going to get you as more and more slavery more and more bondage more and more and I I always ask people like that do you think God wants slavery you think God wants you to be in mental bondage do you think God wants you to be in physical bondage that's gonna result uh that's gonna result from you remaining and mental bondage or would God want you to think and grow and evolve and understand the natural world as that force created it and how it operates so then you can align yourself with the will of creation and then move forward that's all this is about God wants evolution for everybody you know I mean I mean how can anybody hate the term evolution okay the concept put forward by Darwinism that doesn't have anything to do with real evolution okay find you know reject that I personally reject that that notion of Darwinian theory but that doesn't mean that evolution isn't a process in nature that's happening and being is being directed by creation you know I asked Christians you know or other religions you think God doesn't want you to evolve you think God doesn't want humanity to an evolve in consciousness in understanding to align its will with the will that underlies everything that is all about the progression of intelligence of true holistic intelligence toward more morality and therefore more freedom of course that's what the will of creation is all about you know I mean it makes common sense that very simplistic common sense to me but you know there are people who refuse to see it that way and instead they want to read things literally from a fragmented you know series of works that were published by man put out there by man in order to control people thousands of years ago but that's their that's their free will to do that you know and and I was going over um reviewing your natural law presentation and you had a quote you said basically until until you take in the light you'll never discover darkness and I mean going through finishing that Bruce Lee book and one of his cool it says those who are unaware they're working in darkness will never seek the light yeah there it is I mean you know when people are I call it negative knowledge but it's the same thing he's saying when you are so in ignorance the darkness that you actually have bought into a notion that is untrue and then you're attached to it you're not only at the level of where you have no knowledge that would be zero right where you don't have any knowledge but you're not buying into a system that's completely false in addition to not having any knowledge that would be a good place to start that's like the blank slate place you know it would be great if we can get people to that place but instead what religion does is it fills people with a whole bunch of nonsense so that they're not even at ground level at zero level let alone that started making the climb up to higher consciousness to truth they're in the pit of that they haven't even arrived that any knowledge and they have all this false so-called knowledge belief systems that they're clinging to that bear no resemblance to truth whatsoever and that's what Lee is saying in that statement you know it's the false appearance of knowledge you know I call it negative knowledge and that's that's not even being aware that you're dwelling in darkness and that's what the purpose of religion is to keep people rooted in that in that belief system where they're in negative knowledge don't even know that they're in that condition and they stay attached to it very very powerful force operating in our midst and Mark I had a question as far as I I came across that video as far as it talked about some of our jobs create pre Egypt priests and Egypt's findings and and I started thinking on that and thinking of like the correlation of the UGA's and the ages and also you you touched on that a little briefly on your world trade center correlations as far as every can users dream right and just trying to figure out how what are your thoughts and how does that really in actually kind of remind me put me back into your presentation of matrix yes now how when he brought out the architect and it's like a reboot so to speak yeah that's a great question how I see the quote-unquote world ages or the ages of consciousness is that they are waves cycle tendencies they're not set in stone as many researchers have you know think that they are I like personally the concept that these are tendencies that can be overcome if the will is applied so in other words it's like the tide right if what when would be the best time that try to take your boat out to sea when the tide is coming in hard or when the tide is moving out to sea well if you can do it either time it's possible if you use enough will and energy but it would probably be who've you to say well if the tide is moving out at this particular time maybe I should take the boat out now because it's moving out not coming in hard you know that's how I look at the wave cycles of consciousness there may be a tendency in nature where involution Airy forces are really pressing against the evolutionary force harder than at other times because they ebb and flow ok and it doesn't mean that even in a dark period which I would consider that we are certainly in now what many people have called this age the Kali Yuga the the age of Darkness the age of the destroyer ok and I would agree with that I do think we are in what the you know ancient Indus Valley traditions are referred to as the Kali Yuga that doesn't mean that we can't transcend that and it has to all go into darkness it just means there is a tendency of involution Airy forces working against us at this time period and if we want to get the boat out to sea or if we want to rise up the ladder in consciousness it's going to take a lot more energy right now to do it because of the tendency that's how I look at the quote ages in consciousness I don't look at them as anything that are set in stone I look at them as energies that people have recognized these cycles in the past and written about them but it doesn't mean that it's set in stone and it has to have a particular outcome it just means that there are forces at work in those particular ages you know just like whoa hey during the day there's more light out so if you're gonna work outside you know it might be a good time to do it instead of waiting until you know the Sun is on the other side of the earth and you know uh you know you have darkness outdoors if you're gonna work outside you could still do it but it's gonna be a lot harder in that one cycle in that in that cycle of darkness so we can still change it but more will is going to be need need to be summoned and this is what I think people don't understand they've bought into this notion that it's unchangeable that it can't be changed or that it's set in stone that isn't true and people have to get that notion out of their head and recognize it's a function of will we'll pick it up on the other side of the break stay with us everyone [Music] [Applause] between us welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening so I want to go back to the last image in the slide show for tonight image number five and I want to wrap up talking about the interference theory of human origins before we move on to some other callers because I want to make sure I get to this material tonight and if you want to call in to try to win a free ticket to my st. Louis seminar in st. Louis Missouri on May 31st the calling number to join us is 831 390 443 once again eight hundred three one three nine four four three we've already given to set two tickets out on the air tonight and we have one left the question the trivia question for the to win the ticket is named the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order so image number five I put a little rudimentary timeline here that extends indefinitely in both directions because like this is a never-ending process basically and you know we need to basically look at this as just a very simple model you know you don't want to take this at you know 100% face value it's basically painting a generalized picture of how this process works so please keep that in mind and I call this flow that is existing in creation the natural evolutionary progression or what I have called again we looked at this on past shows the force of Trippi the force that orders against entropy entropy being the chaotic force the force which breaks things down Sentra P is the force which orders things it's the ordering force or I've simply called it the will of creation the will of creation is to order things the will of creation is to unfold and to evolve consciousness it is to expand awareness it isn't to shut it down that's the end tropic force or the force of involution that is always working against the sin tropic force or what I've called here the natural evolutionary progression or ordering force within creation this and for short I call it NEP okay NEP the natural evolutionary progression to distinguish it from Darwinian quote unquote biological only evolution this is a force an evolutionary progression force that has consciousness taken into consideration within it as its goal the goal of it is to expand consciousness and awareness so that the being can then take over its own evolutionary progress in the form of free will by it by expanding and furthering its own consciousness so that it is free to choose what it wants to do for itself okay so look at this line as the left side of the line is the ancient past okay and you have this ordering force ordering things into greater levels of complexity and form so the natural evolutionary progression is at work in a species in the physical / biological / genetic domain this is where it's bringing together particles it's bringing together atoms subatomic particles you know molecules coming together you know working up two collections of cells and then the simple organisms and then the more complex organisms this is what we may you know have heard of and generally understand as evolution in Darwinian terms or in scientism terms but what I'm trying to say here is that that moves forward up to a point where you have the capacity for holistic intelligence and then at that point creation doesn't 100% completely stop doing at it immediately okay that's why I've overlapped these two things these two forces or these two aspects of the same force this sin tropic or ordering force it doesn't just immediately stop it may move into that other domain the epigenetic domain for a while but at some point the being is free on its own to move forward or to not move forward to another in other words work upon itself to advance its consciousness or refuse to do that work and therefore its consciousness stagnates and therefore it's evolutionary progression stagnates so you have this biological component working over Aeons of time and then at some point the epigenetic aspect enters into the picture at that point you're starting to develop the capacity for holistic intelligence and at some point the full capacity for holistic intelligence is there and therefore that being has evolved to the point where freewill has fully been gifted to it by creation through this force through this ordering force this is what actual evolution is as compared with Darwinian evolution or what I'm describing here is evolution in occult terms as has been taught throughout the history of humanity in the esoteric mystery traditions of consciousness okay so this natural evolutionary progression then goes into effect in the epigenetic domain or in other words in the realm of mind in consciousness and it works through freewill so again I hope people understand this very simple rudimentary model I don't know how I can make it any simpler you know I tried to just keep graphics to a minimum and just try to you know paint a picture in people's minds by the words I'm using and hopefully the message will be received it will be understood so you have the biological physical genetic aspect of this force operating and then when it orders a species up to a point where it now has the capacity for holistic intelligence that force which is an automated one that force on the left hand side the physical biological genetic that's an automated process it then starts to back off once the being has been evolved up to a point where freewill has been imbued into the being okay which is humanity we are and have been at that point for some time we are not a creature of pure instinct just controlled by genetic material if people believe that they believe old dead scientism that has completely been disproven probably for well over a hundred years but I would say certainly in the last 50 the problem is that that new information often takes a very very long time to reach the mass of people in the public domain and it's constantly being thwarted from reaching the people by bed and this information being put out by the so-called mainstream media by the paradigm protectors as I like to call them now you have this red line with the dot on it in the middle of this green these set of green arrows and I refer to this as the point of the possibility where interference happened with this natural process this natural evolutionary progression by another form of consciousness you have to look at this line as specific to one species or one form of consciousness and at some point in the past there could have been in interference done by another form of consciousness which was not human if we're looking at this green line to be the natural evolutionary progression of what we refer to ourselves as humanity human beings this point of interference was done by some form of consciousness that was non-human and we'll pick it up from there on the other side stay with us everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we were on slide number five of the images for tonight's show you could find those at what on earth is happening calm on the radio show page or along with this podcast I was talking about a possibility of in our ancient past of the natural evolutionary progression of the human species or perhaps what we once were you know the in the condition that we once were in had been interfered with deliberately by another form of consciousness and again regardless of what you think the nature of that other consciousness may be we're looking at the possibility that something that was not human interfered with the progression of natural evolution in our species and when such interference like that happens whether it is genetic again we're going to lay out a lot of the evidence for the possibility of genetic modification or hybridization having been done to the human species direct tampering with our genetic code and then you have epigenetic manipulation it's not just genetic it's epigenetic that means it's you're manipulating the mind you're also manipulating the environment in which the being is living in because that has an effect on the conditions that develop in our in our mind and our behaviors and our whole species so whether the interference is genetic meaning it's done directly to the physiology or it's epigenetic it's done in the realm of mind or even in the environment this force immediately begins to act as the entropic were involution Airy force which counteracts the evolutionary force which counteracts what I am calling here NEP natural evolutionary progression and again that's what evolution always has to be keep that in mind it's progression it's not just the survival of biological material you could have a survival of a biological material and still have regression in consciousness of a species so we have to keep in mind when this interference occurred it immediately began to counter the natural evolutionary progression and it acted as an entropic force a force of chaos a force of disorder a force of holding us back okay and we're gonna lay out the case for this possibility in future shows we'll get into reading ancient accounts of non-human interaction with our planet the gods creating humanity quote-unquote gods keep in mind I'm saying gods with a small G has nothing to do with the real God of creation and again regardless of what you want to think the nature of these beings may have been some people tend to look at them as demonic or you know fallen fallen angelic consciousness some look at them as extra dimensional some form of higher dimensional existence there from another frequency of existence you know another brain you know if to use a modern scientific term you know some other dimensional aspect of existence that we don't actually perceive in this realm or dimension or whether you want to look at them as physical biological entities from elsewhere you know just in a more nuts and bolts type of way now they're just traveling possibly with so far unknown technology that is unknown to us and as being deliberately kept hidden in secret because of its possibilities what how it could possibly transform the human condition level the playing field when it comes to forms of energy etc and free human and you know help to free humanity or at least move humanity forward regardless of what you think the nature of these beings were that perform this interference as soon as that interference occurs you have an entropic force at work blocking or standing in the pathway of the natural evolutionary development of a species and my question to people is why wouldn't this be possible you know if you just look at it at that in that way in those terms who is to say that that's not possible to occur what why are people so against that notion just even considering it I mean when I even first heard about this theory I didn't sit there and think well that can't possibly be that's not possible it can't possibly happen of course I entertained the notion and said well that may be a long shot but we have to look into the possibility is there evidence for this you know maybe records of this occurring and the answer turns out to be yes in abundance you know is there evidence in the fossil record perhaps and the answer is yes there is actually an abundance and all this evidence is just glossed over or its debunked immediately it's thrown out because it doesn't fit into the nice neat little package that anthropologists and archaeologists want people to believe in you know so it goes into university basements and it's it's stored in closed boxes for decades and decades and decades because we can't put it in our little paradigm as the paradigm protectors you know we want to maintain our tenure and we want to maintain our role our status as the experts who wrote all the text books on the topics you know we can't have anything to the contrary getting out there even if it's true even if there's evidence to support it well we can't explain that readily in the testing paradigm model well out it goes it doesn't fit into the Darwinian model out it goes religion to say it doesn't fit into the creationist model out it goes that's not seeking truth that's you playing God you're acting as the arbiter of truth instead of saying let me look at all the evidence let me put bring it all to the table and look at it and then order it and then make sense of it then filter it and then see what comes out in the wash you know no we don't want to do things like that as a human species you know in general we want to say if it fits in the existing model I accept them believe in then anything that doesn't fit in it has to go anything that possibly contradicts my existing model throw it out that's how most science is done today and Pete there are people out there they don't want to believe that because science is their religion you know it's just another religion scientism so I've essentially covered what I really want to wanted to cover for today let's see if we can and and again we're going to lay out a case for this with evidence in future shows we're going to read ancient accounts and try to see them in their bigger context than their bigger picture you know not just as the fanciful imaginations of primitive people who had nothing better to do but Sawtelle crazy science fiction stories you know perhaps what they were doing painstakingly was attempting to preserve their history in the language that they spoke and wrote and as well as they could put it down for posterity you know people don't want to think about it like that because again it's a disturbing story we were made as a slave species that's a disturbing story you think I want that to be true I don't want that to be true but if it is true I'm not the arbiter of that I'm not the one who has to say I believe that or not either I there's evidence for and I'm going align my perceptions to what's actually there or it's not that way but to me that model this model of humanity's natural course being interfered with by some other consciousness to me makes the most sense once all the evidence is taken into account and it explains so much about why the human condition is the way that it is and why we're up against the forces that we are up against today whereas none of the other models explain that none of these other paradigms that you know conflict with each other but are actually oppo seems the Darwinian paradigm and the creationist paradigm explain any of those things zero they actually explain none of them while the interference theory at least when I take it into account to me explains all of those seeming seemingly inexplicable dynamics that are within the human experience that up to this point you know haven't actually really been readily explained - at least not my satisfaction so we'll go back to the phones on the other side of this break and we'll see if we can't get a final winner in our contest for a ticket giveaway for the st. Louis seminar I'll be giving on May 31st stay with us everyone we'll be right back [Music] welcome back everyone last segments for this evening for this edition of what on earth is happening and let's all go to the phones and see if we can't get a final winner in our ticket giveaway for tonight let's hear from Patty in Illinois that's a hop skip and a jump from Missouri patty you're live on what on earth is happening do you want to take a crack at the trivia question to try to win a free ticket yeah all right great the question was named the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order okay the three of the Trivium first one is not I'm sorry no that is not one of the Trivium staff but thank you so much for trying but what else did you have for us this evening I was just gonna try to answer those three I wasn't sure if you wanted them the way they were presented or if it was the old school like grammar yeah I said well I said that I would accept the ancient way that the Trivium was presented the modern method that it was presented or the computer allegory way that it was presented so all right no worries um you have any questions or comments well you want to have a line well no I'm just really interested in what you're talking about right now um I am I'm a biologist and so looking at human form and the anatomy of the human being is something that is always kind of interested me just how we're so much different from even our closest so-called relatives on the on the evolutionary scale Darwin but um I'm interested in what your what you have in upcoming shows I was always thinking somewhat of this interference being something that has helped us along the path but see how it might actually keep us stagnant is something I'm looking forward to hearing about yeah and you're absolutely right you bring up some great points while there are a lot of similarities and genetics to our closest relatives the amount of differences is staggering and this is something that you don't hear a lot from evolutionary biologists and people who you know prop up the Darwinian theory you know that amount of difference in the genetics is something that really I feel cannot really be bridged and one of the things that Darwin himself continuously told people is that you know there would have to be a lot of transitional fossils found in the fossil record to show clearly the progression that's never actually been done scientists call this anthropologists and archaeologists refer to this lack of evidence as the quote missing link and they always say it's going to be bridged it's going to be found the gap is going to be closed and it never has been there is exactly zero bones of any of any hominid present in the modern human skeleton they do not exist and there have been exactly zero transitional fossils bones in the fossil record found that bridge the hominid spitted so-called ancestors with modern homo sapiens sapiens never has been actually uncovered within the fossil record it's it's something that has been postulated and put out there as a theory but people have actually never discovered the the actual evidence and yet this is believed in as some sort of a you know gospel truth which is I think making a big jump now and again this is what we want to do in future shows is talk about you know things like this and bring this evidence forward and talk about things like you know the second human chromosome you know which is an anomaly in which you know Darwinists you know say is the best example of you know biological evolution and a lot of creationists say that's the best example of creationism you know I look at it as that's the best example of intervention or interference theory so what we'll be getting into all of these things and many more and you know talking about what we can actually do about it even if it is the the worst case scenario and I'm also open to the possibility that there have been some species that have been quote-unquote on our side or quote-unquote trying to bring some form of balance to it I kind of have a little bit of a bad taste in my mouth regarding that regarding where a lot of the New Age movement thinks that that is because I don't think it's nearly anything like they think it is like it's the cavalry coming to rescue us or anything they want us to do our work for ourselves so we don't have to you know pull us up by the bootstraps and somehow become responsible for us like you know a parent taking on another child you know so we'll look at all of those possibilities so really great great points that you brought up there so thank you for the call Patti so let's let's go to another caller and see if we can't give these tickets away before the end of the show let's hear from Derrick in Pennsylvania Derrick you're live on what on earth is happening welcome and you want to take a crack at winning the free ticket to the st. Louis seminar all right Derrick has uh has hung up so let's move on let's hear from Brandon in Boston Brandon you're live on what on earth is happening and if you so choose you can take a crack at winning the free ticket to the st. Louis seminar do you want to give it a shot sure I'm just a real quick comment first I think that the intervention has been also a catastrophic event very very distinct possibility absolutely that also needs to be looked at cataclysm theory is something that definitely could put on scene it doesn't have to be another form of consciousness either it can be a natural event that and interfere and come in between you know the natural evolutionary progression of a species and you know its future evolution so absolutely cataclysmic events definitely should be looked into and I'll also be recommending some authors to that to that topic as a matter of fact I think next week what I'm gonna do is just lay out a bunch of different authors and researchers for people to just look into all of this stuff right off the bat just put out a bunch of different research and you know we'll pick up specific research from that point forward but I think next week's show that's what I'm just going to do is lay out a whole bunch of different researchers for people to go off on their own and do some research on their own so and of course not Julian James in a breakdown singing Rahman sure sure the question once again was named the three steps of the Trivium in order and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order go right ahead and you'll take different antiquity you know the first the three in order grammar logic that is correct okay and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order yeah I would call this more of the classical interpretation of the order okay and it would be arrested tick music I'm a tree astronomy I'm going to have to call a incorrect on that um you named all of them but not in the correct order unfortunately so really really great great attempt but just the quadrivium was out of order so I'll let you get to your question or comment then no it's just my theory on that is if you look back at like say Plato and have you know in the Classical period of the quadrivium people who taught the quadrivium meanness knowledge that was Bob supposedly music was primary music comes first and last in common is you want to see a really good movie on intervention and how this could have happened yes maybe happy new now is a 2001 Space Odyssey oh absolutely Stanley Kubrick he was privy to a lot more than he let on and I think it event eventually ended up getting in getting him in some trouble by our dark occult friends at least I think so Kubrick obviously had insider knowledge and had been involved with some dark occultists for sure I think Eyes Wide Shut is absolute proof of that in what he was trying to tell the American public about who was really running the show in this country and really throughout the world but 2001 a Space

Odyssey is absolutely about the intervention or interference that occurred in the human species for certain ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have off to give away that final ticket next week but thanks so much for listening and remember there are only two mistakes that one can make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see right here next week [Music] [Music]

What On Earth Is Happening Show #156

Topics: Interference Theory Of Human Origins, the Polarizing Dialectic of Darwinian "Evolution" vs. Creationism, Source Texts and Traditions relating to the study of Interference Theory, Researchers whose work should be considered when studying Interference Theory, The Great Work

freedom man that's what it's all about [Music] [Music] welcome you are listening - what on earth is happening this show will discuss the topics of human consciousness mind control natural law the occult and all issues that affect the freedom of the people of Earth what on earth is happening will endeavor to shine light upon the darkness of our world and to offer empowering solutions to the problems we face as humanity approaches it's critical moment of choice and now here is your host Mark Pascoe [Music] welcome one and all you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm the networks website Republic Broadcasting org today is Saturday May 17 2014 we have a great show lined up for you here tonight the show is live every Saturday from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to midnight central tonight on what on earth is happening we're going to be continuing to discuss the intervention theory of human origins we've been discussing this for the past few weeks and tonight what I'm going to do as promised last week is I'm going to present to the listening audience a slew of researchers and I'm going to also comment on some of their work and let people know about some of their books and videos etc and I'm also going to open up the phone lines and ask listeners if they have any other suggestions on researchers that I may have left out on you know of this particular topic and who they find very interesting and who they think people should look into as well so right at the top of the show let me give the call-in number if you want to get into the queue the number to call to join us here on what on earth is happening is 831 390 443 once again 803 one three nine four four three I do have a couple of quick event announcements before we get started with the topic for this evening I was interviewed there's three new interviews up on the water on earth is happening dot-com website on the news section or in the left on the left-hand side of the page under the latest news column I was interviewed on ghost in the machine on May 6th I was interviewed on illicit talk with Elissa hawk on May 11th and I was interviewed alongside Jay Parker on truth connections radio with Kathy Buckelew a couple of days back and that just went up on YouTube and it is linked on my website as well so if you want to check out the past few interviews that I've done over the last week or so check out what on earth is happening comm and go to the news section on Friday May 23rd that's this coming Friday from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. it's a really really early interview here on the East Coast I'll be on surface planet radio this is a on a terrestrial radio channel station it's on w g dr I believe that's out of Vermont and you could check that out at w GD r org this Friday May 23rd from 6 to 8 a.m. I will be giving a live one-time-only seminar in st. Louis Missouri on Saturday May 31st 2014 at the Arden Meade Center at 17 Selma Avenue in st. Louis Missouri and the doors will open at 9 a.m. the morning session will begin at 9:30 the lunch break at 12:30 and the afternoon session from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. followed by a question-and-answer session the seminar is entitled streetwise spirituality and the subtitle is what does it truly mean to be awake I'm going to talk about what real conscious awareness means what does it mean to be quote-unquote awake it's not what the New Agers want you to believe that it is it's so much more than that and it is so different than that state of quote/unquote consciousness that the New Age movement wants to pass off as being awake so I'm going to basically outline point by point what real spiritual awareness and enlightenment is actually about contrary to the typical New Age conception and it is going to be a very streetwise approach a balanced approach between the Sacred Feminine and sacred masculine principles and the Sacred Feminine and sacred masculine aspects of consciousness and that's what we'll be exploring in depth in this seminar really looking forward to it been preparing my slides and again I said this last week I haven't really been preparing many slides for the radio show I'm gonna get into more intensive research and preparation of source material and slides and things like that in coming weeks but really focusing right now on my st. Louis seminar and last week I only had a couple of new slides today I don't have any new slides for the show I'm just gonna basically present some other researchers and talk about their work a little bit so that you know people can get a jump on this topic and realize how huge it is and how eclectic of an array of materials and research are out there for people's consideration so just wrapping up with the streetwise spirituality seminar the advance tickets are on sale there are only a $20 donation you can call three one four four eight eight four four five four to purchase tickets once again that number three one four four eight eight four four five four or you can email reh mummy that's our a y mu mm e ray mummy at gmail.com to purchase advance tickets at the door tickets only $5 more at the door for a twenty five dollar donation so that once again that streetwise spirituality Saturday May 31st 2014 at the Arden Mead Center in st. Louis Missouri okay I believe that is all the event announcements on now I have one more we'll be continuing the ticket giveaway for the seminar this week we do have one ticket left to give a caller came very very very close and I'll talk about the reasons that I feel I didn't want to you know actually say yes that is the actual correct answer a caller gave all the correct steps of the Trivium and he gave the correct subjects of the quadrivium but in my estimation the quadrivium steps were out of order last week so just give the the question one more time for the last single ticket to the streetwise spirituality seminar in our ongoing ticket giveaway these tickets by the way were donated by Joe from Kansas City so thanks so much to Joe for his generous donation of four tickets we gave away three already Swami Shiva Nandi Giri was one of the winners as well as mark from Ohio and Jason from Illinois last week so hopefully we can give away that last ticket tonight the question was named the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order the four steps of three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order that is the question if you want to call in and attempt to win a free ticket to the st. Louis streetwise spirituality seminar that I'll be hosting on May 31st once again the calling number 803 one three ninety four forty three so let's get started with the topic for this evening again this is ongoing we'll be talking about this topic probably for months to come now at least a couple of months because I'll be really doing a lot of digging into some source material and reading into some researchers work as well throughout this entire breakdown of this topic it's called the intervention theory of human origins at least that's what I call it and we'll get into this in a deep way on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on Republic log casting [Music] you know today destroys the night 95 today tried to run I'll do the other welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening right here on Republic broadcasting ok so the topic for tonight as we've been discussing for the past few weeks is the intervention theory of human origins and tonight what I'm going to be doing is just trying to impress upon people just how vast of a field of subject matter this really is by talking about much of the research that goes along with this area of inquiry and of course you know over the past few weeks we've been talking about the polarizing dialectics when it comes to human origins and how the vast majority of the human species falls on one side of this equation or the other on one side of this divide on the other I should say this very polarizing divide and it's very deliberately constructed to be polarizing so that it keeps people in one form of brain imbalance or another whether they subscribe to the Darwinian quote-unquote evolution paradigm it's not evolution at all it's essentially struggle for survival paradigm that's really what it should be called the Darwinian struggle for survival paradigm or the Darwinian dog-eat-dog the paradigm maybe would be a good name for it but it's certainly not actual evolution not real evolution certainly not in any way that resembles truth and I do not subscribe to this paradigm as I don't subscribe to the creationist paradigm the creationist dogma which is uh you know the exact polar antithesis and these two dogmatic religions both of them are religions people can call Darwinism a science all they want it's a religion get is offended about that as you like but you know one the left-brain approach this Darwinistic religion purports that matter is supreme spirit is non-existent or completely insignificant there's no underlying intelligence true intelligence in nature you know nature's just a clockwork machine you know then people extend this to things like how the body works extends it to how society works or should work you know you can see how dangerous the entire proposition is to accept wholesale into your worldview and that's what it's designed to do and of course it paints that picture that you know people should be totally selfish because hey we're all in this as a struggle for survival you know natural selection chooses Psychopaths to rule don't you know because they're willing to do whatever it takes to survive at the expense of anybody else you know so why should you decry psychopathy it should be celebrated right you know it's an evolutionary advantage don't you know - what Darwinism essentially puts the idea in people's heads that it does that how it should be you know and then you have creationism on the other side you know spirit is totally supreme matter you know is insignificant that doesn't make a difference should be looked down upon and seen as something that's dirty you know God's completely separate from everything separate from his creation you know two distinct things the creator and the creation and God controls all the events within the creation so what do both of these paradigms support the idea that change is hopeless you know Darwinism basically says we're at the mercy of our genes and creationism says we're at the mercy of God's whim God's will you know forget leave consciousness at the door don't worry about human consciousness to actually create change to learn and grow and understand patterns and then actually change something here you know no that's that either shouldn't be the way that it is or it's impossible you know that's what these two competing worldviews these polarizing worldviews basically create in people's minds and you know the one thing that they both do very well and completely share in common is complete dismissal of free will leaving consciousness at the door total dismissal of free will as I said last week also the external ization of all power you know once again either the genes have the power or God has the power but forget human consciousness there's no power in that there's no hope for creating change in that you know we're just it's they're both victim mentalities and yet you go and try to explain that to most people one they don't understand that these are both victim mentalities at all at all they're totally tied to their respective religions no matter what side of this polarizing dialectic people come down and within okay and they're completely unwilling to even budge from that position or look at it at an alternative at all because these are both religions they're absolutely religions okay so you know we we went into this and how this creates this schism in the brain in fact the actual brain physiology or you could even say maybe the schism in brain physiology leads people to accepting one of these paradigms or another if they're super left brained already maybe they start to buy into Darwinism and if they're very right brain imbalance and of a religious persuasion then they buy into creationist paradigm so it's very interesting how those dynamics work and we asked the question last week is there an alternative to these two prevailing yet you know totally entrenched paradigms and like I said if you just ask the average human beings on the street just do a social experiment ask your friends and family members where did human beings come from almost invariably you're either going to get the Darwinian evolutionary model or you're gonna get God made us this way you know that's it and you know I think if it's a sad commentary let's put it that way either of those things if people believe that nature just made humanity this way I think that's an extraordinarily sad commentary as I don't believe nature or God made humanity the way we are now okay I think something else did that okay and you know people at people were complete we attached and there they're stuck in one of those dialectics or another and that's what it's designed for to get people polarized fighting with each other and distracted from the truth we're looking into any alternative that can really explain what has gone on here on earth in the past and is going on here in the present in a way that presents it that topic with clarity and makes sense but if you just do a social experiment you'll see almost a hundred percent of human beings fall into one of those categories you will be hard-pressed to find someone a random average individual who will tell you that they do not subscribe to one of those paradigms or the other and I challenge you to do it I just I challenge the listening audience do this as a social experiment you know go and ask people what do you think the origins of humanity is and I guarantee you it will either be Darwinian quote unquote evolution or creationism in some form or fashion guaranteed I guarantee it okay just from talking to people myself and seeing where their their head is at where their mindset is that i 100% guarantee that that is exactly what you will find if you do that experiment you will find some people who will put by an alternative hypothesis out there but i guarantee you they'll be few and far between and you'll certainly not want to you'll certainly not encounter that many people who want to seriously consider and discuss the possibilities like we're going to be discussing about the possible intervention and interference that happened with our natural evolutionary progression by non-human entities here on earth in the very very ancient past so what I'm going to do here tonight is again the purpose here is to try to impress upon people the depth of this ray of this field of research and how eclectic it is you you don't just make up your mind about this okay you don't just say it's not about a belief ladies and gentlemen that's the first thing I want to say all right what I'm going to try to present here is ever not belief that's what science is supposed to be done using evidence actual evidence not just saying this is what I think I believe this that's called religion okay is there evidence to support this and have people uncovered this evidence and have they sifted through it you know and have they filtered it and have they explored it deeply that's what we need to talk about [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're talking about the interference theory of human origins and I'm going to be suggesting some researchers and material for people to look into on this vast topic however I just want to briefly go over what this theory entails we covered this last week this will be a very brief review we asked the question is there an alternative to these two imbalance yet prevailing paradigms of Darwinian quote-unquote evolution and religious creationism and before we you know postulated that perhaps it is a extra-terrestrial or simply non-human some intelligence of non-human origin interfering with the natural development of our species at some point in the ancient past possibly even continuing in the present day we looked at how there is a natural evolutionary process that is taking place in nature and directed by creation so you could look at this as a theory within a theory okay as combining aspects of how science scientism I should say looks at evolution except again leaving Darwinism at the door so to speak not looking at it from that perspective of it's just about a struggle for biological survival and nothing else it may that may happen up to a point with lower evolved organisms but then that work in the biological or genetic domain eventually proceeds to the epigenetic domain the domain of consciousness and that see this is where an entire field of endeavor an entire area of inquiry and subject matter unto itself in entire study unto itself is never going to be talked about scientism doesn't want to talk about epigenetics not much anyway okay you know they're they're still in this Newtonian paradigm in this Darwinian paradigm where it's all clockwork mechanism medicine still applies this to the body politic still applies this to social engineering it's all a clockwork mechanism it's all about matter you know and you know we want to run the body like a machine we want want to run society like a machine you know because after all hey people aren't there is no consciousness is just biological material interacting with itself and it's just like a machine the whole universe is a purposeless machine you know that's what most left-brain scientism puts forward out there and you know then you have the opposite extreme with religious creationism saying oh it's all God God's doing everything there's nothing else at work or anything of significance that is outside of God you know but nobody puts it tries to come up with any balance here nobody puts a theory forward to say maybe it's a blending maybe it's a balance between some aspects of both of these paradigms maybe there is a natural evolution real evolutionary progression not just about survival of biological material okay it works in the biological domain then it proceeds through the epigenetic or domain of consciousness the epigenetic domain and it's automated in the first steps creation is willfully directing it and driving it and guiding it you could call that process god I don't really care you if you are comfortable with that term I mean you know some people aren't whatever but in the early stages of this process and for you know vast stretches of time it's automated by creation until the point where it enters the domain of consciousness then freewill becomes involved courtesy you could look at it like god is controlling things up to a point he's controlling the devil of lower forms that these it's it's controlling this force is controlling the development in the purely material domain up to a point then when a certain level of complexity becomes involved then you have consciousness coming in and then the creative force there then starts to back off and it allows free will because it doesn't control everything it allows freewill choice of behavior once there is capacity for holistic intelligence now notice I did not say once there is true holistic intelligence involved I said once there is the capacity for holistic intelligence creation backs off the direct running of this process in the biological domain and it allows the epigenetic functions to then develop in other words consciousness and freewill and it backs off its control at that point now personally I feel that is a much more balanced approach and not only have I felt that that is how it works this is actually as what has taught how evolution really works in many of the ancient traditions Rosicrucianism teaches that it happens this way true Kabbalah okay true Freemasonry esoteric Freemasonry it's a blending of these dynamic forces the biological and epigenetic natural evolutionary progression and then that eventually proceeds into the epigenetic domain were than a species that has developed the capacity for holistic intelligence takes over its own evolutionary development based on its freewill decision-making processes okay so what this does is it explains that yes nature is directing the process of evolution but at some point a species becomes with the capacity for holistic intelligence becomes responsible for it's own progression or regression and there's that keyword ladies and gentlemen that keyword responsible after a point the amount of aggregate consciousness that a species has developed through its own usage of its free will okay is then taking over the the future progression stagnation or regression of that species that's what's responsible for it whether we have progressed our own consciousness or not through our free will do we want to pay attention do we want to learn do we want to grow do we want to evolve do we want to stop making the mistakes that we've made in the past do we want to become aware of patterns do we want to learn from history well all of the answers to those questions seem to be know in the modern day no we don't want any of those things we want to remain ignorant herd animals in a cage not evolving stagnating and possibly even regressing which is a spit in the face to the creator of the universe and and to natural evolutionary progression of consciousness just spitting in its face and that seems to be what we've become what humanity has become and I'm not telling you it has to be that way I'm saying it's the case right now what we've become but we can change at any time we want right in the present moment that could be changed that's a choice it's not anything that's being done to us and this is what all the people stuck in these two schism paradigms let's call them the paradigms of schism see I just love that word love that word it says so much and it's a perfect word it's a perfect sounding word for what it really means you know a schism it sounds like it's a tense thing it sounds like it's an oppositional thing just in the word itself the way the word is structured because that's exactly what this whole dichotomy between Darwinism and creationism is all about it's a schism there to hold people in thrall and hold them in the notion of powerlessness there's nothing we can do this is this is being done to us yeah it's being done to us and we have no say in the matter we have no choice about the actions that we take do we it's all controlled by genes or the environment or by God I mean give me a break you know what that's called that's called little children who don't want to take personal responsibility for their own behavior and that's all that's called nothing else so this the the point that we were leading to last week is could the natural evolutionary process that is already at work in a species be interfered with let's just say let's just take for example even if it's only happening in the biological or genetic domain and it hasn't even fully progressed into the epigenetic domain could another species come along and affect the progression the natural evolutionary progression of another species well of course just look at humanity it works thinking species by the day we're involved and getting involved in other species natural evolutionary progression every single day and in many cases making them disappear from the cosmos so we're involved in that what makes us think that couldn't have been done to us or that it isn't still happening we'll pick this up on the other side of this break stay with us everyone [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio so what I'm gonna do from this point forward is start putting out some general research topics and I'm gonna also put out some general researchers who have talked about these topics for many years who have a lot of books a lot of material a lot of videos out on the topic of interference theory as I like to call what people have called intervention theory they have called it the the theory of human origins from non-human intelligence they have called it ancient astronaut theory it's been called many different names I prefer interference theory or interference hypothesis personally because I don't look at it as just the you know a type of intervention which you know could take on a possible positive connotation interference in general tends to paint the connotation that you're getting in the way that you're deliberately trying to prevent somebody from going where they want to go or accomplishing what they want to accomplish which is why I like into the the word interference which has a more negative connotation because I believe this is certainly a sinister and negative thing that has gone on and it's a negative ongoing process and again I don't say that to instill any fear in anybody you know that none of the negative things I ever talk about or to instill fear it's just to make people aware and help people to deal with what is so that they can become empowered to change it so what I'll do is I'll present some general material that I talked about in my cosmic abandonment lecture and I just want to say before I even start this that you know the the people stuck in one of these paradigms or another the it's all you know Darwin theory Darwin you know evolution Darwin based evolution or it's all God doing it their attachment is largely based in fear their refusal to look at the evidence again you know most people will say I don't believe I don't feel this isn't about an emotion it isn't about a belief I was saying this a couple of segments back ok this is about have you actually yourself done the research have you actually yourself read some of the source material have you actually yourself read an eclectic variety of research material have you done that work with the time in your life and you know what the answer is most people cannot say yes I have they don't have one book on the topic they may have watched a couple YouTube videos on it and saying oh I think this is all bunk and there's a reason for that and I'm gonna tell you what the reason is I said it let a couple of weeks ago and maybe even last week the reason is these people don't want to even accept that this could be a possibility because of the dire and disturbing implications that the possibility presents therefore their approach to this is it cannot be this way because I'm not comfortable with it possibly being this way and I'm not telling you I'm a hundred percent right ladies and gentlemen I'm not telling you it it is absolutely the way I'm not the way the case I'm going to lay out you know puts forward there you have to be open-minded and that open-mindedness also means you have to be willing to accept that could have went down a different way than how you're laying out your theory I'm not saying I know the absolute truth about the past what I'm saying is there is absolutely evidence that could be looked into and if we approach it with an open mind with a preformed notion of saying it can't be that way because that's too disturbing or it can't be that way because my religion says otherwise or it can't be that way because the scientists the the priests and the white lab coats that call themselves scientists told me it can't be that way you know that's not how any truth is discovered truth is discovered by actually looking at what's there by looking at the evidence and I'm telling you right now and all the people I encounter that come down on this one way or the other in one of those paradigms or the other one thing is always shared in common none of them have actually read or deeply studied the material I'm going to talk about zero never ever ever but they have a strong opinion and a strong belief you know but you ask them well have you actually researched this well what books do you have what authors have you read can we compare video libraries can we compare physical books books in our library I don't have anything on it you don't have anything on it that means you haven't done one damn bit of looking and you think you're in a position he even offer an informed opinion see this is what where humanity is at folks we think that were experts when we've done no digging no research and I'm telling you there is a lifetime there is I couldn't research this if I lived a thousand years in its fullness if if a human lifespan was a thousand years you might start to crack the surface on this topic okay now I'm telling you the amount of research I've done is considerable but it barely scratches the surface and when you ask people what they've looked into you know it comes back a big goose egg and a glassy eyed look on the face and yet they still want to tell you they know something and that's how human beings are attached to their belief systems attached to religion I'm not attached to anything I research and go where the evidence leads that's it and I say to myself well regardless of how many people are saying this does it actually make sense you know you can get people to buy into a notion that's wrong let's not forget that it has to make sense logically and intuitively both in both ways in the left brain way and the right brain way it has to make sense you have to ask yourself does it explain the model of the world as we can accurately see it today and in many cases both the religious paradigms of Darwinism and creationism do not explain the what the model of the world as it stands today certainly not how a human being is today does it explain because I'm telling you if you believe nature made something like this you know called humanity or if you believe God did this you have a very very very low view of both nature and or God and I'll be the first to tell you that and I get as offended as you want by that statement so the first area that I want to briefly talk about is source texts ancient source texts from which these stories ultimately derive end now we're going to talk about researchers who have compiled tons of information looked at different archaeological and anthropological evidence okay gone into the histories of many of these people and painstakingly uncovered details bits and pieces that form a puzzle that form pieces of a puzzle and then what it is is everyone's job to do is bring those pieces of the individual pieces of that puzzle to the table lay it out and say can we form a picture here so that we can now accurately start to understand what happened in our ancient past and once again people don't think this is important they'll insist it's not important to look into that let's just start from where we are now and don't get me wrong I'm not telling you not to be active that's the most important we do need to look at the situation as it is now and deal with it but if you think origins of a species is insignificant and him unimportant I don't know what to tell you I mean that is about as naive of an approach as you can possibly have because if you don't know where you came from you sure as hell don't know where you're going so let's let's just start laying out and just listing some of these source texts - first alright and we'll look into them a read from a lot of these in the future shows okay of course you have the Bible biblical texts mostly things like the book of Genesis the Book of Ezekiel okay the book of Exodus apocryphal so-called apocryphal books of the Bible like the Book of Enoch which is biblical era biblical period that's not considered official canon biblical text the Septuagint also will pick up this list on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] [Music] well folks my code of silence on the interference theory of human origins has ended and I'm gonna be ending it in an even much louder way in coming weeks but let's go back to looking at just some just the general list of some source texts that we could explore the deal in many ways with these topics now of course as I was saying the Bible is one of these texts and people know my take on religion in general and it's that it's mind control essentially that is not to say that a lot cannot be gleaned from studying a lot of the texts of religion not buying into a belief system that surrounds those texts but understanding how many of these ancient texts were written and it is it true that many of them are written allegorically and symbolically absolutely and this is part of the problem with literalist interpretation of many religious traditions they don't understand that there's a lot of allegory and symbolism in ancient scriptural texts but is it all allegory and symbolism and I would highly suggest that no it is not there is some historical significance and there are actual events that are being described in a lot of these texts as well that the trick the key if you will to being able to read a lot of these texts properly is knowing when you're talking about something that's allegorical or symbolic and knowing when it is a historical documentation that the author is laying and people don't want to acknowledge they want to come down on one side of that equation or the other it's that same dialectic it's all the literal word of God or it's all completely symbolic and allegorical and there's no in-between you know see again it's a dialectic that's always at work you'll see this pattern repeat in my work endlessly trying to explain to people often both sides are try they're trying to push you into both sides into one extreme or another because that's where you can be controlled from that's where no discernment takes place when you're in that level of thinking it's all this way or another when it comes to anything other than natural law natural law is the law the laws of morality and there is nothing that is unchangeable except those laws that's it the laws of nature are absolutely set in stone and if you don't understand how they work you suffer the end that's the part that you can't change that you have to understand it is extreme it is all one way and align your perception in that direction okay but when it comes to understanding how ancient peoples mixed different concepts in the ancient scriptural writings of different religious traditions it isn't all one way there it is shades of grey and you have it has to be read like you know a rosetta stone of sorts you have to pick it apart break it down in its constituent elements consider is this allegorical or is this somebody saying something that actually did take place and is talking about historical figures and in many cases there's a mixing and matching of that going out going on throughout even the same books because you think you know necessarily these books were all written by one person they could have been mixed and matched along the way and a scribe wrote them down you know or assemble them they're the work of man as such they're open to interpretation and as such they're not going to be per or complete so that's what has to be understood when it comes to studying any of these texts they can't be taken as the literal word of God in every aspect nor can they be taken as none of this could possibly be historically true and it's all just symbolic both of these are totally naive ways of looking at these topics completely childish ways of looking at these topics so let's just for for lack of time because I want to get to the phones okay and I want to see if we can give away this last ticket too and I want to get your suggestions I want to get to the researchers so let me just give a brief list that I outlined some of these things in my cosmic abandonment lecture all right we have the Bible itself some of the books of the Bible that deal with this Genesis Exodus Ezekiel the Book of Enoch the Septuagint the apocryphal some of the apocryphal texts again these things were left out deliberately by you know things like the the Council of Nicaea you know when the official religion of the Roman Empire was being formed and the Canon was being built for the for the biblical texts because hey these high love this high level priests class doesn't want people really knowing their origins because then how are the how is the priest class going to control their mind you know so we can't have people really understanding about where they came from we have to leave some of that out we certainly have to leave things out like the naga hamadi texts and things like that that's why they were even taken so far away from some of the places where they were written and hidden because you know the many of the people who studied those texts and live their lives by them realize that the the the early church gets a hold of any of these things that's it you know they're gonna be burned or the people who even even preserve them are gonna be burned they don't want people understanding any of their real internal power you know their real inherent power forget that you have to hide that from people you know and you have to only give them the exoteric knowledge you can't give them any information about again their real power or where they came from because then God forbid they'll start using that thinking that you know that the priest class control isn't valid or legitimate we can't have that you know so the Bible is certainly one of these source texts of course people know a lot or have heard a lot about these Sumerian texts the clay tablets the Cunha form tablets and seals we'll get in that material also other epochs of creation similar to Genesis but in much more detail like the Babylonian texts the anima Elish or the epic of gilgamesh you have ancient Indus Valley texts like the Vedas and the Mahabharata that talks about battles between many of these beings the srimad-bhagavatam the Ramayana all right you have other texts from the empires that were coexistent with with Babylon and Sumer you have things like the Assyrian and Akkadian texts and their creation epics then you have some African histories like the the histories of the Zulu tribe and the Dogon Dogon tribe of course you have European myths you have the druidic histories you have the Norse histories than the Norse epic poetry like the Eddas and then of course you even have new world texts you know South American and and Latin American histories you have things like the Mayan Popol Vuh and of course we could get into I'm not as studied in it as some of the other source materials but you have the Native American traditions stories about sky beings as well so there are a slew of histories from all over the world you know there's far eastern texts and histories that go into that some of them a little bit more buried than others but and again you know because of the very draconian types of government that exists in far eastern countries you know a lot of that material hasn't even surfaced so much of this material is even still to this day not in public hands and is sitting again like I said in in research facilities or anthropological and archaeological facilities in basements on categorized on catalogue because they're anomalous and they don't fit into the existing paradigm protection structure of those so-called Sciences we'll pick this up on the other side of this break and then we'll be going to your phone call soon stay with us everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com talking about the research that is involved in looking into the interference theory of human origins and what I want to do I've talked about some source texts briefly listing a few we'll be getting into some of them on future shows I want to talk about some researchers that I think are it is valuable to look into their work I don't agree with all of their conclusions very few individuals I agree with all of their conclusions you know in any individual however that doesn't mean you shouldn't look into these people's work because there's a lot of truth to be discovered in it and it brings a lot of the missing pieces of the puzzle to the table so you can understand the bigger picture again it's not about just going where you're comfortable going we're just you know continuing to research things that you already you know think are true or believe it's about looking at all the perspectives and assembling the larger picture and putting it together so here's a general list and what I what I think I'll do to complement this list is with the podcast maybe I may not do this tonight because it may take a little while but over the next day or two along with the podcast I think I will assemble a bunch of links maybe well this will be a big podcast in the resource not the resource section of the website but underneath the podcast my list resources that are associated with the podcast maybe I'll do a really big one and put you know links to all of these researchers material maybe I could do something like link to Amazon or Barnes and Noble's so you can get their books linked to youtube so you can watch their videos maybe I'll make like a little resource page just on this topic within the the podcast section okay not a whole page but like you know a large paragraph with a bunch of links something like that this way that could just stay there as a little resource or reference guide that people can click links and immediately go you know see what what research materials are available by some of these authors and and researchers I think it's a good idea I think I'll work on it over the next day or two okay so let's look at some of the researchers an individual who I think's been doing this for a very long time and is still putting out a lot of great work is Erich von Daniken now von Daniken has been doing this probably since the 1960s certainly since the sixties maybe earlier than that but he's most known of course for Chariots of the Gods the book and then of course the associated video that came out based upon the book and he has a whole lot of other material out there at one of his uh good books that's out there he has a book called history is wrong and that's a that's a good one that lays out the whole alternative hypothesis of intervention or what I call interference theory you know he did the whole the whole series of books on the quote quote-unquote gods you know of course you had Chariots of the Gods he did gold of the gods return of the gods miracles of the gods etc so there's a whole series of books out there on the quote-unquote gods by von Daniken of course I think good starting material for him is Chariots of the Gods and that video I'm sure at least some people have at least seen Chariots of the Gods if you haven't you're missing a great documentary and another thing people a lot of times people will complain about some of these resources all they've all been debunked you hear that constantly these people are asking questions you know they're how many questions are posed by them they're not absolutely making absolute blanket statements and saying it definitely was this way and there's no room for interpretation there's they're asking questions could this have been the case does this make sense what they're trying to do is break this into the public forum for debate looking at it with an objective open mind which most people are unwilling to do because they have a religion and that's what I think von Daniken does well he asks questions okay he leads you with the question and then he provides some evidence okay and he's saying does this make sense when you weigh it up against this and you see the evidence does it make sense that it may have gone down this way and that that's what I think he does brilliantly so I find him to be personally a fair balanced researcher that has really done his homework and has looked into a lot of these source materials and has looked into the archaeological and anthropological evidence and I find his material invaluable personally I don't really care who doesn't like any of these people either you know you're not you think that's any sweat off of my back if you're gonna tell me I think that person is out there materials absolutely wrong and you're you know you're somehow discrediting yourself for saying that you like their material I could care less what you think about who I whose material I like or don't like could absolutely care less okay all I care about is what's true all I care about what's actually going on I care about truth and morality and freedom okay so if this can help to explain why we're in the situation that we're in I'm taking it in with an open mind I'm not gonna be set in stone it has to be this way I'm gonna look at what is there objectively and try to come to a logical reasonable balanced conclusion about it regardless of how dark that may be so another researcher that gets a whole lot of flack constantly and has been debunked from here to the moon is zecharia sitchin of course constantly you know you continuously hear people bashing this guy when how many people have done 1/100 of the amount of research that this gentleman is put out during his life none of them real quick to debunk ok real quick to say oh it's all nonsense and you shouldn't look into any of it and the same people have done absolutely nothing in the way of looking into any of this material it just can't be because they're uncomfortable with it of course Sitchin is best known for his book the 12th planet and the entire Earth Chronicles series but he's an eclectic researcher and you have to understand how much material is in these books see you can't watch a snippet of a documentary a snippet of a YouTube video and this is what so many people do this is what so many people do I'm telling you the people who are completely ignorant of this entire hypothesis this is what they do I'm attached to an idea it couldn't have happened this way because this says otherwise or I believe otherwise because of this and therefore I ask people hey have you actually read that book No are you planning on ever reading it no well then what makes you think you're qualified to possibly even comment on any of this person's work you haven't actually looked at it it's like people who won't watch my New Age BS seminar because they're new agers well is there any validity what he's saying no why because I don't like the title you don't like the title did you hear a word I said in the presentation no cuz I won't watch that I'm offended by the title and you think you're qualified on speaking on any of my work you think that that gives you some kind of an informed opinion when you won't even look at it see I have looked at all the alternatives I've read into all the religions science ok the New Age movement you name it I take it all in regardless of whether I agree with it or not we'll pick up with some of these researchers on the other side stay with us everyone [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we're gonna be continuing with a list of general researchers in the field of interference theory or intervention theory regarding human origins I was talking about zecharia sitchin and how most people dismiss his research you know because they don't like the implications they haven't really ever looked into it you know and that's just where most people's head is at you know most people have absolutely no idea how truth is discovered whatsoever they go on their whims on their preferences on their likes and dislikes and actual digging and looking into the truth and deep introspective study you know doesn't play a role in their in their worldview whatsoever it's a sad but true commentary on this species called humanity you know but another gentleman that I have the utmost of respect for who unfortunately we lost though this past year in 2013 was Lloyd Pye Sitchin also passed away in 2012 I believe and you know these two gentleman's work will definitely live on even though they're no longer here on earth but Lloyd Pye is just absolutely brilliant his videos are astounding and world-changing as far as I'm concerned you have to really check out everything you know is wrong an evening with Lloyd Pye hominids you could check those out on YouTube or download them online he's done amazing work with the Starchild skull showing how there is a non human characteristics of that skull and it is not just birth defects or just random anomalies he has a one of his recent books was alien origins definitely is carried on an advanced a lot of the work of Sitchin and others and you know found himself with an aggressive form of brain cancer this seems to be what happens to people who dig into this material and get you know extraordinarily close to the truth in a way that is quote-unquote scientifically presentable or demonstrable another individual I highly recommend is Michael challenger his book slave species of the gods is required reading and I would tell you if you haven't already read slave species of the gods you're missing a big piece of the human puzzle that's all I have to say that's how important that book is all right but his other work is just also brilliant you could type his name into YouTube and watch hours of his lectures just great work I hope to maybe interview him on the show sometime would uh would be a great show I think another researcher who's been debunked from here not to the moon but from here to Pluto is David Icke and once again I've talked about this gentleman on the show many times I don't agree with every one of his conclusions and I don't have to and nor would he have to agree with it all of my conclusions for me to respect his work I feel that he's one of the people who really woke me up to a lot of truths about this world and again I've commented on his courage many times in the past I think if people were as courageous as this person the world would already be free unfortunately most people are cowards they're ignorant cowards too because they won't even look at his research material and how well-documented it also is you know you could research from one David Icke book an entire lifetime whole lifetime and you know most people know about him he's the reptilian guy yeah well who gives a damn that he has a theory regarding reptilian shapeshifters have you actually read his books have you gone back into his all old books his first books and progressed forward through them I've read I've read like 13 out of David Ickes 18 books okay I'm telling you there's some of the most prolific works out there and you could research just in the endnotes of a chapter for a whole lifetime and yet most people have heard a snippet of something he said on the in a YouTube video or in an interview and they go oh it's a bunch of nonsense I mean this is how retarded people are you know they don't they don't look in-depth in anything you say one thing I don't agree with and the retards rear of their head and go well everything he says is junk everything it's all nonsense I mean this is an absolute child's way of looking at the world and researching anything when if you actually see you know what it's all about folks I'm just gonna tell you right now out here in the open it's the bottom line is the peas people are lazy they don't want to take the time to sit and read a 600 page book that is thick with information and reads like a text book not some not some fiction novel okay because Ike's work is dense with material it's dense with knowledge you have to read it like a text book and then you have to research into a lot of the connecting material and the source material that he cites his research is not a joke and yet people would dismiss it as such because they've never actually picked up one of the books and delved into it highly highly highly recommend and the truth shall set you free the biggest secret children of the matrix let me just go back to to Sitchin for a moment you know let me let me give you some of his books because it's important to just make a general list put put a list out there of some of these people's books the earth Chronicle series by zecharia sitchin it includes the 12th planet the stairway to heaven the Wars of gods and men the lost realms when time began the cosmic code and the end of days those are the seven books of the earth Chronicles series by Sitchin and he has other supplemental material that goes along with the earth Chronicles series and complements it those books are divine encounters Genesis revisited journeys to the mythical past the Lost Book of n key and there were giants upon the earth and he has other documentaries it has been included in many documentaries it's an abundance of material tell injure his main book is slave species of the gods he has another book about getting rid of the whole monetary system called Ubuntu and I also recommend people check that out let me read some of David Ickes bibliography let's see David Icke has I am me I am free and the truth shall set you free children of the matrix the biggest secret the robot's rebellion tales from the time loop infinite love is the only truth everything else is illusion Alice in Wonderland and the World Trade Center disaster the global guy the guide to the global conspiracy and human race get off your knees the lion sleeps no more he has a new one now called the perception deception I don't have that one yet I plan on getting it but you know just absolutely profound amount of work that he's put into researching these volumes some of these are 6 700 page books ok 600 700 pages and I'm telling you you could in one of the books you could do a lifetime of peripheral research and like I said most people haven't read one of his books let alone all of them I haven't read them all weren't working on that I'm you know most of the way through I have a couple some of his most recent ones I haven't gotten too let's see who else I cos of course brought credo moot wha on the global scene and exposed his vast knowledge regarding the Zulu nation that Zulu tribes of Africa and their their histories so I highly recommend checking out credo moot waz work he was interviewed by David Icke in the video the reptilian agenda and I think he also has a book of his own out I can't recall the title off the top of my head I don't actually own that book but I'll try to link to it Michael - sorry on unbelievable amount of material ok just to even use the word prolific is not enough monumental amount of work that he's done particularly with the origins and Oracle's series and again you could research for a lifetime you know branching off from any one of the topics that he covers in the origins and Oracle's box sets of 22 DVDs all of which are you know around 2 hours long you'll pick this list up on the other side of the break stay with us [Music] you know today destroys the night-night divide today tried to run let me tell you something ladies and gentlemen some of these researchers will help you to break on through to the other side they'll help you to really gain a more clear understanding about where we're really at I'm not telling you it'll be a pretty picture but the truth often is not pretty so let's continue with this list of researchers and then we'll go to your calls was talking about Michael - sorry on and his work anybody who has not seen origins and Oracle's the 22 disk DVD set that Michael - sorry on put out years ago you are depriving yourself of some of the best research that has been probably ever been put out there into the world has been ever do coltd and you know absolutely blasted out on to the earth okay for everybody to see and hear and understand it's just brilliant work and I don't think he could be commended enough for it he also has a great DVD called architects of control and many many in-depth research series of presentation series on YouTube and his own website so also Graham Hancock is another great and prolific researcher in this field he doesn't so much go into the intervention or interference theory and comes down on the equation that a lot of the ancient monuments that he talks about were just human constructions etc but I think it's still very powerful to look at some of his work and I think a lot can be gleaned from it of course he wrote fingerprints of the Gods lost knowledge of the Ancients let me see what else Oh quest for the lost civilization that was a DVD three-part series that he put out which I highly highly recommend the message of the Sphinx super natural and there's some others like I can't recall again I'll try to link up to a bunch of these on on the podcast Michael Cremo again not necessarily talking about the intervention or interference theory but when you talk about forbidden archeology this is one of the main sources that you need to go to how the so-called scientific establishment who I call the paradigm protectors anything that doesn't fit in with their you know linear Darwinistic theory of how we came to be or how the earth is the way that it is now is thrown out the door you know it's not allowed into the body of evidence and his book forbidden archeology documents this in extensive excruciating pain staking detail with tons and tons and tons of accounts I think it's a twelve hundred page book something like that all right absolutely have to check out Michael Cremo work la Marzulli now while I don't necessarily agree with his conclusions about you know some of the religious take on his work I think his work is absolutely vital and is very worthy for people to look into he has a phenomenal documentary series called the Watchers some of the best visuals I've seen in documentaries in this series and some of the most thought-provoking material regarding the possibility of extraterrestrial interference with our species I believe he takes the take that they are fallen angels as opposed to biological entities or hyper dimensional entities of some kind or extraterrestrial entities however I think his research is still very very very important and he has a couple of books on the trail the Nephilim is one of them the revealing is another but I highly recommend the Watchers series for sure and he works with a gentleman by the name of Brian Forester who also has really great research when it comes to particularly the anomalous elongated skulls that have been found that are not a product of cradle boarding which we will get into in depth on future shows and show some of that evidence and talk about why they're not cradle boarded and why that information is totally hidden from the people and even the scientific community and often just completely thrown in backrooms and/or basements of museums and never to be seen again because they don't want to explain these skulls and people will just dismiss them very easy easily and readily you know just again they're it's it's so easy to convince people that you shouldn't pay attention to something so simple you know you don't need to know about that don't look over there here have some of this here's a ball game you know it's just it's a joke like I said most people are just a complete asinine joke and that's why they're living on a farm and that they have no intention of getting off and they're not going to get off of the farm the farm is going to keep rolling right along because they're just pure ignoramuses and don't want to look at anything that conflicts with their little so-called life of comfort when it's really no such thing it's you know again ignorance isn't bliss folks people think ignorant people were all so blissful ignorance isn't bliss ladies and gentlemen ignorance is death absolute murderous death which is what's happening on this planet you know and people have the illusion of remaining in blissful ignorance you know it's nothing of the sort they're being run through a meat grinder and they don't even know it it doesn't make a difference whether on the surface they appear comfortable and you know fed etc it's you you could even be totally comfortable on the outside physically and be dead inside you know or dying spiritual death okay so they're in spiritual impoverishment and often don't even know it so ignorant is one hundred percent total suffering but la Marzulli and Brian Forrester people got to check into their work it's just phenomenal David Hatcher Childress he's done a lot of work in the technology of some of these beings definitely falls into the category of ancient alien hypothesis researchers Trey Smith kind of um I might liken him to LA Marzulli a bit he's done a lot of great work he's got a video series alcohol the Nephilim the truth and has a sort of a religious or a biblical you know take on things which again I I don't just fault people for that and say hey I'm just gonna not look at your research because you believe in an exoteric Christianity and have kama come to some of the conclusions that you you know basically align with biblical scripture and the interpretation of the Christian interpretation of biblical scripture no hey I got a throw out everything you talk about right cuz I don't agree with some of your conclusions no no I'm gonna look into LA Mars always work it's valid I'm gonna look into tres Smith's work it's valid you know I'm gonna look into researchers work like Rob Skiba I don't know if it's Kaiba or Skiba you know you know he takes us somewhat of a biblical approach to there's another great researcher he put out this series Archon invasion you could check that out on YouTube see the whole point here is people hear something they don't agree with and oh that person's work is invalid or or hey they were affiliated with a particular group and therefore I all their works invalid they throw out everything I say cuz I was a Satanist in my past you know hey this person attended you know seminars or taught seminars at the Esalen Institute throw out everything they say you know this person may have been working with some kind of an intelligence agency at one point in their life threat nothing they could say it could ever possibly be true I mean this is a retarded child's worldview that's what it is okay I'm sorry but that is what it is folks you know if you think the truthfulness of information is just based on what a person may have ever done in their life it's the highest form of ignorance and and fallacious thinking absolute fallacy absolute logical fallacy in the thinking process and people can't see it they can't see it because they're totally attached to it totally attached to it and it goes on it goes on and on and on it goes and so does the prison folks and it's the very mentality that's keeping the prison going enjoy it you you seem to love your chains and you want to in fight you don't want to look at the big picture and you don't want to take what is actually the truth and then leave the rest okay you know a friend of mine came over for the documentary night my friend John we were sitting in my living room we were watching a Rob Skibo or Skiba I apologize if I'm pronouncing his name incorrectly we were watching a video by him and he says mark you know you just basically told me that you don't really agree with a lot of this guy's conclusions or worldview regarding his crew you know biblical perspective why are you continuing to watch this I said because there's a lot of great information that I can learn from this guy in this video that's why and he just said that's why I respect you you could take it in and you could hold it and consider it without having to fully accept it that's the mark of holistic intelligence we'll be right back everyone [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the third hour of the broadcast for tonight I'm going to wrap up in this segment with the researchers that I am going to recommend to people and then I want to hear if you have any researchers in this topic that you want to recommend to the listening audience or to myself the call-in number to join us 831 390 443 we also have one more ticket to give away for the st. Louis presentation the question to answer is named the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order so some other researchers talk about another guy who gets a lot of flack it seems like you know you just put it paint yourself with a bull's eye as a target if you get into this field so um you know willfully stepping into that domain and so be it you know let's put the target right on me hey like they say if you're over the target you're getting the flack okay so you know you're being you're gonna be shot at if you're actually getting to something that it's at the lies at the heart of the matter and that's why so many of these researchers come under such brutal attack by people not because not what they're saying is is invalid or has no worth to it because the paradigm protectors job is to ruthlessly beat up on anybody who's trying to overturn the paradigm that is protecting slavery on this planet and that's what these white lab coat priest class do okay that's their job you know keep the slavery system going boys you're doing such a great job of it you know your children are involved in it too they're not exempt from the slavery you know but you don't give a you don't give a damn about them do you know you care about that Lexus in the garage that's what you care about you know couldn't give a damn about your children otherwise you wouldn't be doing that job otherwise you would you would actually care about truth instead of what it takes to keep your tenure or your position of power okay cuz you don't carry your children grow up enslaved now that doesn't mean a damn thing to you so to wrap up this category a few people are really under you know hard condemnation Immanuel Velikovsky okay ruthlessly barbarically criticized for just having theories about the ancient origins of our solar system again this connects in with the interference hypothesis and cataclysms must be taken into account we talked about this I have it take you know that this is intimately connected with the interference our origin theory okay but we'll get to that in future shows but Velikovsky's book worlds in collision as a classic Giorgio tsoukalos he takes a lot of flack for his ancient aliens series and I you know I think that his early work with ancient aliens was very on point I think some of the later material gets a little bit more of a stretch because they were pressed to come up with new material to continue the series and it's some repetition and then some far-reaching but in general I really like his work Robert Schoch again somebody who indirectly touches on this topic through looking at ancient civilizations and monuments and he's basically a geologist that you know goes into like weathering patterns on monuments to talk about their antiquity their age and talk about the nonlinear you know progression of you know human civilization great work of course connected with cataclysms you have to look into the scientists des Allen and JB de l'air Allen and de l'air their book Cataclysm absolutely critical work regarding the possibility of you know cataclysms having to do with what has happened with humanity and its mindset etc in regards to that there's another scientist I'm trying to think of his name off the top of my head because didn't write it down it's Paul Laviolette dr. Paul Laviolette he also gets into Cataclysm theory as well regarding Seifert galaxies explosions another researcher that you definitely want to check out when it comes to Cataclysm theory so they're the basic researchers I wanted to know I'm not it might have a couple more let's see I'll William Bramley I can't not mention him he wrote gods of Eden of course a great book on this topic I personally really dis dislike the word he uses to describe these beings he called them throughout his book custodians I don't think they're that they were the custodians of anything you know I like to look at these beings as farmers okay I hold them kind of in the same regard that I hold farmers when that comes to the treatment of animals and that's essentially what this planet is it's a huge farm in humanity is the animals on the farm you know that's what George Orwell was trying to tell people with the book animal farm you know it's what he was trying to tell people in so many words through an allegorical story it's so much more monstrous than we understand and again I don't say any of that to frighten people or to paint a picture of hopelessness you have to understand where you're at to know where you're going and if you want to empower yourself to get out of that situation you have to accurately understand where you're at so William Bramley great work Richard Mooney he wrote a book called gods of air and darkness which i think is very very interesting and good information to look into I've talked about briefly robbed Skiba or sky but he has a series called Archon invasion out on YouTube some other individuals who might be a little bit lesser-known I have some single books individual books that they wrote I don't know they may have more material some of their books are out of print w raymond drake he wrote a book called gods and spaceman in the ancient East Robert Charo ch AR ro UX I believe he also wrote a lot of material in French but he does have some work Trant translated in English forgotten worlds is one of his books you have let's see Allan Landsberg and his wife Sally Landsberg in search of ancient mysteries another older book possibly out of print now will heart which i think is a pen name more likely than not it is could be his real name I don't really know wrote a good book called the Genesis race which I'm reading now subtitled our extraterrestrial DNA and the true origins of the species which I recommend people to check out based on only uh basically being through it not even halfway but there are some researchers that get people started and let me tell you something right there is more than a lifetime of work with what I just with just the brief amount of names I dropped right there in this one show you wouldn't be able to do all that research in a human lifetime probably okay even if you get started right now because I'm telling you where all of that branches off and leads to is so unbelievably huge of a endeavor and the amount of material that is involved what what we need to do is as the saying goes as I've said many times many hands make for light work we need to bring this all to the table and start putting it in the public discussion and doesn't make a difference what people think of you you got to say hey instead of knocking this have you ever looked into this have you ever researched look how many people are involved in researching this and you know that isn't just a logical fallacy to say a whole lot of people have looked into this yeah a whole lot of people could be wrong - but I'm telling you if you really look into this body of knowledge there is something to it it makes so much more sense than a lot of the drivel that we have been fed keeping us in the dark and feeding us BS that's what the paradigm protectors have been doing for hundreds of years keeping us in dialectics so there's a brief list of names to get people started and we'll look into individual works by these people in coming shows we're going to go to your phones in the next segment ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening [Applause] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening let's go to the phones in this segment I've laid out the researchers that I wanted to bring to people's attention I'm sure many people will have researchers that they want to talk about that I may not even be aware of and you know that they think people need to look into so also let's see we can give away this last ticket to the streetwise spirituality seminar let's hear from Patti in Illinois Patti you're live on what on earth is happening would you like a chance to win the free ticket to the st. Louis seminar yeah sure okay go right ahead the question was named the three steps of the Trivium and the four subjects of the quadrivium in order um Trivium grammar logic and rhetoric that is correct and the quadrivium arithmetic geometry music and astronomy that is correct you've won the final the fourth and final ticket that Jo from Kansas City so generously donated for give away on the radio show so congratulations patty from Illinois they want a line after the call and my producer will take your information and then you'll hear from Ray mommy shortly after probably sometime tomorrow or the next day after that and he'll you know ensure that you need have all the information that you need to claim your ticket okay so um what else do you have for us tonight now why don't you let another caller go ahead because I'm just soaking in this information and I'm already amazed by the vast amount of research I've yet to do so great well patty congratulations and my producer will take your information so thanks so much and congratulations great have a good night okay so let's see who else do we have on the line let's hear from let's hear from Ivan from Phoenix I usually take him like at the end of the show let's hear from Ivan now Ivan in Phoenix my friend are you doing I'm doing fine mark and you doing well hanging in there you know trying to break through the different levels of ignorance and cognitive dissonance it's taxing sometimes but you know the great work seemingly never ends so you have to be up for the challenge yeah tell me about it I'm holding a screening tomorrow all day at my home for selects you people of your natural law seminar I would just answer only about three people really dedicated wanting to learn this so let's see if they actually show up so I barely got the third reservoirs BP about an hour ago so we'll see let me see you mentioned Cradle mutrah that he had a book and I looked up on Amazon real quick and found the title called in Baba my children that's it yep I couldn't think of it but there it is it can't came back to me as soon as you said the first word I remembered yes yeah I haven't read that one I don't actually own that one so I can't speak to it but I'd be very interested in checking it out mm-hmm and then um I don't know if you mentioned him today gay whitener wiener dog yes absolutely he's done a lot of great work on talking about the archons Jay widenar absolutely I'll put him on the list thank thanks for reminding me about him yes right and then this was more on a what is it a fiction or you mentioned it with movies before Battlefield Earth l ron hubbard sure on that that's not necessary research but it kind of been opened people's minds to a possibility yes we oh I should I should definitely some time next week talk about some allegories as well maybe leading into some of the deeper you know a source material because the allegories really are kind of paint this picture in a creative sense i speaking of allegories this is great that you brought this up i was watching the video called Archon invasion the rise fall and return of the Nephilim by Rob's Kiba horse Kaiba again I'm not sure how his name is pronounced and he recommended a film that had allegorical content regarding genetic manipulation of humanity it was called splice and again I found find it very very interesting that things like this fly under the radar and I had never heard of this nobody I know had ever heard of this movie have you ever heard of this movie nice yeah I thought that that will maybe buy five or eight years ago yeah yeah but think about how unpopular that movie was I mean I came in when with one of those two or three weekends at the theater then gone I'm telling you this was a Warner Brothers high quality production with high quality graphics and you know animation you know 3d animation and it was apparently in and out of theaters hardly any reviews written on it and goodbye to that because they did you know and whatever a video a movie is like that you know there's something in there they do not want getting out to the public they don't want the public considering it in a big way right right right and that's funny that you mention a movie like that because I just finished watching 1997 film island of dr. Moreau oh yeah that's a great one right there also and that goes to show that humans in this day and age messing around with DNA and splicing of other animals was not to say that thousands of years ago that wasn't done by a more advanced civilization to it and then it's it scattered around through quote-unquote history and what's called Greek mythology with you with the mannitol whatever those horsemen and with horse bodies and it's like well that's a nice story but there you never know sure I would suggest that is an allegory of what happened in the ancient past and we are all living on the island of dr. Moreau that's exactly what the dr. Moreau is the N key character in the sumerian creation epics that's it right there hey real quick also um you were mentioning about people trying to get this work and everything and how a lot of this information is already out there sure I jot it down a quick note here that the information is coming out because the ones who are putting it out know that folks are too far behind to know what to do with that information basically they lack the Trivium so the the grammar is there yet they don't have the logic for processing it yes and then there is correct because they have so many logical fallacies in their mind that they cannot sequentially process that information to arrive at an accurate understanding of it that is absolutely correct Ivan you pinpointed I and the head so they don't even care the grammar could be all out there and people are just well dismiss that dismiss that this conflicts with my belief system so throw it out we're not gonna even bother to take that in and process it you know nothing right sadly though their mind control works mm-hmm and another quick note I wrote found here you were talking about lazy and I wrote bound they're lazy to sit that this was my personal experience with the last time I tried to show your natural law seminar lazy to sit and watch nine hours of natural law but will work 12 hours for money and you got that yeah yeah and they that's the god of this world you know and like I say if a piece of paper is a species god they belong in a cage you know as harsh as that may sound can can I tell people who their God is a piece of paper that they really truly truly deserve freedom I can't even really make that statement myself I think the people who don't accept that as their God deserve freedom AB son unfortunately these mental midgets okay out there who do accept a piece of paper as their God all right are holding us all back because the the the evolution of a species is what is happening it's not just an individual person evolving like these New Agers believe you're in the same scenario and mess than all these other ignoramuses are ivenn stay with us I'll let you finish up on the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back folks [Music] [Music] this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we were talking on the line with Ivan from Phoenix Ivan are you still with us here okay continue okay yeah just finishing up on that a little lazy thing we were talking about a while back I tried to share just a short your short little 15 minute video you did some time last year the year before at either the Tesla Science Foundation or something like that yes tried to share that short little 15 minute video with a female co-worker at work and was send two or three minutes she was already inpatient and like just like come on on out with it kind of thing I'm like wow you know so it's not only your laziness it's a impatience they want to buy like you said at the natural law seminar that you should be able to come out and say don't steal and that's it that's I guess yeah so she was waiting for their that they don't want to go through all their information all the research just tell me what the answer is quick quick I don't have time eta gratification society you got it exactly yep and then you mentioned something about farming that the planet it's not custodians but that you were performing and I thought of this as this film coming out in July called Jupiter ascending and that has a little quote in there there's these uh royalty alien beings whatever that they're coming down here to earth and they know about us in all this kinda stuff but there's a line that's in there that says your earth is a very small part of a very large industry you know that's kind of in distinction yet movie puts that out there and you're talking about the earth as a farm and like what's this movie called that's coming out Jupiter ascending and it's made by the the siblings now they used to be brothers now his brother and sister siblings that made the matrix Charlie oh I'm sure I'll be a good one then if it's put out by there yep one last quick thing godzilla came out this weekend and i watched that and it was very good and it's a little line that the scientist says something about godzilla is nature's balance it's nice way of balancing things and that was kind of interesting like the premise of the first Godzilla movie absolutely oh yeah and then real quickly with my last little note here was something about a change can come from something small with the massive effect and vice versa something massive like a global occurrence can have a very small effect and what I mean by that is kind of like in the movie Flash Gordon you had Ming from like across the galaxy causing these global earthquakes volcanic eruptions it's massive stuff on the planet right and I'm thinking those huge events oh that huge event all that needs to do is just trigger their little sphere mechanism in our in our subconscious and that little little drop in the pond right there and that right there just controls everything else awful wagon trommel works in a very funny way and humanity has been traumatized by many different events in our past not the least of which are the way that we were actually created that was a trauma in and of itself and then cataclysms that followed in our ancient antiquity as a species just absolutely did a number on this race and that it's it all adds up to why we're in the current state of mind that we are in you know when when conditions like that happen it has an effect on psychology in very on it and it's still perpetuated what's the first thing that happens at Birth the doctor spanks you in the butt but you get that ear that pain and we're like oh and then oftentimes you're mutilated to at least men are exactly yeah yep Ivan all is always a pleasure always great insights whenever you call in so thank you so much my friend keep at it keep up the great work you're doing great work as well my friend so keep it up sometimes it doesn't feel like yeah and since you said that let me plug my website real sure absolutely boot up read your mind easy calm so that's three your mind ad has in Arizona calm and I know I'm not as I said this before linguistically skilled as you are and I tried I did those for podcasts and put them out there but I gotta give it to you mark you do this week after week after week and the work it takes to do the research and put this together and put it up and keep going it's like my goodness I was struggling to do those it is taxing I won't lie and just tell people it's the easiest thing in the world because it isn't it's it's taxing I'm I I feel drained a lot of the time I feel tired but I'm gonna keep pressing forward and keep doing what I can and don't sell yourself short you're an eloquent speaker yourself and you did a great job on that and on your site and everybody should check out Ivan's site free your mind a Z calm and that's an example you know we have a bunch of people doing something like that putting out videos and articles and you know podcasts you know it will make a difference in the aggregate sense you know that's what we need get involved do the great work and you're an example for people I've and so thank you well thank you Mark you're you were my spark plugs oh I appreciate that you have a good night right if I could take care of it all right all right great to hear from Ivan in Phoenix let's um oh just briefly to before we take the next caller I just wanted to give my take on why did not give the ticket to the gentleman who called in last week and got the steps of the Trivium correct grammar logic and rhetoric of course I could have also accepted knowledge understanding and wisdom I would have even accepted the computer analogy input processing and output those are kind of the three ways that the Trivium has been described one is a modern interpretation the grammar logic rhetoric one is an ancient interpret knowledge understanding and wisdom and one is a computer allegorical interpretation input processing output where I did not give it to the caller from last week was because he reversed two of the steps where the subjects of the quadrivium arithmetic geometry music and astronomy in his ordering was arithmetic music geometry and astronomy and therefore I did not give him the the ticket and while he made a point that he felt and agreed with some of the ancient philosophers take that music was so primary and important to you know the soul and the makeup of the human being and the psyche that they actually placed it right after the the very first or primary subject with which was arithmetic I didn't accept that as as the answer because I personally don't agree with that interpretation even though it is true what he was saying that many ancient schools of thought did have those reversed I mean some ancient schools of thought reversed the steps of the Trivium which i think is a very dangerous thing to do personally but they did in in certain schools teach the quadrivium in a different ordering which I don't find to be valid or something that is going to do justice to the entire subject matter of the quadrivium and I'll explain my take on this very briefly you have arithmetic which is pure quantization quantity measurement okay then you're going to have to study form music always follows form okay is a movement of formed so geometry the study of form has to come first before a flow of form in the form of of music and then astronomy is like the the music of of the heavens the music of the the galaxies and the creator of the universe etc okay so that's the the the sequential progression and the reason for it and the reason I did not accept the answer with music ii and GM 3/3 so I felt it was only fair to briefly explain why did not accept that answer for the gentleman who called in last week although he made a good case for why he felt that that was a valid sequence I but you know I gave it to Patti who gave the correct ordering of arithmetic geometry music and astronomy so congratulations to Patti again for winning the winning of that fourth and final ticket let's go back to the phones let's see who else do we have on the line let's hear from Russ in Minnesota Russ in Minnesota you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hello Russ are you there I don't think you're funny okay Russ has dropped from the line so let's move on to John in Washington John you're live on what on earth is happening what do you have for us this evening hello yes hi how are you doing hi mark I'm doing great I'm I just want to say that I love you I appreciate that I do I love who you are and the work that you're doing you've made such an impact on my life and not to say also in my girlfriend's life Patti who won the ticket earlier side she's my girlfriend group we're a great fan of what you're doing in your work and John hold on through this break I'll let you continue on the other side ladies and gentlemen stay with us last segment coming right at you [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening final segment for the night we're on the line with John from Washington John are you still with us I am ok oh yeah I'm sorry sorry you can continue yes I just wanted to give off a couple names of alternative historians that you know that we were talking are you were talking about earlier tonight sure go ahead they're different authors a couple that that have had an impact on me they're older lesser-known authors a ton of dari okay um the Bible is an English book that's the title of one of his one of his works can you spell his last name mcdhh re ma see the da RI okay Michael the Soren talks about some of his work in his Irish origins yes Commons Beaumont oh yeah he he's written some really good stuff and I was thinking also Ignatius Donnelly yes Atlanta yes oh yeah great great suggestions there I'm familiar with Ignatius Donnelly I'm I've heard of some of Thomas Bowman's work I haven't really read much of it but I'm not very familiar with Conor McGary I do know that Michael - sorry on references him though but yeah great all great suggestions I'll try to include them in the list great I my question tonight I I have a page full of questions for you but I can only of course pick one but well buddy your most pressing question and the one the most pressing question right now is the great work yes and how would you compare the great work to Christianity's the Great Commission in some way please I mean it is it a is it a ministry is I think what you're asking is that fit is that a fair yeah I was like evangelizing people with the truth it is I mean that is what we're talking about the difference is it's not a religion it's what's actually occurring so you know you you could ignore reality but there are consequences that lead to suffering for ignoring reality more than that what when you ignore reality you're actually doing harm to other people because if you ignore reality and you don't understand the difference between right and wrong you don't know what rights are and therefore when somebody else's rights are being shut down okay you're going to sit back and do nothing let evil run amuck and other people are going to be harmed as a result so whenever people ask me don't people have a right to just remain ignorant no they don't when somebody is remaining willfully ignorant of Rights especially regarding what is happening to people around them in their midst do you just possess a right to just sit back and say I don't care that that's happening I don't think that right exists personally because harm is being caused theft is being conducted if people are being robbed of their property in the form of their rights and other people are just sitting back watching it happen they're complicit in that evil act right so the answer is absolutely this is it is in a way like bringing a ministry but it's not a religion that's it's an interested the qualitative difference in in proselytizing a religion to somebody versus telling them the truth there's a huge difference between those two things but I understand your comparison it is a valid comparison I would say it does hold true you know the difference is getting people to believe in a religion isn't isn't necessarily in alignment with truth there can be aspects of it there are in alignment with truth but getting people to and that which is in the form of the natural laws that are operating around us and through our behavioral choices are bringing us the experiences that we undergo okay you either understand that and you don't suffer or you don't understand it and you suffer as a species that's how that works so everybody needs to be on that common ground then we could have beliefs that branch out from there you know as long as you know we're not actively doing harm to other people if it's in harmony with natural law believe you know believe whatever you want if it's a harmless belief the problem is we have harmful beliefs as a society now that need to be dispelled by speaking the truth to other people that's what the great work is again it's a subtractive process it's a breaking down its acidic it is a disruptive process of removing that the illusion of breaking down the untruth and this is why it people are so resistant to it they're attached to those belief systems I hope that answers your question or at least partially yeah in the reason why I ask is because my background is well I became a born-again Christian and legate at 20 and finds a really super hardcore super hardcore Christianity exoteric Christianity and talked about olives and deep super deep and but and evangelizing people bashing people with head with the truth you know in Exeter Christianity viewpoint and then coming out of that right when I started hearing a lot of the material that you were talking about was the great work it's like you know I started getting triggers sure you know it's like you know okay so it sounds like that you know some of the things I've heard from being a Christian you know of you know bringing truth to people whether it fends them or not right and so I am perfectly okay with this you know I just wanted to make sure I was understanding you clearly yeah here's where it differs okay they're not talking about real actual in nature objective morality that's where the the true great work is different than any religion because if you find me a religion that's talking about the points of ownership and property and the actual objective difference between right and wrong and laying that out that distinction out like I have in my natural law seminar and by people who have truly understood and discovered for themselves the non-aggression principle I'd like I'd like to know where those religionists are because I've never met them in my life I've never encountered them ever yeah they're the religionists that I know do not understand natural law deeply in any kind of a deep way they can touch on it they can they can hit on some of its points but could they really lay it out and describe it accurately and do they have do I feel they have it any of them have a deep understanding of it no absolutely not I I wish I could say that they they did I would look I have no problem with anybody's religious belief system as long as the foundation is natural law the foundation is absolute moral understanding whatever your belief that follows that it's fine by me I don't care whether you're a Muslim Hindu a Buddhist a Jew a Christian that's all all just you know meaningless distinctions as far as I'm concerned if you understand the non-aggression Sacred Feminine non aggression aggression principle combined with the sacred masculine principle of self-defense in other words do no harm but take no crap from other people okay then whatever your belief systems are after that you know I'm probably going to be fine with as long as we start with that common ground which is why it's called conscience common sense and unfortunately many just like many scientist believe errs don't have real common sense many religionists don't have real common sense and again that I realize I get that offends almost everybody in the world so be it the truth is belligerent and offensive to most people because most people are not resonating in the truth at all whatsoever well unfortunately so I hope that that clarifies my position on what I call the great work I hope that's answered a question and in any event that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen thanks so much for listening and remember there's only two mistakes one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Music] [Music]

Louis next week it'll be the first time I've ever been there and what a great way to check out the city and its people by you know giving a live one-time-only seminar there on what does it really mean to be awake not this new-age variant of bit what being awake means but truly being streetwise conscious you know really knowing what's going on in this world really understanding the balance that must be struck between employing the non-aggression principle in one's life and understanding the self-defense principle that's really what it does mean to be enlightened it really is what it means to be a balanced individual to have both the Sacred Feminine principle and the mascot and principle at work within your consciousness and I want to say thanks to Joe from Kansas City for providing four tickets for a giveaway on the show here over the past couple of weeks and I want to once again congratulate our four winners Swami shivananda Giri mark from Ohio Jason from Illinois and patty from Illinois who won the trivia contest to win the for giveaway tickets really looking forward to you know seeing all of them in st. Louis next Saturday so I just want to let people know there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening website if you're in a position where you can give a little bit of assistance you can click on the support donation button if you have found value in the information that I've provided here on the water on earth is happening radio show and on my website what on earth is happening com there is a support donation button on the website on the left hand side you can click that to make a voluntary donation in a number of ways so with that having been said let's see if there is anybody holding on the line yet I don't think so not yet let's give it a little bit let's give it a little bit of time but we will get to some callers in hopefully the next segment so in any event I want to let people know we are going to be continuing with our discussion of the possibility of humanity being not only visited by non-human intelligence but the ancient stories in the ancient past that deal with the interactions of non-human intelligent beings with our species and we're going to be breaking down that information and looking at source material coming up in in coming weeks here on what on earth is happening I want to let people know that we are going to be going extensively into that research basically I've taken a little bit of time off of off from putting a whole lot of in from a whole lot of work into preparing slides and information for the radio show because of course I've been doing a lot of work on the st. Louis seminar and trying to get that prepared and together but after the seminar is wrapped up I will be going back to you know a lot of work preparing information for this radio show and will be breaking a lot of new information forward as the week's go on so just letting people know what has been going on with that you know one of the things I won't personally want to talk about and lead into is what I see going on in the world is just so much more attachment and fear to the comfortable enslavement and the comfortable ideologies that we have been fed like I said a couple of weeks ago and last week also on the show people holding on to worldviews is a huge part of what's going on is a huge part of what's holding humanity back in our evolutionary development when people hold on to these outmoded worldviews that don't serve who we are particularly about things like human nature particularly about things like what our origins are and people say well it's not that important where we came from it's not that important what our origins are over the last several months it has been become so much viscerally clear to me that this is something that really has to be dredged up and dealt with and talked about and put out there for people's consideration because if we don't understand that how we think about ourselves and our worth okay has everything to do with the perpetuation of this control system and the paradigm that goes along with it and we don't really aren't really understanding that the wider picture at work here stay with us everyone we're going to be getting to your calls on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back No [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting so before the break I was just briefly talking about worldview and how it really sets the tone for everything that's going on if we can't imagine that anything could possibly be different than how it is right now because we have accepted a world view of the complete dismissal of free will due to either a left brain scientism based paradigm of so-called quote unquote evolution of the Darwinian model that says we're basically at the mercy of genes and that's our lot in life whatever hand you got dealt there you know there's nothing that's beyond that and you know therefore the human condition if it's just inferior in that regard somehow can't be changed you know we just are the way that we are eternally consciousness is left at the door you know we're at the mercy of our genes and you know dismiss the ability to create change through consciousness and freewill and you know the same worldview seemingly you know an opposite but it's really the same thing the right brain imbalance the religionist worldview you know that god controls every single event in creation and therefore you know also throw freewill out the door and both of these paradigms essentially share a deeply entrenched belief that the human condition how it is which is slavery cannot be changed and so many people are stuck there so many people believe that the situation we are in can not be changed and I'm telling you it can be changed the question is will we summon the will to change it that's what it all ultimately comes down to and that has to be done through care that has to be done with intelligence and then our willpower has to be actively applied through courage so let's hit the phones we have several people waiting on the line let's hear from John in Seattle John you're live on what on earth is happening well what do you have for us this evening hi mark I just wanna say thanks so much for everything that you're doing and let's just absolutely love your show thank you everyone yeah I would like to ask you a question I don't heard you discuss this in the materials that I have listened to on you through your podcast yeah bye okay I'd like to talk about what's called the life cycle of the soul or the transmigration of souls okay the concept is the hermetic concept of ascending through the planet and having to pass through the guardian of Saturn have you heard of this before or I've heard something similar to this you know a lot of times you'll hear about this in mystical writings like there are guardians that guard the the afterlife domain some some traditions have called this the Bardo realm and depending on what you did in life you know you know different events may play out and you may encounter different entities or beings I personally don't speculate too much on any aspects of quote-unquote afterlife dimensions because I'm firmly attempting to get people to focus and what our work is to do in the here-and-now I think if you focus on that you don't have to worry about anything that comes after because you'll have been doing what you really were charged to do here in this realm in this domain and if you do what's right here I feel like you have nothing ultimately to worry about regardless of what happens to us if when we pass out of this this realm this domain of physicality of the flesh you know in the 3d world so that's why I really don't spend too much time on that a lot of people have asked me my take on what happens when we die and I just say well we'll find out when we cross that threshold when we go into that other dimension right personally I'm going to approach that with absolutely no fear because I know that I'm doing what I'm supposed to be doing in this dimension right so I mean III know that I didn't really kind of talk about that particular aspect uh but do you want to say anything more about that and in that Hermetic tradition or were you just basically trying to get it what I think about what may happen in the afterlife yeah it's pretty much I was just wanted to know your opinion about it because you know I'm I'm still worrying about these things not really I came across this I was introduced to this topic by uh and so it's a Bonacci and his work and and so I was something that I've had you know been chewing on for quite a while and just wanted to know what your take on it might be well one thing I can say is that I don't want to necessarily speculate too much on exactly what may happen when we die but I do think that consciousness is eternal I don't think that you know there's just endless blackness and darkness and the cessation of consciousness I think that um you know we're all aspects of the totality of the consciousness of everything of the all if you want to call that the mind of God or God itself that's that's fine with me I don't have a problem with looking at it like that but I I just think that there is no such thing as unconsciousness or permanent death you know that's like an illusory state that we believe in in an existential way I tell people if you want to get rid of that kind of existential angst commune with dimethyltryptamine you know or ayahuasca or you know a powerful other powerful you know Anthea genic substance and I think that will Olay some of those fears because it will show you how really spectacular and amazing the other realms of consciousness can be and people will say well that's all just connected to the brain and the electrochemical interactions within the brain but I don't think those molecules of that are very simple basic indole molecules and a lot of that in a lot of those compounds I don't think that there are complex enough to create an experience that rich and and filled with spiritual experience I think that is there and those compounds are just like kind of an antenna receiver to let you pick up on that on that channel so to speak so I think consciousness is just essentially what everything is and I don't think that ever dies and goes away I think it's always there I think it just changes forms and I think we will find out what form it will change into when we do you know pass out of this body and out of this 3d realm into another realm but I don't think it ends that's basically my take on it and you know I'll stop short of saying anything specific that I think occurs in the afterlife realm because again I'm not there yet neither or any of us you know we may have been there in the past and come back here who knows I think that reincarnation is certainly possible but like I said I think we'll find out what lies on the other side that that threshold of that doorway when we pass over it and again I I feel like if we're doing the work that we are supposed to be doing here which is working to end slavery working to end that it should be changed and is wrong in this world where we're at right here and now I think none of us will have anything to worry about personally right I totally agree so I hope that answers your question and I want to thank you for your question there great insight as well Thanks all right well thank you so much you got it John take good care and let's hear from I believe this is one of our ticket winners patty in Illinois you're live on what on earth is happening welcome crime market is patty from Illinois and I am going to be seeing you next week I'm so excited cool I'm doing anyhow for us this evening well I have a question I have a couple of questions and they're kind of intertwined but I'll try to keep it focused okay I we're actually coming up to another break here patty just hold on through the break and I'll bring you back on to ask those questions on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network don't go anywhere [Music] you know today disguise the night night divides a day and tried to run track welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm tonight on the show all open lines anything you want to talk about your questions your comments your concerns your speculations your predictions for all three hours here tonight on what on earth is happening the calling number to join us is 800 three one 390 443 once again the calling number to join us here this evening on what on earth is happening 800 three one three nine four four three we were talking to Patty in Illinois patty are you still with us yes I'm still here okay go right ahead and I wanted to ask you a little bit about natural law free will and the role that animals play in all of this I've heard previous podcast when you've talked about you know animals and whether or not you know for instance and you mentioned in one podcast the documentary Earthlings yes which I have seen I own that DVD and it is incredibly hard to watch and that was one of the major things that helped me decide that I no longer wanted to partake in that industry so I I do consume a vegan diet but how how do animals play a role with with their own kind of ability to have free will and and how humans interact with them why I would say that animals don't have free will to the extent that human beings do I would say they have a modicum of free will but they haven't crossed into what I would call the epigenetic domain or the domain of consciousness they're still essentially beings that are running on instinct largely and therefore they don't have the capacity to truly understand the objective difference between right and wrong behavior so they're largely operating on instinctual they're instinctual animal nature we have that instinctual animal nature but we also have we've also been gifted with a mind that is capable and has advanced you know in its development to the complexity where it is has the capacity to understand the difference between right and wrong modalities of behavior and that's what makes us bound by natural law when you when you step into that realm of the capacity for knowledge then you are also taking on the responsibility that goes hand-in-hand with it that's why I tell people you cannot look at the animal kingdom and say well animals do this to other animals so therefore it must be okay for human beings to do this to animals or for human beings to do this to other human beings and that's an absolutely flawed illogical fallacious argument it's a logically fallacious argument we are held to a higher standard than the animal kingdom's because we don't just have the instinctual response mechanisms than animals do we also have the higher thought functions that human beings have been gifted with as a result of our developmental natural evolutionary progression the development of our species in consciousness so because we've crossed into that epigenetic domain where we have the capacity for holistic intelligence that makes us bound by the laws of morality so that's where I would say the human beings and animals different you cannot apply natural law as I'm talking about it to the animal kingdom and say well hey that Lions going to have a lot of karmic debt coming down upon it because it took down that gazelle on the plane on you know on the plains of Africa and and devoured it with its pride you know no it doesn't natural law doesn't work that way for the animal kingdom you know if a human being went out and just hunted another human being and cannibalized it yeah there's going to be a lot of karmic consequence because of that because we are held to a higher account because of our level of complexity in mind so I hope that really explains my take on when a chiral law fits in with the human species as opposed to the the animal kingdom we are more than just the right or just a and any other animal but one thing I do want to say regarding your first comment on you know not choosing to consume animals or animal products for food I am in the process of going full vegan I'm I'd say I'm about 98% there my last holdout as I'll still have a piece of pizza every now and again but I've found a good vegan pizza place in Philadelphia where I'm have been ordering from so I've been moving toward going full vegan to eliminate the suffering that goes along with you know of the a no other animal products as well as just the meat industry as well so yeah you know that's something that I'm you know been transitioning to and I'm almost completely there not 100% yet but it's it's getting there so yeah I find that no you talked about unions have the comma involved with if we kill another human but you know if we're necessarily killing in it another animal that that we don't necessarily need would that be a karmic backlash I mean oh I definitely think that it is you know I I think that that level of suffering that is being brought into the world needlessly and you know people will still debate and argue well we need this animal product in our diet it's it's pretty much been conclusively proven we don't really need meat or animal products and in the human diet it is very very possible to live especially in the modern world with the way food production and flow happens in the world to live without any animal products in the diet so you know well I've been using coconut oil instead of butter I've been using I've been making non-dairy ice cream I got a homemade ice cream maker and I make great non-dairy ice creams with fresh produce and you know coconut milk as a base or almond milk as a base and I've been buying almond based cheese and shredding that over pizza or making a grilled cheese sandwich with that quote-unquote cheese you know there's there's a lot of good and easy substitutes when it comes to how we can supplement our diet with non animal-based products that are just plant-based so I think that the argument that you know consuming animals and you know animal by-products in the ways that we do is as being necessary doesn't hold much water for me and you know it's a it's a controversial stand because people are so attached to it like I said carnism is a religion eating meat is a religion literally it's something that we're so attached to we you know it's a it's a programmed behavior that we don't even think about because it's been so ingrained in us from the moment we we've been born essentially well I I agree wholeheartedly and and the more I've gotten into the vegan diet I've been a vegan for over five years now and you know I I'm getting more attracted to just eating very simplicity simplicity um like they're just sweet meals one thread at a time and I've heard people talk about how their ability to connect with different realms is strengthened when they have a very clean diet sure and that goes hand-in-hand with the law of assimilation the law of assimilation as it is called in different occult schools of thought that you're going to have to break things down and so so much less energy is going to have to go into that process because it is less complexified the more complexified the form of energy you're putting into your body the more your body has to go to work breaking it down so it takes a larger amount of energy to assimilate it and you're going to not have that energy available to other to other tasks and other areas of operation that you want to be working on whether in yourself or in the in your daily life so the law of assimilation would definitely you know go jibe with that that you know if you want to that energy available for other things you don't want it to be going to work and the breaking down of of things like meat products and other things that are going to be hard to assimilate yeah and I think that's one of the reasons why you know we're so easily controlled is because our energy is being taken away from us through many different avenues but diet I think it's the biggest one sure and I think about the work consuming all the negative energy that goes into the slaughter of those animals the fear that they're living in the way that they're caged you know the way that they're kept in basically completely inhumane conditions and then they're slaughtered and we're taking in all that fear-based energy you know into our into our own bodies and you know it's this other thing you know people don't even look at it from just a simple you know in terms of 3d physical energy wouldn't it make just a whole lot more sense to get your energy directly from plants which is where these animals get their energy from to grow then you're eating them but really what staring you is what they took into their body so you're taking it secondhand and then that make that makes more plants have to be grown you know and harvest it anyway when if you just went right to this real source which is the plant you're gonna get it firsthand and you know you're going to absorb it more readily through the law of assimilation and the other aspect of this is really wherever all the energy is coming from ladies and gentlemen in case you haven't figured it out yet is the Sun that's where really we get all of our energy through our food so you know what's directly more directly connected to the Sun those animals or those plants I think it's real simple to figure out we'll pick this up on the other side Patti if you have any other questions you could stay with us and ask another one but we'll be right back folks don't go anywhere [Laughter] [Music] [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening com we are talking with Patti from Illinois I'll get right back to her in a moment I just wanted to say we were talking about veganism and just essentially transitioning to a non animal-based diet and I want to say a lot of the the mistakes that I think people make when they try to transition to a vegetarian lifestyle is one they do it too quickly and I don't think this is something that you should just go cold turkey on I've said this before on my shows I think this is one of the things that makes people fail at doing this they try to just completely get off meat immediately and get off dairy immediately you have to slowly transition off of it I feel you do you don't want to make really quick sudden abrupt changes to the chemistry of the body okay the body is a complex mechanism with a lot of chemical interactions taking place within it and anything you do immediately right away 100% cold turkey is going to be a shock to the whole system so I think that's one of the first big mistakes a lot of people make when they transition to a vegetarian lifestyle is they try to do it too fast or all at once called Turkey and that's definitely the wrong way to go about doing it the other thing I want to say is and and just highlight this in all capital letters with a thousand exclamation points if you're going to attempt to eat vegetarian or vegan not to juice is the biggest mistake that you can possibly make in this lifestyle absolutely the the biggest mistake that you can possibly make if you are going to try to eat vegetarian or transition over to a vegan lifestyle you absolutely must own a juicer and use it just about every single day of your life period and you know if you you don't want to understand that then I don't know what to tell you but because juicing is the most important thing that you could possibly be doing for your health as far as I'm concerned that in addition to purifying your water you got a purify water and you got to get on two good juices I mean right now I'm drinking a big glass right here of carrot kale spinach cucumber I mean you drink that juice every day I'm telling you people will say where where does your protein come from on a vegetarian or vegan diet right there right there and I guarantee you I'm getting more than you just ate in that steak probably okay spinach carrots kale I mean you name it any leafy greens are going to be getting protein definitely in in spinach definitely in carrots also there's protein kale you're gonna get more probably more calcium than drinking any kind of milk vitamin A and C vitamin K of course in any leafy greens usually there's there's tons of phosphorus which is great for the brain you know potassium iron you know it has all the phytonutrients you need right there in that green juice you know and here's the secret folks if you're gonna juice okay greens put a carrot through with the greens that's how you get the maximum green juicing out of those green leafy vegetables you get an auger juicer if you don't have the money to buy an auger juice hey yeah as a matter of fact forget that I used to say a auger juicers are really expensive they're not anymore you can get an auger juicer for under $100 now a good one too about ninety nine dollars will get you a decent augered vertical auger juicer single auger okay which will make you a high quality juice from just about any kind of produce that you could possibly think of all right and you know you put the greens in there and then you know send a carrot through and trust me you're gonna have a great yield when you do it with that method but I'm just saying not to juice on a vegetarian or vegan lifestyle is the biggest mistake that you can possibly make on that that type of it that type of eating in that lifestyle not to juice is the number one mistake and whenever I've asked people have said I've tried to go vegetarian and it didn't work out for me you know I asked them were you juicing the whole time you you tried to go vegetarian no is oh the answer is always the same invariably every time 100% I've never heard anybody that said I tried to go vegetarian it didn't work out for me and the whole time I was making this effort I was juicing anybody who tries it with juicing usually succeeds if they try it and they weren't juicing they have a hard time with it not to juice is the biggest mistake in this transition and I can't underscore that enough so uh patty I let Len a little bit to what we were talking about before but if you have anything else to add go right ahead um actually I agree with you 100% you have to get the nutrition in and when you're getting off the meat products or any of the animal products you know the people the reason why people crave those is because they're mix of chemicals and you're right there is there is epinephrine in the meat and the animal that has been slaughtered because of that fear that they experience and when people eat that they're getting a shot of epinephrine basically and that's where they feel like they're getting energy from from protein products in the form of animal products because it's a false energy you get energy from glucose and the best source of glucose is the glucose we get in plant products fruits and vegetables so yeah great way to concentrate that nutrition yep and there's no way you could eat as much as you pour in a glass of juice if I tried to eat the amount of kale or spinach that went into making this I'd be there for half the day literally you know but I could take a whole glass of that green juice with some carrot in there for a bit of sweetness and and some beta carotene and other good protein and I mean it's delicious number one and you're nourishing all the trillions of cells in the body in the process so people have to get on to juicing I mean I just I hammer that on everybody I talk to they're trying to improve their diet juicing is the number one way to do it as far as I'm concerned yeah that and I really like smoothies as well sure I make a lot of green smoothies with you know spinach and bananas and things like that get get a get a good high powered blender if you could afford it a Vitamix is a great device I personally own one they're a little on the expensive side but it's an investment in your health you know it beats paying a high price the allopathic medical bills you know exactly yeah and people will experience some detoxification as they change and you're right if they if they give up animal products too quickly they will detoxify and that will feel like being sick but in reality it's their body just you know purging the good stuff in so that's to be expected to some extent totally I don't I totally agree with that as well just one quick little follow up question about what we were talking about with regards to diet and you know it comes down to the fact maybe it's connected a little bit to where you're going with your current discussion of you know our human origins but you know I look at humans inability to connect with other life-forms and that's where that disconnect is why we feel so easily I guess it's so easy for us to some extent to just kill animals for food we're in reality I think in our to nature we wouldn't really want to do that and it does that have anything to do with our true origins or what we would yeah I can speculate I I will speculate that I feel that it does because I think that we are largely living in a completely disconnected state from what we were originally intended to be because of the type of manipulation that has taken place with our species and our genetic you know material through our genome so I think that we are living in that cutoff way and part of it is because of what happened to us in the ancient past which we're going to be getting into talking to talking about in coming weeks I think that can be transcended though I don't think it's eternally like that or has to be like that see this is where the danger in talking about material like I'm gonna be getting into comes in and this is where you even get people that say oh if he's talking about this are that he's an agent for the bad guys because he's trying to paint an impossible to overcome scenario and and make people feel hopeless and that has nothing to do with what I'm trying to do exposing what went on here and in our ancient past it's a it's important to know about because in any diagnosis if you want to get well you have to know what's wrong that's why they have to know the negative things that have happened in the human past regarding our origins then we can look at the situation for what it is and say okay well now that we do have the knowledge that empowers us because it lets us know what's truly been going on and what's wrong now what can we do about it is it hopeless and the answer is no when we look at this field we see it isn't hopeless there's something at work called epigenetics that's consciousness that's freewill choice we're in control of that ultimately when it comes down to it and that means we do have power to create change Patti great insights and I thank you so much for the call we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm tonight on the show open lines anything you want to call in to discuss any questions that you want to ask about my work anything that I've covered up to this point any comments that you might have speculations concerns predictions anything you want to talk about any topic is fair game and there are no taboo topics as always here on what on earth is happening the calling number to join us 800 3-1 394 43 once again the calling number to join us here tonight 800 three one three nine four four three okay let's hear from Phillip in North Carolina Phillip you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Thank You mr. Massey oh thank you for taking my call how are you sure I'm doing well tonight I am giving you a call for the first time this is my first time calling in I am relatively new to your work of believes the beginning of March was about well the first time I had clicked on a what on earth is happening YouTube video and I even attended the seminar in Asheville have a little great I've been kind of shy and your information because I have I had yet to hear up until about a day ago when I listened to an interview that you did on September the 12 2012 on down the rabbit hole with Popeye in regards to September the 11th and directed-energy weapon right you made a couple of references in that video that I really haven't heard in the material that I've had the time to be able to absorb so my question is have you had an opportunity read dr. Judy woods book where do the towers go and if you maybe explain and there was even a part in that interview where you mentioned that part of the ritual came from a higher place or the note you maybe elaborate your point of view on that yeah I talked about um you know the ritualistic aspects of 9/11 I also talked about the impossibility of it being a mechanical collapse due to you know fires and bending or melting steel etc you know as the official story goes the pancake collapse theory I talked about that pretty extensively and ran through the physics equations that are required to understand to even prove just in essential Newtonian dynamics which any junior year for a sophomore year or high school level physics class can you know offer you know just knowledge that is a prerequisite in any kind of a physics 101 high school level class can prove can show people that it's the official story is actually impossible according to the laws of physics so I went over that on the show in a past podcast you could check that out on the podcast section and of course I talked about the occult overtones and the occult symbolic aspects of this ritual because it indeed was a trauma-based mind control ritual and it was a highly symbolic ritual regarding the destruction of consciousness a huge injection of fear and trauma into the mass consciousness of the people of Earth and of course um you know there there are other even darker occult elements to this if you really ask me my take on what this ritual was about again in the work that I did covering the ritualistic aspects of this I consider this what is known as a grand rite of manifestation this is a high love Oh cult matte dark working a dark occult magical working that is what I refer to as chaos sorcery and it is what is referred to in dark occultism as a manifestation right it's something that is there to cause such extreme havoc and chaos in other people's lives that essentially since you are going to steer that chaos and you're going to steer that trauma you're gonna end up manifesting what you want to manifest as a result of your management of the chaos hence I call it chaos sorcery it's not what some people have termed Chaos magic different takes on what that is but I call it chaos sorcery because to delineate between the usage of energy and a positive connotation which you might term magic or the use of influence in a positive connotation I define magic as the art of influencing the will in a influencing change to occur in accordance with the will but the will of creation being that will you're not influencing things according to your own selfish desires or your lower will you're trying to create change in accordance with what the universe is trying to create which is the advancement of consciousness the advancement of freedom the advancement of morality and I call this chaos sorcery because sorcery is the manipulation of consciousness or manipulating things to create change in accordance with the lower will to get what you want out of it hence they call this a grand rite of manifestation and this is something that obviously requires many many people coming together to work together on of course it required a conspiracy conspiracy simply means those who have come together in like spirit that's all it means we get the word respire you know meaning to breathe from the latin spiro spero ra okay which means to breathe in Latin okay it's where the word spirit is derived spiritists spiritus in Latin comes from that verb spiro spero re meaning to breathe to have the spirit within you is to have the breath of life within you okay and when we put put this together with the Latin prefix con con spear are a means to breathe together so conspiracy means those who are acting in like spirits that's all it means you know people make this grand idea of what a conspiracy is all you know all that means is a few people have similar mindset came together to accomplish something together that's all it ever has meant so of course this was a conspiracy because you know people in the military-industrial complex people in the high-level banking and finance world you know people in you know black ops aspects of government people in intelligence agencies of course they all had to come together to make to make this SIOP work and to fool enough people for a short enough amount of time or a long enough amount of time to get their agenda across you know in other countries and in this country which is draconian takeover of people's rights and you know constantly you know whittling away at at people's rights a day by day month by month year by year so but I definitely think that directed-energy weapons might have played a role you know I think this may have been what better time to bring out some type of a new technology and show it to the rest of the world you know and not only that you're doing it on your own people it paints this it puts this fear it strikes fear into your so-called opponents you know the administrators of the farms next door you know called nation-states you know let's let's strike some fear into them and say look what we're willing to do to our own people to justify going in and taking resources from another country and you know putting more draconian measures you know laws into effect you know here at home we're willing to do this to our own people what do you think will do to you that's why I think you know ultimately this what this was all about so what better way to to do that than to bring out a new piece of weaponry that you're showing on the grand scale to the other the leaders of the other countries that you don't want to get in your way okay you're saying hey here's what we have at our disposal we're willing to use this against our on our own people imagine what we'll do to you so that's kind of my take-home let I'll let you ask another one on the other side there breaks stay with us and we'll be right back after this quick break ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] [Applause] as a cold we don't dare speak wall between us little rim so deep [Music] welcome back everyone even listening to what on earth is happening here honor the Republic Broadcasting radio network I'm your host mark passio my website water on earth is happening dot-com we were talking with Philip in North Carolina who was asking a couple of questions about the possibility of directed-energy weapons being used on 9/11 2001 Philip er he's still on the line with us yes sir I'm still here I wanted to ask you if you yourself had a chance to read dr. Ginni woods book where do the towers go I have not read the book I have watched her presentations I think I saw the new Hiroshima and another presentation she gave at a conference but I have not actually read the book where the towers go presently my reason I ask that is because in order for someone to ask themselves the question what on earth is happening I think something has to happen to that person why you're talking you now I am absorbing their information as our others just like everybody in that conference and I still had a reason for asking themselves what on earth is happening and for me the most important thing that's happened in my lifetime possibly ever with the 911 right so when I tried to direct people to the object objective truth about life I can't think of a fair way of showing them the truth and by giving them that book sure I think I think that's a great plan of attack personally because 9/11 was one of the most transformative events in our times and you know like the saying goes I believe Michael to sorry on coined this one he said did 9/11 wake you up did it shake you up or did it wake you up that's the two effects that it had that it put you into deeper fear or to show you what was really going on in the world and for you it sounds like it woke you up and it showed you what was really going on in the world and you know just how a dire of a situation this is when you know things like this could be going on right under our noses and still people are caught unawares and still don't really understand the ins and outs of it and I think that's why we have to keep pressing forward with this as a main issue this is one of the staple core issues of our time as far as I'm concerned as well I think you're right on point with that and I don't think we should let this go it's not something that's in the past you know it's something that is things are actively constantly being conducted because of allegedly what happened on 9/11 and if that's all based on a lie why do we have all these other things that are going on that are you know so draconian and so you know stamping on all of our other freedoms as a result so I definitely think that that's something that the pressure should be kept up on and I think you're right on point with that absolutely it would actually keep one picture from her book in my telephone when I start to talk to someone I show them the picture of WTC 7 and you can clearly see looking north with WTC 1 and 2 missing WTC 7 this is still there it didn't go away until 5:20 in that afternoon and yet we have 210 story buildings that have disappeared before that time we objectively know that because we can see it through that picture and through a number of pictures so just looking at that and seeing it shows the person and what they thought was impossible is in fact possible because it happened and then you combine that with two other things you know you show them the actual footage of building seven coming down straight into its own footprint with very minimal damage to the building people say oh there were fires yeah not fires that could take a whole 47 story steel and Congress reinforced of office building to the ground into its own footprint like it like we witnessed and then show them the BBC footage of Jane Standley standing up in front of the New York skyline live in a live picture being broadcast to a BBC telling people that the building had already collapsed when in fact it's standing in the skyline behind her because they got their scripts a little bit out of time sequential order and she announced that you know at about 5:00 p.m. when the building was still standing there and wasn't didn't collapse for another 20 minutes well I think we're even more impressive fact is that there are still 1116 people that they have not found a toenail out sure you've got over 1100 people that help disappeared he had seven building that for the most part turned to dust you have 1400 cars that were toasted what vaporizes material like that what vaporizes matter like that it's something all caused disintegration the integration of that matter was was was caused to come apart therefore it disintegrated literally you had a weapon a some type of a wave weapon or scalar weapon of some kind that obviously can take apart matter literally you know and I mean people just have to ask themself the question what's so even far-fetched about this how many decades or even centuries ahead of average technology that is released to the general public is military-industrial complex research and technology you know I mean all the money that they have at their disposal you know all the scientists and researchers they have at their disposal of course it's it's it's at least a hundred years ahead maybe more oh absolutely if you just find me a pilot that will tell you that a 767 can fly six hundred miles an hour at sea level you can't find one because it's an impossibility sure and then it would reach resonance frequency that plane which take apart it would it would come apart at the seams literally absolutely an aluminum certainly cannot pierce through two feet of steel and yes you have a category three hurricane for four days we've added right towards New York for the 24 hours surrounding 911 it basically stay offshore it got a little bit bigger and then headed the opposite direction it all it all smacks of some kind of scalar you know not hurt seeing wave technology in effect there during that time frame no question about it you know I think the only way we're ever really going to know the truth or at least get closer to it is the constantly put pressure and I mean not just on you know public I'm not talking about public of quote-unquote officials I'm talking about just get put this information up into the face of everybody that we know we have to we have to you know bring this to the attention of our friends co-workers family members neighbors you name it I mean you just have to talk about this stuff with people to bring it into the general consciousness until more people want answers answers aren't going to come more people have to demand answers they have to come forward and talk about this without fear unapologetically saying hey this is a legitimate question it's not there's nothing wacky or strange and asking these questions this is talking about basic laws of physics and mechanics that cannot suspend themselves like this you know and that's what the official story asks you to to believe it's the official story is the conspiracy theory and the religion folks I mean that's asking people to believe that laws of physics can suddenly suspend themselves you know that's that's absolutely requires much more faith and belief than believing that there may have been some unknown technology at work that was used by the military industrial complex to stage this grand event so that they could go in and war on other countries and take whatever research resources they want from them I mean that to me makes a whole infinite infinitely lot more sense than you know nineteen so-called radical islamists with box cutters made NORAD's stand down and you know basically flew two planes in in buildings and collapsed three in the process into their own footprint though a great points thanks so much for the call we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting tonight on the show open lines anything you want to talk about your questions on anything I've ever covered your comments your concerns your speculations no taboo topics there never are here on what on earth is happening the call-in number to join us eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three okay let's go back to the phone lines we have Elaine in California Elaine welcome - what on earth is happening what do you have for us this evening hi there mark my question to you is with regard to world leaders yes please really calling the shots do you think they are or do you think they're getting some kind of an intervention from another intelligence perhaps offworld and then kind of as a caveat to that question do you think that some of these people that appear before the television screens ie the world leaders even some news people do you think they could be putting clones out there I wouldn't totally dismiss the idea as you know completely off the wall because certainly genetic manipulation and genetic technology is what really lies at the core of what's been going on on this planet for hundreds of thousands of years as we're going to be getting into it is very possible that humanity was some sort of a genetically modified or manipulated or hybridized race of beings as a species and we're not existing in the form that nature originally intended us to exist in so when I talk of that I'm gonna be making a case that the non-human entities that perhaps did this to us and then some of them some of those entities interbred with us as their creation and created yet another offspring another offshoot species so you could say that these purebred nonhumans came here wanted to use us as a resource okay hybridize us with some of their own genetic material and then in interbreeding with us they created this other offshoot that you you know it's the ancient peoples describe these beings as gods they came from the sky or another dimension or wherever they came from they didn't know where they came from okay so they looked at them as supernatural beings or supernatural entities and they considered that they were for all intents and purposes because of their advanced technology gods that they had magic you know we look at we look at an advanced technology and you know as arthur c clarke once said any sufficiently advanced technology becomes indistinguishable from magic at some point and that's how our ancestors looked at these beings that they were supernatural entities or gods of some kind you know gods with a small G nought meaning the god of the universe the God of creation the creator of everything meaning you know supernatural beings that seemingly could do supernatural tasks or perform supernatural feats of course they were just exercising these feats through advanced technology now when they interbred with their creation with the hybridized species that they made then they created what you might call a race of demigods were semi gods because they had the gods DNA in them and they bred with a regular human being as well so it was a hybrid creation between the gods and the human beings that they had created now these demigods I feel is what they used as an administration class or you could say an intercessory class as intercessors that went between the gods and the human beings okay so that was the priest class the original priest class or you could look at them as the original Kings the original government okay the people who were the intercessors on behalf of the gods for Humanity so in other words when humanity had a grape or concern about what was going on down on the planet well these administrator this administrator class that was the the interbred the interbreeding between the gods and the humans they they basically administrated the the dispute the quarrel the situation this was the original priests class it was the original again administrative class or governmental class you know they settled disputes they ruled the people essentially and you know because these beings were kept very primitive they weren't you know allowed to basically know about their the high technology of the gods or really how it operated you know you had some of them that had that perhaps perform some type of duties to upkeep some of the technology that was brought down here onto the earth so some of them had to know a little bit of it and that was kept very secretive because of the consequences for you know basically giving that out or revealing that you know that was being shared with any of the humans but this other class of beings these demigods they were the ones who ultimately had a whole lot of knowledge because they were you know largely the same as the gods not exactly you wouldn't call them purebred but they had more of the gods bloodline in them more of their genetics in them and obviously more of their capabilities so this is who the original again governmental rulers the kings of the ancient world the priests class of the ancient world and then eventually as they bred with humans and have they continued on their own bloodlines they came what I would call the dark occultist the generational dark occult class that has essentially ruled the world ever since so I'm not necessarily saying that they're totally caught that these other beings are still totally calling the shots here but certainly their progeny is their progeny is who came into power and maybe when these pure more pure bred beings left here if they completely did I'm not saying that has to be the case I'm open-minded to suggesting that we're speculating that perhaps there still is interaction with some of these original quote-unquote gods these are you know I don't know I want to find a new name for them I'd like to name farmers personally because to me that paints a negative enough connotation and it describes exactly what they are to me you know I don't like the word custodians as somebody like William Bramley used the word gods it's it's too close even we could spec we could say gods with the small G or every time we use the word but it still paints too much of a closeness in a connotation to the god of creation which I don't even want to liken these beings to because they're nothing like that so you know I would just say the the the archons that's a good the rulers that's a great term for them that's what a lot of other research have had called them I like that word also because of its context a ruler over another being a master over a slave is what they basically were so these archons the original archons I'm not saying that they all had to go but I'm saying most of them are obviously not here with us anymore they look certainly looked quite different than a human being I think their progeny eventually interbred with our the human bloodlines and then you know they they be just became the administrative class which you could call the the government the priests class the priests kings of the ancient world and they basically they're their bloodline has ruled from the shadows ever since and I would say that that those occult lineages are still the bloodlines that are in control of the world today as the administrators of the dark called network of secret societies and dark occult traditions that are scattered throughout the world in a in a loosely knit network but in definitely an overlapping and integrated network that works through hierarchy and compartmentalization to accomplish its agendas I don't know if that answers your question clearly enough but that's kind of my overall take on who's ultimately calling the shots and I wouldn't be it wouldn't be out of the realm to speculate that perhaps they could still be in communication with some of these other original or connick entities but I'm not saying that's definitely the case I think that they are the progeny of those entities very good very good well now I can understand why it's going to be a real difficult situation to get people who are really steeped in their religions to ever ponder the possibility that we were genetically tampered with because it goes against what their their their Bible say basically but it actually doesn't that's the thing the thing is they're just not really they're reading it with a more literalist bent they're reading it with a more you know religionist interpretation as opposed to reading it from somewhat of a historical interpretation and allegorical a mixture it's it's all of those things but if you actually go into the biblical text it's there it's in a watered-down form you know you go into some of the Sumerian texts and the sumerian creation epics and it's or even into some of what you would call the apocryphal books of the Bible books that were deliberately left out because of this type of content it's all there in greater detail but it's there in Genesis it's there in uh you know the early books of the Old Testament we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening so before the break we were talking to Elaine in California and she made some good points on you know that there's a lot of work to undo a lot of the religious indoctrination that has gone on and how people are just totally attached to seeing it one way they won't look at it from any different perspective than what their religion has conditioned them to believe and it has nothing to do with pursuing truth in their mind you know all it has to do with this this is what my religion says this is telling me don't look into this other alternative information because it conflicts with my religion they can't see that that's a control system for the mind it's a control system for consciousness and they won't look at anything from an alternative point of view when in fact if they just looked at the details in some of these stories in the sumerian and akkadian and assyrian cultures you know you would see this story that is told in the old testament richly spring to life in a detailed form and then you would understand what's being told in the the Old Testament and is is unfortunately lacking the detail in the in the biblical texts whereas the detail is filled in in some of these other texts and then the biblical texts make perfect historical sense in light of those other texts but because they're told anything that's not canon a scripture you know it doesn't have the King James stamp of approval on it there can't be any truth in that you know and it's just that it again it's a child's mindset it's it's such a shame how religion has people's where a religion has people's minds it's it's just truly unbelievable and you know that keeps going back to that the theme of this show and my work keeps going back to breaking down the religions whether you believe in the cultural religions meaning the so-called world legends of Christianity Judaism Islam Hinduism Buddhism etc okay or you believe in science as a religion that no truth can if the established scientific community doesn't say it works this way then there is no truth in it you know that's it okay that's called scientism science as a religion government as a religion the belief in authority is a religion the New Age movement as I've talked about endlessly is a religion there I call it the religion of standing down and not taking any action you know we're gonna change reality on thought and emotion alone no actions gonna be required though you're not gonna actually have to do anything no courage is going to be involved you're never gonna have to there nothing will ever be confrontational will meditate the world into a state of bliss permanent bliss don't you know okay you know it's all complete child-like mentality and all it is is believing my religion is right you know but nobody ever wants to look at truth when it all comes down to oh and then of course we have the big religion let's not leave that one out money you know the ultimate religion you could call it the ultimate god of this world you know that's the most deeply entrenched religion out of all the others the other ones have have no hold on the human mind like that one does you know that's the strongest one of all you know so all those religions have to go you want to be free every religion I just mentioned there has to go plus every other one every religion you can name needs to go and the things that act as a religion meaning hold us back from truth though that which holds us back from truth so all cultural religion all government all notions of authority all scientism real science I don't have a problem with but I'm talking about scientism and the New Age religion you can just group that in with all the other religions that's the catch-all incase you don't fit into any of the other cultural religious mind-control will wrap you up in that trap real good you know and then money you know until those religions are destroyed humanity will never be free get over it ladies and that's true that's the truth till those religions are are abandoned you're going to be in a state of chains in a state of bondage period and until people understand that natural law is the solution that natural law is the answer okay that it's about what we need to stop doing that is causing harm to other beings when we stop causing that harm we will be free that's how the law of morality that's how the law of freedom works as morality increases and we stop doing harm to other beings we become freer as morality decreases and we continue to do harm to other Bing's you're going to be more and more enslaved if you don't want to understand eyes that and understand that that's eternal truth because it is the law of creation nothing will change here when people get that through their thick skulls then you'll start seeing some change occur in the world and it's not that way because I say it's that way once again it has nothing to do with me I'm nobody I'm one person who has happened to discover that this is what is true I'm not the first I won't be the last I have no magical powers that allowed me to make that discovery you know I'm not special more special than anybody else because I've come to that understanding of truth okay it's not my belief system and people have a hard time with that they don't want to understand this isn't about a belief it's not about a belief or a religion it's about coming into harmony bringing your own perceptions and consciousness into harmony with that which is and that's all it's about so you know I'm not saying that what I just laid out there is true because I said it it's true eternally because it's what is I happen to discover that that's how it is and again I'm not special because I've discovered that many other people have in the past and millions of others after me will also do the same okay so I mean religion the whole point comes back to that religion is such a powerful force at work in the world holding us back from where we say we want to go and everybody has one it seems or most people do so there are some people who are out all the way from religion from the mind control of religion but not many most people in one form or another still have deep attachment to religion and that's why they're in mental bondage and that's why they're creating the conditions through their mental bondage that create physical bondage in the world and until they stop thinking like that don't expect the physical bondage to go away or to magically transmute itself or change because it doesn't work like that it does not work like that so go ahead link Oh No I'm reminded of what Carl Jung said mental illness in any society I'm paraphrasing it but mental illness in any society is due to a lack of legitimate suffering well I don't think it's necessary for that suffering to happen but I think unfortunately we are choosing it we there again and we don't love ourselves enough to want not to choose that suffering if you can follow that line of logic to in order not to choose suffering and to choose the way that doesn't involve all that suffering you really have to care about yourself you have to love yourself and say I'm worth more than this I don't have to go through all that suffering I'm better than that I can learn what's true and then align my behavior to it and then I won't have to go through all that suffering but no not humanity because we hate ourselves at our core we are self-loathing people at our core and until that illness is healed expect more of the same we have to become into true self love you can't really love anybody else unless you truly love yourself and if you want more suffering for yourself of course you're not gonna care about what other people are in suffering you're not gonna give a damn about that you know you don't care whether you're in suffering let alone other people I mean what why would we expect anything to be different in this world instead of it being full of suffering and slavery you know because we don't even care enough about ourself not to want to go that painful path you know so Elaine great points that you've brought up here have definitely give people something to really think about deeply so thank you so much for the call thank you let's hear from Justin in New York Justin you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yo what's up yeah what's up mr. Marcus Justin I don't how are you good to hear from you great great oh no I just figured you know being you have the all the questions going on tonight I figured I had one for you sure Oh me I basically had this friend I think as you know that's but not trying to debunk you for a while and uh yeah she doesn't work whoa don't you know watch day of your work until just recently he watches the cosmic web and in the video right and it's amazing let me just stop you right there he hasn't watched any of my work and he started with cosmic abandonment great that makes a whole lot of sense doesn't it sure sitting down this is pretty amusing also told me he's only concerned with the chromosome tone which is what my question is about before I get to that you actually said - because I explained to him how even let's just say mark is completely wrong on this topic that's like taking a hubcap of a car and saying the car's not useful because the hubcap isn't there right yet he also said though that he wouldn't even care if that theory is true but he's very adamant about proving you wrong on chromosome 2 just just so you know I'm not saying it absolutely has to be 100% true but I'll tell you what it makes a whole lot of sense when you take it into consideration with all the other research that has to do with our origins we'll pick this up on the other side Justin stay with us aw you could ask another one on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys the night-night divide today tried to run track welcome back everyone we're into the third hour of this edition of what on earth is happening this evening yeah tonight an all call-in show your calls make the show the callin number to join us 831 394 43 once again 803 one three nine four four three we were before the last break talking with Justin from New York Justin are you still on the line with us yeah my dear brother okay go ahead you can continue okay yeah I'm sorry Justin you dropped out there for a moment or your call was kind of getting a lot of interference can you just say that part again yeah basically the same dude had messaged me would you mind if I read to you working well just respond sure okay he says at one hour 19 minutes into the presentation because you talked for a minute and clearly say our slicing the compromise on would have taken at least 10 million years no no icing it would take 10 million years I said that in a natural evolutionary progression meaning in long-term evolutionary progression would take that long in other words if if the amount of time that Darwinists say is required for evolutionary progression is to be followed that timeframe is to be followed we would expect to see that much genetic change happen over a multi million year period where in reality the actual amount of time that that genetic change took place in was less than 40,000 years oh ok so he didn't even really get with you said that ok yeah yeah a lot of people do do that Justin I noticed that a lot of people really don't listen to what's being said and go back over it again and hear the words I'm speaking they hear what they want to hear in the words and they don't really hear what I'm saying you know and it's that's why it's important to do things like this to clarify things that and that's why this is great because people can ask questions and get clarification on points like that so that they understand the material a little a little bit better you also have to understand when I'm giving a live presentation like that I'm very regimented as far as time goes we only have the room for a certain amount of time you know there may be other speakers on the agenda etc so you really have to keep to a timeframe and often that you know makes you have to rush in in your presentation style so um you know if there's all day seminars where it's just me I can kind of take my time and unfurl things kind of slowly but in an event like that it definitely was I was very much restricted to hours and it had to be done in a two hour time frame and that's all I had so you know just try doing a topic that big in two hours or even approaching it in a way that makes sense you know it's a very challenging thing I think I did a fairly decent job for the amount of time I had but again you kind of have to talk fast I did make even a couple of mistakes in there with some names that I you know should have probably even noted in in the notes to make corrections but I think people will get the general you know just and do the research on their own and you know find the consistencies in it and find where there was a couple of hours in there as well you know I'm not perfect I make mistakes when I give presentations too but I try to do my best when I'm up there in the time that I'm allotted but this is a great point to make that you know this is why I like to do shows like this from time to time where I give people the opportunity to ask questions and get clarification on top topics such as this so I'll let you continue no actually I mean I've been watching videos and stuff like this here's my opinion that was the best of all the ones I've watched that's kind of odd my gosh definitely not a place to start you know if I had to pick this if I had to tell people to look at some industry my material I certainly wouldn't tell them to start there as I always say go back to my podcast and listen forward from number one forward because that's where you're going to get the full tapestry of the information and it's going to be you know basically rolled out over a slow stepwise progression and the tapestry will eventually come into place as you listen to more and more in order at your own pace that's the best way anybody can approach my material much better than watching my YouTube presentations or just you know hearing you know YouTube videos here and there out of out of order you know disjointed so that's my best recommendation to people who are new to my material you know of course I've been I'm probably a podcast 66 or 65 or something like that but yeah I'm doing it myself great-granny well yeah look I just just a wrap up or whatever but yeah just just to show the mentality of this guy through its the fact that he's more concerned about debunking one little thing than the implications of if it is true cuz I said to him I was like let's just say you're right let's say he's wrong about this thing right I'm also right about the whole thing or oh you're right about Kolkata right and what do they decide like he's just like that doesn't really I don't really care yes though it doesn't matter that he's a slave in in a world of slavery it's all about proving one point of some other guy who's trying to end slavery wrong yeah yeah that makes a whole lot of sense man I mean that no I mean can does that make any sense as to why we're still in slavery because I think it makes perfect sense about why we're still in slavery if you ask me but you know hey I could be the weird one man maybe what we should be doing to get out of slavery is just bicker over little details amongst each other over my new show amongst each other constantly attack each other on things that you know are small details in the in the big huge picture but not get the picture but just fight over the details let's pick out this corner of the this little piece of the jigsaw puzzle in the corner of the puzzle forget the ten thousand other parts we're gonna argue over this one out of the ten thousand parts the the nine hundred and the 9999 other parts don't matter you know we don't care about what the whole picture looks like I'm gonna fight over this one piece and you know forget about trying to actually put the whole picture together and recognize that what it's telling you is that you're enslaved and that you need to take action to not be enslaved anymore no we're not gonna worry about that let's go and attack some of the other slaves wow what a great use of energy that is I'll tell you you know makes a lot of sense to me I don't know maybe I'm just a weird one people pay us best in school you don't have to get a hundred to pass if you get 95 you still piss and he did well some reason in this case in town I don't know so of course Sigurd it always Justin as it all comes back to that religion thing this is a person who would probably tell you he doesn't have a religion he might be an atheist or whatever whatever regardless but the whole point is I was broke he has a religion he is attached to not wanting to look at this as a possibility because of the implications of what it has the implications that it spells out for our society and us our species as a whole and that is a religion staying attached to something and not wanting to look at it even if it is true that's religious thought anyway you want to paint it that's the same way an extremist religionist thinks the same exact method of thought I'm going to look at it this way anything that can't conflicts with how my current worldview is will be blotted out and that's exactly how that person is thinking it's religion its religion and I would say it right to his face it's religious thinking you know and it's not it's not saying that it complimentary you know at saying that's what's holding us back from where we say we want to go as a species that's how I mean the word religion there so just in great points man and again this gives people a lot to chew on a lot to think about regarding where other people's mindset is that and what our work is to do to change it you have anything else force that's it okay all right Justin thanks so much man great to hear from you okay uh let's hear from Swami shivananda giri in illinois swami welcome to the show ah hey so good to hear from you looking forward to seeing you and Barb in a week oh it's gonna be great can't wait pump them yep yep yep and just you know being one of the folks who dares to care and standing shoulder to shoulder with you and Jay Parker Curtis Davis freighter X Freeman you know those we know and love yes what a rare treat they have such good folks around us absolutely Swami hold it right there we'll let you continue on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening right here on Republic Broadcasting we'll be right back [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm all calls this evening open lines no taboo topics we were on the line with Swami Shiva nan de Giri in Illinois Swami are you still with us oh oh you bet you I'll let you continue well I thought I wanted to say thank you so very much - Joe from Casey for making these tickets available and I want to say looking forward to meeting Patti and Jason and Mark from Ohio the other winners yes so really really looking forward now tracing back to last week I wanted to show is my hat in the ring supporting anyone who wants to get a little peek at one of the possible theories of the the truer history of humanity invest the time on YouTube in Michael fuss Aryans Oracle's and origin absolutely all my I mean gay was the one who I had never seen it until I heard Jay talk about it and after I watched that I guess what uh what a great job somebody finally just just threaded it all together you know I don't Michael caesareans worked for prolific and meticulous and it is done in a scholarly way and he's just absolutely brilliant I can't recommend that series highly enough I'm telling people if you want to you know make a serious inquiry into human origins and the events of our past as a species that 22 DVD series origins and Oracle's is absolutely essential viewing that's all I could say about yeah if you can't get a hold of that there's there's like an 11-hour version I think on on YouTube check it out it's worth the investment of your time give it the opportunity to sink in and see how much then make sure also calling back to last week want to mention one of the when you're discussing the ancient texts and things one of the great Eastern traditions were called sutras and the thing with a sutra sutra is the Sanskrit word for thread and in a sutra you'll only get like a sentence maybe two but that is what gets passed down and then you have the Masters of the traditions the gurus the Gnostic the knowers who then flash out and expand upon that sutra and that's the way the wisdom traditions were carried out with through the oral tradition yes so which which have been with us always and that's one of the great you know people can read sutras but without without someone who really knows how to flesh all that out you're not really going to get that much out of it you know cuz you're reading a sentence that someone who is a master of this information can then turn into a four-hour disc or a stone one it's kind of like a boiled down or akan crust idea that's brought into its you know verbal written form in a very concentrated sense but it can be unpacked or expanded right right and and that's one of the reasons that this one he got so into the the Eastern tradition you know because I came upon someone who knows all this stuff and who is a master and and he took me on and taught me and a year swamy you know I mean I'm just a Western guy macaroni and cheese he he kids from the cornfields of Illinois you know I know did he grow up there's any kind of a saintly being or anything you know but but with study and practice in training anyone can reach their full potential that's right and all the full potentials are out there to be reached mark passio is awesomely playing the individuated unit of consciousness of marc-patty you know yes Swami is playing this one and you the listener right now are playing you the listen right now God exists within you and you you just had to forget that for a while in order to play the role of the individual unit of consciousness in the infinite plane of consciousness and once we separate from that ego attachment that we are our thoughts we are our role that we play in life we are our job we are you know bank account or whatever any of the other aspects of the self and you realize that we're an aspect of everything having an experience in the physical domain that is informing the spiritual domain that is informing right the underlying essence of what everything ultimately is so that everything can learn and grow we step back from that individuated perspective of consciousness and that's when we could expand into the essence of the all and then take on that wider sense of care that you came into this call saying agape the wider sense of cosmic Universal care universal love there is nothing but me here and I know this now and that's the whole difference the only way the archons can keep humanity down is to keep imposing this limited perspective yeah if we know the real deal their system falls apart immediately exactly because if you were enlightened to that level of awareness then you wouldn't do a job for a paycheck that involves how many harm to other people we're stepping on other people's rights you know you wouldn't get involved in the paradigm protection racket as I call it you know telling lies to other people and keeping information back that the powers that shouldn't be don't want people to understand and taking a paycheck to do that to be part of the so-called mainstream media you know you you would get involved in uncovering the truth you would get involved in speaking that truth to other people you would get involved in exposing the darkness not just being afraid of it and saying oh I don't want to talk about all this negative stuff that's out there because that's gonna bring more of it no you're gonna say I'm going to expose it I'm going to show people this isn't the way we should be in the world because you know we can step back from that ego attached identified perspective and see that we're all in this together we're all essentially one consciousness experiencing experiencing it itself and as all suffer what is possible that's it yes and then if you take the time and energy and invest in yourself to find the big s self hiding within you not jumping up and down trying to get your attention oh no that's for the stock outside with the objects of the senses the self is quietly within just waiting when you to turn around and start looking and then it will reveal everything to you it's weird but it's like if we turn that constant voice chatter that external chatter down we got a lower the volume on that then we'll be able to engage in that dialogue with the true self that's always there always waiting but it never kind of speaks above a whisper so to speak Swami always enlightening talking to you always very enlightening perspectives that you bring forward for us to consider so I'm really looking forward to seeing you next week in st. Louis thanks so much for the call ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to water on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com all calls tonight from listeners any questions comments concerns speculations are fair game no taboo topics that are never are on this show the callin number to join us 831 394 43 let's go back to the phones and hear from John in Seattle John you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hello yes hi John you're live hi hi I'm sorry I'm back on that was the first card sign I hope it's okay oh no worries great I guess I'm just hungry for more true tonight I have a question I would like to know your thoughts about Alistair Crowley and I've noticed between several different researchers that there's different opinions yes on their views about who I really was and his role yeah and our modern society today and like Freeman for instance his material is a pretty-pretty in tiny'mon I anti Crowley yes right and I was just like that I haven't heard you really say one way or the other where you might call I'm going to give you the best location to go to to check out my views on Crowley where I as meticulously as possible give my view of the man and his work that is the show that I did with Bob from Cincinnati on a cult Empire on his show occult empire called Thelema okay if you listen to that show I essentially broke down the thalamic philosophy and I talked about Crowley's work as having to be distinguished from Crowley the man or that his personal deeds okay a teacher can put out good spirit information and then not walk the path and this was early the case with Crowley so and also you have to understand that Crowley wasn't himself consciously always writing his works he was channeling these works or he was writing them in extreme altered states of consciousness and they were works that were you could say coming in through him as a medium so he was a medium so mediumship is when you are allowing your body to be used to write material that may be coming from other consciousnesses that are disembodied or not your own okay this has been called automatic writing or channeling okay so you know there's people like

Barbara Marciniak who do it Bashar Neale Donald Walsch there's a lot of different channels out there Crowley was one of them he practiced channeling so you have to very much make the the discernment that when you read his writings you may be reading one consciousness or another consciousness or his own his own ego driven consciousness at certain times and you have to be aware of that flow in his writing and realize hey it could jump from one state of consciousness to another not on the same page so why what I tell people is Crowley is not what you want to initiate people through a bad idea okay because it's so complex it's an enigma it's a puzzle okay and even like a lot of discerning students into the occult may have a lot of Crowley's material wrong or may you know not really understand that the material is not just straightforward then you have to look at his actions and his behavior and say hey he said this and he did this there's conflict here there's contradiction here so and you know then you have to that doesn't mean you totally call into question what he said it just means you have to say what was the actual character of the man so you somebody could be saying hey live in harmony with each other understand the difference between right and wrong live in harmony with natural law but then if you don't do that in your own life mean that you're lying about what you were saying about natural law it just means you fell from that path and you could actually walk it in your own life so what someone who is looking at your work would then have to say using discernment is well I will I will listen to what that person said but I'm certainly not going to behave like that and this is the case with Crowley it's the it really is the idea of do as I said not as I did okay it really that old adage do as I say not as I do really holds true with someone like him so I tell people read and discern his work and understand it's complex its enigmatic and there's more than one thing going on there it's not just him writing it in his everyday state of consciousness you have to be aware of that but then take the heart what resonates with truth and then you got to look at his behavior and say well he fell from that path he didn't live like he liked he said so don't certainly don't pattern your life after his Hey look at how natural law rewarded him what how did he end up he ended up penniless drug-addicted dying of lung problems because of this drug addiction and his poor health in a hovel alone with hardly anybody around him caring about him that's how that's how he went out of this world okay natural law probably caught up with him in this domain in this realm so that's kind of my take on Crowley I really like his material I like it some of his writings not all of them I don't agree with all of it and I think you have to really discern between the the writings in the the spiritual domain that he channeled versus the consciousness of him the man and his behavior in the 3d world which there's a lot of contradictions there so it requires discernment and it's certainly not a place you want to start if you're starting to look into spirituality or if you're starting to look into a cult ISM Crowley is a place you want to end up at not start right yep I hope that answers my question sure did bring a lot John thank you all right let's saw see we could squeeze another couple callers in let's talk to David in Massachusetts David you're live on what on earth is happening welcome David are you with us yeah ma this is about the third time I've listened to your show me there is I'm sorry go ahead am I correct in assuming or understanding that you you do believe in the invisible world well the whole show is about the occult the occult means the hidden or the unseen you know so that's all the word occult means that which is hidden from sight which is difficult to see which requires deep introspective spiritual vision in order to see and comprehend and understand how it works yeah you know you know you know what a lot of these atheists and not Lisa material people would only believe in the material you know materialist materialists everything yep I'm tight sometimes I'll say just to the market I asked them if they've ever heard of the boy that was born blind and the boy that was born blind he lived a long life and he lived he lived to a ripe old age and nobody could ever ever convince him that the visible world was real Wow yep oh yeah which I could not perceive you know he didn't have vision for that world so he couldn't be convinced of it and we need to develop inner vision and then we will see the world of the occult we will see it as it actually really is it's been there the whole time you know it's our perception that needs to be adjusted so we can see what's really going on in this world yeah great yeah the invisible world is uh there's you know mark it's actually it's the real world the invisible world is actually a loser but um hey if I have time Marquis you might appreciate you might appreciate this story yeah I'm you know I'm sure your audience well I think when the audience but mark I don't know I have it Harvard Square about that I think was a Monday night or something about two weeks ago or something when the young when the the organized Satanists we're going to celebrate the black satanic math that's a group known as The Satanic temple and they were going to basically organize a mock satanic ceremony known as the Black Mass that they were going to have at on Harvard's campus I think they got so much negative backlash as a result of wanting to have that you know psycho dramatic ritual performed there that they had to call it off am I correct that it was called off uh yeah it was called off and a lot of people assumed it was happened at the last minute that mr. Magnum access to Karloff but it wasn't it was the fakeness themselves there's a doctor doctor but here's what's interesting mark and I I think you know oh yeah you don't feel great mark I know go ahead Oh rocky you may tell the familiar with by Johann Goethe's epic poem poem Faust yes yeah something less awful even all that you know y'all be perfect with that with that poem but now we are coming up to the break hold on there David I'll let you pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening [Music] [Applause] the cooler side that we don't dare speak [Music] so while between us it'll rip soul [Music] there's nothing wrong this coal decides to walk last segment for this edition of warmer earth is happening coming at you we were on the line with David from Massachusetts I'll let him finish up his point and we'll take a couple of other callers David are you still with us I'm still with your mock yeah thank you for holding me over my heart but what I'm gonna tell you I couldn't make this stuff up anyways I went on to st. Paul's in Harvard Square and the same clause in the Roman Catholic community and everything the answers of a satanic mass was a benediction service and it was presided over by father Michael player and auxiliary bishop opportunity and they they exposed the Blessed Sacrament on on the altar and we recited the divine praises and so on and so forth but anyways lo and behold the president of Harvard University came over when she plopped there every year that exactly right beside me I was sitting right up on the front row I always sit on the front row of any any event if I can because especially at the c-23 and anyways her name is dr.

Faust her first name is drew Faust her so she's known as dr. Faust I didn't make this stuff up problem microglia at the end of his homily he turned to dr. Faust and he said idiot restless dr. Faust I want you to know that the Cambridge Catholic community joins you dr. Faust there's one community he would know what the hell he's really saying little bit of a synchro mysticism happening there I think yeah anyways I wanna I want up to dr. Faust at the end of the service and I'm I I asked ever heard of st. Faustina that's that's the bit you know about the Divine Mercy cult mark the image of the Divine Mercy in the chaplet of the Divine Mercy are you familiar with that I'm not oh okay that's check check check that oh yeah but anyways I asked her it's a big cult in the Catholic Church now the st. Faustina she was a Polish nun ah and I hope john paul ii promoted it and everything she said she's a saint now her name was Helen Maria Kowalska and everything and then she became a nun known as host inna in everything but I I asked dr. functor she was familiar with posting the same folks Dina and dr. folks said that she was for my surprise so the nicer one well dr. funk faces are you a Roman Catholic I thought you might be since she was familiar with st. Faustina and and she says she said no that she wasn't a Roman Catholic and everything like well what did you just come over here out of a sense of community unity and everything and she says yes and and I and so on but it was just unbelievable when father Michaels layer turn tilted dr. Faust Cambridge Catholic community joins with you dr. house is one yeah isn't that strange huh and so what great allegory overall about what's going on in this world though people trading you know worldly pet their souls for worldly power yeah I almost wonder mock I was almost wondering it's like the the local Illuminati over there in Cambridge if they will actually like exercising the Hegelian dialectics or something just manipulating the just manipulating the public that they're so good at doing and everything but I don't I don't necessarily want to read something in read into it something that isn't really there or something but how did you phrase about what's the term you used that it said it might be somewhat going on the center of mass is emits kind of like a little wink from the universe like a little you know a synchronicity taking place but could be could be somewhat meaningful under the syncro mysticism it's a very interesting study where things come through in in popular works of art and fiction that tell us about what's really going on in the world kind of literally symbolically perhaps without even the deliberate intent of the creator of the piece of art or the movie or something like that actually consciously being aware of it it's just coming through in the creative process should do a whole show on at one time it would be a really interesting show I've touched on it in past shows however okay Michael very quickly yes uh what is the name of that New York satanic organization that was the Satanic temple I'm not sure if they're based in New York I thought maybe they were out farther west I'm not positive where they're based but it was called The Satanic temple that tried to organize that a Harvard event they're the same group that was trying to place a Baphomet statue at a courthouse because of the ten commandments being placed there previously and they wanted they wanted that their religion to be recognized as well I mean I'm all for freedom of all forms of religion religious expression and I'm not looking to shut anybody speech down I I you know I have no problem with anybody coming out and saying what their beliefs are but I think you know if they're talking about anything that is doing away with other people's rights or freedom then I think that should be you know spoken out against and and everybody's voice should be allowed to be heard I'm for the airing of all voices even if those I disagree with you know people have a right to speak period and be heard but I think the voice of truth has to speak we have to speak allow that to speak through us and if we do that then you know we'll be empowering ourselves and putting ourselves in a better position to have freedom grow instead of being curtailed constantly in our lives so I want to thank you for the call David and let's see if we could hear from a couple other callers before we round out this show let's hear from Rafael in Indy Raffaele you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark I just wanted to thank you for everything you do and you know thank you giving out all the information you give us out there and you know thanks to you now I realize how many idiots I'm surrounded by embalming by their beliefs and actions and it's our job to make them up yes that's exactly it you know now we just see what our work is to do so thank you for that and it's not something that we want to do but unfortunately something we have to do because of their beliefs and their actions were bonded by them that's really in this material material world that's right and I just wanted to comment real quick I know you mentioned previous call about synchro mysticism yes and uh you know just want to urge every caller to start back at number one and go back and to listen to all your shows because there's so much value in all the information that you give and you know when you begin to pass the truth synchronistic patterns unfold you know in my personal life things have happened and things have begun got Nicole I guess connect the dots you know like when you talked about I think and with Kevin and his show is how that issue you had with a door lock and you unlocked it with a compass you know and then when you were I think you were supposed to meet or you're running late for a show and and you you're barbers weren't making you late for whatever reason and then the the notes that you had with the interviewer his notes were kind of like when you're mad with somebody it's it's kind of related to the same exact scenario that you dealt with before right and it's pretty amazing was you know always constantly speaking to us through symbols and allegories and events of our daily lives it's just it's up to us to recognize the patterns and see meaning in it because there is meaning and purpose in all of it and it's just we're so all over the place and scattered and paying attention to other things that we often miss those really important clues and missed that important message because we're so focused on the minutiae of everyday life yeah I mean it is it is mind boggling the other things that you do come across you know and information you hand out I mean you know today actually I was listening to a I'm up to 106 and you may the calm you know keep an eye on me first for you know uh any events and sure enough on me May 1st and that evening when he announced I was at the killing of Osama bin Laden oh sure yep oh that was definitely a May Day event ritual for certain of all purchase not they brought that whole nonsense story out to the public they love doing things like that on May 1st you know advertising their victories like you know mission accomplished in in Iraq you know that was done on May the 1st also ladies and gentlemen unfortunately that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening remember there's only two mistakes you could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see right here in two weeks thanks for listening everyone good night [Music] you

Louis this past Saturday called streetwise spirituality it was an all-day seminar went over with tremendous success I consider that it was highly successful I want to thank the organizers ray mummy and his wife Pat mummy and I want to thank everybody who helped out organizing the event particularly Adnan from UFO hub who recorded it got it on video and also interviewed me after the seminar I want to thank barb my partner for running the the table at the door there and helping out throughout the entire day and everybody involved who made this event go over absolutely without a hitch I think there was over a hundred and ten people there approximately it had to be between 110 and 120 people according to my count and it was a packed room it was a beautiful an absolutely beautiful venue the art and Mead Center and everybody stayed for the whole thing I mean everybody had great questions at the end as well the question-and-answer session went for an hour and a half and people were really ready to receive this information this knowledge and I could tell there's going to be a lot of people there who are going to become teachers of this information as well so I can't say enough good things about the seminar in st. Louis Travel was a lot of fun as well so again highly successful do look for the video coming up in the next probably several weeks I mean I don't want to put an exact timeline on it the video will be ready when it's ready but probably in a few weeks time we'll have a video ready to go live on both the what on earth is happening.com website and my youtube channel there will be on Thursday June 19th that's not this Thursday coming up but I believe the following Thursday the free monthly documentary screening and discussion night from truth freedom prosperity and that again will be taking place Thursday June 19 2014 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the Guerin Recreation Center here in Philadelphia in South Philadelphia the Guarin Recreation Center is at 16th and Jackson streets in South Philly this month we're going to be showing for our documentary night the film thrive by foster gamble thrive subtitled what on earth will it take ok for humanity to create a civilization that is sustainable that and free and thriving and I think it's in a very important documentary I really like how he breaks things down in that documentary and it basically lays it out there for the everyman to understand and you know we have a new crowd that's turning out with these documentaries so we want to go back and revisit some of the documentaries that we've actually already showed we showed this in the past but we talked about it and thought that this was one of the more important documentaries that we showed so we're going to repeat it at the Guarin Recreation Center so once again Thursday June 1970 o'clock p.m. start time it's at 16th and Jackson there's a free parking lot entrance entrance on Wolfe Street just between 15th and 16th and after entering the main doors of the recreation center the meeting room for the documentary screening and discussion is the last room on the right hand side it the event is free to attend but there is a cost associated with renting the recreation center so we ask for voluntary donations just to offset those costs for anybody that wants to give a donation voluntarily and again free parking and feel free to bring your own food and drinks which are allowed in the recreation center so oh and for more information on that Meetup and that group in general you could check out truth freedom prosperity org I'm gonna make a preliminary announcement here tonight I will be of doing another all-day seminar coming up in Manchester Connecticut again hosted by art Capozzi and Chris Capozzi this will be taking place on October 4th 2014 I know it's a long way off but just announcing it preliminary early here tonight on the air hopefully by next week I could have all the details and perhaps a an event flyer ready to go and to share with the listening audience but it's going I do know the topic it is going to be called demystifying the occult and it's going to be about occult symbolism and particularly particularly I'm going to get into

Tarot symbolism in this seminar in a larger way so it's that the the title of the seminar is demystifying the occult art Capozzi is also going to be giving a presentation as well like he did last time up in Connecticut for my natural law seminar and I think this is going to be a really great event and it's going to be at a really great venue as well and hopefully we'll have even many more people than we brought out last time the last time I spoke up in Connecticut so that's coming up in October October 4th a very synchronistic or synchro mystic date 10-4 10-4 is about reception right 10-4 message received okay so I have one more quick event announcement on the other side of the break and then we'll be getting into our subject matter ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back welcome back everyone you listening to what on earth is happening on your host mark a CEO of a couple of other quick event announcements people have been asking me about the progress of my book which I told them about several weeks back that I'm going to be working on with an editor and the the progress is going really really well and again when I first announced that I said maybe a year off maybe further I don't know I'm still not going to commit to any date but I just want to tell people it's going really really well and I'm very pleased with the progress of that so far so that's something I'm you know we're continuing to work on and also people have been asking me a lot about the results of my juice fast I did a 30 day juice fast back starting in around mid-february and ended at about mid-march approximately and I am very pleased to tell people that since I ended the juice fast that 30 day juice fast with nothing but juices and herbal teas no solid food for 30 days my blood sugar levels have not been elevated regardless of what I have eaten so I'm not going to come out and just totally state and claim that the type of diabetes that I have is completely cured not yet I'm not ready to make that claim yet however it looks like this really did what it was supposed to do I'll say that for now and so far so good so for people who have been asking me about that there's a little status report if this continues the way it has been going maybe somewhere down the line over the next few months I can make a statement that say yes this work and it is a cure for diabetes that hasn't gone really really far into insulin dependence you know a lot of people are looking at the new research about diabetes and you know there's been all this talk in past years about different types of diabetes type 1 type 2 type 1.5 or what they call Lada diabetes we're juvie adult onset of juvenile diabetes or a lot of stands for latent autoimmune diabetes of adulthood which is the kind of diabetes I was diagnosed with meaning it's not sudden onset right to insulin dependence like juvenile diabetes and it's not very slow onset to insulin dependence like type 2 it's somewhere in between and it's uh you know they consider it insulin dependent an insulin dependent form of diabetes but not as extreme insulin dependence as type one so I was told I could never possibly even control this with diet by the allopathic medical industry which was completely untrue because I recognized very quickly after I was diagnosed that I was able to control it with diet and of course they'll tell you you have to be on insulin for the rest of your natural life which is also untrue I haven't taken insulin since February any amount of it okay and my sugar levels have been perfectly normal I've been monitoring them monitoring it and checking it each day so you know a lot of what they're telling people about this disease is totally untrue to begin with the other thing i wanted to mention about this yeah the the new research that's coming forward suggests that there isn't different types of diabetes that it is all really one type and that it is just a matter of how fast you go from initial onset to total insulin dependence where the pancreas is so damaged that it stops making insulin altogether so clearly the type where the pancreas isn't completely you know hasn't completely gone to insulin dependence and isn't manufacturing any of it at all can certainly be treated with a juice fast and possibly even cured with a juice fast so again so far so good did a juice fast from February to March and my sugar levels have not been elevated since I am what I am planning to do is a maintenance to this is to do a juice fast for two weeks once every six months so to kind of break 30-day juice fast over the course of a year do it for two weeks every six month months as sort of a maintenance for you know what I've already done with a longer juice fast and I feel this is going to keep this in check at bay or completely eliminate it as far as I'm concerned and I'm really happy with the results thus far and thank you for all the well-wishers out there and thank you for all the people who you know I wanted to we're you know we're interested in knowing how it went and wanted a status update so there you have it so one other quick thing I want to mention is that there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening comm website it's on the left hand side of the page you can click show your support by making a donation and that will take you to a page where you can make a donation via PayPal or request information on how to make a donation via mail so that is up there for people who have found value from the information I've presented on this radio show and my pot for more podcasts so if you you know have found value from that and you are in a position where you can make a voluntary donation you could do it through that support donation button on the left hand side of what on earth is happening comm with that having been said I want to direct everyone's attention to the what on earth is happening comm radio show page and underneath the player on the radio show page this is what on earth is happening comm slash radio or if you just go to the main page you could click on the radio show tab in the middle of the tabs and underneath the player you will see images for tonight's show if you're listening live or this will be listed with the images for the podcast tonight's show is number 158 and underneath the player you'll see two sections of slides with numerical links there is 184 slides this is probably if I'm correct the largest slide presentation that I'm going to with that I'm going to give live on the airwaves that I've done yet and I broke it into two sections so that the links would display somewhat decently on the slide show so there are two sections of 92 images for a total of 184 images if you have any issues with the slideshow or you just would rather prefer to look at the images from your own machine instead of clicking on them and having them open in a slideshow format on the web there is underneath both of those sections of images a section that says all cosmic abandonment slides download here in the form of a zip archive a zip folder of images that is 48 megabytes hopefully if a lot of people grab this all at one time it won't cause problems with the server but you have a choice to do it either way you could either click on each images image as I go through the slideshow or you could download the zip archive and follow from your own computer so with that having been said let us jump into the material for tonight's show and probably the next several weeks more likely than not because I'll break this down slowly and take people's calls at the same time so I will do my best as I always try to do when I give a slideshow presentation on the air to make note of the number of each slide as I move forward so you know hopefully I could stick with that and it usually works out pretty well so here we go this presentation is entitled cosmic abandonment and you could see the title card for this presentation in image number 1 the subtitle once again is an explanatory synthesis regarding human origins psychopathy slavery and the current psychological and social conditions of humanity now the key term or phrase that I want people to take note of here is an explanatory synthesis so what this means is a coming together it's what a synthesis means a coming together a bringing together of a seemingly diverse body of knowledge and information in an attempt to explain the current human condition that's what this presentation is ultimately all about and we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us and we're back this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio let's continue with the cosmic abandonment presentation and I was telling everyone that this is what I call an explanatory synthesis it's not what you would call a total proof okay I'm not claiming that it is I'm saying that in light of a lot of this information that I'm going to present when you put it all together it explains a whole lot in a way that makes sense about what has been going on in human society for thousands tens of thousands of years okay so I originally gave this presentation at a meetup group here in Philadelphia called the Philadelphia UFO meetup group hosted by a good friend of mine Chris Augustine and Chris had a opening in back in December of 2013 and he asked me I attend this meet up regularly actually I try never to miss it it's probably my favorite meetup group in the whole area because of the kind of people that show up that are quite open-minded that are quite well-read that you know are willing to explore areas of inquiry that most other people's minds are completely closed off to and I find that a quite high consciousness meetup group and I've even joked around with some people and said this is my therapy session for the month you know it's where I can go to talk to other people who have done some homework about human origins and you know possible interactions with non-human entities extraterrestrial beings etc the different myriad of possibilities of life throughout the universe and it gets into a lot of discussions about what's going on right here on earth with the control system and you know the shutdown of different technologies and and medical cures etc it gets into all of it you know so it's not limited to just one slim or microcosmic topic of discussion but it really spans the entire spectrum so to speak and Chris asked me if I could present something at the meetup group and he had a whole two-hour block for an open presentation available and I said you know let me jump on this as an opportunity to present my thesis you could say anything I don't even want to use the term my thesis that's incorrect this is a thesis that again I look at myself as a person who has brought together the information who has aggregated it and woven it together in a tapestry with a particular style of explanation presentation aesthetics applied to it etc as again the old saying goes ladies and gentlemen and so many people want to you know attack me personally for things like this there is no new information that you you know people insist there's he doesn't present anything new this is just all stuff that's brought together from all different areas of inquiry and other researchers and you know well of course there is nothing new you're not going to present anything new I'm not going to come up here and say anything that hasn't already been said folks okay slavery is ancient it's still going on today it's been going on for hundreds of thousands of years what would be new is if we ended slavery okay that would be novel okay that would bring something new into fruition in on this planet at least okay but you know this old saying I want to start with it there is nothing new Under the Sun and people hear that or they may have heard it and it's an ancient saying from many different wisdom traditions throughout time in different geographical regions throughout the earth but a lot of people don't know what that for means it means the truth has always been here and it has not changed it exists all around us everywhere the problem is humanity also has not changed so the truth has been there all around them regarding what's going on on this planet and regarding what's going on with their psychological and social conditions okay and humanity has basically ignored the truth so there's nothing new it's all the same information that always has been here what would be new as if humanity took note of that information and then accepted it into their mind and heart and then change their behavior as a result and as a result of that they changed their condition that would be new and unfortunately as the saying goes there is nothing new Under the Sun that has not happened either therefore there is nothing new it's the same old story folks but to go back to the dinah interaction between me and Chris I said I took him up on his offer to speak at this meetup group and I'm really glad I did it because number one it got me to put this presentation together which I had kind of been lagging on and procrastinating doing because it's a it's a tall order okay and I'm putting together the fine points of this now as we go forward and that's a real tall order as well and you know hopefully I'll have enough material assembled by the time I make it through the general presentation the general thesis to really go into the fine details and a lot of the source material in coming shows so I want to unpack this over months not just weeks okay that we're going to be staying on this topic unless something you know extraordinary comes up okay because again I've covered mind control for probably a couple of years I've covered solutions for over a year all right now we're getting into origins theory okay and trying to explain how the entire condition came to be the way that it is now which is extraordinarily important to understand and people who think that this can be ignored don't understand how important the origins of a species are and how much control can be exerted over a species if you hide there are two origins from them I've talked about this ad nauseam on past shows so we don't even need to be labor that point here at the beginning of this presentation but um you know I thank Chris for the opportunity because it gave me a chance to formalize these thoughts in the form of a formal presentation and again give it structure and then you know present that and get that get the general idea out there to the public in the form of this quote/unquote thesis and then I knew later down the line I would be able to explain it in finer detail and on packet so that's what I'm going to start to do here tonight moving to slide number two I dedicated this original presentation and I will dedicate the rebroadcast of this presentation on the airwaves over the next few weeks to the brilliant researcher Lloyd Pye and if people are not familiar with Lloyd Pye I'm telling you right now it's a huge mistake not to have looked into his material okay you need to become familiar with this gentleman and his work period that is how absolutely essential vitally important Lloyd Pie's researches and as you see he died in 2013 just late last year as a matter of fact he died the week that I gave this presentation just before I gave the presentation I think it might have been two or three days beforehand I'm not quite certain I gave the presentation on what was December 12th and he passed away I think it was the first week of December or maybe even just into the second week so I was very very very shortly before I gave this presentation for the first time and he died of an aggressive brain tumor and you know you see a lot of researchers going this way and you know people will say well it sounds conspiratorial what you're saying but you know it it does it would not surprise me if the technology exists to give someone a type of cancer that is very aggressive and fast acting from onset to the time when it goes terminal as it was as it was with Lloyd Pye and you know it's really a shame because he was not that old and I believe he was in his early sixties if I'm not mistaken I could be incorrect about that maybe he was in his late sixties but yeah late late sixties I guess so he um he put out so much work about human origins and tied so many things together and he did an extraordinary amount of work with the Starchild skull okay which is an anomalous skull that was found I believe in Mexico and displayed characteristics that were completely different from any human skull ever found and we'll pick that up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back you know today the skies are nice today and we're back you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we are looking into an explanatory synthesis regarding human origins and the current psychological and social conditions of humanity that I call cosmic abandonment and people will understand why I've termed that that as we move through this presentation again it was dedicated to Lloyd Pye when I originally did this back in December of 2013 brilliant researcher people need to look into his work regarding human origins and hominids okay that's his main work I would suggest watching his YouTube videos such as everything you know is wrong hominids and an evening with Lloyd Pye again he's also done brilliant work with the Starchild skull which he became the caretaker of after its discovery and he's advanced the research of that forward a lot in the genetics realm to try to prove scientifically that it is not of human origin moving on to slide number three this is a quote one of the only few quotes that I might have throughout this whole slideshow presentation from the philosopher the Greek philosopher Aristotle he said that it is the mark of an educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it and I would suggest it's the mark of a truly intelligent mind to be able to entertain any given set of thoughts without either accepting or reject them okay so I'm not asking people to accept everything I'm saying here but I'm also not expecting them to immediately reject it out of hands hand because it somehow conflicts with their pre-existing belief system or just because it is uncomfortable to even consider the possibilities I'm going to raise the right during the course of this presentation and too many people cannot do this all right unfortunately and it's part of the human condition that we're in you know we hear new information and we immediately try to fit it into one of our boxes does this fit in my religion box no well then goodbye out the door it goes and don't ever bring it back does this fit into my scientism box you know that the truth can only come from established mainstream quote/unquote science oh it doesn't fit in that science says that isn't it isn't that way well out the door it goes and don't ever bring it around me again does this fit into my new-age box you know most things don't because anything slightly negative you know that they're saying something that is unpleasant to hear doesn't fit in the new-age box as we all know you know so if this is asking me to consider anything that is somewhat unpleasant well it's got to go you know can't look at that you know it's just ridiculous is it it's so ridiculous how people think it's unbelievable that we're still in that condition you know does this fit into my paradigm that there's such a thing as Authority my government and politics box no oh well then then it's got to go and god forbid because I'm going to attack the global worldwide 100% omnipresent religion the monetary God in this presentation you know wall doesn't fit in with any kind of a monetary system this information well then it's the devil obviously you know and you know people can say all they want that that's not how the vast majority of people think but that's exactly how it is it's exactly how it is and as long as people think that way as long as people when they hear new information if it doesn't if it immediately conflicts with their existing paradigm their existing worldview their existing programming if they immediately reject it out of hand the human condition cannot possibly change that's the definition of slavery is the inability to think differently than we're already thinking because the way we're already thinking has gotten our slavery folks so by definition if you want to change the condition you got to change the way you think and if you continue to think the way you've already the way you've been thinking for hundreds of thousands of years as a species okay and it hasn't changed the condition what what how could you possibly expect the continuation of that kind of thought to somehow lead to freedom and to somehow change the existing condition which people say that they don't want impossible so I mean this sets the tone of the whole presentation this quote as far as I'm concerned which is why I opened with it it gives us an insight into where the human mindset is already at it's not already on board with my existing paradigm it's got to be thrown out or if hey if I have been looking into that this stuff doesn't make a difference how possibly wildly off were inaccurate something is I'm gonna just take it all in and accept it as true that's equally as dangerous that's a form of right brain imbalance and you know just accepting everything filters have to be up discernment and judgment are required going into research materials going into source materials weighing things in the balance that's what this is all about applying a filtration system applying a truth discovery methodology weeding out inconsistencies asking yourself continuously does this make sense giving the given the current conditions does this make sense as a possible plausible that's why I call the whole presentation an explanatory synthesis it's an attempt at explaining why we're in the position we're at today as a species so let's move to the next slide slide number four and again I'm gonna take my time with this like I did my New Age BS presentation okay when I did it on air well unpack this over however long it takes to do it okay there's the world is not going anywhere right now slavery's not going anywhere right now at least okay so we could take our time with this material and you know try to give people a chance to take it and digest it okay and do your their own research in the process which I'll continuously be sitt suggesting different researchers and putting links in with these shows so this is my caveat or you know a you know little before we begin section all right and here's here it is the information contained in this presentation does not constitute a proof nor wasn't my intention to attempt to provide a proof proof of anything of such magnitude or covering all aspects of such topics could not possibly be accomplished within the confines of a two-hour presentation now that was the time limit that I originally had to give this presentation when I did it live which is extraordinarily short amount of time and I really had to rush through it and I made a couple of errors in doing that which I'll try to correct over the the you know slower unpacking of this presentation over the next few weeks but you know I challenge anybody try to put something together okay that does as decent of a job as this presentation did if you watch the two hour version of it that tries to tackle a topic this large okay and just give people little bits and pieces of all different seemingly disparate pieces of information that brings a picture or a tapestry together in people's minds as well as this presentation did it which I will toot my own horn a little bit and say I feel I did a very good job in that short of confines to ours which I was pretty strictly limited to I think I may have gone over by a couple of minutes but not very many it might have been like two hours and four or five minutes or something like that but it was pretty close to the two hour limit that I was told I had so the second part of this caveat is also please recognize that I am NOT attempting to convince anyone to accept or believe anything contained in this presentation I've said from day one believing me is the worst thing you can do I don't want to present information you hear it and you say oh that sounds good I believe you worst thing that could possibly happen I'm not interested in anybody believing we're following me never have been not not now and they're never going to be all right I want people to research things for themselves extensively eclectically meaning from a as wide of a possibility of sources a wide an array of sources as is possible that's how you put that discernment and judgment into place you research widely not with a narrow focus you have to become a generalist when it comes to these types of topics I am asking however those with an open mind to seriously consider this explanatory model by asking questions and researching these topics for yourself you pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening welcome back everyone second hour of this edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I'll give the calling number once again I'll be going to your calls in the third hour if there are any 803 one three nine four four three once again the calling number to join us next our 800 three one three ninety four forty three and if there aren't that many callers you know I'll take the ones that do call in and uh plenty of material more than enough material to cover during the the show so let's continue where we left off last hour I was looking we were moving to slide number five slide number five has two images of the title cards from or title slides from two presentations that I formerly gave on the topic of what you would consider the field of ufology UFO non-human intelligence etc the first was it back in 2010 at the Philadelphia UFO Awareness Day hosted by Pennsylvania MUFON the mutual UFO network of Pennsylvania and I spoke with a lot of other great researchers that day and I gave a presentation called don't count on disclosure this is one I have not put on my own website because I don't have the video of it I believe it was filmed but if not if I'm mistaken about that I did give that again at a UFO conference it was one of the

UFO Congress conferences I believe hosted by dr. UFO Pat market ilio so perhaps he might have some of he might have that video and I could get that from him and and pose this although it was you know it was a four years ago I gave that presentation but still really vital material still really material that is very applicable today because it talks about all the reasons that people who were interested in the UFO phenomenon people who are interested in the possibility of human interaction with non-human intelligence should not get their hopes up as two lines of quote unquote official disclosure meaning our governments of the world going to come clean and tell what they know about these phenomena forget it you're not going to see that happen unless government breaks down when government breaks down and there no longer is a control system that's when we're going to see the truth about human origins brought out in a much bigger way because these are the people who are actually holding this information down okay the this is what's locked up you know tighter than a vault alright and this and they don't want this information coming out to the for Humanity to understand because again the control of the knowledge of the origins of any given species is the control of that species and they want to continue to control humanity so it was ultimately all the different reasons why you shouldn't expect disclosure like you know free energy coming forward well these beings obviously are not using fossil fuels and coal you know shoveling coal into some kind of an engine on board their advanced craft alright they're using technologies that we can barely conceive of or understand at our level of development and it's probably technologies than interact with a much lower level of reality than we operate at and I mean by lower level I mean much closer to the Unified Field level of energy and consciousness and it's not based on excuse me it's not based on you know exploding substances together it's based on tapping that unified field of energy and getting down to the very source the underlying unified source of everything where things are undifferentiated it's not about you know even you know chemical molecular or atomic level energy or nuclear or a subatomic even goes much much deeper than that it's what people have called unified field level energy free energy zero-point energy etc that's one of the reasons for cover-up another reason for cover-up is probably religious faiths and traditions would break down because people would become very much aware of how much the inter our interaction with these beings have to do with the formulation of world religions which I'm going to talk about later in this presentation the second slide title card here on the right morality and disclosure I gave back in 2012 at another Pennsylvania MUFON conference this was also a great event I got to sit on the panel discussion group as well with other great researchers like Travis Walton and Richard Dolan and others and this was subtitled moral issues involved in the continued cover-up of extraterrestrial phenomena and what I did in this presentation was explain the overall worldview of secrecy and coercion and violence and absolutely no respect or any kind of allegiance to truth that is necessary to maintain in the ongoing cover-up of the truth of our interaction with other types of beings you know the kind of aggression and violence that has been done to people have tried to break a lot of this information out and the threats that have been made to them I talk about this a lot in this presentation and I use the Roswell incident the alleged crash of a flying disc at Roswell New Mexico in the surrounding area of Roswell back in 1948 as a case study a psychological case study of what kind of psychological dynamics are involved in going cover-up and you know one of the things I did really want to get to in this presentation and didn't really unpack too much is the people who are really covering up this phenomenon are people in the military and the intelligence agencies and the media there who are ultimately responsible you know we have to go and ask that question who is ultimately responsible for the embargo on truth when it comes to these issues and it is those groups of people it's the military-industrial complex who are protecting the energy paradigm ok it's the the oil industry and the executives that run that and the bankers that are lie behind that as well but moreover the people who do it directly are people in the military and intelligence agencies because they're the one who or who are feet on the ground in cover-up operations when it comes to these type of things and then the media just goes along and does whatever you know if it it the repeaters you know the the horace pondan says they're called the prostitutes they just do their job very well of just repeating whatever the military industrial complex Psychopaths tell them to repeat for a paycheck you know no allegiance to truth and i'm very highly proud of how this presentation came out i I still think it's one of my favorite presentations that I've done for how it addresses part a dynamic of a an entire field that hardly anyone ever touches on that dynamic morality involved in the whole disclosure process and how people just don't have it that's the the reason we haven't disclosed the truth about this topic is because again the human species is largely an amoral species of beings and that's not our nature that is our current condition all right you have to make that delineation very clear between nature and the condition that we're currently in so this presentation is going to be given in a few parts we're gonna first do an introduction which I call starting from where we were left off and then I talked about the story of our past and then I talk about the story of our present and then I talk about the story of our future or what we can do about the situation that we are currently in okay so let's uh let's begin section number one and this is slide number six I call starting from where we were left off and the word is in parentheses so in other words starting from where we left off but this is a new twist on us starting from where we were left off okay meaning again that abandonment theme that we were left here okay and we'll get to what that ultimately means later but this is the introduction section and again I address the dynamic of religion here the world religions and again people hear that and this has been something I've you know pounded on relentlessly throughout you know all of my work and all of my radio shows and presentations I keep constantly going back to this theme most people have a religion and I don't mean just a cultural religion meaning that they're a Christian a Jew a Hindu a Muslim a Buddhist etc they have a belief system or a worldview that is holding them back from seeing the truth so we'll continue from right there on the other side stay with us everyone welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm continuing with the cosmic abandonment presentation that I'm sort of giving as a prelude or a setup to unpacking more detailed information about what I call interference theory of human origins other researchers have called an intervention theory like the person who I have dedicated this presentation to Lloyd Pye I consider it interference with our natural evolutionary progression we were on slide number seven and I was talking about the overarching worldviews that hold us back from where we say we want to go as a species what I call the false religions I consider there's only really one true religion and that's truth itself there's only one thing that could take us to where we say we want to go as a species we want to go to freedom we want to go to harmony peace free energy exploring the Stars all the things we say are good for humanity Universal brother and sisterhood etc you want all those things I want all those things most people will say sure yeah I want all those things well why don't we have them because mind sets that control the mind are holding back the manifestation of those conditions because as the mind is controlled behavior comes out in a particular manifestation that prevents those conditions from occurring that the conditions we say we want those are called false religions once again the only way we're going to come to getting all the things we say we want for ourselves is through the acceptance of truth when we accept truth and then we speak truth to others and we understand natural law then we're gonna have all the things that we say we want you know and the universe will come to our assistance as a species and we will be able to do things that we thought impossible before as long as we stay in false religions expect more slavery expect the same old story that has been here for hundreds of thousands of years and most people are still in one of these religions whether it be again we talked about it earlier politics the religion of authority all the cultural religions they try to squeeze everything into my one little box of cultural religion what I've depicted there up on the upper right-hand side of slide number seven you know all the different cultural religions Christianity Judaism Hinduism Buddhism Islam Taoism Shintoism etc and so forth okay then you have the scientism community that doesn't think that they're religious and they've just turned science into a religion and of course the New Age movement and I've broken it down into the you know the left hand the left brain hemisphere of religions authority and scientism and the right brain hemisphere of religions cultural religion and the New Age movement all the things that hold humanity back and everybody who's trapped in one of those religions thinks it's the answer and they've bought into a false paradigm they've bought into a completely false notion of an entire worldview a whole perspective of seeing reality from a totally filtered and cut off perspective see they want to make their false religion into the truth when I've told people the only thing that's going to save humanity is making truth into our true religion getting rid of all the false belief systems the false worldviews that aren't serving who we are but people will try to put everything into their little box for consciousness because their consciousness is too small to expand it outside the parameters of that box unfortunately some people listening to this show right now are in that position some people listening to this radio station are in that position you know it's all fear that holds people back and you know people will say well who-who aren't you including in here you know yeah that's basically going and attacking everybody yeah everybody with an ism everybody with a belief system you know if it's a belief system that doesn't lead to truth that doesn't lead to heart living in harmony with natural law and therefore becoming more free because you are becoming more moral as a human being and then as a species then that's an ism that is holding you back and that's what all false religion is and there's one overarching religion moving to slide number eight that binds them all together and brings them all together in a nice neat little package because it's the ultimate religion that's running the whole planet it has the most adherents the most blind believers the most blind followers than any other religion you know I'm telling you you know as the number one cultural religion in the world Islam and Christianity they're number one and two they have nothing on this one zero okay absolutely nothing all the atheists put together in the world all the scientists and believers everybody who believes in government all put together has nothing on the believers of the religion called money it is the overarching worldwide religion and people never even questioned the origins of the monetary system of all money they want to think oh it's all just about some bankers that came together to alleviate the burden of carrying gold coins okay so they put them in vaults and then charged people you know gave people interest on keeping them in there and then realize that they could you know have actually much less actual deposits in their coffers than they were able to lend out and so they can make enormous sums money it's called fractional lending people think that's the origins of money I mean you know this is utterly ridiculous money was around for hundreds of thousands of years before this okay just because the established history doesn't want to tell us that doesn't mean that money and monetary systems didn't exist before that because money was given to us by the quote-unquote gods beings that have absolutely nothing in common with our better interests who are all about enslaving and controlling us created and gave us all monetary systems and we'll be looking at that as we progress forward in this information as well you know the people the farmers of this world invented money okay gave it to their animals said hey how can we get our animals to interact better so we don't have to control the farm as ruthlessly and brutally and it's a little bit less work to control the farm well we'll come up with this thing called magical pieces of paper or magical chips of metal that they interact with because we've made them so screwed up that you know they're so barbaric in their interactions that we have to give them this fake system to you know get them to interact with each other in a little more civil manner so they're not running around this planet so crazy that they're impossible to control that's where the monetary systems of this world came from and there are people who are so attached to it so you know I deliberately tried to upset everybody here okay because if you accept any of these religions your mind is in a cage and if it stays there you cannot cannot work toward true freedom because your mind is working toward a system of control called a religion that is going to keep the current human condition exactly as it is enslaved we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us the cool side we don't dare speak it's a wall between us it'll rip so deep we keep it there there's nothing wrong this code of fact can't go wrong code of silence about human origins cannot go on not if we're truly going to free ourselves ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we were on slide number one of my cosmic I'm sorry slide number nine of my cosmic abandonment presentation in which I pretty much put up this image of all the religions you know crossed out and explaining to people that if you try to put consciousness into one of these boxes the five overarching religions of the world cultural religion the New Age movement the religion of authority scientism or the monetary system more likely than not you will be prevented from being able to see the bigger picture the patterns okay and you will not be able to see what needs to be changed such that we can actually change the human condition and get what we say we want in our experience in life as a species and you know too many people are in that condition as I've already said and there's a reason for that you know and it has to do with how we were made so slide number 10 there's the one religion that's it you want the one way out of slavery there it is staring you in the face what's already been there it's already there has been there it's not going anywhere it's never going anywhere can't be destroyed you know the problem is humanity refuses to engage it and humanity can certainly be destroyed oh it can go away you know there may be nothing new Under the Sun as far as truth is concerned it's always been here it's colonel it's singular its objective but you know one thing that can disappear from under the Sun is the human species there's nothing that says we have to remain here we can certainly go we're well on our way out the door as a species because of our refusal to engage truth so you know slide number 10 shows what I call the one true religion there's only one true religion it has nothing to do with a belief system it has to do with the acceptance of that which is that which has occurred and that involves looking into the past and being honest about what has happened here rediscovery of what has happened here in the past and the truth is on slide number 11 that we are in a condition of slavery and again you know the people who listened to this radio show that they understand that but as I you know was giving this presentation and I'll give this caveat again here today and on slide number 12 for for the people who don't already deeply understand already that the current human condition is slavery it is in fact slavery that we are enslaved as a species physically enslaved many of us are not spiritually enslaved anymore many of us are not mentally enslaved anymore but if you're a human being living on planet Earth you are physically enslaved you are living under duress because you are living under government externally imposed coercive government therefore your physical body is under the state of duress which is slavery okay so for people who don't already understand that I personally am NOT you know under the delusion that they may have an easy time of you know hearing what's in this presentation I fully recognize that for those who don't understand that that's the current human condition they may not even be able to consider this information with an open mind because this information requires so much was it information which is why I didn't come on here day one and start unpacking this information on day one it's show number 158 that I'm doing that okay for the people that don't maybe on the fence about understanding human slavery okay this isn't the material to start with I don't recommend that you put people on to my work with this presentation and say hey you're you want to check out some of Mark Patheos work go check out his cosmic abandonment presentation on YouTube were on his website bad idea really bad idea okay so if you somehow you are new to this podcast and you know you're hearing my voice now okay this isn't where you want to start folks this is where you want to end up okay information wise you want to go back and listen to the podcast number one and then podcast number one through 157 inclusive before you start listening and listening to this material this requires prerequisite knowledge meaning knowledge that comes before hand so you can establish a firm foundation in order to understand this information that's what prerequisite means okay you can't take calculus until you've taken algebra algebra is a prerequisite for understanding calculus okay this information has prerequisite knowledge that lies in my earlier 157 podcasts and my earlier video presentations so go check those out first before you turn yourself on to this information slide number 13 of course there's my website that I you know put in there for the people at the live presentation slide number 14 I explain to people that what the website addresses is the question of all-power why is this the current human condition and that's what this particular presentation is ultimately going to get into in a very big way now you could look at mind control and say well is that the reason for the current human condition yes it's part of the reason for the current human condition but why are people so success susceptible to mind control and don't want to think for themselves what's the underlying psychological condition that makes them puts them into that condition where they are malleable where they are programmable where they are able to eat pretty easily be deceived through the techniques of soft mind-control so what I'm talking about here in this presentation is the ultimate causal factors that have led to the psychological condition that Humanity is currently in how did we get from there to here what happened in our past that put us into the current condition we're in now very critical to understand and of course you know in explaining the human condition we have to understand that the reason that the current condition continues is because humanity does not live within the boundary conditions the parameter is known as natural law moving to slide 15 I started explaining that in this presentation and I consider this presentation an adjunct or a continuation of my natural law seminar and my new-age BS seminar as well because if you don't understand natural law you know you're gonna have a hard time with understanding this material and understanding the causal factors that have led us to experience what we are the condition we are in right now which is slavery so what is natural law okay why is it so important why do I say it's one of the main factors for the continuation of the current human condition did something put us in this condition yes but does that thing absolutely hold us in this condition no ignorance holds us in this condition you know the information that we need to understand is there unfortunately humanity continues to reject the information and does not want to understand natural law because understanding it places them in a position of adulthood and responsibility and as children who have been abandoned we want to fall back on that and say well we're just helpless children who are like this through no fault of our own and while there's a component to that that is true okay it doesn't mean it has to remain eternally like that you know it's it's this idea you know you we could just liken this for a brief moment to somebody who has gone into a state of self-loathing and then perhaps addictive patterns or addictive tendencies like let's say some drug addiction because they looked at themselves as inadequate because their father or mother had nothing to do with them when they were a young child and this happens all the time this is it not a rarity this is like the rule not the exception to the rule a lot of people who become drug addicts and who you know really do horrible things of themselves through drug abuse have abandonment issues parental abandonment issues psychologically and the rationale goes something like this well my father let's say wasn't around when I was young he took off and abandoned you know my mother and me when we were when I was very young this somehow is some kind of a reflection on me perhaps I wasn't good enough okay he didn't want to be around he wanted to take off he wanted to be with someone else okay and then therefore I'm gonna see that as a reflection on my self-worth and I'm gonna let that color who I see myself as we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen stay with us welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening let's continue with the cosmic abandonment presentation I was talking about this dynamic where people fall into a pattern of self-loathing because of parental abandonment and then you know they want to blame their continuation of staying in a condition perhaps like drug addiction on the fact that their parent abandoned them you know during the early part of their life and they're you know people who were 25 30 35 40 years old now well this is the past you know it's just this is completely applicable to the current human condition the story that I'm going to talk about happen in our ancient past it's not what's taking place actively right now our origins are one thing and what happened to us in the past are is one thing but we don't have to let that define who we are today and color our worldview today and this is why you know people say because I even talk about this okay I have to be some kind of a worker for the dark side because I'm trying to paint a hopeless picture in people's minds about the impossibility of changing things I've never said that things are impossible to change ever once from show number one in to this show to in in any of my former videos ever okay I've always constantly maintained change is possible it can the situation that we're in can be changed will it be changed as a different story can we summon the will to do what is required to change the current human condition that to be seen if enough people understand natural law and teach it to others we certainly can but the point I'm making here is you we we have to understand while this is something that this trauma happened in the past you can't let it define you in the current moment you can't be that person who's in a state of self-loathing saying oh my my father abandoned me when I was a child and therefore I'm going to continue to you know do horrific things to myself with drugs because my self-worth is still in the toilet bowl because I'm letting that scenario that happened 40 years ago determined Who I am and how I look at myself today the same thing has to apply here we have to understand yes this was a tragic thing that happened in the past you know woe is us it occurred okay but it's not what defines us in the moment and we can change we can do something different we can respond to it we can change ourselves epigenetically through consciousness through awareness then change behavior and then the manifested conditions will change and this is how natural law works to bring us our experience it works in the domain of consciousness and awareness with the capacity for holistic intelligence in the beings that have the capacity for holistic intelligence that's where the epigenetic boundary conditions of natural law are operating you know again well let's let's move forward slide 15 is this slide that where I define what natural law is so it says got natural law why not well what is natural law natural law is the body of universal non man-made binding and immutable conditions which act as the governing dynamics for the consequences of the behavior of beings that have the capacity for holistic intelligence I'll say that one more time natural law is the body of universal non man-made binding and immutable conditions which act as the governing dynamics for the consequences of the behavior of beings with the capacity for holistic intelligence you know people get confused about this sometimes I could tell people send me emails and I could tell they don't understand exactly what I'm saying when I explain the dynamic of that natural law doesn't apply to the animal kingdom it doesn't mean that humanity shouldn't treat the animal kingdom with non-violence okay i-i've said many times I have been a vegetarian for many years and I'm trying to go full vegan I'm about what I would consider about 98 99 percent of the way they're still wrestling a little bit with cheese every now and again I'm trying to cut that out completely though as well but I'm almost 100% vegan and have cut down my consumption of any even dairy products by probably about you know 95 percent or greater okay so you know probably over the next few months to a year I'll make that transition 100% complete but you know my point here is when I say natural law doesn't apply to the animal kingdom I don't mean it doesn't apply to our treatment of animals of course natural law applies to human treatment of animals okay how could it not there are other sentient beings what I mean is that the boundary conditions that govern human behavior are not the same boundary conditions that govern animal behavior because we are more than an animal okay so an a lion who takes down a gazelle in a field and eats the gazelle is not going to experience the same natural law consequences then let's say a human hunter that goes out with a high-powered rifle and shoots a deer all right because we have the capacity for holistic intelligence and we have we can understand that that's not a necessary behavior whether people you know through their religion called carnism still believe that it is or not okay versus an animal is a lion is an animal that is existing in Opera pure instinct and does not have the capacity for holistic intelligence because their brain does not have the complexity of our brain affording us the level of consciousness that we can arrive at which I am calling holistic intelligence meaning having both logical and intuitive and creative capacities working in balance together in hence intellect plus the generative capacity called creativity you know and that also includes nurturing and care and you know compassion for others for all beings so that's what natural law is and it's why we're in the situation that we're in continually until we understand natural law and live in harmony with it we can't come out of this condition okay so this is different for what got us into this condition it's a different story what keeps us in this condition is our ignorance of natural law what got us into this condition is what I'm talking about in this presentation but I'm making that distinction clear here in the early going what does it mean to understand natural law slide number 16 understanding natural law means truly developing conscience truly having conscience possessing what is known as conscience and conscience is knowledge it is the definitive knowledge of the objective difference between morally right behavior and morally wrong behavior that is an objective difference that exists in nature it is not a construct it is not a human conceptual construct idea that exists only in the human mind because the actions take place in the physical domain and therefore they are inherent to nature itself they are happening in the world of nature so their difference the difference between moral morally rights behavior which does not cause harm to other beings and morally wrong behavior which does cause harm to other beings is objective it is not something that is subjective and the knowledge of that difference is what conscience is so what does slide number 17 now what does living in harmony with nature law actually mean living in harmony with natural law means exercising conscience putting conscience into practice in our lives putting the knowledge that we have developed called conscience the difference between right and wrong behavior into practice into action in our lives through exercising behaviors that are in harmony with right action and not taking actions that are harmful to others so exercising conscience means willfully choosing morally right behavior over morally wrong behavior once the difference between the two is clearly understood and integrated into the consciousness of the Bing slide number 18 what happens when human beings live in harmony with natural law when we live in harmony with the laws of morality and therefore we are we have become moral beings the human condition turns into a condition of freedom and it stays that way for as long as we continue to live in harmony with natural law so when human beings live in harmony with natural law and they are therefore moral beings they become and remained free this is called the law of freedom conversely when human beings live in opposition to natural law and are therefore amoral beings they become and remain enslaved which is why we're in the condition we are in right now we'll pick this up on the other side don't go anywhere welcome back everyone we're into the third hour this evening of this edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm if anybody wants to call in I will be taking calls this hour the number to join us 800 three one 394 43 once again 800 three one three nine four four three all right while we're waiting for some callers to call in all continue with the presentation Kosmic abandonment we were on slide number 18 and I call this the law of freedom what determines whether a species that has the capacity for holistic intelligence is either free or enslaved and it is the answer is whether or not they are living in harmony with the laws of morality which are natural law when human beings live in harmony with natural law and are more therefore moral they become and remain free when they live in opposition to natural law and are therefore immoral they become and remain enslaved and that's how it works 100% flawlessly throughout the cosmos if you want to change the human condition from slavery to freedom you have to change the human condition from immoral meaning in opposition to natural law to moral meaning in harmony with natural law and the problem with that is what I call on slide number 19 the one true divide that exists within humanity most people believe in the existence and legitimacy of this concept called Authority which is slavery okay and a small tiny fraction of people are out of that religion and know that there is no legitimacy to slavery and that's the only real true divide between humanity that distinctly separates humanity into two distinct types of individuals you know all the other types of division are divide and conquer strategies okay but this is real this divide and the criterion for that divide again is whether or not an individual believes in authority and therefore believes that there is legitimacy to slavery the two types of people of course status and anarchists status are supporters of slavery by definition and anarchists are opposers of slavery by definition that's the only true divide and I've you know be labored this in the in the past so I don't need to go into that here again tonight you know most people who have listened to my former podcasts and you know my former presentations understand this and know my position on it and you know people have to understand there is absolutely no legitimacy to government there is no legitimacy to Authority it is an illusion it exists only in a mind that is diseased it's the notion the religion that a certain group of people that call themselves government have magical powers that other people don't possess they have rights that other people don't have okay they can do violence to other people unchecked and unchallenged make people do things that they don't want to do even though not doing them is not harming anybody okay or they can prevent people from doing things that that are harming anybody okay may I'm sure I should say make people do things that they don't want to do that that are causing harm okay and this whole idea that somehow these non-existent rights that are magically granted the government can somehow be delegated can be given to a group of people they don't exist for other people but somehow those people who those rights don't exist for can magically grant or delegate rights you know quote-unquote rights grant them to other people there's no such thing as the delegation of a right that does not exist the delegation of a wrong it's an illusory con people have to understand that and that's the problem people don't understand that they think somehow the laws of morality apply but not for government you know then it then they're suspended and again it's all that this filter mechanism that's just not present in a lot of people because of how much mind control they've been subjected to they can't apply logical filters you know because oh this doesn't apply because this is my religion I can't possibly look at this objectively you know from a position of actuality and truth because I have this mechanism that's in place called a blind belief system you know because you know I forget who said it but if you know understanding something means that you're going to lose your job or your paychecks um and I'm paraphrasing here if you know your job depends on you not understanding something then people will continue not to understand it to willfully choose willful ignorance you know if making money you know determines if somebody's job depends on them not understanding something you know they'll willfully choose to ignore the truth regarding that thing and you know that's there's no better definition of a religion than that that's what religion is preventing and holding people back from the understanding of truth just because they're somehow benefiting or think that they're benefiting they'll we're receiving these magical pieces of paper that aren't worth the paper that they're printed on and I think I'm benefiting and really what's happening is my soul was being destroyed and I'm going into deeper and deeper bondage and I'm taking my progeny there with me and that's what's really happening okay so let's move on to slide number 21 where I get really to the heart of what is at this the whole matter what this whole presentation is ultimately about what we're asking is why the current human condition continues the way that it is now that's ultimately what we're trying to get at that understanding so what's going on psychologically within humanity that prevents the current human condition from changing okay and yes it's our ignorant of natural law but why do we remain in that ignorance why are so people most people on this planet so unconscious that they continue to refuse to live in harmony with natural law they don't want the knowledge okay they don't want to develop the knowledge of morality why it's not human nature see that's where most people's mind will go oh that's just human nature no it is not human nature and if you think that you are completely incorrect and do not understand what human nature is you have a poisoned worldview when it comes to nature the nature of human beings and you think it's fundamentally flawed or bad and I'm telling you even with the genetic manipulation that's been done to humanity that we're going to talk about human nature still is not bad it is simply programmable that is how we were made as programmable beings why do we fail to recognize the rampant presence of evil that's going on all around us well that's because we don't want personal responsibility to change it why do we willfully some of us willfully participate in such evil either directly or indirectly and on the right hand side this tree of evil as I call it I'm trying to explain to people the causal factors for that the continuation of that condition and of course the reason that that continues is humanity's willful ignorance and I put that up at the top of the tree representing that willful ignorance is the leaves and the fruit of the tree it is what the fruit is what the tree bears ultimately it is not the foundation or the root of the tree so most people would say well what's deeper than ignorance well are there reasons people remain willfully ignorant are there psychological factors for that condition existing sure and we'll look at what they are on the other side of the break stay with us that's right we have to break on through and get out of our self-imposed barriers to self-realization to get out of the false religions that are holding us back from going to where to the places that we say we want to be as a species that's what this is all about expanding consciousness and getting out of the mind control systems that we're living under so we were talking about what are the factors that lead to the willful ignorance of humanity of wanting to stay in willful ignorance and not look at the truth you know and when we go down one level beneath willful ignorance which I look at as the fruit that the tree of evil bears it is the fear of owning personal responsibility you could look at as the the smaller twigs and small branches of the tree we don't want to be responsible for our own actions we want somebody else to do our thinking for us we want somebody else to do our discerning and judgment for us you know we don't want to really weigh our actions in the balance each and every time we take an action you know we want somebody to tell us this is what you do now go do it and then you're not responsible I told you to do it so I'm responsible and it doesn't work that way you know you're always responsible for what you do it doesn't make a difference who told you it was okay or not okay now you have to weigh the morality of an action and through your understanding of natural law take the right action over the wrong action but people don't want that because that involves personal responsibility and knowledge that is hard-won through effort of really deeply understanding the difference through discernment what is a right action what is a wrong action then there's a condition that underlies that well why don't people want personal responsibility well what kind of people don't want personal responsibility people who want to remain in infancy in childhood in a state of immaturity children in other words and that's mostly because they have not fully grown up and developed a deep personal relationship with themselves they haven't developed true self-respect they're still in a state of self-loathing they're still in a state of confusion they're still in a state of not understanding who they really are ignorance of self you know that that good that's what lies beneath willful ignorance of events that are taking place in the world ignorance of self why would anybody want to remain ignorant of themselves and how they work well that's because they can't possibly truly deeply love themselves they couldn't afford a deep personal relationship with themselves let alone anybody else you can't have respect for somebody else unless you have self-respect you can't have love for anybody else unless you have self-love and then moving to the next slide slide number 22 and then I'm going to go to some phone calls the ultimate thing that lies beneath the issues of willful ignorance the fear of owning personal responsibility deep issues of self-loathing confusion and lack of self respect not having truly grown up or forged a deep personal relationship with the self there are underlying parental abandonment issues that have not been dealt with or confronted and they exist for almost everyone in humanity and again we talked about this in the physical sense with you know abandonment issues parentally right in the here and now with your physical parents and that's whether they are there physically or not doesn't mean they're there you know not may not necessarily be abandonment issues there the parent can be physically present and there could still be other kinds of abandonment issues there could be psychological abandonment emotional abandonment spiritual abandonment not being emotionally available for the child not giving mental emotional spiritual psychological support for the child you know then there could be physical abandonment issues not being around to help support the child's physical needs etc all kinds of different abandonment issues and what we're going to what I'm going to explain here is this is the underlying psychological causal factor for the condition that humanity exists in I put this picture here on slide 22 showing the image of this bratty child being ignored by his parents who are sitting you know with another child paying attention to to her instead of him and he's in this freakout mode and I thought when I was looking for an image to convey what humanity the state humanity is actually in this one jumped out at me like a freight train okay it was just like yes this is exactly it this is exactly descriptive of the condition humanity exists in we are collectively Humanity is that child that once what he wants but is acting out okay that wants to be paid attention to that sees himself in some kind of a degraded way because of what his quote parents have done to him is letting that influence what he does in the future how he sees himself in the future and therefore influences behavior this is a model this is a framework that we're working with as we move through this deeper information about human origins I'm gonna hold it right there okay and let people take that in and absorb it all right and you know put that out there for their consumption and their thought and breakdown all right and let's go to the phone lines and take some calls because there's plenty of people who have called in now and are holding on the line and again you could talk about this topic what we've covered so far ask any questions about it you want or you can go off on to other topics if you want you know no taboo topics here all right so let's hear from Joe in Lausanne Joe you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hello Joe are you there hello yes there you go yes okay this joke melon how's it going Marcus I'm doing well great quick questions the first question is um you recommended micro cesarean or origins and Oracle's and about 10 hours of videos excellent I got through it and my question is um do you do you think his end game that he presents in the video of like the the dark ones that are here from the alien race do you think that they're really just trying to get back off planet and they can't because of the force field and they're trying to build up their tech it's very possible that some other beings galactically saw this place as a area that needed to be quarantined because of what had been done here I don't rule that possibility out and who knows what technologies they may have put in place you know I mean they could be at such a level of understanding and and development that they could be non technological technologies if you want to look at it that way they could be some sort of a spiritual technology that prevents any quote-unquote escape from the prison planet so I don't rule that out at all I'm not saying I it definitely is that way or that's a hundred percent true I I look at it as a possibility but my mind is open to that to that that we are physically quarantined here you know I wouldn't rule that possibility out at all because after all you know you think about it from a perspective of this state of consciousness that we are trapped in is like a disease and they don't want to just do away with the beings that are here to just snuff out all that life because they want to give it a chance to develop and to grow and to learn and to evolve so if you were in that position and you took compassion on what had been done to an entire species of beings a whole race of beings you might want to simply cordon it off from the rest of the local neighborhood so that what happens there if it's extremely destructive can be confined to that region to that area so we'll continue this on the other side stay with us stay on the line and I'll let you get to another point if you want on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen stay with us welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we were talking with Joe from LA he was talking about the possibility of earth being quarantined from the rest of the galaxy because of what has happened here and because of the condition that humanity continues to exist in and I was saying that I find that a plausible scenario not saying that I 100% definitely think that that's the case but it's certainly possible because if you just think about it from a human perspective if you know some animals we're creating a whole huge mess we would try to quarantine them somehow or not have them just run rampant through our our living space and that seems to be what possibly has happened to earth which is why beings only pop in and out of here occasionally maybe to check in on you know what's going on make sure we're not going to completely annihilate the planet because you know if we annihilate each other that's one thing but I don't think that they would even take too kindly to in another a body of you know a celestial body like the earth being taken out of existence which were you know pretty well on the way of in that respect as well but Joe there's that does that answer your question regarding my take on that and do you have anything else for us yes it really you know between your work and cosmic abandon and everything else and the barians work you know origin Oracle there's just so many possibilities to fathom so no it's just it's so nice so like you mentioned it's good to be a generalist and I really I'm lucky enough to be that kind of person where I can really hold in my mind as many different theories as possible just so that when something does go down I'll be like ah that's the one that sits there I do have one other I'm sorry no go right ahead I just had a question you mentioned earlier in your broadcast that you're going to go into more explanation of the Tarot you know future discussion and one of the things I used to Terrell and I use it based on the Kabbalistic Tree of Life yes um similar similar very similar and majorly instance by the way you described in your Podcast I noticed when I hit the 13th card death there's this picture of a bunch of the people dying later is like a priest a girl and people from all digital life they're dying of course death is beautifully and gracefully on his horse but then there's a cliff that seems to be rising almost like earth is ascending up on the right with 11 you know the double towers in the Sun so my question is and I believe in the site know the soul is eternal and I do believe in you know you pick certain incarnate sometimes I believe that the dark there also in addition to this slavery thing that they have a sin they have it locked in doing their bidding doing you know making their money in their taxes and all that but they also have a failing every time we die so that we're kind of recycling we chained carnot and instead of evolving or ascending like we should we just keep popping back in like a baby trying to learn his lesson stuck in the same taxes military left bring schools the religions of money all this stuff and never quite make it and I think they the dark forces that are off planet or the you know I'm not sure you you know the more a spherical force right it's got a hand in that to just recycling that the death you just keep going over and over and that's why I believe people might have so many passed by it's because you never get the idea of that ascension where you go oh my god this is it this is what it's all about and that's about that's about ignorant in this life for which death is no cure you know that all that old phrase death is no cure for ignorance maybe we have to do our work in here now feet on the ground spirit in the flesh right here on earth and if we don't do that we're not going anywhere you know that's how I look at that which is why the great work is the number one thing that we could do to truly learn grow and advance and evolve ourselves so that perhaps we can go on to another type of experience you know I'm not saying earth is the only experience here there's plenty of realms in the cosmos that we could be learning and growing in that are different from this experience maybe the only reason we keep coming back here is because we haven't learned the lessons of this planet that this planet has to teach us very possible scenario Joe I want to thank you for the great questions and insights so absolutely yeah and now look look out for that coming presentation that I'll be giving in Connecticut in Manchester in October because I will be going into occultism I will be going into the difference between occultism and mysticism I will be going into a cult symbology how it is used for both subversive purposes and mind control and how it is also used for how it can be used if people understand occult knowledge from the very positive perspective how it can be used to uplift and awaken your fellow humanity your fellow man and all of humanity by employing it in a very conscious way and that is how traditions like very symbolic rich symbolic traditions like the Tarot have been used by what I would call light oak cultists or do Cultus throughout the ages so that'll be coming up in my future presentation called demystifying the occult in October in Connecticut so let's move on to another caller let's hear from Swami shivananda Giri in Illinois swami welcome your live on what on earth is happening to everyone the Swami welcomes you with great love and great respect from my heart Oh Swami it was so great seeing you out in st. Louis and getting our getting to hang out with Shakti ma as well and we just had a great time at the the event at the the venue and then afterward at the after-party at ray and Pat's place it was just an awesome weekend yeah we had on type 1 radio ashram Network on blog talk we had rayon today on the type 1 radio lounge along with freighter really Thomas Sheridan also he could got his aquaponics because I think that as something that communities need you know if we can free ourselves from the food requirements by providing ourselves with community aquaponic setups this then gives us both protein and vegetation a barter for you know for community support Yehia definitely had an interesting system set up looked you know like it was pretty well sustainable and you know grew a whole lot of greens that way I'll tell you you know yeah he was telling us that he could with with the very small I mean his for those listening his set up is smaller than a one car garage by Allah yes and he said that would support I mean you know you know in a survival circumstance that would support up to 15 people amazing and that's sustainable year-round oh yeah he said he was he was growing all those greens and in winter and you know it barely um you know took any steam out of the equation the entire winter you know I mean so that was you know that was why I wanted to have him on on the lounge just to expose people to the fact that this stuff exists it is an option you know I mean we we are so blessed with mommy is so blessed to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with you and others for the good of team humanity raising consciousness one heart and mind at a time to whatever level they can take on and and just you know I mean I was explaining to shaktimaan that just the information you went over that day once upon a time one would have to be a part of some sort of secret society even to get exposed truth that's right and no but what I was you highly impressed with Swami when I asked people at the beginning of the day how many people were completely new or at least relatively new to my work over 50% of the hands went up you know now I was highly happy with that because that means the information is reaching more and new people and they're going to be turned on to it and then they're going to share it with others and it will expand then it was snowball from there and we're going to we're going to make more teachers as a result not that old saying I'm sorry that that old saying that the route that the true master that the the the the master who's the most effective isn't the one who has the most people listening to them or the most students if you will it's the one who makes the most masters or who influences people at least you know even saying makes them masters is wrong but who influences them to go on and become masters themselves and then to teach others that's the most effective teacher rightness and that that's one of the things this Swami was talking about on that show was that ended to be very honest to have a bunch of followers is a big pain in the ass that's right they want you to micromanage and you just don't want to deal with that this Swami wants everyone who is capable to rise up to the very same level in a spirit home independence share with more that's exactly right Swami always enlightening to hear you thanks so much for your great insights ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back you're listening to what on earth is happening we go welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening find a segment for tonight's broadcast let's go back to the phones I'm gonna skip around a little bit here let's hear from Bob and Poland Bob you're live on what on earth is happening all the way from Poland what city are you in in Poland Bob brought oh okay Bob dropped off the line sorry it would have been nice to have a caller from from Europe there but uh no worries let's go to Mike in New York Mike you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I'm on thank you for taking my call my what D hearing from you thank you I wasn't a person that you and I introduced me al not physically feel but I had the information as I'm saying the name wrong it's just Mirchi yeah to do Krishnamurthy yes okay planning information but uh yeah one of the things that really hit home with this is you know holistic understanding brings order into your life where you have built chaos you know really you learn how to reverse reverse to where you have the chaos on the outside but inside you expose order or unity and understanding and holistic understanding of yourself that's that's really really lost our power I really lost the understanding of ourselves why we're here who we are I know I was wrong in my life right about the time of 2008-2009 when I found your information the way you presented everything that you said nothing is wrong to the Thunder the way you presented it really really changed my life and the topic he brought up with parental abandonment I feel more of my life I I had a pretty decent parent but I I abandoned then I rejected them because I I wasn't sure of who I was - I wasn't them and I think coming from a very religious Catholic Italian family and not going along with the flow is is very difficult sometimes sure but I through the information that he presented and how you presented it and really taking in and studying and practicing that you know Mike the information I was actually able to find piecemeal or or or made up with my father before he passed away and I think without information without that timing coming into my life I don't think I would have been able to do that that I wanted to thank you personally for helping me achieve that before he passed away so that would be something that I would regret not being able to do so your information actually brought back the relationship where it was broken before and you know healed so it is possible and I thank you for it oh that's really awesome and I'm glad that you know the information that I shared was able to help you to do that in a relationship sense with a close member of your own family so that's really appreciated Thanks thank you so much I hope everybody I you know we show you know what I put the information back to your own life it will change you for the better thank you Mike thanks so much always a pleasure to hear from you and that's what it's all about folks I mean it's about you know learning and through what you have come to learn sharing that with others and creating a shared growth experience as a result where everybody is changed and transformed for the better in the process and that's what the great work is all about you know and if more of us did that we would see radical transformation throughout Society at such a more rapid pace than what we're seeing now I think we're on the very verge the very very tip of that process but it's there's not enough there to tip the process and you know toward the positive direction right now because of still how much mind control and false religion and fear is going on you know if more of us get involved in that teaching process you know the sharing of information process it's going to that shining that light is going to give other people quote-unquote permission it's going to lay their fears you know when you speak out other people see that and they take that as a as a sign they take that as a an encouragement you know that's helping them to develop the courage that you have developed for speaking out openly you know more of us do that the transformation for betterment of this species is going to happen at an accelerating pace so Mike always our brings our excellent excellent viewpoints and insights to the table whenever he calls into the show so Mike thanks for that let's hear from another caller let's hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi Marc players are speak Pia as always powerful and and from informative information you always have just want to comment on the tapestry of information that always blows me away and always inspires all of us and you know just ah-hoo quick comment I came across a s podcast where you mentioned you're on a guest on Bob Hoskins show and you came off to cross the topic of carnism and some of those callers and uh yes link wasn't working so i looked all over and i actually found it I listened to it and I was pretty amazed and shocked and some of these callers first I just wanted to make fun of you guys it has the quote the second guy wanted to justify his scientific means as far as protein the third guy courted scriptures in the last guy basically when you mentioned the laws of Correspondence he because he said I don't believe in that that's right all religion what you were witnessing there is real carnism is a religion you know and all of those people are trapped in that religion something that holds people back from where they say they want to go and you know III don't make this the number one issue when it comes to what we need to change of course it's something we need to change about the human species but I look at it like we need to see what we're doing to ourselves first and foremost and what we're doing to other humans first and foremost because that's where people in an ego identified mindset can see you know you you if you go right to that issue people in a totally egoic identified mindset are gonna have an even harder time seeing what they're doing to other species that they have no right to do and it can be a very difficult thing to get people to see anything different from what they've been programmed according to a cording to a religious belief system let me let's call it what it is so um I haven't like what I would call harp on this you know I've extensively gone into it in a couple of podcasts and destroyed the meat is necessary it's natural it's normal it's necessary etc argument that we can't get the sufficient protein from vegetable matter of course you can through spinach through other leafy greens through carrots through you know quinoa beans etc I mean there's so many things that have protein in it in in the plant kingdom it's it's unbelievable and you know this notion that you can't maintain total health by eating a plant-based diet is just it's Lieut it's it's nonsense it's ludicrous of course you can I'm personally proof of that I'm also proof of it that it can reverse conditions that's allopathic medicine and traditional mainstream science say there's no help for or cure or possible cure for and with a little bit of willpower and a little bit of dedication toward doing the right thing when it comes to putting what we should be putting into our body into it you know we can make extremely powerful changes that then flow over into behavior not you know thought and then of course into behavior and it also teaches us the lesson that you know of what is our property and what is not our property you know our other beings lives do they belong to us or that their lives to pursue this idea of live and let live you know has to really be exercised that is the non-aggression principle that is the Sacred Feminine principle that we should all strive to live according to so Raphael thank you so much for that great call that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes you could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next week thanks for listening everyone good night theory of human origins ok connected with non-human entities or beings connected with the current human condition to attempt to try to answer that all-important question of why are we in the situation that we find ourselves in as a species so that's coming up in the first two hours of the broadcast this evening in this in the third hour I'll be taking your calls about whatever topics you want to the truth freedom prosperity group hosts its monthly free documentary screening and discussion evening here in Philadelphia June 19 2014 we'll be getting started at 7 o'clock p.m. going until about 10 o'clock approximately maybe a little bit earlier than that it's held at the Guarin Recreation Center in South Philadelphia the Guarin rec center is at 16th and Jackson Street 1600 Jackson Street in Philadelphia the film for this month is thrive what on earth will it take so I thought this was a great film we showed it before it goes very deeply into the problems and the nature of the problems that humanity is facing as a species it posts it proposes some solutions as well I think foster gamble did a good job overall with the film and that's why we're showing it again - you know what is pretty much in this location now pretty much a new audience and the Guarin recreation center again is at the corner of 16th and Jackson there's a free parking lot there off the street parking for free almost unheard of in South Philadelphia the parking lot entrance is on Wolfe Street between 15th and 16th and the meeting room is in the main building it's the last door on the right after you enter the main building and this free documentary screening and discussion evening takes place as always on the third Thursday of every month so we show a different documentary on the third Thursday of every month it's always free to attend there is a cost associated with the rental of the rec center so if you can give any free voluntary donations if you're in a position to do so we do appreciate that it helps pay for the room and also feel free to bring your own food and drinks if you're going to come to the free documentary screening and discussion evening so that's my first event announcement hopefully some people will come out and we always have a good time at these events I will be speaking live in Manchester Connecticut on October 4th of this year October 4th 2014 I'll be giving a seminar entitled demystifying the occult the topic again it's called demystifying the occult and I'm going to be getting into a lot of occult symbolism both for the negative and the positive how it is used for subversive reasons to subvert the mind and put hold the mind in thrall and used for mind control purposes and I'm gonna get into the positive aspects of occult symbolism as well more likely than not deeply breaking down some Tarot symbolism in this seminar again it's Saturday October 14th at the Manchester Historical Society a beautiful building in Manchester Connecticut 175 Pine Street Manchester Connecticut this event is hosted by art Capozzi and his brother Chris composedly the same gentleman who hosted the natural law seminar that I gave in Connecticut in 2013 so really looking forward to being in Connecticut again this October I will have more details and I will also have an event flyer hopefully within the next week I wanted to try to get it done this week different events that I had to tend to made that not possible but I'm going to try to put my attention fully toward this event and create the event flyer this week and hopefully get that out on the website this week and be able to get that up on the images for the show next week here on what on earth is happening there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening dot-com website on the left-hand side of the page as you go to the homepage you'll see underneath the podcast section it will say donate to what on earth is happening if you felt feel that you have gained value by the information that you have seen and heard on my website you could show your support by making a monetary donation it helps out with expenses that I have purse in my life and if you feel you know like that's something that you would be interested in doing voluntarily there is a button there to do that and you could make a donation via PayPal Bitcoin or by check or money order via mail so with that having been said I want to direct everyone's attention to the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page that's on the radio show tab as you go to the main website or you could go right to it what on earth is happening comm slash radio if you're not already listening they're right underneath the player for the broadcast the live player there will be a section called images for tonight's show and as always on this radio show you could follow along with the concepts and ideas that I'll be presenting again I'll be giving a essentially what amounts to a presentation or a lecture in the first couple hours and then we'll be going to your calls and questions in our number-3 but there are two sections of slides called cosmic abandonment slides part one and two you'll see numerical links and you could follow along and as always I will try to be observant and make sure that I tell people the slide number than I am moving to last week we ended up on slide number 22 I'm going to start this week on slide number 22 and then move forward from there so also just to mention underneath those two sections of images there is a section there that says all cosmic abandonment slides you can download them in a zip archive which is just shy of about 50 megabytes if you'd rather unpack them on your computer and now double click them to look at them from there we'll start this presentation on the other side of the break we'll be right back the cool side we don't dare speak while between us [Music] I'm so deep we keep Richard there but there's nothing wrong welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn i'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm so let's get started with our presentation for this evening this is a continuation of cosmic abandonment and the subtitle of the cosmic abandonment presentation is an explanatory synthesis regarding human origins psychopathy slavery and the current psychological and social conditions of humanity that's a mouthful for sure and it's an attempt to explain just that why are we in the current psychological and social conditions that we find ourselves in last week we went through the first 22 slides of the show I'm going to rehash a little bit on slide number 22 and then move on slide number 22 shows what I called a picture of the current human psychological condition a an angry child who has been abandoned by his parents in a state of recklessness in a state of seeming helplessness in a state of resentment bitterness you know not knowing who they are not really knowing where they came from not really understanding how they find themselves in the condition that they find themselves in not understanding how to get out of that condition and the question that I posed was why are what is the underlying causal factors or reasons that so many people are continue to remain so unconscious that they refuse to live in harmony with the laws of morality what I call natural law why do we want to still exercise coercion and support coercion against other people why do we fail to recognize the presence of the existence of the vast amounts of evil they are that exists in our midst that the total control system that we are living and why do so many people refuse to acknowledge it for what it really is a system of evil and enslavement and slavery and violence you know they want to justify and make euphemisms for it and justifications for why it needs to continue to exist why will most of us willfully participate in such evil for things like a paycheck for just promises that will be somehow taken care of either directly or indirectly will participate in this evil directly by actually doing it or indirectly by supporting it and supporting those who actually implement this evil system that we are all trapped within right now well the reasons the underlying causal factors people would more likely than not say ignorance is the root cause but I don't list ignorant as a root factor okay it is a huge factor and if I could stamp out ignorance I would do it in a heartbeat and that's what this show is really ultimately about telling people we're here to learn and grow and understand the causal factors that create our conditions and as long as we remain ignorant of those causal factors we can't change those conditions but willful ignorance I would say is part of the symptom it's not the root of why people are in that mindset and see what we're trying to do is go down to the ultimate root causation in other words we know there's so many ignorant people willfully ignorant who don't want to know but why is that why don't they want to know so we have to dig deeper and go down to the deeper underlying psychological condition that lies beneath willful ignorance well and then we find well why don't people want to be knowledgeable well because knowledge carries with it personal responsibility and the people who want to remain ignorant are actually in fear of taking on personal responsibility because they're in a childlike mindset and they want to remain in that childlike mindset they don't have a vested interest in truly maturing or growing up and taking on personal responsibility to change things that are wrong with our conditions that are wrong with our world they just want to absolve themselves of that personal responsibility and say oh that's someone else's responsibility not mine but that's not the bottom-line level well then why are they in that condition what put them in a condition of I don't want any personal responsibility in my life that doesn't just happen conditions have to be created that make someone feel like that that puts them into that mindset well what did that and ultimately we find that people who are in if we dig deeper into the human psychological condition and look for the causal factor of why people don't want personal responsibility we find always the people who want to shirk personal responsibility are always in some form or another in a condition of self-loathing self-loathing self-hatred they don't love themselves okay they're in a position where they don't feel any true self esteem or true self-respect that's why they don't want personal responsibility and that's why they continue to choose willfully to remain ignorant and not to take knowledge into themselves okay so is that the bottom line though and this is kind of where we ended up last week and the answer of course is no that's not the bottom line that's not the base psychological condition that is driving the dynamic that we see in place in humanity well what then creates this condition of self-loathing in most people why are people self-loathing children psychologically what put that psychological condition in place from a very early age most people why didn't we learn from a very early age to develop true self-respect why didn't we learn the importance of our true individual self-worth from an early age and the answer to that question as painful as it may be if you really do the psychological homework and study the psychological dynamic that's at work in the human condition is most people on this planet are dealing with and suffering from parental abandonment issues they are suffering from issues of their parents not being there for them in some capacity it does not again I can't stress this enough have to mean that the parent was not physically there it could mean that the parent was not physically there was absent physically but that does not have to be true a parent can be present physically and the child can still suffer from abandonment issues parentally because the parent was not available emotionally psychologically mentally supportively in a empathic capacity in a nurturing capacity grooming the child spiritually okay providing for the child's mental well-being psychological well-being and spiritual well-being physical needs creature comforts base needs are only one aspect of things okay so even if a parent provided all of those things food shelter clothing clean water clean clothes decent schooling etc okay that's only one aspect of a child's personal development as a being and if the parent is not there for other aspects of the child's development there are still nested psychological abandonment issues and of course you have parents then they aren't physically present they literally abandon the child in a physical sense and aren't there you know marital issues come up parents separate sometimes people just you know engage in the sex act and have children and don't want to support the children because they're not a responsible human being they're a child themselves and they're giving birth to other children so at the root cause of this humanity is wrestling with parental abandonment issues that are nested at a subconscious psychological level we'll pick this up on the other side of the break we'll be right back [Music] [Music] and and [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com so parental abandonment issues most people would not think of that as a root cause of the human condition that we find ourselves in and what my thesis that I call cosmic abandonment is all about is what if it's not abandonment issues just operating at a personal scale level what if as a species we are suffering collectively from parental abandonment issues as an entire race of beings what if we had bad cosmic parents and parents is even it's just you know not even a good way of looking at it but it you know a very immature species that had just brought been brought into being could look at their keepers their masters their enslavers as parents you know but you got to look at it as totally abusive domineering control freak parents okay not parents in a traditional sense in a nurturing sense not what parents should really be doing ok so moving to slide number 23 when I was giving this presentation you know to a meetup group that discusses issues of UFOs alien beings possible interactions with humanity of non-human intelligences my question that I posed to them was well what could the human condition psychologically okay and the underlying root causes of why we're in the deplorable condition that we are spiritually and socially how could that possibly have anything to do with beings from elsewhere how could that have anything to do with the possibility of us being visited and continuing to interact with beings from places other than the earth well and regardless of what the nature of these beings happen to be whether we're talking about them as physical beings from other places in the galaxy that we live in whether we're talking them about them as interdimensional beings or spiritual beings of some type setting aside what people feel the nature of non-human entities maybe and hey it could be all of those things all right I'm not knocking any one particular hypothesis or theory here I'm saying let's set aside the question of what their nature is for a moment and let's talk about the possibilities of how they may have interacted with us in the past and there are accounts in many ancient records that we were the progeny of these beings that we were created by these beings and also that they interbred with us in many ways that they gave us our institutions that they gave us our quote-unquote laws that they gave us our systems of government and religion and money and this is what I want to explore throughout this presentation over the next many weeks you know what could this you know the questions here on slide 24 is how did these beings interact with us what does this have to do with how we exist right now the current condition in which we find ourselves so slide 25 I start to pose some of these questions like you know why do so many ancient accounts why are there so many ancient accounts of extraterrestrial visitation to our planet ancient accounts that go back right into human antiquity thousands of years old in many cases some of the oldest writings ever found are about interactions with what they called supernatural entities gods or beings from the sky as they refer to them and they're so similar they're not drastically different in the events that they describe you know it's not like it's just a wild imagining and fictional stories told that are all just random it they're very consistent and coherent as well when we look into these ancient texts it doesn't make a difference what corner of the world what geographical region what culture that they came out of or even the time period that they come from they tell very similar accounts of interactions with humanity of otherworldly beings that were not human and you know they describe very similar events in great detail and yet modern academia modern archaeology modern anthropology modern scientific you know thinking on this says that this is all just fantasy and myth it's all just fabrication it's all just imagination it's all just mythology and to me that stretching that stretches the limits of credulity when you talk about cultures that ostensibly didn't have any interaction with each other because we're told that we didn't have a worldwide global technological civilization that could have shared data quickly and across the oceans you know and then we're also given this linear progression theory of human evolutionary development as societies well then where do these myths come from if they're in the oldest they're already formed in the oldest cultures where they come from what is their basis if they're not some forms of historical accounts and once again I've made this very clear in past shows I don't feel like and all of these ancient writings are just all historical accounts some of them are allegories some of them are you know fictional narratives and they're talking about spiritual things of spiritual significance and moral lessons and they're put in allegorical ways for us to decode and understand some of them are symbolic but not all of them and it takes discernment and judgment to understand is this allegorical or is this a an actual historical account and are these people in the time period in which they are living and in the culture in which they are living trying to do their best the very best that they can to describe very bizarre otherworldly situations that they did not know how to put into words and they just did their best in in their language and in their writing style to describe what they were seeing so another question are human beings actually as are as is described in a lot of these ancient accounts the progeny of a nonhuman species or grouping of species that came to earth millennia ago not only thousands of years ago that's not even doesn't even stretch it far back enough not even tens of thousands of years ago many of these ancient accounts say that we've been interacting with these beings and that they have been here for hundreds of thousands of years hundreds of thousands of years so could that possibly be true and most people will immediately reject that and say oh no that can't possibly be and I asked people why why couldn't that be just because you're not comfortable with it because you've bought into another story about human origins yet your mind is totally closed off to it even existing as a possibility and how sure are we about these other so-called theories Darwinian theory of macro biological evolutionary development many people buy into it like a religion without any question they just accept that explanation from the entrenched powers in the scientism sphere I think we need to look a lot deeper than just the answers were being given by entrenched institutionalized so-called science because there's a whole nother story out there that these people who call themselves scientists are protecting because they don't want the implications dealt with or wrestled with by humanity and the social upheaval that may result as a result of people trying to come to grips with and wrestle with those implications that come from a very detached study of the ancient past and the historical accounts that we find in many ancient scriptures and documents you know these people have a very attached perspective and a paradigm that they're trying to protect because they have tenure and there's a lot of money invested in what they've already put out and they're already the leading authorities quote-unquote on the topic and they have tons of money wrapped up in museums and they have tons of money wrapped up in government grant money and archaeological funds and studies and digs etc and the other part of it is prestige they want to be the people that told the story about the human past and human origins truth be damned you know my name is down with some sort of a discovery it's all ego that's involved ego is involved in so-called science money is involved this these are themes I was bringing up last week and it's so important to consider this we'll pick it up from there on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on the Republic Broadcasting radio network don't go anywhere [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio continuing with our presentation cosmic abandonment for this evening we were on slide number 25 looking at some questions that are going to be explored as I unpack this presentation you know we're talking about well you know why are there so many ancient accounts of extraterrestrial visitation to our planet and interaction with the you know with our species what why you know why do we hear in a lot of these ancient accounts that it is possible that were the progeny of these beings that they made us you know many researchers and from the the translation and interpretation a lot of these ancient accounts suggest that we were made as a hybrid species for a purpose which was to do work for them to ease a burden that they took on because they had a mission in coming here for resources that were needed that they needed to procure and they didn't have enough manpower to get that done as I'm gonna talk about as I go forward in the presentation and so they made a slave species they actually created what they called a worker race and that's what humanity was and people will hear that and they'll be horrified how could you possibly even entertain the notion like that what that we've always been slaves at once again why isn't it possible I mean do we have all the knowledge about what really occurred in the ancient human past is that not possible that that could be the case that that could have happened and again most people will say it's not possible because I don't want to imagine that world doesn't make a difference whether it might be true or not doesn't make a difference whether thousands of ancient peoples try to tell us about it tried to write it down and preserve it historically see people have in their mind what they're comfortable dealing with is what's true and this is kind of where I start the real in-depth discussion here you know it is this all about what we're just comfortable with or is it about going all the way to what's true regardless of how uncomfortable and unpleasant that truth may be how downright ugly it may be so if we do some more questions in slide number 27 now that we could explore if we wrestle with those implications and try to come to grips with them is well if we had really really bad screwed up creators and I'm talking about creators with a small see the a lot of these ancient accounts called them gods I personally hate the term you know because then it paints in people's mind this picture of God capital G creator of the universe underlying intelligence and that underlies all of matter everything in creation and that's a horrible comparison to make because these beings are nothing even close to the creator of the universe in any way in any way shape or form and you know when we use if we do use that term we have to make sure we're putting it with a lowercase G gods with a lowercase G to delineate and differentiate from God the creator of the universe that force that creative energy that underlying in elegance I hate the term gods even I mean I I prefer to call them the farmers you know the illegitimate masters the illegitimate slave owners how about that for an accurate term the powers that should not exist at all that unfortunately have been in charge and have been in control of this species in this planet since time immemorial since we've existed as a species so another question is what effect did the whole situation of humanity's early quote-unquote upbringing have on the collective human psyche and then there's many accounts that these beings up and left when they were finished using us for whatever purposes they had for us they took off they didn't want to stick around here this isn't their world they went back to where they came from most of them largely I'm not dismissing the possibility that there could very well still be some of them here or maybe their progeny their answer that you know that there are you know lineages that procreated an intern bred with humanity they're those bloodlines certainly could still be here with humanity I would suggest that they are but I'm talking about as a whole the original beings that came here from these ancient accounts more likely than not in the very vast majority of them took off and went back to where they came from and since they were living as our masters our gods are quote-unquote parents with humanity for millennia what did that sudden abandonment what kind of an effect did that have on humanity you know that's like living with a parent your whole life and then suddenly them being gone out of nowhere not even giving you a reason why they left what kind of a number will that do on a child psychologically spiritually how significant are these events of cosmic abandonment quote-unquote the disappearance of these beings how significant art is that kind of an event to the understanding of the current psychological condition in which humanity currently exists as I said I feel that our current condition is that of a bratty spoiled in many ways child who doesn't want to grow up because it hasn't developed the real self-respect because essentially it was used and thrown away when it was finished being used and we still have then imprinted on us throughout time from our early childhood as a species another question what does humanity really need to understand within itself in order to rectify these deeply seeded psychological traumas that have occurred in our early childhood you know that it accumulated over vast stretches of time in our in what I call you know admittedly a rudimentary term here our troubled childhood which again is putting it mildly it doesn't do it justice like a lot of the terms don't do it justice I don't want to really call these beings gods they're not our gods or not my gods you know they're not the gods of anything you know not as far as I'm concerned you know the the ancient peoples might have called them that because that's how they interacted with them but they're certainly not gods nothing of the sort you know other researchers have called them different things someone like William Bramley like I said he called them custodians which suggests caretakers I don't like that term either that suggests that these beings were so caring of us you know that they were really nurturing and tried to support custodian suggests that you're doing something to protect and care for something not that it's not what the ancient evidence shows it shows that there may be a very small amount of them that looked at us like that but it was probably insignificant when it came to the vast numbers of how these beings interacted with us you know other people have called them supernatural entities Giants you know I just refer to them as the farmers that's my name for them that's the one out of all the names I could possibly come up with that's the only one I could think of you know I like to term archons because it suggests illegitimate rulers illegitimate masters you know people who try to take total control and ownership of other people and look at themselves as a slave owner you know how about that the runners of the big plantation called Earth you know that's a great name for them I just call them the farmers personally because they're just running a big farm here let's move on to slide number 28 this is the part one like I said last week this some presentation is really given in three parts the story of our past the story of our present the story of our possible future so part one is the story of our past where I'm going to give a generalized account of a breakdown of the ancient story of human origins that are taught by many different cultures and you will begin that will begin this section the story of our past on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divided today I tried to hide welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcast I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com were into the second hour of the broadcast for this evening I'm going through my cosmic abandonment thesis where I am talking about the connection of the interference theory of human origins to the current human psychological social spiritual condition that we are experiencing on earth right now and I'm on slide number 28 if you're following along with these slides they can be found at the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show or with this podcast this will be podcast number 159 so we were on slide 28 and we're beginning the section called the story of our past and this is where I'm going to basically begin breaking down a rudimentary admittedly general outline of what happened to humanity in our very very very early stages of our existence and our development as a species so before we do that I just want to cover a couple of things if we look at slide number 29m beginning this presentation with this quote in mind as we move forward and again this has everything to do with how people may or may not be open to the reception of this particular kind of information as weighty and heavy as this information is as dark and disturbing as it is this is a gentleman by the name of Travis Walton and for people who aren't familiar with him I highly suggest you become familiar with this gentleman and his story I've met Travis on a couple of different occasions and he is an absolutely beautiful human being as far as I'm concerned I have tremendous respect for him as an individual he carries himself with an air of quiet an air of respect for himself and for others around him I've spoken with him at a conference I've been on a discussion panel with him it was a pleasure to do so and I've read his book and I just think that he's put out a lot of great information for people and he's told the truth and been attacked and ridiculed for it and again it all comes down to how do you make a decision about who you will believe if there is fragmentary evidence and you know not 100% proof you know personally I use my intuitive capacities when it comes to that and and I bet I also look at things from a logical perspective and say is this possible is this likely I look at the person you know what do they have to gain or lose as a result of bringing this information forward and then there's that unknown that X Factor and you kind of get a sense for that when you look into a person's eyes particularly in person and all I can say about Travis Walton is for people who aren't familiar with his story as strange spectacular and unlikely as the story may sound or seem I believe him period you know I'm not afraid to say I believe somebody without proof of something that doesn't make me a total true believer of everything that's floating around out there weighing the the evidence weighing the possibilities having met someone in person having been around them having spoken with them having gotten an intuitive feel for what they're about I can say that I completely believe that what he is telling is the truth as he feels he experienced it and again he's a abduction experiencer who was taken on board a nonhuman vehicle craft of some type and he was actually physically worked on while on the craft because what happened was he got too close to the craft and it looks like energy from the craft arced to his body and in doing so he was probably going to die and instead of just allowing him that died this particular group of beings decide to take him on board their craft and heal him with their methods of healing for some reason maybe because he was here to do something and it wasn't his time to leave this world or this life you know maybe he still has a lot of work to do and to come forward and speak on which I feel he's going to continue to do but in his book fire in the sky it's a book named of the same name as the movie that was made about his experience which while he was gone while he was on board this craft he was actually out of human time for about five or six days I think it was five days and people were looking for him and they blamed his worker his co-workers because he was a logger in the Pacific Northwest and they blamed his co-workers for his disappearance his sudden disappearance and wanted to bring them up on murder charges because they thought that they killed him and dumped his body someplace these people might have found themselves in you know in court on murder charges for crime they didn't commit and he finally turned back up a few days later naked and on a desert deserted road outside of the town where he lived in Arizona and just you know in a completely deplorable mental condition as a result of what he had gone through this otherworldly experience that he had gone through so he wrote a book about his experience I think he wrote a couple of books I have the one that I think it's a second book that I actually own and in that one he talks about the aftermath of the experience not so much the experience itself he talks about how when he told came out with telling the experience how he was received how people interacted with him you know how people treated him and it's a great breakdown of the dynamic of the psychological dynamic of human beings and how they treat other people who they don't agree with concur with understand the story that they're trying to explain of what happened to them you know how we just jumped to conclusions and then and then act accordingly you know we don't want to really hear all the ins and outs of it and way the situation in our mind we already base it upon our preconceived notions of what is and what is not and that's what this quote is about and I feel it's so powerful it's one of the most important quotes I've put in any of my presentations in his book fire in the sky Travis Walton said quote I have come to realize that the biggest problem anywhere in the world is that people's perceptions of reality are compulsively filtered through the screening mesh of what they want and do not want to be true ok now you really have to think about what he's saying here I'll read it again he says I've come to realize that the biggest problem anywhere in the world is that people's perceptions of reality are compulsively filtered through the screening mesh of what they want and do not want to be true they're not looking at things as either this is true or it is not true and I need to adjust my perception accordingly no it's the exact opposite I have my perceptions of what I feel are true what I am comfortable with accepting and anything that does not cannot be filtered through that screening mesh needs to just be rejected out of hand entirely it needs to go because I'm going to determine what is true and what is not true based on what I want to be true or what I don't want to be true and let me tell you what that's called folks Travis Walton doesn't say this in his book but I'm gonna tell you what that's called that's called claiming to be God when you're in that mindset I get to make up what's reality we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio continuing with our presentation cosmic abandonment for this evening we were on slide number 29 that was the quote by Travis Walton that sets the stage for the whole presentation slide number 30 another quote with a very important message by the spiritualist Anthony de Mello de Mello said that quote it is a great mystery that though the human heart longs for truth in which it alone finds liberation and delight the first reaction of human beings to truth is one of hostility and fear very powerful but very sad statement regarding the current human condition very true statement regarding the current human condition the human heart is actually crying out for truth it wants to know deep down inside we want to know the truth fear holds us back from it because it's ugly it's not pretty it's not a pretty picture it's not a pretty situation you know we've been dragged through the mud downtrodden kept down enslaved there's nothing pretty about that but unless we acknowledge that we're not going to be able to move on unless you acknowledge where you're at you're not gonna be able to pick up the pieces and say hey this is what happened now what am I gonna do about it and most people they don't want to know they don't want to make a diagnosis of the current condition of the problems we're up against because that puts them in fear looking at that negative dynamic so he's saying truth is the only thing we can really find liberation and delight in and yet our first reaction to it is hostility and fear we want to lash out against those who are trying to tell us the truth and the image I put along with this quote is very interesting and telling as well you know an iceberg showing only the very tip of the iceberg is above the surface and seen the very bulk of that mass or that body is below the surface is unseen it lurks beneath the waters the whole truth is often hidden from view and that's what this is all about when you study moving on the slide number 31 now when you study this type of a topic you are looking into the occult this information is occult information and once again that word here that people are no stranger to that word on what on earth is happening but for those who may be new to the show or this type of information and I don't recommend just listening to this show if you're new to it if you are new to it you shouldn't be listening out of order go back to podcast number one and listen in order from podcast number one all the way through because this presentation has prerequisite knowledge certainly my natural law seminar is 100% prerequisite knowledge to understanding even the information that's contained in this presentation but the word occult just to reiterate it it does not mean evil bad you know nasty you know it's not a word that alludes to any specific practices okay it is a word that simply means hidden it is derived from the latin adjective occultists meaning hidden and that word ocultist comes from the latin verb occult RA which means to hide to conceal or to keep secret both of those words in turn come from the Latin noun oculus OC ul u.s. oculus means eye so this is all related to the vision related to what is seen and what is unseen largely what is largely unseen in other words what ocultism or occult knowledge is is that which is hidden from human view hidden from human sight often deliberately there's a reason that the occult the knowledge of hidden topics hidden studies are deliberately kept back from humanity and moving on to slide 32 the reason for that is the knowledge of the occult has been hidden in order to create and maintain a power differential between those who hold that knowledge and those who remain ignorant of that knowledge because what the occult contains is knowledge about the self knowledge about how the human psyche operates knowledge about how our mind works knowledge about how our body works knowledge about how energy systems work knowledge about how the earth works knowledge about how the universe works knowledge about how the laws of morality work knowledge about knowledge about how the dynamic of human freedom or slavery works and if you're in possession of all that knowledge and how all that stuff works and you have another group of people that know not one damn thing about how any of that stuff works you know how much of how easy it is to keep those people under your thumb to keep them down to keep them enslaved to keep them doing your bidding it's a piece of cake child's play literally pun intended it's like just toying with a child and that's what the owners of this planet have been doing with the abandoned children of this planet for thousands and thousands and thousands of years toying with them it's a big joke to them it's nothing like I said it's a piece of cake it's child's play to do what they're doing they could do it with one hand tied behind their back proverbially so to speak because as long as people remain ignorant how are they ever going to challenge them how are they ever gonna understand their true self worth their true value and rise up and say no and make that no stick because you're backing it with teeth and you're not gonna allow yourself to be enslaved and you're not gonna let this condition of coercion and violence go on unchallenged that's what the occult is and because people still lack that hidden knowledge they can easily still be controlled and until people grow up and start to understand that the occult is not something that is bad or evil yeah there's not a bad aspect to it dark occult is a means you're hiding that knowledge from people but there's a positive application of that knowledge if you understand how the human psyche works could you use it to uplift other people could use it to uplift humanity of course you could you know so that's what this is ultimately all about it's about taking that knowledge and bringing it to other people shining a light on what's going on in the world helping people to understand how they work how their psyche works helping people to understand how the laws of nature work I call that do cultic of this hidden information which is why I like to look at myself not as even an ocultist even if you tack on the word light to that I prefer look at myself as a do cultist of hidden knowledge attempting to level the playing field moving on the slide 33 if we look at all the various different traditions and texts that talked about this knowledge of the ancient human past and how we had interactions with non-human entities and how we were created by non-human entities and how they lived among us and gave us our institutional systems every single kind for control purposes not to advance us not to help us to live in harmony with each other to make it easier for them to control us okay all of these different traditions from every single corner of the globe is essentially telling a similar story or they're telling a different aspect of the story from a different perspective you can go into the Babylonian creation tales the animilitia of Babylon okay you could go into the Akkadian texts a sister culture to the Babylonian and Sumerian the Sumerian cylinder seals very important information when it comes to human origins the Kunia form tablets of the Sumerians itched in painstakingly in clay the biblical texts the book of Genesis the Book of Enoch a so-called apocryphal biblical text we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us we go [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we are going through the cosmic abandonment presentation that I originally gave back in December of 2013 I'm unpacking it in detail and we were on slide number 33 which shows a conglomeration of different ancient texts that talk about the interactions that he ain't human beings had with what these ancient humans referred to as gods beings that had to do with our creation and early development and who set the early institutional systems that became the systems that we still work with today globally I would just call them control systems because I as I was saying before the last break they didn't give us these systems to nurture us protect us or have us interact with each other wisely and justly they gave us these systems to keep us out of their hair so that we we could be more easily controlled by them they could use us for their purposes and then do what they needed to do and get out of here with his little hassle as possible you know you could look at I was talking about the different kinds of text from the Babylonian and Sumerian text the Akkadian texts Assyrian texts again these were like sister cultures to the Sumerian culture which seemingly as you know even modern anthropologists will tell us seem to have come out of nowhere almost fully formed with a writing system a system of you know aqueducts and plumbing and water transfer and building techniques writing methods seemingly fully formed well if that's the first culture where did all that come from and you know you see some examples of their clay tablets and Konya form tablets in in this image here and then some fragmentary biblical texts in the middle of the image you know you have creation epics like the epic of gilgamesh from the Sumerian culture the Babylonian culture you have the biblical texts out of the Middle East of course that are a watered-down variation of these ancient stories from the Sumerians particularly things like the book of Genesis the Book of Ezekiel and others the apocryphal works which are were left out of the main Canon of the Bible specifically because they contain so much detail about these accounts like the Book of

Enoch you know just like the NAG Hammadi texts the gnostic gospels as they are called or left out of the canon when the biblical canon was formed during things like the council of nicaea and afterward because you know they wanted to set a specific a specific set of constraints in belief that they could control and steer and they don't want anybody thinking outside of those that paradigm or outside of that box so of course information detailed information about human origins or how humanity interacted with the quote-unquote gods that has to go all mention of in reincarnation has to go all mention of the kingdom of heaven being an internal state within you a form of consciousness you know that is how we become quote cry stood or unquote anointed that has to go it all has to be about externalize ation of power looking for a form of medium interaction looking for a form of you know putting a priest as an intercessor between you and the divine force you know that's what religion had to be all about otherwise how can you control people you certainly don't want them to know about their true origins you know then they'll be asking a whole lot of questions that are very untidy and that have a lot of implications that we don't want to talk about so you know you look at other cultures as well like the Indus cultures of the Indus Valley where India is now and you know places like you know Tibet Nepal etc the the Vedic scriptures some of the oldest known writings in humanity you know the Veda just Vedas just means knowledge that's what the word means I believe it comes from Sanskrit and you know a lot of the information about these beings is also contained in the Vedic texts their interactions with ancient humans you have that story of battles taking place between the gods in things like the Mahabharata and the srimad-bhagavatam from the indus valley traditions the Ramayana extensively details a lot of interactions between these quote-unquote gods and ancient humans other cultures as well like you know the meso American cultures the Maya Popol Vuh talked about the that's the Maya creation epic that talks about gods creating humanity for their own purposes and how they tried to get them to venerate and revere them to venerate and revere them you know you have all of the ancient Norse legends and myths the ancient poetry of the the Norse people called the Eddas epic poems about the interactions of the gods and human beings the Greek traditions you know talking about the old gods the Titans then the newer God's the Olympians we can go on and on and on African traditions the Dogon tribes tribal stories and histories about interactions with beings like from other worlds particularly serious Assyria the Syrian star system the Zulu tribes of Africa and their histories preserved by more modern caretaker such as credo moot wha a shaman of his Zulu tradition you know interactions with beings from other star systems as well who they called the cheetah odori you know possibly from the tower Ian star system or possibly Orion you know it's all there if we take it at face value and say were these people going through the enormity of difficulty that it would be to try to preserve in writing the knowledge that they possessed and had witnessed or are they just trying to write fanciful fictional stories that they want to tell their children at bedtime to me that doesn't make any sense whatsoever an ancient people who had to go through such trouble to maintain and preserve text they could have printing presses and papyrus and reads and primitive inks and clay tablets that they etch to painstakingly and tiny cylinder seals that they carved into painstakingly in detail in Reverse and then rolled them into clay and waited for them to harden now to go through all of that just occurred just for some imaginative story that you want to tell your children or you tell your tribe to entertain them I personally don't think so I mean it to me that that's not that's not applying Occam's razor as far as I'm concerned you know if we're gonna talk about what explanation seems the simplest and probably makes the most sense I think they were telling people about events that they had witnessed and undergone and there are a rich part of their culture and their tradition in their way of life and they wanted to painstakingly preserve that for future generations so that they can understand what had happened and understand why the human species was in the current condition that it was in so maybe they could do something about it once they had that knowledge that's what I think that these ancient peoples were trying to do personally so let's begin getting into the general outline of this story and once again I'm not going to unpack this in great detail until after I tell this whole story or thesis that's what the purpose of this presentation was to let me give an outline okay then we can go into some of the texts and breakdown things and talk about things in detail and even bring more conjecture into it about maybe the nature of these beings what they were doing here okay what they may still be doing or wanting from us but let's give a what I would call a basic rudimentary outline of the story as it is told from many of these different traditions we could put it together as you know a tapestry alright so in slide number 34 I begin telling what I call the story of the ancient past and again you could research this through a myriad of other researchers erich von daniken zecharia sitchin William Bramley Michael tel injure David Icke Michael - sorry on and the list can go on and on and on okay many researchers have gone into this story and broken it down and got into many different perspectives of it but it all comes down to an ancient non-human race coming here and interacting with this planet for reasons of their own and will begin telling that tale on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] the cold that we don't hear speak Wow between us [Music] Cole decides to walk welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening before I continue with our presentation cosmic abandonment I want to re give people the calling number to join us because in the next segment I will start taking your calls questions concerns anything you want to bring up or talk about no taboo topics ever here on this show the calling number to join us 800 3-1 394 43 once again the calling number to join us here on what on earth is happening 800 3 1 3 9 4 4 3 so hopefully there'll be plenty of people in queue and as always I think you know we have great callers here I always say that on what on earth is happening has the best callers and talk radio and it's always a pleasure to hear from people and the insights that they bring to the table and the questions that they ask are usually very point on on point okay so let's saw continue with the presentation for this segment we were talking about the general story of what happened to humanity in the ancient past is that beings that were non-human that were not from Earth okay that have been described in a myriad of different ways they were called gods as I talked about before they were called supernatural entities they were called Giants or Watchers in some of these texts they were called in the Sumerian texts which are some of the oldest texts that talk about this information and the most detailed they were taught they were called the Annunaki a n u n kay I okay and that term in Sumerian actually means those who came to the earth from the heavens those who came to the earth from the sky from the heavens and really actually I shouldn't even say sky that's wrong because they had a different word for sky which meant the sky the atmospheric sky above the ground and the heavens which meant cosmic sky okay that's what they were talking about here when they talked about you know those who came to the earth from the heavens the sky beyond the sky in other words space literally they meant interstellar space the word that they used when it met were in this in this word Anunnaki when it meet meant those who came to the earth from the heavens men what they were really saying is those who came to the earth from interstellar space if we are very accurate about the language okay so now first of all if they're talking about beings that arrived on earth from interstellar space in the distant past they actually made a word to mean that concept it's like if we were to say extraterrestrial beings from interstellar space if we were to say astronauts from elsewhere okay they had a word for that in their language and the word for it was Anunnaki okay it doesn't mean a race of necessarily a single race of people means though the ones who came to the earth from the sky beyond the sky the cosmic sky the interstellar sky that's literally what that term means in the Sumerian language so the Sumerians tell in their ancient scriptures that the there was a mission that these beings were on they didn't come here for no reason they'd weren't just exploring and we're just out exploring the galaxies are looking for new places that colonizer and have been or anything like that they came here on a resource gathering mission they were here to procure resources from the earth that they required for survival on their planet and there's a lot of differences and debates different researchers have talked about what they may have been here for there's a general consensus and the theory most put out there is by the researcher Zecharia Sitchin who talks about that they were here for gold that gold is a very sought-after resource throughout the galaxy because of its properties and its properties that still remain largely unknown to humanity I talk about later in this very presentation there's no actual intrinsic value in gold people talk about it as having intrinsic value well that's a perceived value intrinsic doesn't mean perceived value okay intrinsic means what can you actually do with it in nature in reality and we'll get to this later but it's kind of important even bringing up this now because you know when we think about why they may have come here maybe they knew that gold had some properties that we don't know about still to this day why is it so highly prized why was it sought-after by them you know the theory is that oh somehow that it's reflective nature was used to repair their atmosphere or to block sunlight to reflect and reflect sunlight out into there into space from their Sun because their protective layer of ozone or other gases in the high atmosphere we're failing or we're growing thin I don't know if I accept that explanation I'm not closed off to it and saying it couldn't be possible but I don't know if that that's what would drive them to come to this planet to mine the amount of gold that they're claimed to have mind when we look further into these accounts so they had a mission to secure resources and many researchers say that it was gold and well I'll just say in this outline that it was for purposes that are not fully understood by us in the modern day again I don't want to make a lot of these points things to argue about or to nitpick about we can talk about the possibilities another time we're trying to paint a general picture an overarching generalized picture here at the beginning to form a tapestry and we could follow the the points the finer points of the tapestry after all right let's put the pieces together first the fragmentary pieces of this puzzle so this mission for resources was led by in these accounts as it is told to brothers and again I'm going to use going forward in this generalized thesis the Sumerian epic alright their accounts because I think they're the most detailed and so these names aren't that important you know you can look at their names in the meso american tradition the creator' twins who not poo and cheb lanka alright if I'm hopefully pronouncing those right but these were their names in the meso American or Mayan traditions the names aren't as critical to have to focus on we're talking about but possibly doesn't even represent individuals see I don't I'm not so attached that these were single individuals these could have been like factions or family lineages of these beings you know there could have been a quote n key faction and an quote Enlil faction of these beings the the the story has put forward in the Sumerian epic tales of creation were that these were brothers they were royalty they were royal brothers and one's one brother's name was zenki and one brother's name was Enlil okay en ki and then the other brother was end though and lo was actually like the commander he was the one who was the mission commander and the second-in-command was NT his brother they were sons of a king on their homeworld their their homeworld had royalty through bloodlines that was propagated through success and rites of bloodline possibly where we got that concept in on earth the the royalty dynamic the Divine Right of Kings the succeeding of royal lineages through blood okay not by your merits not by your talents your capabilities but by blood alone so the mission was led by two brothers Enki and Enlil and they were sons of the King on the their homeworld these beings homeworld and that Kings name was Anu and I'm gonna leave it right there for this week unless there aren't that many calls then I'll pick back up into the material but we'll go to your calls on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Applause] [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening we're into our number three of this evenings broadcast I'm gonna open up the phone lines and go to your calls any topic is fair game we've been talking about the possibility of extraterrestrial or non-human interference with human development possibly even these beings being our makers and having created us for their purposes for some unknown agenda dark and disturbing though it may be there's lots of evidence to support that in the ancient past and our ancestors trying to tell us trying to send a message down through time to tell us about our origins so that we could do something to change it to change the existing human condition of slavery so let's go to the phones and see what people have to say tonight all right Brandon in Boston you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey thanks mark great great Joseph I wanted to bring up the fact that I just don't know and so the universe whatever chair and bail reading on chair are talking a wolf which is your inhalation you know in any you have this line of cane and there you have the two fighting brothers and in the line of two became his Grendel's associate he's a sixth generation from cane right and he's um also an honor to serve grass and and he also did say oh he has the ancient work of giants he is a Mason and Smith and yet he has the giant the hatred of men and more enemies it's with Cain the outlaw and murderer you associated the older traditions of the north is clear such references as Genesis concerning Tula Cain and craftsmanship and brass and iron when the iron age will fuse with the tradition will finding Grendel's lair work of trolls of oldest or both of superhuman size and supernatural power in the work of the giganteus in a relic of the flood and so this is contained I mean Yura is a hopeless but you know for those who really seek and and granted like you know not too many people have access to the oxford boggling library which is you know closed office certain people they don't read those books are talking right you really included it in a lot of his so-called fantasy and I'm an errant word if you trace it in the etymology in the philology of the word you can really find out these languages as you're talking about an etic association to not just cold you say but just iron you know these people be giant it's a good iron ears well he was absolutely pointing people in the direction to study our ancient past and the things that he talks about in his fiction are I would suggest the people not necessarily fiction but allegorical and trying to explain to people what's been going on in our world for millennia and you know his all of his work is just it's you know not even just his fictional work I mean if you just look at his his non fictional writings his letters and you know some of the philosophy that are contained therein I mean this guy was brilliant really understood what was going on in the world and you know I just think that people cannot underestimate his work and really should look into it and discover the profound message that's contained in it he fully understood what was really going on here and feel that he probably felt that humanity wasn't ready for the direct truth so he encoded a lot of his knowledge that he came by into his fictional material and put it out as allegories so that people could more readily absorb it I mean that's my take on poems work so oh thanks for that I mean that's that's really great now what was that contained ending then that was his you know that's why I mentioned this because this is actually nice fiction right this is actually his scholarly work trying to actually create a link between Grendel availables okay big giant older comes in and kills everybody except available and because he's the offspring of Cain and how you actually have this lineage like it was very important as you say it wasn't like us just picking up a pen and marina sure no it was you know the painstaking process and what and what of his writings is this or were you were you reading from a referring it of a yeah this is his recent translation available his translation Tolkien's translation Beowulf very interesting you have to chucking it out beautiful and there's a lot and Christopher Tolkien does his son does a really great commentary on end and in here has there is the line from to booking and the Giants and that's where you know you have the energy sure you know anything you know the flowers you just the word reveals at all sure and the whole idea that you know the pursuit of the Ring of Power is literally about the pursuit of power and lost and greed and control you know all the things that basically are soul destroying forces and you know how that has to be carried to its oblivion if we're going to burn that out of the world destroy it but through a purification process by the the the average everyday person who the you know was represented by The Hobbit you know that everyday individual who you know has to take on that that spiritual battle upon their shoulders and Burton you know basically take on that burden even though they don't want it it's now it's such brilliant spiritual allegory encoded in like you know really imaginative works of fiction I mean I can't imagine anybody not loving the works of Tolkien and you know even the movie adaptations that have come out based on his books it's just it's something that as far as I'm concerned is prerequisite viewing reading exploring when it comes to the whole spiritual journey and spiritual battle that's going on here on the earth for anybody that's into it in any way at all you know you have to look into this guy's work so Brandon really thanks for that I'm gonna check out that translation as well that sounds really interesting oh all right and it yeah all right great mark thanks so much all right great call let's let's take another call here in this segment let's hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark how are you tonight doing well how are you good I just had a couple comments you know a lot of people like to say that money is the root of all evil and I say it's ignorance and fears that there is a root of Perpetual evil basically yeah I would I would definitely say that if you want to eradicate something you know ignorant is what really has to be eradicated especially self ignorant self-knowledge is what is needed I would also say that all forms of money are ultimately control systems and based in something that is illusory and doesn't really have true intrinsic value but you know and that's ultimately going to breed more ignorance of self so you know I well I would say you know money may not be the root of all evil and I would say fear and ignorance definitely are the root of evil I would say money plays a big role in being the enabler for evil in this world for certain I call it a religion I call it the ultimate religion it's that it's become the god of this world beyond a religion it's become the people that it's become the force that people prop up as a as a you know an idol to literally worship in the world and as long as I tell people as long as a piece of paper or even a representation of value is your god bondage is the place you're going into and staying there so we'll pick this up on the other side folks you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us you welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we were talking just before the last break with Rafael from Indiana was talking about money as in in his view isn't the root of all evil but it is ignorance and fear that ultimately are even deeper causal factors for evil and I brought up the fact that you know if we base what we find value in in illusion which most people do in monetary systems that that is in itself a form of ignorance of self and it's a form of fear it's certainly not getting to the level of consciousness that we need to get to to see ourselves in a state of oneness unity and treat each other as a brother and sister members of a of a human family you know the the Brotherhood and sisterhood of man so you know that's my take on on that Raphael did you have anything else that you wanted to add Oh actually Marga had another up comment and we want to get your take on it um you mentioned disclosure you know when I think remember you mentioned one time don't comment basically and you know if that were to happen so to speak do you think they would even want to release one of the release one of the reigns of religion so to speak because you know everybody needs to basically come to a sense of suffering before you realize that you know or what state of conditions were living in yeah I mean it could be a psychological tactic that they might use to bring forward disclosure over some stepwise progression so that it takes people into a sort of a state of trauma to release from their former religion but it guaranteed will all be done to push people into the new religion of the state you know and namely that they can protect us from whatever lies out there in the universe that may not have our best interests in mind you know so that's what we have to be on guard for certainly I've talked from day one when it came to this dynamic and I included it in my presentation don't count on disclosure which I'm still trying to get a hold of hopefully I can locate that maybe I'll post it on my site in the near future I'm gonna see if I can get a hold of that from Pat Market ilio but you know you we have to be on the lookout for a cosmic false flag you know how easy would it be with the level of technology that exists today right for a covert government agency that wants to seize power okay in conjunction with dark occultists in conjunction with the military-industrial complex how simple would it be for them to project images in the the night sky or even the daylight sky okay and then explode some ordinances on the ground say these craft that are hostile non-human entities did this and say well we need to have you know global martial law because we need to now you know protect the entire planet from some kind of an invasion and that can all easily be staged you know so with the level of technology that exists today that's absolutely a possibility and if people don't wise up about the tactic of problem reaction solution or false flags in other words you know we're as a people as a species very vulnerable to a technique like that you know because and to this day these tactics still work that's why they keep using them they keep using techniques that work as long as it keeps working on the consciousness of the people or I should say the unconsciousness of the people these people aren't gonna alter their their attack plan or their their game book why would they have to it continues to work so it's something we should definitely keep in mind so you know I feel I should mention that you know and Mark I love your presentation on the matrix it is just amazing and the way movies allegorically speak to us Tom recently I saw at the theaters I kept America and I thought that was a pretty allegorical movie oh my god blatant I wasn't it so it was so blatant I mean that was so up in in your face that was one of the most blatant allegories in fiction that I've ever seen the Winter Soldier yeah I'd highly recommend people checking that out check that out I think it was a great allegory about how the military-industrial complex is taking over staging events trying to put cold people in fear you know and this was a you know Captain America that main hero character and they're speaking out saying this isn't protection you're holding a gun to the head of the world and telling them you're you know that they need you to protect them you know and and he was saying that's fear that's all based in fear so very very allegorical almost blatantly in your face it almost ceases to be allegory and they're just coming out and telling you out in the open like a lecture format practically you know just wrapping that up in you know some dramatic Hollywood action with some special effects but I think overall the movie was great you know III highly recommend people check it out you know to get the allegorical message that was contained in it for sure you know and what's pretty ironic is it's from dizzy that's what's even worse well I mean there there's there's good and bad in Hollywood and all in all movie studios and you know it's not just all dark sir sorcerers working in the entertainment industry there are people who are putting out positive allegories with good messages I thought the new x-men movie which I recently went out and saw because I'll go out and check out good allegorical fictional movies to see the messages that they contain from time to time and I thought this was a great film very positive very uplifting message about choice and how we can alter the future and how things aren't necessarily completely set in stone because it's about our decisions and our choices how something that can look completely inevitable can still be changed if we apply enough willpower to change it that's what that whole movie was about you know I definitely recommend people check that out I'm a big fan of Marvel and and the x-men always have have been since I was young you know I liked Marvel I always liked the whole growing up that was my preferred quote you know platform for comic books for superheroes and I still enjoy it and I think that you know the writers in that movie were really making a profound statement allegorically so as long as people don't just go in and see it as a fiction I'm just gonna have fun and watch some fictional blow them up stuff and some special effects and you know blow you know to some money and to two hours of my life as long as they say hey I'm gonna check this movie out to see the message what are they trying to say to me and you you try to read into the message and see the allegorical content I think it's great you know when people don't do that and they just try to take it as a as fictional entertainment then they're missing the entire point and why bother you know but if it's seen as the allegory that it is I think it could be very powerful and there's two other mark that I came across real quick surah' trailers i haven't seen the movies yet but one of them was the edge of tomorrow with uh Tom Cruise and and one of the tag lines on the trailer was live die repeat and they're reminding me of your interview which you had with Laura Eisenhower which she meant in there was the exact same words and music basically lives I repeat until you learned a lesson of life yeah I don't think any of us are really getting out of this reality unless we do decide to transform our mind state into something that is flowing instead of rigid and learn the lessons that this construct of the physical world has to teach us and to bring to us we're not going anywhere as long as that rigidity is still in place once we once we become flowing and open up our mind to other possibilities and recognize that which is and accept it and you know adjust our perceptions accordingly I think the sky's the limit literally and we could go anywhere from here and learn and grow in ways and in vistas that we would in in viewpoints that we can scarcely imagine at this stage of our development so Raphael phenomenal points I really appreciate your call and your insights ladies and gentlemen stay with us we'll be back after these words [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divide today the other welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host mark passio we're taking your calls until the end of the show the not number to join us 831 394 43 let's hear from Joe in Los Angeles Joe you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey great show great topic I love this cosmic abandonment stuff it's that it makes more sense than anything I've learned my whole life and it's so truthful I promise I didn't yeah listen I think we all appreciate you mark two two quick comments on that I uh observations that I noticed this week the first one was the two cops that were shot in Las Vegas I I'm I don't condone the you know the gun but you know the violence you know to kill someone and all this you know randomly sure but I have to I have to look at it as profiling because when you're profiling a person of color or you're profiling somebody looking for the truth on the internet like you the NSA it it causes like I believe the law of attraction for somebody to come back or something to come back and do it to you because that's what you're putting out I see that is now these these the dogs the military and the cops they're like marked men and women but so P normal people that are trying to figure out the truth might start to profile them you know and I it sounds kind of far-fetched but it just feels like reverse profiling the same kind of thing yeah I mean it just seems like a such a desperate effort or attempt and it just seems like such a bad strategy to go about like you know we need to make more inroads in waking people up and reaching people's consciousness so it doesn't have to come to any kind of gun battle you know that's what we're trying to avert I said from day one that all of my work is trying to avert any any of this having to come to violent confrontation you know and you know as Kennedy said those who make peaceful revolutions impossible make violin revolutions inevitable but I don't think we need to just start randomly picking people off like what they were doing or claiming that they were trying to do it's it's just something that is very it's a very immature approach to go about doing something like that like this you know where we really need to be trying to reach the people who are doing the control from a level of understanding and speaking to them and bringing information forward more and more in greater and greater numbers you know I'm not saying it there isn't a time to protect yourself and there isn't you know a need to basically keep your ability to physically defend your rights in your life because you know that is certainly something that has to be done but a random thing like that is not productive whatsoever and you know I don't condone anything like that it's just it's just a shame that this is how much the system drives people to act irrationally and it could be a tactic to uh you know also who knows I mean the the levels of mind control and the technologies for mind control that exists out there we don't know we can't jump to any conclusions about what that event was because it very well could have been something that was staged in order to to demonize you know people in the truth and freedom movement you never know so I don't know enough about the actual situation from a first-hand perspective or a secondhand perspective even reading about it to to claim anything you've probably read in into it more than I have but that's my general take on that whole dynamic and it's really it's a sad situation because you know all of it is is really needless you know all the violence that we're seeing on both sides you know I don't want to see more violence have to break out like I say I have almost all of my eggs in the basket of changing consciousness do I have some in the basket of if it goes to a hot revolution yes I do but that's not where I put my the fullness of my energy it is largely put into trying to change consciousness and then if that dynamic fails because we can't get enough people to do the great work will I physically defend myself if I have to absolutely and what I support something that you know how if it if our rights were being actively taken away in a hot you know tyranny situation to actually wage physical battle back against it I would support something like that if it comes to that I don't think we're at that point where it's going hot yet but you know as they say it goes like a frog in a slowly boiling pot that's slowly being turned up we can't let it get to that point either so you know it's a it's a delicate balancing act that has to be walked and I I don't think it's time to just randomly try to attack people in that way if that was you know an actual decision made on their part and the this was something that was you know what what it appeared to be on at face value I can't even claim that it was that we might be looking at a false flag there through through some kind of mind control tactics who knows I once again I don't know enough about the situation to claim that it's either way it looks like it's an event that took place at face value but again I I don't know enough about the situation and the only thing I could say is I certainly don't condone that kind of methodology yeah I mean you're you're 100% right every single thing you said I mean it's true they immediately started to demonize them they started you know of course showing that they went to some you know so-called sub conspiracy sites and followed Alex Jones and they posted videos and they went to the Clyde Bundy thing and they were kicked out of the club or anything because they were too extreme so they immediately started the media started to paint a bad picture of them and you're right you have to have like about 15 to 20 different takes on every single incident which brings me to the next point called the Islamic State of Iraq and Greater Syria is is Isis they gotta be they got to be joking right it's already blatant isn't it I mean it's right out in the open that's not quite as blatant as Operation Iraqi liberation that was my favorite of all time operation Oh Iraqi eye liberation l.o il oil I mean they were so blatant with that one that so many people call on to that one that they actually had to change the name and call it operation iraqi iraqi freedom which then morphed into Operation Enduring Freedom but I mean to start naming your operation Oil acronym wise is pretty blatant this one arguably is as blatant as that to name this group Isis you know after the goddess you know of course you know it's all about taking down or destroying the goddess you know yeah and the two S's you got the SS you got the is and I asked to me did I do I Butera looks like the fish like a 15 and the 15 that's the devil card I mean there's you know the specimens just thought out and it's great to you know guys like you and you know the men and women of your movement that are teaching us these things because now we can look at the media to see what they're saying the mainstream media and then we can go and search on our own with our own reliable sources basically what we really believe is and and you'll see that the events that are playing out and right in front of our eyes in an entirely new light with a different perspective that helps you to understand the kind of people that are working behind the scenes were cost rating these events and how you know numbers mean so much to them ritual means so much to them yes symbols only aims oh yeah and it was the date the date that this all started because I was waiting for it right of the 13th right it was awful and it was I believe what's called a honey moon which it can happens every several hundred years or 50 years or surely full moon yeah and and very unique positioning of the moon very unique you know perspective as seen from Earth especially in the northern hemisphere the moon was spectacular yes for anybody that got a chance to see it out in the open I mean it was just awesome I mean III was in a car late last night driving when the was at its zenith and it was just unbelievable you know they're ready and um you know that they wait for things like this they wait for events like this to trot out their events because they they believe that there's power contained in there that has influence and makes agendas and and energies flow in the way that they want to that they want them to go it's very ritualistic it's very based in belief systems having to do with the planets and the stars and numbers and dates you know if you don't understand that these people have to understand these are a cultic religious belief systems and these people are very into it it doesn't make a difference whether you believe or accept that that's real they believe in it they're acting upon their belief systems you're not required to believe what they believe the the fact that they believe and it drives their behavior this is their religion people have to understand we're working with we are dealing with religious sects that are operating out in the world that have tremendous influence and power that's what the dark occult networks are all about it's called the old religion ladies and gentlemen and it's still very much at work in the new world Joe thanks so much for the call absolutely great points that you brought up ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us we'll be right back [Music] [Music] you're listening to what on earth is happening we're into the last segment for this edition tonight we are talking to listeners and taking your calls your questions your concerns anything that you want to talk about anything is fair game never any taboo topics here on this show so let's continue with that for the last segment let's hear from Shane in North Carolina Shane you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Cho man good to be talking to you man I am definitely been enjoying your work for a while and enjoying lots of various people's work for the past few years actually you know just one of the many people out there just waking up and you know read what I can but also get a ton of stuff like off YouTube and whatnot but sure I think that's a neat yeah it's an easy way to dismiss a lot of things you know there's this thing on YouTube but there's definitely a wealth of things out there from yeah absolutely but yeah man uh just loving your work and you know stumbled across stuff I think one of the first times I heard you on rbn was like maybe two months ago and you had probably even remember it cuz I don't remember the specific topic but man you were so like pumped up I was just like damn yeah I can get into those moods occasionally I tried somewhat reserved I mean you should hear me you should hear me in a person sometimes off air you think that was legendary I was actually just like man I am listening to some just like intense live radio right now content it was late night you know you have to feel like they're even part of even more part of the moment sure you know because it's just uh more low-key yeah I was uh listening to some of your callers too and I just jotted a few things down on my pad and uh some guy about their um recent shooting and I mean they're just like happening like crazy now right yeah oh they're dirty trying to bring this forward faster and faster so they could roll out the gun confiscation agenda that's where this is ultimately leading because they want the guns of American citizens so that they could take this country from the inside and the citizenry will have no ability to protect themselves that's where this is ultimately heading absolutely and it's so obvious right now I mean it's just it's just absolutely ridiculous you know you know I'm to the point with a lot of these small flags where the you know used to be the first time I heard something happening I would you know be poking around investigating and finding what I could it's like I still have time is this so much deception going on sure no so so I mean I'm kind of focusing more of my energy on you know just ways to be positive I'm getting into gardening and things like that kidding I mean once you know the negative stuff it's not like you should dwell on it or just make that the main focus I mean it's important to wake Pete other people up to it who aren't aware of it yet but I agree you don't want to constantly focus on that all day long or it will eat you up you know you do want to focus on the positive things you know that's why I say I don't really want to be doing this and just exposing the darkness constantly and constantly having to repeat the same information over and over again it wears on you over time you know I wanted to vote my time to some creative endeavors I want to enjoy myself from time to time I wanted to live my life like anybody else does and that's what I think we all are here ultimately to do and we don't have to be involved in this kind of a level of extremity you know an evil it's not necessary you know you know we can learn these lessons on our own at our own pace what you know while living our lives and you know people insist that this level of evil that were in is somehow necess and nothing could be further from the truth it's a big New Age deception you know but I agree with you you know you don't want to stay dwelling on that constantly because it can definitely eat you away inside knowing it is one thing dwelling on it continuously is something else entirely which I don't recommend you know I don't recommend ignoring that the negative side either of course which is what too many of the New Agers out there do you have to know about it once you know about it and then you could suggest solutions to the negative and that's what this whole show has been about you know we talked about all the methods of mind control in the past we went through grassroots solutions and now we're looking into origins of this condition and you know how that can be so important into understanding how we got to this point so absolutely I definitely encourage people to maintain balance in their lives when it comes to that it's a lesson I have to follow and Riaan try to reinforce within myself because I could fall into some negative patterns who couldn't when the world is in the situation that it's in you know yeah one of the UM one of the guys you just talked with recently was talking like Tolkien I'm gonna go write yes yeah um there was this cat came on Alex Jones couple days ago and he was he was some kind of guy who had um first access to you know anything related to his archives and whatnot and Tolkien supposedly did some kind of speech that was recorded there was a rare unknown recording that was recently discovered yes where he was basically talking about his book saying yeah basically my you know my books are allegorical this is R it's really great people should definitely check this out I can't remember the individuals name though but yeah Tolkien spoke about this at some society that he was a member of he was like some kind of a guest of honor or something and he was pretty much out there in the open telling people yeah these are spiritual allegories you know that contain ancient knowledge about you know what went on here in the past and is still going on here in present and that's all I basically did is I put my own unique twist and my fictional perspective on this and embellished it but it's it's essentially knowledge about the human story you know yeah apparently there so yeah apparently there's some you know just recent admissions of that that came out um actually did I mention a couple other things or you you you're also talking about some kind of Blue Beam sort of disclosure hoaxes and what all right you were kind of speculating of course and whatnot but you know I definitely see that as a very very viable possibility and in likelihood yeah at some point who knows think about it when the Terrorism false Flags get old which they pretty much have and they don't have that to resort to because enough people wake up to that and then the school shooting and other random shooting false Flags wear out you know where do they go from there I mean you can go to the words of you know former Nazi Verner von Braun who came into the United States as part of Operation Paperclip the funneling of all Nazi scientists that had done war crimes in Nazi

Germany and brought over here with total impunity for their crimes because they agreed to work for the United States intelligence agencies you know and he told people that what was coming next was false flags involving asteroid impacts and explosions of you know small asteroid or bodies and then ultimately it was going to go to a hoaxed alien invasions at some point which would be the ultimate false flag well something is an absolute possibility and I've said for a long time people need to keep their eyes out for that and when if and when it does happen you know the question needs to be asked what kind of society would travel interstellar dense distances to blow up some tiny humans civilizations are parts of civilization on on the ground on another planet for what you know so it you have to ask yourself well things like that make sense and even just put that out into the consciousness of people so that they are aware of that in in advance before they ever even try it no in actually speaking of that when looking I like about you is that I get the impression from you and it's the same way I like to be which is you know I try to know the truth I think I know the truth and I also am smart enough to realize that I don't know everything and I'm just you know looking for it seriously and honestly and I like that about you you know I can tell that know that about you you know you're definitely trying to just put all your own personal things aside and get to the bottom of that's right it's not about me oh you know I'm just a medium for this information to try to dissipate it out there in a little bit of a wider way so more people can get turned on to it and nobody has all the answers nobody has every piece of the puzzle it's all about us all bringing our perspective to the table assembling all that information and then maybe when we bring all of those individual unique pieces of the puzzle to the table all of us can see the big picture that is laid out before us as a result yeah well you know the disclosure thing or the another disclosure thing that the that scenario you talked about it is if you follow biblical things definitely talked about in Revelation yes basically the flag guy op Shane thank you so much for the call great perspective that's all the time we have for this edition folks remember there's only two mistakes that one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way thanks for listening everyone we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Applause] you

big event announcement my next all-day seminar will be coming up in Manchester Connecticut on October 4th Saturday October 4th 2014 I will be giving a lie five all-day seminar called demystifying the occult this will be taking place Saturday October 4th 2014 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. an all-day seminar the doors will open at 9 I believe Arthur Capozzi is also going to be being be giving another preliminary presentation he and his brother Chris said my last seminar up in Connecticut when I presented my natural law seminar and Arthur is the main organizer for this seminar as well and he will be giving a preliminary presentation shortly after 9:00 a.m. after the doors open then we'll all do a morning session we'll have a lunch break I'll do an afternoon session and then we'll have a extended question-and-answer session as well so it's going to be a information-packed day this will be taking place at the Manchester his History Center it's the home of the Manchester Historical Society that's at 175 Pine Street in Manchester Connecticut here's a brief description of the seminar mark passio the no-nonsense teacher of streetwise spirituality will take his guests on a journey of exploration examining the world of the occult and its symbols what exactly is the occult why should you know about it what kind of knowledge comprises the occult who possesses such knowledge and how do they use it how is ocultism different from mysticism or what many people have called mystical practices how can the secret language of symbolism communicate I'm sorry what can the secret language of symbolism communicate and how is symbolism being used in our everyday lives these are the topics I'm going to explore and again probably in the second session of the seminar I'm going to use the Tarot as sort of a case study in occult symbolism and we'll be exploring the Major Arcana of the Tarot advanced tickets for this all-day seminar a $25 donation you'll be able to get a hold of art Capozzi I will have his contact information in the in this week I actually have the flyer completed it's a first draft of the flyer I have not been able to get it to art yet for approval so when he approves it I'll be running it on the website and of course here on the radio show so the at the door tickets only a thirty dollar donation for tickets in person at the door so demystifying the occult all-day seminar Saturday October 4th 2014 I hope a lot of people can make it if you're in or going to be in the Connecticut area or it really anywhere on the north east coast of the United States try to make it out to this seminar it will be very informative and you'll meet a lot of like-minded individuals so that's my main event announcement I want to let people know there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening calm website if you feel you've gained value from the information that I have presented here on this radio show and shared on my website you could feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my my continued work there is a button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening calm page to do just that so I want to direct everyone's attention to the radio show page of the wall on earth is happening calm sight all as always when I do a live show if there are images associated with the show they are posted there in numerical linked format like a slideshow presentation underneath the live player for the broadcast so you could follow along with the topics and ideas that I present here on the show with slides so this is an extended version of the cosmic abandonment presentation which I gave originally back in December of 2013 and I'm giving it in an extended format here on the show and I already did a couple of weeks in relation to this presentation and we ended up on slide number 34 is where we left off we were essentially talking about all of the ancient traditions and the ancient cultures that talked about non-human entity's involvement with the human species and they described them in many many different ways they had many different ways to describe in their own language what they were witnessing and again these people were witnessing technologies that they didn't understand they were witnessing beings that they didn't understand and could not relate to that were so far in advance of intellect to them that they you know looked at them as supernatural entities and we talked about all the different cultures that discussed these beings in their written histories and and their accounts from the Sumerians the Acadians the Babylonians are the people of the ancient Middle East biblical lands the people of the Indus Valley traditions the these stories were in the Vedas they were in the other ancient Indus Valley tradition books like the srimad-bhagavatam and the Mahabharata the rama Yanis they were talked about by the african tribes such as the zulu and the Doga of the Dogon people the Norse poetry like the Eddas talked about them even into the meso american regions and into South America you know you have the Mayan Popol Vuh you have the people of the Inca tradition and they all talked about gods that had come from the sky God gods that had come from outer space and many of these different languages you didn't have a you had different words to describe sky from the deep sky when they were saying God's from the sky in there in all of their languages they always meant the deep sky which really translates in modern language as outer space from beyond Earth orbit that's where they had in all of these accounts talked about that these beings came from and they called the many different things they refer to them as supernatural entities because they thought that they were literally gods and whenever I talk about the word gods here please realize it's lowercase okay we're not talking about the God of creation here we're talking about beings that are referred to as gods but gods with a small G most certainly so they also referred to these beings as giants because of their large stature in size compared to a normal human being they called them watchers in many different accounts you know these beings who literally watched over humanity and were in many ways keepers of human beings because really that's what they were were to be honest about it they were our keepers they were our creators and our enslavers as we're going to get to in this story that I call the story of the ancient human past [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone we listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment presentation in its extended format we are on slide number 34 and we're talking about how essentially these ancient human beings were trying to communicate in their own language what they were witnessing that they didn't understand and so they had many different names for these beings who had come to our planet in the ancient past they called them gods supernatural entities Giants watchers okay and as this slide says the Sumerians called them Anunnaki and that word in their language literally means those who came to the earth from the heavens but not heavens as in just the sky as in deep space from from literally offworld and they arrived on our planet in our ancient past and there's many different dates that researchers have speculated and alternative historians and alternative archaeologists have talked about going back hundreds of thousands of years probably the most agreed-upon timeframe is somewhere between four hundred thousand years ago to about two hundred and fifty thousand years ago I would probably favor the latter I'm sorry I would probably favor the former date they're about four hundred thousand years ago and this this extended story that I'm going to be telling this generalized story about human origins and and the events that took place in our ancient past is put together from different sumerian and akkadian accounts and what we're really talking about here is precursors to the biblical tradition that went into much greater depth and detail regarding the accounts of what they had witnessed and then in the biblical texts these accounts get watered down a lot of detail is left out and you know you don't get the you don't get the real underlying gist of the story about what happened that's very fragmented by that point so that's why I'm essentially going to use some of the Sumerian accounts as the reference material to tell the outline story all right and then we'll go into detail later and we'll look at actual parts of these accounts and we'll look at detailed aspects of other accounts the indus valley traditions the Norse myths etc you know even Greek mythology and we'll go into detail regarding this but again this presentation is intended to be a general outline and starter material to get people to understand the general idea of what happened and then to kind of whet their appetite to do further research on their own and I'll be talking about other researchers as we go along that you could you know read into their work or watch their videos or DVDs etc so let's continue with this generalized account these beings came here for resources and again it's often debated what the resources they came here for were a lot of researchers say it was gold and the gold has some kind of properties that we still don't really understand why they wanted it some people have speculated that it could somehow help to repair their dying atmosphere and it was going to reflect a certain amount of their star's sunlight into space I don't know whether that's true or not okay I tend to not really think that it was just about trying to put gold into their atmosphere but some researchers have speculated that I think gold has properties that again human beings don't really understand what it is it's some sort of an eternal substance it would seem that you know really no matter what you do to it it can't be destroyed you know it it could lay at the bottom of an ocean for hundreds of thousands of years never tarnish never degrade it's not it's pretty much unlike almost any other substance on the earth in that regard so I do think that they came here for gold but I don't think it's for just mundane purposes for what they were doing with the gold maybe they used it in that ancillary capacity as well but I think they were that this that gold the so called intrinsic value of gold which it does not have to human beings in a non technological society okay now in today's world it has intrinsic value in computing applications in technological applications of course gold as a precious metal is certainly used in computing technology but to a people who are just you know living you know in a non technological culture on the land gold is not going to be anything of with intrinsic value and the people who say it just has intrinsic value inherently are undermined control when it comes to money and these are believers that in the religion of money and think that you could either eat shelter yourself or clothe yourself with gold because that's what intrinsic value means okay if you can't eat it if you can't shelter yourself with it if you can't defend yourself with it in some capacity it doesn't have any intrinsic value okay for survival purposes on the earth so that these beings knew that there was more than meets the eye literally when it came to gold and I do think that they were here for that and because the accounts specifically talked about the mining expeditions that they put human beings to work in and you know they wouldn't have done that they won't have gone through such enormous trouble to mine a smelt and refined gold if it didn't have some kind of intrinsic value to them and I don't think it was just for monetary reasons I don't think they used any money I don't think they had a monetary system I think this had some kind of a property when you ingested it or when you perform some kind of chemical operations upon it that enhanced intelligence enhanced creativity enhanced health etc and we can get into all of that we could talk about monoatomic gold etc we could talk about the usage of the Pharaohs in Egypt of regarding gold specifically monoatomic powder gold but that'll be for another discussion but I want to continue with this general outline their mission was led the mission of these beings to come here for resources and procure these resources to bring back to their world was led by two brothers now again the names aren't as important these are the names that are used in the sumerian tradition but i don't even even specifically like to look personally necessarily look at these as just single beings when you talk about these beings i almost look at it as factions of these whole beings of the this group of beings okay so one brother was named n ki and one was named Enlil according to the Sumerian texts and they were royalty from where they came from because the planet where they came from had a tradition of kingship and a hierarchy of rulership they were the sons of the king of their homeworld which his name was Anu Anu when I go forward talking about this topic in a lot of ways I look at n ki as a faction of these beings there's the n ki faction of the extraterrestrials or non-human entities if you will the Anunnaki and then there's the Enlil faction okay there are beings that had aligned themselves with a specific kind of worldview when it came to the earth and what they were doing here okay so and you understand what I mean by that as we go deeper into the story but from now let's simply look at them as two brothers they were royalty where they came from and they were the sons of the king so you could look at them as princes moving on to slide number 35 and continuing this account they came to the earth approximately four hundred thousand years ago and they started to procure these resources that they came here for namely gold now if anybody knows anything at all about gold mining it's incredibly intense work okay you have to go deep into the bowels of the earth it's treacherous conditions it's difficult work all right very very dangerous as well we'll continue this on the other side stay with us the cold we don't dare speak while between us [Music] welcome back everyone been listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting let's continue with our general outline of the story of the ancient human past and how the interference theory of human origins fits in with this story and really is responsible for the creation of the current human condition as we will get to so these beings came here about four hundred thousand years ago and they put a lot of their own people to work in gold mines the primary place for the excavations was was in the gold rich veins in southeastern Africa and this is a region of the world which they personally referred to as the ab soo a b zu or in some translations a BS you depending on how you're going to transliterate it out of the Sumerian so AB sue literally in Sumerian means that the deep a very deep place and that would certainly describe mines okay and you know people want to insist that this meant spiritual deep or you know the realm of the subconscious or you know some kind of abyss or dark deep you know black place and you could debate about the intricacies of how that word is going to be translated in its context but if you actually read the accounts and the story of what happened I think it's pretty obvious that the absolument Minds literally deep the bowels of the earth underneath the ground literally okay so that's the way that I'm going to translate it and talk about it as we move forward and again we can get into specifics on this later but after realizing that you know after coming here on this mission that they did not have literally not they did not have enough manual laborers to do this work all right you know if you traveled somehow in interstellar distances whether even if it's not interstellar even if it's from another area outside of your the planetary system maybe even in the same solar system in a you know extended orbit as many people will speculate that their planet was if you're coming here and you're traveling in craft or even if you're using some kind of very highly advanced technology regarding you know space to essentially travel from one planetary system to another you're going to have to take a lot of resources with you you're going to have to take a lot of people with you if you're going to conduct a mining expedition it's no small task you're gonna have to set up workshops bases on the planet where you're going okay you might even want to do the the smelting and refining where you're at instead of bringing the raw material with you so essentially they didn't have enough people and they recognized that it was going to be very difficult to bring the amount of people that they needed to this planet to do what they wanted to do so the the leaders ultimately came up with a plan and again with understand a little bit about the dynamic of their leadership so-called and lo is the chief leader he is the mission commander you could say and Enki is his second-in-command okay you could say that's his primary commander on this mission even though any key is really like kind of like the older brother of the two all right and they're half-brothers as is put forward in the story and how it works is there's specific succession rights to the throne that has to do with the how the the father essentially married and it has to do with maternal lines okay so essentially Enlil is going to inherit the throne when onnu passes okay so he's really in position for leadership and Enki is really you know kind of like what you might call the wiser of the two brothers he's the one who you know what most people would go to for leadership counseling advice etc and and they'll really kind of always sort of resented him for that and didn't really want to trust in his judgment and wanted to kind of do things his own way and to prove kind of that he's in the better position for leadership because when he does go back to his home planet especially if this away mission you could call it as successful and it provides what his people need he's going to go and assume the role of leadership where they come from so that having been said the older of these two half-brothers and ki comes up with a plan he's essentially advocating that they don't have enough people but there are enough native species on this planet that are still developing yet they show a lot of promise when it comes to being able to manipulate things as far as you know with their hands they could walk upright on on two legs so thereby there are bipedal species and we would refer to these beings as hominoids okay beings that were ape-like in their appearance and were essentially bipedal and probably covered with with fur and you know living in the wild living in harmony with nature with natural systems and essentially on their own evolutionary progression okay their own course of evolutionary progression and n ki recognizes this and he says well these beings that are here have the ability to manipulate objects they you know have hands okay they walk upright on two legs they're not as intelligent as we would need them to be to do the manual labor that we need done but we could essentially modify them we are master geneticists we've come to the level of technological development that we understand how to do gene splicing and recombinations and we can make chimera species we could splice DNA from one being into another and you know come up with different characteristics of our choosing and you know you might say that these beings were at a level be it more advanced than the technology that we're even at today certainly okay so his plan was we're going to make a hybrid species all right we're going to genetically modify this existing hominid species that is indigenous to this planet where they had come which is earth and we're going to use the modified species that we create to do the work that we need done we're going to put them to work in the mines as kind of like chattel okay you know like we would use cattle - or mules or horses you know here as humans do today to do different types of laborious tasks for them okay a beast of burden you might call it right they are going to make a hybrid species and use them as a beasts of burden okay so first of all just even looking at this on its face it's immoral obviously I mean for anybody who you know just looks at this from a perspective of they don't care about the natural evolutionary development of the species they don't care about their freedom they don't care about what course nature has intended for them no we're just going to do what we want and you know modify them to suit our purposes so right right off the bat it's immoral and you know you hear a lot of apologists for this N key faction of beings or this being n key because of how he viewed his creation and right off the bat I just want to say I don't see any good side to these beings at all okay they everything they did was immoral on its face okay there is no good guy when it comes to this what just because n key later looked at the humans that he had made the pathetic creatures that he had created that were a slave species to his people and looked at them with pity and thought that they were so horrible that maybe he could start to teach them and bring them up out of their total ignorance and barbarity you know that somehow that makes him the good guy for taking pity on us like that when he was the one responsible for putting us into that condition to begin with you know that doesn't make him good you know and you could say okay people change and they can repent of their old ways and the deed was already done you know so I can understand that aspect of it but you know don't paint him as you know holier than thou as some people do you know when it comes to I guess when it comes to looking at they're all the alternative the Enloe faction or you know Enlil as a being he does seem good next to him but I'm trying to put put this back to square one and say from the very beginning how these being beings came here and and behaved wasn't more on its face and it shouldn't be looked at it as any in any other way really for people who understand natural law so I'm going to summarize the essential plan that he laid out in the next slide [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listen to me what on earth is happening I'm your host mark Cassio my website what on earth is happening com we were on slide number 36 and I was about to go through a summary of this plan that this one brother n key had come up with so the plan is summarized in this following exchange between an N key and his brother Enlil and key says the beings that we need are already present they already exist they live in the Absa and walk erect on two legs my son Ning has EDA has tested their DNA and it is similar to ours we can combine our DNA with theirs to create primitive workers who are intelligent enough to understand our commands and handle our tools they will do the mining for us and relief will come to our people so again you hear in his tone total unconcerned for what he's about to do it's just not even a second thought this is what we need this will bring relief to our people what's the difference what will happen you know in the aftermath have we create these beings okay it's playing God plain and simple and his brother replies and lo replies slavery was abolished long ago on our planet tools are our slaves not other beings you are suggesting creating a new species which did not previously exist such creative power belongs to God alone God with a capital G okay the meaning the creator of the universe so Enlil here is the one who is speak trying to speak sense to his brother and I would suggest this isn't just because he wants to be the one in the leadership position and make and calling the shots he literally is averse to this idea he has an avulsion to it because he recognizes that it's playing God okay and I'm not saying that that makes him such a great guy either just because he understands the truth about this plan and was opposed to it from the beginning because he did terrible things in the future so like I said I don't have any kind of tremendous respect for any of these beings and what they did what they did was an abomination against all of creation and you know we're dealing with the aftermath of it but moving on to slide number 37 this exchange this dialogue between these two brothers continues on and he says back to Enlil he says they won't be our slaves they'll be our helpers Oh see he's rationalizing it already they're not going to be slaves or just helpers we will not be creating a new species we'll just be taking one that already exists and giving them more ability by making them more in our image so you see we're just modifying them where we're giving them more more better traits better characteristics we're gonna make them a little bit more like us he was were so wonderful don't you know you know I mean it's unbelievable where this guy's head was at now continuing he says this can be a che achieved with only slight changes to their DNA only slight changes slight modifications were going to make right his brother replies this is not to my liking and it is forbidden by our mission plan our purpose was to obtain gold not to play God so he's trying to tell and key from the beginning one were playing God and that's not morally right and two first of all our actual mission plan that we were sent here with to do specific tasks this isn't in the mission plan this is forbidden but by mission plan to mess with the other species living here so the Anunnaki on earth you know couldn't come to an agreement regarding whether to go ahead with this plan or not and so they sent the matter back to their home planet to be voted upon and it was put before a council of elders on their homeworld and they voted on it and they decided that they liked n Keys plan to make a hybrid species and use it as a beast of burden and so they voted for that and they told them go ahead with whatever genetic laboratories you need to set up will send the resources and get to work on creating this hybrid species so that you could do the work you need to do and get out of there all right moving on to slide number 38 so they started beginning to and again I'm sorry on slide 36 and 37 you see these depictions of these gods as the Sumerians Acadians Babylonians rendered them in some of their reliefs and their their clay clay tablet depictions and in their drawings so on the left-hand side you have a depiction of Enki he was always depicted as the god of the waters and on the right hand side I believe you have in the Akkadian and Babylonian tradition of God known as Sargon who was a king but many people think that that imagery was taken after the Enlil being from much older times and that Enloe looked very similar to him and that's the imagery that a lot of future human or hybrid kings cultivated they tried to look as much like the gods as possible and this is a theme that we'll see repeated later on just briefly moving back to slide 35 I just wanted to briefly talk about the image there you see again end key standing on this like kind of a mount with a tree growing out of it and there's other Anunnaki beings always depicted with these conical caps okay and you'll see another being in the mind he has like sort of a pic in his hand and you know there's fumes rising up out of out of that deep pit and that was the Absa this is a depiction of the realm that they called the abbe su which is a mine and an ki was always depicted as god of the waters okay whenever you see flowing flowing water trail with fish around it that's n ki okay he was considered the lord of the earth and the waters and this is very important going forward because the control system is based on water it's based on Admiralty law it's based on the law of the Seas okay these gods are venerated as coming from the sea and we'll talk about why that may be because I think that they may still have bases on this planet that are under the sea that's why they're not anywhere where human beings are at if there are any of them remaining here again I talked about in this presentation to a great extent the vast majority of them are gone and you know the evidence that they're gone is that you don't see them around you know we don't see them present in our society they're obviously very hidden if any of them are still here and I believe the ones that are really still covertly controlling things from behind the scenes are have bases deep deep deep in the earth and deep underneath the sea and we'll get to that we'll speculate about that later and again like I said this whole section of this broadcast of and the the last couple of radio shows that I've done the future many shows that I will do are going to contain speculation like I said I've joked that we should call the show you know for the time being what on earth may may very well have happened on earth okay so speculations going to be part of what we do to maintain an open mind and to look at the possibilities here alright so but this relief clearly shows what they talked about as the abbe su on slide 35 here and you know you see these beings basically conducting some sort of a ceremony near one of the openings to these minds so moving forward again now we're we're on slide 38 they began going to work to try to create these genetic hybrids these a chimera species if you will crossbreed between themselves and the indigenous hominid creatures that were already living here on the earth and certainly living in the on the continent of Africa and in the ancient Middle Eastern region probably living all over the planet but again certainly there were concentrations of them in southern Africa so whenever you you see clay vessels when they depict clay vessels and there's pottery okay and there's waters being poured and there's you know kilns being fired etc they're not making pottery in these depictions these are the sumerians representations of their genetic laboratories and we'll get back to that on the other side of the brain [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening in the second hour of tonight's broadcast I'm giving my extended version of my cosmic abandonment presentation which will be continuing to go over over the next several weeks it's all about the connection between interference theory of human origins as I call it to the current human condition and we were on slide number 38 these slides can be found with the podcast this will be podcast number 160 or you can find them if you're listening live on the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show tab so on slide 38 essentially talking about how these beings went through many different attempts to hybridize the existing hominid species with their own genetic material and a lot of these attempts resulted in absolute monstrosity x' and chimera cross species genetic hybrids that were just absolute you know abominations you know they were things that should not be and these beings were not as quote-unquote advanced as some people might like to think or give them credit as being one advanced beings would not do something like this to begin with truly advanced beings in consciousness they these this is the result of what happens when a species becomes technologically advanced develops technological prowess and has a lot of intellect but is divorced from the Sacred Feminine intuitive creative compassionate aspect of their their themselves and therefore essentially is you know constantly existing in that modality of service to self and clearly in their discussions that's all that they were concerned about many of them okay not all okay but many of them kind of like we are today because as they say the apple doesn't fall far from the tree so continuing with this generalized account after many failed attempts the Anunnaki successfully created a hybrid species by fertilizing the ovum of an earth female with a sperm from an Anunnaki male and inserting the fertilized egg into the womb of one of the Anunnaki females so this was literally an example of artificial insemination okay using the egg of a female and the sperm of one of the Anunnaki males so when they put this into the womb of a female Anunnaki there was a live birth it was a male hybrid and they called this being aa to MU ad a mu Adamu and again you'll see the biblical similarity to the word Adam okay the first man but what Adamu meant in the Sumerian language the beings that were recounting this this these histories is one who is like the Earth's clay or the Earth's ground the Earth's you know the one who is like the earth literally the Earth's substance so it's a child of the earth in other words all right that's what Adam meant and they set about creating a hybrid female a female because what their goal was is to make beings that could procreate on their own and that they wouldn't have to use their own species to carry these beings to term so they created a female hybrid so that the their new workers and again this worker species was known as the the whole species they're named for was lu lu lu lu and in the Sumerian language that means primitive worker you know people will say you know where did the Sumerian culture come from seems like it's the first culture first written language etc well more likely than not it came from these beings they set it up you know and the human beings that inherited it inherited it from them that's why it's a fully formed culture appearing seemingly out of nowhere on the face of the earth so you know that's why many of their words and their language is coming from the way that these being spoke more likely than not so they called this female hybrid the female version of their hybrid species qiyamat and this was supposedly veneration or you know a respect toward an ancient planet from our solar system that was partially destroyed in a celestial collision with their planet millions of years before and it had formed the earth and the moon as well that's as the their cosmology goes so they took the new prototype workers to a place called Eden and Eden is in the Middle East in what we would call Iraq what we call Iraq now and they were to be bred there in mass numbers and they were going to breed them there in the wilderness of Eden again you see the biblical similarity all right we have the male hybrid species slave worker that's being created and they called him Adam ooh very similar to Adam the biblical first man and then they put their new prototype genetically crossbred workers in a wilderness known as an untouched wilderness area okay free of their bases free of their technology that they called Eden edie IM very similar to the biblical Garden or untouched wilderness area known as Eden Edie en okay same phonetics involved it's the changing of a vowel and that's this is no coincidence because this stories of the biblical from the biblical texts are a recounting with much less detail okay with a whole lot of details stripped and taken out of these Sumerian accounts so they were going to breed them there in mass numbers by letting them procreate but the breeding program didn't work out as expected because when they genetically made these first two you know models I guess you could say these are these mark prototype workers B females were unable to bear children when they were inseminate the male's of this worker species and of course we're talking about early mark one humanity you could call it okay you could call this the prototype one for the human slave species moving on to slide number 39 the while these beings were doing all these genetic experiments and uh you know experimentation by the way on slide 38 I just want to mention you see this yeah up on the upper right hand corner before we move on to the next slide the image there it's showing you Anunnaki beings uh shirring in one of these chimera species these this genetic abomination before n key again n key the water God seated on the throne as the royalty and his his genetic laboratory workers are bringing him one of the species that they had just created you know on some kind of a leash controlling him you know and guiding him in with a noose you know leash around the neck and obviously this was one of the species that clearly did not work out and was a total you know abomination thing that should not be type of a chimera and they again these accounts talk about many of these going through they talk about all the different ways that they were defective the kind of genetic defects that they had okay being born without limbs being born you know without organs that were vital in life etc so we'll pick this up on the other side of the break as we are telling the ancient story of human origins here on what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] [Music] you know today disguise the night night divided today tried to run try to hide welcome back everyone let's continue with slide number 39 in the cosmic abandonment extended presentation the while this genetic work was being conducted as these ancient accounts tell the tale the workers in the mines that were were populated by the offworld beings were there their patience was running very thin they were running out of patience and they were on the brink of mutiny against their own species because they had been put to work in treacherous conditions for long extended periods of time on a alien planet that they didn't want to be on that were the conditions were hostile to them you know and that they were put in you know basically brutal working conditions that they were not used to and they wanted relief from those conditions and meanwhile they're telling them well you have to continue to do this work and mine until we have this problem under wraps that we could get these beings into full production okay so we could pop out enough of them where they could relieve you of your duties and any key came up with another part of the plan he wanted to have his son who was the main geneticist his name was ninka Zita sequenced the entire genome of the new Lulu worker species of the Adamu the male variant and the teamö the female variant to determine exactly what was wrong with their genetics as to why they couldn't procreate so again you could look at this as a tweaking of the genetic coding or the genetic hybridization that needed to be done because as they existed in their current form as they had made them initially they would not be able to procreate procreate on their own so they needed some other gene spliced in with their genome from the Anunnaki in order to be able to procreate on their own so the DNA of the two hybrid species was completely sequenced their genome and it was compared with the genome of the Anunnaki they discovered that the hybrids had 22 pairs a total of 22 pairs of chromosomes but they lacked two chromosomes necessary to be able to procreate on their own so what they did is they took a pair of chromosomes from themselves one pair of chromosomes from the Anunnaki and spliced it into the chromosome from Adam you and Timothy Lulu worker species the mark one human species and that created a total of one new pair of chromosomes for a total of 23 pairs and we'll see that there is evidence for this splicing in the actual human genome if we look at the human chromosomes we can see where they're splicing took place and we'll look at that later moving on to slide number 40 this genetic manipulation is also described in the biblical accounts I'm sorry it's described in the following a Sumerian account Ning azita caused a deep sleep to descend upon n key nimma Adamu and Tiamat nimma is another geneticist of these beings that are is stepping into the actual experiment and going to provide DNA he extracted DNA and again this is referring to Ning has either the the male master geneticist of these beings he extracted DNA from the rib of Enki and inserted it into the rib of Adam ooh he then extracted DNA from the rib of nimah and inserted it into the rib of Tiamat now again there's crossover with biblical tale the biblical tale of Eve coming from the rib of Adam people have speculated that perhaps they used the marrow from the rib for a genetic sample maybe because of certain types of cells that are more undifferentiated I'm not really sure however the literally in these texts that they specifically say that it was extracted from the rib so maybe that's where the biblical accounts came from maybe it was just convenient for them to take an extraction from the rib as opposed to any other part of the body or any organ so he then awakened the four of them of these beings and Kenan ma animo and Tiamat and said 2n key to chromosomes have been added to their DNA they are now capable of procreating on their own so a pair of chromosomes worth was added for a total of 23 pairs which we have now and from that point on they were capable of reproducing without you know having to have any artificial insemination done on the part of the Anunnaki the new hybrids were returned to the orchards of the Eden where they became aware of their nakedness and their ability to procreate now AG once again this is the story of Adam and Eve in the garden where they become aware that they are they don't have clothes which Israeli nakedness is is an allegory it's about that they are inadequate in in comparison to the Anunnaki they don't have their abilities they don't have their knowledge they don't have their understanding okay and their ability to procreate okay and again this could be about the knowledge of genetics okay maybe the forbidden fruit is not just some people have suggested its knowledge of sexual procreation maybe that's not what he was forbidding them to understand the god of the Eden okay again this isn't the God of creation that's being talked about in the Old Testament books and once again you could just just see that right off the bat the name the name is Elohim given in the biblical text referring to quote-unquote God while Elohim isn't even a singular word you know if the if the ancient Hebraic people who wrote the Bible were supposedly monotheistic okay why would they have that why would they set the name for God as a plural word Elohim is like adding an S to an English word to make it plural in Hebrew you know so it's a the word L means God okay and then oh he means plural is that and it's also a feminine plural okay which again most people were most religions look at it as as God is some kind of a male patriarchal deity when in fact the actual word for God in the Bible Elohim is feminine plural in Hebrew and no one even attempts to explain that no one seems to attempt to even explain that because they weren't talking about the God of creation when they're talking about Elohim they're talking about the gods literally these beings that were referred to as gods or supernatural beings or Giants so they were you know the this story about their nakedness and the the forbidden fruit you know it's about their ability to procreate but more than being just about sexual knowledge I think it's about genetic knowledge that's what was forbidden unto them you know they couldn't understand they were forbidden from understanding any knowledge about their true origins how they were more created their creation so tioman made aprons of leaves for them to wear so that they could be distinguished from the other animals and I guess by other animals they meant the other hominids that were still walking in that region is what I expect that to mean so again this is the story of Eve making clothing for for herself and Adam in the biblical account in Genesis it's it's told just in more elaborate detail more specifics in these ancient Sumerian texts so let's move on to slide number 41 now and we'll pick that up on the other side because there's the break music ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting don't go anywhere we'll be right back [Music] [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening on their host mark pass you know my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing with the story of the ancient origins of humanity it's what I call interference theory because our natural evolutionary progression was interfered with by beings that had no right to do such a thing and we were talking about how they finally got us to a point where we were able to procreate on our own by splicing in a pair of their chromosomes into our hybridized genome and we're moving on to slide number 41 now we're Enlil learns about the further genetic hybridization of these beings by giving them more of the Anunnaki genes so Enloe was furious with Enki and he was furious with the entire plan as he was from the very beginning because he didn't want to create a slave species and he says to his brother Enlil says to Enki this whole plan was not to my liking I was against the idea of playing God you told me that all we needed to do was to modify these beings slightly in order to create the workers we needed but now they have been given our genetics so that they will be able to procreate on their own and have our long lifespan because these beings lived for in many cases tens of thousands of years as the Sumerian accounts suggest and as many other accounts like the Indus Valley tradition accounts suggest tens of thousands of years that's why they were considered gods they were considered immortal because if a human lifespan was 120 years at the very maximum and probably a lot less than that because of the conditions that human beings were in during these bit the lifespan of these beings seemed like forever it seemed like they were immortal because they lived through you know you know generations upon generations of human beings and their families you know never seeing these beings die but die they do because they are not immortal and I want to be very clear on that these beings are not immortal they're not gods okay they're not supernatural entities they are flesh-and-blood entities and they you know some people yeah and that's my take on it some people insist that these are fallen angelic beings I mean I I don't come down on that side of the the fence when it comes to this research I think that these are beings that are very much like us except they have a whole lot more knowledge and you know in many ways they're not any more moral than we are you know so and again that's just my take I'm open-minded to all other takes on these beings as from being other-dimensional you know angelic / demonic I'm not saying I completely rule that out I'm just saying if I if I impressed and you want me to tell you what I think their nature is its mortal it's living in our space-time continuum with a whole lot more capabilities and a whole lot more technological prowess than we have understanding a lot more about how the laws of nature function and clearly not really understanding too much about natural law or least understanding enough about it that they don't maybe don't do things like this to their own kind anymore but they're still willing to do it to beings that they can sitter lesser quote-unquote than they are just like we do that to animals okay so again like father like son like mother like son you know the apple doesn't fall far from the tree we inherit the traits that our parents passed down to us and the behaviors that they passed down to us so ninka Zita the geneticist of this group of beings said to Enlil they were given the ability to procreate on their own but they were not given the chromosome that gives us our long lifespan that was not added to their genome so he's telling them you don't have to worry about these beings being immortal like we are so that they'll gain the kind of knowledge that we have over a single lifespan over a single human life okay they're only going to live to 120 years old at the very very maximum that's that's what's encoded into their genome that the lifespan ends at that point an N key says to them what choice did we have to end our mission and failure or to do what was necessary and by giving them the ability to procreate let aren't new workers undertake the labor for us so again all he's concerned about is the completion of their mission you know some people say oh they had their back against the wall because their species survival was in jeopardy and they needed this for the protection of their planet they needed the resources here for the protection of their plant there's a million different excuses made you know it's always excuses though when people do things like this that's all whatever is is justifications so and they'll replied to them you know well then let them be expelled from the Eden to the absolu where they are needed and again this is in alignment with the biblical expulsion out of Eden God is expelling these beings out of Eden and basically saying now you go do your hard labor in the minds of AB su okay and again it's it's not just about disobeying the just God and therefore being put out of you know a paradise into a hell they were literally taking them out of a place that was paradise achill and untouched by technology by their technology and as the the nature nature on this planet intended it to be which was the conditions that they were being reared in and then they were taken to a horrific environment to labor endlessly sometimes unto death for these beings that you know had infinitely more knowledge about how the universe worked and who came here simply to put these beings through you know long periods of work as beasts of burden literally so there's two sides to this biblical expulsion from Eden you could look at it allegorically you could look at it literally and I think you know there is a literal side to this and then the allegorical tale of if you don't live according to natural law of the laws of the actual creator yeah you will be expelled into a hell world of your own making you know but I don't think that's what we're really talking about here it's a way of interpreting it so moving on to slide number 42 where oh and by the way let's just briefly look at this the image on slide 41 again you see this kiln or urn of some type with a tree growing out of it and you know I neglected to really look at some of the imagery on the last couple slides let's move back to slide 39 and look at the imagery because it's very important and it it sets up the imagery on slide 41 which I want to talk about on slide 39 you see a bar relief of some Anunnaki gods of the Sumerians Kings of the Sumerians and they're all pointing to a tree okay and the tree is expanded okay and there there's a winged image or symbol over the tree all right and what this depicts is the genetics laboratory it depicts the geneticists working with the life essence they called it life essence and they meant DNA they were basically sequencing the genome expanding the DNA the base pairs and that's what you're seeing here the ladder of DNA or the spiral of DNA is the tree they that's their imagery for it okay we look at it as a double helix spiral they looked at it as a tree when the base pairs were expanded okay or we're broken apart and that's what you're seeing in the middle there okay they called it the Tree of Life and then the ancient Kabbalistic tradition from where the ancient Hebraic traditions come out of you know they have a tradition regarding the Tree of Life as a system of correspondences for the the self so this is depicting these so-called gods okay performing genetic experimentation all right and their symbol is that winged disk symbol above that was the symbol for the Anunnaki by the Sumerians whenever the Sumerians were referring to these beings they often use that winged disk as their symbol so we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth has happened there host mark Basia we're continuing with the ancient fragmented account of human origins as connected with the visitation and interference of beings from elsewhere a difficult pill for many people to swallow when it comes to the research about what led to the current human condition but absolutely vital and necessary to understand and we're going through this generalized account and I think what I'm going to do for tonight's show I know I said I was going to take calls in the third hour I think I'm gonna just keep going with this story and hopefully try to get through it and forgo calls for at least this one show and we could pick up calls on next week's show I hope people aren't too disappointed about that but I think that this material is important enough that I want to try to continue to present as much of it as possible at least for this week okay so let's continue with slide number 44 we were on - I'm sorry slide number 42 so after the expulsion from Eden actually I was preparing to go back to 41 before the break so 41 shows again this tree the image on 41 you see n key seated there on his throne overseeing the operation and one of his geneticists again is putting waters into this fount in which the tree is planted and this represents the vessels that they use to do genetic experimentation what we might call test tubes today so the thing he's pouring in there is genetic material the tree represents DNA it's the tree of life hence the codes that make up all of life in and code for different behaviors and characteristics and traits so now that i've briefly outlined some of the symbolism you'll you'll see it all over when you look at these beings when you look at the traditions that talked about these beings and tried to preserve accountings of the histories that they had seen and undergone in these ancient cultures the the tree of life as a genetic symbol is constantly recurrent so let's move on to slide number 42 the this new hybridized species of workers that they had made when they started putting them to work in the mines in the Absa proved very difficult to control they seemed to be too intelligent and wanted to be free okay they didn't like being enslaved I would suggest most species don't like being enslaved it seems humanity yet currently is the exception to that rule it seems we enjoy our enslavement all too much but you know perhaps covert enslavement is really enjoyed by us but you know overt enslavement we kind of recognize at least and this was over enslavement as depicted here on this you know itching I believe this is a like a bob relief that is then has like a robbing done of it or maybe just a drawn translation of that but essentially this bar relief or stelae here is depicting the Anunnaki and their new slave species and how they were controlling them and putting them to work in the mines you know you could see that the they're clothed they're larger than other beings they have human beings on leashes they're stepping on a human being who isn't complying and the other beings the human beings are naked the other human beings naked are being ushered into one of the entrances of the abbé sewer the mines it was all there it's all depicted and people will still deny this was going on and these weren't just kings of their people who are putting their own people in to the end of the mines you know they're always depicted as giants physical giants not just giants metaphorically you know that oh these are great men of stature you know of social stature no they were depicting them as larger than other beings and some of these beings the there they're said that they are upwards of 30 feet tall some of the original purebred Anunnaki okay and some of them you know you hear accountings of some hybrids of them being you know nine ten twelve feet tall but the one thing or another happened to result in this condition and I personally am I'll tell you what what dynamic I personally fall onto believing in a moment but let me just explain these two scenarios people think that these beings were too difficult to control either because the Anunnaki had messed up in their genetic hybridization experiment and given them a little bit too much of their own DNA and therefore that created some innate intelligence in them and they were able to see what was happening instead of just being blind order followers blind task followers okay some other researchers believe that they retained in the mixture in the admixture that they were working with to hybridize these beings when they were doing the genetic splicing and experimentation that they retain too much of the native earth DNA the native earth being hominid DNA remained in the hybrid species now I think that is the case it isn't the in fusion of Anunnaki DNA it's our native Earth DNA that was remaining in us because that was the unpolluted DNA that was still on a natural course of evolving in harmony with this planet and I believe that these beings left too much of that in the human hybrid admixture of genetic material that they were working with and that's what allowed these beings to see that they were being enslaved and you know rebelled against it and I think that's why they want to epigenetically constantly try to wean this essence out of us through all the different pollutants that they put into the atmosphere into the water into the food they don't want this natural force arising in our genetic material okay because I think the beings that were here originally wanted to be free they were developing in in harmony with nature and they would have developed into something majestic and absolutely beautiful if they were left to their own devices and left according to their natural progression as nature always does you know if it's left on diluted and unpolluted and that like I said at some point the will also has to take over and we have a choice whether we want to progress in line with the will of creation and move forward in consciousness that's always a choice but I think there is an innate quality in the earth hominid beings that was powerful and special and that's what was too much of that was left in this admixture when they were creating these beings according to my belief and my research okay so what they did is they eventually did other modifications to the Earthlings DNA to make them more easily controllable this further genetic modification resulted in large portions of disconnected and non-coding DNA in the human genome so I feel that the original marked one species of humanity that we're talking about that had even received this slight upgrade to allow them to be able to procreate was still of advanced intelligence and still had a lot of their DNA working okay what we now call junk DNA what science modern science laughingly calls junk DNA okay I feel that was still coding in the mark one variant of humanity or what the Anunnaki referred to as the Lulu species Lu Lu meaning primitive workers in their language the these the this large amount of DNA that science calls junk DNA isn't junk at all it's simply non-coding okay so it's somehow been disconnected from doing what it was originally intended to do and we have no idea what capabilities that codes for we have no idea what kind of innate intelligence that codes for you know this process of further degrading humanity [Applause] the cool side [Music] we don't dare speak so while between us [Music] so we keep rated there but there's nothing wrong [Music] this is what on earth is happening we're into the third and final hour of tonight's broadcast continuing with the cosmic abandonment presentation and it's in its extended format here tonight we're on slide number 42 talking about once the these other beings recognize that the hybrid race that they created as a so-called primitive worker was too difficult to control they did another genetic modification upon them to disconnect large portions of their DNA and this was kind of like a almost like a death knell for humanity because you know we were physically fighting back against these beings while they were in our presence and didn't want to go along with their enslavement of us and when they did this further modification it disconnected large portions of formerly coding DNA and it also resulted in thousands and thousands of genetic defects in our genome the human genome contains at least four thousand genetic defects that aren't seen in other species on earth more than just about any other species on earth I think more than any other species on earth I believe and I feel that primary psychopathy is one of these defects okay I think when they did this further dumbing down you might call it this disconnecting of genetic material that should code for certain types of innate intelligence they created not only a lot of the physical defects that humanity experiences in the form of certain genetic illnesses you could look at the types of cancers that we that we get the types of central nervous system diseases things like Alzheimer's things like diabetes autoimmune diseases you know Parkinson's disease Huntington's disease different types of genetic mental retardation conditions and physical retardation conditions but even not just taking into account the physical genetic defects that result in physical disease conditions that humanity undergoes you could look at the mental health diseases that humanity endures and the first one that we need to take a look at his primary psychopathy which we've talked about extensively here on this radio show in past shows so again people don't ever want to discuss where did primary psychopathy come from because again it it really only gives you about three choices while either God did it the creator of the universe gave humanity a small portion of the total amount of human beings on this planet primary psychopathy so that they could torment the rest of the species it just God likes to make things like this in you know the beings that he creates just to endlessly torment them so that they have to live on a on a planet with interspecies predators preying upon their own kind I don't think the God of creation does that personally I mean no God of creation that I consider worth his salt so to speak is going to do things like that but there are there are idiots out there that think that that's what God produces that's what nature that's what creation that's what the universe that's what the underlying force of intelligence and everything produces it produces completely screwed-up stuff okay to me that's a total poisoned ABB's lutely ridiculous worldview that you know is is just it tells me already the condition that you are in as far as I'm concerned if people think that that that's what God does that that the the the being that creates everything and creates you know proportion and harmony and flow and order okay and things working the way that they should be working in balance in nature if you think it creates things like primary psychopathy I feel sorry for you I mean you know to me nature doesn't do those things I'm not saying that's just because I want to look on the bright side of things do you see God creating this type of distortion in nature I don't I mean my worldview doesn't look at that God just does things like that or whatever force of creation you want to talk about just done and it doesn't happen just randomly nature you won't even look at it as some sort of a random process doesn't create things like that and once again people will say well this is some sort of an advantageous condition psychopathy no it isn't it's a degradation it's a degrading it's it's turning into it's turning a human being into an animal that's what psychopathy is it's taking the qualities out of the human being that make it a human and turning it into an absolute animal beast living amongst in the field like other animals and that's not what a human being is that's a degradation of a human being that's something infinitely less than what a human being actually is you know the other options are while humanity did this to ourselves somehow we genetically modified we genetically modified ourselves somehow or if we didn't do it then some other intelligent being did it and that's what I'm suggesting here is that's why psych primary psychopathy exists because another species tampered to such an extent with our genome for reasons of their own that they created a slew of defects in the code that nature originally provided for us that created all these different genetic conditions these genetic degradation Xand defects in our genome including primary psychopathy and again that's part of what we're going to explore throughout this presentation so let's move on to slide number 43 the biblical accounts describe this further degradation of early human beings and this is from Genesis chapter 11 quote the whole earth was of one language and one speech and the children of men said let us build a city and a tower whose top may reach unto heaven and the Lord came down to see the city and the tower which the children of men had built and the Lord said Behold the people are one and they all have one language and this is what they begin to do nothing which they can imagine will be impossible for them to do soon let us go down and confound their language that they may not understand each other speech and from that time forward the Lord scattered them upon the face of the whole earth and they stopped building the city okay so let's take this one step at a time in breaking this down the whole earth was of one language and one speech well what does that mean it means that there were pockets of people throughout the world that knew what was going on or maybe even the majority of people knew it was going on hey this slavery was out in the open it was was not covert it was over it wasn't done through mind control it was done through physical control by these beings and their technology which they had brought to this planet which was unlike anything these ancient humans had ever seen no they were new species that they hadn't seen anything they had no frame of reference to understand what was happening to them but they were able to at least see that they weren't free that they were being controlled by being controlled by these beings like cattle out in the open so they were of one speech they were all on the same page is what that means they didn't want this to continue we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what's happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we were on slide number 43 and I was breaking down some of the account in the biblical story of Genesis chapter 11 that describes the further degradation of early human beings that we already talked about kind of in detail from the Sumerian accounts and when it says that the whole earth was of one language and speech it means that that human beings were united on the same page regarding their enslavement and how they were opposed to it and when they said let us build a city and a tower whose top may reach unto heaven under the heavens that could mean many things some researchers suggest that they were actually building technology that was similar to the Anunnaki stek Knology and this was some sort of a launching site for you know craft that could get into earth orbit if they were you know we're talking about thousands of years duration here we're not talking about this to happen over a period of weeks all right these beings some of these beings after they came out and if they started procreating on their own they the Anunnaki could not contain them to certain areas you know it was it was literally this is why the elite so-called quote-unquote are obsessed with controlling population as the population grows that these you know the beings are trying to control become difficult more and more difficult to control because you're only so many and if their population grows out of hand you know you're gonna have to reel that in in order to keep them under control so over thousands of years these beings were developing technology on their own and in many ways you know they were before this genetic further genetic degradation happened they were becoming perhaps as intelligent as the Anunnaki you know and they had built cities and they had built civilizations and you know they had technology at that point and essentially these beings were saying this has to go they can't continue do this because we're not going to maintain our control over them and we're not going to have the resources that we need okay and they said we have to do something about this so perhaps they reeled many of them in wiped a lot of them out what wiped a lot of their cities out and the beings that they wanted to keep using for their purposes they did this genetic manipulation - and that's the story of the Tower of Babel and how God essentially you know said let us go down again so that this has never explained by anybody in official capacity and religion why would God okay who wants to who sang the people are of one they have one language and they're they're you know building something that is like what what we're capable of capable of building nothing which they can imagine which will be impossible for them to do soon okay they'll be able to do anything so let us go down and confuse their language okay well who's us and what is their language now I'm going to confound their language first of all if God is saying that why doesn't he say I will go down no let us go down and go down in other words go down to the earth from our craft in orbit let us do that the gods quote unquote small G it's not the god of creation saying why would the god of creation have to go down from up he would just appear he would just be there he would just do it period if he's on an omnipotent being these aren't omnipotent beings they're not God as in the god of creation let us go down and confuse their language that they may not understand each other speech and that's not I don't think that that's literal like we're going to give them a bunch of different languages so they can't understand what each other are saying it's saying I'm going to go down and confuse the language that they are made of the DNA language the coat the genetic code that they are made of that comprises their characteristics their traits you know their capabilities so that they may not understand each other speech so that they'll be too dumbed down and stupid to even recognize what's going on around them and get on the same page like they are now and from that time forward the Lord scattered them upon the face of the earth and they stopped the building the city in other words they stopped evolving and their slavery was basically put into hardcore effect because of these this dumbing down of the genetic you know material that ancient humanity underwent and I would say that this probably happened somewhere around 200,000 years ago maybe a little bit less than that you know and again you're talking about such large swathes of time it's difficult to know I think these beings have been here at least a half a billion years probably for between 500 and 400 thousand years ago and they probably made us shortly after their arrival to the planet and this modification was probably done between 100 and 200 thousand years ago if I'm just giving some general estimates because again these are fragmentary accounts and I don't think we could know for absolute certainty or pinpoint an exact date so a lot of it is speculation and a lot of it is fragmented but I'm just giving general estimates so let's move on to slide number 44 the Anunnaki continued their efforts to control their new slave species and to put them to work in the most efficient ways possible they greatly differed on the best ways to do this so a deeper divide formed between the commanding brothers and again this is what I personally call the Enki and Enlil factions it wasn't just the individual brothers calling all the shots it was big it was the factions who aligned themselves with these beings so when we're talking about n cure n low we can even just look at them as factions of these Anunnaki beings if for lack of a better term to call them fact factions of the farmers okay who decided on different ways to go about doing their farming and keep the human herd under control okay so the end lil faction okay where if you want to look at it as a single being fine Enlil who hated the plan from its inception preferred to rule the humans with an iron fist which he felt would successfully end the mission as soon as possible allowing him to return to the Anunnaki homeworld and assume the throne so he played the position of a god all right he didn't want to interact with them as equals or as you know beings on the same footing at all he you know said I'm your God I'm one of your creators all right you you are gonna listen to me or it's going to be you know the the the whip and chain for you didn't want to put up with any dissent he was a totalitarian when it came to the slave species because he hated them from the very beginning he hated the whole plan so he said let's just we made them that's an abomination in its own right we then further degraded them that's an additional abomination all of this isn't more immoral all of this was forbidden by our original Mission Plan specifications I didn't want to be involved in any of this so what I'm gonna do is try to get this done as efficiently and as quickly as possible rule them with an iron fist and Enloe also wanted to destroy humanity after he was done using them now again this is where this idea in current Humanity of him as the total bad guy comes from but again he painted his brother as the devil to his own faction of people you know and Enki was considered the devil and the serpent which we'll get into so we're coming up to another break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us we'll be right back [Music] in [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm let's continue with the cosmic abandonment slide show we were on slide number 44 and I was explaining how the different faction of these beings that came here in the ancient past had different approaches for controlling humanity in the early days of their involvement with them the Enlil faction led by Enlil himself who hated the whole plan of hybridizing and other species to create a worker race and looked at that as slavery and didn't want his brother to go ahead with it but was overruled by the homeworld council one of the rule these beings with an iron fist as their God as their literal creator so that he could get the mission done as quickly and effectively as possible and get out of there and go home and receive the accolades for a job done well and and you know successfully accomplished and then take up you know the throne on his homeworld because he was the prince who was getting going to inherit the anunnaki throne when his father Anu had finished his reign so n ki his brother his half-brother on the other hand looked at the human beings as his own creation like a father might look at his children his method of control was indirect okay and again I still call it a method of control there are people who say oh no he just wanted the humans to be free I don't look at it like that personally okay and a lot of people will say oh well you know you're just down on all of them and you know you think all these extraterrestrials are bad people or bad beings it's not that's not necessarily the case what I'm saying is that these beings were there to serve their own interests and to perform a mission and ultimately when it comes down to it they were going to do whatever was required for them to do to control humanity to get that done so here you're seeing a couple of different depictions of how these beings operated with their slave species on the Left it's a depiction of how an lo may have interacted with the humans you know like a God seated on his throne and ruling with an iron fist and commanding them you know you see some of them coming out of the mines again these entrances to these mines that were deep underground I mean again it's it's all there in depictions it's all there in ancient accounts and yeah I mean you just look at how littered with with mines ancient Africa was and I mean just it's unbelievable what would these ancient people have needed with mining and smelting gold you know there would have been no purpose for it even before the humanity allegedly invented any monetary systems which we didn't do again as we'll see they gave us monetary systems you know there would be no reason to mine for gold you know it's an unimaginably painstaking process and ancient peoples that weren't a technological civilization would have had no no need for that we look at end keys method okay he his method of control was indirect he he gave to the worker species different systems of belief including religions governments and monetary systems in order to get them to comply willingly by allowing some of the humans to believe the notion that they were in control or that they were in a position of leadership or responsibility for the others so this way you would set up a hierarchical chain of command you know we I created a religion you're I'm the god you're my intercessor my intermediary I should say and then you're going to interact with these human beings on my behalf as priests this is the this is the new way we do things this is a religion and you have some power now so you're not a slave you know I'm divinely as your God and creator appointing you in this position and you're going to interact with those who are below you and human beings love that because some of them could be quote unquote free and they could give the orders now see they're just all in a rush to just exchange positions with their enslavers and nothing is different once again same things same story we're in the same situation today people think it's all about just taking out the the so-called illuminati the so-called elite you know why because there aren't thousands of people that would be willing to trade places with them and are so immoral that they would do the same things that they were doing in a heartbeat it isn't about changing the way all of us think it isn't about taking down corrupt and immoral institutions that don't serve us no no we need to leave those systems in place and somehow we're magically going to be free yeah okay mmhmm yeah you keep believing that you can keep your hand in a pot of boiling water and not get burned or nothing's gonna happen to it I can keep my hand directly over this fire for as long as I feel like it and it'll be fine you know that's that same thing it's just as ridiculous as saying something like that so any key people want to prop this being or this faction of beings up as somehow the enlighteners of humanity like illuminators and you know and it is true he started what you might call mystery school traditions he started attempting to teach humanity in their ways and give them different you know traditions and give them different some technologies you know you see him here giving humanity something that seems to be some sort of a energy device or technology you know he put positioned himself as the benevolent ruler and this is just that all this is a situation of good cop bad cop you know so one one sighs looks like he's the good guy in one side looks like oh that's that all the bad alternative you don't want him so you might as well get on board what this guy is doing you know that's all it was it's its again end key putting these systems of control covert control into place in the form of religion government and money the same things we're battling against today these institutions that allowed the these ancient beings that came from elsewhere to control this planet effectively and run it like an efficient farm without having to exercise total covert context who did not want to be enslaved and doing it this way ensured if you're controlling the mind that's epigenetically controlling the underlying DNA that you don't want cropping back up they were afraid of this innate human DNA that had capabilities probably that had capabilities that would have even outstripped theirs if allowed to its own devices and they don't want that they don't want that occurring so they have to put all these mind-control systems into place and these are the beings who invented the monetary system and let me just make that absolutely abundantly clear human beings did not use money before these Anunnaki factions gave them this system of belief called money so that they could interoperate with each other for goods and services as slaves on the land okay they were the one these Anunnaki beings are the ones who actually invented the original monetary systems that humanity put into use and people never even talked about the real origins of money you know they want to talk about oh it's just some invention that was come up with during the Crusades you know and and the Templars became the first international bankers you know it's or Goldsmith's you know that put gold on deposit because that's what people were using as money well yeah they were using gold as money people never ask well where did that practice come from okay you could talk about the origins of paper money and banks and fractional reserve lending until you're blue in the face where did the use of gold for money originally stemmed from it was already in full swing at the time of the Sumerian civilization so where did they get it from it's because these beings valued gold so much because of their any reasons for wanting it they're there in the reasons for wanting it and their perceived their intrinsic value what they ascribe to gold as intrinsic value for reasons we don't even really fully understand and can only speculate about so the Anunnaki beings they valued gold intrinsically and then they passed that value down to the human beings that they allowed to use a certain amount of that gold that was smelted and refined and pressed as coinage for their purposes as a system of interaction and then that creates a social strata you know that this is what they were trying to do they were trying to create social strata and hierarchy among these beings so that they would be easier to control and some of them would see themselves as I'm a leader of these other people [Music] you know today destroys the night-night divide today tried to run to the welcome back everyone listening to what is happening here on Republican broadcast passio my website what on earth is happening calm this is the last segment for this evenings broadcast were going through the cosmic abandonment presentation we were on slide number 45 we're a new abomination in this story is about to unfold eventually over time the beings that came here these Anunnaki as the Sumerians called the meaning those who came to the earth from the wider cosmos from the heavens began to take human females as sexual partners okay so some of them actually directly interbred with human females and offspring were born that were yet another hybrid species with more of these visitors these Anunnaki 's DNA in them so some researchers referred to these new this new species that was a second hybrid species that was literally created from actual sexual reproduction between Anunnaki males and human females as demigods because they weren't full Anunnaki beings they were not full quote-unquote gods nor were they fully human they were another cross species hybridization created you know by interbreeding between the Anunnaki and their slave species so this interbreeding is described in the book of Genesis in the Bible chapter 6 quote and it came to pass when men began to multiply on the face of the earth and daughters were born unto them that the sons of God saw the daughters of men were beautiful so they took wives of any of them which they chose and the Lord said again this is now one of the commanding factions or the you know the commanders and law and Anki more likely than not it is an key speaking in this regard my spirit shall not always strive with man for he is also mortal again this is another reference that we're not talking about an immortal being or an actual God he is also mortal meaning I'm mortal and so is man even though my lifespan is much much much longer than mankind's lifespan going back to the quote is he says my spirit shall not always strive with man for he is also mortal yet his days shall be no more than 120 years again this is that limiting of the human lifespan that was encoded into the human hybrid genetics because they didn't want them to have their extended lifespan by giving them the gene that controlled that lifespan continuing with the quote there were giants in the earth in those days and also afterward when the sons of God came unto the daughters of men and bared children with them the same in other words their offspring became the mighty men of old the men of rina renown and they are referring here to what is called the Nephilim in English it's an e ph IL IM that's transliterated from the hebrew which I believe is none pair Yoda LOM ed yoda mem ok Nephilim in Hebrew and that comes from that word Nephilim comes from the hebrew word 'no fall the fall or none pare la med literally means to fall or to okay so this is where some people get this notion that these were beings who were fallen angels they had fallen from another dimension they had fallen from grace etc but it literally means to descend to come down from okay and these were beings that they had come down from the original genetic purity of the Anunnaki and through this interbreeding process had become a hybrid and not a purebred but had become a cross between Anunnaki and human and hence they were fallen from were seen as fallen from their original genetic purity by probably both the gods and the humans and therefore they were called demigods or Giants you know because they weren't as large as the Anunnaki and nor were they as small as the humans so you know the whole point here is is it doesn't necessarily have to mean that these were supernatural entities or fallen angels I understand people's interpretation of it as such especially when they come from a purely biblical perspective lacking the insight of some of these older texts but and hey if that's somebody's take of their nature you know fine whatever I mean I'm not again I'm not here to debate the whole nature of what these beings are the bottom line is there are enslavers and controllers you want to be free you have to stop following along with their agendas period you have to understand natural law and live a moral life and stop cooperating with them and be prepared to physically defend yourself if necessary to defend your freedom and your rights that's what it altum Utley comes down to regardless of who's controlling us or what their nature is I don't care if their nature is another human being I don't care if it's a flesh-and-blood being from elsewhere I don't care if it's an interdimensional or if it's demonic it doesn't make a difference what their nature is their methodologies are the same and us waking up to that methodology works the same way and stop going stopping going along with their agenda works the same way so you know people can have their beliefs about what their nature is and that fits in with one religion or another I personally could care less all right I'm trying to tell the general overarching story of what happened here so that we can understand our origins and what we're going to have to do to overcome this condition all right that's the most important part of it so that's my take on the Nephilim and I think that these beings were left here I do think that they did did not leave with the original Anunnaki okay because this was another abomination another thing that wasn't supposed to happen and there there it would have been so frowned upon on their homeworld they didn't even want it known that this had happened these beings were not allowed to go back home with them and again that's another reason why they were called fallen because they couldn't go back up they couldn't ascend offworld and go back with the original Anunnaki when they when the vast majority of them took off and again I don't want to say all of them left because there's a very strong possibility that there were some of them that remained to oversee what was happening on this planet and that was much later on because there was other events that took place after this which we're going to get to so let's just for now move on to slide number 46 and we can get into some of those other details later while interbreeding with the new slave species was forbidden by the Mission Plan the Anunnaki used this interbreeding and the byproduct of these Nephilim or demigod beings to their advantage by placing these demigod offspring into positions of royalty and authority on earth so they had set up some of these governmental structures and religion like structures but now they can put these people in there as their middlemen because now they really didn't look like human beings this would allow the system of covert control to work even more effect of Lee because these beings look more like the gods they could take a step back not have to control these beings directly they're setting up these systems of mind control and obedience and worship to these beings these demigod beings as gods okay and saying they're the inner they're the divinely appointed intermediaries between the humans and the other gods okay and these bings essentially were just worshipped as gods as the the the kings of the earth the kings of their religion and their rule was unquestioned and unchallenged and that allowed them to put these beings to work them to put all the humans to work as efficiently as possible for the Anunnaki farmers that were controlling the whole operation we're going to pick up from there next week folks a whole lot more oh coltd material to come on the story of ancient human origins that's all the time we have for this week remember there's only two mistakes you can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way thanks for listening we'll see right here next week [Music] [Music] [Applause] [Music]

abandonment presentation the extended version of it and I'm going to be exploring the connection of what I call the interference theory of human origins to the current human condition that is what we're going to be going over tonight on the show and I think like last week I am going to forgo phone calls to just really delve into this material deeply and get through as much of it as possible so no calls for tonight's show maybe we'll make up for the few no call shows with an all call-in show at one point in the in the near future I do have a couple of quick event announcements that I want to go over the Nikola Tesla energy independent celebrations for 2014 are coming at us this week of course every year hosted by the Tesla Science Foundation they extend their information to the public and reach out to try to make people aware of Nikola Tesla and his work and legacy and what he tried to do for Humanity and there's gonna be three individual events right here in the city of Philadelphia coming up this week as part of the energy independence celebrations 2014 the first is a Tesla film screening and discussion on Wednesday July 9th again Tesla was born at midnight between July 9th and 10th so these celebrations usually center around that time period of the year Wednesday July 9th 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. at the Free Library of Philadelphia Maine branch in the auditorium the auditorium is in the basement of the free library main branch which is at 1901 Vine Street here in Philadelphia they're going to be screening a bunch of Tesla documentaries followed by a discussion open to the public that's the first event the second part of the energy independence celebrations will be taking place at the independence Visitor Center just across from Independence Hall it's the Tesla birthday celebration that they do every year and I'm sure there'll be lighting some Tesla coils instead of candles for Tesla's birthday they always have a couple of Tesla coils out at the birthday celebration so that's gonna be Wednesday July 9th 7 o'clock p.m. through to the end of the evening probably around 1 or 2 a.m. in the morning certainly after midnight so that's at fifth and Market Streets in Philadelphia and they'll probably be some guest speakers there as well the third part of the energy independence celebrations for this year is the Tesla Days celebration and lectures that's going to be taking place Friday July 11th from 10:00 a.m. all the way through to 4:30 p.m. at the Philadelphia City Institute that's another branch of the free library actually and that's at 1905 Locust Street in Philadelphia so those are the three events that comprise this year's Nikola Tesla energy independence celebrations for more information on this great event you can visit Tesla Science Foundation org once again for more information on the Tesla energy independence celebrations 2014 here in Philadelphia coming up this week visit Tesla Science Foundation dot o-r-g second event I will be giving a different from mysticism what can the secret language of symbolism communicate and how is symbolism being used in our everyday lives these are some of the questions we're going to explore mainly in the first part of this seminar and then in the second part as a case study regarding symbolism and occultism I'm going to be exploring the Major Arcana of the Tarot so that is what this seminar is all about and it's really going to delve deeply into the world of the occult and its symbols it's called demystifying the occult Saturday October 4th all day doors open at 9 a.m. there'll be a preliminary presentation by art Capozzi and then we're going all the way through to till 8 p.m. and a question and answer session will follow the lecture portion I haven't exactly worked out the time scheduling yet but I'll announce that when we have that solidified there's also free parking at the Manchester History Center just wanted to announce that for people who may be driving in from out of town so if you're in the Connecticut area in October in early October miss this great all-day seminar that I have coming up there one other quick announcement there is a support donation button on the what on presentation I'm going to be continuing today I started it three shows ago and you can check those out on the podcast section of the website tonight we're going to be picking up from image number 45 whereas basically where we left off last week we started getting a little bit into image 46 but I'm going to go back one slide and just take it from the concept of the Nephilim which we were exploring neck last week that's coming right up ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're continuing the cosmic abandonment extended presentation on tonight's show last week we left off discussing information about the beings known as the Nephilim and that spelled ne pH I li m Nephilim as I was saying last week these were the beings that were the offspring of the original non-human entities that came to this planet hundreds of thousands of years ago and created humanity as a slave species and they then some of them interbred with their creation with their genetically modified creation and we were on slide number 45 of the cosmic abandonment slideshow presentation and I'll briefly reread that slide it says eventually Anunnaki again this word means those who from who came to the earth from deep space Anunnaki males be in the Sumerian language that's what that word translates as so these alien beings began to take human females as sexual partners and offspring were born that were another hybrid species with more Anunnaki DNA they were referred to as the demigods as they were not full Anunnaki quote-unquote gods nor were they fully human this interbreeding is described in the biblical text in Genesis chapter 6 which says quote and it came to pass when men began to multiply on the face of the earth and daughters were born unto them that the sons of God saw the daughters of men were beautiful and they took wives of any of them which they chose and the Lord said quote my spirit shall not always strive with man for he is also mortal yet his days shall be no more than 120 years there were giants in the earth in those days and also afterward when the sons of God came unto the daughters of men and bared children with them the same became mighty men of old the men of renown now that's a whole lot of information to take in there in just those few verses in Genesis 6 but this is a watered down recounting of the genetic hybridization and interbreeding story that is described fairly extensively in the Sumerian and Akkadian texts so what you're seeing here is just taking all that information and condensing it down in Genesis but the information is essentially there it came to pass when men began to multiply on the face of the earth now what that means is after the first modification was done to the mark one variant of the human species because as you'll remember last week or a couple of weeks ago I was describing the time when the first humans were genetically modified when they were genetically created hybridized they could not reproduce on their own and therefore they went these beings went and did a second modification and they gave them some more of their genome of the these alien beings genomic material their DNA and that enabled them to procreate on their own and gave us the current amount of chromosomes that we now have by splicing a chromosome one of their chromosomes with one of ours okay so when men began to multiply on the face of the earth because they didn't always have that ability all right and daughters were born unto them so they were at the point where they were procreating on their the sons of God this means progeny of the actual Anunnaki or these alien beings the purebred variant of them all right saw that the daughters of men were beautiful the male's took a liking to human females and took wives of any of them which they chose well they were gods in early humans eyes they were our creators our commanders our enslavers you know with seemingly supernatural capabilities and technologies and so they just did whatever they wanted and humanity was in no position to disagree with them at this point especially after the further dumbing down of humanity that happened as a result of the second genetic modification that was done which we talked about last week which I feel would is responsible for so many of the flaws and degradation in the human genome which leads to all of the different degenerative disorders that we find in the human species not least of which is primary psychopathy so the next part of this quote the Lord said my spirit shall not always strive with man for he is also mortal well well what does that mean he is also mortal it means that these beings are mortal as well he's talking about man saying humanity is also mortal just like we are their lifespan is thousands possibly even tens of thousands of years but they are mortal and they can die they do die but man would have saw the early man would have saw them as immortal beings because you know they lived and they outstripped their lifespan by such an extent that many times you know tens of generations of human beings would never see one of these beings die that's how many thousands of years they lived for maybe even a hundred generations of human beings would never see one of these beings die so they thought that they were immortal and never died they just had an extremely long lifespan that could also be as a result of interstellar space travel when you're in a different you know relativistic time frame and especially traveling at near light speeds who knows what their technology was that could have you know made them live extremely long on this planet whereas they might have a relatively new coat on quote normal lifespan where they come from I don't know it's just speculation at this point but it's something to consider so he says yet his the Lord speaking here and again this is one of these beings it's not the God of creation yet his days shall be no more than 120 years so this is you know a direct allusion to the previous discussion or debate that was going on between the commanding brothers of this earth mission Enlil and Enki which you have to again take as a grain of salt and even possibly look at as factions of these beings I don't I look at these these two brothers not even as just individual beings I see it as debating factions or warring factions you know of these beings that perhaps the people that were just taking down these accounts you know saw them as one set of beings that wanted to help humanity one set of beings that just wanted to overtly control humanity which is the Enlil faction okay and the N key faction seems to be the ones that came up with the plan to begin with and then wanted to kind of try to uplift their progeny if you want to even call it that you know by giving them knowledge and information and trying to somehow make them capable of living in in some type of harmony with each other on this planet I don't still see either one of them as good guys you know the whole thing was wrong to begin with was immoral and never actually should have been done its messing with you know the actual order of nature by going in and hybridizing other beings and making things that nature didn't really select for existence you know that that could be debated at another time I'm just putting out my thoughts regarding this now you know what does that mean does that mean well then humanity would have never existed well maybe maybe that's something that people should consider may have been the natural way that things were going on this planet another being may have been selected to actually evolve naturally on this planet and not humanity and then this was done this was done to that set of beings you know and they were hybridized to create us something that it appears was actually infinitely less than what they were but we'll get into that later we'll continue with this story on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening we're continuing to delve into the story of cosmic abandonment to try to explain the current human condition by looking at what I call the interference theory of human origins and we're talking about these beings known as the Nephilim and we were reading a quote from Genesis Genesis chapter 6 which talks about these beings that were demigods quote-unquote alien-human hybrid creatures that were created by interbreeding between the Anunnaki beings or the purebred alien creatures that came here and created humanity for their purposes in the ancient human past and their their own creations the human beings that they made and in the biblical text that says that there were giants in the earth in those days and you know people have speculated it doesn't say there were giants on the earth but in the earth you know possible a possible allusion or reference to these beings living in subterranean dwellings of some kind possibly because again we have to understand this was forbidden by their mission plan and these beings were really the commanders of these beings would not really have been very happy that this started taking place because this created a whole new dynamic for them to have to contend with you know it was bad enough that they had already created a species that basically should not have existed according to nature and then what they did has started interbreeding with them in creating yet another species that was not intended to exist by nature the Nephilim race so it says there were giants in the earth in those days and also afterward when the sons of God came unto the daughters of men and bared children with them the same became mighty men of old men of renowned so what does that mean that means the bings that were the byproduct of this interbreeding okay they became what they called the mighty men of old the men of renown their same were these giants that were larger than normal human beings because they were essentially a cross species and interbred species okay so they are saying that they became mighty men of old the men of renown now what does that mean okay it means that they became the beings that were essentially propped up on pedestals as the gods that would rule over humanity they were placed at the highest apex is of institutional power in human society again we talked about this covert methodology of control by giving the human beings the institutions okay they gave them money they gave them government they gave them religion so that they would be more easily controllable okay and now that this happened all right these institutions could be ruled by these interbred species than Nephilim they could put them in those point positions of power at the apex --is of these social institutions that had already been created by humanity and they would see them as the intercessors or the intermediaries between the gods their actual gods and human beings so they were demigods so to speak and again this word Nephilim it comes from the Hebrew language not Nephilim the fall NEP HAL transliterated in english that's how you would spell it comes from the hebrew nephal which is none pet la med and that verb means to fall it literally means to fall Neph fall fall what the word fall is actually in the word okay so Nephilim again Oh heme is a plural ization and you're combining basically there two things nephal Oh Nephilim Nephilim Nephilim okay that's in Hebrew spelled nun pet yad la med yoda mem final mem okay so that the word Nephilim actually means those who fell or the fallen ones now here's where in religious sensibilities when they come into the picture you have people that believe that that word takes on the connotation that they are fallen angels fallen ones meaning fallen supernatural entities okay now I can understand why people of a religious persuasion think like that because of course this whole thing is dastardly and and devilish by any stretch of anybody's imagination to come and create a species that is a bastardization that is a hybridization that you're taking off of their natural course of evolutionary development on on the planet that they were adapted to you're combining and splicing your DNA in with them to make them actually dumber and and they'll say that they were modifying them and making them better and smarter and giving them the ability to understand their language and use their tools in my opinion there was nothing wrong with the beings that were already living on this world and they were developing naturally according to the natural evolutionary progression of this planet in harmony with it and could have become something profound and now we have been our inter our evolutionary development our natural evolutionary progression has been interfered with by this genetic process by this genetic hybridization process that's why I call this interference Theory not just intervention you know they interfered with a natural process that was already taking place and was going along its way just fine and they turned us into a being that was not adapted to naturally living on this planet as we are really the only being aside from the domesticated animals which we have hybridized that are not naturally adapted to live on the surface of this planet so you know it's um it's something that we really have to explore when it comes to how people consider these beings their nature and you look at you look at the whole Christian interpretation of these beings being fallen angels but this to me this lends credence to them as somehow being supernatural entities okay you know they're to me they're not supernatural entities they're not gods at all they're not you know fallen angels that were once somehow good they're just being like us that had technology and an understanding of you know how to do certain things that we didn't understand and the word enough although and nepheline those who are fallen it to him to me that's a direct reference to what happened to these beings after they started interbreeding with humanity they since their DNA okay was combined with ours they were looked at by their superiors quote-unquote by the purebred Anunnaki as somehow diminished fallen from their original state you know because now their DNA is combined with the human slave species DNA and this was forbidden you know having sex with your own creation like this would have been certainly forbidden by their mission plan that wasn't wasn't part of the deal that they basically were charged to do on this planet by their homeworld and the council that voted to do this hybridization to create the slave species to do the labor that they wanted them to do so certainly this interbreeding with these beings would not have been permitted and therefore none of these and Nephilim the fallen okay the ones who were less pure in their genetic code than the purebred Anunnaki would not have been allowed to go back to their homeworld they have not would not have been allowed to ascend to their planet which they called new or heaven that translates in Sumerian as heaven or heavens they could not have gone to that home world okay to the heavens so they were fallen they were confined to the earth they were confined to this planet after this genetic interbreeding took place their own people the purebred ones would not allow them to return on their craft or via whatever means they were traveling so hence the name those who are fallen they are fallen to the earth they are not allowed to ascend back to the heavens back to the Anunnaki homeworld I mean it just makes so much more sense if you think about the possibility of this just being offworld entities who came here through technology rather than this being some kind of a supernatural play why would supernatural beings be concerned with what's going on on a terrestrial world on a physical planet you know and people will speculate while they may these interdimensional or supernatural beings may use us as a food source or feed off our energy and that's something else we have to be open minded to and explore as well in any event will continue the ancient story of human origins and interference theory on the other side of this break you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Applause] [Music] [Applause] the cooler side that we don't hear speak [Applause] there's a wall between ups little ribs so deep we keep it there but there's nothing wrong there's a cold of sides I can't go wrong there is a code of silence folks there's a code of silence about our true origins and all the Darwinists out there want us to believe it's all about random processes and natural selection and you know it's all just a clockwork mechanism for no purpose and then all the religionists want us to believe oh it's just God doing everything and it's you know all just him making things the way that they are and like I said earlier when we talked about these two childish theories of real human origins that don't take into account the current human condition and why it is this way you know it it makes so much more sense when you look at it from a perspective that there was a natural course of progression happening here and then it got hijacked it got hijacked by beings that didn't give a damn about us and they were just using us for whatever they could get out of us and many of them just intended to throw us away as we'll get to after we were used so again just to wrap up this one section before we move on that the Nephilim Oh heme is like adding a pluralization to an English word as in Elohim Elohim is the gods it's the word that is used for God in the Hebrew texts of the Bible and you know you asked Christians you asked Jews you asked you know alleged people of the book why is the name for God plural in the Bible and there's no good answers that come back you know it's not L it's Elohim the gods the plural gods okay because they're talking about multiple beings that were seen as gods that's what these accounts are of they're not talking about in these old biblical texts they're not talking about the God of creation they're talking about these gods quote-unquote gods you know and then there's the demigods that came after them the Giants the men of renown the ones that were in the lofty positions of authority because they were placed theirs as intercessors and intermediaries on behalf of the gods and then they interface with human beings that way instead of showing themselves you know it's like this is the God's will you listen to us we dictate the will of God it sounds very familiar because that's essentially the same thing priests and government officials and judges and you know people at all the top level positions of earthly quote authority actually feel about themselves today it's where this whole idea of Divine Right of Kings came from which we'll get to they have more of the gods blood in them of their demigods they have more of the gods essence you know they have the divine right to rule over us that God's appointed them you know it's where this whole notion that beings just because of their bloodline have some sort of a divine right to have a position of authority over others and you just think about it it makes so much more sense where would that idea have come from that your blood and the communication of your blood through your your lineage would somehow give you a right to rule over other people people don't even consider how ridiculous that sounds when we think of kingship and where something like that would have ever come from let's move on to the next slide and continue slide number 46 while interbreeding with the new slave species was also forbidden by the Annunaki Mission Plan they used this to their advantage by placing these quote demigod offspring into positions of royalty and authority on earth in this way they interfaced with and controlled the growing human population more easily and there you see on the right hand side a God more likely than not any key because it has the water flowing from his shoulders and he was always depicted like that with fish near his head okay seated on his throne okay and you have human supplicants on either side of him and you have other beings who he's talking to and perhaps communicating his will to they're gonna go in and essentially rule on his behalf he's gonna send them down to the earth he's not gonna go and do that work himself you know he's an ascended one he's one of the actual gods you know these beings at some point very rarely made even appearances on the earth they let their intercessor intercessors handle their business for them and they interacted with human beings on the earth instead of the gods and again hence their name the Fallen ones those who could not ascend those who were you know basically I don't want to use the word condemned but were you know there as part of their mission or part of their orders they were to stay on the earth and you know that could be a condemnation or a death sentence when you look at it but in any event these beings you know were considered the lineage of the gods because they had their DNA in them more so than human beings did and and hence they were saw seen as demigods eventually in their competition to control the slave populations population skirmishes and even all-out Wars broke out between different factions of the quote gods and demigods so they were vying and jockeying for power on earth and resources themselves and eventually they started going to war with themselves over territories over resources etc and it was an egoic thing where they wanted to be seen as you know the main God they wanted to be worshipped as these beings got you have to read some of the accounts of what human beings would do for these creatures how they would see them literally as gods and treat them accordingly you know where every single whim was satisfied every you know you name the task you know they would do it for them they would you know completely take care of these beings in every single way that you could possibly imagine bringing them whatever foods they want doing all their their you know physical chores for them sexual Association and pleasuring you name it anything every single possible way that they could attend to these beings it was done it was like so in many ways while the conditions that work seen as deplorable on the earth and these beings didn't really want to be here in on this planet they liked the conditions because they were literally treated as gods it was like some sort of a getaway or paradise to them because on their world people weren't gonna gonna treat them like that they were just normal beings but here they were gods you know with their every wish and whim fulfilled so the the ancient wars between the gods is talked about in many of these texts as well particularly the Indus Valley tradition texts like the Mahabharata the Ramayana etc and some of the apocryphal books of the Bible get into that as well like the Book of Enoch and you know you realize that these beings were simply now in a complete state of ego by this whole condition that had been that they had created and they they liked it in many ways some of them didn't again that this Enlil faction of beings really wanted to complete the mission and get out of here and they looked at it as a complete abomination what had been done on this planet so let's move on to slide number 47 and we'll get into that a little bit sometime later and when I say sometime I'm talking probably thousands of years had gone on you know we're talking about large stretches of time here not like a few years a cataclysmic deluge swept over the earth wiping out much of humanity but leaving small pockets of survivors some researchers believe again of course this is the story of the deluge or the biblical flood okay and there is a lot of scientific evidence to support that this actually took place that it was like a worldwide flood that basically set everything back to almost zero and the oceans were tilted over onto the continents and the only thing that really can do that is something that is akin to a pole shift a physical pole shift which would create the quote-unquote bathtub effect which would completely you know tilt large bodies of ocean waters over onto the continents of Earth [Music] [Music] my [Music] on earth is happening here on Republic rod casting I'm their host mark passio we're continuing to unpack the cosmic abandonment extended presentation and we were talking about the Great Flood and some researchers again this is slide number 47 in the presentation if you're following along with the slides which are on the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page they're also listed with the podcast this will be podcast number 161 you can also download the zip file that is up is linked up there too and just the unpack it and you'll get all the images for this presentation so this deluge or this cataclysm that basically created a physical pole shift of some type there's a lot of debate over what caused that some people some researchers believe this was a natural event which these beings that were called the Anunnaki by the Sumerians knew was imminent but they were incapable or unwilling to prevent in other words they knew it was coming but they wanted it to hit the earth because it was a good way to basically get rid of the humans at that point which you know their work had largely been done and we're talking about relatively recent human history were going back probably a little over 13,000 years maybe even a little bit less than that give or take a few hundred years so some people think that you know this was their mission was wrapping up many of them were leaving and they were just basically looking for a way to solve the quote-unquote human problem so some people believe that this was a natural event that was part of a Seifert galaxy cyclical explosion and the researcher of scientists I'm sorry Paul Laviolette has done a lot of work regarding this the scientist Seifert is who this phenomenon is named after it's believed that most galaxies have a large central condensed mass that periodically emits eruptions from the from a blow off of that mass and that creates a galactic wave that stems out from the center of the galaxy in all directions every so many thousand years and that gravitational wave can basically rearrange solar system whole solar systems if you're caught in you know some kind of an airflow of it if you happen to be in that portion of the galaxy that really hits hard and supposedly earth was in that path during this Seifert galaxy explosion 13,000 years ago now that's what some researchers think caused this okay and I think it's a solid of a theory as any and there's a lot of evidence to support physical geological evidence supports the flood the Cataclysm and that there was a global civilization on the earth before that that was then wiped off the face of the earth and we've been rebuilding ever since other people believe that it resulted from a physical pole shift which was deliberately caused by a faction of the Anunnaki led by Enlil using advanced technology in order to eradicate humanity deliberately a species which Enlil saw as an abomination that never should have existed did they have such technology more likely than not they did some researchers speculate that the earth was not always at its current axial tilt with respect to its plane of orbit around our star the Sun its 23.5 degrees axial tilt is what gives the earth its seasons okay when it's pointed toward the Sun there is summer the Northern Hemisphere winter in the southern hemisphere when the northern hemisphere points pole points toward the Sun when it is pointed away from at a 90-degree angle away from the Sun that's the equinoxes whether it be the spring equinox or the fall equinox whether it is when the north northern pole is pointed away from the Sun that is winter in the northern hemisphere and southern in the southern hemisphere because the southern pole would be pointed toward the Sun hence this axial tilt of 23 and 1/2 degrees gives us our seasons if the earth were not tilted at such an angle with respect to its plane of orbit around our star there would be an eternal spring crops would grow in the northern and southern hemisphere at all times of the year and just think about what kind of a different level of consciousness that would give the people of the earth there would be no season to survive there would be no season of death and non growth and no growing of food that we used to sustain ourselves because the energy of the Sun would always be directly hitting essentially the equator of the earth and therefore the northern and southern hemisphere will always be temperate zones where we could grow essentially any time of the year food therefore there would be no state of lack because we wouldn't have to go into survival mode every year now it's a lot different because there's food trucked in from all different locations where it's grown you know but the point here is the consciousness of lack and non abundance and scarcity would not really be present on a planet that had a equal angle the zero degree angle with respect to its plane of orbit around its star because it would be basically a planet in perpetual spring many researchers speculate that this was the condition of the earth in our ancient past until this event which threw it into further chaos first of all you look at you have to look at the continents of the earth as like a basin holding water and then if you suddenly kick that basin what would happen to most of the water it would spill out over the sides you know the the the ocean floor the continents are you know like an elevated shelf sort of and then the ocean has is like a basin so the water is sitting in a basin and if you suddenly tilted the entire thing or jolted the entire thing what would happen well water would spill everywhere that's what a physical pole shift is we're not talking about a magnetic pole shift in this case we're talking about a physical pole shift and other researchers believe that that was actually created by somehow destabilizing the possibly the Earth's magnetic field to such an extent that the physical body of the planet re shifted itself to compensate and that this technology was used by em though or the Enlil faction of Anunnaki beings and again I just want to reiterate here these names are just terms you know we don't think I've hung up on names you know it's not that they have to be the quote-unquote Anunnaki of Sumerian origin of Sumerian uh you know way of explaining it this is just a name that all that meant was those who came to the earth from the heavens from deep space that's it you know it's just a label other cultures called them called them other things you know like in the Zulu tribes they called them chitta Ori you know they were called many many different names in the Semitic regions they were the Elohim so don't get hung up on the names and even when I say Enloe again it doesn't necessarily have to mean one person I look at it as a faction of beings they might have been led by a big name then though but they had the same idea or ideology when it came to how they viewed humans we'll be right back [Music] Oh [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're talking about the largely untold story of ancient human origins as a slave race and how this connects with our current condition as a species and eventually we're going to talk about you know what we have to look at in order to change this condition but we're talking about the flood the biblical deluge and how different researchers who were in to interference theory as I call it intervention theory as some other researchers have called it how they looked at the causal factors for this Cataclysm some think it was a natural event and that the Anunnaki simply looked at that as a fortunate thing for them because this could handle the human population that they didn't really know what to do with or how to handle it was running out of control it was very violent it was barbaric they really couldn't be taught very similar to how we are now really nothing has changed and they just wanted them gone many of them and some speculate other researchers speculate that no this was a deliberate event that was actually created technologically now regardless of which one of those is true the result was the same and large amounts of ocean water poured onto the continents and wiped out the vast majority of humanity we're talking about tsunamis you know a hundred feet tall or more or higher you know we're not talking about you know little 20-foot storm surges like we've seen in recent years here on earth we're talking about walls of water rushing over the continent you know where you would only survive if you were in the very highest mountain regions or you happen to be in a spot where some of these massive super you know tsunami waves did not gather which would have been very few places but you know this goes to the biblical story of the flood and Noah you know which we're going to look at in the next slide all right so we can move on to that was slide number 47 we can move to slide 48 now the pre-pre allude to the deluge is described in Genesis chapter 6 again Genesis 1 through 6 is really the watering down accounting biblically of the entire early human history with these beings and it's just traditionally you know the way it's told is to hide the real events that took place because religion wants to control you it doesn't want to enlighten you and tell you about your real origins religion is all about you're gonna do as we say you know and if people don't think that dark occultus gave us all the religions you know all the world religions they're just they're foolish people who just don't understand what's really going on at all because they want to believe my religions right my religion is the truth you know everything else is all screwed up everything else has all been been handed to us you know by these people as their system of control to be propped up as their system of control but somehow the religion that they you know that that we were given is there is the correct one and somehow that's the one that's going to lead to an entire better place in a better world and I'm talking about of course XO religions I think all religions have an esoteric core at the foundation that is based upon natural law that some of the people who communicated these stories wrapped a lot of natural law in some of the allegories but in general if you're focused on the outside story you know the shell so to speak all your all that's being done is your mind is being controlled you got to get past the cover story past the asteroid theology past all you know the things that are the stories that are told there to simply control your your way of thinking about what is taking place in the world okay and get past all of that to get to the truth and a real tradition that lies underneath all of that that is about how we really should be treating each other you know not which god is better you know not you know which ways we should see imposed on other people because we somehow dislike the way other people live it's all about whether something is moral or not that's what it really needs to be about that's the common sense basis the foundation and then that just gets a load of dirt thrown all on top of it and and muddied over you know because people aren't really looking at what's right or wrong you know they're looking at their own preferences and whims how they think things should be done and it's more about being right to them than it is about actually knowing the difference between good or right action you know and wrong action or evil so going back to this account well let's look at what Genesis 6 says about the deluge and then we could understand it in light of these events with these non-human beings it says quote and God saw that the wickedness of man was great upon the earth and that every one and that every thought of his heart was evil continually and it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth and it grieved him at his heart and the Lord said I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth for repenteth me that I made them that I have made them but Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations and Noah walked with God and God looked upon the earth and saw that it was corrupt and God said unto Noah the end of all flesh has come before me for the earth is filled with violence and behold I will destroy them now you'll notice a couple of things the word Lord and the word God it switches somewhere in there doesn't it see there's the word Lord in the beginning of it and then there's the word God near the end of this paragraph and I would suggest to you that the word Lord here okay applies to one of these factions of beings and the word God may apply to another or you could look at it as this God that we're talking about here maybe the Enlil being or the end little faction of beings and then the God that saves Noah quote-unquote who is actually Zeus sudra from the Sumerian tradition it's the same story when you look at the story of Ziusudra in out of Sumer that is this the biblical story of Noah we'll look into that dynamic a little bit on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening exploring ancient human origins we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys a night-night divide today tried to run try to hide we need to break on through to the other side to get to a more accurate understanding of our past that can help us to understand why what is taking place in our present world is happening and what we can do to change it so we were talking about the story of Noah biblically and how this is a direct parallel to the older story of Ziusudra in the sumerian tradition and many speculate that zeus sudra was actually a hybrid as well was part Nephilim in his genetics possibly but there's so much in this paragraph let's break it down for a few moments God saw the wickedness of man was great upon the earth again they were behaving as savages and barbarians in many places because their genetics were really so screwed up and they weren't really taught morality and they you know were living as you know just vile creatures in many cases and there were others that were very civilized and wanted to you know be moral beings and you know wanted to learn how to use technology in the right way and treat each other with fairness and decency it's kind of like it is today you know but the vast majority of people were barbaric and there was a lot of violence you know and he says God saw that the wickedness of man was great and that every thought of his heart was evil continually and it repented him that he had ever made man on the earth and it grieved him at his heart again these beings saw that they had done something that was an abomination against nature that they had tampered with the real code of God DNA and they had rearranged it in a way that it should not have been done and created some sort of a monster and people can say all they want oh that such a horrible dark world view of what humanity is okay and once again I don't think that's our nature I think our nature is that they made us so that we are programmable the problem is there was no good programming going in you know when you make something with a nature like this and then it's left to its own devices without actually giving it good information and programming it properly you know it just decays it goes into a downward spiral proper information proper uplifting proper building of the mind of the soul would have to be done with these beings and in many cases that's what the N key being and faction were trying to do which we could talk about all right but essentially it wasn't enough and the it says that Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord that's where his name is first mentioned but Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord okay now the Lord may have been referring to Enki here and he favored Noah see if Enlil sent the flood created the flood right or forbade anybody who knew that a cataclysmic event was coming like a Seaford galaxy explosion which the Anunnaki would have been able to detect with their technology probably four years before it happened possibly Enlil as the mission commander forbade anybody to tell any humans about it so that they could do no preparation to avoid or avert it because he wanted them gone and the Lord in this paragraph may be referring to any key who couldn't let go of humanity because he saw them as his children that he had created there weren't weren't weren't could not have lived could not have existed unless it was for him and his eye to create this genetic hybrid species so Enki may have been searching for a being that could repopulate the earth with his genes see that's where the next line comes in so importantly okay Noah was a just man means maybe the teachings of n key and the N key faction of mystery schools the early mystery school traditions which N key had set up where Maeby had taken effect on this person and he maybe he did understand natural law maybe he was a very moral human being but the next part is critically important and perfect in his generations what does that mean perfect in his genes generations is just a euphemism or a code word here for genes it doesn't mean all of his previous generations were perfect beings it means that his actual his genetic essence was somehow an anomaly and it was free from the flaws and the degenerative conditions in the genomic makeup of the larger portion of humanity and therefore if he used his genomic makeup as a template perhaps when he began to procreate as he gave birth to new beings they wouldn't be infected with the kind of genetic disorders that was seen in the bulk of humanity over the over 4,000 genetic disorders that still existed with humanity that still exists with humanity today that existed then see and perfect in his generations and Noah walked with God now this probably literally means that he's having a conversation with n key at this point and he's saying that he's going to let him know that the earth is going to be destroyed because he wants him and perhaps a small pocket a small faction of earth humans to survive with him so that they could repopulate the earth after the other Anunnaki would probably think well nothing could have survived that and in many cases that accounts of them watching the flood take place they were just as terrified and petrified as many humans who were undergoing it on the surface would have been it was that powerful and they thought nothing could have survived down there but in small pockets humanity did survive it's time we die hard believe me it's tough to get them all so these beings like I said either created the deluge through technology or they allowed it to take place and forbade most of their people from telling humanity what happened but Enki told Ziusudra / noah about this and a certain portion of them were able to make preparations and survive it and therefore begin to repopulate the earth thousands of years hundreds of years after the deluge occurred and then the waters receded you know this pocket of survivors would have probably bred among themselves until they found other survivors elsewhere elsewhere in small pockets once these flood waters receded and slowly they started building up a population again so also there would have been many Nephilim on the earth during the deluge because again the Anunnaki I don't feel wanted to save these beings I don't feel that they really wanted them with them because what would have been the the social ramifications of that on their world they would have had to take these hybrid beings with lesser genetics as they perceived it to them back to their homeworld and explain how they had had sex with their own creation of worker slave species that they had created as part of a mission plan and then they had interbred 'with it would not have been looked favorably upon on their world by any stretch of anybody's imagination and therefore I think what happened was there were pockets of human survivors there were pockets of Nephilim survivors the demigods and then a society came about where they were all interbreeding with each other because there would have been a diminished gene pool as a result of the decrease in population and the Nephilim would have looked at themselves and their progeny as we are of the gods we have a divine bloodline we have more of the God's DNA in us than these other humans and they would have reset up re-created society along with some of the guidelines that the original Anunnaki would have given them while they were alive and running the whole show on earth so these original beings finished their mission after the deluge that there what there was you know interaction after the deluge this wasn't immediate you know I believe maybe they had some doing and setting up the institutions when they recognized that we couldn't get these beings or even this natural disaster if it was didn't get them all and in many ways there are researchers who looked at this as they saw this as these beings saw this as a divine signal from the God of creation to say hey don't try to wipe out these beings look at what they just survived look at what they just went through and still survived [Laughter] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing the unpacking of the cosmic abandonment presentation in its in its extended format and after I complete this extended unpacking of this presentation I'm going to get into specific details by going into source text material regarding the supporting evidence for these beings existence and the events that occurred in our ancient past so we were talking about that the deluge or the Biblical Flood and its aftermath and how pockets of survivors both human and Nephilim survived it and the Anunnaki saw this as some kind of a divine sign in the aftermath that hey they survived this we thought it would wipe them all out some accounts even tell that Enlil was moved by the survival of the people even though he had hated them from the very beginning and they I believe what they did at that point is they decided to simply reset up the social institutions that they had given and let the experiment run from there you know let the petri dish you know cultivate as it would and they wouldn't have any direct over involvement in that process at least not that you know is outwardly put out there by a lot of researchers or a lot of historians ancient historians but who knows but like I said I'm not opposed to the idea that some of these beings remained to oversee this whole thing okay that's very possible but what I do feel that they did is they set up their demigods the Nephilim to basically rule the institutions that they had given to people on the earth and they set them up as the very powerful heads of all the human social institutions you know they set them up as Kings as priests as the people who would direct currency you know as people who would lead teaching centers etc and you have the total descent of humanity from there from that point on that's why at the very beginning of these beings providing these systems and leaving everything descends in almost a linear progression from that point you know till we get to the modern era where we seem to be building technology back up to levels of before in a very different way because these beings used Nephilim technology and Anunnaki technology before now would seem you know their bloodlines and genes have completely entered mixed with us and you know there's still a lot of royalty is still obsessed with inbreeding with each other because they're looking for keeping certain characteristics intact and traits intact and see them as see themselves as having divine right to rule because of their blood you know it probably stems right back to this these ancient accounts of these beings and their differences in DNA and the different kinds of hybrids that they essentially created but of course the actual beings are no longer here with us these original beings are no longer at least overtly here with us on the surface of this world clearly and I would feel I would speculate that the Nephilim or the interbred or crossbred hybrids that had there a lot of their DNA and also that those genes got into bred into the pool of humanity and eventually became lesser and lesser and lesser until those traits could it really be seen as much and it all blended into one basic genetic pool hence you don't have beings that look a lot like the Anunnaki in our current society you know that was probably an even smaller gene pool the Nephilim gene pool and it eventually got absorbed into the human gene pool as those two races bred with each other on and on after the original Anunnaki left the purebred Anunnaki left the earth so slide number 49 is the last slide basic slide of this story it says the Anunnaki mission was eventually completed more likely than not successfully that they came for they acquired the amounts of materials that they came here to procure and they gathered their people and returned to their home planet leaving the traumatized surviving members of their human slave species to repopulate the earth with the social conditions which had been provided to them and with the demigod Nephilim species as essentially their leader their leaders or their overseers with the institutions that had provide been provided to them in effect put into effect by the Anunnaki and it makes sense why we're running this insane system ever since that isn't good for anybody on the planet it was only good to control the problem children of these problematic parents so-called and they took off to go do their thing and they left us here on the earth with essentially you know they're of a version of a bratty big brother and sister the nephilim to run run the household so to speak and in slide number 50 I gave this talk around Christmas time I wanted to put in a little originally I wanted to put in a little bit of comic relief I said that we were left here home alone cosmically abandoned you know the the Macaulay Culkin character from the movie home alone whereas parents go out and forget that they had left him home by that by himself which leads to comical situations when you know burglars arrive at the house an old Christmas movie for people who may or may not have seen it so I said we were left home alone in effect we were just abandoned and forgotten you know they set up some control based traditions which they felt could somehow lead to order here for us but they didn't stick around as parents you know they made us and then they abandoned us just like so many people do today with children it's the same story just you know on a cosmic level they made a species and then abandon that species essentially abandoned it people could say they left us here with some kind of a system that they thought would bring order but it doesn't and it hasn't and it never can because those systems are flawed on their face because they're based on some people being so-called genetically superior to others and having some kind of right to rule over other people as their slaves as gods you know ruling over slaves no system that's built on slavery can ever result in order can only result in chaos and destruction which is what we're we're already in that this phase of total chaotic break down and eventually destruction what just coming if we don't pull our heads out from up our rear ends and completely think differently about everything that's going on here you know which leaves me you know something I've really one wanted to touch on I'm going to shift gears here for a little bit before we go into the next story the next part of the story which I call the story of our present part two of the presentation and that's this idea of that were somehow free and independent you know this is 4th of July weekend Independence Day weekend if the people who tried to put a system of real freedom and independence in place would see what this country has become today they would urinate on us the founders of this country would literally urinate on us that is how bad the situation is in America now we have become in every way a communist nation a communal fascist nation and people still have the nerve to even put up a flag wave a flag and do whatever ritual they're gonna do with animal meat and claim that they're free and say we're celebrating freedom and independence the people of this country are a joke if they think they're free and independent a joke and anybody who thinks that the people who quote-unquote go fight overseas for freedom are doing that and securing freedom they're an even bigger joke an even bigger joke they're a bunch of clowns is what they are and they're the problem with the world people who think like that are the very problem with this world brainwashed and loved it I'm gonna continue this little mini rant on the other side before we jump into more material you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back don't go anywhere [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone who listens you what on earth is happening under host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm and that is exactly what we need to do is we need to wake up from our sleep because anybody that thinks that humanity is somehow free or the even Americans are somehow free they are in a deep coma they're beyond sleeping you know if people can't see that this species is enslaved and we don't get to keep the product of our labor one of the clearest examples of slavery is taxation prohibition can't think of any more clearer form of slavery than that telling someone you may not put what you want to put as an adult into your own body I'll dictate what you may or may not put into your body and people can't see that's a claim of ownership on the body of another which is exactly tantamount to slavery because they call it something different and condition people through words and then we're told it's not slavery and so then we can't see it as a people it's really just that simple that's how word magic works you know people can't see government as slavery people can't see money is slavery and as long as money exists slavery will exist all of these systems they were all given to us by our creators plural and I do not mean creator of the universe they were given to us by our offworld creators all of these systems of control money government religion politics taxation all of it at their whim and we've been running these programs like a hamster caught in a wheel ever since for thousands of years tens of thousands of years hundreds of thousands of years when are we going to wise up and realize none of this has ever been for our betterment it has only ever been put in place to do one thing and that is to enslave us because it all comes down to one thing folks it all comes down to self love that's the main problem with this entire world in its people we are a self-hating species and no one wants to wrestle with that no one wants to confront that no one wants to look at that humanity ultimately hates itself we hate ourselves for a very specific reason that is not the bottom line of the psychological story of mankind of the psychological condition that we are undergoing is self-loathing and self-hatred that's not the bottom line that's what it all comes down to that needs to be changed but the question becomes why do we hate ourselves we hate ourselves because of deeply seeded psychological parental abandonment issues and I apologize if you hear noise in the background one of my beautiful pet chihuahuas is down here with his toy and he's a little bit worried because of the fireworks going on in the city both of them actually are as many people are with with dogs would probably you know know what goes on during this time of the year with they want to constantly be right next to you and around you and he's squeaking his toys so I apologize that that comes through on the microphone but he's doing his best to cope with the fireworks and always outside so going back to what I was saying regarding you know the whole fourth of July thing and people not recognizing slavery you know these beings just did whatever they wanted then took off and they left their so-called children here to deal with the aftermath of a the existence of a species that should not have ever existed and that is trauma that is traumatic and it is literally the race was abandoned by its cosmic parents that came here gave birth to us and then left now what do you think that's gonna do that well you know what that can do to an individual child imagine what that will do to a species and their collective psychology it threw them into a state of self-loathing and because they were told by their parents hey this system is here to help and protect you and bring order you know here's your big brothers you know we're gonna give that to you know we took it like coming from as as advice coming from somehow loving parents yeah as a child would take it from a parent well I'll take my parents advice they must know better and we just took that ball and ran with it then you know where it got us into a huge pit a huge pit of degradation and immorality and decay and destruction and we don't want to grow up we want to keep blaming what's continuing to go on on the story of our past you see that's what somebody who is in a state of self-loathing always does you want to know the best place to look at this psychological dynamic in people with addictions I'm talking hardcore addictions bad drug addiction bad gambling addiction things like that that are absolutely destroying their lives completely hijacking their own life and hurting themselves somebody who's doing something like that can't possibly love themselves but I guarantee you you find a person like that and you go back into their past and almost invariably I would say oh well over ninety five percent of the time maybe up to 98 percent of the time if I had to give just a guesstimate as someone who has studied this dynamic you're going to find childhood abandonment issues parentally they're gonna have some kind of an issue where in their childhood their parent let them down didn't provide for them in some way that the parent doesn't have to take off and be absent I've said this repeatedly over and over so people understand what I'm talking about with parental abandonment does not just mean physical parental abandonment it can mean psychological abandonment it could mean spiritual abandonment it can mean mental abandonment it can mean emotional abandonment abandonment and whatever the child actually needs for their proper development to become truly raised into a real adult who has common sense and morals the parents haven't provided that therefore that child has this feeling of inadequacy why didn't they do this for me this is going on this is an internal dialogue going on subconsciously the person doesn't even have to be aware of it what what is wrong with me why didn't my parent love me enough were there something wrong with me you will find this the inner dialogue going on it not at a conscious level at a subconscious level with people who are wrestling with addicted diction and addictive tendencies invariably and the same overarching psychological dynamic is happening on the whole planet because of what happened in our ancient past with the whole species because of what happened here on this planet in our ancient past we can't let go of the past trauma in many cases because we don't even understand it we don't even know about it so we'll pick up this story of our present what does this tell us about what's going on now what can it explain on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us as a cool we don't dare speak the wall between us it'll rip so deep we keep there's nothing wrong it's cold we're about to jump into another segment of the cosmic abandonment presentation that I've been unpacking over the last few weeks this is part two of the presentation which I call the story of our present and we're moving on past the first 50 slides this is slide number 51 right now and in this segment of the presentation what I'm going to attempt to do is try to explain seemingly inexplicable aspects of our modern society in light of what we just talked about the story that we just unpacked and talked about regarding our true ancient origins as a species as a slave species so moving on to slide number 52 I pose the question in light of extraterrestrial involvement in human origins or what I have simply called interference Theory what seemingly inexplicable aspects of our modern world can now we explain more readily and we're going to look at several different dynamics in this portion of the presentation we can look at ancient structures and artifacts that we still don't understand how they were built and in many cases could not duplicate those structures in the modern world with all of our seemingly advanced technology today we could not rebuild them with the level of accuracy by any means that we have technologically a TARDIS bosal today could not do it and anybody that wants to tell you that we could reproduce some of the efficiency on some of these ancient structures is absolutely incorrect or lying and we'll get to some of those all right obvious flaws and complete inaccuracies in Darwinian theory of evolution which again I've said from the very beginning I do not concur with or believe in I think Darwin had a promising theory which he picked up the ball and ran with it and he said that it would have to be borne out in the fossil record and it never was and social engineers took that theory and they certainly ran with that ball much farther than Darwin ever did you know because it suits their agenda and they want people to think of themselves as part of a clockwork soulless mechanism that is the universe you know with some grand clockwork mechanism with no purpose or true intelligent design underlying it so when we look at this story of an our ancient human past and we look at specific details of our origins it completely punches holes everywhere in Darwinian macro biological evolutionary theory where I put evolution in quotes when I ever whenever I talk about Darwinian evolution I always put the word evolution in quotes because it only takes into account physical survival and the passage the passing on of genetic material which is not what evolution is that is one small part of what evolution is and you can as I've said in past shows you can pass on genetic material and beed evolving not be evolving at all only if you are moving toward more truth toward more morality toward more knowledge and understanding toward more common-sense toward more complexity in the way you think and understand things and certainly toward more morality that you embody and live in your life are you truly völva evolution does not mean just physical survival of genetic material what else can this inter interference theory help to explain as we've talked about human genetic defects actual genetic defects in the human genome and when we look at how they're imprecise splicing of genetic material because they were just creating a impermanent temporary slave worker species as they called it a primitive worker which is how the quote/unquote elitist still see humanity as primitive workers to just work for them you know this can explain all of the various genetic defects in the human genome which we have thousands of not hundreds thousands and people think the god of creation makes things like that with all these genetic degradation and anomalies I don't think nature is sloppy like that I think other beings can be sloppy like that especially when they don't really care about what they're making except for their own selfish purposes when no god of creation that I accept does things like that for what for what purpose to torment us what's his math just bad you know his he just can't get a handle on proportions you know can't quite match up the base pairs properly bit for bit I guess he's just bad with arithmetic I guess that's what it is this interference theory can explain the origins of primary psychopathy which again hardly anybody even attempts genetic researchers hardly ever attempt to do it psychologists never attempt to do it sociologists don't attempt to do it where did primary Psychopaths come from well I think it's one of the genetic defects that came in as a result of the genetic splicing that these beings did and that makes so much sense because the other possibilities of it being God doing it to us or us doing it to ourselves certainly don't make as much sense but if you have direct interference in the human genome primary psychopathy is something that very well could be explained quite easily quite readily somebody's in there tampering with something that shouldn't be tampered with with the human genetic code what what makes you think that couldn't create a brain structure in a certain portion of human beings that has no capacity to experience emotion in the midbrain which is what primary psychopathy is of course that could create a condition in the human genome that in a certain percentage of human beings the midbrain is malfunctioning and doesn't create the neuro peptides that go into the bloodstream and help us to feel emotion in the physiology when we perform actions to other people or other beings or animals and nobody wants to try to take a crack at explaining how that condition gets created in a species oh it's just it's just random right it's random mutation like Darwin says random mutation just created that I guess cosmic rays hitting us in a certain way just created psychopathy and people actually believe this notion that nature just produces things like this for what purpose like I said it has to be the worldview if you accept that at its foundation there is a worldview that says nature is here to torment humanity that's an inescapable conclusion an inescapable logical conclusion that has to be the worldview does nature do that is the question is that what nature is attempting to do provide a basis for human trauma and torture by making a small percentage of people just screwed up to a point where they don't feel at all and they become interspecies predators preying on their own kind I'm so tired of getting emails please people do not send me an email defending Psychopaths I don't want to hear it okay I don't want to hear that you think this is somehow an evolutionary adaptation or advantage you're sick you're a sick person if you think that you're demented you're mentally ill don't send me emails defending Psychopaths I don't want to hear it I don't think I could be any more clear than that we'll pick this up on the other side folks [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone who listened to what murder has happened I'm your host mark passio and before the break caught us off in the last segment I was talking about people who send me emails who try to defend human psychopathy and say it may be necessary it may be some kind of an evolutionary adaptation Elad Vantage you know somebody sent me an email last week or a couple of weeks back saying what do you think about the theory that psychopaths are necessary for saving lives in our society because their inability to feel makes them excellent firefighters and ambulance drivers etc you know they have no concern for danger you know they don't care about what what position they're in because they're willing to take such chances yeah I want that psychopath driving me to the hospital next time I have a traumatic circumstance that has to be dealt with in the body I definitely want to psychopathic ambulance driver I'll tell you that much I mean I mean you know I it's it's hard for me to even express that people could even take anything like this seriously let me talk let me just say what this is do you know who puts out these theories you know who puts out the theories that psychopaths are necessary and required and they're they're the they're the foundation of a healthy society they're needed for saving lives you know who puts that out Psychopaths who know that they're Psychopaths that's who puts those theories out there that's what I think of that I mean it's just such nonsense that people would even waste my time with stuff like this I'm telling you I get it all the time I get I get the whole thing from people still emailing me telling me that there's no such thing as psychopathy they can look out in society and say with an open straight-faced look on their face with open eyes there's no such thing as human psychopathy doesn't exist I mean I think these people are more mentally ill than the Psychopaths themselves to be honest that's a whole different level of crazy a whole different level then you can look at what's going on in this world and say that there aren't such a thing as people who have lost all ability to feel emotion or were never and never had it to begin with and you don't know that that's the case definitively objectively I mean there is no common sense there whatsoever as far as I'm concerned if somebody takes that position none it's a naive child I've used that term before and I'm saying that's exactly what that person is you have to understand this is not just an ad hominem attack you could call it that - it is that - because I am certainly attacking the person who thinks that way yes it is that but you know what it's also true because that's exactly what that person is psychologically in their makeup they're a naive child who has never grown up and looked at the world as it really is it's not just my feeling or impression or take on them being like that they really are like that and I'm also pointing that out to other people that that is true and correct that is their psychological dynamic that they're trapped in you know and this whole dynamic of psychopathy I have to do a whole nother show on it one day you know I have to go into you know the the idea that do we need a psychopathic aspect of our personality even though we're not Psychopaths even though we're not actually primary or secondary Psychopaths is it a part of a toolset to have the ability to switch off all emotion and should that be maintained yes I'm an advocate of that actually I tell people all the time I am NOT a psychopath I am NOT a primary psychopath I am NOT a secondary psychopath but in my toolset in my psychological toolset I have a psycho at my disposal that I can take and use when it is required and necessary and then when I'm done I could put that psychopath back in the tool set when you're in enough control over your own psychological makeup you can do that and this idea this psych psychological dynamic is actually explored in the movie equilibrium which is about psychopathy and not having the ability to feel emotion it's about primary and secondary psychopathy a very highly symbolic Masonic movie told through the allegory of Freemasonry hi I can't recommend the movie equilibrium enough it's right up there with they live as one of my favorite movies of all time it's probably number two behind they live but I'm telling you people need to watch that film to understand all of the different dynamics going on regarding human emotion and I think it gets almost everything right on point except it's kind of view of human nature I don't see human nature is something that is inherently you know dark and foreboding and you know creating a chaotic chaotic conditions it's simply programmable which is how these beings made us programmable because they wanted a program us to their liking and to perform the tests that they wanted us to do so does this explain the origin of primary psychopathy we're going to get into that in this section this interference theory as the creative creator of primary psychopathy that these beings did this to us and created this condition that has been with us ever since as a result of their imprecise genetic modifications to us does this interference theory of human origins explain the cultural institutions that are all around us to this day like religion government money authority priests classes mystery school traditions secret societies dark occultism I would suggest yes it does can we understand the origins of money as a system of control and enslavement as a result of studying the interference theory and the interference origins of humanity these are the beings that created money the concept of money and gave that to human beings so it could easily control them and create social strata classes among them so that they would easily control themselves the human obsession with gold is a big part of this which we're going to explore and I've already touched on how gold is not actually intrinsically valuable that's only a statement that is not actually true intrinsic value means you can eat it you can clothe yourself with it or you could defend yourself with it or shelter yourself with it that's intrinsic value these are the basic needs of a human being for survival beyond that it's something that you want or you find aesthetically pleasing it's a desire it's not a need intrinsic means it's fulfilling of a need and gold has no real intrinsic value it has perceived value the only way gold has intrinsic value is when you are already in a highly technological society that uses precious metals such as gold for technological development as in computing technology therefore it does have intrinsic value if you want to use it in computing applications other than that it does not can this interference theory of human origins explain how we got the notion of royalty the divine right to rule the notion of authority and government and kingship we're going to explore all of that in this section and again we'll do this so you know over the next you know segment until the end of this show and then we'll continue this presentation and you know the next several weeks so that's the general topics of this section that we're going to look at not in any particular order so let's move on to slide number 53 one of the things in the ancient past that was absolutely forbidden and punishable by death especially when the Nephilim were ruling humanity and the gods were often space at weigh stations and they were only overseeing the operations you know every so often was to attempt to make actual carved images of what the Neph of what the Anunnaki themselves really looked like that was completely forbidden and punishable by death we'll pick this presentation up right there on the other side stay with us everyone [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening on their host mark passio my website what on earth is happening com last segment of the show for this edition and we were talking about how in the ancient world when the quote-unquote gods the anunnaki were still among us they forbade anyone to depict them as they really looked this kept them kind of in the shadows and kept their hybrids the Nephilim basically ruling over humanity unchallenged because they were doing the bidding of the gods and the gods would not be recognized as simply mortal creatures by a population of humanity that was probably slowly beginning to come out of their naivete as a species as they evolved over thousands of years so the Anunnaki put in place this tradition of absolutely forbidding their actual image to be recorded in any way and communicated to other people they had vague notions of what they looked like and we see in a lot of ancient carvings etchings inscriptions stelae and reliefs different depictions of what these beings looked like and many of them are symbolic and are not meant to be taken literally okay I think more likely than not we don't have an accurate account of what these beings really did look like there are many different descriptions by different researchers who have drawn pictures painted painting etc and we could get to that that on a future show but one of one of the things that is common to all the ways that people depicted them is that they portrayed them in many ways with scales feathers wings fish symbology bird symbology okay and one way in many cases above all else with a large elongated skull okay so we can see all of these themes in effect in just this slide all right so let's look at the first image this is an image of Sargon some people will look at this as of one of the gods of the Dagon occults of the ancient Middle East okay and you have a fish on the head now this is exactly like a Pope's mitre again because this ties in with the religious institutions and traditions that were attempting to be the intermediaries between the gods and human beings so that human human beings were trying to make themselves look as similar to how they depicted the gods but again this would have been something that was mimicking or attempting to symbolize the way their head looked okay and again the scales would have been symbolic of what their skin looked like many people have depict them as reptilian beings i would suggest perhaps that instead of outright reptilian beings maybe these beings skin simply was of the type of texture or look that we have on our elbows and knees and that's simply what their whole outer layer of skin may have looked like but they had skin similar to ours maybe just a little bit tougher or rougher and it was you know you see some of the remnants of that on things like you know the backs of our knuckles and our elbows and our knees etc okay but they were often depicted as beings with scales like fish okay or like serpents so they were in many cases called or alluded to as serpents serpent beings and again this is where this notion of reptilian beings come from and I'm not saying that there may not be beings that are outrightly reptilian I keep an open mind when it comes to any type of extraterrestrial life-forms however what I'm saying is more likely than not these beings had more characteristics that were similar to a human being a larger human being but their skin was certainly different than ours our skin is much smoother than theirs was and probably a lot thinner their skin was probably tougher like the skin of a reptile so hence they were depicted like that and since they could fly in their technologies they had crafted descent down to the earth they had craft that could orbit the earth aircraft that could travel interstellar distances they were often depicted as flying beings they were depicted as birds in many cases so here is where you see this crossover of bird-like symbolism coming into the depiction of the Anunnaki and you see in the middle section you have a morphing of this Sumerian Akkadian character on the left-hand side and you have him becoming this King with this ceremonial headdress with again huge wings okay and you'll notice they're all in the same position they're all carrying the same similar some type of a pouch or a jug of some kind and they're all carrying something in their hand that looks like a cone okay in the first one in the first image to the left you really can't see it so well but in the other images it's clearly some sort of a cone all right now some people have speculated that maybe a piece of technology some others have speculated that may have been some kind of thing that was actually consumed by them that would enhance their mental capabilities some people also speculate that this was a symbol of their high level of intelligence namely the awakening of the pineal gland that looks like a small pinecone like that okay so this could represent that these were high more highly evolved or knowledgeable creatures so the pinecone is still a symbol of the quote Illuminati today illumination the awakening of the third eye okay but you see the theme repeated over and over birds bird feathers serpent like birds serpents fish with scales beings that came from the sea in the sky not the land okay yes a serpent slithers on the land that was largely regarding their skin texture okay so I've speculated that perhaps these beings still remain in the seas of Earth completely uncharted territories deep within the sea we could look into at some point I am gonna do a presentation looking into this hypothesis okay this theory and I'm gonna talk about why things like the naval intelligence aspect of the intelligence agencies okay the Department of naval intelligence is really running the entire show when it comes to the cover-up of these beings and perhaps still working with them I know it sounds like an out-there thing you know but we have to keep our minds open that some level of interaction with them still remains by the people who are still running the farm who are administrating the farm here on earth you know I could do a presentation looking at how the NRO the National Reconnaissance Office is basically a division of Naval Intelligence and that's the satellite control grid system that is put out in Earth orbit and is essentially also a weapon system now you look into their occult origins and ties and into the the mission patches and how deep occult symbology is used in those I mean maybe I'll break some of that information out at my seminar in Connecticut I mean because you have to look at the dark occultic symbolism that is in NRO symbology it's just unbelievable it's just so blatant and out there and in-your-face and the alien symbolism that's encoded into there is well it's not even symbolism it's direct out in the open so you know we'll explore that on a future show but ladies and gentlemen we're going to continue with this cosmic abandonment presentation next week a lot more about our ancient origins as a slave species and our so-called God creators unfortunately that's all the time we have for this week you've been listening to water on Earth is happening we'll see right here next week good night everyone [Applause] [Music]

truth freedom prosperity will host its free documentary scrim documentary film screening and discussion evening as always on the third Thursday of every month at 7 o'clock p.m. at the Guerin Recreation Center at 16th and Jackson streets in Philadelphia this will be taking place this coming Thursday July 7 teeth the documentary film for this Thursday evening is state of mind the psychology of control a really really great documentary on mind control and social engineering here's the brief description are we controlled to what extent and by whom what does it mean for humanity's future state of mind digs deeply into the sources to reveal that much of what we believe to be truth has been deception deliberately implanted into our consciousness to erect tyranny state of mind examines the science that has evolved over generations to keep us firmly in place and maintain the status quo so that dictators power brokers and corporate puppeteers may profit from our ignorance from the anvil of compulsory schooling to media and entertainment we are kept in perpetual bondage to the ideas that shape our actions state of mind delves into the abyss to bring light to the manipulation and reveal the true agendas at work from the ancient roots of the control of human behavior to its maturity in the mind-control experiments of intelligence agencies state of mind reveals a plan for the future that drives home the dreadful price of our ignorance will we choose our own paths or have one selected for us state of mind unveils the answers that may decide whether humankind will fulfill its destiny or be forever enslaved this is a really powerful documentary film that we have shown before as part of the free documentary screening and discussion evenings that we host but again we're rerunning some of the films that we thought were especially good and that people who are new to this group really need to see again in people who are even veteran members of the group need to take these films and show them the other people in their you know friendship circle and they're in their families so that this information can really say sink in so once again Thursday July 17th at the Guarin Recreation Center 1600 Jackson Street there is free parking free fenced in parking on premises to bring your own food and drink and it's free to attend there is a small donation that we have to give to the that the group has to give to the Guarin center in order to to rent the room so if you can give a small monetary donation it is appreciated but not required come on out on this Thursday at the Guarin Center and you know it'll be an educational evening so those are the two brief event announcements that I had I also want to mention that as always there is a support donation button on the what on earth is happening comm website if you feel that you've gained value from the information that I've presented and shared on this radio show in podcast and on my website through my videos you could feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so that it can continue so with that having been said let's get into the topic for this evening which once again is cosmic abandonment and the cosmic abandonment presentation that I've been going over for many weeks so if you're new to this particular material you might want to go back and listen to it from the beginning where I started covering this information but I as always I always recommend that people go back to podcast number one and start from there because this information of course is a very huge tapestry that has prerequisite knowledge that is part of it and if you don't understand the stuff that's built upon early on in the podcast this information is going to not really make much sense to you because it has prerequisite knowledge that you need to understand first that's why I always recommend people to approach the what on earth is happening radio series and podcasts in a linear progression starting from number one and moving forward at your own pace those podcasts of course are archived at the water on earth is happening calm website in the podcast section so I want to direct everybody's attention to the water on earth is happening calm radio page the radio show page as always underneath the player there are images for tonight's show you could see that image 1 & 2 were the Flyers one for the Connecticut seminar that I'm doing in October and one for the free documentary screen night in Philadelphia this Thursday this coming Thursday after that you'll see cosmic abandonment slides part one and two we've been going through these for the last few weeks and we will continue to go through these for the next several last week I left off at image number 53 and we were talking about essentially that it was a crime punishable by death to depict the beings that came here in our ancient past and genetically manipulated us according to their true forms [Music] you know today disguise the night 95 today tried to run try to hide I'll do the other welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm as I was saying before the break we were going through the cosmic abandonment presentation and we got I guess about halfway through the first part of the slides and we're gonna pick it up from slide number 53 this evening and we were talking about we ended up talking about last week how the quote-unquote gods these beings that came here and genetically manipulated our species and as always whenever I use that term gods I'm putting it in double quotes please do not think that I'm likening these beings to any type of gods or true supernatural entities that you know should be revered in any way these were nothing of the kind and I as I've said already I think that they are simply flesh and being flesh-and-blood beings just like us that think that they were gods and you know tried to act that role because of their advanced technology and you know wanting to be basically worshipped by what they considered to be a lesser species that they had made the term is simply you know applicable to how the ancient people would have seen these beings because of their advanced technologies and an ability to control them and it should not be seen as any kind of you know veneration that I'm attributing to these beings I'm wrapping it in double quotes enter there's a lowercase G please make note of that as we were saying last week these beings would have been completely would have completely forbidden anyone to show their image in how they actually looked and this is because after the interbreeding happened between these beings and their creation the early mark one variant of humanity I guess you could say they no longer were directly administrating things here on the earth they were allowing the beings that had resulted as a result of the interbreeding to be their administrators these were these were known or referred to in the ancient world as the demigods or the men of renown the Giants the Nephilim the biblical texts call them so these would have been at literal alien-human hybrids that resulted in the breeding between the original beings the original non-human beings that came here that the Sumerians referred to as the Anunnaki those who from the heavens came to the earth and their own creation the early human beings so these beings were kind of the intercessors between humanity and the quote-unquote gods who essentially ran this planet from offworld from probably some type of waste stations or space stations as we would refer to them as so that's where the notion of God's being in the sky came from you know and their administrators their priests class remaining here on the earth and this was done again we talked about this last week because these other these Nephilim beings or Giants were referred to as the fallen because of their fallen genetic status as a result of the inbreeding with thee as the gods saw it much lower level primitive human beings so they were considered to have a fallen genome a fallen variant of their DNA and therefore they could not be taken back to their home world with them in the heavens therefore they were considered fallen ones or fallen angels you might call them okay but they were certainly beings who were fallen from their original home in space so again they wanted to depict they wanted to take advantage of this blending between themselves and human beings which would have obscured some of their actual genetic and physical characteristics and traits in the way of differences and the offspring between them and human beings probably would have looked like certainly a cross between them and as they continued to breed with human beings that difference would have gotten less and less and they would have looked more like human beings and been able to integrate more easily into human society without being overtly challenged because they were clearly different looking than humans and when human beings see people who are completely different looking from them attempting to rule over them there would probably be a much more higher probability to have physical rebellion against that type of slavery but if they integrated the demigod species into them with the idea of the divine right to rule over the humans because of their superior bloodline and their connection to the gods of old then a more covert methodology of control could be erected in which the human beings would wilfully go along with it you know because they looked at this is some kind of a divine you know appointing from these gods that they didn't see you know in their short lifetimes in many cases and those who did ever see them thought that they were immortal because of their extremely long lifespans we talked about this a couple of weeks back so again we're talking about their their countenances their actual images would have been forbidden and punishable by death to be recorded and communicated to other people this of course plays into the advantage of the controllers because they could essentially be seen as anything you know as actual supernatural entities you know that were literally of magical origin or divine origin instead of actual flesh-and-blood creatures which they were so the early humans essentially came up with a pretty clever way of depicting these beings without actually drawing them how they actually looked and what they did was they again ascribe different motifs when they were drawing them they gave them fish scales or very large accoutrements on the head that made their heads look very enlarged but it was done in the way of headdresses or they depicted them as winged creatures or creatures with a lot of feathers like birds so you saw them depicted as fish creatures bird creatures and probably very often as serpent beings okay because of the look of their skin which we talked about last week as well and which I said that the reason that they depicted this of this feathery like skin or scaly skin like a fish or a serpent is because more likely than not their skin may have looked like our elbows or knees all over their body it was something that had a lot of ridges and looked more like something like we might see on a surface of a snake or a lizard and you know this is where this idea that these were reptilian beings or serpent beings came out of because of the look of their skin so if we look at the depictions right here on slide number 53 we'll see again an Assyrian God Sargon depicted as a fish God and again these beings came from the sea in many cases not only the sky but the sea because their crafts were often witnessed coming not only from deep space but from literally under the sea their crafts could travel under the ocean and I've said at the end of last week's show that I believe that they had bases underwater and probably still do possibly to this day so you'll also notice that in all of these different traditions even though they come from different traditions Akkadian Sumerian Babylonian etc largely the same parent culture they depict the same basic actions taking place here a god depicted as a winged creature or a fish creature or a bird creature okay carrying a conical shaped and then he has some sort of a bag or a box that he is carrying with him we'll pick it up from this slide on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment presentation talking about how the ancient peoples depicted the gods because their direct countenances were forbidden to be depicted and that was something that was punishable by death in the ancient world on slide 53 we saw how the ancients depicted some of them depicting them as beings that could fly through the air hence bird-like entities or beings with wings or entities that could traverse the seas easily and therefore depicted as fish people also you had the the feathers and the scales of the fish playing a direct reference to the type of skin that these beings were said to have had in in these images they're all depicted regardless of the culture that is portraying them as holding the pinecone and this represented a high level of knowledge understanding how things in the physical world and the spiritual dimensions worked as well and the pinecone to this day is still a high level of spiritual representative of a high level of spiritual knowledge even though those who really use it don't really have that level of enlightenment they think that they do and they tell other people that they do but you know they're not the real enlightened ones they're they you know would refer to them selves as such but nothing could be further from the truth it's more of just a symbol of holding power you know and holding power over others that's really what that symbol has come to be representative of the symbol of authority and hence you see it on a lot of you know ancient temples and certainly on the Vatican today there's actually an entire court that is erected to pay homage to the pinecone which is representative of the pineal gland or the third eye as the ancients referred to the pineal gland so in slide number 54 we could see some other depictions of these beings by our ancient human ancestors and here you have another Assyrian drawing on the left here of a king and quote-unquote a god a king priest / intermediary between the gods and human beings again depicted as a half man half bird creature capable of flight you know with certain energetic weapons and of course with feathers in the middle you have the Babylonian goddess Anana again holding some type of a technology in her hands and depicted with owls which is another symbol of the quote-unquote gods or the elite you know the illuminated ones as that they call themselves a symbol of ancient knowledge a symbol of a bird of prey again a predatory bird-like creature capable of flight they can see its prey at night from an overhead position where the prey cannot see it in darkness she's also standing on lion cubs this is always a symbol of knowledge of high-level knowledge you see this in the ancient eastern traditions particularly the Chinese tradition the the temple dogs are always holding the cub underneath the pall it's representative of high-level spiritual knowledge or wisdom again a depiction that the ancients would have ascribed to these beings because they thought that they were like gods because of their high level of Technology and they constantly played up this angle that they were our God's because they physically created our species which did not exist previously and they provided for our species and you know they administrated our species on a day to day basis again it's just a term or a label I don't want anybody thinking that I somehow ascribe the characteristics of God to these beings because nothing could be farther from the truth I want to continuously r.e.m ffice eyes that so that people don't get that because again just as just a brief aside here there's this dynamic that goes on in human beings where they hear what they want to hear they don't hear what I'm actually saying they hear what they want to hear so they hear me say the word gods as being a word attributed to these beings and then they say mark passio is telling us that these are our gods I said no such thing I said this is how they were looked at by these ancient people who didn't know any better in many cases and who were under their ruthless and brutal oppression from the time that we were created I've said over and over again I don't really think that these beings were the gods of anything except a sewer that they themselves created okay and there's there's nothing close to similar about the true god of creation to these beings that I'm referring to nothing could be more completely dissimilar than comparing these two entities the god of creation the force of creation the underlying force of intelligence inherent to everything and these demented in many cases completely imbalanced beings the thought that wanted to play God okay I don't know how much more clear I can make that but if people still want to you know run with the notion and hear things that they want to hear then fine so be it okay I don't know how much more clear I can make that but going back to the point of their depictions by the ancient humans again you often saw them you see this here this motif repeated again with them literally being portrayed as chimera type beings as a blending between humans and animals hence you have literal literal blending here in the last two imagery of the goddess in Anna who was actually a physical being depicted in the ancient world and in the in the text who interacted with human beings and you know and of course there is a symbolic side to this as well where it is representative of a goddess tradition you know representing wisdom and care and nurturing etc and you know the feminine aspects of the human the human characteristics which we've gone into in the past but you know regarding these actual entities these actual beings that came here and created us you could see how now the humans were depicting them as across species between birds or fish and human beings hence in this middle image which is I believe Babylonian or Sumerian and the that the middle image is Sumerian and the image on the right I believe is Babylonian you have a blending an actual morphing between a bird like being in the middle image with Anana and then she has the the claws the talons of the birds on her feet of the bird the owl on her feet and then on the image on the right hand side this is uh I believe it's not sure of the entity but I think it's Dagon I could be incorrect about that which is a Babylonian water God depicted as a fish again we're going to see this theme repeated with the large headdress okay and we'll get into that on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us more to come I'm sorry I thought I heard music coming in on the on the headphone so sorry about that folks a little technical glitch there might have been some interference coming in through my headphones we'll continue to the next slide so let's move on to slide number 55 where we see these beings depicted as serpents okay and here in the Egyptian tradition in there they're stone carvings you see the Pharaoh Tutankhamen there on the left and Akhenaten on the right and these fur onic demigods were depicted as snakes as serpents literally the headdress is like the head of a cobra and you see the Cobra or you know the serpent up on top of the headdress at the position of the third eye okay and you can see the nonhuman looking eyes a continuously repeated motif in the Egyptian tradition and in the Egyptian symbology as well so these beings were again depicted as snake-like beings or serpent-like beings again probably because of the way their skin actually appeared but it was also a reference to higher level knowledge okay and you again and not so much on the left there with Tutankhamun but on the right with Akhenaten you see the extremely elongated headdress covering what would appear to be an extremely elongated skull which we're going to talk about in a few moments and then in the middle coming out of that skull right over the third eye area would have been the serpent the Cobra coming out of the middle of the headdress okay so here we see them depicted as serpent beings and this is a the cult of the serpent is completely revered throughout the ancient world and it stretches back as far as the earliest human civilizations that we even have history records accounting for going back to or and pre Sumerian culture all the way into the Indus Valley traditions and the the Middle Eastern traditions as well of course culminating in Egypt and then of course after Egypt was eventually diminished of the Egyptian power culture was eventually diminished was absorbed into the Roman Empire so this serpent cult is it goes down through the generations from the earliest human beings right into the present day where we still see constant allusions and references to snake-like beings and serpent type symbolism [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio got cut off a little bit before the last break I apologize I'm having a little bit of difficulty hearing the break music coming in through my headphones hopefully we'll get that worked out not a big deal we were on slide number 56 I was beginning to talk about some of the archaeological artifacts that have been discovered that depict or where humans attempted to depict some of these beings perhaps in a way more similar to how they may have actually appeared to them in some sort of a crude fashion these images on slide 56 are from the Umayyad culture ub i ad you Bai D I'm sorry the Umayyad culture was actually a pre-sumerian and it stemmed back it went back I think to at least probably over 8,000 years ago I would say maybe 8500 years ago or or more and it's probably one of the oldest Middle Eastern civilizations on the entire planet you're talking about the city that was really one of the basis for these beings the obeid area would have been known in to the Sumerians and to the Anunnaki as the city of era do era do was one of these beings bases their actual main cities so in the modern day we would play this would be around the southern or maybe the south-central southeastern portion of the country known as Iraq right near the Tigris and Euphrates River in what was known in the ancient world as Mesopotamia which means the land between rivers so you can see the motif here again of decidedly non human like looking entities with extremely elongated skulls and large slanted eyes okay and some of them holding what looks to be young ones or a child of some kind some speculate that this may have been what was known as the mother of humanity one of the female beings from which the human species was was actually derived so you know we talked about the the genetic manipulation of humanity and how you know it paralleled the biblical story of Adam and Eve and one of the female creatures that was essentially manipulated to bring forth humanity was that being known as nimah that formed the original female primitive worker of the early mark one type humans which was the Adamu and tema species so this nimah creature that was one of the original Anunnaki or non-human entities may be being depicted here in these archaeological figurines so some of the other figures that we see coming forth from the same area of the world are depicted in slide number 57 juxtaposing them with some of these Ubud figures and they clearly look both non-human and having some sort of protective gear around them that looks like very similar to what we might call an astronaut's gear okay a spacesuit if you will and this is of course been looked at very closely by people who take up the ancient aliens hypothesis and I think there is certainly something to it I don't really think that these beings would have just these ancient peoples would have just depicted this out of their imaginations I think that they were trying to bring to life a through art some that they saw in their everyday world and that they didn't understand and that you know they wanted to essentially capture in whatever form that they could and in this case it was through clay sculpture so one of the other ways that we have evidence to support the actual physical existence of these beings is literal archaeological fossil or bone evidence okay you see in slide number 58 and then moving forward a huge amount of imagery of skulls that are anomalous and there's a lot of speculation and a lot of conjecture and a lot of debate about these skulls because people will insist that these are cradle boarded and we'll talk about what that is in a moment but I just wanted to put a good smattering of them in the presentation so I collected them from a bunch of different websites and a bunch of different pictures from museums and archaeological digs where they have been found and you could see them these images go from slide number 58 through slide number see if I can get to the end of it 68 okay so 58 through 68 that's 11 slides okay so you could see a lot of different variations when you look at them you'll see slide 61 is certainly an anomalous one where the eye sockets are much different the the parietal plates are quite different this was a an entire intact skeleton of a child you'll see and people could take their time looking through them I'm just going to basically talk about this phenomenon of elongated skulls you could see some of them have hair still attached to them so there's been some you know genetic testing done with some of these and they many of them come back with very mixed genetic results that there is some human DNA in them but there's also some anomalous DNA and again this would fit in with the theory that there are that these were hybrid species that they had human DNA in them because they were a byproduct of human and alien beings that essentially put forward the Nephilim or these giants as their progeny and you know you could just look at the differences in jaw sizes okay from a normal human being and where the jaw muscles would have connected to the head completely different and larger than a human and not only that the skull casings are large again larger in cubic volume than normal human beings when if you were to do some type of cranial deformation which we're going to talk about you wouldn't see differences in cubic volume of the cubic centimeter of the volume of the brain you would just see a deformation in the actual skull casing in the material of the skull and that would keep these the basic volume of the skull intact and a human being it would not make a larger skull by volume so if you look at something like image number 66 this skull is at least like has a 30% higher skull capacity the actual brain case capacity than a human being that's not possible with cradle boarding no matter how extreme the cradle boarding is done you see one of the largest examples two of the largest examples on slide 67 and 68 again peruse these at your own leisure and you know download them you could download the zip file you'll have all of the images again this is going to be podcast number 162 so you could find the images with that podcast if you're not listening live and you know I mean in Peru this is one of the largest skulls in there seems down there in c67 and it has a lot of the the hair still on it and a lot of these are were depicted as or were actually found with red hair or like a dark rich auburn reddish deep reddish hair which is very interesting since most of the people from the areas that these skulls are found don't have red hair they're the the people who have descended from that those geographical regions so if you go to image 68 here's a depiction of a human skull alongside one of these skulls to highlight the clear differences you know clearly a larger jaw clearly a larger area where the jaw muscles attached to the head a huge sloping forehead and your you'll notice that there's only one per aisle plate and it may be difficult to see on this image but we'll look at it from a different angle and some of the upcoming slides that's one of the clear things with these you could really see that to pick that on image number 65 where there's only one per ayatul plate human beings have two parietal plates almost all human beings have two parietal please we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen and we'll talk about cradle boarding and parietal plates we'll be right back [Music] [Music] under host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we were talking about the findings of elongated skulls in many different parts of the world and how this archaeological evidence is pretty much completely suppressed and ignored by mainstream archeology and anthropology because they can't explain it and a lot of pseudo scientific conjecture comes back that this is cradle boarding and all I can say is anybody that thinks that this is an example of cradle boarding doesn't understand the phenomenon of cradle boarding and we could just briefly in image 68 look at the difference between a regular human skull and one of these what I would call Nephilim skulls or simply an non-human or human-alien hybrid skull the the bone composition in many of these skulls is different not only that but there's a larger brain capacity often by 30% or upwards okay and that can't happen with cradle boarding also there's usually one parietal plate now there's four plates that are basically in the human skull you have the frontal plate which is the forehead okay and then you have the two parietal plates which which is the side of the heads which join up through seems you know at probably around the middle of the head going upward okay and then they join at the at the top and back of the skull and then you have the very back plate of the skull which is called the occipital plate so those four plates basically make up the seams of the human skull on these skulls you don't see two parietal plates which human beings have you see one parietal plate completely fused together with no seam and you can see this on many of the slides if we just go back briefly you can see that there's only one parental plate on slide 58 on slide 59 on slide 60 on slide 62 on slide 64 on slide 65 on slide 66 67 is difficult to tell because of the hair and on slide 6801 parietal plate where as a human being has two parietal plates okay and you could see that very clearly when we get you'll be able to see that very clearly the one we get to image number 70 in particular but let me just go back to this phenomenon of cradle boarding we're on slide number 69 here it's a type of skull binding that leads to cranial deformation the deformation of the skull and cradle boarding can indeed account for some elongated skull findings I'm not saying that all elongated skulls are not cradle boarded skulls some are but many of these skulls that I'm talking about appear to be genuinely anomalous and having just one parietal plate and often possessing a heart shaped dome in the rear of the skull that cannot be achieved through cradle boarding these types of phenomenon are often completely ignored when anthropologists and archaeologists try to ascribe this entire phenomenon to cradle boarding okay so cradle boarding cannot explain at all it can't explain some anomalous elongated skulls but not the ones that I'm talking about here in these slides on slide number 70 it should all become pretty clear to people when you see the difference between a normal human skull a cradle board at skull and when and then a couple of different variations of these truly anomalous hybrid what I'm gonna call hybrid skulls okay image number a on slide 17 is the depiction of a normal human skull when looked at from the top with the forehead placed down okay so the back of the head is at the top you see the occipital plates at the rear at the top of the image okay and then you see the two parietal plates joining with the occipital plates and having a seam straight down the middle of the top of the head okay and then they both join with the frontal plate the forehead bone okay that's a normal human skull and the normal normal human suture arrangement the sutures are the the seams between the plates okay that's what they're called image number letter B on this slide slide 70 is a cradle boarded human skull there we see it's essentially compressing the back of the head deforming the skull okay not drastically changing the volume of the head if it were tapered toward the top and pressed backward you would see a tapering effect as you see with the child on image number 69 and you see clearly there is still two parietal plates okay and the occipital plates are basically really smashed flattened okay but they still join up with the two parietal plates which then join with the frontal plate at the lower portion of the image it's in the same basic orientation as image a seen as you know a little bit slightly from directly overhead slightly less than directly overhead image C is one of these anomalous skulls and image D image C clearly a more adult variation of this skull or one one of these beings who was clearly fully grown I guess image D more likely than not would probably be a younger variant of one of these beings but you see there are no separation no suturing in between there aren't there there isn't two parietal plates it's one parietal plate that goes all the way around and joins with the frontal plate so this is something that is not just a random defect in a small amount of humanity this is something that is not really found in human skulls this is definitely another species from us or some kind of a species that shares human characteristics human traits perhaps human DNA human genetics but it also has something else and a larger brain is one of the things that it certainly would have possessed because there is way more brain capacity within the capacity of that that brain case in that skull than in a normal human skull like I said in many of the cases it was a 30% or larger difference so you're talking about not insignificant difference in the brain volume so this is one of the main features that cannot be explained by cradle boarding and archaeologists and anthropologists simply ignored this these skulls are taken out of any public display they're not talked about they're often relegated to complete obscurity in the basements or locked rooms of an tree of anthropological museums or in universities because archeologists and anthropologists don't want to try to attempt to explain what the this is about they have no answers for it it doesn't fit into their paradigm of science okay it doesn't fit in to their linear storyline of history that they want to get people to believe in and buy into and they have no formal explanation for it and without really looking into a lot of these ancient stories of involvement with non-human beings on this planet in our ancient past I don't think they're going to be able to explain it and they don't want to touch that with a 20-foot pole because of the implications that it brings forward so having seen the actual Ark geological evidence of these skulls that exists in all over the world I mean they're found from the Near East to the Indus Valley to North America to South America to Central America okay all over the world essentially and no matter where they're found they're repressed they're you know dug up and reburied essentially I don't mean in the ground but they're reburied in the vaults of archaeological and anthropological museums institutions and universities we'll pick up some of these implications on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] and [Music] [Music] and

[Music] welcome this happened I'm smart passive my website what on earth is happening calm in light of some of these findings of elongated skulls that we were talking about in the last segment we can go back and take a look at some of the depictions by our early human beings of the quote-unquote gods that they shared the earth with thousands of years ago and image number 71 again we go back to this Babylonian image of one of the fish gods in their culture and you see the long gated head over and over again you see the theme of the elongated head often covered by a huge headdress of some kind in image number 72 a sumerian relief of what was presumably the god Enki okay and there he is seated on a throne of some kind again on a huge elongated headdress a coda cone-shaped headdress as well an Assyrian or Akkadian image in the next slide of a winged God image number 73 again once again with that elongated headdress on covering what would presumably be an extremely elongated skull that these beings actually had as the hybrids or demigod creatures that were the go-betweens between humans and the original quote-unquote gods the Egyptian culture had these types of headdresses as well in image number 74 I believe that is Nefertiti the wife of Akhenaten if I'm not mistaken and that is again depicting a huge elongated headdress you know of these beings that were considered gods or intercessors between the gods and human beings in the Egyptian culture again you see the reliefs of the ancient Egyptians depicting Akhenaten and his family as these beings with extremely elongated skulls and almond-shaped type eyes as well as their children having these types of skulls whenever you see humans their average humans of their culture depicted they don't have these types of elongated skulls they're depicted as normal okay but you have these hugely elongated skulls in the beings of the Pharaohs and his family you know depicted here with of course the attend the solar disk reaching down with the arcs of life you know presumably representing the extremely long lifespan that some of these beings had hence they are gifted with the life which is what the ankh represents that's image 75 moving the image 76 another depicted depiction of the original founder of the city of era du or Enkidu as it has been known in the Sumerian culture and you know there's an key the you know the god of humanity the creator of humanity and there's the elongated headdress once again always depicted with the hugely elongated headdress once again what's under the headdress why would they be wearing hugely elongated headdresses for what you know if they're they didn't have huge skull casings you know what would they be depicted for repeatedly and perhaps this was to cover you know it was made into his type of a ceremonial headdress so it would cover the actual differences in the look between these beings and the average humans so that humans would just think hey their lower face looks like ours does but you know this is maybe just a huge headdress and it's ceremonial you know but wasn't really covering their hugely elongated skulls because they didn't really look anything like us I would you know I would probably choose Occam's razor on that and say yes they were actually covering up the actual skull of these beings and they weren't just ceremonial because they wanted to look as human as possible which gave them more tactical advantage to rule over the human beings because if they if the humans recognize them as completely different from them over time you know as they came to integrate themselves into human society and rule through the agreement of the humans you know there would be no outward rebellion against something that is clearly non-human hence they chose to conceal themselves in this way and forbid their true countenance from being portrayed and again that was a crime punishable by death another Egyptian image in slide number 78 another variation on Akhenaten's image again with the almond-shaped eyes and the extremely elongated headdress Egyptian royal women in a stelae on slide number 79 again depicted you know not wearing a headdress now here you have again where you have more blending into what may have been an actual depiction of how these beings looked and you'll see the the body types as well very slim very elongated arms very you know you'll see Akhenaten often depicted like this as well with the poor truth you know protruding belly that the almond-shaped eyes the huge ears the huge elongated head the head slanted back that sloping forehead like we see on the on the elongated skulls I mean you just put that skull right underneath this image on slide number 79 it's a direct fit I mean I don't know how anybody could see the two things and not think that they're identical you know clearly the Egyptians were depicting here doing something that was probably completely forbidden and depicting a couple of these quote royal beings as they actually looked all right and you could then look at slide number 80 and just you know look at the complete similarity there this is a bust of I believe this is a bust of Nefertiti Akhenaten's wife and you could see here depicted without the headdress no ceremonial headdress on just depicting the skull as probably it actually again with that huge sloping forehead and the huge brain case and then for comparison I put in slide 81 one of these actual uncovered skulls these found skulls after thousands of years with that bust in the Egyptian Museum of Nefertiti and you know once again if people can't see the similarity I don't really know what to tell them and again this isn't cradle boarding I mean that the idea that this is cradle boarding just is is hogwash period and it's been shot down with clear scientific evidence that cradle boarding cannot produce this type of an anomaly in the human skull time and time again and yet people want to just cry out cradle boarding it's like swamp gas you know with UFOs oh it's swamp gas ball lightning you know I mean it's just ridiculous as an explanation it's a complete logical fallacy illogical explanation that does not fit and does not hold any water and it's been proven to be such as being physically impossible no tapering of the skull one parietal plate on the real skulls whereas cradle boarding always has two parietal plates that are then you know joined by this the very deformed occipital plates this is not an example of cradle boarding in period no matter who wants to say that it is and there will be people who are diehards will just insist because they can't envision any alternative what has to be that we don't read we don't reason from the actual evidence and look at where the evidence leads we reasoned by what are we comfortable accepting you know and since we are not comfortable accepting any other alternative possibility and then well then it can't possibly be any of those things it can't possibly be that and since cradle boarding is that the only thing I'm comfortable with well then that's a that's an explanation I'm willing to put out there and and ignore all others again it's it's child's reasoning and it's it's fearful reasoning it's total fear filled attempt at reasoning it's not reason at all it's a fear filled justification you know that's all it is looking for an excuse to see things the way you want to see them we'll pick this story up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] hi [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark Basia we're continuing to go through the cosmic abandonment presentation in its extended format this is all about the connection of the interference theory of human origins to the current human condition and in the section that we're in we are basically asking the question in light of extraterrestrial involvement with human origins what are some of the seemingly hard to explain or inexplicable aspects of our modern culture that can actually be explained more readily now that we understand what happened in the ancient past and you know we talked about that the whole origin of our culture comes from the early interactions with these non-human entities and the systems that they gave to us and we're going to be getting into more that in a little while how they gave us religion how they gave us the monetary system how they gave us the concept of authority or government or the divine right to rule so that we could be more easily controlled and they could set up some humans or demigods that hybrid alien-human hybrids that they had created through interbreeding with their creation the heute the early human beings so that they could basically put some of them in a position of so-called power - as administrators or intercessors or intermediaries between themselves and us and that's where these all these um you know institutions really came from you know we took we briefly discussed and we'll get into it a little bit more the genetic defects of our species how we have over 4,000 genetic anomalies in our genome and tons of different genetic conditions that derive from that not least of which is primary psychopathy now you know we could get into the ancient technologies that were witnessed by these beings and the structures that many of them left behind that we still can't duplicate today by any technology that we have available to us if we move on to slide number 82 we see that the ancients often depicted some of the technologies that they witnessed and again these are given ridiculous explanations by conventional archaeologists and anthropologists and insists that they show nothing special or it's just some religious icon iconography just some religious symbolism by primitive people you know the Egyptians here on the left-hand side of this image at two different places I believe one is at dandera and one is at Abydos depicting technologies that the quote-unquote gods had had used and implemented and then the Sumerians and their cylinder seals very small Scrolls that would be rolled out onto clay where the images were inscribed in them in inverse and then they would press an image down into clay and then they were baked and hardened and you know would preserve you know as a written or a pictographic account you know what the ancients had ascribed into those seals so I'll start on the right-hand side actually you see the Sumerian showing their fish God you know and their God with the elongated headdress perhaps that is one of the priests clasp demigods on the right interceding on behalf of human beings to the gods depicted as the fish creatures with their Tree of Life the DNA the expanded DNA tree so to speak okay always depicted as the the genetic experimentations always were depicted as a tree like that like we depict it as a ladder like spiral they depicted it as a tree that was symmetrical on both sides and that represented the base pairs okay of the DNA strand and you see the flying the winged disk above them which was representative of their place of origin which they called on which meant the heavens and this is one of the boats which they traverse the heavens with you know and then you see some of their beings in the boat of the heavens you know in the upper portion of that image on the left-hand side you see some of the technology depicted at dandera egypt in the upper portion some type of electrical gathering or perhaps some type of a capacitance machine that is storing energy depicted by the serpent and on the bottom you have representations of different crafts from the ancient world at Abydos and there's a whole lot of debate about this that these were two different royal cartouche --is interpose on top of each other one of them left up there and then when the new kingship rain came in they decided for some reason not to take down the plating of the old cartouche the old facade and instead just carved right on top of it it's probably the most ridiculous explanation that I've ever heard given for anything that has ever come out of ancient Egypt and there's some doozies like that the pyramids are tombs and this one even tops that by a long shot because at the holiest place the holiest centre of the entire Egyptian mystery tradition religion Abydos what they would have considered the Holy of Holies in the Commission tradition there is zero chance not one percent not 0.5% not point one percent not point zero one percent there is zero chance that the ancient builders would have done work that shoddy sloppy and careless to leave a facade in place with an old cartouche you just say let's put the template right over top of it and just chisel it out you know forget it would not have ever been done isn't done anywhere else but we're we're to believe this is done in this one place okay like weird like it's graffiti or something you know they decided to come in here is it oh the old kings cartouche is here we have to put the new one over top of it you know but you wouldn't you wouldn't try to fill that in first or you wouldn't try to take down that old facade and then put something new up there and then carve into it no it was done right over top of it and they say this just magically made these depictions looking like different technological craft it's such a stretch to try to explain something that they clearly don't want it to attempt to explain which is why is there depictions of seemingly modern type technologies at a two thousand three hundred year old site or older possibly then I mean I'm maybe even getting that to reason it might be 2300 BC possibly I'm not sure of the date but it's certainly thousands of years old and you know they want to they expect people to just believe that the ancient builders at the holiest place of Egypt at Abydos would have just carved overtop of something and left the old thing in place it just it's it's an absurdity and it would not have been done period okay so I don't buy that explanation I I don't I think it's a shoddy and a shameless attempt to just come forward with whatever ridiculous explanation the public will buy you know what I liken it to I liken it to the Doug and Dave hypothesis of the crop formation phenomenon you know two old drunk guys are stumbling out of an English pub with some bored bored and some twine made all of the crop circles in Europe you that that happened there the hundreds that happened there you know and that explains the entire phenomenon no matter how complex they were no matter what country they were in no matter how many came down on the same day these guys sunk you know somehow were there and did them all you know and the US media puts out puts out this ridiculous story and then all interest in the crop formation phenomenon dries up overnight because that's how easy people will buy a completely half-hearted explanation if it comes from quote-unquote official channels official sources you know all the news said it and if it's on TV it's got to be the truth you know why were the newscasters lie to us yeah okay and you know this is this is the same thing we see oh these are just some random carvings from some part of some arcane obscure religious ceremonial rituals that these primitive beings had in mind it's all symbolic it's all allegorical there's nothing real to it there's nothing there move along don't worry about what happened in your ancient past now you're not slave race is created by beings that you can't even comprehend nothing to see here we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys the night 95 today tried to run hide to the other side welcome back everyone you listen to what on earth is happening we're going through some anomalous things in the cosmic abandonment presentation that modern humans are still at a loss to explain like how structures that we still cannot duplicate with modern technological advances could come to be placed in such perfect precision alignment with such tremendous building precision to a point where some of the blocks you cannot literally put a human hair in between them they are fitted so closely together as if the stone were melted into place you have the type of construction like we see at the great pyramids on the Giza Plateau that still cannot be redeployed to this day I mean there are people who have claimed that they could do it and not with the precision that these things are laid to at the the heights at which they reach you know like five hundred and thirty feet and you're talking about the apex is something like one 1/4 of an inch in alignment with a base you know it's such insane precision we couldn't do that with modern cranes we couldn't do that with modern cutting tools and yet these ancients allegedly only armed with with bronze tools yeah bronze cutting tools bronze saws bronze hammers etc cut through some of the hardest granite stones in the world to make these blocks granite and lamb and limestone blocks we you know materials which are often six times as hard as the tools that they allegedly had at their disposal I mean you go to places in Egypt you see clear signs of machining you know clear signs of absolute machining technology and they want to say oh no that's not machining no they they just they carved it as a motif to look like some huge saw or machine was cutting it some huge circular a cutting tool yeah you know I mean it's like people who will just spit right in your face and say I didn't do that you know that's literally what it's like and they expect somehow to be respected or not have people lo them for talking down at people like that expecting them that the buy into the nonsense that they're trying to sell I mean they literally think people really are that naive you know some of the blocks in the structure of the a of the Pyramids of Giza like the Great Pyramid are in excess of 50 tons you know and they're raised to like a height of several hundred feet what technology existed back then we could probably barely do that with cranes that we have today the foundation stones of the Great Pyramid upon which it sits some of them are estimated to be 400 tons and they weren't quarried there they came from like miles and miles and miles away no explanation of how they could have transported things that heavy we would have difficult time doing that over that type of terrain today and we could go on and on about the pyramid alone I mean it's my intention isn't here to make this whole thing about the great pyramids and they're absolutely remarkable construction you know you could do ten shows a hundred shows on that so I just want to just just mention that as one example and I'm gonna give many I mean you look at Stonehenge on the southern English Plains in England and some of the stones there are in excess of 50 tons and they were mined from like Wales you know which is probably over a hundred miles from where they they sit or more probably more probably more than that and we're to expect were to be you know expected that you know the ancients with copper tools in you know Neolithic times and I'm sorry lacking copper tools at that time you know somehow rolled these over you know completely treacherous rolling hill type terrain blocks that were 50 tons bringing them from a hundred miles to erect them for seemingly just religious purposes you know on this southern English plain in the middle of nowhere these buildings had to do with energetic purposes ladies and gentlemen it had to do with technologies that were not built by humans this is Nephilim technology or even possibly Anunnaki technology but certainly at least demigod technology now you go into all these cultures like the Incas of Peru you know where Machu Picchu is at depicted here in slide 85 and you know they had they were rich in gold you know and when a lot of the Spaniards that came over here at the behest of the royalty of Europe and conquered these peoples you know asked them where'd you get all this gold they always said the same thing the gold was the God's possession and we're keeping it for the gods what for when the gods returned you know and we'll get into this whole dynamic of gold I want to spend some time on that because you know there's so many unanswered questions when it comes to gold it's a topic I've been really looking heavily into in recent weeks myself in my own research looking into monatomic sand things like that and or Me's and we'll get into all of that but you know these people were out in the open saying the we didn't mind this gold we the gods did this where we mined it for the gods they wondered if they found of some kind of a precious intrinsic quality to intrinsic value to it not us we were just keeping it for them and and the gods instituted that gold as money to be used in methods of exchange in arbitration between their early slaves that's where the whole system of money came from people you know nobody wants to talk about that they want to say Oh money just came out it came up in the Middle Ages and in the in the Crusades yeah because it was just all about you know metal metal you know metalsmiths that basically turned their vaults into gold reserve banks for people that didn't want to carry it and then oh you know they they then started lending out paper slips as uh you know as credit slips so that people wouldn't have to carry all that gold around and then found that they had more always had more on deposit you know could lend out lend out more slips you know and rake in you know rake in money because people would never take their gold out simultaneously you know unless there was some kind of a run on on their bank and that instituted the modern-day institution of fractional reserve lending yeah well maybe that may be so but that doesn't know that doesn't explain where the entire concept of it the intrinsic value of money in gold came from or where people started even using gold or why they started using gold what was this perceived intrinsic value again we're going to get to all of those questions I want to go back to you know some of these absolutely amazing places that you know there's no good explanation for why these places were built or how they were built you know Machu Picchu is up thousands of feet on the side of a mountain and these stones didn't come from there they weren't quarried there they were brought there why and how did they get them up to these levels some of them in excess of 40 tons then you have right near Machu Picchu in Peru you have in slide number 86 this is the city of sucks I suck sai hua maan sucks I who am on is like this huge temple complex you see there are a child standing next to one of the walls to show the size of the walls of this complex I'm sorry I think think socks I wrong hormone is in Bolivia if I'm not mistaken I could be wrong I might be wrong about that it's either in Bolivia or Peru I know it's in South America somewhere but this these walls some of the blocks in this wall weigh in excess of 200 tons 200 ton block and you can just look at the construction this is now right here what we're looking at here in slide 86 at socks a woman is Nephilim construction this is demigod construction and it is Peru I'm if I'm not mistaken okay I'm thinking of which we're going to get to I'm thinking of puma punku which is in Bolivia which is one of the last slides about in this section about ancient construction but saqsaywaman is in Peru and it's near Machu Picchu and it has blocks in it that are irregularly shaped made with such precision construction that you could not go up to one of these stones with a butter knife and insert a butter knife between a credit card couldn't be put between them okay you could not insert a chisel a you know very thin chisel in between these stones that's how precisely together they are fit in this a rich irregular construction this is Nephilim architecture we'll be right back ladies and gentlemen [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone we're in the third and final hour of the show for this evening as promised I'm going to be taking your calls this hour the call-in number to join us toll-free 800 three one three nine four four three once again to join us here on what on earth is happening you could ask questions you can make comments you could talk about anything that we've already covered you could get into the topic that we are covering right now which is ancient human origins interference Theory how that connects with the current human condition the calling number 803 one three ninety four forty three let's go to the phones we have waiting on the line Ivan from Phoenix Ivan welcome back again to what on earth is happening great to hear from you how are you doing all right Martha new me yes I can okay how are you doing doing well alright you see as always I have a bunch of stuff but I'm just gonna try and keep it to the top it goes tonight synchronistically over the past week or so I've been watching and listening to some other programs and shows and they've also touched on like Sakurai's hitchens work and i manake and stuff like that and a question was brought up that pretty much put things in perspective I raised a question that I don't think anyone's really brought up if supposedly God was our Creator and we were made by this all-knowing militant perfect being why is it that women have a painful cramping menstrual cycle messy kind of monthly thing you know that sounds like something that some scientific or technically advanced beings would tamper with but not know how to you know perfect right that's that's one aspect another that we could also look at aside from just the mental cycle itself is the process of birthing why is it so painful why seemingly does a human baby take so much more effort for a woman to give birth to than other animals you know other animals don't have that much difficulty in the birthing process nor do we have to I mean or do other animals have to care for their young for such a long period after birth as a human being I don't think there's any animal that the the childhood period of the the animal toll can actually be on its own and take care of itself on its own is you know as long as a human being childhood you know so these are complete anomalies when it comes to human beings that don't exist really in any other animals on the pond are on our planet so you know it calls the question are these all kinds of genetic codes or characteristics or traits that were deliberately programmed into the human genome by these beings right right I just came from watching that dawn of the Planet of the Apes oh yeah I had heard that you know there was some pretty decent themes in this movie it's something I plan on seeing I haven't seen yet but you can go right ahead and you know give us your take on it oh yeah like I always say I think I'm you're like media consultant I'm always talking about movies on here know that that's where yeah cause these these movies often do have power powerful powerful allegorical underpinnings if we can be conscious enough to to recognize them as such and not just see them as you know Oh a science fiction movie or cool you know action flick you know there's often really powerful allegorical themes that underlie them so yeah I could definitely see you as the media consultant to the one on earth is happening show you know yeah definitely I've been noticing it in a lot of different TV shows and movies and programs yeah over the last three years my consciousness has brought in so much that I can pick up all these little hints and allegories that normally would go unnoticed and yeah this new Planet of the Apes film had at least three or four topics or themes or parts in it that stood out for me that were very subtle in a way if you're if you're not looking for them or aware of them you just see it right in the story and not pay any attention to it but gun control is addressed in there the eye I know I gotta use professor or family on here but you always have the jerk whether it's an ape or a human right it only takes one person to mess everything up and then the few people to follow in doing the wrong thing tell me a little bit more when you say gun control theme in what context is that at the risk of spoilers I mean you know what well basically the guns are manufactured by humans so humans have power but once it get get their hands on Naha and apes have powers these so that kind of shows you know well why are we in the situation we are right now because governments have more of the guns worldwide whereas here in the US the civilians have gun right things aren't going exactly as that's what I would like it to be so so that's hinted at the movie Eagle has the gun and pretty much call the shots and you know so many people don't understand that dynamic Ivan it's a shame how many people don't understand what the Second Amendment was for you know they don't grasp the importance that if you cannot defend your physical vehicle your physical body that carries your consciousness you know it isn't about being violent it isn't about you know allegedly drawing to you what you don't want which is some kind of a violent confrontation you know it's about knowing how to stand within your rights and if weapons exist and weapons do exist unfortunately okay hey if we in a world where weapons didn't exist we won't even have to discuss this but since they have been made and they exist here okay and some people have them okay until you completely do away with them all which again I don't even think can be done or should be done because and I'll get to this this is actually an interesting side point you know I I went back and listened to the show that I did on the recent interview or semi recent interview I did on the Kate of Gaia show and listening to some of the people who were a completely anti-gun on that show and I realized that a lot of the people who think like that are so far off the mark when it comes to understanding real spirituality and I listened to the job that I did on that and I was fairly well impressed with how I presented the case for self-defense on that show if people haven't heard you can go listening to them in the news archives but so many people in other countries in particular are so ignorant of what a gun ownership rights are really about as defense against a tyrannical state and I've you know done shows on the Second Amendment and how important it is not that I'm any constitutionalist by any stretch of the imagination you know I'm an anarchist completely and don't believe in any form of government but the Second Amendment some reason for being put in place is admirable when it comes to why the founding fathers did that and it was clearly as a way to have the people have a distributed mechanism for defending their rights against the government that became too powerful and that's where the word militia which is the only entity that has said in the entire Constitution and Bill of Rights to be necessary it's the only part of the entire dynamic of the people and the government that is said to be actually required and necessary they don't say the president is necessary in the Constitution they don't say the Supreme Court is necessary they don't say the Congress is necessary they say that the militia is necessary only entity in the entire document that is labeled necessary in the entire Constitution and Bill of Rights and they say for a reason it's necessary it is a well-regulated militia being necessary for the security of a free State meaning if you want freedom to continue to manifest the militia has to be present once you give up that right you're in instant a state of enslavement and what is the militia it comes from the Latin miletti imbolg arm which I've explained on this show a few times that it means military strength present everywhere throughout the people is what that actually means the phrase mullet tiem vogue Arum in Latin which is where militia comes from means military strength present everywhere [Music] [Music] welcome back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host mark pashia we're taking your calls in this hour the calling number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three we're talking to Ivan from Phoenix right now who brought up some of the themes in the recent a Planet of the Apes movie I intend to go check it out for its allegorical content I really like the first one and I'm sure that this one will be no exception he was talking about some gun control concepts brought up in it but for probably a positive purpose that you know if these apes has some kind of a developing or burgeoning species were not able to hold guns they would easily be defeated and conquered by people who wanted to keep them down and keep them back and keep them suppressed and if they had the guns and they and the Apes did not then they would not be able to basically defend themselves and that brought me to the concept of the Second Amendment and the militia the role of the militia that is the only thing that is spoken about in the Constitution that is necessary and it comes from the term again people have to go back to the meaning and original origin of words and understand militia came from a Latin phrase millennium vulgare 'm which meant the full force of military strength but present in a way that is distributed throughout the whole population therefore at any time if any entity whether internal or external to the country were posing a threat to freedom the people would be able to rise up with arms that were Co measure it in strength to a military force and put down that threat that is literally what the militia was designed and intended to be for and it is not a governmental agency the founders repeatedly told people in their own writings and in public speaking engagements that the militia was the entire people hence the phrase melodium volgar 'm volgar meaning the common people or present throughout literally the origin of the word in Latin means that it is present or distributed everywhere throughout okay so that's what that term actually meant so uh Ivan great to hear that that was actually rolled in there and in what you consider it to be a positive spin on gun ownership then yeah yeah in a way yeah okay because there's a lot more that happens in there but um what other seems that you think were allegorical that it brought up well this one this one I don't want to give away much of the plot but I did notice this in another in a TV show I was watching a few weeks ago this is a show a while 24 comes on on Mondays and about two three weeks ago something happened on on 24 that kind of relates to what happens in this film okay and it's it feels of a concept that I had in my head the weekend that that aired on 24 synchronistically enough and this is the idea or the observation I made and this covers a whole bunch of area that connects a lot of dots I kind of come to the conclusion that the reason evil is so dominant right now is because it knows that good or the innocent people it's become its enabler there's been too much forgiveness too much kindness right too much giving second third chances tolerance for eating that's that's what we have developed as so-called good people we have developed tolerance for the presence of evil which there should never be any right and that goes along with the New Age movement uh you know not focusing on the negative and all this stuff so you will know they can get away with that's right now what I noticed and the observation that I made is it I described it like the good people or goodness needs to start tightening its belt it has to come to the point where you messed up once that's it okay next time done no second chance - that's it whatever needs to be done it needs to be eliminated that's it and that's what I'm noticing in some of these shows that the person does something they kill whatever you know two three people something happens on a TV show whatever they don't you know the hero doesn't take them the cord and serve the justice system and wait for not enough boom they just take them out and and in a way the way the way this world is right now I see no problem with that for that the law that's like natural law right there it's like you know do you have that person standing in front of a boulder thinking you know I can stop this Boulder and the boulder is gonna be like well this poor person I'm no natural law it's gonna run it over right you mentioned with gravity in your in your seminar with that little girl gravity's not gonna be like oh no that's the problem right now right and wrong people are letting too much wrong go you know on challenge yeah no this is right this is wrong you did you did wrong that's it it needs to be stopped and that will start curving evil and start getting you know giving that side like wait a minute good is starting to really stand up for so maybe we need to back off and then you start coming back into balance if that makes any kind of sense sure absolutely and that's gonna take a lot of courage for people to step into that role with the level of tyrannical government that exists in this country and throughout the world unfortunately you know it's not that's no tall that's no small task that's no small order you know that's gonna take a radical restructuring of the way people think and it's gonna take an enormous amount of courage and willpower to summon that that will to do that and I you know I I don't know whether it's there right now I don't know if it is there at this point I'm not saying we couldn't get to that point of summoning that kind of courage and willpower but it's gonna take a radical radically different way of thinking about the difference between right and wrong and you know right in moral relativism it's sad you know yeah in a way you touched on this the last episode when you mention psychopathy right a psychopath yeah said something about you don't do you don't reside in that area of psychopathy but you can access it when they turn it on that's right I'm gonna do that I'm gonna do a show or a small mini presentation at one point called or I don't know if it'll be called this but it'll have this can theme contained within it having the psychopath not bowing down to the psychopath not being owned by the Psychopaths not being ruled by the psychopath but owning the psychopath yourself having that within your toolbox within your capability to bring out and bring forward and use if required and necessary under certain circumstances and then put back into the toolbox when no longer required you know I think the fact that most people cannot conceive of the mindset of a psychopath and cannot access the psychopathic characteristics or tendency within themselves to actually have that as part of their own psychological tool set is a problem and most people will hear that and think oh you know that's a weird thing to say it's like not being able to put yourself in the mindset of a psychopath is what allows a psychopath to do what they're doing unchallenged and unchecked because people can't even conceive of it we need to be able to envision the mind of a psychopath I would go one step further I would say good people actually need to have a certain small subset of psychopathic capability within them to turn on when emotions aren't called for or required to do a certain task to defend oneself or defend one's family or defend one's rights from an oncoming attack and to use that that turning off of emotion to ones benefit and again this theme is very well addressed in the equilibrium movie again it's a movie I highly recommend people to see for its allegorical themes and this is one of the things that the the leader of the resistance attempts to explain to the main character in that film it's a great scene but I think you know again I said last week I think it goes a little too far when it comes to a negative of view of human nature whereas my view of human nature is simply that it was created as something that is programmable through information and it is neither good inherently angelic nor inherently demonic or bad so um right hold on you know next breakout I'll let you continue this on the on the other side and then I'll take some more calls but Ivan great points that you bring thanks so much ladies and gentlemen stay with us we'll be right back [Music] the cold we don't dare speak while between ups them so [Music] welcome back everyone even listening to what on earth is happening we're taking your calls for the remainder of the show calling number to join us 831 394 43 we're still talking to Ivan in Phoenix Ivan we were talking about you know psychopathy as something that has to remain in measure within a person to be able to defend oneself against evil forces you know I don't think that means becoming the psychopath but it means using the ability to turn off emotion as a tool set in one psychological Arsenal so that you could deal with a threat that doesn't care about what it's doing to you so great point that you brought up there and what else did you have for us well just to round off that comment sure that just takes it back to what you were always been you know talking about the Sacred Feminine and the sacred masculine as just the the you know enactment of the sacred masculine it's not you know be getting all crazy and and abusive and violence it's using whatever necessary force to achieve whatever defense or or correct any wrong that's being done so you can't do that with you know flowers and you know kisses sometimes you just you know sometimes you gotta do the opposite by fire wood fire yes and sometimes you can do it through consciousness and talking and changing people's minds but when that is refused and you know that you're dealing with a psychopathic personality that is dangerous at that point it may have to go into the physical domain and we have to understand we always maintain that right to physically defend ourselves when our rights are coming under attack by someone who will not stand down so a great point and that is about the sacred masculine and exercising that right within us to defend our selves and our rights so and you talk to mind that goes from Isis to eros that's right from the point where you can learn by the truth or you can learn by the school of hard knocks so to speak okay we will quit so we can get other callers in I just had three quick things check out the movie Pleasantville okay with that on recently it's an old film from like 1997 and very good with the allegory it's almost had me in tears just just the stuff with consciousness awakening change how black and white world someone brings in new ideas concepts and everything becomes color was changed it's very interesting very well done and then that's Pleasantville and in theaters there's a movie a documentary out right now called America imagine a world without her you need to really have your Trivium in place to see this one because it really messes with your head to me you know Caine America as all pretty and everything I mean they use some truth showing the bad things that have happened in history but then they try and come about and justify it and make everything look pretty and you're kinda less well maybe it isn't that bad and you got a kind of no no no way I need to you know keep truths and logic and problem information because it's very very good propaganda but yet it's good it's a good documentaries based on the book by Dinesh D'Souza the guy who did that Obama Obama 2016 Obama's America well and then real quick wrapping things up I received two emails and now I'm kind of like you're trickling through me marks because what you did for me I'm doing for others I received an email from someone thanking me and all this kind of stuff and that they enjoy when I'm on calling to your show and they have a blog post and everything so this gentleman I think his name is uh Joe Bellucci and then I receive another email and I think I sent you the link to this this individuals got out of Florida he created a website called are you fuel for evil calm I've seen there's like yes what we were talking about right oh absolutely how people support the system that's enslaving Yeah right you know right yeah I've seen the site on it it's a good job he's doing a good job with that yeah so that was it then great Ivan thanks so much always great to hear from you and always great insights that you bring up when you come on to the show so thanks so much and just as an aside to Ivan's call regarding uh allegories in film I'd like to recommend snowpiercer that's a recent one that I've just seen that was all about the control system and how the people basically are afraid to step outside of it because of what might be required to do just that and it's a really pretty powerful film about you know hierarchy and control and you know people being in their place and revolution very interesting allegorical themes in it I think people should definitely check it out let's go to some other callers let's hear from Robert in Missouri Robert you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark I've talked to you a couple times right when you were coming on the network I talked to you and you were all with John stat biller oh you know psychopathy there's so much of it in these Abrahamic faiths you know the two main branches of Islam cabbalistic Talmudic judaism and especially roman catholicism but even evangelical Protestantism we see these people in Gaza being massacred right now by these Israelis you know these rabbis they dehumanize these Palestinians right and this is this tactic that I see constantly repeating itself that the people that want to do evil they first have to dehumanize those that they want to do evil against didn't you see this play out in the Talmud especially with you know the overturning of the Ten Commandments themselves by the people that brought us to ten commandments by their little nationalization like thou shalt not steal right well what it really means is we can't steal from each other's Jews but the rest of humanity they're not human so we can steal how we want from them but not kill or murder I think you see they say I think you see this line of reasoning in just about every extremist form of religion as people see themselves as part of one group and separate from everybody else it's an easy jump to make a rationalization that everybody else that is not us is there to be controlled by us because we're better than them or you know we're somehow in a privileged position it doesn't even make a difference what group it is it could be again any extremist religious group any political party you know any ethnicity or national identity it happens through all different avenues and you know this is separatist thinking overall and it's the thing that's gotten us into the mess that we're in and yes very often what happens is psych people in a psychopathic state or a psychopathic personality will gravitate toward institutions like this and toward the highest levels of the institutions because through belief systems they could do the greatest amount of damage that's how they can worm their way into society in through an institutional body to do the greatest amount of damage which is what they're really looking to do these are people that are just bent on destruction and bent on putting other people under their thumb or putting other people down or making other people as miserable inside as them because they're incapable of feeling and so you see this time and again and all different cultures and all different religious traditions this is how Psychopaths operate in the world that's what they do they find areas to be able to wet put wedges in between people and essentially control them from those positions those institutionalized positions that people who don't want to think flocked to invariably because this person's going to tell me how it really is this person's going to tell me you know how I should live this person is going to give me a set of laws or a set of you know guidelines to conduct my life by but never never do these people want to actually understand natural law and get outside of groupthink you know and say it's my responsibility to truly understand the difference between right and wrong behavior not because it was told to me by some set of commands not because this person and their institutional body says that this is how it is but because I know the actual difference between right and wrong in my own mind and in my own heart you know god forbid anything but that you know we can't have that because that requires real thinking you know that requires true personal responsibility and that's the last thing the people of this world won you know yeah and what's what's really fascinating is like with Islam you've got the house of faith and you've got the everybody else where and it's even codified in the tax so where it says to slay unbelievers wherever you find them and then so forth then you get into Roman Catholicism where they use the word heretic right then they burn heretics infidel you know heretics the you know you know the profane you see in in even mystery tradition teachings where you have the profane you know we are the elect and they are the profane you know it degenerated into that even in so-called you know enlightened teachings in many respects you know it's the same separatist mentality that we see time and time again throughout the ages people can't seem to understand we are actually one family in the same circumstance in the same position we're all in this together you know and that's the level of consciousness that we need to get to if we're going to get out of this mess so Robert great point that you bring up we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] and [Music] welcome back everyone finally segment of what on earth is happening for the CBS show the call-in number to join us eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again toll-free 800 three one three ninety four forty three I want to thank Robert from Missouri for his great insights in the last segment and let's move on to Curtis from Florida Curtis you are live on what on earth is happening welcome what thank you Mark or videos explaining your spiritual ideas I respect you and I like everything I saw I remember you had one episode on there about how evil is always feeling either killing and stealing a line or raping and stealing factor stealing to someone's property stealing but the evil is pretty much the same action yes really and then want to ask you if you say you're an anarchist I'm not being a jerk I'm sincerely asking so I don't know how to make you taste whether there's good government not well whether there should be private property where do we get the right to draw a fence on God's green earth and say this Grand Canyon 10,000 acres now I believe a private property but only reciprocally like Henry George I get a 40 acres a mule only a few get 40 acres and yours not oxen like you should enough to buy your left kidney or your air your Sun your rain or your LaPlante land is from God we each his own an equal share on your 18th birthday that's my belief so as a as an anarchist are you a rover anarchist like you can go anywhere or you a private property anarchist and can you make that argument yes well I bought I definitely believe in private property i I think that property is I defined property in my natural law seminar talking about what is ownership is having rightful meaning you did not harm someone to acquire that thing it is maintaining the usage of that thing so you are actually using it in other words that you somebody can't claim all this property and they're not actually putting it to use or using it something is your property if you're actually using it you if and if you try to claim more than you can use that's an illegitimate claim on property so you know there's so many people today that claim all of this land and stuff and things is their property it's like when they couldn't possibly be using all of that and really what they're doing is keeping it from other people it's like corporations claiming that all this water all the water that exists in a whole country is their property or all the salt that exists in the whole country is their property that's not a legitimate claim to property property means it's it's like I always go back to the line from the Lord's Prayer about give us this day our daily bread it doesn't say give us for the rest of eternity all the bread that we could ever eat and then some more you know it's saying what you can use what in the immediate sense that's what property is about again I go to objects around me why is this hard drive my property I'm using it I access data on it every single day that's the reason it's my property and I'm in rightful possession of it and the third part of property rightful property or rightful ownership is that we are responsible for it so it's something that I have to be able to maintain responsibility for like my body like the things that I own in my home like my home itself or my car or whatever or you know the the weaponry I may own I maintain responsibility for what happens with that stuff so those are the three defining hallmarks of true property its rightful possession its maintained maintenance of usage in a way that is legitimate not in a way that keeps back needs from other people and it is a claiming and owning full responsibility for that thing so that's the way I see a lawful property under natural law there is such a thing as property however it's not like all private property should go away that would be that would be something that would be a forced non natural thing people think property is not something that is natural and in every way property is actually something that exists in nature in the natural world because I have a need for something and I am putting something to use so if I have a need for the storage of information for the propagation of information such as a hard drive or a computer that is my rightful property I am using it and nobody can claim that they can take just come and take that thing for me because perhaps they want that thing well if they can acquire another one and get one and have one for themselves that would be rightfully their property because they would be putting their information on it it's the same when it comes to land it's the same when it comes to anything that we can put a claim on of ownership while we are using it in the physical body and again there's no such thing as eternal ownership I get that people want to turn this into a semantical argument about that you're gonna die one day so how could you ever really own anything I tell people it's about stewardship while you are in the physical vehicle I am living on the land that I'm living on now it's my property because I'm living on it the reason is because I'm here you know the whole concept of I got there first it's not an imaginary thing that's a legitimate thing somebody's there you don't have a right to just put them off of that line' and again that's why there's so much karmic debt on the very country that we're even living in because there were already people living on this land and we put them off of it when when when our ancestors came here i shouldn't even say we when our ancestors came here and i think those those karmic stains or debts are actually coming down into the modern day as a result of what this country has become you know or through what this country has become so the my overall answer to your question is yes there is such a thing as legitimate property I do cover it in a little bit of depth in my natural law seminar I recommend watching that in its entirety and it look to those three aspects of property again rightful ownership not having harmed someone to acquire it the maintenance of the actual usage of that thing for what you need not for keeping people back from what they need as a result of holding it and the maintenance of personal responsibility over that thing or that piece of land or or whatever we're talking about as being owned so those are my definitions for private property well mark I like I got it maintenance usage and responsibility yeah we gained without hurting out of this problem is there's so many people in a country any country except maybe like

Saudi Arabia it's mostly desert or Australia there's so many people that there should be in my opinion there should be a square and in other words a squaring system to a kitty or a pool each person on the 18th birthday in my opinion deserves an equal share of air rain Sun land and their left kidney and you shouldn't have to bid on these things you shouldn't have to be the most intelligent you know you should have to be an auctioneer to have freedom of speech well should have to be well charismatic personality deaf freedom of association and you shouldn't want that money to have land God made land yes and therefore any ownership in it is extremely attenuates claim and it's not like it's got her read and turned it into a flute or you got a conch shell inserted with trumpet when so when so few people own so much land and claim everybody else doesn't have the right to own any of it because we're saying we already own all of it that's the situation we really have now we're 1% of human beings own ninety-five percent of the land on the earth that's like aristocracy it's an evil evil system art that I think that I can agree with that I don't believe in that's not legitimate claim to property legitimate claim to property is I have this area that I use I put to use for my own needs and requirements for daily living and that's legitimate ownership of property and nobody should be denied that because other people claim that they own at all you know I agree with that I agree more but I like you I don't want to be so corrected but it's the thing you have to use it's a fire 20 acres I mean what would have to go on every acre every day but what I am saying is reciprocity there ought to be a way that each person doesn't let's just say it was on average 40 acres to me well let's just use that as a dirty and I lexicon it's already in our verbage if you work 41 acres you should pay and it's about 30 million acres you should I believe it a kitty and I called a sign square the ninth birth net excluders a natural inheritance that excluders super quotient Liat red interests now Curtis we're gonna have to pick this up on the on at another time because unfortunately we're out of time for this edition ladies and gentlemen hope you've enjoyed tonight's show that's all the time we have for tonight we'll see you right here next week and remember there's only two mistakes one could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way take good care [Music] [Applause] [Music]

I'll jump right into the material I want to direct everyone's attention as always to the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page where during the live broadcast there are always images for tonight's show listed in numerical format you can click on the numbers to bring up that slide during the presentation and I'll try to do my best to always make sure that as I move on to a new slide I tell you the image number so you know what number slide to click on to bring up the slide that I'm talking about in a little slideshow format on the website when the show is not live of course these images are always posted with the podcast tonight's show will be podcast number 163 ok so last week we ended on slide number 86 I believe or if we had moved slightly further from there I'm not exactly positive I but I believe it was slide 86 that's where I'm gonna pick up from tonight so we were talking about the megalithic sites throughout the world and how human technology could not actually duplicate much of the ancient Stoneworks the megalithic building that has been these structures that have been built in pretty much just about every culture on the earth and on every continent and these sites are often upwards of over 10 or 12 thousand years old and in some cases even older than that and they are built in a way that modern humans would not even think of building or choose to build and again in most of the cases we could not duplicate the building structure the building technique with modern technology that we have available at our disposal today slide number 86 we were talking about saqsaywaman in Peru and it's a temple complex with some of the stones there reaching weights of almost 200 tons you could see a huge megalithic block and the image in slide number 86 there to the right of that child and you could see the completely unique architectural building style that was done with these stones almost as if they are somehow morphed or melted into position where they're not cut as blocks but they are just have a very irregular shape and are so tightly fitting that you could not insert a human hair in between these stones they fit so perfectly together in all dimensions and it's just something that we would be very hard-pressed to duplicate today and when people when archeologists and anthropologists are asked well why did they choose such a building style they say to make it earthquake proof and I really don't personally buy that as an argument that maybe one of the side effects or side benefits of building with this style but I think it was they built this way because the technology that they were using actually afforded them to basically take the stones and just make them fit up against each other in irregular shapes like this because I feel that they were using some kind of molecular technology to actually melt stone okay to actually make it supple and be able to be formed literally like clay almost and so they didn't do cutting with it with this type of a technique as far as I'm concerned these stones don't even look like they're machined in many cases as you see machining techniques on other sites which we're going to look at a example of clear machining when we get to slide number 90 a puma punku-- in belit bolivia but to go back to socks a woman you know we were talking about more famous sites like the Great Pyramids of Giza of the Giza Plateau in Egypt just outside of Cairo where you know some of the largest stones in the foundation are upwards of 400 tons and in the structure you have some stones that are 50 ton blocks like the stones that are above the King's Chamber you know whereas most of the stones are probably around you know 2 to 4 tons and in the Great Pyramid you have ones that are 50 tons in the structure and you have ones at the very level foundation that weigh in at around 400 tons we will pick up this discussion on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back we [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio tonight we're talking about cosmic abandonment a presentation that I gave back in December of 2013 talking about the connection between the interference theory of human origins or in other words the origin of humanity as directed by non-human entities that came to this planet thousands of years ago in connection with the current human condition socially psychologically spiritually and we're talking about how a lot of the structures that have been discovered from the ancient past really can't be duplicated by modern technology and you know we looked at last week some of the more prominent of these megalithic structures like the Great Pyramids of Giza the Stonehenge monument in southern England Machu Picchu in Peru and we were talking about Sacsayhuaman in Peru outside of Machu Picchu where some of these stones look look as if they are somehow molded into place like clay it's it's really amazing I've never been there myself but it's someplace I would hope to visit at some point to you know just look at this amazing construction if we move on to site to slide number 87 we'll see an unfinished block well it may be a finished block but not it's an unused block essentially this is just outside of the bow back site in Lebanon and we'll be talking about Baalbek and a couple more slides but this block doesn't look like it was ever put into place it was probably being quarried or removed and it was abandoned here for some reason maybe because it had maybe some type of a structural defect but you could clearly see a machining line on the the front end of the image on just in front of the gentleman who's standing on this monstrous block the ways a it's estimated to weigh over 2,000 tons now 2,000 tons that's 2,000 times 2,000 pounds that's four million pounds that this block is estimated to weigh I mean first of all who would even think of cutting out a four million pound block okay why would it have to be a single stone because it there's something regarding the kind of technology that they are using that has resonance with large amounts of stone that is intact and not broken into smaller amounts of stone they wanted to use megalithic stones for a particular reason regarding resonance and energy and I can't tell you what that exactly is but it just makes so much more sense why would they go through the immense trouble of keeping a single stone intact and moving it across distance to place it into place and when we look at Baalbek we'll see that there are stones at Baalbek that are almost this large I mean some of the stones at Baalbek are estimated to be over 1200 tons or 1400 tons you know it's absolutely unbelievable it's an amazing place and they say it was built by the Romans you know their Romans the the Roman Empire moved blocks this large we couldn't do it with our largest cranes today you know you know just to erect a temple to their God one of their one of their um you know Olympian gods so it's just none of the classical explanations by modern archaeologists and anthropologists really hold any water because they never really explained not only how they did this but why you know why would you see everywhere else they didn't build with techniques such as this why at these particular locations because they didn't really do it they didn't do this they used what was already there and built a temple on top of it which you can clearly see has completely diff architectural construction techniques that is not in this megalithic style they were using what's already there and building on top of it so you know because this is the site that was given to them by their gods that they worshipped as gods in the ancient past and in more distant ancient past and then they just use those to venerate those gods and build right on top of it you know so the next slide slide number 88 is of the Osirian temple in Egypt and this temple is erected to the solar deity Osiris one of the Creator gods in the ancient Egyptian pantheon of gods and again you can see in this image and you'll you'll what once you start to study this topic you'll see this kind of theme play out over and over and over again when you study some of these ancient construction megalithic construction sites and building techniques you'll see a layering effect always where the largest stones not just because of weight purposes but because they're the oldest thing that's there they're at the lowest geological area okay there at the the oldest level of building okay are the heaviest and largest stones built in the megalithic style and then on top of that at a much later date newer stones are placed and they're always much smaller okay much more numerous because they're smaller okay and they're always built with less precision more space between them often with mortaring techniques of some kind instead of the mortar 'less construction that you see in the megalithic sites the ancient megalithic sites and I would suggest this is because there are not only different building techniques there are different builders they are not the same builders as these older architectural sites so here we clearly see it in the Osirian temple you could see the largest blocks at the at the base of the straw the very bottom and in this place that is now essentially an aquifer of some kind or like there's water flooded into this temple some of these blocks weighed upwards of 60 tons in some cases or estimated to be approximately 60 ton megalithic blocks there's also at this particular temple I don't think you could see it too clearly in this image maybe if you bring the the brightness or contrast up but I'm not even sure if it's taken at this angle where you can see it there is some sort of an etching that is burnt at an atomic level into the one of the blocks and it is a sacred geometrical pattern known as the Flower of Life again it would suggest that there's some type of resonance or underlying energetics that have to do with these blocks and the reason they were constructed out of single pieces of often very hard stones like granite to somehow provide some sort of an energetic resonance field okay so the Flower of Life is actually laser etched I only want to say laser it may be some other type of technology but it's burned into the atomic structure of the rock at the Osirian temple and it's not painted or burnt with any kind of a chemical mechanism it doesn't seem it's actually at an atomic level you know if you go into the the rock it's it's burnt even into a depth within the rock okay so it's an interesting phenomenon to look at at this particular temple but going back to my point about the different layers of construction you could see on top you have much smaller stones that are built on top of the older construction at a second level and clearly they weren't made with the same level of precision and are often you know not still standing and they have been affected by time and weathering and earthquakes etc and then on top of those you even see a manure layer of construction where there's much smaller stones fitted into place often by mortar you know construction technique okay so you'll see this over and over again actually as you look into this field of ancient megalithic architecture we'll pick this topic up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divided today tried to run try to hide and we're back you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio tonight we're continuing the extended version of the cosmic abandonment presentation it's all about the connection between the interference theory of human origins and the current human condition we're looking at megalithic sites and how in many cases we can't duplicate the technology of the ancient past even today with all of the modern technological advancements that humans have achieved we were on slide number 88 talking about the Osirian temple and the Flower of Life sacred geometrical pattern that is quote-unquote laser etched into the atomic structure of the rock at that temple and we were talking about the layering effect that you often see when studying the megalithic construction sites that you'll see the largest megalithic and oldest megalithic construction techniques that are mortar 'less at the bottom often built on top of by another culture that came along after the original civilization that had built the original site had been long gone and built on top of it with smaller construction that was less stable and sometimes used mortar but more likely than not still used a mortar list construction technique but clearly not as advanced and not capable of moving such large stones into place and then usually on top of that by you know thousands of years later a later civilization comes along and builds on top of that with a much less refined technique usually using mortar to hold the stones together so you'll see this repeated over and over endlessly as you kind of study this entire field let's move on to slide number 89 and this is the temple of Jupiter as they call it in from the Roman Empire times but before that it was known as Baalbek that's B al Bek and belbek is of course was a site that was built to the god bail bail was an ancient Canaanite deity an ancient Phoenician Canaan deity and you know this site is of course in Lebanon in the Middle East and the again the largest stones here are upwards of 1,400 tons just absolutely unbelievably massive blocks okay and archaeologists would have us to believe that the Roman Empire put those blocks into place with the technology that they had available to them at the time for no other reason than to make a flood wall barrier okay it's absolute absurdity okay completely absurd to think that the Romans okay would have had technologies that we we would not be able to place these stones with this kind of precision today no way and yet they would expect us to believe that the ancient Roman Empire was able to do this okay and again for no other reason they're ostensibly --then is it was a slurry wall of some kind you know it was there to hold back floodwaters and you know I mean some of the explanations get more and more absurd and ridiculous as archaeologists tried to stretch their hypotheses to give an explanation to people who are demanding an explanation for how could this be how could this even be here when we can't do this today and again you're going to see the technique once again repeated over and over you can clearly see three levels of construction here you have the large super massive megalithic construction of the very ancient world followed by a smaller level of megalithic construction and then finally you have you know stones built on top of that that are much smaller and you'll see this layering over and over and over again as I said as you study this entire phenomenon so this is Baalbek again large a stone here estimated to weigh over 1,400 tons moving on to slide number 90 and this is the last example that I'll give per but perhaps one of the most unique and least well-known and most amazing ancient megalithic sites and I would say this is the site that has the absolute clearest example of machining and I'm only giving one image here to illustrate the machining technique because I thought this was a good one but I'm telling you there are so many more amazing sites when you type this site into any search engine that you want to look it up on on the internet look up puma punku-- that's pu ma pu and k u pu ma p u NK u puma punku okay this is in Bolivia and this site okay has probably the clearest example of ancient machining in out of any megalithic site in the world these stones are so clearly and obviously machined that a five-year-old a two-year-old could probably tell that these stones were machined and yet archaeologists and anthropologists insists no these stones are cut with ancient copper tools you know Neolithic style era tools okay you know Bronze Age and Neolithic and Bronze Age style tools I mean it's it's it's so ridiculous it's laughable and yet they would have people believe this you know that you're gonna cut stones that are six times the hardness of the tools you're working with yeah you'll get you'll make a lot of progress that way I guarantee you and but yet this is what this is what classical archaeology expects people to accept as an explanation just because they can't abandon the linear theory of progression of civilizations that they have ascribed to that they have completely bought into an you know wholesale accepted as the explanation for how modern civilizations have come to be and have formed over time you know because looking at a site like this you clearly have to accept that there was ancient technology and that means that there was electricity that there was metallurgy that there was a knowledge of physics that there was a knowledge of engineering and it didn't evolve in a linear progression we had access to this or at least someone had access to this at in the very distant past and then it disappeared somehow and they don't want us asking those questions of well who had this technology how was it brought here did it evolve or was it brought here by someone else who were those people what were they like why were they here you know they don't want us asking what what happened because they don't want us to know the real story of the ancient human past because that's empowering knowledge about how the current state of humanity came to be the way that it is which is what this presentation is all about and once you understand the how and the why of how it came to be the way that it is that puts you in an empowered position to do something about the way that it is because knowledge is never disempowering it's always empowering now if you look up some of these first of all this shot is just an absolutely amazing example of clear machining in the ancient past these stones are clearly not carved that anyone who looks at that and says those stones are carved and not machined I feel sorry for you I'm not even going to attempt to somehow scientifically refute that contention that these are carved stones and not machined stones if you can just look at that with common sense okay just with your own eyes and not be able to tell those stones are machined I feel sorry for you as a human being and you could say that's an ad hominem attack that's some kind of a logical fallacy you know because I'm saying that you know I just feel sorry for anybody they can't see the truth about that just by looking at it with their eyes I don't really care what you want to claim how you want to claim I'm wording it or putting a spin on it okay it's called general common sense as an adult human being which most people aren't I realize that most people aren't adult human beings regardless of their biological age they're psychologically a child okay but all I have to say is anybody that would tell me that this is carved architecture or not machined architecture I would just look at them and say you know feel sorry for you know the psychological condition that you're in that's what I would do and I would even try to argue with them okay now first of all not only this image is so clear that it's machining that like I said you could ask a three-year-old in nursery school and though they would be able to tell you of course that's not something that's carved that's something that's cut okay but there if you look up Pumapunku on the internet and just get some images even if you just go to something like Google Images or something like that and just look for images of the site you'll see there are blocks with drilling holes in them that literally have clear examples of drill mark of drill holes done with large drill bore type technology drilled through it and yet archaeologists would still try to blow smoke up people's rear ends and tell them this was somehow done with some type of a punch tool or some type of a carving tool we'll pick this up right there we'll be right back folks don't go anywhere [Music] welcome back you're listening - what on earth is happening on your host mark passio we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment presentation we were on slide number 90 which is an image of Pumapunku in Bolivia and we were talking about how this site is a clear example of machining technology used in the ancient world some of the slabs that you see at the centre of this image are upwards of 130 tons or estimated to be around 130 tons I highly recommend people read more about puma punku and check out some of the clear examples of machining and drilling of the stones they're clearly like you know machined dremeled drilled stones it's just absolutely amazing all out there right out in the open you know hidden in plain sight so to speak and you know of course once again let me just reiterate this has all been debunked to death the so-called experts and the so-called skeptics and debunkers you know we'll talk about these people later on in this presentation it's been debunked endlessly you know and given the most utterly ridiculous explanations all to have to avoid talking about the very real and clear implications of non human involvement with our species because these people just have a religion that they don't want to accept that we could have been involved with in any capacity with intelligences that are beyond our understanding okay and that's all it is it's called fear plain and simple period all right these people will invent things that are completely absurd to just try to take the focus of people's attention away from that general hypothesis to not ever even consider it and it's part of this whole scientism ideology that human beings are the apex of all life that there's nothing beyond us that there's no higher power that there's no civilization it could possibly be beyond us that not no one has ever been here except us you know we're the be-all and end-all of everything the idea that man is God that you know we have done everything that that is here you know that we need to look no further you know for any explanation as to what has ever occurred on this planet except human beings themselves and you know I understand not everything is done by extraterrestrial beings or creatures and every single thing that is a anomalous we shouldn't immediately jump to that hypothesis to try to explain it I'm not saying that either okay some people do that but when we're talking about technologies like this that we really can't duplicate today in many cases we would be very hard-pressed to duplicate even with our level of technology today certainly some which we would not be able to like Baalbek or the great pyramids etc or saqsaywaman you you have to start looking toward an alternative explanation or hypothesis to try to explain what are we actually witnessing here and how did it come about if human beings did not do it okay but some people will just never ever ever ask those questions or never even attempt to even look at that as an explanation because of the fear involved with the implication okay of it possibly being non-human in origin I just want to say in this section there is a gentleman I highly highly recommend and when I made the presentation I didn't really include him in the researcher section but I'm actually gonna maybe go back and try to link to some of his work with some of the former podcasts especially the one that I did last week on the elongated skulls but he's done really brilliant work on a lot of the megalithic architecture as well and his name is Brian Forster okay so I really highly recommend that people check out Brian foresters work and you could check out youtube videos I'll try to link some of them with this podcast and like I said I may go back and link some other researchers work to the topics that I from when I started the the cosmic abandonment presentation as a podcast series on what on earth is happening radio show so I've really not been putting too much work into doing extra linking of videos and books and things like that on the podcast series but I am gonna go back and fill that in at some point it just really have been so busy with some other projects that I've been working on and you know I really haven't had time to get to that but I'm going to do that as I promised previously to link a lot of researchers material with this so I wanted to come together as kind of a cohesive thing where it's all there and you can go and click on it and do the research but if you follow the presentation and you you know type in these names and into any search engine of your choice you know it's an it's a never-ending field of research I mean you could you could be there researching any one of these topics for years okay so just wanted to mention Brian foresters work because I think it really resonates with me and it really helped to fill in a lot of of the blanks so to speak in this puzzle so I really highly recommend him so let's move on to another one of my favorite researchers and that's Lloyd Pye if we move to image number 91 again this whole section that I call the the story of our presence okay is attempting to explain a lot of the anomalies that we see that classical science has not really fully explained how certain things came about so you know we were talking about ancient structures and artifacts and now we're gonna get into some flaws in Darwinian theory and human genetic defects okay that we see that are present in the current human genome and also this is going to tie into the origin of primary psychopathy or at least I'm tying you into the origin of primary psychopathy I'm not saying Lloyd Pye did that but he did postulate the idea that a lot of the genetic manipulation that was talked about in the ancient texts that we've already briefly covered will cover in even more detail later on kind of of may explain a lot of the genetic anomalies and defects that we see in the human genome today and I agree with that hypothesis and I've postulated that perhaps it is also responsible for the presence of the complete lack of empathy that we find in less than 1% of the human population in what is known as primary psychopathy we'll get to that as we move through the section but essentially this central section here in this part - which is the story of the of the present again attempting to explain anomalies about the human condition through looking at the ancient world okay this central section here is all about Lloyd PI's work and I'll probably spend the larger part of the duration of today's lecture component talking about Lloyd Pye and his work so slide number 91 through 94 the slides are entitled void PI's twelve ways humans are not primates he put this forward I believe it was in his video series everything you know is wrong could have possibly been hominids or hominoids as well I'm not sure which video it was but I will also link some of the videos that Lloyd Pye has out there on YouTube because a lot of people are not familiar with this researcher and it's a real sad thing that more people are not I even go I'll tell you just a real brief anecdote story I even attend some UFO discussion groups in the Philadelphia area and oftentimes when I even go to some of these groups people are not familiar with Lloyd Pye in his work and I say this is one of the central researchers in this entire field of connection to non-human intelligence that people really need to become familiar with and really deeply look into all of his work not just some of it all of it okay not only the material on the Starchild skull which is very fascinating and and very supportive of this entire theory okay but you really have to look at his work on our genetic manipulation because that's the the real focus of his work of the intent of these beings that were here with us and what they actually did to the human species okay and how you know this punches tons of holes in Darwinian theory and you know exposes it really as the religion that it is okay just like creationism you know we've gone through this whole dialectic between creationism and Darwinian quote unquote evolutionary theory before on on past shows and again I subscribe to neither one of those worldviews because they're both imbalanced worldviews that are essentially based in belief not the actual real evidence okay so and we'll and we'll talk about that because that could sound like a real wild claim to some people that there's no evidence for Darwinian evolution okay but most people don't understand this is essentially postulated like a religion in the scientific world all right there's no actual evidence in the fossil record for species transitioning into other species as Darwin said there would have to be for his theory to really hold up and hold any water and yet these transitional species they're their fossils have never been discovered we'll pick this part up on the other side of the break stay with us folks [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the second hour of tonight's broadcast you're listening to what on earth is happening on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm we're going through the cosmic abandonment presentation in an extended format we were on slide number 91 and beginning to go into the section regarding the researcher Lloyd PI's explanation about ways that human beings are actually not primates as Darwinian theory postulates and as most people believe that we are and as we move through these I'll give a couple of images off to the side of this list to illustrate what Lloyd is talking about and again you really have to go and see his online lectures if you look up the if you look up his name in YouTube you'll definitely come across most of them the three main ones are an evening with Lloyd Pye everything you know is wrong and hominid hominids or hominoids if you look up those three videos you're going to get that the bulk of the important material of Lloyd PI's work of course he's done a ton of brilliant research regarding the what is known as the Starchild skull a an anomalous skull that was discovered in Mexico in the early part of the 1900s that came into Lloyd PI's possession and he did some genetic testing of it and testing of the bone proving that clearly it is something that is real and that is is not something that is fully human fully human it has some human genetics in it but it also has some non-human genetic suggesting that it is some type of a hybrid being so that's what Lloyd is mostly known for is the Starchild skull but really his even more important contribution to ufology field in general I would say the human origins field is his information about the ancient human past and how human beings came to be in the situation that they are in now so let's look at this section called Lloyd pies twelve ways humans are not primates number one human bones are much thinner and lighter than primate bones so right here in this image on the left you see a comparative to comparisons between human bones and primate bones you see a finger bone of a primate on the very very left hand side of the image in the inset image with the two bones being held on the person's hands on their fingers and then you see a human finger bone which is so much thinner and absolutely less dense than a primate bone you see a femur bone which is a the major part of the leg the upper leg or thigh bone okay on the right hand side of this image and you could just see drastically the difference between the density of the bone okay a human beings leg bone is just much more Hollow and has less density of bone it's much lighter that the overall construction of the bone is just weaker and in many ways many people would say that is a inferior design to the original primate and if evolution is supposed to improve on design it would seem like it didn't do a very good job in this and so some people will say well that increases speed you know and yeah that's one that's one thing but really um you know strength and overall durability is so weakened and that becomes a being that is actually much frailer and less strong the much weaker than a primate that's why you would not want to get into one on one hand and scuffle with any kind of a primate because more likely than not you will lose big okay they cannot they're so strong they can actually tear you limb from limb literally tear you apart and I'm not saying that figuratively I mean literally rip your limbs apart that because that's how strong their musculature is and their bones and then the connective tissue and the ligaments and you know between those bones just it's unbelievable strength that they possess so you know people look at them as just you know in many cases herbivores and creatures that just you know can't aren't very dangerous when in fact primates are some of the most dangerous animals when it comes to if you've gotten a confrontation with them as a human being so the bones are not even in the same class and we will in a later slide look at how there are absolutely zero bones in the human skeleton that are shared with any primate that has ever been discovered 0 there is no same bone no transition where there is a half human half primate with any of the same bones at all ever ever discovered and no archaeologists or anthropologists will even debate that ok and if anybody has any archaeologists or anthropologists that would even debate that then they should bring the evidence forward and show it there is ZERO bones that have ever been discovered that are shared between a human and a primate no transitional species not even one bone in a transitional skeleton ever unearthed and you know what they're probably never will be because as we're going to show through this presentation and you know through Lloyd PI's work I feel clearly shows human beings aren't primates and we didn't come from this so-called common ancestor and then turn into a new species there may be genetic material from the primate in the type of species that we are and I feel that it is mixed with yet another type of DNA that came from elsewhere to create who we are so I think we are a hybrid of a primate and another species hence a completely different species with no shared bones okay no real true a common ancestry because it's a disconnect from that earlier lineage I'm not saying that perhaps over vast vast vast swathes of time primates may turn into more advanced forms of a primate being and eventually evolved to become something more than what they are now but I don't think that's what happened in the case of human beings personally okay so let's move on to the next point in this 12 point of the ways that human beings are not primates has put forward by Lloyd Pye the muscles of a human being are five to ten times weaker well of course if you have bones and connective tissues and ligaments and joints and cartilage etc that are all essentially much less dense and weaker than in a human being the muscles are also going to be weaker because that's what's connecting to those bones the musculature is going to be a reflection of the what type of bones really they're going over and you know of course human beings can work their musculature and build it up as well to become somewhat stronger but it's never you're never going to arrive at the inherent innate strength of a primate okay so we're all weaker than primates essentially a five to ten times weaker as he's saying in in many cases our human skin is not well adapted to direct sunlight and you know I'll go beyond this and say human beings aren't well adapted to planet earth period not only to direct sunlight to our the the type of star that our planet orbits but we're not suited to the entire outdoor aspects of nature okay which is why we developed clothing and sheltering and domiciles houses etc and other technologies to keep us sheltered from the elements whereas many other animals not need to do that they can survive in the wild they can survive out in the open so he's saying that our skin is not well adapted to direct sunlight we burn easily whereas primates do not will continue this list on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] the cool we don't hear speak while the Tweetup so deep we keep her in there there's nothing wrong welcome back everyone they're listening to what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're making our way once again through the cosmic abandonment presentation and we were on slide number 91 Lloyd pies twelve ways human beings are not primates and we were on the third part of these twelve points that human skin is not well adapted to direct sunlight and I made the point that really the human being really isn't well adapted to planet earth period okay whereas primates most certainly are and can live out in the wild fairly easily let's move on to the next point human beings have up to ten times as much adipose tissue or body fat essentially than primates primates are much leaner than human beings and do not they don't have a mechanism in them that activates a lot of fat storage as human beings do this would indicate that our body chemistry and metabolisms are so drastically different that that you know there's not really much in common there at all so we have 10 times as much fat storage fatty tissue storage as primates do point number five human beings have drastically less body hair one of the most easily observable physical aspects when we look at these two species and the patterns of hair the hair patterns are reversed in human beings as they are in primates for an example in the human male our hair will grow on the chest the front part of the human male in many cases it will grow on the back not nearly as thick or dense as on the front of a human male but a primate is reversed the hair is very very dense throughout the entire primate particularly on their back and then in many cases the chest is bare or largely devoid of hair so overall human beings have drastically less body hair much less dense patterns of body hair and the hair patterns are reversed in almost all the cases with a human being versus a primate point number six the head hair and nails must be trimmed okay so hair and nails on a primate really don't ever grow longer and longer and longer as the the being lives this would suggest that's a completely different genetic mechanism at work in the primate than in the human being you know there's examples of people don't trim their nails they could you know become literally over a foot long or more in some cases and hair of course will grow and grow and grow as well you know not indefinitely but you know up to a point and whereas primates don't don't need that kind of trimming done there their hair will just not grow any longer it's like basically the coat on a dog okay so that's point number six point seven the skulls and brains are completely different I'm gonna take a little bit of time on this point to go to slide number 92 we're all the same text points bullet points are listed but the image was changed here in the presentation to be a representation of a three different hominoid type creatures we have like the australopithecines and then we move up to a later hominoid that is allegedly an ancestor of human beings and then we go to modern Homo sapiens on the right and pi in his presentations constantly shows people that while when you line the skulls up like this it becomes like a sight factor you know it looks good and it looks like it makes sense and you know oh I could see it's theirs they're similar and then they you know it's changing from one form to another of course this is a technique that's used by Darwinian evolution evolutionists to postulate and put forward their theory that you know we came from or descended from in some way the common ape or how man hominoid ancestor okay but what PI is actually saying is that there's very little similarity between these skulls okay there's a huge jump to go from an australopithecine skull to for example a you know a Neanderthal skull and or later a hominoid skull and then there's just as big of a jump to go to from something like that up to a modern human being and you could see the the ridges around the eyes you know the the brow ridges and the sloping forehead there there is no four I'm sorry the sloping skull that just goes right back to the cranial case okay and the the plates of the brain casing the skull casing so there's these these complete lack of a forehead you see the protruding teeth you know that the teeth the jaw comes out and away from the skull so much more pronounced in the hominids than in a human being you see that you know the face is set back well back from the teeth and it's underneath this huge the eye sockets underneath these huge brow ridges that aren't present on a modern human being the jaw is completely different in there's really not much of a chin on the primates where there's a pronounced chin on a human skull okay the eye sockets are different you know the brain case itself is completely different different shape obviously a much different size if you really look at all the different aspects of it there's no really not many similarities they may look visually along certain lines similar but when you actually compare them they're very drastically different and that's what he's saying here in this point that the skulls and brain are completely different most mostly we're talking about also size of the brain when you compare the size of a modern human brain to the so called ancestors of humanity their brain was much smaller so that's what this slide basically is alluding to here that the people who try to support the hypothesis of Darwinian evolution often arrange skulls like this to basically make it visually look like it's plausible that one species evolved into another but the main thing to keep in mind here connects with slide number 94 which we'll get to in a moment that there has never been one single bone shared found in a transitional species or skeleton that has been unearthed from the fossil record between any of these earlier hominid creatures and a modern human being not one and this is what Darwin himself when putting forward his own theory told people that would have to be discovered and born out in the fossil record for the theory to hold any weight that there would have to be transitional species with shared elements shared bones and not one has ever been discovered and this would suggest that for this theory to be true all of that change would have had to happen in practically an overnight sense or while we find intact skeletons of some of these species somehow we just can't locate the skeletons of these transitional species and I understand the difficulties in the fossilization of bones and how rare fossils actually are but if an entire species were to be formed from an earlier one we would have found transitional species in the fossil record by now we'll pick this up from right there when we come back ladies and gentlemen don't go anywhere you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] is happening here on the Public Broadcasting we were talking about the 12 ways as listed by Lloyd Pye in some of his presentations that human beings are not primates and we were on point number I believe it was seven that the skulls and brains are completely different and we looked at this technique that archaeologists and anthropologists used to get people to buy into the evolutionary paradigm that the Darwinian evolutionary quote-unquote evolutionary paradigm I have to remember always to wrap that in double quotes because it is nothing of the kind it isn't real evolutionary progression according to natural law it is scientism ideology essentially in the ideology that evolution is nothing but the progression of genetic material the survival of genetic material which has nothing to do with real which has a very small part to play in real evolution but it is not what real evolution is actually about which we got into on past shows I won't reiterate that today if you want my take on what real evolutionary progression in nature is about then you could go go pull up those past shows that we did on that topic but this is a technique that is often used by Darwinists as like a religion like literally they are the followers of this theory religiously because that's what this is it's a religion make no mistake about it okay just like it's no different than creationism it's just on the opposite side of the extremity you know creationism postulates God created everything and made everything it is and Darwinists say no you know it was all just random mutations in nature and it has nothing there's no intelligence that underlies it the intervention theory or as I call it the interference theory postulates that it's kind of like a mixture between the two there was a natural evolutionary progression but then something of intelligence hijacked it from that path and turned it into something that it was not really intended to be and that's what this entire theory is all about okay that's what I call interference theory of human origins that we were developing naturally at some point in our ancient past perhaps in harmony with this planet and perhaps living on this planet in a way that was well adapted to it and then something else came along as all the ancient scriptures tell us happened we were basically involved with some other form of intelligence that essentially took us out of that natural state of progression and molded us to their liking through genetic manipulation okay through a hybridization process and hence that's why you see a lot of these anomalous skulls that are half human and half something else that science cannot yet identify so you know just going back to the point that putting the skulls together in a progression like this is part of Darwinists technique to try to try to get people to think that the theory is reasonable and it's all figured out you know and we just know that it is this way because it links this in their mind saying well that sounds reasonable but when you really look closer there's so many anomalous different there's so many differences between these skulls that they are so hard-pressed to explain them that all the differences in where those came from and why there are no transitional species transitional fossils between those states you know so it's just a very clever technique that they use which looks reasonable to people glancing at it cursorily but they don't do any further research of course you know they just accepted on face value so that's his seventh point and we'll move on to the next one which also we can move to slide number 93 to explore that a little bit further in depth this point is so point number eight and it's that human beings have drastically different locomotion than primates and this is largely because of the design of the foot overall and pi goes into this pretty extensively and I think it's some of the best evidence that human beings are based on a completely different design than the primates and it is a not as efficient of a design when it comes to operating normally on this planet it is actually a disadvantage what we call you know so-called positive differences or quote unquote upgrades to the human form over the primate form or actually disadvantages not advantages which you would expect evolution to if Darwin Darwinian evolutionary theory were correct you would expect it to produce a better design not a more flawed one well there's probably no better example of this than the the design of the human foot structure the foot bones a primates foot essentially is designed directly over its center of mass and when it comes down it comes down almost flat with a perfect weight distribution human beings come down on the heel and then put the weight toward the the side of the foot okay and it goes around the arch the weight distribution goes around the arch and then has to curve drastically to then come back on to the ball of the foot and then it then goes forward across the the big toe which we largely use for balance okay and for walking all right so the is a completely inefficient design that has to curve the weight distribution of the being around the ball of the foot when walking and what that also does is it puts a lot more torque on the bones the muscles the joints the cartilage etc which is why so many people develop like knee problems especially in their later years so this is a absolute regressed design from a primate which comes down with a very even distribution of weight from the heel moving forward through the center line of the foot and then off of all the toes essentially in a very even pattern and even progression of weight distribution so the the human foot is probably what you can consider a backwards design or a regression from the primate foot and I would suggest that is more likely because of the infusion of non-human DNA that we received perhaps the method of locomotion or the way that these beings walk is advantageous to them in the environment where they come from and they had a foot that was maybe you know more drastically different than than the human and primate foot but this is a mixture or a blend between the two and in that it creates something that is obviously much less efficient than the primate foot and the primate method of locomotion again I'm just explaining this you know in a cursory way here in this presentation but if you watch PI's videos he goes into it pretty in-depth and has a lot more slides when it comes to this again this presentation you have to understand was part of a two-hour prime I had to give all of this in two hours I'm extending it here over multiple radio shows ok I had at the at the venue that I did this at did this presentation had originally two hours to go through all this material the entire presentation I had to blast through it at like light speed and just you know hit people with this and then move on you know very very quickly without lengthy exponent because you know it was you know crammed as much information about how human beings origins is not what we're told and how it was related with non-human entities that didn't really care about us wanted to control us basically created us as slaves to do their labor and then basically left us in this condition okay and do that in two hours in a way that is convincing for people okay without having really done much research on their own on this topic you know and and make it something that leaves them wanting to do more research that's the challenge of a presentation like this people will always complain they'll find something to complain about he got this little part wrong he didn't talk about this aspect which I feel is the most important aspect to cover he left this out that proves he's an agent you know I mean it's just you know people's line of thinking is so ridiculous when it comes to you know what they feel is important and I always tell them the same thing if you feel something else is more important by all means make your own presentation and please deliver it put it out on YouTube you know you could do that in the comfort of your own home there's presentation software you can have that converted right to a video put your voice right over that okay and record it screen do a screencast and put it out on YouTube with your voice over it you know don't try to pick holes in somebody else's work if you think your your research is better and it clearly explains a different dynamic or aspects of aspect of this whole phenomenon that we're experiencing by all means put it out there yourself you know and you know where their work is nowhere you never see these people putting out work of their own we'll pick this up on the other side we'll be right back [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we're going through the cosmic abandonment presentation we were talking about Lloyd pies explanation of the twelve ways human beings are not primates I'm going to be getting to your calls in hopefully the next segment I'll wrap up this last segment of this hour by continuing the presentation but if you have any thing that you want to discuss anything that you want to contribute to this conversation on human origins or any other topic for that matter never any taboo topics here the call-in number to join us next segment next hour will be 800 three one three nine four four three once again calls coming up in the next hour the call-in number to join us 800 three one three ninety four forty three so we were talking about you know the different ways human beings are not primates and we were on point bullet point number eight which was drastically different locomotion we had covered that and the design of the human foot as compared with the hominid foot I highly recommend Lloyd Paes videos for more in-depth discussion of that and his books as well point number nine human beings are of course capable of speech whereas primates are not this is a huge difference in our makeup and in our overall capabilities the human throat is completely redesigned with much greater levels of complexity and being able to make the fine-tuned small mouth noises that you know basically are the building blocks of speech whereas the throat of a primate simply does not have that kind of design and it doesn't have those fine-tuned capabilities so that is something that would clearly be a a progression in the human being as compared to the primate and again I would suggest that that is due to the way that we were engineered because they needed us to be able to communicate not only with them but with each other so when they did the genetic manipulation that they did were things like you know perfectly balanced locomotion may not have been a huge issue but being able to take direction and be able to communicate with each other to coordinate the direction that they were being given would have been placed very high on the priority list okay so this this certainly fits in with a adaptation or an advantage that would have been programmed into us and therefore supports the interference theory hypothesis point number ten there is no sign in human beings of the typical estrus cycles that are found in primates and many other animals the estrus cycle is essentially what we commonly know as being in heat a heat cycle okay so a time period of you know elevated sexual energy okay so human beings generally do not have anything like that certainly not anything to the extent that you know exists in primates where they're in heat for a time during often you know the menstrual cycle and females and then it subsides after that passes so the in the concept of the heat cycle is not found in human beings that's point number ten point number eleven and absolutely these last two points are so critical okay this to me really proves is that the scientific evidence when people decide to take this entire body of research seriously and start to look into it for themselves in a way that is you know casting off to the side the typical derision and ridicule that this field of research has been associated with and start looking at this from a mature perspective these are the points that are really going to show us where we came from and why we're in the situation that we're in as an entire species socially and spiritually and the human genome has within it over 4,000 genetic disorders that's not the case for any other animal living on this planet we have more genetic defects in our DNA than any other creature living on the earth now why would that be why would it be that just somehow the so-called most advanced creature living on the planet that God gave us dominion over don't you know okay as many religious people believe but somehow we were built with more genetic defects than any other animal on the planet kind of strange and anomalous don't you think I mean why would the creator of the universe if he was our Creator make us with so many built-in flaws oh is it because we have to be reminded that we're not perfect like quote-unquote he is you know in this patriarchal view of God that so many major world religions have you know just like the Old Testament God you know which one we're going to get into that whole concept of the Old Testament God okay you know somehow you know he had to constantly remind us that you're inferior to me now I wouldn't have anything to do with the type of genetic hybridization and splicing and dumbing down and disconnection that was done with our genome to create these things all of these disorders couldn't have anything to do with that from another intelligent species that completely came in and did a number on humanity that that doesn't make any sense but but it makes sense that the god of creation would have nothing better to do than give us an inferior genome he's given us something to work out of right you know that's the challenge what we'll start you completely screwed up and see if you could you know turn yourself into something that works properly over time right you know give you a chance to work on yourself to perfect yourself I mean you know the whole creationist idea again it's just as childish as the scientists that don't want to look at evidence for what really happened on this planet because of the implications and once again it's all because of fear I can't over stress this enough all the religious people all the sign so-called scientific but it's scientific people okay I don't know if that's a word but if it's not I just coined it okay the people who are worshipers at the altar of scientism just like people who are the worshippers at the altar of cultural religions of any type no matter where they're located geographically or you know what God they you know believe in it's a child's mentality it is a childlike mentality that doesn't want to look at the hard questions okay what put four thousand plus genetic defects in the human genome try to wrestle with that question and its implications so does Nature just do that oh these are just random mutations and that's what that's natural selection that's how natural selection works I thought natural selection selected the best from what was inferior you know but somehow it created 4,000 genetic disorders in our genome you know I mean that's what Arminius would have you believe and creationists would have you believe God did this for what purpose to torment us you know or just to remind you we're not as good as he quote it quote he is it's always a male God you know it's never a force it's never some entity that is neuter or has no sex it's always male you know in all the major cultural religions you know this is the thing that I think PI's work really it hit me like a oncoming freight train you know when I first started looking into his work and he explained how these beings that were doing this genetic manipulation didn't care about what they were creating they were gonna use it as a tool and then cast it off or be out of here and leave us to our own devices which is essentially what I think they did with some caveats I don't think they just took off and there was not no connection left which we'll get into but I'm gonna leave the presentation there for this evening and we're gonna go to the phones on the other side of the break we'll pick this up the presentation next week [Music] you know the day destroys the night 95 today tried to run to the other side welcome back everyone we're into the third hour of tonight's broadcast on this edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm so

I'm going to leave the presentation right there we were on slide number 93 or 94 whichever way you want to look at it we're going to move on to talk about the four thousand plus genetic disorders in the human genome and how our number of chromosomes came to be the way that it is this was already hinted at in the story of the past that we went over several weeks ago about you know the story of the non-human entities that came to this planet and performed the genetic manipulation that they did but we'll get into some scientific evidence for this theory on next week's show regarding the human chromosome number two and how the genetic manipulation that was done could have not only created all these 4,000 genetic disorders but that one of them may have been primary psychopathy in the human species so that'll be coming up next week and we'll go into other areas like how religions came about how governments came about how the worship of money and gold came about all kinds of fun stuff to come about this story of interference with our natural evolutionary progression as a species as spiritual beings in the physical world having an experience here to learn and grow and how that's been hijacked in our species so for now for the remainder of the show I'm going to take your calls the call-in number to join us is eight hundred three one three nine four four three so let's go to the phones any comments on this entire topic or welcome anything that you want to add anything you want to bring to my attention any questions that you have or if you want to go off into completely other areas that's fine as well so here we go let's hear from Phil in Oregon Phil you're live on what on earth is happening well hey Marky hear me yes I can oh good alright first of all mark thank you from everybody who use the damn thank you for your enunciation alone in your direct presentation style and what else loss doesn't say that then your minimal use of profanity so you can reach more people exquisite I mean you're you're brilliant dude thank you so much I mean you did you did all the hard work on yourself so you can help others and I mean thank you so much dude seriously I appreciate that but I it is it is a lot of hard work and that continues even after you work on yourself really that's when the hard work begins because then you have to attempt to take information that is transformative to other people and that is what is known as the true great work so I thank you for all you know your your gratitude in that regard and I'm gonna do my best to continue that and refine it even more you hear man I take a thousand bullets for your brother this is good stuff anyway I I remember you talking about people saying this whole alien perspective thing is oh it's as bad as terrible there's no hope but for me when you say that stuff this is totally uplifting I mean this is empowering then it gives you such a higher perspective you can be like oh well Johnny hocked a loogie in my chocolate milk those trivial issues go out the window you know you can take these bigger issues on board without uh you know brushed off your shoulders that's right and what it really comes down to when you boil it all down is would you rather know or would you rather remain ignorant even if the truth is ugly doesn't knowing it put you in a more empowered position than when you were ignorant of it you know I mean it could be difficult for newcomers it could be difficult for people that haven't yet gotten a very wide historical perspective of what's really going on here on this planet as far as the control system aspects are concerned but I you know I think again I stated as a caveat for going into this material this is like the mature class this is like the AP class okay it's like this you have to understand this material after you understand the control system because this explains how the control system got to be the way that it is and it helps us to understand why we're so susceptible to this control system due to our programming that is embedded in our makeup now what I want to do later on is give people something to not be depressed about but to have a little bit of dare I'd use the term hope okay I you know I don't want to put people on the opium drug either okay I want to give it a me a mature realistic perspective there is something that goes beyond all this genetic manipulation and that is epigenetics the realm of consciousness can trump any of the things that have been done to us and that's directed by the human will and the human heart and once you're a line you have aligned those forces and you want to use those to propagate truth and freedom and higher-level consciousness and love no force in the universe can stop that that's right I totally agree I mean look at these Psychopaths they don't have the genetic potential capacity for love and empathy and they're falling apart they don't even mix their genetics with any other people they're kind of like dogs in a way they don't have you know mutts are stronger you know they mix mixed blood yeah they're actually creating more problems within their own bloodlines because they they have this totally psychopathic desire to keep these traits quote unquote in the family and it's not strengthening them it's actually weakening them it's it's actually a disadvantage you know that their system is slowly falling apart but it's gonna take a whole lot more focused concentration toward knowledge and willpower and true care on people's part to really you know move us forward collectively because we're just not there you know in numbers yet but there's a small growing segment the core segment of people who are really getting it they're going to take this information to other people in a more concentrated focused and distributed way as the years move on for sure right we're chatting in your chat room in an area about natural law and how that ties in would be psychotic they're kind of like you know virus people where we call them how the need is took care of it you know they just push them off the iteself or go hunting and they disappear you know right that is that proper in natural law since they initiated the violence with all this you know the spiritual warfare on every level food air water fought is it is it where we have the right to I would say once violence is demonstrated and there's no effort on the part of the person who is conducted the violence to change their ways or perhaps in the case with primary Psychopaths there's no capacity to change that there is a natural defensive you know aspect of natural law that states that you can deal with that in a physical manner and you know I'm not telling anybody to just go identify a psychopath and and take them out of existence I'm saying that at some point humanity as a whole has to understand that we have the right to deal with the beings that would dare to take our rights away physically if if required to do that if they will not back down and allow us to exercise our natural rights and be free you know at some point your freedom has to be taken if it's attempted to be taken by someone else you have a right to physically take it back you know I don't know how much more clear I could be about that regarding where I stand regarding that dynamic but it's certainly not the new-age idea of just let everybody who's doing evil run rampant because we think they could all be you know reformed in some way with words because it's just not true I mean from a mature perspective looking at it okay you can mitigate that to a very huge extent in consciousness but they're still going to be people who going to act out in a violent way you know until we actually identify where psychopathy really comes from in the genome and possibly develop a way of dealing with that in the genome itself or until we become so conscious and we mitigate that to such an extent that that is actually worked out epigenetically out of the genome okay and until that is no longer in the human genome we're going to be dealing with that dynamic and I say there is always an inherent right to deal with it physically so that's my answer really great points Phil thanks so much for the call ladies and gentlemen we'll continue with your calls on the other side stay with us [Music] [Music] you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're taking your calls in this hour the toll-free number to join us eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three let's hear from Lynn in Washington Lynn you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark first of all I would like to echo the other caller on thoroughly enjoying your presentation and I'm trying to get very enlightening and very confirming the other thing is I would like you to spell Brian foresters name as I recall he's got an interesting spelling of his last name I think it is fo r es ter Forrester I'm not a hundred percent positive but I think that's what it is let me just see if I can bring it up and confirm that sound correct yes I'm sorry that is not correct it's f OE r s t er Brien Foerster f OE R st er I thought it had an unusual last or spelling and I thought of people were gonna look him up it might be wise to give out the proper spelling of his name yeah if you look up Brian Forrester and elongated skulls you'll find the correct gentleman or Brian Forrest or an Nephilim architecture you'll find the you'll find the correct Brien Foerster on YouTube if you just type Brian Forrester and ancient architecture in YouTube something like that you you will come to his videos I had the good fortune years ago back in late 90s of going to a presentation of Lloyd Pye Wow that's awesome it was awesome I I really didn't even know what I was getting myself into when I went to this meeting and he just blew me away something that has got me puzzled however in the question that I want to ask sure we're talking about the difference between humans and primates and the chromosomes and all this but we're also talking about 85% of the population of the world has got the r8 factor in their blood right which is a rhesus chromosome right if I'm correct there are 15% of the entire population in the on the planet that don't have that correct can you explain that yeah my take on the whole Rh factor positive or negative you know whether we have the rhesus factor in our genome is that I think if it's present we probably have more of the genetics that were present in the original human beings or you know the original beings regardless of what you want to call them that we're naturally evolving on this planet I think that is the the hominid aspect to us but then you know that factor I think being removed in a small percent of the population is part of the nonhuman essence now I'm not trying to say the people that have Rh negative blood or non-human I'm saying that this other presence that came here and interbred with us didn't have that in their blood and what happened was over time you know they introduced their genetics into our bloodlines and some of that those what I what you might call a recessive trait the absence of that trait you know propagated in certain bloodlines and that's why most bloodlines that are of quote-unquote royal origin or you know blue blood or you know you could say the ruling bloodlines okay largely have this Rh negative aspect and you know people have made a lot about this have you know talked about this quite extensively I tend to not think that just this one factor is the most important thing to look at when it comes to this but it does play into it a little bit and so I'm glad that you basically brought it up and mentioned it I think it's essentially a sign of the Rh positive aspect I feel a means that we have a little bit more of a connection to the original lineage of what was developing on this planet then an infusion of what you might call Nephilim DNA or where Anunnaki DNA or just simply nani whatever you want to call them regardless of the culture that talked about them and gave it gave them a name of the non-human entities that came here in the ancient past so may I interrupt sure I have known for a long time that I'm re too negative and I'm certainly not royal right no absolutely not so what I'm saying is that these bloodlines interbred with all of humanity it's like they didn't just purely keep their blood constantly in their in their lineage obviously it leaked over into the rest of the population and now like you said probably over 15% of humanity has that that factor within their their blood so it's not something that um has anything to do with the level of consciousness that that a person is going to be at or it can reach we have integrated into our whole genetic pool so ii spent a little bit of research i've been able to find on this as i was looking at up is there is a whole bunch of people with the rh negative that seem to have a lot of interactions with an alien presence beyond us yes I've had all kinds of experiences that if I sat and told somebody they wouldn't believe oh you're absolutely right there when it comes to that there is a absolute correlation and connection between the interaction of people of human beings with non-human entities and the Rh negative factor in human blood without any doubt in my mind there is an absolute correlation there because the the the percentages of people that have had abduction related experiences or even very strange encounters of some type with non-human entities and and the the percent of them that have the Rh negative factor is just compared to how much of the whole percentage of the human population have it is absolutely off the charts so there's certainly a correlation there and I'm glad you mentioned that as well then I would like to know if there's more information on that aspect of it that I can look up well I would say maybe um you know get involved with a UFO research group in your area I know that this is a topic that comes up on occasion at the Philadelphia UFO meetup group that's headed up by Chris Augustine you might want to check out his website it's aliens the truth com that's a resource I can throw out there just right off the top of my head for you to check out I'm not sure if he has any articles up on the site about that but perhaps maybe you can get in touch with him and ask him if he has any other information on that because I know it's one of the topics that he personally looks into and talks about often at the meetups and that was alien aliens the truth com just a shout out there for Chris and Chris was the host of my cosmic abandonment presentation he runs the Philadelphia UFO meetup group so he kind of gave me the opportunity to present this information you know in a formal setting for the first time well I appreciate your your information I really do that's very helpful to me absolutely thanks so much and thanks for the great insights on the call here okay so let's see let me see how much time we have left in this segment okay let's uh let's go to Scott in Portland Scott you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark and Amy yes great yeah a couple of things that I'll try to make it quick but I have some oh by the way I'm a big fan yourself thank you I want that first however I do disagree with you the thing oh that's that's okay no no one has to agree with it all it's all about you know putting the topics out there for a discussion putting them out on the table you stay on the line through the break and I'll let you get to your point on the other side okay ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome back [Music] taking the call on this toll-free no further killing us you know ninety-four [Music] Scot in court a lot of ice break music those containing [Music] take care of that was supposed to duck back out when I start apparently it is not take justice we may just have to let it be right out [Applause] [Music] looks like the automation looks like the automation on the network and failed there there we go they took care of it okay sorry about that little glitch there folks we were talking to Scott in Portland just before the break hit us Scott are you still on the line with us so we may get cut off no worries no right I didn't get to your point yes great please nism this and the idea I'm talking about that all the forms well let me back up a second I've long been concerned with assumptions people make and have inherited and they become unexamined assumptions sure and what yeah and one of these is the idea that there are the forms in the mind of God of the facts and there's somewhere in the mind of God a fox a bird a worm and all those things will regenerate themselves and this is proof and I think part of the problem that's been the war on nature as I see it sure background and session then the core Christian I was about to grade the first time I think I smoked marijuana and there about that time that I realized some things were really wrong and most of that has to do with what I would call the right hand not telling a left hand what it's doing compartmentalization sure yeah especially with people who are in authority and the justified their authority and a lot of this seems to be justified by this idea that you can't really ruin anything and we're definitely not spinning a rockin outer space where infinite possibilities can happen that's regimen what you're describing here is an attachment in people's minds to the idea of permanence like it's always been this way it is this way now and it's always going to continue to be this way I find that you see this embedded in the most brainwashed and controlled people and you see this embedded deeply in people who believe that the control system is absolutely impenetrable and eternal they're resigned to the idea that government must always exist controllers must always exist this is somehow embedded in the fabric of nature itself these people believe they're so convinced that the current system is eternal then and what it really comes down to is these people believe that this system is God they think that it's God we're that it's God doing this here yes and I know this because my family are people that I grew up with that consider themselves to be elite and what I would call the kind of people that Alex Jones is all day attacking and I'm going to discern them to say that the situation is a lot more complicated and in my opinion has to do with thousands of years of people believing eyes and maybe they'll write lines but the whole angle of looking at things in a conspiratorial point of view I think has its advantages because people do advocate these lies day in and day out for their own beneficial reasons that's right an evolutionist most certainly one of them that was played off by some of the elites like the Galton's families and the you Genesis and social engineers of the day and propagated out to the masses to get them to buy into the whole supremacy of matter hypothesis and the whole genes control your destiny so the the lot that you're dealt with in life is the lot that you're stuck with and it's certainly not true because we know differently through the science of epigenetics and the understanding that consciousness and the way that we inform ourselves and our body through what we put into it information wise and nutrition wise can actually change the receptors that activate genes or don't activate certain genes we're in ultimately in control of that because we can reprogram ourselves and that's the good news when it comes to all this like I said no matter how much genetic programming or manipulation has been done it can never Trump the power of consciousness the power of consciousness is always going to be able to trump that yes we will expect and no matter how hard you try to get rid of your freewill you're gonna suffer the pain of how it hurts when I don't know there's a certain pain and punishment that comes along with people who pretend they don't have any free will and I don't see them because we said anaphoric that makes everything that we know is basically beautiful and enhance properties of infinity diversity built-in which is nature and things have involved over millions of years to become the foxes in the birds and the porcupines and the fish and things that when you're three years old and you see the mother finished or whatever defending it you immediately feel joy as that would be a life worth living right I really think what we have here is possible yeah we have to we have to formulate that connection to our real roots are real ancestry I think you know that's underlying all of this manipulation and all of this some underlying programming that's been done to us there's still that connection deep down underneath to our true nature that can never be completely buried and they think they can do that but ultimately really they're kidding themselves because they're they're never going to be able to bury the true human soul they're never going to be able to bury true a little bit I would disagree with you a little bit that I agree that the conspiratorial scream put this in is very important because people are guilty but the in control anything what they're in control of is the runaway Sorcerer's Apprentice who's making a mess out of everything and they just we want to pretend they're in control of something that's impossible to control yes absolutely yes so I would agree that they're not ultimately really in control because ultimately natural law is the only thing that's really in control they think they're going to trump that but it cannot be that cannot be done again that's the ultimate lesson and all of this is that it's always raining over everything else in this universe we can only be under the illusion that we can conquer the laws of nature that are ultimately put into effect by the creator of the universe that doesn't mean we don't have free will we still do we have free will to operate our lives within the boundary conditions or guidelines of morality as set by natural law and if we do that then our evolutionary progression continues forward if we don't do that it stagnates or regresses so I think you're making a very good point I don't really see too much contradiction and and you know how we how we think along those lines it doesn't really seem like I guess what I'm trying to say is the alien DNA or whatever in proper sense should be considered in a wild part of one universe here so whatever kind of mutations happened which well it's too much infinity for people to be considerate as something besides what we had here which is No okay yes see I I agree I agree with that it's not about purging or you know totally alienating this which is why I don't even really like the word alien and you notice I very rarely use it you know it's I call it just extraterrestrial meaning not of the earth but from another planet or another dimension or another galaxy who knows but um you know this is about integration and healing ultimately it's about reconciliation when it all comes down to it you know and realizing that we are all one and we are all on the same basic path of development great insight Scott we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us folks the cool side we don't dare speak while between ups I'm so [Music] what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting last segment of the show for this evening the time really does fly let's continue with your calls let's hear from Ryan in Nebraska Ryan you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark I am on episode 10 right now okay my wife and I Anna were looking at barriers to self-realization yes and we've realized that we're really stuck you know in a lot of our you know a lot of the barriers but one of the things you said was that it takes will yes and I I just if you could expand on that for me that would be great sure the will is the ordering force within creation it is what is known as the centric force that actually pushes evolutionary progress in consciousness forward okay unless you get in touch with that underlying force that is present not only in yourself but it is present in all of nature and everything in creation it is the will of creation it is the force that is actually the will of creation what creation is trying to will into effect and once it has a desire it wants to progress in its own understanding it wants to progress in its own complexity it wants to progress in its own knowledge of itself okay and what the human beings will lowercase W needs to align with is that greater force of will capital W when you align those things and there's no contradiction between those two seemingly different concepts of will okay one you could look at is the desire of the self on a lower level the individuate itself and one you could look at as the desire of all creation okay when you actually align those to the force that is actually underlying in nature that is there and moving all of the entire universe forward actually works with you it were you got you could say it the opposite way you could say you work with it you're no longer trying to buck that force you are actually stepping into the slipstream of that force by aligning yourself to that force okay and when you do that that's creates total self empowerment you're no longer actually working against yourself you're no longer acting has your own enemy in this world when you align yourself to that force understanding what it is is the first thing to understand that we are here for a purpose and that purpose is to learn and grow in consciousness when you understand that that's the first step towards starting to align your will with that higher capital W will okay that is inherent in nature and again that's desire it's part of care it's care for truth it's care for what is right it's care for development of knowledge you know if you've already started along that path that care is present so there's a certain amount of will present now you have to nurture it and work with it and be persistent see that's where you know we look at will is only something like that do you have the will to get through this do you have the will to do this it's more than even just persistence its persistence and care aligned together so there's a feminine and masculine component within that higher will that we have to develop that's really what I would consider you know true will or what has been called in you know other occult systems or other transformational systems that has been referred to as the lame-o which is the word for will in the ancient Greek language I hope that explains what I consider the true will to be yeah yeah thank you thank you so much for your work sure and like I said the more you look into this information and the more you continue to nurture the desire to move forward in your own evolutionary progress in consciousness the more of that will you will build up within yourself and the more you'll align yourself to that underlying force in nature which is what I've called the sin tropic force or in other words the ordering force that counters the force of entropy or chaos in this world and actually orders things toward more complexity more understanding more knowledge more care more morality more growth and development in consciousness that you know the more you do that the smoother that process becomes so I you know just from what you've said here tonight that you're looking into this and you want to go further I can tell you're already on that path so keep that up and just keep moving forward all right I had one other thing I want right ahead seeing calm listening to stuff from 2010 it's now 2014 yes in 2010 you seemed a bit pessimistic and and you just continually are saying you know the path we're headed down is just in we're gonna go fall deeper into the system of control as your opinion changed on that at all not drastically I don't think we're anywhere near a number to facilitate a quantum shift in our what we're creating in our reality we're not even anywhere close to that number and I again I don't say that but please don't take that as just total negativity I don't say that because I'm trying to discourage anybody I'm saying that because I'm trying to be honest and answer the person's question as I see things okay I don't see things turning around I look out the door and I see 100% totally unconscious human beings everywhere all around me in massive massive droves and I'm telling you it is a numbers thing this is another thing the New Age movement has okay epigenetics and consciousness works through numbers it works through amount of people it does is it the this this whole thing this whole lie about it only takes a very small number of people to push consciousness into a transformation is a lie it takes numbers of people to do that because the more people that think the opposite way there are people who are trying to counteract that dynamic of actually moving forward in consciousness and they're the reason that consciousness hasn't moved past where it's at is because too many people are unconscious and holding it back I mean it's just a clear it's an absolute physics numbers game to move a mass you need a certain amount of force to move it and that's just how it works and it works the same way in consciousness just like it does in the physical domain you know we're nowhere near that amount and I'm just being honest so can we get to that yes absolutely we can but see can possibility is there the question is do we will that to happen how many people are truly stepping into that alignment with the higher will do I see a lot of people doing that no do I see some people doing it yes absolutely I won't even bother to continue doing it if I didn't see the possibility is there can it be changed yes it can be changed still at this late hour I feel it can be changed do I feel we're well on the way to doing that not even close we have the X exert so much more willpower so much more effort so much more persistence we have to develop so much more care for truth and freedom and and completely unlearn what we're we have supposedly learned and we're holding on to and it's completely wrong information and that's what I call negative knowledge we're not even in a place of any any knowledge we're in a place where we have no knowledge and we're still stuck on negative beliefs that aren't true you know we have to move so far past that dynamic that it's scarcely conceivable where we're at to where we need to get to you know and I'm just being honest and you should not take that as a discouragement you should continue to move forward in your understanding even knowing that that's my position even now you know I'm just one person and that's my position that's my opinion that's where I see it right now I have to concede could I be wrong sure but from an educated you know an educated guess perspective I have to tell you Humanity is nowhere near solving the problems that we are up against when it comes to our freedom being destroyed and if we want to solve that problem we have to learn the truth we have to step into that dynamic and we have to exercise a whole lot more will and persistence to change and I think that's only being done in a very tiny tiny fraction of human beings right now can that change in the future it absolutely can change and I think more people are coming online to it but still too slowly I would like to see it increase and speed up and expand dynamically but that's up to adds up to everybody out there listening and and spreading this information to others and how effectively we're going to do that and how persistently we're going to do that so really really great questions there Ryan I want to thank you so much for the call and unfortunately ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this edition as what on earth is happening we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Applause] [Music]

Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com the network's website Republic broadcasting org today is Saturday July 26th 2014 we have a great show lined up for you here tonight the show is live every Saturday evening from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Eastern Time that's 9:00 p.m. to midnight Central Time tonight on what on earth is happening we'll be continuing our ongoing series the extended version of my cosmic abandonment presentation cosmic abandonment is a presentation that explores the connection of the interference theory of human origins as I personally call it to the current human condition it explores those connections in depth and we'll be continuing with cosmic abandonment tonight on what on earth is happening I will be taking your calls in the third hour of the show tonight so for people who want to get into the calling queue the call-in number to join us is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again the call-in number I will be taking calls in the third hour of the show tonight the calling number to join us 800 three one 394 43 I have one event announcement on the big seminar coming up in Connecticut that I'll be giving called demystifying the occult will take place on Saturday October 4th 2014 it's an all-day live seminar in Manchester Connecticut it will be starting at 9:00 a.m. and going through the day until 8:00 p.m. it will take place at the Manchester History Center at 175 Pine Street in Manchester Connecticut zero six zero four zero free parking is available at the Manchester History Center here's a brief description of this live all-day seminar mark passio the no-nonsense teacher of streetwyze spirituality will take his guests on a journey of exploration examining the world of the occult and its symbols what exactly is the occult why should you know about it what kind of knowledge comprises the occult who possesses such knowledge and how do they use it how is ocultism different from mysticism what can the secret language of symbolism communicate how is symbolism being used in our everyday lives and in the second part of this seminar I will also be giving a kind of a case study regarding occult symbolism using the Major Arcana of the Tarot as a prime example of occult symbolism and I'll be breaking down the symbolism in the Major Arcana advanced tickets for this all-day seminar only a $25 donation you could send a personal check or money order made payable to Arthur Capozzi that's Arthur Capozzi CA poz Zi at 500 Munro Turnpike suite 142 Monroe Connecticut 0 6 4 6 8 once again check or money order payable to Arthur Capozzi 500 Monroe Turnpike suite 142 in Monroe Connecticut 0 6 4 6 8 also tickets will be available at the door for a thirty dollar cash donation so that's demystifying the occult coming up on Saturday October 4th if you're in the Connecticut area we would love to see you there it's going to be a great day of do Colton hidden information and enlightening people as to what they need to know regarding the occult aspects of the control system that is all around them so that's the only event announcement I have I do want to mention that there is a donation button on the left-hand side of the what on earth is happening dot-com website if you feel that you have received value from the information that has been shared on the what on earth is happening radio show and website please do feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so that it can continue into the future so with that having been said I want to direct everyone's attention as always to the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show page that's on the radio show tab of the website underneath the player where you can listen to the live show from every Saturday evening I will usually put images for tonight's show and of course there are many images that go along with the cosmic abandonment presentation so you'll see all the slides listed there in numeric format the one image for the show tonight is of course the poster for the demystifying the occult presentation and then underneath that you'll see cosmic abandonment slides part 1 and 2 we wrapped up with the slides for part 1 will be moving into slides for part 2 this evening actually we went through up to slide number 93 last week and I'll be picking it up from slide 94 and continuing from there this evening one thing I do want to mention about the slides for tonight's show and tonight's show is podcast number 164 for those who may be listening later the slides for part two I broke them up into two sections because there's a hundred and eighty-four slides to this presentation and the way the the linking system that I'm using works the the slide show I should say that that that brings up the images and a slideshow format on the website works if you put too many images into one of them it kind of jumbles the numbers together so I was trying to avoid that it's kind of just a limitation of the slideshow format that I use so I broke it into two parts and you will notice that if you click like let's say image number 93 which is the first image of the presentation part number two it will say that it's slide number one because it's the first slide of the second part so that may be confusing for people to follow along like that unless you're just basically listening to what I'm talking about and then moving forward when I say that I'm moving forward to another slide if you can keep up like that that's fine if not I highly recommend people to just download the zip archive underneath the images and you can unpack that on your own computer unzip it and you'll have all of the images there with their correct numerical sequence intact and you could open them up in whatever image viewer you prefer so I think that's enough for that with that having been said I'll jump into the material for tonight we were on slide number 94 last week which is the last slide in a little subsection of this presentation called Lloyd pies twelve ways that humans are not primates and we went over most of these last week we went over the the first twelve essentially and we were looking at the last two at the end of last week's show and that's a good place to to go into a break I guess we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] Oh [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] what on earth has happened here on our BN on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening com continuing with the cosmic abandonment extended presentation this evening we were on slide number 94 the last slide of Lloyd pies 12 ways that human beings are not primates we went through 10 of these 12 and last week we ended on the last two which was I'm going to kind of be grouping these two together and kind of explaining how this these two parts work and are probably the best evidence for the interference theory of human origins the fact that there are over 4,000 genetic disorders in the human genome and you don't see that in let alone primates any other species on the planet we seem to have more things that are wrong with our DNA than just about any other species on the earth and you know people could argue that that somehow has something to do with the environment that we have created but it's really always pretty much been this way since human beings have existed you know you could say Oh epigenetics has something to do with that and epigenetics absolutely does have to do with turning on the propensity for a gene to activate and you know is essentially display certain characteristics or tendencies or traits but what we're talking about here is really something that is deeply embedded in humanity that really you don't see in other species on this planet we have more disorders at the genetic level than any other creature on this entire planet and to me that's not the mark of how nature operates you look around and you see order everywhere else except in humanity you see being is capable of living in homeostasis and balance with their environment you see beings that are adapted to the planet they could live outdoors on this planet in just about any kind of atmosphere or weather okay human beings are the only being aside from the other beings that we genetically modified genetically manipulated or hybridized or essentially you know bred over the generation upon generation to create certain a certain subspecies now in the largest example of course the dog which was originally a wolf all of the modern domesticated dogs today came from the wolf species and then we just domesticated the wolf and bred it down and bred it down you know through different hybridizing and you know different breeding and keeping it in a domesticated state eventually turned it into the the dog that we see today you know that species wasn't really intended to exist by nature and probably would not have evolved naturally by nature had men not domesticated it that way so that's what I would call an example of not direct of course genetic manipulation but that is an example of essentially what you would call modifying a gene through domestication and what you would probably call hybridization in genetics you're basically looking to breed certain characteristic traits and you know not allowing others to move forward in the gene pool so we did this with other animals like the dog and the cat and they would not be naturally adapted to living on the surface of the planet just on their own just like we are not naturally adapted to living on the surface of the planet just on our own because that's the same process was essentially done to us only probably in a much more direct way through deliberate technological genetic manipulation and splicing gene splicing and that's what leads us into this last point in Lloyd Pie's outline of 12 ways human beings are not primates that the human chromosome is reduced from the amount total amount of chromosomes is reduced from 46 from 48 all primates essentially have 48 chromosomes whereas human beings only have 46 and the reason for this most likely is because we are a hybridized species and the beings that created us took some of their genomic material some of their DNA spliced it in with a creature that had previously existed on this planet as we told in the ancient recounting the summary of the ancient recounting z' of many different cultures on the face of the earth through their ancient scriptures talking about the beings that essentially did different genetic experimentation to humanity and lived among us and essentially kept us as their slaves when we were looking over that story that was a part in it that talked about when human beings were incapable of reproducing on their own these Bing's essentially gave us more of their genes and spliced it with the creature that they had that they had already made and that made a total of 46 chromosomes whereas the Byng that they started with originally had 48 before they began all of the genetic manipulation and tampering that they that they actually carried out now people will say well is there any evidence to support this theory scientifically and the answer is yes there actually is and this also goes a long way when you understand how this was done it goes a long way toward helping humanity to understand why there are all of these genetic anomalies in our species particularly things that have very much resisted explanation on the part of modern science and really on the part of anybody because they don't want to wrestle with the implications of why such a thing like for example primary psychopathy would exist in our species when you look at how seemingly unbelievable a condition primary psychopathy is that there are people who are born with an inability to experience human emotion in the physiology at all at all and you know I always whenever I talk about this I always go back to the fact that there are so many people who are in complete denial of this condition they insist that it does not exist they are in 100% absolute cognitive dissonance denial that this condition is existent among humanity and we are having to deal with the implications and the consequences of that there is such a thing as primary psychopathy within the human species and people don't want to wrestle with that implication so they would rather rather just wave their hand and say oh it doesn't exist it's not something I ever have to concern myself with it's not something I have to try to understand or look into or try to think about where it came from it's just something I can completely ignore and somehow the consequences the repercussions of its existence will magically vanish if I think that way it's absolutely childish delusional thought and anybody who still thinks that there is no such thing as psychopathy particularly primary psychopathy with the unimaginable in-your-face evidence on a day to day basis that there are people who are walking around on the planet who are like mindless automatons without the ability to think without the ability to feel no kata and those are just the secondary Psychopaths and they're taking their orders from the real other species the primary Psychopaths will pick this up on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] Oh welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark pass you we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment extended presentation we were on slide number 94 talking about the last two points of Lloyd Pie's ways humans are not primates and we are talking about the four thousand plus genetic disorders that exist in the human genome not you know of which there are more disorders than any other species on the face of the earth the fact that primates have 48 chromosomes in their chromosomal in their genomic makeup and human beings only have 46 we were talking about more scientific evidence this slide by the way is um showing that there are exactly zero bones in the human skeletal structure that exists in any primate skeletal structure there has never been found any transitional species with any primate bones making up a actual human skeleton and Darwin himself would have cautioned people against taking his own theory and running with it blindly because he said for it to be borne out that there would have to be transitional species found in the fossil record and there have never has never even been one found this is what is known as the so-called missing link okay so the missing link has never been discovered this so-called ancestor linking ancient primates to human beings and they're on there never will be discovered this missing link because it does not exist you know and people still blindly fall into this theory because it's up held by all modern science that's backed by government grant money and funded because that's what the notion that they want to put out there to people because they do not want them to know the truth now harder scientific evidence because people will say well evidence of absence of evidence is not evidence of absence okay so since we don't have these transitional species so it doesn't necessarily mean that Darwin's theory is completely incorrect well we can look at slope moving on the slide number 95 now we can look at what I think is one of the best examples of the scientific evidence confirming or hugely strengthening the theory of what I call interference theory that we are a hybridized species that we are a genetically manipulated race and it's the second in the human sequencing of human chromosomes that was done by the human genome project this was started a couple of decades ago I believe and it was wrapped up I think in the late 1990s if I'm not mistaken I could be wrong about the date when it was finished when it was completed but first of all it found that there was a lot less DNA in the human chromosomal genome than we originally anticipated we thought we were going to be much much much more complex in our genome was gonna you know have so many more chromosomes in it it ended up being a lot more simplistic than scientists thought it was going to be and the actual sequencing project finished finished I believe it was years early on the order of years compared to how long they projected it would take so the second human chromosome put up a lot of questions in scientists mind because it appears to be a fused chromosome a genetically fused chromosome okay I'll and I'll explain this in a moment when we look at the slide what I have to explain what you're looking at here these are basically genetic markings of chromosomes scientists basically mark where there's certain genetic material and where you know there's absence of it and that makes up the entire the entire how could I put this it's up just like a model of what the whole chromosomal material is represented by in this in this line with these light and dark colored lines going through the the vertical bar so if you were looking at let's just take the first four on the left hand side of the image you'll see they're marked by letters at the bottom the first chromosomal line there it says H 1 that means human chromosome 1 and then next to that this is uh there's a C that's a chimpanzee chimpanzee chromosome 1 you could just take the 1 and you know basically move it to that the the the sequence of these 4 on the on the left hand side of the image then there's 4 in the middle okay you have human then the 8 it says H 2 that's human chromosome number 2 represented by the second blue line and then there's C and C because it's a double chromosome okay the second chromosome is actually broken in basically two parts or they're representing its makeup by this broken chromosome or it's actually made up of two separate pieces okay the G stands for gorilla and the O for orangutan so we're looking at three primates and looking at how similar or different their chromosomal material is to the human chromosome and you'll notice that all three of these primates have this segmented second chromosome you see the green one is the chimpanzee it's in two parts the the purple one is the gorilla that's in two parts and the red one is the orangutan and that's in two parts the only one that is in one piece on the second one is h2 which stands for human chromosome number two then we see the similarity once again when we move to chromosome number three now people have often said the genetic makeup of a human being is 98% similar to the genetic makeup of a chimpanzee is this true yes it is but in the difference in that two percent you're talking about all of the different characteristics in that coding all of the different characteristics that make a human being different from a chimpanzee so think about how much that is speech art culture creativity etc all of all these things language skills mathematics you know everything that makes a human being human all the faculties of the higher brain of a human being of the neocortical brain you know plus all the other things the deeper complexity of emotion not to say that chimpanzees don't have complex emotions they most certainly do but all of the ways that human being is even more advanced than a primate come through in that two percent or less of genetic material so when we're talking about this kind of a difference in genetic material in a chromosome being this single seemingly fused chromosome compared with the separated chromosomes of in the second chromosome sequence for our primates or our primate cousins if you will we're talking about an actual tremendous amount of genetic material it's not insignificant it's not a small amount by any stretch of the imagination and when scientists look at this they say this is the best example for supporting Darwinian evolution because our chromosome evolved from the primate and it turned into something different you know and they postulate this notion that you know this happened over a seemingly short period of time some scientists have speculated it was as little as 20,000 years of time that this dramatic change took place some say it was 40,000 years some go up to about 80 to a hundred thousand years and these are extremely short time spans when it comes to how even according to the theory of evolution that you know genetic change is supposed to occur and then people will postulate well it was driven by environmental factors and some type of you know maybe a cataclysm occurred or some type of environmental pressures happened even with that the type of adaptation that would take place would not modify an entire chromosome to this level not this kind of genetic change it is an absolutely insane amount of genetic material that would have to change we'll pick this point up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys the night 95 today tried to run I'll do the welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio continuing with the cosmic abandonment extended presentation we were looking at slide number 95 a depiction of a comparison of the first three human chromosomes two primary - primate chromosomes namely chimpanzee gorillas and orangutans chromosomes and we were looking at human chromosome number two and I was talking about how this is one of the main pieces of evidence in the support of the interference theory of human origins and Lloyd Pye has talked a lot about this aspect of the possibility that we were genetically hybridized in that what these beings may have done is simply look for a chromosome that was compatible with the kind of slicing a splicing that they wished to do and what they would have probably been looking for is a double chromosome which would have made it a lot easier to splice it because they could do the splicing at the telomere which is the end of the chromosome and indeed that's what we see when we look at the human chromosome number two it seems to be merged with or it's pattern looks like a merged chromosome at the telomere if we were to look at the for example chimpanzee chromosome okay more likely than not that's what these beings did they picked a chromosome that would have been simple to perform after they had mapped the genome of the of the being that they were working with they would have probably picked a chromosome that would have simply suited their purpose and been something that would have been simple to fuse to create the traits or characteristics that they were looking for and human chromosome number two is the second chromosome of course in the in the gene sequence in the chromosomal sequence and it looks like they skipped over number one because that just wasn't suitable or compatible with what they were looking to do again more likely than not they were looking for one of these dual chromosomes and they found that in the second chromosome and so they decided to do the splicing there and pi also makes a lot of good points in his research that they were not you know working with the most advanced technologies that you could possibly imagine they weren't doing this splicing at the atomic level which is where you would have to do it at to avoid any bit errors in the gene sequence okay so they were doing genetic cutting and splicing very similar to how modern geneticists in humanity do it they cut with a chemical agent they actually put the genes into a chemical agent and it breaks them apart and then they could do the type of splicing that they want with another agent and you know this this is a very inexact science it's something that you can't really predict the outcome you have to simply let the the thing that you're making express itself in a sort of a culture and perhaps that's really what's going on in humanity you know perhaps this is the big petri dish and the culture is expressing itself and there these beings may be finding out what they've gotten as a result of the type of splicing that they've done I would imagine that they would be horrified and probably were horrified by what they got you know which is why they tried to essentially wipe us out as an abomination with the the cataclysm or deluge which we talked about previously but we're kind of like the bastard child that no one wants you know they did this for a purpose for their purpose slave labor and then you know wanted to toss it away because they recognized well you know by anybody's standards that this work is a is an abomination you know I mean people who look at what humanity has become and think the God of creation did this I mean they have a very low opinion of the god of creation as far as I'm concerned you know if people think we came from the god of creation now I'm not saying we don't have an aspect of that within us I have talked about the spark of the divine in the past I think we are all part of the divine ultimately we have a divine essence I'm talking about what has expressed here on this planet so you have to look past what I'm what I'm a referred to as the human essence or the soul okay and look at the behavior of human beings look at the minds of human beings look at what we have done to ourselves what we have done to the planet the systems that we have built the control that we have put into into place amongst ourselves the slavery that we still exist in you know and again yeah at one level that was done to us by the type of genetic manipulation we're talking about here in this series but at another level we continue to do it to ourselves we have the ability to epigenetically change ourselves through consciousness by what we take into ourselves by what we put into our body by what we will listen to what by what we will accept we don't have to accept the programming people go along with it because it's more comfortable than creating change they fear the unknown and slavery is what they've always had had in the past so that's known you know they would prefer the known slavery to the unknown freedom unfortunately it's a sad commentary on the human species I said from day one I'm not an apologist for humanity we continue to do this to ourselves nobody should look at this any part of this presentation as in a victim mentality mindset it doesn't make a difference how much genetic manipulation was done in humanity it doesn't make a difference what these beings did to us at some level because in the moment in the now we can decide to change it by not going along with this control system that has been built up around us you can recognize it and say no that's called free will choice which is always in our arsenal whenever we want to actually use it and exercise it it's there but most people say oh no that's too uncomfortable that could get me in trouble that could create an uncomfortable situation that could you know hurt the comfort level that I already am enjoying you know give me my trough and my blanket and my cart and you know I'll take the safe slavery god forbid I should have to lift a finger and do anything that might push me into an unknown territory to have possibly dangerous freedom where I don't know what's going to happen next you know most people just absolutely would push that away I'll take the dangerous freedom I'll take the unknown you know I'll take the discomfort if it means I'm not somebody slave I don't see how anybody could even think there's a choice in that personally it's just like I said it's just a sad commentary and I think these being just really saw what the condition they had left this in hadn't become and they just wanted no part of it they just wanted to dump us they they wanted to dump us in the cosmic trash can like a parent a drugged-out parent who doesn't want their child might dump on a newborn baby in a trash can literally that's what they essentially did to us by leaving us here in the condition that this species was left in and you know it all goes to the point of you know just the the level of not caring these people did not care about what they were doing ultimately that's why again I'm not an apologist for this faction that people want to turn into some kind of God that they're putting up on a pedestal namely the being known as Enki and he faction of beings that wanted to help humanity you know this is the being that wanted to start this project you know from the beginning to do this to a species that he had no right to do this to how can anybody see that as a good guy there are no good guys in this none zero I don't care what mystery schools he set up you want to talk about the order of the snake you want to talk about the ancient original mystery school traditions okay a nice intention a nice um you know gesture whatever but don't make it like this guy did no wrong because he saw how horrific Lee crippled of a being he put into existence and then took some pity on him and wanted to get give it knowledge you know that doesn't make him some wondrous wonderful being you know I I just think it's very important to say because some people take this polarized Dyke dichotomy approach to well since Enloe was the bad guy who wanted to wipe humanity out and he must have been our Savior nothing could be further from the truth you know so looking forward at this genetic manipulation what I want to do is postulate the notion could this be the origin of primary psychopathy because we have no good answers about where that condition came from [Music] what on earth is happening here on our BN I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening com we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment extended presentation this evening we were talking about human chromosome number two being a good example or a good piece of evidence as to the possibility of humanity being a hybridized species that was created as a result of genetic splicing or hybridization and you know scientists think that this is a great example of evolutionary theory and I couldn't disagree more because the swathes of time that they talk about this kind of genetic change occurring in flies in the face of traditional Darwinian evolutionary theory if this much genetic change were really to be taking place through slow genetic change over evolutionary time more likely than not it would take a minimum of millions of years probably in the order of tens of millions of years and Darwin advocates Darwinian advocates would have us believe that this kind of drastic genetic change in our genome took place in only less than a hundred thousand years the most prominent of these theories speculating that it took place in less than 40,000 years which would be like the blink of an eye the blink of an eye you know in comparison to how long this type of genetic change would you normally take and creationists also want to claim this you know as this is evidence that God did this to us that God created us the way that we are because you know the this kind of genetic change doesn't happen in nature that quickly well somehow God must have been responsible for doing it and he made us the way that we are and a lot of creationists say the human chromosome number two is a good example of the the work of God and in a way I agree with them more than I do with the Darwinist it is a work of the gods I wouldn't say it's a work of the god of creation but a work of the gods the beings that are attributed as being gods in the Old Testament stories yeah absolutely I would say it's their handiwork the Elohim the Nephilim the Anunnaki whatever you want to call them but please let's refrain from saying that the god of creation does sloppy work like this okay I think the god of creation has a little bit better genetic manipulation skills and math skills than all that you know not to make it comical or you know a target of jest but I mean really this is what you know creationists think is the handiwork of God I mean you know that doesn't really say much for their idea of God as far as I'm concerned and you know this brings me to the next point I was starting to get at that we talked about psychopathy you know and moving on to image number 96 in the presentation I had done whole shows on the characteristics of psychopaths in the past and I'll just briefly review them here on this slide total absence of conscience and empathy they can't feel period they don't feel motion in the body strongly immoral aggressive callous and cunning these are very intellectual beings smart from an intellectual perspective they don't have true intelligence because they don't really have an intuitive creative nurturing compassionate mind that aspect of them is amputated it's not there and they were born like this and we're talking about primary Psychopaths here please understand the difference between primary and secondary psychopathy as well when we're talking about this topic primary Psychopaths are born like this they have in the genome okay there is a defect in their bloodline expressing in them as individuals the inability to feel emotion in the body it is something that expresses at a genetic level it is not something that is learned behavior they are like this from birth okay secondary psychopathy is different than what we're talking about in primary Psychopaths secondary Psychopaths are experiencing a numbing of the full range of human emotions by constantly being in a left-brain state and the environmental and social conditions that they have been living in are conducive to that further numbing so they mimic their personality mimics over a long period of time chronically being in this spiritually depressed state it mimics that conditions of primary psychopathy so you have one that is the real thing so to speak and you have one that is a condition that mimics all the symptoms of the real thing all the characteristics of the real thing but secondary psychopathy is reversible primary psychopathy is not and there are people who want to debate this and insist everyone is capable of change everyone is is savable and I explain it like this it's the equivalent of atrophy versus amputation this is how you have to look at the difference between primary and cyclin sac they're so sociopaths or Psychopaths okay the primary psychopath has an amputated characteristic or capability it's not there and it's not coming back that's like if somebody cut off both of your hands and counter eyes them so you wouldn't bleed out okay prevent it infection and you had two stumps where there used to be fingers okay and someone said without the use of your feet or mouth please type something on this keyboard with your fingers which you don't have well you were not you're not going to manipulate that keyboard with fingers you don't have because you don't have them they're gone that's primary psychopathy when it comes to emotions when it comes to the parts of the midbrain that generate the neuro peptides that make emotion possible in the physiology secondary psychopathy is like atrophy if you laid in a bed because you were in a coma for a year your muscles would atrophy and if you were suddenly awoken out of that coma you wouldn't be able to get out and just start exercising and lifting weights because you're probably more likely than not your muscles will be so atrophied you would have a hard time you know even walking let alone getting up and doing some weight lifting could you redevelop that capability absolutely you could over time but you're gonna need therapy it's the same thing with the secondary psychopath so that's how you have to look at it it's a difference between amputation and atrophy with amputation the ability is gone for good with atrophy it is diminished but it is capable of being restored over time so continuing with this list of the characteristics of psychopaths they're very adept at manipulating others they're good manipulators they learn to be very early because they know they're different than other people so they learn how to fake things and manipulate other people because if they're exposed you know people aren't going to put up with them for very long that's why they want to remain hidden at all times and places they are willing to engage in criminal conduct to get their way they have a deceptive ability to appear outwardly benevolent and they feign norm the normal range of human emotion they have a complete absence of guilt or remorse for the harm they caused to others they can't feel at all so of course guilt and remorse are isn't gonna be felt they're not feeling any other emotions they have no ability to feel normal human emotions guilt and remorse for when you do something wrong our normal human emotions they don't feel them they deny their behavior they rationalize their behavior they transfer the blame of their behavior to others they have total contempt toward other people's feelings because again they don't care they pathologically lie they refuse to accept responsibility for the consequences of their own actions and they believe they'll never be brought to justice for the way they behave we'll pick this up right there stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone this what on earth has happened really smart passive my website what on earth is happening calm we were wrapping up talking about the characteristics of primary psychopaths on image number 96 of the extended cosmic abandonment presentation that I've been giving over the last several weeks and will continue probably over the next few now tying this back into the interference theory of human origins people look at these characteristics and like I said half of them remain in denial that they even exist because they can't imagine that monsters like this could exist among the general population and be born like that they can't even comprehend that this is a genetic condition similar to any other genetic condition that somebody could be born with like Huntington's disease for example it's it's no different than that you know it's it's it's just carried in certain families and it expresses through certain conditions you know and people don't want to understand that this is real to this day again I still get emails with people telling me it's it's all an invention of the psychiatric industry you know and they don't want to understand that this is a real condition I'm not saying there aren't a lot of invented mental disorders for the psychiatric and pharmaceutical industry to clean up on you know by selling their medication so-called services but this is not one of them and it's a very naive mind that will not look into the world recognize what's happening and say psychopathy doesn't exist I mean again I don't need to justify what I'm saying as far as how what these people are like you could call it an ad hominem attack on the naive because I'm saying you're a naive child if that's what you think that that if you think psychopathy doesn't exist and it isn't ad hominem attack I'm admitting that but it's also the truth it is the truth that the person who thinks that way hat is in a very naive psychological condition that is similar to a naive child so you know just because something is an ad hominem attack doesn't mean mean that it's not true either you know it's when you're trying to dissuade someone from actually getting at the truth and you launch an ad hominem attack against them or you're trying to dissuade somebody else from looking at the truth and you launch an ad hominem attack that it becomes a disinformation tactic okay I could say something about somebody that I don't like because they're naive and they may very well really actually be naive and childish this is what people have to understand not all ad hominem attacks means that what you're saying isn't the case so just keep that in mind going back to this and I I stressed this for a reason okay because people have to really try to understand where we're at as a species you have to understand what we're really up against we're not only up against these vicious monsters okay that have absolutely no care for what they do to anybody okay they have absolutely brainwashed their prey to the extent where their prey doesn't believe that the the people who are hunting them exist this is a absolute important aspect and commentary on the human condition which is why I continuously re-emphasize this for people who are students of the work I put out there you have to understand what you're dealing with when you talk to people especially these New Agers whose head is totally drifting off in the clouds and they think the world is a wonderful place and they think there's no problems and they think it's all a wonderful spiritual adventure and there's you know nothing evil going on here there is no such thing that's a judgment you know I mean I I just I I think I've said enough when it comes to you know my take on the New Age community and how childish they are and how naive they are you know but again I think nothing realises it more or paints a clearer picture about where are certain people's minds are at in a state of total right brain imbalance when it comes to the denial of the existence of psychopathy so tying this back in with intervention theory people don't want to look at the origin of psychopathy you know when they're not in denial about that it exists very few of them ever postulate an actual reason for its existence well what put this condition here with humanity you know this isn't something that's created by bad diet this isn't something that's just created by you know you know some kind of rough rough breaks in life this is something that somebody who's born in a totally comfortable environment could exist in because it's in them at birth so why becomes the question you know you could propose all kinds of reasons are these just some type of animalistic souls incarnated into the human make up into the human body of the human species I'm not saying that's impossible for you know perhaps is this something God is doing to us God's making beings that have absolutely no empathy come into existence on this planet for what purpose to create chaos to make people's lives miserable to bring total suffering into the world to torment us to enslave us is that something the god of creation would just do now I don't really buy into that whole theory that God put this condition here with us for what why why would God do something like that why would the creator of the universe have nothing better to do than look at the earth and say you know what that planet needs a bunch of psychopaths they can't feel all that that that'll that'll liven things up it'll spark things up there don't you think you know this is what people think the god of creation does just play plays with things randomly like like it's a child like that forces a child it created all the galaxies it created the entire known universe but it just has its board so creates Psychopaths on on tiny little planets on the outside arm of spiral galaxies just just that to amuse itself you know then there's you know the other theory that well hey maybe human beings had a high level of Technology and civilization at one point and they started tinkering with their own genome and in that you know led to tons of degeneration within the species and civilization declined and people lost knowledge and and I have to open my mind is that a possibility sure but to me it makes infinitely more sense that something else is operating here you know I mean you could say oh in our hubris we did this in the ancient past I think there would have been some record of the fact that we would have done this and you could say oh well knowledge gets lost that gets burnt it gets you know lost in cataclysms yeah that's that's true to a certain extent as well so I can't totally close my mind to the possibility but the thing that we do have evidence of is the visitation of these other beings through the ancient records that were left by ancient peoples telling us about them and telling us that they did genetic manipulation to humanity so you know am I going to go with the total speculative evidence or theory or am I going to go with the one that is backed up by Allah written Scripture and accounts that unfortunately the general scientific community and archaeological and anthropological communities want to insist is just myth and legend because they don't want to accept that the implement the implications of these tales the cold let me give the call-in number I'll give it again in the next segment as well I'll be taking your calls in the next hour of the show the callin number to join us 831 394 43 once again 803 one three nine four four three so we're talking about the possibility that primary psychopathy the genetic kind may have been created as a result of the genetic manipulation and tampering that was done to the human species in the ancient past after all these beings did not have a extraordinarily high level of technology when it came to genetics and genetic manipulation they were pretty much a little bit more advanced than where we're at now in this science but they certainly weren't doing anything like moving individual atoms around or if they did have that technology they weren't using it in this case because they didn't really care much about the precision of what they were creating because it's not like they were doing something to their own genetic makeup they were making a slave laborer they were making a being to be basically be used as a workhorse that's it you know as a beast of burden so they didn't look at it as extraordinarily important that they do the most precise possible genetic splicing or rearranging that they could possibly do you know didn't have to be that exact you know according to their standards so when they were doing this kind of genetic manipulation and splicing they could very well through doing it at a chemical level have created all kinds of genetic anomalies in our species thinking well it's good enough for what we need it for and if some of these disorders come about and express oh oh well and probably over thousands of years time they realized just how bad it was and that led many of them to say this is an abomination what we've done and we need to end it we need to end the whole so-called experiment hence leading to things like the cataclysmic deluge of in the past and you know the survival of small pockets of humanity and then finally you know eventually replenishing the planet with our numbers but to me the nonhuman or extraterrestrial hypothesis when it comes to the creation of primary psychopathy because of problems that they created in the human genome is actually the most likely because I don't see a lot of evidence that we did this to ourselves nor do I see any evidence that the god of creation just goes around doing this to species just because it is bored or feels like it I don't I don't see the evidence of that kind of a God in existence but some people that's their worldview which to me is an infinitely darker worldview than beings from elsewhere came here and created us as a slavery's to me that's a very distinct possibility that doesn't really involve a dark world view of nature with the infinite complexity of the universe and how many species exists in any given galaxy of course there can be species that you know have developed that that kind of a level of technology but haven't really very deeply spiritually developed and therefore they might go and do this to lesser beings that they consider lesser we do it to animals you know through carnism through you know the factory farm system I mean I was you know knew about this which is horrified to see another image of you know just baby chicks being put into grinders because then the factory farm system just sees them as useless because they don't produce eggs I mean just imagine this beings on a conveyor belt going into a grinder that's what we think we're allowed to do with life and we wonder why we're an enslaved species I mean we don't have to wonder a bit about it you do things like this to other species expect enslavement as a matter of fact guarantee it and there are people who still were just totally callous about that and say oh no we have rain over these Bing's they're ours to do with as we see fit why because that's what the Anunnaki Master 200,000 years ago told the people I'm giving you dominion over the animals because I'm the god of this world and you you interpret the the writings in the Bible of you know thousand couple thousand year old writings recounting that story which had been lost and preserved through oral tradition and rewritten with tons of details left out as the word of the God of creation yeah that has nothing to do with beings which is brings me perfectly into the next section segue into the next section the the Old Testament in all the ancient scriptures has do with the beings that actually came here and we're manipulating humanity and were callous and selfish and ruthless and brutal and enslaving no we're talking about the real God of creation here he acts like that the god of creation is vindictive and vengeful and punishing and wants all kinds of things that human beings want and you know has jealousy and hatred yeah that that's that's a great view of the god of creation let me tell you an absolute utter I mean that the people who think that that's how the god of creation operates are sick they're sick individuals they are diseased mentally diseased individuals and go ahead and say that's an ad hominem attack and so that makes the statement untrue you know it's an ad hominem attack all right it doesn't make any doesn't make anything about what I'm saying regarding them untrue however because these religiously diseased sick people the worldview that they have that that's what the god of creation would do to humanity I mean I just leaves me speechless I just don't even know what to say about it if that's what you think of the force of creation it's it's beyond childish it's beyond naive it's it's pure mental illness that's what religious people have is pure mental illness regarding their view especially if they believe the Old Testament God has described in the Bible is what the god of creation is actually really like that's mental illness and is nothing but and it once again I don't need to just the fire qualify that statement in any way I'm just stating it is fact period and if you can't see it if you can't see that that's truth I feel sorry for you if you cannot see that that statement is truth because what these accounts were describing were the beings that came here and created humanity and enslaved us that's what the god of creation in the Old Testament is all about hateful vindictive jealous brutal ruthless scheming employing all kinds of technologies employing all kinds of warfare and pulling all kinds of intelligence and surveillance and spying and you name it pitting people against each other doing favors for summoned and brutally viciously harming others turning man against his neighbor having the absolute most egotistical mind set wanting to be worshipped and and completely served hand and foot and then this isn't the tip of the iceberg when you get into some of the other ancient scriptures you see eggs all the detail about what these beings demanded from their slaves while they were going to set up a nice little resort here on earth while they were here they were going to get waited on hand and foot have their every wish fulfilled their every desire fulfilled like a big vacation putting us to do their work for them as is still going on today the super elite progeny of these beings over countless generations still doing the same thing nothing has changed you know this is what slide number 97 depicts that the god of creation as depicted in the Old Testament is has absolutely nothing to do with the true God of creation it's a vindictive humanoid being which and it's one of these it the here's the bottom line when it comes to these ancient scriptures in the Old Testament the god of creation as it is being described as is actually the Enlil and Enki brothers the team the mission commanders that came here in the ancient past we'll pick it up right there on the other side of the break stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what more merch is happening under face mark casio my website what on earth is happening calm before the break i was talking about how drastically different the characteristics or property of the force of creation the underlying intelligence inherent in all things that is responsible for the construct in consciousness that is the whole universe how drastically different that force is then what the god of creation quote-unquote is depicted as in the old testament because what that god actually is is a composite figure of all of the really mission commanders the gods that came here in the ancient past created humanity and ruled over humanity ruthlessly and brutally most of all i would say it's the so-called royal brothers if you even want to look at them as individual beings i kind of have said in the past i kind of consider them almost like factions of beings the Enlil faction and the Enki faction not to say that there may not have been actual beings or brothers that commanded this this mission but i personally tend to look at it more like there were quote-unquote gods beings that were seen as gods by the ancient humans and there was a grouping of them that wanted to rule over humanity absolutely ruthlessly without helping them at all just get done what they wanted to get done with them and then go back home and then there was another faction that cared a little bit after making this essential abomination of a race cared enough to say wow we we have done something here we shouldn't leave him like this like a parent who starts to recognize you think maybe I have a responsibility to the child I just created I don't know maybe as the being that brought them into existence in the way that they exist and some of them wanted to help humanity in the form of giving them knowledge to enlighten them so that they will come out of their barbaric ways it didn't work or it hasn't worked yet you know like I said I don't think that excuses them for their horribly immoral behavior any way but some people think it does I don't I that's how I look at what we're actually seeing and reading in the Old Testament accounts are these beings and if you read the Old Testament like that it absolutely opens up new understanding to you now we're gonna actually do this on the show I'm gonna read certain accounts in the Old Testament in greater depth and what I've just touched on here in this presentation and we're gonna say substitute God in this for mission commanders or beings that came from another world and see if it makes a little bit more sense then when you understand these were advanced beings not God's working with advanced technologies being demonstrated to a primitive race that had just come out of the cradle of its infancy that had no frame of reference for what they were witnessing and again some of them fought back against them depicted here on the right hand side of the image you know the whole story of David and Goliath more likely than not is not just allegorical out allegorical these giants existed the Nephilim the fallen ones the ones who are fallen from the original Anunnaki pure DNA and some humans challenged their authority over them that the gods quote-unquote appointed them over as the overseers over humanity the original governments the original police forces the original priests classes as we're going to get to in the next slide once again these beings gave us all of our institutionalized systems of control the concept of authority the concept of that some beings have authority over others the concept that there should be a government the concept that money should exist because this will give you some medium of exchange to exchange goods amongst yourselves the slave population will keep the slave population in line by creating social strata a stratification in their social classes how money serves that purpose very very well and people are too stupid to understand that was its only purpose this idea that it's a store of value that it's in somehow intents intrinsic value it's all always been uttered nonsense and bunk it's always been an illusion it's always been faked it's always been there to do nothing but control you know the whole obsession with gold which we're going to get to that people think that's intrinsically valuable that'll be coming up probably on next week's show sometime or maybe the week after I don't know but you know as we look at again this whole section is about the story of the present go back to the theme what this section is about when we look at the present day how can we explain all of these things out of control religion the whole concept of authority worshiping the state worshipping those who are allegedly in positions over you with authority over you where did all this mentality come from it had to come from somewhere it had to start someplace it didn't just pop up on its own that's not human nature it's the human condition because it was conditioned into that that's why it's called the human condition it got that way because of conditioning so you know on image number 97 worse you know just going over these images of the Old Testament God the vindictive jealous vengeful Old Testament God that's it can't describe any better these beings known as the Anunnaki by the Sumerians and again their progeny when they mixed with humanity the Nephilim Giants you know depicted on the right there in the story of Goliath with David fighting against them with his sling humanity the the representation of humanity challenging the authority of the so-called gods and and so-called demigods again please recognize that whenever I use the term related to these beings it has nothing to do with the god of creation and it is in double quotes and a small G okay I don't want anybody getting the idea in any way that I think these beings were gods I've said repeatedly they were the gods of nothing but the bottle of a trash can okay if that's what they're the god gods oh that's about all there the gods of theirs certainly not the gods of creation they're not any actual gods period but they thought they were you know that was their attitude when they were here were your creators you'll do what we say we're your makers we're your gods we support you we gave you life will take it from you if necessary 100% total controlling just like the god of the Old Testament and then of course they created the religions because they had to have intercessors and intermediaries between the human slave race and themselves they couldn't be bothered to inter inter interact with their slave species on their own no they had special demigods and humans that were the priests class you know the originators of religion controlling the rest of the herd and the herd mind with utter illusion and nonsense the same way as it is going on today so I think that's a pretty good place to leave it to leave the presentation for this week we'll pick it up there next week and I'll be taking your calls in the third hour so once again the callin number to join us eight hundred three one three ninety four forty three eight hundred three one three nine four four three your calls coming up in the last hour of the show tonight I'll be getting into next week the creation of religions the creations of the mystery traditions and the creation of the dark aspects of the occult as well [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening we're into the third hour of tonight's broadcast this hour has promised I'll be taking your calls the call-in number to join us toll-free 800 three one three nine four four three so let's go to the phones and hear what people have to say again there is never any taboo topics on this show you can call and talk about anything you like we have been discussing the cosmic abandonment presentation the interference theory of human origins but that's you know just a suggested topic you can call and ask any questions about anything I've covered you know we'll just make a general comment if you like or you know talk about anything else you'd like to talk about so let's hear from Mike in New York Mike you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I think they take my cold one always a pleasure thank you uh one thing I noticed when when I usually get to travel a lot throughout what I do and I get to meet a lot of people that could be good a bad side sometimes depending on how you look at it but you know it's when you when you go out of your way to be nice or somebody you can almost see them around you with the other people they look at you almost of this you're a foreigner or they've never seen that before you know and they they see it as like a strange thing when you actually hold the door for somebody or go go go out of your way to help somebody out when usually they people keep walking but I think that general attitude is just so ingrained and you know society is just so heared towards the negativity you know a self-serving you know fight or flight mode constantly it's so engrained into their patterns of eating sleeping you know that it's destroying the body itself of the soul in the mind and we do see that you know as time goes by from where we may have come from and always follow it yeah absolutely I mean it's a seems like it's a rote unconscious program that is running in the body of humanity and that's really what it is I mean it's not being our ninety-nine percent of our actions are not being done from the conscious level of awareness and until people shift out of this unconscious program and start doing things from a level of conscious awareness mindfulness you know not much is going to change and there's again so few of a percent of humanity or even close to that level of consciousness it's it's it's sad and again I like I said at the end of last week's show I do not say my opinion of humanity to dissuade anyone or to strike fear in anyone but we do have to be honest about where humanity is at right now in the moment in the now and that helps us to recognize our work it helps us to know what our work is what we're up against you know if you need to move a whole lot of weight from one place to another you probably want to know well how much weight is it how far of a distance are we moving it what kind of resources that we do we have at our disposal to move that and that's all I'm trying to do is show people in a realistic fashion what the work that we actually have to do is so that they get in their heads hey if we're going to accomplish this we better get to work we better start doing it instead of sitting here you know we don't need I don't need people to just sit here and hang on my word I need people what we need as a species is for people to start teaching other people what they need to know to change and to make this place a slavery free planet you know the whole idea here is not to you know just become some kind of a teacher that everybody listens to that's not what I want I don't want you to listen to me I don't want you to pay attention just to me I want you yeah do I want you to pay it my message yes but then I want you to go out and teach other people you know I'm not looking here to have all you know millions and millions of students what I'm looking to do is to inspire millions of teachers that's what the great work really is all about that's what I'm looking to do you know so that we can all go out and teach other people and then maybe we'll put a dent in this maybe we'll make some forward progress here one thing I see in society a lot a lot of the time if you really look at people it's one thing I'm pretty good at is I can I can get a good sense of a person by meeting them and talking with them looking at them you don't love themselves and that's it it's really it's subconscious it's conscious there could be a multitude of reasons why but at the at the same point that you can see it in everybody sure you know and when you base it down to that and if the greatest thing you could do is go out of your way to give somebody that really does need the kindness go out of the way whether your ways for them that will play back and again ripple fold or butterfly effect whatever you want to play that but it's it will come back and it will actually you know improve other people's lives you know what I try and do my service and I try and help people you know that's my goal is every day I wake it up and say how can I help people you know it may not may not be able to help everybody but at the same point you know I try and strive for that I do try to spread this information out there as much as I can you know piece by piece but not overwhelmed and that's what it's all altima about you know and sometimes you know people will say well help people in some small ways sometimes the best way of helping somebody is to teach them were encouraged them to try to help themselves you know it's like I'll give an anecdotal example you know I I do computer repair and sometimes I see people causing a problem that I previously fixed because their habit has not changed they're doing the same thing over and over again and at some point I'll say they'll ask me can you fix this problem you know because I support their particular computer desktop or laptop and I'll say no I cannot fix it but you know how to fix it yes by will not fix it because what you're doing is undoing something I've already done and I fixed it now two or three times and tried to make you aware of what was causing it now the fix is you have to learn how not to cause that problem if you want me to continue to support your computer as your tech guy and some people get very mad at this and some people don't want to use me as their tech guy anymore and I let them go when that happens when when somebody starts to undo work that I've done in my field of work you know for the fake form of money not the form of work in that I'm trying to make the real money with ok but what in the the field of endeavor that I engage in to make fake money - unfortunately physically be able to eat and keep food you know coming into my body on on a daily basis I do computer technical support work and you know would helping them be to just continue to fix the same problem that they themselves create over and over and over again endlessly that wouldn't really be helping them so at some point I might do that once or twice and see if I could tell them about the behavior and what they're doing that's creating it and see if they'll take my advice and change it and sometimes people do but very rarely often they keep making the same error again until I refuse to fix it and then finally they say well what do I have to do not to create the problem if only it were that easy when it comes to actually fixing this problem with humanity because really we don't have the option to just let it all go because that's gonna take the whole race down that's going to take the whole planet down you know you can't just let off like that but we have to instill in that and still in other people the notion of the best way to help is to give knowledge to people and help them to help themselves [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divide today tried to run try to hide welcome back everyone we're taking your calls during this third hour of the show tonight let's hear from Thomas in Toronto Thomas you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi there mark I've been a fan of the show for a few months now on Tara and Hermeticism anyways I comment is about about language like how we use it like if you look at the word leaves and how often people would use it in a society like say oh we believe in government we believe in religion we believe in I don't know some institution basically would you rather believe or would you rather know how many people actually can say I don't believe in science I know sign or I don't believe in religion I actually know my religion I mean given the amount of like historical background on all these things do you believe in your government or do you know that your government has your best interests at heart that's kind of what I'm trying to say exactly leaf is like its well encouraged from everywhere from marketing campaigns to Logan and but when it really comes down to it it's pretty irrelevant it either is a way or it is not that way there is either the truth to the matter where that thing is not true you know people think that the truth is so you know shades of gray but it's not it's it's all one way as I say it's it is black and white this is a big huge monumental lie that's been pumped out there to get people to think that everything is relative and relativism is the big lie you know we have to understand that truth is that which is it's what has occurred and is occurring and you either know that or you don't know it yeah because leaf-like if you don't know it it takes away your power so if you have a bunch of people and you're always telling them to believe in something right they're completely powerless because they don't know what this thing this corporation or entity has as their interest that's right and see if you base action upon incorrect perception there's always going to be disempowerment which is what why it's so important to align perception to the reality of what's really there and why we need discovering methodologies like the trivia Trivium and quadrivium etc in order to do that in order to actually undergo that process of weeding out inconsistencies and bringing our perceptions into alignment with the reality that's why it's so important I would even go as far as saying that like beliefs is just it should be removed from the English language because it's used like so many places where actual knowledge can be found and we're encouraged like daily to believe in something and would point I'll do you one better Thomas I mean you you think about this when you try to present evidence to people for something that actually is does exist has evidence to back it up and can be essentially proven okay you often encounter this resistance in the form of well that's your belief you know everybody thinks that it's just a matter of belief with everybody and there's no actual way that something is you know when you talk about that society is enslaved people go well that's the way you see it no no no it is not it actually is that way it has nothing to do with my belief system and has nothing to do with my perceptions either we are living in an enslavement system where we are not and the reality of the matter is is that we are living as enslaved beings on this planet it has nothing to do with I'll even say that what really actually gets the people's life like I'd say everybody everybody loves like if you try to present information in the very near left-brain fashion automatically people they put up the Stonewall de la Lala flow 30 years but if you seem like the like with it Lord of the Rings you know he had a huge advantage in having access to the oxford archive and furthering isn't just about like fictional characters the boat journey of the soul through the physical world yes so many people watch it because they didn't call it just entertainment but they're taking more than that because nothing in their mind says oh this could be changing my belief what it is and they can't even keep it because it did it so people actually listen entertainment and and hence that's why allegories are actually a powerful medium of expression to change people's thoughts and why there are very good allegories out there it's not all what people call quote unquote predictive programming does that exist and is that going on yes absolutely there are things that are guiding people's minds and behaviors in a dark way when it comes to Hollywood and entertainment but then there are very creative artists and storytellers who are trying to tell very powerful allegorical spiritual stories to help awaken what in humanity is up to this point lay dormant that is the human will and the human imagination and creativity yeah get behind that because in the same way that like you can see a person with a building because you said hand shot first or something but I personally I want to write a novel like not a non fictional fiction novel because in any allegory boy and it works at a subconscious level I think now be like oh right because again their perception is oh this is just one person's opinion you know it's all matter of belief but allegory and fiction you can work its way into the subconscious mind fairly effectively you know leaf is nothing yes less than nothing in that they're carrying their belief I think I'm gonna call you doubting Thomas because you do not believe what do you think oh it's a good thing to question to question everything you know that that's what really we need more people doing so Tom Thomas I want to thank you for your great insights a really great call thanks so much for your contribution all right thanks all right you take care let's hear from Ryan in Nebraska Ryan you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey there mark I was just thinking about you know you're talking about n key and Enlil and I was thinking a lot about there's a lot of you know new AG type people out there now doing channeling of like a shark hair yes some other people and one question is is there anyone out there who is here to help us that's a great question I actually asked that question to Jordan Maxwell when I interviewed him on the show several weeks back and he came out with a resounding emphatic and immediate know which kind of surprised me I thought you know maybe you know he had thought maybe there was all kinds of different consciousnesses in creation and some of them were looking out for us I mean I think about this all the time and I don't think even if there are beings out there who disagree with this current system that we're living under that they're really going to do too much to step in and rescue us from ourselves I'll explain that on the other side stay stay on the line with me and I'll continue this on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening we're taking your calls in the final hour we were talking to Ryan in Nebraska before the last break he asked if there was if what was my take or opinion or thoughts on the conjecture that there may be some positive extraterrestrial beings that may want to help humanity overcome the current situation that we are in regarding slavery and my take on this is slightly different than somebody like Jordan Maxwell who thinks there absolutely no help no assistance and they're not looking out for us at all I look at it like even if there are beneficent entities in the cosmos that do want peace and order and harmony and higher consciousness and truth and freedom they're not necessarily going to just swoop in here and do the work that we need to do for us and then you know they're there lifting up our weight and then they're going to be responsible for that weight you know they're gonna lift it up and we're not gonna be able to do it like it's like I think general encouragement or nurturing is probably their way rather than doing the work for you because then nothing is learned or really accomplished on your part and those muscles that have been atrophied never actually come to working order again and they stay atrophied and then they have a being the support on their hands and I don't think that's what they want that having been said while this may be kind of similar to a idea like the prime directive in Star Trek okay and you know just very interestingly I was watching an episode of next generation that the Star Trek The Next Generation series I think it was season two it was called penpal where a being from another planet is asking for help because their planets going to be destroyed by geological upheavals and they have this big debate over should they go and save this race you what if it was an oppressive government that was enslaving the people would they be so sure that they should render assistance then and they had a big discussion about this so I find it very synchronistic that you would even bring this up shortly after I had watched this episode recently and doddle you know my take on this is isn't there is this not a special instance however because other beings did this to us see it isn't just something that naturally happened there was already interference so I'm thinking if there are beings like that they probably would want to take that into account as well that other beings that were more technologically advanced than us already came in here and did this damage I think what they're hoping is that they can they can basically stem off having to come in here and jump in and and quote-unquote save us I think they're only gonna step in is we endanger the physical survival of the actual planet because the planet is so special in this area of space that they're not going to allow us to actually destroy the planet they're more concerned about the actual infrastructure of the planet and its ability to support and sustain life than they are about a species becoming extinct like humanity going extinct and you could say that's kind of selfish you know possibly but I guess from their perspective one specie shouldn't jeopardize the ability of of all other species and a planet that is capable of supporting the life of the development of all other species and species that could come after us so you know you have to look at it from that kind of higher level perspective so I don't know if that answers your question I would say I would give it a cautious yes there are beings that want to help but they probably have some sort of a code in their civilization that says well we can't get involved up to a point because that would be pulling these other beings up by their bootstraps and then we're going to be responsible for their spirit stagnation in doing so that's kind of my TV right do you find any significance and the pyramids in Egypt pointing to Orion belts yeah there's the theory I think put forth by Robert Bauval and Graham Hancock that the pyramids are a mirror on the ground of the belt stars of Orion in the sky and that's very quite quite possible that these are some sort of astronomical alignment markers and who would do that other than things that really came from the stars you know we're trying to mimic constellations on the ground possibly or beings that really had such knowledge of the stars and constellations that they put them on the earth in the configuration they did as astronomical markers for the procession of equinoxes and other celestial phenomena so yeah there's definite significance in that configuration I do think it correlates I don't think it's just an accident or a random speculation I do think that there is a connection between the pyramids and the Orion constellation for sure all right great well I'm gonna let you go I just wanted to say that I found you by your decoding the matrix I'm waiting I'm waiting for you to do Cloud Atlas now and that would be a good one that was a great great film Ryan thanks so much for the call yeah take care you too all right let's move on to another caller let's hear from Robert in California Robert you're live on what on earth is happening welcome doing well over the last couple of years starting with number one green it I really appreciate your work well that's the way to do it it's a stepwise progression done in a pretty logical ordering fashion and if you do it that way I think that's where people get the most benefit out of it I would hope that you know new listeners would take my advice and go back to podcast number one and work their way forward because that's where that tapestry is going to come together for them yeah first a couple questions about your the last you know couple of installments slow because I was worried what do you think about the word civilization because it gets thrown around a lot and I think it's just a real case of weird being off you scared it because really what it boils down to is slavery I mean that's the common denominator I mean you go back to ancient Sumeria I mean just whenever you have civilization you have slavery and you have the absence of freedom yeah I mean this is a human farming but he could turn around like oh this particular civilization or or a talkie and doilies and and its refinement and already yeah I don't see that as what civilization is I don't think it has to be enslavement either again I see technology as something that is a tool and can be used for good or ill what we have done with all the technologies that we've developed and what we have done with the intellectual advancement that goes along with a more advanced quote-unquote civilization is create more and more enslavement as such as nothing of the kind it's not civilized it's the exact opposite of a civilized society meaning civil treating each other in a civil fashion in a way that is non aggressive in a way that is nonviolent you know we need a non-violent civilization that's what we have not developed yeah you know so can that be done I believe it can can we employ technology for non-violent purposes can we use technology to serve humanity and lighten the physical burdens that we unfortunately do need to continue to really go through to just manipulate matter in in our environment so that we can sustain ourselves in some sort of a sustainable way you know you know I'm not an advocate of Luddite ism of going back to a time when there was no technology you know I'm not a Luddite I'm not somebody who thinks all technology is evil you have a lot of people who are very fearful of technology in any capacity and think it all needs to go that's not my take never has been I think we can use technology and empowering ways if we have the consciousness to recognize what we have been using it for is all the wrong reasons and we need to just turn that around and say we need to put it to use for the right reasons then we could have a truly civilized society based on non-violence and I don't think we need to give up the technological some of the technological comforts you know that that we've come to enjoy yeah it's almost like a projection saying oh look at this technology it's so evil it's doing all this bad things there's no the people who are manipulating the text right people hurting it just just like gum you know yeah people want to blame guns you know it's not the gun it's the that's a tool it's an inanimate object until it's picked up by a consciousness and wielded it's the same thing with technology you know ya know this cancer if you look at the Hyksos Pharaohs of Egypt you know they moved in and they had chariots and you know that battle better metalwork and so they had bronze weapons and was like they just ruled over everyone 18th dynasty and just conquered Egypt you know they and that was the beginning of the end of the whole you know Egyptian and Commission the earlier Commission cultures that had a level of you know sophistication when it came to some spiritual understanding through the mystery traditions of old but when the Hyksos came in that all really went downhill from that point for sure crazy enough that what we're still letting with Robert thanks so much for the call we go [Music] welcome back everydays you're listening to what on earth is happening last segment of the show for this evenings broadcast we're taking your calls anything you want to talk about no taboo topics there never are here on what on earth is happening let's hear from Mike in Kentucky Mike you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yeah we've got a big 60 mile long swath of lightning that's headed our way north of i-64 in Kentucky so well you know I'm on a regular phone hopefully we won't get took out by the lightning that's coming at us but is there a listing of these ancient scriptures that you're citing I've got a couple of questions here and and I was one of them I was hoping to get to is you had like yes I listed many of them back earlier in this presentation if you go back then but I mean like this like the online is there a a like an outline like I've seen other people do they'll do like an outline of the bullet point yeah it was thinking about doing that and posting them I will probably do that in a future podcast where I will actually put all of these texts together and actually link them but I'll probably do that in the section where I cover some of this in more detail and actually read from some of these texts as well that's coming up in a future show and you just say anxious scriptures and don't cite much other than saying Sumerian wrecks or something it's hard to look it up well you cannot really go and download any of the text that I listed you know if you want to download for example the

Ramayana's they're all available the strewed mod I mean they're in all of the spellings are actually on the slides if you go back to slide number okay where do I find these why they're on my website in the podcast section so go to what on earth is happening dot-com and click on the podcast page and then you'll see them listed with the podcast where I covered the cosmic abandonment presentation as numerical links and it is slide number 33 in part 1 of the cosmic abandonment slides or you could download this slides as a zip file the link is given there under each podcast each recent podcast you unpack that zip file on your computer and it would be image number 33 and you could type any of those into Google or any other search engine that you prefer and you would definitely be able to download any of those I agree with you but I heard a couple of weeks ago I think you were talking about my I've been a rebroadcast and a bunch of the archaeology that does not make sense now the Egyptians I think they're parody of the Milky Way was the Nile you know the river was the scene I think is the Milky Way alongside the pyramid so of course that religion that they had drove their society who there was a big pop in the phone I don't know am I still on yeah I can still hear it okay anyway the there's even recent stuff that they just put it out there and then I guess they're expecting people not to realize that it throws a whole wrench in the works like this idea that they found these coins underneath the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem that date to a regime of Roman whatever you call it Roman Caesars that are well past the destruction of the temple so the idea that this Wailing Wall is the last remnant of the temple and you know they're going up there and praying to this wall it wasn't even part of the temple and of course so I mean that throws a whole ranch and a lot of lot of belief systems there but I've talked about the concept that the whole Temple of Solomon is the whole idea of that is allegorical in and of itself it's about rebuilding the human soul and the human brain and the human creative capacity and the holistic human being and it's meant to be taken allegorically in the entire Temple of Solomon if it was ever a physical place is long gone from the earth and you know it really only is about an allegorical story about rebuilding the human consciousness from its fallen condition oh there is some archaeological evidence that the original Temple of Solomon was on Golgotha where the crucifixion took place and and and there's some archaeology that points that way so the Wailing Wall is even on the wrong Hill that it's basically done to further religious control and get people to take something that is meant to be taken allegorically and to have them take it physically to basically steer them off track from the rulers real understanding several heavens and earth in the Bible I mean what heavens and earth are you talking about when you're talking about heavens and ours because the Inner Temple to this day juice is referred to as the heavens and earth because that's where heaven and earth you know with the physical man going in there and with the spiritual creator or most high but anyway that central tangent what would work what I was going to say on these belief systems a lot of times that go earlier this previous caller was talking about the word belief right and eliminating word belief from our vocabulary well I mean what's the difference between that and a working theory and I Intuit that's what you're you're dealing you know you have a perspective on several things and you establish a working theory and of course theology the word theology is built out of that same theory has evidence that you could back it up with that's the whole point of the scientific methodology formulating a theory hypothesizing and speculating is one thing but then actually going and making observations and testing the hypothesis is what brings it into the category of science as opposed to just religious belief so there is a there is a qualitative difference between those two modes of thought speculating and theorizing or one thing but you're you're holding off on saying I believe this to be absolutely the way that it is until I compound and find more evidence that leads me into the direction to have to say I accept this because there's so much evidence that points in that direction that really that you know more likely than not is the case is true is what happened so I that's why you were to use quantitatively and if we look at some of the basically astronomical improbabilities of where we are at geologically and I wanna suppose that evolutionary scale was and if you study you know things like orbital dynamics that NASA's calculated and they vary things like the impact theory of the origin of the moon and how long ago that had to be and and worse you know some cosmic pool player the perfect pool shot to glance this object to the size of Mars off the earth and now we are quote evolved enough to recognize the ridiculous the ridiculousness of a hybrid eclipse so that in seven minutes the rotation of the earth actually because of its circumference around the equator can allow it to pop between an annular total and an annular in seven minutes and because the for that to be cosmic accident is the astronomical chance like I absolutely agree well Marcus this is all hallmarks of intelligence on the scale of time in a just a couple hundred thousand years we may not see that anymore because the moon is receding away from us and so unless the Sun gets smaller which is not we won't see that anymore so you know that that's been calculated but I have to think that some of the adaptation is the word I prefer of our human intelligence and stuff it's been modified by some huge environmental things that have happened in in probably scales of four to ten thousand years and you know the Great Chicago Fire it's kind of blotted out that there were many other fires that evening and it points towards some kind of methane snowball comet fragments or something they hit all over the Upper Midwest and caused huge fires and there were many more deaths outside of Chicago than there was in Chicago this whole thing about a cow knocking over Lantern this complete myth and they don't want us to know about how much methane is raining down on this planet environmental factors can probably have played a very very earth have probably played a larger role in the current human condition than will ever even know right thanks so much for your call that's all the time we have for this show unfortunately ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes that one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way thanks for listening to this edition of what on earth is happening we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Applause] [Music]

always download the slides I have underneath the two sections of slide images a zip file link a zip archive link you can download that to your computer and unpack it and open up those images locally on your own computer if you wish so with that having been said let's begin last week we ended up on I believe it was slide number 97 was the last slide that we covered so I'll begin there we were talking about how in the ancient past these are groups of non-human entities that came to our planet had essentially set up rulership over the people because they essentially created the people through a hybridization a genetic modification process and you know they set themselves up essentially as our gods whenever I tried to make this point abundantly clear whenever I use the term gods to describe these beings I do not think it is not my personal belief that these are any kind of supernatural entities they are simply beings like us that have arrived at a much higher level of technological advancement perhaps not a higher level of spiritual and true intelligence advancement yes they have a lot of a lot more intellectual advancement and advancement in technologies but I do not feel that these beings are gods of any kind in any way whatsoever and they are certainly not any gods that I would fall down in worship nor do I believe anyone else should ever or ever should so I don't know how much more clear or abundant I could make that you know I still get emails from people saying I call these beings gods you know this is what the ancient peoples in many ways called them because these beings were utterly ruthless and brutal and wanted in many cases to be worshipped as gods here so you know my position I don't think could be any more clear on that for anybody that still you know spotty on that and doesn't understand my position I mean you just have to go back and listen because I've reiterated this over and over again on this podcast so as always I always tell people go back to podcast number one and listen forward to the entire series for in order not skipping around that's the way you'll get the maximum value out of this whole broadcast you know we're covering the advanced material right now that has a lot of prerequisite knowledge in order to understand so you know people joining just now if this is one of your first times listening to the show it's not a good time to tune in you know you want to have under your belt the prerequisite knowledge that is contained in the prior 164 podcasts this will be podcast number 165 so as always the images are also included with each podcast on the podcast archive page on the water on earth is happening com website going back to the presentation you know the vengeful and jealous God of the Old Testament is these beings this is what we have to understand the Old Testament isn't really truly describing the God of creation it's describing these beings that came here in the ancient past we'll pick it up from right there on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back the cold we don't hare speak between us there's nothing wrong there's a cold of sides a cat go walk welcome back everyone they're listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn on your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're talking about the connection between the interference theory of human origins and the current human condition and I want to remind people that's really what we're ultimately talking about here tonight how this all relates to what humanity is going through today in the modern world we may be talking about ancient events that happened in the far distant human past but they all conditioned the psychological state of humanity such that we're in the situation that were in today and on slide 97 I was talking about this depiction of the Old Testament God as not to being anything to do with the god of creation the true God of creation the creator of the universe the these are depictions in these ancient texts not only the biblical text but the text of many other ancient cultures throughout the world of these non-human entities that came here in the ancient past and essentially set themselves up as our gods they created the human species as a slavery slave species for their own purposes to do labors that they were loathed to do and they essentially wanted to be worshiped and served while they were here on an uncomfortable mission that they didn't really want to be on and there's throughout these ancient accounts thousands of depictions and meticulous descriptions of the ways that these so-called gods wanted to be worshiped and served by their creations the human beings that they create in ways that the god of creation would have absolutely no use for or would never demand mning them to make meticulous building projects and go through intricate meticulous ceremonies on their behalf to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings to them you know and to just do every other manner of you know menial labor that you could possibly think of the god of creation would be nothing like this I mean you know the god of creation has no requirements for anything it's the god of creation it's the force the underlying force of intelligence and creation inherent in the whole universe it wouldn't make all these petty demands of of you know what it looked at to be lesser beings as these so-called gods did and you know it they ruled the people with an iron fist in many cases okay and you know it's you see all kinds of jealousy you see all kinds of pettiness you see all kinds of high level of ego and it just doesn't really fit the description of a true god but if you understand that in the context of that these beings were from elsewhere and came here for their own purposes for their own agenda and made us as their so called helper race really in effect their slavery's it makes a whole lot more sense when understood in that context and then you know you see depictions of or you read about depictions of giants in these texts as well and that doesn't make sense unless you understand the background you know and you have to go into older texts not just the biblical texts which tell about these encounters in such a watered-down way in comparison some older texts where the the detail is preserved so you know this is what we were essentially starting to talk about last week what I really want to get into this week more is how religion came about as a result of these beings presence so if we move on to slide number 98 you know we have all this religious infighting that's been going on for thousands and thousands of years on this planet and it's likely to continue into the distant future doesn't really look like there's any sign of it abating you know people have constantly been fighting about what is the will of God what does God want us to do have their own you know utterly ridiculous set of beliefs they're utterly ridiculous set of practices and I don't care what religion it is trust me I'll get to you know the task of offending them all at one point or another during the broadcast tonight and in the future and probably have already in the past at people who know me and know what I talk about on the show now I have no reverence for organized religion it's probably the thing that has been responsible for the most death and destruction on this planet since humanity has existed on it and there's a good reason for that all of these people who have started these religions you know believed that they were the chosen people of the gods believe that they were the ones who had the divine instructions directly from the gods mouths you know who knew what the God's will was and knew just how to carry it out and in many cases this is true because these gods did interact with humanity in different sects and certain of these gods certain of these ancient non-human entities did essentially pick up a certain people to carry out their bidding and often pit them against other people and so there was conflicting and contradictory orders given you know and different people chosen in different parts of the worlds to do different gods biddings this is what we have to understand about the origins of religious sects in general that the reason that they have so many conflicting beliefs is that many of them were worshipping different actual gods with a small G in double quotes okay these beings that the Sumerians referred to as the Anunnaki okay you know they interfaced with humanity by appointing either a human representative or I call a demigod representative one of the Nephilim creatures the hybrid species between them and humanity that we talked about in past weeks and setting them up as a king or a priest or in many cases a hybrid hybrid blend between a king and a priest you know that essentially was the representative of one of these gods on the earth because these gods often didn't even want to spend a whole lot of time on the surface of this planet instead spending it in weigh stations or in crafts that were in orbit of the planet so you know we have to understand these beings gave us all of the cultural worldwide religions they were the ones who essentially started these religious practices and they were started on the behalf of their worship and their caretaking and you know to follow all of their orders and offer sacrifices unto them and worship and serve them in any way that they deemed necessary during their stay here on earth now when we understand religions and these in this different context makes so much more sense infinitely more sense than just primitive people developing you know beliefs that are just completely at random for no reason you know when we understand that these beings set these practices into motion they were the origins of it of all these non seemingly nonsensical belief systems when you understand that they were fit a physical presence at some point in the ancient human past and they set up these organizations as their quote-unquote you know chosen people or their religious factions to interface between the you know hordes of humanity and themselves as the rulers as the gods you understand how the religions ultimately came to be when you look at it from that perspective whereas you know traditional explanations for how religions came to be you know really lack you know a lot of common sense so when we understand the true origins of all these religious cults we can understand their deep irrationality throughout the ages and why they were so quick to go to war with each other because they were being driven by you know the will of these seemingly supernatural entities back in the ancient past that had incredibly advanced technology and you know they didn't follow their orders they probably would have been wiped out from there on the other side of the break [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio we're continuing with the cosmic abandonment extended presentation we were talking about the origins of cultural religions throughout the world and how many people came to see themselves as the chosen people of the gods that they were the ones who knew the will of a particular God you know in the gods that they worship seem to have some some different qualities some similar qualities always making different demands on them always basically pitting them against other human beings because this is exactly what happened in the ancient world these beings essentially had selfish motives that called themselves our gods and they enlisted human beings to essentially do their bidding in factions and cults and different groupings and said that they were the chosen of that particular God and if that you know they did his bidding they'd have everything that they needed and all we set them against other human beings you know as long as the God's agenda was being served in the way they wanted it you know he would allow them to continue and live and have a modicum of you know resources on the earth to live by but you know if he if they didn't follow along with them the kind of technology that would be unleashed against them was horrifying this is the origin of essentially every organized institutional religious sect on the face of the earth and it's the origin of the concept of the priests class in general this idea that there need to be needs to be intercessors or intermediaries between the god of creation and humanity you know just because these beings that called themselves gods who came here on are in our ancient past were you know they set up the this priest class as intermediaries between them and the rest of the the slave species one thing I want to say before we move on from this slide is for people who defend religion and I get a lot of them you know I constantly get emails or people telling me if it wasn't for religion this planet would be in total chaos as if it's not in total chaos with religion as if religion hasn't been one of the main reasons that this planet is in total chaos today you know first of all that statement has so many logical fallacies in it to begin with and it's based in such ignorance it's almost incomprehensible that anybody could utter it besides that you know the person just cannot even see that we're already in chaos he's saying if there weren't four if it weren't for the religions we would be in total chaos you know as if somehow implying religion is keeping things in order implying that somehow we have order on earth I mean there can't be any more highly ignorant of a statement to begin with right there you know for people who are still religiously diseased you know and believe in these superstitions and I'm not telling you don't accept that there's a higher power in creation or accept that there a God exists the creator of the universe exists the creative force in the universe exists I'm not telling you not to believe or accept that what I'm saying is to subscribe to organized religion is utter superstition and it's just this you know programmed belief that gets hammered into us it's almost encoded into our DNA that we accept these you know totally pre-programmed belief systems that are just seemingly running like a computer program on their own with previous generations programming the next generation and people can't get out of that cycle because they can't come to rely upon themselves they can't come to understand that need to go into knowledge of the self in order to come out of this crisis this spiritual and psychological crisis that humanity is in now they don't want to do that because that's hard work that's maybe having to go into fearful places within your own psychology and do cleanup work there you know we don't want to do that anything but look at those areas of the self now we want to externalize all power look to the outside somehow so not only do I want that I want to bring that topic up but I also want to say that the organized followers and organized leaders of religion have largely done absolutely nothing in exposing the worldwide control agenda they've done nothing in exposing slavery they've done nothing in exposing mind control they've done nothing in explaining to people how immoral the current culture of humanity is is they've done nothing up about really speaking out against violence ideology control based ideology speaking out against government okay absolutely zero and you know there's a few here and there there's a few people here and there you often non-denominational ministers of some kind you know you'll see a few and it's a handful but the people who say that they're men of God they say that they're holy people they say that they're moral people they say that their leaders trying to guide other people toward morality often they have zero idea of what morality really is they're talking about conditioning people into religious beliefs thinking that somehow that's morality they know nothing of natural law they know nothing of true moral law in many cases you know they're not actually looking at the difference between true right and wrong about whether an action causes harm or does not cause harm how many even explain things in that context at all ever hardly any they don't talk about rights they don't talk about freedom they won't even tell you that the highest quest of all spirituality in general is freedom is to be free and to live unfettered and Unchained and not a slave to understand your own sovereignty now they won't talk about that they won't touch those topics with a ten-foot pole you know but they'll tell you not to eat meat on Friday or how to observe some other ridiculous custom involving you know food or clothing or whatever it's just you know it's utter it's all other nonsense utter nonsense with absolutely no substance behind it when it comes to real spirituality and understanding real morality and real freedom so quite frankly look if you're a religious follower I don't want to I don't want to hear from you I don't want your email I don't care what you think of that statement I'm not interested in it I'm not interested in your nonsense belief system I don't want to talk about it at all okay it's a waste of my time I don't care how mean you think that sounds I don't care how you perceive that I don't believe in nonsensical superstitions that came from the race of beings that enslaves us that enslaved and probably still does enslave us I'm not interested in the worship of those beings which is what all the religions are about okay period so don't send me emails picking up for religion I'm not interested as soon as I detect it that's that the vibe of it I'm deleting it I'm not interested and I don't know how much clearer I could put it I know what religion is bottom line I'm not saying I believe in what it is I'm telling you I know what it is and I know where it came from therefore I there's nothing else I need to understand about any particular culture or religion and I've studied them all it's not because I have an studied them are looked into into them I've done extensive and intensive not researching and accumulation of knowledge in comparative religious studies so I know all about the religions of the world and I'm telling you I find them all to be control system based nonsense and they are the thing that has put chaos into the world not keeping it back not holding it back not keeping a modicum of order in the world at all it's exactly the reverse I've said from day one that religion is the problem with the earth it's the problem with this planet it's what keeps this planet in slavery is religion the very word means to hold back to tie back to stop from forward progress well what does that sound like does that sound like something you want in place to stop you from forward progress and your understanding of truth and your understanding of consciousness and your understanding of self you know I mean it's just but the bottom line is when it when it comes to this topic there are people who can't think there are people who refuse to think they don't want to thank for themselves they want a crutch they want a superstition to blindly follow it's all it comes down to because they're weak people get as offended about that as you like we pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone in the last segment I was going off on a kind of mini tirade against organized religion before we leave slide number 98 and move forward in the presentation I just want to say one more thing about this topic just think of the reason why organized religious leaders in the religious community do not want to step forward and talk about the control system do not want to talk about the slavery that humanity is living under do not want to talk about the violence ideology that permeates society do not want to talk about all of the things that are ultimately enslaving humanity in the modern world there's one overarching reason and it is because their God is not truly the God of creation what they ultimately bow down to and worship above all else is the one god that ultimately rules this world and that is money money is these people's true God they care more about their 501c3 tax-exempt status in this country than they do about the truth than they do about the will of the true God of creation they don't serve that force at all they serve the power of money coming into their coffers into their pockets into their collection baskets that's what they ultimately worship and I don't care what religion it is I don't care if it's Christianity Catholicism Judaism Hinduism Islam doesn't make a difference it's all the same thing money drives all religious institutions you know and are they putting that money to use in the service of truth and freedom by telling people what's really going on and what has really been going on no not a bit because what would happen if they started to do that is they would have their five-o their treasured 501c3 status revoked from them and then they'd be hit with the same violence and confiscation that the rest of people are hit with by taking in any money in the entire monetary system taxation in other words and they don't want that no because you know they're 501c3 status is prized and treasured to them in these organizations you know I have a challenge to throw out there on the air anybody who's a priest an imam a rabbi okay call into this show and I want to know that you you specifically tell me what you're doing to talk about the police state that we have in America or anywhere else throughout the world for that matter because we're living in a worldwide police state whether anybody will admit that or not that's the truth what are you doing to expose the control system you know how are you speaking out to your so-called congregation because in many cases you know what it is it's a big goose egg what these people are doing to expose the control system because they're cowards utter absolute cowards now because they're already essentially receiving favors from Big Daddy from government they don't want those favors revoked the modern-day gods would revoke the that favor you know then they wouldn't have more of the object of their worship than they do now you know their real object of worship is that dollar bill bet on it bank on it know it these aren't holy men these aren't men of God quite the opposite they're serving the control system they're serving the system that was set up by the beings that enslaved us that created our enslavement and by in doing so they're perpetuating our enslavement that's all they're doing and in many cases they don't even understand how they are completely mimicking the the very gods that you know created these institutions the so-called quote-unquote gods that created these very religious institutions so you know I really don't have any respect for any of these religious institutions or their so-called leadership they're not holy men they're not men of God whatsoever they're not really teaching anybody about real spirituality or real freedom they're locking them in to a belief based system of control which is slavery which is anti spirituality which is anti the will of God of the true God of creation they're actually serving the the will of the entropic force within creation the satanic force within creation thinking that they're doing something that's holy holding back human evolutionary progress you want to serve the true will of creation you want to serve the the a sin tropic force that orders and progresses things in consciousness then you have to expose darkness and how many religious leaders actually do that now they read from their little scriptures and collect money in their collection baskets and that's the end of it 99% of them I'm not it's not a blanket statement I'm not saying there aren't some good men and women in these institutions who really understand what's going on and still have their religious you know belief based superstitions I could even excuse their religious superstitions if they at least speak out against the control system speak out against government speak out against violence ideology in our society you know then at least I could have a modicum of respect for them but the amount that do that are a paltry number it's seemingly insignificant compared to the the throngs of how many people are involved in these organizations so let's I think I've said all I really want to say there and if anybody wants to call in and you know essentially say how they're doing that I'll let you even you know advertise whatever you do on on the air and you know give your website or whatever but I mean the whole point here is or what are you really doing you know how many people are really talking out in a bold way with their name attached to it not some anonymous web blog or something like that you know I'm talking about putting yourself out there and now you know that that goes for just about anybody it doesn't have to just go for the religious people out there the religious leadership you know how many of us are doing that whether we're involved in a religious institution or not you know you have all these keyboard commandos out there that want to make a million comments on a YouTube video but god forbid should they actually write an article with their name attached to it or make a youtube video with their own face on it in their own voice on it you know can't have that now they want to stay anonymous you know hide them behind the keyboard keyboard warriors you know they they won't interact with somebody face-to-face let alone there they probably wouldn't interact with their own family members face to face or friends or coworkers you know but they'll get on those YouTube videos and hammer away at the keyboard relentlessly all day and night trying to make absurd points that have nothing to do even with often the video presented that's why I tell anybody that puts videos out there when you put videos out on YouTube disable the comments I know that's highly unpopular oh my god mark how can you say is that censorship you're advocating censorship no what I advocate by disabling YouTube comments is you want to actually put a video out there that's why the reason I disabled all my YouTube comments on any of my videos is because I don't want idiots writing crap that detracts from the message of the video I'm not interested in what they have to say because half of the time they're morons quite frankly they're just absolute mental morons that have no idea what they're talking about they want to spout something and just have somebody pay attention to them and if they think they have something valuable to say make your own video by all means write a book by all means put up a website do what other people have done who have something to say you know my video on YouTube is not your forum for spouting your nonsense you want that go get your own page to do that we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening [Applause] [Music] you know today disguise the night 95 today try to run try to hide and we're back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we are going through the extended version of the cosmic abandonment presentation that I originally gave back in December of 2013 we have been doing this for the last several weeks and probably will for the next several I'm unpacking the connections between the interference theory of human origins and the current human condition and we were talking about religion and how all the cultural religions got started how they continued in the modern day as a system of control and superstition and ultimately how they essentially breed compliance with the violence ideology that rules the world and encourage people really not to take action and speak out against it because so few people who are even religionists in general do let alone their leadership the priests and other so-called religious leaders in any given community which is why I said I really don't have respect for the institution as a whole I think it is holding humanity back I don't think it holds back chaos at all I think it has been largely responsible for the creation of the chaos that humanity is living within and I think most of these people are just playing cowards if I just come right out and say say it openly and plainly and how I really feel about it these are just cowardly people who are right brained and balanced and won't take any real world action to speak the truth to power in this world period so moving to slide number 99 I mean even just a fundamental cursory look at the symbols and trappings associated with most modern religions will show you how far back these belief systems go much much farther back than even their so-called sacred texts existed for you know because they come out of older traditions and they are an extension of the priests class that was created by these non-human entities in the ancient world so you know we are just looking here at the the Pope's mitre the headdress worn by a pope or often by you know Cardinals and you can see it is almost identical to the headdresses worn by the ancient Babylonian priests kings and and Acadian priest Kings you know these beings were being revered and venerated by the priests class of their day and that's why they essentially tried to depict themselves like one of these beings with the elongated skull like we talked about a few weeks back the the scales you know the holding often the pinecone as you could see on the priests cross scepter there on the right the pope scroll sceptre with the pinecone as similar to the other depictions of some of these ancient Anunnaki beings that we saw in past weeks in this very slideshow you know and I joked around in the original giving of this presentation if people can't see the connections I feel sorry for them I don't know what to tell them you know if you can't see that the modern priests class comes out of these ancient systems of belief you know and is just a continuation of the same ancient religion directed by these non-human entities these so-called gods I feel sorry that you can't see that connection because it's so abundant and apparent you know even in the belief systems that they practice not just in the trappings and the symbolism so the ancient priest classes that interfaced with humanity they were essentially doing the gods bidding and as such they had interface with these quote-unquote gods and in that interface knowledge was often shared actual real world knowledge about how things really worked what was really going on what the gods were actually doing okay because they had to share a modicum of knowledge with these people in order to have them be able to maintain the control over the masses so in the acquisition of that knowledge these people began to have a real actual level of power amongst the rest of humanity it wasn't just because the gods rule you know ruled over everybody and they favored this priest class in that accumulation of knowledge which they realize made them gave them a tactical advantage over other people and made them special you know because they had this understanding and the bulk of the masses of people did not understand any part of it they could often manipulate people they could often get what they want out of wanted out of other people even without the assistance of the quote gods and so the this priests class started hoarding a lot of this knowledge sequestering it away from the other people you know and using certain enforcers within that class to basically hold that knowledge back from others as well under the threat of violence should the other people try to engage in it or you know essentially spread it in a gala tarean fashion throughout their culture that was forbidden by this priests class and over thousands of years these became essentially these priests class priests classes extended outward and through this body of knowledge that they contained this high-level knowledge that was given to them in many cases directly by these so-called gods this these advanced technologically advanced species that came here in the ancient past they created extended societies of people with large amounts of knowledge about how universal laws actually did work laws of science laws of nature okay even spiritual laws in some cases and they formed tightly knit interwoven societies of people that were essentially sworn to preserve and keep this knowledge but most of all they were sworn to keep the knowledge within the small community that had already acquired it and was sequestering it from the other people and they did this for different reasons different groups among them did this for different reasons some of them essentially said well we're the caretakers of this knowledge and since we've already been entrusted with it we know so much more than other people we have to be the ones to preserve and protect it because these other people are ignorant and they don't know how to do that you know they might squander this knowledge they might destroy it they might lose it somehow so since we're already in a better position than them because of our interface with the so-called gods we have to be the ones who form these societies to protect and sequester this knowledge some of them rationale did you know they rationalized it and said well if it were shared to get in an egalitarian fashion and everybody had access to this knowledge maybe some people would use it for evil purposes not like us we're using it to serve the will of our gods we're using it to serve you know the will of the all the people to protect them from the God's wrath you know so we give it to them they might squander it they might not understand it they might lose it or they might use it for evil purposes and this ladies and gentlemen is the origins of the secret societies and the mystery school traditions all of these different rationalizations for keeping knowledge of truth from the bulk of the people of humanity from everyone essentially who it is their birthright to know these things and everybody you also get people who will debate that all secrecy is necessary secrecy's required the ignorant masses what would they do if they knew this or that or that maybe they won't be ignorant anymore you know and then you know it just shows you their worldview it shows you how dark of a worldview it comes for people for you know these people who think that all this knowledge still has to remain sequestered and you you know you're doing a disservice you're somehow throwing pearls before swine by telling people the truth you know it shows how little faith people have in humanity's ability to transcend this condition and like I said I'm not telling you we definitely are going to transcend this condition so I'm not you know saying have tremendous amounts of hope what I'm saying is it can be done the question is will it be done not without putting the info out there [Music] welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com I was talking about the origins of secret societies fraternal orders and mystery traditions schools how they came about as an extension of the original religious institutions the priests classes of the ancient world that were put in place by these entities that came here in our ancient past and essentially set up intermediaries between themselves and the hordes of the human masses that they were attempting in the way that they felt best or most effective to control it's always been about control that's what religion is a huge part of it's a huge part of the control system I look at it as one of the three arms of the unholy trinity religion government and money not in that particular order and you know this also helps us to understand the context which may not make as much sense if not understanding the the actual origins of this as I've just laid it out of how these societies came to be you know how did they acquire hidden knowledge how did they acquire forbidden knowledge who forbade it to begin with what was these beings that forbade if they didn't want people to understand how they were being controlled they didn't want people to understand real science they wanted them to have superstition they wanted them to just follow orders to go along to get along to say this being is somehow closer to the gods then also we better follow what he's telling us to do and of course those orders came down directly from the Anunnaki gods made it so much easier for them and we still can't see how that's done today you know we still want to say oh no yeah but my religion is the right one see oh yeah okay I could get behind oh maybe that happened with all the others but oh no no no my religion because I believe in it it can't be like that it was different than all that that's the one that just somehow is magically exempt from all the others no all the others yeah they're they're all corrupted and perverse but the one I believe in that one's the right one that one's okay and everybody who has a religion thinks that way they think the same thing about all the other religions not one of them talking about natural law I'm not one of them really truly talking about the difference between right and wrong now they're worried about things like homosexual marriage or something like that you know they want to make that a huge issue you know they're gonna they're gonna basically make that the be-all and end-all of their belief system you know people's bedroom preferences you know as if that's the that's yeah and then then though then they'll just fully get behind a taxation system you know so that that should be in place but we shouldn't have homosexual marriage yeah because that's harming so many people whereas taxation oh that's not violence that's not actually doing harm to other people that's not the confiscation of labor which is slavery you know who's the homosexual couple enslaving you know I mean I you could say that about any particular thing you find somehow repugnant or you don't actually you know find somehow attractive or want to go you know to partake in well then don't partake in it you know you don't want to you don't want to uh you find us snorting cocaine repugnant don't do it you know you know you don't like smoking marijuana you don't you know cannabis don't do it you don't like shooting heroin into your veins don't do it you know that shouldn't interfere with somebody else's freewill decision as long they're not harming somebody else but you know this is what religious thinking does to people takes them off of the real issue of violence in our society and how its reinforced by people who the violence is actually done to the ideologically support the ideological support for violence is what's up holding this whole control system how many religious institutional leaders will ever even talk about that so these these ancient mystery schools and secret societies they they came down through countless generations thousands of years after their introduction and make up in the ancient world through these priests classes hoarding all of this knowledge that had been given to them and then eventually these gods departed or I should say largely departed you know that is a small criticism that I'll take the heart of my original presentation I kind of didn't really have time to unpack it's not my thought that they completely departed and they're 100% gone you know a lot of people you know make comments about that and I agree I should have said they largely left us I'm not even going to tell you I think that we have absolutely no interaction with these beings even today because more likely than not we do I'm not saying I know that for a fact or can prove it but it is highly likely that a contingent of them is monitoring at least what's happening here or if not actively directly involved in what's happening here so let's just say their physical observable presence was removed okay and you know in the shadows these beings may even still remain and these high highest levels of these priests classes and secret societies and mystery traditions are still interacting with them that could very well be possible so you know what I'm ultimately trying to get at here is the origins of the occult both light and dark because again some factions of these beings did want to eventually bring humanity up in knowledge and this is where we get into what I call the the Enlil and Enki factions of these beings okay for lack of a better term again it's just a label you could call it the absolute control iron fist ruthless rulership faction and then you could say the covert controlled gentler form of control if there is such a thing with a underneath somewhere desire to uplift humanity so eventually they could strike out on their own faction of these beings okay with the former being the Enloe faction and the latter being the N key faction and you know again I've gotten into in past weeks people who think that Oh somehow that makes the former the Enloe faction who wanted ruthless control just to do what they wanted to do and then get out of here that the ultimate bad guys and it made the N key faction who wanted more covert control and wanted somewhere deep down inside to uplift humanity and give them some knowledge so that at some point in the future they could strike out on their own as a free species that made them somehow the wonderful beneficent gods you know the benevolent gods that we should somehow bow down and thanks so much for what they've done when he was the one who originally came up with the idea to create a slave species to begin with okay there's you know the the morality of these beings cannot really be called into question they were immoral creatures period all right they did the wrong things they did things that they had no right to do but then some were thousands of years later maybe they began at some point some of them I'm qualifying this okay some of them saw the wrongfulness of their deeds and had some level of a desire to begin to uplift humanity as I said in a couple weeks ago when we were talking about the flood destruction the cataclysmic flood stories even the Enlil faction if you will were Enloe himself had some level of pity on humanity when he witnessed the destruction of the cataclysmic deluge pick this up on the other side stay with us everyone [Music] [Music] [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone we're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio we were talking about the origin of the mystery tradition schools the secret societies and fraternal orders of the world how they were an extension of the ancient priests class that ultimately came from these non-human extraterrestrial beings that created the human species in the distant past and I wanted to make the point here in this section that it does not necessarily mean that all of these groups are evil or bad again different people had different rationales for holding knowledge in their possession and away from others again some did it yes to control and to keep people ignorant so that they could gain a tactical advantage over them and that's what I would call the dark occult keeping things hidden for the wrong reasons and then there you know is a valid and legitimate reason for occulting knowledge at certain times during such extremely draconian times such that the exposure of certain knowledge would have literally not only gotten you killed gotten your group of people who were trying to preserve the knowledge killed but actually had their knowledge eradicated that that's how ignorant the human species had become at certain times and draconian and ensconced and superstitious belief systems that they had become at that point you know that knowledge did have to be sequestered and taken in deep underground hiding in order to preserve it and I would say that's probably the only legitimate use for the occult ation of knowledge the only legitimate reason for the occult ation of knowledge that is not the case at the current time we're not living in such a draconian time that you know you cannot come forward and expose this knowledge because it already has been exposed it's all out there you know all you're doing isn't is now spreading it around in a more egalitarian fashion in a more distributed fashion you know the the ancients would have looked at us and say wow all this is already out there you guys got it easy all you have to do is tell it to enough people and keep telling it to enough people until they begin to look into it for themselves and recognize it's true that this is what the world is and it does need to change and they do need to look within and they do need to know the self and they do need to understand how these hidden Sciences work you know so the image that I've depicted here on image 100 this little collage of secret societies and mystery traditions etc you know it's what I would maybe you know loosely termed the lighter aspect of the occult if you will and people have a hard time with that because you know Freemasonry and you know the order of the Golden Dawn and Rosicrucianism and you know you know in general secret societies you're going to say oh somehow there's some good to that the original intent yes you know what they descended into and became in the modern world no again there's a whole huge difference between the original intent of particular societies and orders and lines of thought in the mystery traditions compared to what these philosophies came down to us in the modern world as as cultural institutions as institutions of control so would I tell you that a lot of the modern large systems and of secret societies and fraternal orders are really good and then rush out and join them and you're going to become enlightened no again it's a it's a very it's a much more multi-dimensional and mature approach to this topic than you'll hear most researchers espouse you have to go back to my podcasts on particularly Freemasonry and Kabbalah to understand what I'm talking about how there are different sides and aspects to it as with all of these ancient traditions there's a light side and a dark side and what it largely depends upon is how the knowledge is being used is it being used to uplift or is it being used to just keep it sequestered and keep it hoarded amongst a particular a group a priest class that sees themselves as the elites and everybody else has the profane in order to exploit a knowledge differential and they're then therefore convert that to a power differential and control other people that is what I would call what I depict in image number 101 the dark aspect of the occult all of the dark orders the dark secret societies the satanic and dark Luciferian institutions and traditions okay that stems from that ideology that we're gonna we have this knowledge we have this information that other people don't have don't know don't understand okay therefore they don't understand how all these different aspects of reality work we do and instead of trying to spread that and enlighten them to level the playing field so to speak so that you bring everyone up in consciousness and therefore understand natural law live in harmony with it and become more free no we don't want we don't want to do that because that upsets our power differential our tactical advantage over others and we want to be on top because we're in such ego you know we have to rule over other people so we're going to take this knowledge and we're going to use it in the sense of what is known as the left-hand path using knowledge to control other people okay using it as a power differential okay that's what they say when they say knowledge is power it's not really just that simple applied knowledge gets converted into power over other people if they lack it and and a certain group of people possess it all right so it's about how you use it how you apply it in the world just the knowledge by itself is neutral it could be used for either purpose and this is one of the things I'm going to go into in depth in explaining in my demystifying the occult presentation because people have to get over the idea that the occult is one thing that it is just the negative or the bad side of all of these you know groups and and societies there there is a positive application is it being used that way largely no I'd have to admit largely it's being used for the negative purpose but it doesn't have to be that way this is just knowledge of self in the universe that's all it is that's all the occult really comes down to when you understand it it's knowledge of what goes on in the human psyche in the the spiritual domain and the you know with the realms within the self all the different aspects and components of the self and then it's knowledge of how the laws of nature operate not only the physical ones but the spiritual ones once you understand those things and you have a general understanding of how things work then you can align your behavior to the laws of the cosmos and therefore you won't generate self-inflicted suffering that's what living that's what it means to live in harmony with natural law and you know essentially both of these groups understand how this works the light and the dark and the light is trying to overtime get other people to understand that by spreading that information to the extent that they can and the extent that it will be received depending on the mindset of the people who they're trying to give it to you know and again in many cases people want to slap this knowledge out of your hand when you try to give it to them as a gift and that well we'll be done with this presentation that will be done with all of my other work as well I fully recognize where humanity's mindset is that humanity doesn't want to know the truth they love their enslavement right now love it because an ignorant child who has never actually had to do for him him or herself wants to remain in that condition and that's what humanity is an ignorant child that's never actually had to truly take care of itself to truly provide for itself to truly be free and understand all the responsibilities that go along with true freedom no they want a crutch they want a God to depend upon they want somebody else who they feel is looking out for their interests to set all the boundaries and the rules so to speak not to learn the true rules of the universe not to learn natural law for themselves because that in quote that requires seeking requires learning that requires time that requires admitting you were wrong that requires understanding there's higher powers in effect than your little miniscule ego no no no we can't have any of that you know we need to say these people are in charge they're the authorities they know better than everyone else and everybody else listen to them and follow their orders and somehow everything will magically be alright even though we're still a bunch of ignorant children good yeah good luck with that that's that's a great plan it's been working out good so far hasn't it yeah it's it's it's so great you know so what happens when you take that approach that attitude of fear and superstition and refusing to understand truth you get ruled by the dark occult you know as depicted on image number 101 you know that's how the world becomes a prison a big farm you know and like I said it may have started out that way because of these beings with their advanced knowledge and technology but it doesn't have to remain that way this is what I was talking about the end of the last segment this is a matter of will it's a matter of free will choice whether it will continue or we will change it we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] the cool don't speak between us welcome back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host mark passio this is going to be the last segment that I'll be presenting for this show and then in the next hour I'll be taking your calls for the duration of the third hour as long as we have enough callers to fill that time in the event we don't have enough callers to do that we probably will but just if we don't know I'll go back to the presentation to fill the time but let me give the call-in number real quick here for the next hour of the show the calling number to join us is 800 three one three nine four four three once again the calling number to join us in the next hour 800 three one three nine four four three and that is a toll-free number so we were talking about the differences between the light and dark aspects of the occult the occult of course simply meeting hidden knowledge knowledge that has been hidden from people's understanding and view largely to keep them controlled and I I would you know say essentially all occultism if you want to look at it that way hiding knowledge is not a good thing light Oh cultists tend to be do cultists they are they do have the possession of that they are in possession of that previously hidden knowledge but they want to share it with others they want to do cult it and make it not hidden anymore so that it is understood and therefore people are bettered by taking that knowledge in and therefore they can align their actions into harmony with universal laws so let's move on to slide 102 and start to breach a topic which I'll probably continue in the next week that is one of the largest and most important aspects of this whole story of our ancient past and how it has shaped the modern psychology of human beings and that is of course the control system god known as money if anything there is there you know these beings that you know the Sumerians referred to as the Anunnaki they Ward amongst each other at some point you know they were trying to establish the one God above all as they called it and you know they constantly battled each other there was depictions in many of the ancient texts about the wars between the gods and the sky great detailed depictions of their technology and how they went to war with each other and you know just events that shook the earth and left human beings trembling it was all jockeying for power on this planet you know like I said they tried to establish you know amongst themselves as the gods of humanity they were trying to establish one God above all the others that the people would unite the people and they would all believe in particularly the god Marduk was very dedicated to this endeavor wanted to establish himself as this one God but I'll tell you you know they really never really did that amongst themselves there was no one of them that actually became worshipped as the one God above all else but I'll tell you what they did create that God they created the one God that would be worshipped among all other gods over all other gods on this planet regardless of whether it was the so-called Anunnaki quote unquote gods or whether it was you know some cultural religious God some supernatural entity that people believed in as a God doesn't make a difference what God we're talking about here there is one god that has emerged on this planet as the God above all others and that is money you know the very symbol of God in the ancient world that comes down into the modern mystery traditions and the modern secret society traditions is the all-seeing eye the one eye representing the spiritual eye the underlying spiritual intelligence that watches over everything that underlies everything you know and also represents the balance between the two eyes you know which is why the one eye is depicted in the center of the forehead the all-seeing eye you know the the spiritual vision within humankind the spark of the divine within mankind you know this symbol symbolically we talked about it you know many many many weeks back years ago now and I went into it in great detail explore that on past podcasts on symbolism and you know the very name in English money is taken from a combination a green language combination phonetically of the prefix mono which means one and the English word I so when we put the word money together when it was actually created and put together it was a deliberate effort to make the word money be a symbolic representation of God 1 I Mon I money and people say this word billions of times a day on this planet and still never actually recognize that what they're saying when they're using the word money is one eye because it has become the symbol of God that's why they put it on the one dollar bill the symbol of the one eye the symbol of the world in transition that we saw a couple of slides back again if you're not familiar with that symbolism and you haven't heard my particular breakdown of it I highly recommend you go back I think it was somewhere back in the 50s or 60s maybe that I broke down that symbol is maybe the sixties of the podcast not really sure I don't have that list in front of me but I'd highly recommend people to go back and listen to those podcasts on symbolism again particularly the all-seeing eye symbolism and my breakdown of it because it really reveals a lot and will get you to understand how they use symbolism as talismanic magic you know in conjunction with talismanic magic really that's what money always is and has been it's a talisman of power ok because when it was even carried and you know used and revered in the form of gold by the ancient people they knew that that's what the gods found valuable so it was a symbol of these gods these Anunnaki gods you know they ascribed inherent intrinsic value to gold for some reason that we star not fully privy privy to that we still do not fully understand what did they come here and want this resource for of course modern forms of money became representations of the holding of gold but one like I said before and I will attempt to establish now actually is there is no real intrinsic value in gold anybody that thinks that there is is undermined control you've just heard that and repeated it you cannot actually establish the intrinsic value of gold no one can do it cannot be done because there isn't any because what you've not really explored is a definition a definition of intrinsic means having value in nature then that means if there is no society what can you actually do with it again intrinsic means based in nature not in belief it's like the word natural you could replace the word intrinsic value with natural value if we looked at the word like that if we looked at this phrase intrinsic value instead of saying intrinsic value looking at it as natural value value in then people would be very hard-pressed to explain the value in nature of gold okay and again the caveat for that is except in a technological civilization in which it's used for computing applications okay and actually making computer components then there is some intrinsic or natural value to it what natural value means or intrinsic value actually means is can you do certain things with it and the things are as follows can you eat it can you shelter yourself with it or can you use it as a means of self-defense if you are under attack those are the three things that actually bring actual intrinsic value you could say clothe yourself with it which is another method of protection from the elements so let's group those together and say can you nourish yourself with it in some way can you protect yourself from the elements with it in some way and can you defend yourself from hostile entities with it in some way that's what makes something intrinsically valuable or naturally valuable nothing else therefore when we understand that in that context that definition there is no intrinsic value for gold your calls on the other side of this break stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm we're into the third and final hour of tonight's broadcast and as promised I'll be taking your calls for the duration of this hour so let's go right to the phones let's hear from Allen in Georgia Allen you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark it's great to talk to you I appreciate everything that you've done you've woken me up to so many things I can't even express how much I am grateful to your dear great work I appreciate that thank you and I just I want to tell you I kind of felt it was personal whenever I I heard you said that you deleted certain emails because I was feeling like hey maybe he's deleting my email okay no I I didn't say I was deleting them I said I really would wish people would stop sending me emails defending the role of religion in the world I don't really care if people have their own religious belief systems or faiths but I just would like kind of like people to stop trying to get me to see religion as some kind of a good thing in the world you know I've long since abandoned that position because I have the knowledge of what it has already done it's it's a it's part of the historical record I feel that it's something that needs to be eradicated from the world we need to believe in nothing we need to know truth that is my position that has been my position that will be my position belief is never the I've told people from day one the only piece of belief that is required to free humanity is the belief that the truth does indeed exist and that's it once you have that belief you could then go on in search of the truth you could set out on the path to the truth and then that belief is no longer required because you will then seek truth and find it and then understand and have knowledge and then that original belief you could abandon it you only had to have it at one point just at the time that you are ignorant you have say you know I believe truth is out there and it can be known and if I just go off in search of it and find it then that's not a belief anymore then you know that it exists I've said that that's the only piece of faith that's ever required in this entire journey and then at a point later in the journey even that piece of faith can be abandoned so I'm not a fan of faith and basically the people of that think faith is a great thing to think belief is a great thing I think it is the most destructive thing that has ever happened to humanity and it's the very thing that is keeping humanity's consciousness destroyed so people who are trying to convince me to see faith otherwise good luck it's it's a lost cause it's a wasted it's just wasted energy sitting at the keyboard even trying to send something like that to me because as soon as I understand that that's your intent I'm probably going to move on to another email as all I'm saying right right well that wasn't me now that you now that you say that I have a feeling you might not have even got to mine I just had a couple of statements and a question regarding this Ruth and you know I've heard you talk about juicing quite a bit and I ended up looking it up and you might have you know who I am I mean I guess through one of the emails or since you are the tangy tangerine but I did a comparison oh yes I gots really great stuff I I've really been enjoying it so thanks so much that was you and that's that's awesome yeah really thank you great great yeah I just you know cuz I I knew you're on a quest to find the truth yourself in regards to the Lada you know the diabetes you know whatever they want to call this like you say it's all lack of nutrition basically and and I I came to the conclusion that the juicing really wasn't that great of a deal and that you know I was like mark you know comes out and says you know wow you know maybe I was wrong about this and you know cuz I mean if you looked up how much money it's gonna cost to get all of the fruits and vegetables and then you end up taking the dietary fiber away with this machine which you know God didn't create a machine for us to be juicing you know what I mean it's just well it's not you're not fully taking out dietary fiber from your diet you're just using the juicer to basically get an infusion of the micronutrients at a higher level than you would able to buy eating it it's not saying just stay with a liquid diet and don't put any fiber in the body you know so I I'm not you I'm not doing that kind of an extreme only when I do a juice fast do I stay with just juice and no solid food but that's only for short time duration that is not of course how I eat on a regular basis that would be pretty extreme okay great great yeah I was just getting concerned that's all it was I'm so glad to hear that that yes you come to that it's funny that you would even mention juice because right during this this last break I went upstairs and poured myself a nice big glass of a carrot cantaloupe combination I've mentioned that before on the air it's become one of my favorites I think people should definitely try it and they wouldn't even be able to believe what they've been missing out on and you would not find anything like that combo in a store and it's got a lot of great nutrients in it and it's great tasting as well so it's funny that you would even mention juicing and I you know happen to go up and get a big glass of juice during the break well that's great hope that your health is doing much better okay so a couple more things I you know I feel it for sure for certain you were talking about myself I was had a question about the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse I know that you know this is religion maybe I mean it could be a construct for the global elite to put us in a mind frame that we need to follow this to do to expect this and so when it starts taking place to not do anything about it you know to just remain enslaved when you see like Barack Obama portraying himself to be the Antichrist whether you're Muslim because I've been doing research on that they're saying that he's the Mahdi or in the Mahdi he's you know what he's basically the Antichrist in the Muslim religion and he's following the the Antichrist you know portrayal in the Christian religion and so with these four horsemen a question about you know it seems like the white horse is like the white man conquering everything we know that's a fact that is not it's not me trying to be racist that is a fact okay then you got the next course the red horse and they're taking peace from the earth and that's like to me that brings up communism you see red flags here there they got nukes they threaten us all the time you know North Korea they're taking peace from the earth and then I've got you've got the black horse which I think comes true is the black man who's been given the scales of justice - that's the way it puts it so black man has been given the scales of justice Barack Obama black judges black cops everywhere when that never existed before that is a fact I'm not racist and then you got the pale horse and then Lady Gaga riding out in the Music Awards on a pale horse and she's you know Illuminati you know trying to be it anyway a puppet I mean is she really woman ah do you mean she's just a puppet you know we know that but no it's just all of that makes sense to me that they're either scripting this or it is reality it is a prophecy but either way it is well I would definitely see them as highly symbolic of humankind's mindset their psychological condition that they exist in you know if you look at the four riders of Apocalypse the Horsemen of apocalypse in the context of the symbolism that they represent you have you know conquest or Dominion you know that's trying to control other people you know war which is the the result of attempting to control other people taking war to the four corners of the earth you know destroying the actual physical earth that we're dependent to live upon to actually carry us as a species you know so that would be the famine or I'm sorry the pestilence aspect of it you know the famine and pestilence aspect that's the one of the other riders and then death which is the outcome you know if we maintain this idea of control and dominion over the people and the planet you know if we it's it's all basically things that come together to symbolize an entire psychological mindset of dominance and control and violence based ideology that's how I see this symbolism from the you know book of Apocalypse or revelation it's it's some definitely allegorical in its content and I think it says a lot about you know how the writer perceived the current human condition and current psychological state of humanity and depicted that symbolically so that's my take on it anyway I hope that kind of answers your question yeah yeah I want to thank you so much for the call really great insight so we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks stay with us [Music] okay folks it looks like I'm back up my internet connection just completely went out on me and I had to power cycle my router and now it seems like it's back up so I apologize for that brief interrupt we were taking your calls and let's go back to the phone lines and hopefully uh this will not happen again during the remainder of the hour let's hear from David in San Francisco David you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show thanks so much mark it's great to be talking to you yeah first off I just want to say thank you so much for your devotion to the one religion that I guess myself and your listeners can agree on which is the truth and for nourishing my brain's heart and courage on my journey towards the same so I just want to thank you first off so much for that thank you for the kind words yeah and also I want to thank you for introducing me to the Cabal yin and the end of all evil those two books have been rocking the world probably in a similar way as they've shifted things for you and yeah and so one of the things I wanted to discuss is that I live right here in kind of the mecca for the New Age movement the the San Francisco Bay Area and the west coast of the United States in general and one of the other pieces that is really big out here is feminism and you know I would I would be the first to acknowledge that there are good things in both of those movements but that they're also I think greatly shaped by these elite Psychopaths that you're discussing and I you know absolutely and you know Aaron Russo spoke about that specifically and when he was introduced to one I believe it was Nathaniel Rothschild and he's you know he revealed to Aaron Russo who you mentioned early that they were you know basically behind the feminist movement and so that's a really interesting thing for people to look into and to consider and I'm you know of course Pro everyone you know being given equal rights not given equal rights as you would point out everyone has the same rights but it but yeah it's just an interesting thing to consider and you know there are a lot of people who I'm friends with who you know they don't pursue the truth fully unless it's you know in alignment with their beliefs many of which are highly influenced by the New Age yes and one of my big pieces is to help articulate the most positive vision of the future and my journey went with all of this I've seen that there's this gigantic lack of people actually taking visionary responsibility for the positive future so you'll see more people doing that inside the free energy movement perhaps you know they kind of act like everything's just going to be solved right and it's this notion that no real work is going to be required on humanity's part to change the way we think see they they they're okay with rearranging things in the material world you know but when it when it comes to actually changing your belief system and stop believing in the things that that are holding us back and actually changing the overall way that you think and then after doing that changing your behavior to no longer support the control system and to actually do things that lead to real freedom that's where most people have a huge problem when it comes to the real way to create real change and it's funny that you would mention the free energy movement because I just want to very briefly mention to people since you brought that up that um I have written an article in the latest Tesla magazine and the article is called don't put the cart before the horse understanding the free in free energy in which I explain to people what's really going to be required to create a new and sustaining and lasting free energy based paradigm where it's going to take the abandonment of the world religions of control authority and money first in order to do that because that's you know that's basically the horse you know that's pulling the cart of the free energy paradigm into manifestation people want to put it the other way around they think that will create this free energy technology and then suddenly it'll make a free world it'll make everybody free and understand freedom it doesn't work like that you have to change the mindset first then the physical manifestation follows that so so Grant point you are brought up there yes yeah and just to illustrate your point I mean so many of the reasons a lot of these free energy inventions have failed it's because people are trying to make a profit get investors they go to the Patent Office you know and then announce that they've invented this thing to the US government you know and then the men in black or whatever you want to call the institutions involved in suppressing these technologies or you know get fully involved in suppressing it with whatever specific invention was filed for because everything's wrapped up in the money system so you know it's it's you're you're absolutely right on there one of the things that I wanted to discuss is that you know I I see these people around me and I see a lot of them as being incredibly well-meaning and in in their own ways courageous but you know to me it's like the more I can show the different solutions to these problems the more that I can illustrate and articulate the possible world that we could live in sure it seems that people become more receptive to really going into the rabbit holes of you know the problem that you've spent you know it'll have several years of your life beautifully articulating for all of it I find a good end I find a really good segue or intro into it is is health and like how there's cures out there for cancer of all kind and when people hear that then there may be willing to look at well why are these suppressed why aren't they out there great points David thank you for the call we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us [Music] you know today disguise the night 95 today tried to run try to hide welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio we're taking calls throughout the duration of the show let's go back to the phones and hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi Marc thanks for taking my call sure well I just want to say uh as the other colors that stand up thanks for everything you've been doing and continue to do my pramantha thank you you know just like you always mention all your work is a tapestry of information and it's pretty much everything it helps facilitate every individual that does that journey so basically it's a path of self-realization of what they need to do in life and uh you know I think thank you for that and uh I recently not too long ago he came across I first came across the first time ever on a lecture of Manley P Hall yes was I think was a search for the essential meaning of life and I was a blown away at least he's a nominal I mean and you know he I feel started out on what you might call a grey path you know he wasn't in his early years perhaps what you might call a light ocultist or do cultists but then you know during his a middle-aged period I think he really came on to a deep understanding and then from there he definitely went forward and into the light and then realized he had to take this knowledge to other people and that's when he you know wrote his I guess you could call it his magnum opus you know see secret teachings of all ages and then he went on the lecture circuit for many many years and really lectured until almost until right up until he died and you know I mean he was in his 90s on the lecture circuit that's how dedicated this man was to spreading knowledge and information about the truth so I definitely consider him a mentor and consider him a role model his lectures are absolutely phenomenal and the only thing sometimes you have to kind of get past is you know you had a kind of a manaat' monotonous voice in his older age if you can get past that the information is so brilliant it's it'll just the top of your head off well and again I am I thank you for for everything you've done because without that I would have never came across a trial of I won't even think about listening to one of those podcasts or one of his lectures and I mean I've listened to a couple of them so far and they're mind-blowing and I saw last knowledge that the individual that's awesome that I could turn you on to something like that and hopefully other people will also follow suit and check some of that material out because they'll definitely get a lot out of it that's for sure and I just had one other comment mark from last week on your topic of cosmic abandonment cajon we went to go see a Transformers newest one in the theater and I'm not eating that one yet I have I really did not enjoy it as a movie I thought it was a very weak movie as far as the screenplay and the the dialogue and things like that I mean the effects were great but there is this underlying theme if you could sit through the bad movie as far as I'm concerned anyway of you know these beings from from elsewhere that basically have you know a power play going on here on the earth so is that what you were going to allude to yeah and just basically some of the dialogue that you know I thought was pretty ironic the wine and for our the villain he said he he basically said I we have a sane and basically I don't care I thought that was pretty crazy ya know yeah I mean there's definitely allegorical content in in these Hollywood films with this one I think it got kind of overshadowed like I said I think they could have done a lot better on the the screenplay I haven't really enjoyed any of the Transformers movies to be honest but there is this allegorical you know underlying content that if you can get past the the the the cheesiness of the movie that it sits there and it is about interaction with non-human entities coming to this planet but I think they could have done a lot better with the the scripting in general of the whole Transformers you know paradigm when it comes to the movies I I preferred the cartoons quite frankly I used to watch them when I was young and I thought they were really good allegories for what's going on but the movies could use some work or as I'm concern but there was some interesting material in the in the recent one regarding you know the attitudes of some of these beings for sure so thanks for bringing that to the attention of the audience yeah I mean that's pretty much just of everything that you know just know now after you know I'm going through some of your presentations and your information is now it's like you know when I see movies I have to see what the in underlying meaning message there sometimes you guys said to some of the trash but the Decepticons are the Psychopaths of that whole world you know that's what they're basically trying to say they're they don't have any care they don't have any you know empathy or compassion that's that's you know what they're trying to explain that we're really up against yeah well well thank you very much mark for everything you do and that's all hey absolutely Raphael good to hear from you let's hear from Thomas in Toronto Thomas you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hi there mark great show as usual thank you this week I'm just gonna have a short call so I'm gonna have a bit of greeting language about the word individual and how we call people individuals okay so if you break down the word you get in divide and rule so like to say all people are they're divided they're dual so kind of applies to sigilian dialect it applies to religion pitting them against one another and most unfortunately it applies to the two hemispheres of brain and how people are really divided they don't have like an inner truth in them so I guess my point is that calling someone an individual it really means that they don't know or they're constantly divided on their motivations and things like that yeah that that's definitely one way of breaking down individual in green language terms one one perspective of seeing it I just like to possibly present the alternative perspective when it comes to the word if we take the first part in to me not as it is in many older languages then we get the the idea of not divided or dual which is what the word individual is supposed to really mean connotative li we bring it together we're worse were uniting what was once separated and making it into one hence the term individual representing one being not a divided or dual being so that would be you know you could look at it in either one of these interpretations if we're talking about green language we could look at it being in the state of being divided and dual or we could look at it as not divided not dual both of these I would say as far as green language is concerned you could you know pick one or the other depending on which way you want to perceive or look at the term from I tend to look at it from the more positive aspect or the positive you know interpretation but green language can work in both ways and you could see both sides of it when you break down English words like that for sure I get a bit of that a glass-half-full metaphor sure sure and there's a lot of green language terms that work that way you could see both the negative and the a positive aspect of it it just depends on how you break it down and how you interpret the different components of the word if you're going to analyze it quote magically like that and you know I I definitely think there's value in doing that with with words particularly English words because you know so many people insist though you know you're just looking for something that isn't there but there is real magic and value in how language is structured it's not done just purely accidentally or coincidentally there's a for me at least there's a reason for why words were made the way that they were even if it wasn't deliberate in the intent of the people who were constructing the language over time it came through the universe brought that meaning through to the modern day somehow and it's up to us to look at how we're going to interpret that and find meaning in it and that's what green language is all about I also have another one sois I know if this one is good but um when you take off not really green language but sort of a creative spin on it all right you get the Oh PS or criminal offering Protective Services kind of an acronym yeah okay so that's all I'm gonna say for this week thank you got it thank thanks for that Thomas and let's hear from Phil in Oregon Phil you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark great presentation man now there's any wealthy people out there listening with some extra cash please sponsor this man I mean Marc's doing the great work everybody if even the regular listeners if we could all come together throw mark five bucks each we could really facilitate mark getting more presentations out like this not just presentations but really what a lot of the donations that people are giving are going to go to in the very near future is the actual pressing of physical books because I plan hopefully if all goes according to plan by sometime around the first quarter of next year I'm not going to hold myself to that but I'm projecting to have my first book published hey Phil stay with us we'll pick this up on the other side of the break okay okay stay with us everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on rvn we'll be right back [Music] is happening here on rbn this is the final segment for tonight's broadcast we're taking your calls and we were on the line with Phil in Oregon Phil was imploring people if they were in a position to do so to make a voluntary donation to what on earth is happening so you know if you can do that I mentioned the beginning of the show how to do that with the donation button on my website but I just want to say before Phil continues that I think the best way anybody can donate to the show to my work to what I do in any way is to put the truth out there for yourself and I mean by structuring it and making it clear to understand and putting your your own style to it and then putting it out there for other people online I mean like actually put it out there for the world you know even if you're gonna do something like lectures or presentations in your area you could do it at community centers or wherever okay record it put it online for people you know if you're gonna write a book put it out there you know there's so many different ways people can reach out you can make a website you could you could do blogging I'm saying don't just go on Facebook and type to a few people here's what I think is going on that's not getting the message out there okay you know that's getting lost in a huge amount of noise that goes on out there I'm talking about put it out in a structured way put it out in a concise way in a way that makes sense in a way that is clearly organized for people to understand it that's how you put the truth out there to people and if enough of us do that we'll make headway so Phil thanks so much for that sentiment and I'll let you continue yeah no worries um now I'm gonna try to connect some things before I ask you the question this intervention might be the cause of humanity's kind of schizophrenic nature remember Michael caesarian talking about the idea or entertaining idea that Yogi's tried to purge the interventionists DNA from them through their own consciousness now I'm an artist and the torment comes in waves so sometimes I'm great and then sometimes it just it's hard and I've noticed a pattern like my exercising is an exorcism exercising the shadow content of my own psyche through creative expression seems to diffuse are neutralizing this this problem and who don't do that as a collective whole and that's why creativity is so frowned upon by the control system that's why they don't want you exploring or engaging in those centers of yourself right yeah I noticed that like when I think about past hardcore situations I was in when things were just dark I needed to draw the darkest thing I could and everyone's like why are you doing that that's just sick you know I'm like I don't know and I know I know that I have the inside I'm like oh that's I was doing that but now I mean can I raise this up what not what practical methods did you use when you were going through your deprogramming process to actually bring the subconscious issues up to the conscious mind now can you kind of demystified it like you like your presentation and give us you just acknowledge it that with it and then letting go is that healing or can you go through this essentially I did that through the form of such immense depression sitting with sitting and exploring that darkness that I had made a realization somewhere in that agony and pain and suffering that it was either to expand and grow my consciousness from there and get out of the rut that I was in and go into real knowledge and real exploration of the self and get out of the egoic frame of mind that I was somehow made the recognition that I was trapped in or die that's it I people asked me how how I came out of the satanic consciousness and mindset that I was once in and the answer was I suffered so badly that it finally snapped me out of it the suffering snapped me out of it this is why I try to explain other methods of you know working with the psyche so that people don't have to take that path that's the path of its hitting rock bottom that essentially that's how it happened for me I don't think it has to be like that for other people and there's other methodologies available there's meditation there's emotional freedom technique there's getting on to a really really healthy diet early in the process which I didn't do I did it much later in the process getting into a good healthy high nutrient density plant-based diet you know there's psychedelics is an option if you can explore that in a responsible way you know there's many other techniques as well and we've talked about them here on the air in the solutions section you know mindfulness and understanding present moment awareness really deeply looking just you know knowledge of the truth itself is one of the ways to do it literally just going and researching what the hell is going on on this planet what is really taking place in the world can snap you out of an egoic trance mind state you know or a state of you know depression to a point where if you understand what's really going on and you don't let that overwhelm you when you say hey action has to be taken in order to counter this you know and you you take a balanced approach when it comes to looking at what is and then saying well if enough people join the dynamic to counter act this negativity we can reverse it you know that's part of the process that's part of the healing process as well again what really did it for me I you know it's not you know encouraging to most people was I hit rock bottom through suffering so badly in my daily personal life that I had to make a conscious decision at some point that it was either leave this totally egoic satanic mindset and work upon yourself or die because that's where I was headed okay nice so you're saying there's no real magic wand it is a choice know your triggers and it's lifelong lifelong homework it's it's willpower it's all ultimately comes down to do you have the willpower to pull yourself up by an act of your own strength and that does not mean you cannot rely on others to help you along in that process that's what an alchemist or an assistant in that process is you know other people helped me in that process you know there were mentors there were people who gave freely of their knowledge you know and I had to have the internal insight or wisdom to listen when somebody else spoke to me with knowledge to say hey I'm wrong about this this person doesn't know what they're talking about they're in a better position than I am and then you had to actually actually use your will to change what you were doing it's not just about knowing it it's about first hearing it and knowing it and recognizing hey this is true then you have to say to yourself well am i doing that am i aligning myself with that process or that you know philosophy and if the answer is no the answer is I have to admit that I'm wrong and then change and actually align my behavior in that way that's the hard part and that requires willpower and so to go back to your question or your comment yes there is no shortcut there it's a it is a it is a linear process of working upon the self with sustained willpower and again if you don't all inherently have that you have to build it slowly and you may need to build that slowly with others help it doesn't mean you have to do it completely alone awesome great answer I'm gonna bring up one thing he said in the quick you're cut off the causers idea I think that might be a huge priority right now if we could do like a documentary to connect with the police in the military because it's out of hand I had a encounter a few months ago and that's that's a huge issue if we can get to these people like a grassroots way somehow maybe set up a community for them leaving yo for ya I'm gonna film Ely some kind of an idea and work with it over the next several months maybe you know early next year come up with something a little bit more definitive I've just floated the idea out there up to this point but we need some kind of a ground-up grassroots effort to basically break down ideological support for people engaged in violence in this country in particular and throughout the world in general and you know I'm open to ideas and suggestions when it comes to that as long as they're you know heartfelt and serious suggestions I'd be you know interested in hearing what people have to say on that Phil thanks so much for the call great points you brought up that's unfortunately all the time we have on this episode of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes that one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next week [Music] [Music]

Manchester Connecticut on Saturday October 4th 2014 from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. it is called demystifying the occult it is presented by Arthur Capozzi of pattern recognition time it will be taking place at the Manchester History Center at 175 Pine Street in Manchester Connecticut zero six zero four zero there is free parking available at the Manchester History Center here's a brief description of this all-day seminar mark passio the no-nonsense teacher of streetwise spirituality will take his guests on a journey of exploration examining the world of the occult and its symbols what exactly is the occult why should you know about it what kind of knowledge comprises the occult who possesses such knowledge and how do they use it how is occultism different from mysticism what can the secret language of symbolism communicate to us how is symbolism being used in our everyday lives this and much more will be explored in this seminar in the second half of the seminar I'll actually be breaking down some of the spiritual symbolism in the Major Arcana of the Tarot deck so that's demystifying the occult coming up Saturday October 4th 2014 advance tickets are only a $25 donation for advanced tickets you can send a check or money order pair payable to Arthur Capozzi that's CA poz zi 500 Monroe Turnpike suite 142 Monroe Connecticut zero six four six eight at the door tickets for this seminar only a thirty dollar cash donation in-person at the door the truth freedom prosperity free documentary film screening and discussion evening as always takes place on the third Thursday of every month here in Philadelphia and this month coming up on actually this Thursday coming up Thursday August 21st we will be showing run from the Cure the Rick Simpson story these free documentary screenings take place at the Guarin Recreation Center 1600 Jackson Street in Philadelphia that's the corner of 16th and Jackson 7 o'clock p.m. start time and again they're free to attend and you could bring your own food and drink the run from the Cure documentary is probably one of the most important documentaries that people can see and I wanted to kind of really highlight the whole cover-up of the cure for cancer through cannabis oil I'll read a brief description of run from the cure after a serious injury in 1997 rick simpson sought relief from his medical condition through the use of medicinal cannabis oil when rick discovered that the cannabis oil he was using with its high concentration of THC cured cancers and other illnesses he tried to share it with as many people as he could free of charge in the process curing hundreds of people's illnesses but when his story went public law enforcement officers descended on Rick's home and stole the medicine that Rick was sharing with others leaving thousands of people without an effective treatment for their cancer and in many cases without hope even those who were completely cured of their cancer due to Rick simpson's proven treatment and immense generosity were not allowed to testify on his behalf at his court trial in September 2007 everyone especially those who have lost loved ones to cancer needs to see this documentary so that they may understand that a known cure for cancer is actively being deliberately suppressed because the so called quote unquote treatment of cancer is big business and the pharmaceutical and medical industries continue to put their desires for profit above the care of people so that's the documentary that we're going to be showing this Thursday August 21st in South Philadelphia at the Guarin Recreation Center 1600 Jackson Street for more information you can check out truth freedom prosperity org my streetwise spirituality seminar is now online it's been posted both to my website and to my youtube channel you could check it out on the videos page of my website is in the news section of course it's on my youtube channel it's also posted in the this news right now on the left-hand side of the water on earth is happening dot-com website for people who aren't familiar in this seminar I presented 20 factors which define the whole are the defining hallmarks of what I consider to be real spiritual awakening as opposed to the quote-unquote new-age variant of what many people in that movement consider what awakened consciousness means I want to thank once again ray mom for hosting this seminar in st. Louis back in May and I want to thank Adnan from UFO hub dotnet for his video recording and editing of this seminar I also was interviewed on red ice radio red ice creation.com just a phenomenal wealth of knowledge for everyone out there in the world to explore and to take in a truly eclectic array of information from literally hundreds of people who are full-time researchers bringing occult and esoteric knowledge to the masses so I was once again interviewed on red ice radio this past week of course hosted by Henrik Palmgren on August 11th the main topics we talked about was how the New Age movement subtly teaches its adherents to ignore self-defense and self-preservation and I'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Applause] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm I was briefly talking about my red ice radio appearance of this past week in it me and Henrik discussed how the New Age movement subtly teaches the people who follow it - really uh not put too much focus or attention on their inherent right of self defense and self-preservation and that's really what this religion is designed to do to get people to stand down and accept tyranny in the second hour I outlined some of the factors of true spiritual awakening which I presented in my streetwise spirituality seminar so you could check that out that's also in my news section of my website and on the left-hand side of the site under latest news could also go to red ice creations calm as well so last week I was not I did not do a show I took a little bit of time off for personal reasons I celebrated my 40th birthday last week my birthday was on August 12th I turned 40 years old and I just felt like I wanted to take a little bit of personal time and you know even someone who's a slave to truth such as myself I think is occasionally entitled to a little bit of leisure time so I took the week off last week one other quick event announcement or not an event announcement of a quick announcement there is as always a donation button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening comm website if you feel that you've received value from the information I've shared and presented on this radio show feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so that I can continue into the future every little bit is very much appreciated and welcome so thank you so much for those who have contributed I want to let everyone know where they can find the images for the show the images for the presentation slides that I'll be talking about this evening you can go to the what on earth is happening dot-com radio show tab just click on radio show with the tabs at the top and underneath the player for the live show for the live broadcast you'll see images for tonight's show those are the two Flyers for the events I talked about my demystifying the occult seminar and the truth freedom prosperity documentary night that's coming up and then under that you'll see cosmic abandonment slides part one and two we are on part two I rounded up last week on I believe it was slide number 102 where I started talking about the origins of money and the origins of the perceived intrinsic value of gold and that's where we're going to pick up this evening so these links on the page are set up as numerical links if you click on the link it will open up a little slideshow where you could follow along with the images if you prefer instead of doing that I know my site has been a little bit slow it's been under some hacking hacker attacks in recent weeks and it's been hit with denial of service distributed denial of service attacks because obviously when you are over the target you get the flack as the saying goes in warfare parlance you know I'm here talking about the origins of religion the origins of money the origins of government and the whole control system that we are living under and when you're talking about things that people do not want you discussing do not want the masses of people to even consider let alone know about then you're gonna come under hard attack from people who will just do whatever they are commanded to do for a paycheck because they are house slaves okay that's all it's really about you know and I mean and it's not gonna stop me from saying what I'm saying it's not gonna stop people from listening to what I'm saying because the truth remains the truth and is indestructible it can never be destroyed the only people who think that they can do that are living under a total illusion and they're kidding themselves so that's what I have to say about that so let's move on into the material for this evening I'm going to pick up talking about the absolute bogus idea of the intrinsic value of gold and where this came from okay I started talking last week about the word intrinsic and what it really means it means having value in a natural setting in nature okay it means that you could actually use it in a utilitarian sense not because someone believes in it okay not because someone has a perception that it is valuable but because it is actually in nature valuable to you and I talked about what it meant for something to have intrinsic value okay and all money does not have intrinsic value it is all the perception of value with whatever kind of money we are talking about any kind of paper currency any kind of precious metal any kind of information stored electronically on a computer screen that supposedly represents real world wealth it is all only existent in the perceptions of the person who thinks that that has actual value okay it's a belief system intrinsic as a word actually means having value in nature okay it means that you can either eat it or take some type of sustenance from it eat or drink it okay and it will nourish you and we can talk about how gold can actually be used as an internal substance in the human body that's for a later discussion when we get into monatomic s-- and talk about monatomic gold and how this may very well have been the intrinsic value that the beings that we have been talking about here in the cosmic abandonment presentation for the last several weeks viewed the value of gold okay but I'm talking about traditional perception of gold as having value to human beings okay well we don't even really know what this substance is or what it actually can do we don't understand why it's seemingly eternal and can never really be destroyed or tarnished okay go back to the concept of what intrinsic really means intrinsic means you can nourish yourself with it you can clothe yourself with it or shelter yourself with it meaning protect yourself from the elements with it so nourishment protection from the elements all right you can make oh if you can make some kind of a weapon out of it to protect yourself so protection from harm from harmful threats all right and you know really that's about it that's what intrinsic means now again there's other forms of intrinsic value in a technological civilization in a technological civilization certain metals are going to be valued because of the ways that they can be used for technology for conductivity for storage etc okay now we've only come into the realm of technology really in the past hundred years or so in humanity you know little over a hundred years so for the vast vast vast the time that humanity has existed we're talking about you know people who haven't been using gold in that fashion as a technology now there are people who would say well maybe gold was used as a technology in the ancient human past and it that's just lost knowledge that's very possible as well okay so that would be one of the legitimate intrinsic values for gold but when people talk about using it as a system of exchange as part of a monetary system this is all perception this has nothing to do with real intrinsic value you could use anything as a mechanism of perception and people will say well the reason is because it was the able to be held for long periods of time it was never tarnished okay yep but again the whole idea of money is something that exists in perception we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Applause] [Applause] the community side we don't dare speak wall between us rip so deep we keep rated there that there's nothing wrong welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network on their host mark passio we were talking about the fallacy of the concept of the intrinsic value of gold to human beings particularly human beings in the ancient past and how the word intrinsic means having natural value meaning can you nourish yourself with it can you protect yourself from the element elements with it or can you protect yourself from an external threat with it the other aspect of intrinsic value is can you use it for some type of technology higher technology and if the answer is no then it doesn't have intrinsic value and again people will make the argument well people chose gold because it was simply a good replacement you know a good way of keeping the value of something because it didn't tarnish like other metals did but again that's still perception of value it's not intrinsic value and again then this is why paper notes were eventually created because they're lighter to carry then gold pieces or bars etc the whole idea here is that money is based in perception and is not something that is intrinsic never has been never will be when people talk about gold is real money you know it's still based in perceived value and not actual intrinsic value and what I'm trying to really ultimately get out here is the the ancient peoples only saw gold as inherently valuable because their gods saw it that way and they took their perceptions from the beings who were ultimately in charge of them and ruling them at the time this is where this whole perception even came from or human beings would have never started mining and smelting gold there this fits into the story of cosmic abandonment perfectly because you have to understand if it is true that these beings were here to acquire gold for whatever their purposes were for it regardless of whether people think it was actually being used for technological purposes or being used as some type of a reflective substance to heal their planet of something that was going wrong with it and they needed to diffract or deflect a certain amount of sunlight away from their planet or if that you think it has some kind of strange or unknown properties that can be activated in the human consciousness once it is ingested in a certain form that may also be a reason why they they wanted access to this substance regardless of what they were here to use the gold for it seems that what they did through all the stories that are told about their interactions with the ancient peoples is that they transferred their perceived value of this substance perhaps it was an intrinsically valuable substance to them onto their human progeny okay so this is where the whole idea of the desire for gold came from not just because it's Purdy and doesn't tarnish alright so they essentially gave us our whole concept of money and again as I talked about in past weeks these beings created a monetary system among the population the human population in order for them to more effectively deal with the large human numbers the population that was growing out of control and getting out of their grasp at the time so they wanted them to have a social strata social strata that would basically keep the human beings in line and allow them to police themselves and so if some of them saw themselves as more important because they had more access or had more had been given more entrusting of the gold of the gods the gods substance well they became important people who other people looked up to and listened to you know and wanted to follow in line with so then the the quote-unquote gods only had to control a smaller portion of the population because then the rest of the people fell in line with those seemingly more important people it's a divide and conquer strategy and it's a social stratification and it's a it's a way that you create hierarchy to get people to fall in line because hey people have been tripping over each other since time immemorial to get in line to follow the leader it's it's no different now than it was then we've never come out of that mentality of following others you know and I can't overemphasize this enough I keep telling people I'm not in this to have some kind of a cult or religion created around what I'm saying I'm in this because I'm trying to put the truth out there for other people to research for themselves not to follow me or what I'm saying and some people will agree with what I'm saying and go forward and research it you know they'll initially find it interesting and they'll go research it from their set for theirselves and there they'll decide whether they agree or not with the conclusions I've come to and others you know some will dismiss it out of hand and never look into it and some will look at it because they found it initially intriguing and come to a different conclusion than me and that's all fine you know I want people to do this work for themselves ultimately not listen just listen to me or believe me as I've said from day one so we have to understand that there were perhaps some hidden properties to gold that the beings who came here in our ancient past and created us were knowledgeable about and I can't claim to have all the answers folks there are things I don't know about there are things that are occult 'add from us that I do not know all about I could speculate I could look into things and I could try to come to the best conclusion that is possible with the available information that I have acts but that doesn't mean I know at all so I mean I've looked into monoatomic gold I've taken it myself and I can tell you it does have certain mental properties when it's ingested it does have certain properties related to sleep and dreaming and things like that that I've noticed anyway but you know I don't know whether I would go out of my way to state that that just may be the reason that they found this substance so intrinsically valuable it may be who knows and again they may have used it in some kind of a technological way that we don't understand as well whatever it was it seems it had intrinsic value to them and they passed their perceived value of it on to us and then we looked at it as the early humans looked at it as well this is the substance that the gods find so important and appealing and therefore it's important and appealing to us and that's why it became the original essentially the original source of money the a system that the quote-unquote gods had given to humanity and put in place to make them more easily controllable and as I call money today it is the god of this world you know as I was starting to allude to last week these gods and their the later part of their interactions with humanity more likely after the the last Cataclysm that took place on the earth the deluge probably around 13,000 years back they started really warring amongst themselves to see who would be worshipped as the god of this planet you know the God above all as many of them called it and I think the winner came out in the form of the monetary system itself that's what they really put in place as as a proxy the ultimate religion you know the most powerful religion and the most powerful god of this world the God above all is money at least that's what it is right now on this planet and you know that's most people's God that's why I put that image here in this slide you know this is most people's God and it's sad I I always say if if a piece of paper is your God you deserve slavery you know if that's what people think is the most valuable thing that they should be putting all their energy in life to acquire I I think slavery is exactly where they belong and need to stay because they're a danger to the rest of the cosmos if that's how screwed up their mind works as far as I'm concerned you know so I mean you really need to know look to no other causal factor not understanding natural law putting money above the difference between right or wrong there's the very thing that keeps this this race and slave then rightfully so it belongs to stay right in it's change as long as that's the current condition in the bulk of humanity's mind in the bulk of our mindset as long as that remains the way people think slavery is exactly how it should be and get as offended about that as you like you know that's how natural law actually works period until that mindset changes don't expect the external condition to change and enjoy the chains that are on the whole species enjoy it you know but most people they're not even at a level of consciousness to even understand how that connection works we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks don't go anywhere you're listening - what on earth is happening [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on the Public Broadcasting I'm your host mark pasio my website what on earth is happening calm I am been talking about the fallacy of the in perceived quote/unquote intrinsic value of gold in human society and where this came from the bings that ultimately created the human species put this value here with us because they created the whole concept of a monetary system in order to get people to essentially control themselves through the organization of social strata and the perception of more important people because they had more of the gods gold and again when you look at accounts of some more developed civilizations coming into contact with older civilizations that had kind of stayed as tribal and indigenous cultures particularly like when the Spaniards came into contact with the Inca Empire they always told of accounts where these older cultures would say that all of the gold in their possession in their society did not belong to them and you know some of these other more so-called advanced cultures that had come into contact with them were confused by that and would say what do you mean by that why would you say this isn't yours it's here isn't it it's it's among your people it's in your your culture it's here in your civilization and your buildings and your artifacts you know why would you say it's not yours and they said their answer was almost universally the same it was the gold belongs to the gods to our ancient gods and we are simply the caretakers of it for them so you know what did they mean by that it very well could mean that you know exactly at face value what they're talking about you know it's not some symbolic spiritual message that you need to dig down and interpret they're talking about the physical gold that they used they didn't look at as theirs and they looked at it as belonging to their ancestor gods you know they were just stewards of it for them until they returned so I don't want to really be labor the point on money and gold too much that's not what I wanted to make this whole show about but I feel it was important to reiterate the concepts of the fallacy of the intrinsic value of gold as many people you know the gold bugs out there I still think this is the solutions somehow for the woes of humanity you would just be replacing one form of enslavement and religion for another that's all and that's all people seem to want to do you know they don't want to actually be free away from erroneous belief systems they want to take one religion and replace it with another religion so what I really wanted to start moving into if we move to slide number 103 well before we do that I just want to say I haven't really talked a lot about the Mono Atomics and the possible value in that as as gold having I would rather put that off for a whole nother show sometime and then maybe I can interview an expert in monoatomic switch I do not consider myself I've read a little bit about it I know a little bit about it maybe you know I could bring someone on that really has a lot of experience and can explain some more of the physics to that in the future show so with that having been said I'm gonna rest that topic for now and we'll revisit it in a future show and let's move on to slide 103 slide 103 again this whole section is about why do we have certain institutions and certain control systems that we have today where were their origins in our ancient past and you know we've already talked about the origins of religion and we've just kind of wrapped up talking about the origins of money we've talked about the origins of a cult ism and dark occultism and secret society networks etc what about the orange origin of government and kingship okay where did that come from and again in the story of that we had outlined in the story of our past in a pre previous show dealing with this cosmic abandonment presentation which of course you could always go back into the archives and check all that out you know that several shows back now we're on this is podcast number 166 this evening for those who might be listening via podcast you know you could go back and you know hear the story about how these beings essentially put Pharaohs and Kings priests Kings into place representing their authority over humanity okay as the gods the demigods okay the gods interbred with humanity and once again you know please recognize I'm saying gods with a small G in double quotes wrapping it in double quotes I don't think that they're real gods okay and I think it's very important for me to reiterate that because when people hear me telling this story they always go back well do you see these beings as gods I still get emails you know if people saw the emails I get by people hearing snippets of what I say without hearing it in full context of the past shows you'd be surprised at how many people do not understand what I'm saying they misinterpret it because they want to listen for five minutes and think they understand what I'm saying that's why I tell you you have to go bet back and listen to all the podcasts from number one but if you just want to go back and listen to the stuff on cosmic abandonment I think I made it abundantly clear almost to the point of nausea that I don't think these were real gods but that's what they called themselves you know to get other people to follow them and obey their commands and that's how other people saw them because of their advanced technology being sort of indistinguishable from the supernatural from their perspective so they interbred with humanity as we saw in the story of our past and they essentially put some of their offspring their hybrid offspring which was a combination between themselves and humanity into positions of power I simply referred these beings as the demigods because they were partial quote-unquote gods and partial human had human characteristics and traits as well so these these beings that they put into positions of power were hybrids and they didn't have as long of lifespans as them but certainly longer than regular human beings and they didn't have they had a combination of an appearance their appearance was more similar to the gods of course their genetics was more similar to the gods but it had human genetic material in it as well of course and so humans were more readily willing to accept their commands fall in line under them accept them as their rulers because they weren't really fully human they were part Anunnaki that the name that the Sumerians described to these beings they were part you know full quote-unquote God and they were part human the Bible refers to these beings these hybrid beings as Nephilim meaning those who fell a simple translation from the Hebrew verb the fall which means to fall it's actually where we really get the English word fall comes down to us from the fall so they were the Fallen ones and people interpret this meaning as fallen angels yeah well if you see the original quote unquote gods as being angels from the sky these were the beings that couldn't go back to their planet after their mission was over because they were hybrids and that was forbidden by their planets rules so yeah they were fallen to the earth they had to stay here and they were put into the chief positions of power and quote authority in our world because they had more quote God's genetics within them and if you just think about that it makes perfect sense when you think of bloodline being the reason that kingship is passed down it's not passed down through ability it's not passed down through righteousness it's not passed down through traits of the individual it's passed down through blood through kinship through who was your father who was your son who was your mother who was your daughter you know it's about genetics it's about blood transference from one you know group of people to another and therefore handing so-called Authority perceived authority down to those future generations but so why would people think that there would be such a thing as Divine Right of Kings connected to blood if there wasn't something physical to this story if there wasn't some kind of physical tangible reason that the inherent ability to rule was perceived in this way because these beings actually came from another species of beings we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us [Music] we know [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the second hour of the broadcast for this evening you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're going through the extended cosmic abandonment presentation cosmic abandonment is a presentation that explores the connection between the interference theory of human origins and the current human condition so we're into part two of this whole presentation this extended presentation which is about why do we have the social structures and institutions that we have what are their origins where do they come from why did people start believing the things the ridiculous erroneous notions the bad thought processes the absolutely false religious beliefs that they have come to you know and where did that all come from what was the origin of all that bad wrong thinking that it have some sort of a physical historical origin in the ancient past I believe that it did and the whole notion of kingship and the divine right to rule and that having to do with bloodline lineage comes directly out of the story of our past of human origins of these ancient watcher beings or fallen angel type beings people have called them many different things they've called them the gods they've called them the Watchers they've called them the Fallen Angels or simply angels they've called them the ones who came down the ones who fell you know many many different names in the modern day we refer to them as possibly extraterrestrial beings or even extra dimensional beings who knows again whatever the nature of these beings are they came here and essentially set up a kingdom for themselves as gods to rule over at least a faction of them did I don't want to paint with too broad of a brush and say every single being felt that way but certainly a large enough faction of them wanted to do that and they position themselves as our gods because they were our creators genetically and you know they looked at it like since they made us they have a right to do with us as they will and we have to listen to them they are our quote-unquote cosmic parents we are their cosmic stewards and we don't have a right to for self-determination we don't have a right to essentially own ourselves and so they created kingship which was the beginnings of government on this planet is the first governments essentially and again they put the people the the demigods into these positions of power and authority because they didn't really want to do that work themselves they didn't want to do the administrative tasks of running daily life here on this planet themselves oh no they were too lofty and and you know otherworldly and busy to do that you know they had other goals and aspirations they put their hybridize prodigy into that role you know and set them up as the king or the the priest king or Pharaoh that had to be worshipped and listened to and obeyed without question you know this is the origin of royalty this is the origin of kingship which eventually began over time because too many people began to see it as the absolute farce that it is it slowly degenerated over many many millennia into the EnOcean of government and representational government also equally as complete bunk illusions as you know this original form of government which was called kingship or royalty and you know it's all been a complete farce a complete fantasy a complete illusion something that doesn't exist in nature something that has no validity to something that has no you know absolutely not one shred of legitimacy whatsoever and you know people insist that anything has changed you know because now we have governments that are representative of people of the people's wishes really really 95 percent of America the American people don't want us involved in a lot of the foreign entanglements that we are right now but we're still there you know 90 not over 95 percent of the American people didn't want bailouts of these super mega banks but that could happen anyway didn't it the vast majority of people aren't for any gun control measures whatsoever at least in this country thank God and yet you're still seeing the encroachment of gun control happening constantly trying to continuously sneaking in and every opportunity in turn by our so-called representatives that's why the whole idea of represent representative government in general is a huge farce and an illusion because it presumes that there is authority over other people at all and anybody can be quote represented there's only one authority that exists over any human beings it's called natural law it's called the laws of morality that are in place in the universe put in place by the real god of creation period God with a capital G and you might as well capitalize the O and the D - because I'm not talking about lowercase God with double quotes around it like these completely imbalanced creatures who came here and did the things that they did to this planet and us did you know has nothing to do with the god of creation they would they would claim to usurp the role of that force in nature I don't even want you don't even have to look at it as a being if you a problem with the word God look at it as a force an underlying force of organization and intelligence present in nature I'm perfectly comfortable with the word god but if somebody else isn't hey look at it however you want whatever makes you feel comfortable but if you think mankind is the highest power inquiry in creation and we get to make up the difference between right and wrong you think just like your owners do that's exactly how they think we're the highest power in creation we get to rule over these beings we get to make up the difference between right and wrong who can tell us otherwise you know forget about what's really truly right or wrong now forget those laws that exist in nature we don't want to know about that we want to ignore that we want to believe that doesn't exist and you wonder we wonder why we're still in a prison cell as if people even need to ask that question because they never make the connection see that's how that's how people never make that karmic connection then whether our actions in our alignment with right or wrong behavior determines whether we are free or not know that connection is never made in people's cognitive Association because most people don't have cognitive Association they've been too dumbed down and conditioned and brainwashed and mind-controlled to never develop that cognitive associated associate of thinking you know god forbid that might a god forbid folks that might actually require effort and time and willpower and reading and taking in information from an eclectic variety of sources and then filtering it and thinking about it and processing it making up your own mind about it can't have that population wants nothing whatsoever to do with that you know let's hit the strip bar let's go to the game pass me a beer that's all and just pursue that hedonistic lifestyle never-ending lis the whole time sitting in a cage makes a whole lot of sense to me we'll pick this up on the other side folks don't go anywhere you're listening - what on earth is happening [Applause] [Music] you know the day destroys the night night divide today welcome back everyone we're listening to what on earth is happening here on our PN I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm we were talking about the origin of kingship the origin of government the origin of the quote unquote divine right to rule the origin of passing on the continuance of this rulership through bloodline all having to do with the quote unquote gods of the ancient world who had come here in search of whatever resources they wish to procure from this planet created a quote unquote species of primitive workers as they referred to us and essentially then decided well these are our quote unquote cosmic children we're going to rule over them as their parents and essentially create a society in which we are worshiped as God and that's essentially what they did for tens of thousands of years and it's still going on today nothing has changed you know this whole idea of kingship was what was known as the old world order it's what we call it today because it's what went on thousands tens of thousands of years back and I'm moving on to slide number 104 to illustrate this point this concept the old world order was kingship it was you know society being ruled by a priest a king or a some some type of combination of the two of those two dynamics a religious leader or a political leader and that authority being given to him by God quote/unquote directly he is divinely appointed see the gods put him in that position of power because of his blood therefore his blood is different than other people's blood and in this case it was that's not to say he should have any right to rule over other people but that is why probably so many people went along with it you know because they looked at these beings as somehow supernatural entities in their limited awareness and perspective of what they really were they had certainly had much more advanced technology and could perform feats that seemed like supernatural or magical feats to them so they were gods in their eyes and they appointed a ruler in their stead you know who would basically do their bidding and pass their commands down onto the people in this hierarchical system that they would have created this was called simply kingship or what I label it here the concept of authority vested in one being and of course I write the word authority in quotes because it's a total illusion it's completely illegitimate there is ZERO legitimacy to it never had any legitimacy there isn't any now and there never will be any legitimacy to a king there's no such thing as a king who has the actual right in nature to rule over other people if there is anybody left on this planet who actually believes that there's so many ill that I feel absolutely sorry for them how broken their brain is you know and if anybody thinks that they're under deeper mind control that I am ever capable of helping anyone to come out of but then again so many people still actually believe in this concept indirectly which we'll get to the concept of authority vested in one is the the definition of this whole concept is a system that is based entirely in violence because what it's really based on is coercion it doesn't make a difference whether the ruler is saying something to the people that they don't want or don't want to do in this system the people are perceived as having some kind of a moral obligation to obey the masters wishes okay to obey the Kings wishes and he is claiming to have a moral right to rule over them and to give them issue them commands so this system is totally based in coercion right from Jump Street right from GetGo okay it's based in violence as such and it's built upon the erroneous which means absolutely false fake you know somebody who believes in it falsely and is wrong for doing so therefore they are in error that's where the word erroneous what erroneous means the erroneous and dogmatic meaning it's unchallenged unwavering belief it's just hammered into somebody's mind from the time that they're young and then they believe in unquestioningly they're dogmatic belief which these two things constitute a religion an incorrect and dogmatic belief system is religion which is what the belief in the legitimacy of kingship always has been it is a religion most people will not have ever heard something's you know basically said like that that kingship is a religion authority in general is a religion okay it's a religion and there may the main belief is that one person is the master who possesses a moral right to issue commands to the whole body of his population and all others in that population are his subjects they are subjected to his wishes his whims his commands and they have a moral obligation to obey the commands that are set by that master now just think about that whole concept is that not what kingship is and was yeah that's exactly what kingship was and in certain places in the world sadly there still exists political Kings it's always been a religion that's based in a belief that isn't true it's based in a belief that is erroneous that is only a claim a claim made by one individual that I'm God on the earth you have to do what I say and you know you have some kind of a moral obligation to obey me and if you don't I'll do coercion and violence to you through other people that I've gotten to believe this absolute nonsense bunk and I'll have them do violence unto you of course I won't soil my hands myself because you know one I couldn't because I'm not I'm not big and bad enough to do that anyway I to have a cult that I've built based on complete false religion you know and like idiot cult followers who don't think for themselves and just want to listen to what they're told to do and follow orders they'll do all that violence to you I'll never touch you I'll never lay a hand on you you know but my moronic cult followers oh they'll go and do whatever I tell them to do and folks let me tell you something was talking with a friend about this this week this is why you'll never really hear me talk really really angrily about the masters of this world I don't talk about the people who currently rule the world in a real super nasty way I call them Psychopaths because as what they are they're psychopathic people they're like animals who do not have the capacity to actually feel that's not really saying something angrily about them or something that's really emotionally charged if you really think about all my past comments about the quote ruling class it's very sort of cold and dispassionate okay it's like I'm just explaining their nature I likened it to this when I talked with another person about this okay I likened it to would you get super emotionally charged and try to talk to or out against a tiger that had just ripped through a village and eaten a child or something like that you know if you lived let's say in a in a tribal culture in Africa and a tiger comes ripping through the village and eats a child you'd be angry at the event at what took place you'd be heartbroken and and you know possibly really you know really emotionally in upheaval over that event taking place but would what I'm asking you is would you actually try to like get up in the face of the tiger and get all crazy emotional and might be yelling things to the tiger you might go get a high-powered rifle and put a bullet through the Tigers head and be done with it and that's-- those are gonna take the hurt away of a child being killed but the whole point is that's an animal doing what an animal does if it's desperate and hungry you know to get super upset and mad angry at that tiger you know is nonsensical it doesn't even make any sense because that's just what a tiger may do in that instance you know well that's the same thing as the ruling class I never get really angry with them they're animals who act the way an animal acts what I do get mad with is order followers who do their bidding we'll pick this up on the other side stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio before the break I was talking about the fact that I you never really hear me get too emotionally charged when I talk about the quote unquote ruling class the powers that shouldn't be you know the order givers so to speak what I do get very emotionally charged when I talk about is order followers because these are the people that actually carry out the wishes for these lunatics psychopaths you know they're the ones who are basically at the behest of these animals and doing their bidding for them an animal is just what it is it's their it's their very nature a primary psychopath cannot act any other way than how it acts it's a genetic anomaly a degenerative genetic condition that is a result more likely than not of the genetic modification that these beings did to us in the distant past creating this condition as we talked about weeks ago but that just is how they are so I don't really harbor that much ill-will against them I disagree what what they do I think that they really shouldn't be doing what they're doing and but that doesn't mean that that's gonna make it so that that's just gonna magically make it make it so they're gonna continue to act the way that they act because that's all they know and that's all they are and they're not capable of becoming any more than that something is cut off from them you know you know I liken it to you know your your people sit there thinking that that somehow they could regrow their capacity to feel that's not what primary psychopathy is and people don't want to admit or acknowledge this condition exists in the world you know it's it's just like an amputation you know you're not going to say to a person who doesn't have hands you know I'm going to teach you how to have a lot of Dexter with sculpting you know you're not gonna be a sculptor with your hands at least okay sculpt with your feet or your tongue but it's not gonna happen with hands that you don't have if you were born with some kind of a genetic dysfunction or condition where you were born without hands or arms it's not there the capacity is not there it's like you're gonna try to teach mathematics to a cow the capacities not there they're not going to be able to ever grasp algebra or calculus or you know probability and statistics it isn't going to happen it's the same thing with a psychopath a Psychopaths not going to feel it's not going to have you know emotional repercussions for their behavior you know they're they're they're incapable of that so I why get all emotionally charged you know talking out against someone like that that's some program that's running that's a machine of some kind that's a flesh robot you know it's not even an actual being with that has true free will at some broken entity that is you know operating like an automaton robot and just doing what it does like a wind-up doll who does have actual free will are the people who they get to follow them and do their bidding for them those people are actually abdicating and trying to hand over their freewill responsibility to choose right from wrong for themselves to someone else and who they're giving it to is a psychopath now that I can get emotionally charged about because they're the ones who are making this world of prison they are the cause they are the ones who are actually doing it and if you don't understand that yet you're totally asleep you're completely asleep if you have any respect from police if you have any respect from military if you have any respect for any people whose job it is to follow somebody else's orders you are asleep you don't know the first thing about truth you don't know the first thing about enlightenment at all at all blanket statement blanket statement 100% that way all the time eternally I don't care who it offends cuz I'm not here to be liked or at play a popularity contest I'm here to tell the harsh hardcore uncomfortable truth that needs to be understood and integrated for this species to come out of its slavery so speaking of that word let's move on to slide number 105 because if you think that the concept of authority vested in one person as a king okay is anything other than slavery you are also completely unconscious you don't know what the truth about this reality is you don't understand that's completely inherently illegitimate there is no legitimacy to the concept of kingship the old world order the concept of a king ruling everybody else because some kind of imaginary authority is vested in him let's call it what it really is without euphemized yet without applying a euphemism which is a word to make a concept sound better than it really is that's all a euphemism ever is it's the definition of what a euphemism is let's stop applying a euphemism and calling this kingship or even rulership this is called slavery if we're being honest with ourselves if we're being honest with ourselves which most people aren't they want to lie they want to justify they want to give excuses for order followers who keep slavery in place you know because they don't want to admit that they've been wrong about something they've formerly believed that is their religion their religion moving on the slide number 106 so my question at this point in the presentation becomes what has changed has anything since the days of the quote/unquote Old World Order and kingship changed and again what I want people to understand even when I use the word Old World Order okay put order I really should in these slides have wrapped order in double quotation marks okay I do that now on my more modern stuff my more recent stuff okay it was an order this was not nothing that resembled actual order it was total and pure chaos because slavery is chaos if the condition was slavery it was chaos people have to understand that you could have slavery run by coercion where all of the slaves are well kept well fed well cared for but they're still slaves and that condition is not orderly doesn't make a difference if nobody kills anybody if nobody does anything you know just unexpected or you know in some way that people wouldn't know how to react it wouldn't make a difference how seemingly chaotic behavior ly behavior was in that situation it would still be chaos slavery is chaos okay period all the time that's why people think through harshly or directly controlling somebody else you could somehow create a state of order it's not possible it can't be done they are antitheses of each other those two states are the direct polar opposite antitheses of each other control and order the only kind of control that could ever bring out order is self-control that can ever bring about order self-control meaning you're choosing according to your own freewill decision-making processes to act within the boundaries of rights under natural law by your own control of your own behavior that's the only kind of control that can ever bring about order the external control of other at peep can never bring about order so the concept of government has anything changed since the days of the quote old world quote order concept of kingship has anything really changed in the modern world do we have the same condition of course we do the same exact thing except now the so called quote unquote Authority is distributed over a group of people you know this is where the whole concept of government came from from these beings having been put in their positions of power in the world as the kings of the old world of the ancient world and now since people started to question that question the inherent legitimacy of a king as having legitimacy to rule over a whole body a whole population of people well the powers that be the bloodline progeny of these ancient bloodlines which is what the people in the real high-ranking positions of power always have been decided they had to go more covert and distribute the alleged Authority the claim of authority over a wider body of people and take more people into that fold and so we have oligarchical governments representational governments we'll pick this up on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] oh I'd say that's pretty good advice we do need to wake up from our sleep if people believe in the legitimacy of authority and government they are indeed asleep and I mean snoring and snoozing well past the alarm has sounded and the snooze button has been hit several times as well so we were talking about you know the old world order a concept of kingship and how that was slavery by you know it's euphemized term kingship or rulership and how nothing really has changed except that the concept of government that comes down to us in the modern world is just a distributing of the alleged claim of authority instead of it being vested in one person it comes into a group of people so slide 107 really what you have to be under as I said to believe in the legitimacy of any kind of Authority is mind control and it's very interesting to note that the actual word government literally means mind control and we break it down into its etymological component roots the verb govern our a in Latin which in classical Latin was of course rendered with a be goober naari because there was no V in classical Latin and the V comes through later phonetic drift and phonetic morphing and change into other languages the verb goober nari in Latin where we get the term gubernatorial meaning related to a governor means to control and the Latin immense mentis that which is where the second part of the word government meant well any English word that ends in mint comes from his mind and yes that is the actual derivation the etymology I've been through this a million times odd nauseam with people mends mentis is the second part of the word government is where it came from etymologically it's where any word that ends in mint meaning the state of or the condition of comes from because for any state or condition in the actual reality the manifested reality that we live in to come about that the idea or concept of that thing has to first exist in mind you know that thing that state or that condition so mind is this is according to the principle of mentalism that ultimately everything is mine and everything flows from mind there had to be an idea or an archetype first and then from there then you brought that into physical manifestation or the condition into physical manifestation the object or the condition so that is why the people who originated and put together the English language over time chose the Latin word meant meaning mind to mean the state of or the condition of the word government simply means mind control it always has meant mind control it does now it always will that is what government is to believe in it is mind control you have to be under mind control to believe that there is authority vested in man period that's all it really comes down to and government is the quote new world quote order again really on if we moves forward to slide number 108 this concept of a new world order based in government and refining itself to a point where there is world government one on challenged unquestioning rulership okay they're really trying to go back to the old world order of kingship where instead of a king it will be the people of the party who act as the king you know that's all it'll just be vested in a slightly larger group of people instead of it in one so the concept of the new world order is neither new or orderly that's another thing you know I should have corrected this slide and put new in quotes and order in quotes because it's not new it's something that's the same as what was going on in the old world in the ancient world and it can never bring order because it's based in violence and control the concept of government itself is Authority quote-unquote authority vested in a group this system is entirely based in violence through coercion and built upon the erroneous and dogmatic belief or religion that a certain group of people are masters who possess the moral right to issue commands while all others are subjects who have the moral obligation to obey the commands of the master on slide number 109 I just reiterate that this is slavery it's the same concept as what was practiced in the ancient world through kingship so since kingship was a euphemism for slavery and government is the exact same thing except the the so called Authority the claimed Authority is distributed among more people instead of one it is also slavery it is the exact same thing so the answer to the question of what has changed in probably over 200,000 years or more lies on slide number 110 absolutely nothing has changed we were under slavery then we're under slavery now only the names have changed instead of kingship they call it government instead of slavery ruled by one being it's now a form of slavery ruled by multiple beings by a few comparatively when you put it when you compare it with the totality of the population a tiny tiny percent that's what the new world order is slavery and it's no different than what the old world order was is the same in concept and this is just what they want to get back to is it having having open rulership out in the open open dictatorship that's the goal of all governments to get back to the whole concept of these beings ruling over us as our gods because again their mentality comes from this abandonment mentality as we're going to talk about next week you know we went into the whole thing what makes an order follower ultimately an order follower always has abandonment issues they want mommy and they want daddy they don't want to let they don't want to grow up they don't want to be on their own they don't want to actually think for themselves they want somebody else telling calling the shots and telling them what to do like a parent they just want to act without thought you know just tell me what to do and I'll do it because that's the quote law because a group of people in suits said so not because it's right or wrong no you know they could give a damn about what's right or wrong order followers you know and I hear people on other alternative radio shows and I have to laugh hysterically saying I don't think the police would follow orders to to do anything horrible to the American public or the people there they say that they're sworn to protect I don't think the military would ever follow their orders and turn their weapons against the American public people who think like that are so naive you don't think the military or public or police would turn against the American public I mean you gotta be a joking imbecilic child to think that way and call it an ad hominem attack I don't care what you call it call it whatever the hell you want to call it you don't think the military have already turned against the people and the police have already turned against the people you're an asleep joke yourself you don't know what's going on you can't see what's already taken place in this world in this country so folks I'm gonna go that's all the slides I'm going to cover for today we're gonna get into the psychological dynamics that underlie order followers and underlie people who want Big Daddy and big mommy around all the time who don't want to grow up and be true human beings we're gonna go into all their psychological dynamics next week and talk about what really makes them tick in their completely undeveloped brains is they're the people I have an emotional problem with okay not not the elite psychopath the so called elitist psychopaths there are just animals doing what they do that's all you know and they're a tiny tiny tiny tiny tiny portion of the whole body of of this species we call humanity that would be completely negated if we wouldn't have order followers that were so ready to jump to give away their free will to somebody else they're the real problem and the people who ideologically support violence which is what we're going to get into next week in the next hour I'll be taking your phone calls so let me give the call a number here at the end of this hour briefly the callin number to join us next hour 800 3 1 3 9 4 4 3 once again the calling number to join us for questions comments anything that you want to talk about an hour number 3 1-800 it's a toll-free number 1-800 3 1 394 43 your questions your comments coming up in our number 3 of the show like I said folks it's all about owning our personal responsibility ultimately order followers want to give it away and they think somehow they can create order that way only chaos will ever be created by doing that stay with us everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening your calls next hour [Music] the cool side that we don't dare speak while between ups rips OH [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the third hour of tonight's broadcast of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm as promised we're going to be taking your calls in the third hour of the show tonight the call-in number to join us 800 3-1 394 43 once again toll-free 800 three one three nine four four three call in and talk about anything you want anything we've covered in the cosmic abandonment presentation the extended presentation so far or anything else for that matter never any taboo topics here on what on earth is happening all right let's go to the phone lines let's hear from Twain in California you are live on what on earth is happening welcome thank you mark first time calling and first time actually listen your show listened to many of your tapes and learned a lot from you and I appreciate that a couple things one things I wanted to let you know about I was able to break through mind control with something called the CES device and it basically it's cranial Electric electro-stimulation okay I brought that out there it's also good for PTSD depression supposedly anxiety and I guess even drug abuse supposedly that people have been able to get off of this in the seventies and eighties like even one of the Rolling Stones apparently was able to get off I don't know what he was on but without any withdrawal so anyway and this is I don't see generator device generates electricity like okay a couple dance and he put it on each earlobe I don't know if it's using acupuncture points or I said you don't know it's nothing special you just clip it onto the bottom of each of your earlobe and then turn it up to where you can feel and then gradually turn it down and so you can no longer feel it and they say to only use it for 20 to 30 minutes but I wasn't getting much youth out of religion efficacy out of that rate and I dialed it up a bit and actually broke through you know depression and everything it's really an amazing to realize oh we're electrical being so you know who knows uh once we tap into the right frequencies or fields uh what that may change in us you know in a deep way in a profound way Bom glad it was able to help you yeah using common what successfully I'm planning on people using them I'm having a hard time finding anybody that is at the stage that they've been successful with the common law grand jury I hear some things about it but I I personally am not too hopeful when it comes to any kind of solutions that lie within the system of man's law at all I just don't think there's any legitimacy to it to begin with natural law is the only inherently legitimate authority or law in the universe and until man obeys that good luck with anything with any other solution until people understand that that's what governs whether we are free or not and we start aligning our behavior according to those laws of morality there's freedom is not possible cannot ever be acquired it cannot ever be manifested so okay the other all of that yeah I mean exactly yeah see that all of man's laws based on moral relativism which goes against natural law in most of the time so all of man's law is basically either redundant or it is completely can be completely thrown out because it's not in harmony with natural law you know if it is it that means it's redundant and therefore you don't need to state it write it down it's already in effect it's all you already bound by it and if it's not in harmony with natural law it can't legitimately be binding on anybody so it should be ignored you know most of the laws we have now are out of harmony with natural law of man's laws so you know it's always been alleged to begin with governments never been legitimate man's law is not something that is legitimate because it's based on the concept of authority and and the coercion of the state and the lack of the respect for self ownership of other individuals it's cut it's based in collectivism it's based in coercion it's based in violence and therefore it's not in harmony with natural law so I mean I'm I don't not saying I don't have some respect for the the will that some of these people put together to come up with the ideas to do some of these systems I just think ultimately they're spinning their their wheels because they're still going to a system that is based in authority to basically ask for their you know permission in some form you know when it comes to sovereigns you know you're going and filling out paperwork by somebody and that's you know asking somebody to respect your sovereignty well you're basically saying they have the ability to either respect that or not respect it so is that really you thinking that that your sovereign you know so I mean that's why I don't really subscribe to the free man on the land movements or the common law grand jury movements in general if it's going through a system that is based in man's law in any way as far as I'm concerned there's there's not really legitimacy to it I think we're already sovereign see I don't need anybody's consent to agree that I'm a sovereign being that I that I own myself that I am NOT a slave of another it doesn't make a difference how many people say that I am how many people say that I'm not the eternal truth is that we are sovereign entities the end and it can never be otherwise it can never actually be made any other way than that it's only all of man's law is just of jurisdiction is a claim of authority so I say why bother convening grand jury this or that or the other thing it's all about take your sovereignty it's your possession it's not anybody else's possession to take you know to take away from you we have to stand up and take actual real-world action to say we are not going to take this anymore we're not going to accept all this corruption we're not going to a set accept all of these laws that are constraining our freedom it has to be taken freedom as he is taken it's either kept or it's taken away and it's been taken away and now we need to take it take back what is rightfully ours there I mean I understand that that strong words that's strong language that's the only way I really know how to put it openly in a in a conversational way is to say outright there is no legitimate Authority there is no legitimacy to man's law anybody working within that system is working within something that's still legitimate somebody's harmed that's natural law you don't harm others surely there's natural law common law a grand jury is the fourth branch of government outside the entire man law how could you call it government how could you legitimately call something government government is a system that is based in coercion if something is not based in coercion then you can't rightfully call it government you can't legitimacy legitimately say that that's government government by its very definition is a claim of authority so are these people claiming that they're an authority over other beings know that 24 people will get together and decide if they're somebody who's been harmed outside the government okay well I have no problem with a group of people coming together and looking at evidence about something that may or may not have taken place and saying you know we think that this is what happened or not now you know if people are free to do that but to call it a branch of government is where I would take no exception to that the press the free independent capitalist press with the branch of government it didn't mean that literally okay I know this is like the Fourth Estate concept of government and litter in the sense that the press was supposed to be the check on the institution of government yeah I see okay fair enough you know so mark my take on it is still you know that's not going to do too much until we take this existing immoral and corrupt system down you know yeah no I only knew royalty quote unquote what is this cannibalism thing with it how they are had always been a part of it great I will take that on the other side of the break [Music] and [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening we're taking your calls in this our toll-free number to join us 831 394 43 yeah I want to thank Twain for his call in the last segment he ended that segment asking a question about what it was the role of cannibalism in some of these ancient societies and the practices that they engaged in with cannibalism and you know a lot of these ancient ruling classes perhaps they felt you know just might take on it perhaps they felt that somehow they were preserving certain traits or characteristics that were very strong in the bloodline of some of the people who they perhaps consumed you know that would be one way that they in their mind or in their religious belief or tradition thought that they were going to preserve certain characteristics or abilities that's the only real way that I see cannibalism being practiced in by these you know occult covert rulers especially in the past my take is does that go on now more likely than not it wouldn't shock me one bit if things like that went on now because there are practices that I've heard about that go on in the dark occult that would you know raise the hair on people's head and prevent them from sleeping at night you know so nothing is beyond their capability of their degradation degra gated morality and absolute inhumane mindset as far as I'm concerned I mean when people when these people really are living like animals there's nothing that you could suggest that I wouldn't put past them being capable of doing that's what a what a psychopath is capable of is absolutely anything to another human being or another living person living entity period so I hope that answers my take on that but let's hear from Ivan in Phoenix Ivan welcome back - what on earth is happening good to hear from you hi mark how you doing doing well how are you alright going through some of the self realization of my own cognitive dissonance if that makes any kind of sense okay and why I say this is it I know David Eick talked about this once in like an interview or something I heard of his how he started at one point like getting rid of all his stuff and cleaning out his home and and everything like that and that it was kind of like yeah you start tearing down if you're waking up to one form of reality or how things are you can't hold on to the way things were before and little by little things in your life start either disappearing or you got to deconstruct it right or reconstruct it and I feel I'm kind of going through that but mentally it's a cognitive dissonance because I know like I've mentioned before you know I I have two boys so I still like have that and uh this man-made system have to paid quote-unquote child support and all this stuff and and everything else but yet I'm struggling with trying to get away from supporting or having to deal with that system but yet I understand and know that that's the system I need to get away from and I want one problem I had was with a co-worker constantly telling me lead by example to lead by example and that's where I get stuck because my example would be get away from this and go live in the mountains live off nature and and you know that's that's it don't deal with this but then I wouldn't be addressing the problem the problem was to exist the system will still be in place and my example will be to run away I agree I totally agree that's not the solution right here altogether entirely too much talk and actually seeing too much of people thinking that they're going to somehow escape this problem escapism is an illusion it literally is what the ego wants to tell a lot of people to do because they can't see a solution in sight and therefore their object is I'm going to hide from it or something as if it's not going to find you is it you know one of the allegorical movies I know whenever you call and I like to or we somehow get onto the topic of allegories it just seems like a a thing for me and you Ivan but a great allegorical movie about the actual inability to run away from a problem is Kite Runner based on the book you know this child had a problem with a bully when he was young and you know essentially saw it as some kind of as he grew up as something that was just inherent in his society in some way and he was going to leave it by coming to America you know and he lives his life in America only to find out that the problem really follows him and he can't escape it and he has to go back and confront it from where he was originally from in the Middle East and it's just a great spiritual allegory about you cannot run away from problems and this is no different this is not something we are going to run away from the earth isn't going to separate into two earths where there's going to be government and slavery on one and then somehow magically an ascended earth is going to exist with no control the people who think that are under a new-age spell you know they've been lied to and they've bought into a absolute religious notion of some kind of a rapture that's going to happen on another dimension you know it's just another variant of the Christian idea of the rapture and you know the people who have bought learned all this notions that somehow the good people are going to be magically spared and they're not going to be involved in the same on the same sphere on the same membrane of existence the same plane of existence as what's going on with everyone else they're just absolutely kidding themselves they are literally in a state of cognitive dissonance escapism and it doesn't work that way what is going to happen here is going to happen to everyone on this planet you know and that's what people don't want to hear or accept and they want to think somehow they can insulate themselves from it you might be able to insulate yourself for a time by hiding in some remote corner of the world but that again like you said the problem is still going to exist and be there and the lesson is not try to find a way to avoid this that's not the problem it's too late for that that comes at the beginning at the beginning of the problem to solve it is don't ever let it come to this once it's this bad if you don't confront it it's going to get worse and worse and worse right see now now here's the thing though that what I was talking about that is a way that we can live and we have a free will you know a choice to live that way but the thing is that that is not a solution that's right we this is kind of like that ends this is not the means to that end I can go and live in the mountains and all that but that doesn't mean that's a solution for this current problem we still have to go through this problem and solve it after the governments have been taken down all these control systems or this way of life has been obliterated and it doesn't exist anymore then we can be free to go live in any mountains have solar power pump own water and all this stuff but that is not the solution it no exactly not even more than that and even more than that Ivan even anybody that would say I hate that I can't stand when people say if you don't like this go somewhere else move you're gonna tell me I need to move away from where I was born no no no how about you move and I'll make you be the one to move I'll make this problem go away and leave by an active force if necessary you know if it comes to that I'm standing my ground I'm standing my ground okay you know I'm a the people who say move you know you don't like the way things are done here move we're the ones who are gonna make them move at some point okay that's what's gonna happen when real freedom breaks out we're gonna be the one to make them move we need [Music] Oh [Music] welcome back everyone we're taking your calls in this hour of the show you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark Pass to you I want to thank Ivan from Phoenix for his very profound insight that escape is no solution it never has been and never will be I've said before many times on this show that the way out is through your not going over or around or under this problem where we've let it come to now the only way out of this is going right through it through direct confrontation of the underlying causal dynamics of the problem itself and very possibly if we fail to do that through direct physical confrontation which is what I want to try to avoid because if it comes to that the devastation that's gonna happen to this planet and its people is gonna be beyond calculation and I think that's what we're that's what humanity's willingly choosing they're willingly choosing going down that road and it's a mistake it's a mistake but if we have to go down it so be it you know we want to choose the way of maximum pain this species because we're self-loathing species as a whole these are the dynamics we're going to talk about next week on the show so thanks Ivan for that profound observation there that there is no running from this problem there is no running from it there is no hiding from it there is no escaping it the solution lies in confronting it let's hear from Robin in Missouri Robin you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show it marks good to hear from you so I think my question is kind of relevant to what you've been talking about regards about Anunnaki in the last few weeks basically I'm wondering how you feel about the gender Wars that seemed to be going on with this planet his men and women in the u.s. marry end up divorcing about 50% of the time which is pretty ridiculous the more in other nations too I'm wondering how you feel about this and do you think it's maybe because Anunnaki came down and twisted our genetics to create this constant battle I'm making the psyches incompatible with one another or is it maybe because of the societal construct that's making her way stressed out or is it just like an imbalance of the fem of the feminine and masculine energies an individual and it just seems like we're basing our mating behavior off of the lower reptilian brain and that's current based on a survival the ministrant survival of the fittest mentality let's say it's a combination of a lot of those factors you know you have all the societal pressures that always drive a wedge between families between in you know couples as well you know you have the type of sex drives that people were programmed with versus what social norms are considered to be you know you have the constant mental manipulation the mind control divide and conquer strategies that are brought on by the rulers the powers to be to keep people warring against each other and you have the types of brain and balance in the masculine and feminine which exists within both sexes you know both all of those things combined to create factors that continue to drive wedges between people and keep them on different pages keep them separated so that they're easier to conquer and rule and keep them enslaved yeah I just think it's pretty crazy that for thousands of years we're still basing most of our behavior and the lower reptilian brain I feel like at this point our evolution we should start thinking about what traits you want to reap do we want a weed out of her psyche what do we want to include etc it just seems crazy that this was still going on that was rooted in this survival of the fittest mentality and that erver mating behavior - it's a total worldview schism and it's a poisoned worldview that it's all about just the survival of physical matter and morality into the picture and consciousness doesn't enter into the picture I got into it at the beginning part of this extended presentation series when I talked about the whole origins a schism that the the the you know schism between creationism and and Darwinism and how that's also perpetuated to divide and conquer people yeah I mean the people who have this idea that it's all about Darwinian macro biological evolution of physical matter and just you know everything is just a mechanized clockwork of of atoms that is all there just to propagate for no reason like a virus does you know is it's such a poisonous worldview that that's a really really really powerful mindset that has kept people enslaved and people don't see that as an enslavement mindset they see that as some kind of a scientific mindset it's nothing of the kind you know there's there's no real knowledge no real science and just believing that the world is some kind of an automaton clockwork you know that's that's an imbalanced poison worldview as far as I'm concerned and it's not really based on any real science to begin with on top of that so you know the people who take up that position are just extraordinarily left brained in their imbalance that's the way that the mind control got them you know that's how I look at it yeah I mean it's just also we had something that's called conscious evolution we're gifted with a higher awareness where we can dictate how our genes progress throughout the years and animals do not have this gift and it's just a shame that we're wasting this gift they're not looking at how we can advance it though all the potential in the species it's almost incalculable and what did we do we built a prison you know it's a sad sad sad commentary on what humanity's highest vision of itself seems to be you know Robin thanks so much for the insights great call let's hear from Gary in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania Gary you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark how you doing doing well how are ya I'm the DVD guy you can either see down there North Carolina oh yes beautiful how have you been uh doing the same thing by allowing people with my DVDs don't like people that's it keep spreading the truth right persistence and that it's really all about that's right amen what do you have tonight you know this this has been a good show and I've been I've been sitting here thinking before I forget you know we said we sent you one of my guys since yeah I need now two weeks acted by coming to speak over this way I don't know if you saw I did and I have it on my to-do list to get back to him I've just been so swamped with different things I have not had a chance to give him a call I have his number actually right here oh why to-do list on my whiteboard and I'm going to call him this week okay great yeah I told him I was calling tonight so I would mention out of Menten email you know be nice to do a foundation in Pittsburgh I've been there many times I enjoy going to the city and I will talk to him and try to set that up oh that would be great yeah we'll get don't set up all will make it worth your while to come and you'll have a good time but I was thinking about you know the most of the countries in the Stockholm Syndrome they've they've come to you know accept their enslavement and you know the the best slaves there are those who don't even know their slaves and that's that's exactly that's the dynamic they want and in effect because if somebody thinks that they're free they're never going to battle against their enslavement they're never going to try to really truly free themselves if they think that's think that that's already the case erroneously you know yep like my friend was telling me about you know Josie what's-her-name Outlaw Josey Larkins friend Oh Josey Wales yeah Josie the outlaw yes yeah yeah he was telling me about a one of her videos that she was she was like ranting saying what what law would you refuse you know I mean how far can we go where you finally say no I'm not doing that you're exactly I mean it's just common sense but you know they it's just perceived Authority with these Disney he's taking people walking around that have this distorted perception that that man that one man has the authority over another it's like when you were in the courtroom and then the judge comes in they say all right for what oh right all right well I make I'm gonna give him authority right this is the thing order following the dynamic of order following is the crux of the problem I think I'm gonna do a presentation in the future called what makes a good person good and a bad person bad that this is what people really don't get is that the very base dynamic of what it means to be a person that does not really have a developed sense of true conscience is that they are the people who are willing to follow someone else's orders no order follower has ever been a truly good human being ever ever let me just say that emphatically again so I could really try to offend some people out there maybe the really per their ears up and listen and pay attention there has never been in the history of the universe an order follower no matter who they were taking orders from that has been a truly good being period could I make any more of a blanket statement than that the definition of being a bad person a bad being is that you are willing to follow the orders of another being period I don't care where it is in the universe I don't care what planet it's on I don't care what species it is if one being is following the order of another being that being who is doing the order following is not a good Bing period by definition and this humanity refuses to accept they refuse to accept that truth that eternal truth that can never be made untrue it is an unwavering unalterable eternal truth in the universe in nature well I agree we're going to a break we'll be back folks [Music] you know today disguise the night-night divide today try to hide to the other welcome back everyone last segment of the show for this evening the time really does fly we were talking to Gary in Pittsburgh Gary I was saying before that really all order followers since the beginning of time they really don't have a developed sense of conscience and this is what makes them be willing to follow someone else's orders by definition that's a person who has not really developed conscience and by definition they are not a truly good human being you can be do some good things to people in your life but an order follower is a person who is willing to follow the dictates of an other even if those dictates are not in harmony with the laws of morality by definition that makes you not a good a truly good human being and if you want to like capitalize you know truly good human being the capital T you know Capital G capital H capital B truly good human being okay I'm talking about in the real sense not that they are incapable of doing anything good in the world and means ultimately that the core essence of the being remained truly undeveloped and never came into the capacity of truly knowing the difference between right and wrong behavior for themselves that's what I mean by that so I'll let you finish up your thought there that's my take on that but any other thing you wonder to bring on table go right ahead thank you you get to be so fired up and irritated is when you hear from police officers school teachers whoever whatever perceived Authority well I'm just doing my job I have a family at home to feed right well you know what it's all just old-fashioned step aside so I can pays your pregnant wife because she won't give me her papers here I mean I'm just doing my job I have a family to feed you know how about thinking for yourself yeah exactly no but see that's the whole thing a person who hasn't truly come in to conscience and therefore isn't a true human being does not want to think for themselves they think that they can abdicate their responsibility for their own actual behaviors to another person to another human being and that can't really be done in nature you can only claim that you can do that you can never really truly do that in actual point of fact reality it cannot be done what is because though mark what what do you think is what we're gonna get to next week on the show right inside the food and the fluoride never they are conditioning next week on the show I'm going to talk about the very causal dynamic psychological factors that lead people to want to follow orders then lead people to one control and lead people to at a - to continue to support ideologically support violence and control that's what the theme of the show for next week is going to be honest very I'll leave it at that sorry about losing Bob I know I heard I heard about this and you know it really loud I really upsets me and we've got to do something to try to get him back on because it happened as a result of a huge amount of confusion and miscommunication and I feel really bad about what took place and Bob was really largely responsible for getting me on airwaves to begin with in general you know and and on this network certainly helped that process out tremendously so I mean I just really empathize with what happened with Bob and I don't I I you know I'm not really happy about it and I really think I hope that we could at least bring him back on for an hour or two and even our right something great because his work is phenomenal and really needs to be shared with people out there for sure amen okay okay mark Gary thank you so much man great call all right let's go to another call before we wrap up let's hear from John and Kentucky John you are live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hello mark can you hear me yes I can loud and clear okay sir I just got out of the military a few weeks ago and previously I watched a movie The Thin Red Line and there was a quote in the movie that really impacted me inside and I felt like printing it on on a bunch of about a hundred pieces of paper and gave it to my company and I'd like to read it to you if that's okay sure go right ahead okay um this great evil where does it come from how did it steal into the world what seed what root did it grow from who's doing this who's killing us robbing us of life and light mocking us with the sight of what we might have known does our ruin benefit the earth does it help the grass to grow the Sun to shine is this darkness in you to have you passed through the night and I put at the end if you're my foe this evil is in you remember I will not hesitate hmm that's where I wrote that to my company before leaving I just kind of wanted to just let him know how I felt about the war and my involvement in this tyrannical world of takeover and yeah you know so it was just my things to give to the guys I guess and have you gotten out are you out for good yes I am completely out I've done two tours over in Iraq unfortunately and I'm out now and Easter out now I commend you for that yes is there any questions you have from a soldier who's I guess you could say awake and wrote this you know I know you you're pressing on they're trying to get the awakening of the soldiers and military police so I if you have any questions for me that's fine okay I'll give you I'll say what's your honest appraisal about whether soldiers will willingly follow their orders unquestioningly to do what whatever they're commanded to do what would you see a percentage let's say instead of trying to qualify it you know with words what do you think a percentage breakdown would be of how many people would unquestionably follow their orders if they were let's say to turn against their own population for whatever reasons they justified it with because you know they'll always try to make it dress it up and make it look like it was necessary how many people will say I'll fall in line with my orders percentage-wise and how many people would say I will resist that physically if necessary I would say probably twenty to thirty percent would would stand down and I would say the majority would be afraid of their hierarchy structure that's about what I agree with that is about what I'm here with yep yeah and that is realistic that is realistic to me realistic numbers is I would say 8 out of 10 would go along and 2 out of 10 would resist and yet finding eed to get them to wake and they are but they're too like oh I got to finish up my time and I don't like through that guys you need to get out now the only way you're gonna end this is if you're out and you're not wearing that stupid uniform there it is there just thank you for saying that there this sure take it easy out there absolutely great call that makes me feel like there's some hope in this world right a call like that awesome huh I don't know how we're going to top that one but let's go to geralyn in Phoenix we have very limited time so you're live on the air what do you have for us okay let's hear from Tom and Toronto you're live on what on earth is happening we have limited time I talked mark yes sorry doing one short so uh about you know the god in quotation mark and how they in Egypt they had heads of animal and I think that sort of the synchronistic symbolism of how they had really animalistic ways about them considering their lack of morality yes when eating human race treating them awful really like animals in many in many cases I I would say I don't want to paint with an extremely broad brush to say all of them behave that way but many did there were factions of them that wanted to uplift humanity and teach us and teach us how to use technologies in the right way and teach us how to be essentially moral beings amongst each other through our behaviors it wasn't all of them there were some somewhat good beings um even among them but you know the whole thing that they did here I think was a could you could sum it up and say it was like a huge ultimate sin against creation playing God here the way that they did so I wouldn't go so far as to say all of them were totally evil but there were some who wanted to help humanity in some ways yeah it's really animalistic like with the first pentagram domination by the animal urges sure that's part of Satanism as it comes down to us in the modern world which came from some of these older occult ik belief systems definitely it praises all the self and where the self based desires you know and puts down the spirit but you know are you saying did that really come from these beings that that whole essence that whole kind of ideology come from these beings I would say probably it came down through these beings into the present day in the form that it does that's from some point in the ancient past like I said since they created our religions and they created the priests classes that descended into Satanism and dark luciferianism I would say that there is a connection to these beings you know for those ideologies I hope that somewhat answers the question but unfortunately that's all the time we have for this episode of what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen remember there are only two mistakes one can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next week thanks for listening [Music] [Music] at the door tickets for the seminar only a thirty dollar cash donation I am going to announce here for the first time today that there will be a free your mind three conference coming up in 2015 the new website went live a few days ago went live I believe earlier this past week and it looks really great I am no longer the main organizer for this conference I have stepped down from that capacity and there is a new organizational team that is running this conference I am basically staying on as simply an advisor and I'm going to be one of the speakers for next year's event but I did to come out early and since the new website went up I wanted to alert people's attention to that you could check that out at free your mind conference calm the venue and date for 2015 is being worked on it is not has not been publicly announced I believe they have solidified plans for the for the event and the venue but it is not publicly announced yet on the website so I'm not going to announce that on the show until it's publicly announced by the main organizers so I wish JG vibes and Bob Tuscan who are two of the main organizers for next year's event all the best and they're in their continuing efforts to take the reins of this great event and I'm sure they're gonna be moving it into the future in a way that is going to make it bigger and better than ever and I'm really looking forward to being one of the speakers at the for your mind conference in 2015 coming up probably in the first half of next year so with that having been said I want to let everyone know there is a donation button on the left-hand side of the what on earth is happening comm website if you feel that you've received value from the information that has been shared both on this radio show and on my website through my videos you could feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so that I can continue in the future you could do that by clicking on the donate button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening dot-com website I want to direct everyone's attention up to the what on earth is happening comm site to the radio show page as always while I'm doing the show live there are usually images associated with the show for that that particular night and you can click on the numerical links that are on the radio show page if you're listening via podcast you can click on the links in the podcast section of the site of course and that will bring up a slideshow through which you can follow the images that I'm referring to when I go through the presentation for this evening so the first of two images on the page on the radio show page images for tonight's show the first image of course was the poster for the demystifying the occult seminar for October 4th the second image was essentially the homepage of the for your mind conference website of the new website people can check that out at free your mind conference calm once again last week we left off talking about essentially that the old world order quote-unquote was slavery and the new world order is also slavery and in that regard really not much has changed in probably tens of thousands if not hundreds of thousands of years in human history and what we were getting ready to explore was what is the psychological dynamic that holds that slavery in place that prevents people from breaking out of their self-imposed chains what makes people believe that slavery is necessary what makes people believe that slavery through government which by it's just a euphemism for the same thing you know if there is authority vested in one person or if there's a thority vested in thousands of people it still amounts to slavery it is what is tantamount to slavery over other people what makes people believe that that is necessary what makes people believe that that must continue that that must go on indefinitely we're going to talk about that today on what on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen we'll pick it up from right there on the other side of this break stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm well we're going to get into tonight in the extended cosmic abandonment presentation which I've been going over for the past many weeks on this show and will for the next few weeks at least we're going to talk about what really is the psychological are the psychological underlying factors that are going on in the human mind that continue the slavery system that humanity is trapped within and what really puts that there what are the things that are deep inside the human psyche going on that makes people continue to feel that slavery is necessary whether they consciously are aware that that's what they are advocating or not it doesn't make a difference if they're consciously aware of that you know people will advocate for government for control for slavery for coercion for all kinds of different reasons and ultimately it's all the same core motivating psychological factors deep down inside often running as programs that are running in the subconscious mind that are driving that desire and we ended up on slide number 110 on in the slides for this presentation last week which was essentially juxtaposing the old variant of slavery - the new variant of slavery and showing essentially how they're exactly the same thing only a different name you know in a different amount of people the quote unquote Authority the illusion of authority is just distributed among more people in the new slavery that's all so in we're moving on to slide number 111 for tonight's broadcast and into the future slides so what the question that I posed in slide number 111 is in light of our quote-unquote troubled human past and that's probably the understatement of the millennium okay to say that we have a troubled human past is you know absolutely really making light of it it's it's it's an absolute brutally traumatized human past really is what it really is because trauma is what ultimately leads to the content the continuation of this condition you know and the psychological factors that make people want it to continue so I mean our past is not just troubled it's absolutely violently traumatic I'm talking about humanity as a whole as a species in light of our troubled human past and the origins of modern cultural institutions which is what we spent the greater bulk of the last few shows going over and just let me just pause there for a moment I know in the middle of this question but I just want to say I think that you could tell when you're really over a target that the quote-unquote powers that rule this world should not do not want you talking about when you know they start really trying to do something to detract from your message or to make people not be able to reach your information during that time as I said my website was under you know denial of service attacks etc and it all happened really during the point when I was trying to talk about and communicate and get across the idea of where the modern cultural institutions of money religion and government came from the origins seeing people want to say why why do you think it's so important on staying origins we went over all these reasons why it's so important if you don't know your your past you're gonna make the same mistakes over and over again you're not going to understand where you came from and therefore you don't understand the direction that you're even heading in you have no frame of reference people who are trying to control other people always want to cut them off from their origins cults want to cut people off from their family members and wider level worldwide cults want to cut people off from the understanding of the past it's one of the main ways that they get into the human psyche and control people because we have no frame of reference to understand past events past traumas okay past you know struggles that we had to go through and learn lessons from and overcome they don't want people understanding any of those things so this show has come under probably the greatest amount of flack because it's been over the target okay and that is the origins of institutions the origins where did these things that have so much power influence and control in the world come from what were their origins they don't want you to even consider that they don't want you to even ever have the notion in your mind to ask the question where did that come from how did that get started what put that here on earth with us that something controllers don't want anybody asking ever so it's just a very interesting to note that that's when probably the most resistance that has ever encountered myself for this radio program came about I find it interesting anyway in light of the troubled human past and the origins of the modern cultural institutions do we now possess a psychological framework through which to better understand the behavior of certain groups of human beings and I would argue yes we do this cosmic abandonment extended presentation up to this point has allowed us to understand the events that have taken place in our world and what that's going to help us to further understand is how the mindset that is in place in the vast vast amount of people of our society got that way how did that get put in place it didn't just come out of nowhere what is the origin of people wanting to remain willfully ignorant what's the origin of them not wanting to exercise personal free will and responsibility you know what is the origin of them wanting to follow other people's orders what is the origin of them not wanting to think for themselves where do all of these psychological factors come from they don't just magically pop up out of nowhere and see many people are under the false idea that somehow they do that that's just human nature and it is not human nature this is a lie this is one of the biggest lies the biggest falsehoods that is fed to humanity that were just like this because that's our nature we're just that's our programming a nature created us that way some hell no wrong incorrect absolutely incorrect that is a condition that has to be forged that has to be influenced to become that way it doesn't just happen it isn't just our nature see this is one of the whole biggest problems of human thinking that we're just bad from the get-go we're just somehow it's we're just somehow trash or something like that out of our very essence this is how if some religionists think the doctrine of original sin it's how some Darwinists think you know that we're just bad genetics we're just bad gene pool you know it's how you Genesis often think and if it's the way that the general public thinks they fall right into the same lines of thinking as the quote-unquote in the the quote-unquote powers that shouldn't be you know and they don't think that they're falling into a trap by thinking that way you have people that just think people are just the way they are they're born that way somehow and they can never actually change you know they don't understand what happened in the past to make our species this way it was conditions that did this it was factors in the environment it was factors in things that took place in events that played out in our world that we experience that we underwent and that created tremendous trauma in the collective human psyche we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn we're talking about the underlying psychological factors that humanity has been in for thousands of years that continue people desiring the state of slavery that they're living under subconsciously without even really understanding what it is they're continuing to bring about in their lives why don't people want to really know truth I'm talking about in mass numbers what holds people back from wanting to understand deep psychological factors - why do they want to remain willfully ignorant you know people will look at that oh that's that's the bottom line cause right is just ignorance well it's not just ignorance there's something that makes someone want to remain ignorant you know that's not just something that people are like there's a reason for that so what I'm saying is we have to go past just looking at people don't want to know they're willfully ignorant and we have to ask the question why why are they willfully ignorant so on this slide a slide number 111 I introduced this concept of what I call the tree of evil the tree of all evil it's a psychological framework for looking at the current human condition and understand understanding why are we in this condition so if you apply this metaphor try to understand this as a metaphor a tree grows from its roots and then the trunk is firmly embedded you know in the ground from the roots and then from the trunk you have the main branches coming out from it then you have the smaller branches and twigs and then you have the leaves and then finally that tree bears fruit particularly you know if it's a fruit bearing tree fruit comes from the tree and then seeds sprout from that fruit and they drop to the ground and it's thought the process starts all over again it continues it perpetuates itself it's a cyclical process so we have to look at the psychological factors that have continued slavery on this world in a metaphor like this which you know like I said I call it the tree of evil because it's an easy way of explaining it okay you look at what most people will see is the bottom line the very base bottom of this dynamic they'll say it's their people's willful ignorance they don't want to know the truth and I'm trying to explain that's not the bottom line that's the very thing before you get to the fruit which is evil which is coercion which is control which is slavery okay willful ignorance has to come before the bearing of that bad fruit okay of course but it's not the bottom line reason you go deeper than willful ignorance and you get down to like the the branches the smaller branches of the tree and you realize that there's a reason people don't want to know again that just doesn't happen people aren't born in the world not wanting to know anything okay something had to happen to make someone like that so if you really get to the underlying factor regarding why people don't want to know it's fear fear is what's always driving ignorance again if you just look at the natural law chart the chart of natural law expressions that I put forward the very force that you're working with to create ignorant which is the beginning of the negative side of the natural law expressions okay is fear fear is the force that shuts consciousness down it's the force that counteracts the force of love which is openness to truth which is the flowering of consciousness which is wanting to accept truth into one's life okay so fear is the force that counteracts that positive expression and it sets all the negative forces all the negative expressions at work into our lives but you have to be in fear in order to do that and what are people in fear of people who don't want to know are in fear of something why wouldn't somebody want to know what's going on in the world well with knowledge comes responsibility when you're in a position of knowledge you are empowered to act in the right way when you're not in a position of knowledge when you're in a position of ignorance you don't have the empowerment to actually act within right so these people want to falsely claim I'm not saying it can actually be done in reality it's always a false claim please be clear of that when you're hearing what I'm saying here when I say the people don't want personal responsibility that's not something that actually can occur in nature you're always personally responsible for your behaviors okay people fear owning their personal responsibility they are in fear of that ownership they don't want it to be present of course it can never not be present it's not possible for that not to be present it's it's part of your nature it's part of it's something that you're just birthed with having the responsibility for your behaviors but people think that they could somehow magically give that away because they're afraid that ultimately they're responsible for that which they do so in that fear of personal responsibility and owning that that birthright they want to remain as ignorant as possible - it's almost like it's a play it's it's a game that they're playing you know it's trying to claim that something that you cannot actually do in nature and I'm not telling you there aren't really ignorant people out there who don't really know anything that about what's going on in the world and that's because of their own doing that's their own choosing but that doesn't make them not responsible as a matter of fact that makes them all the more responsible for all the negative things that are going on because they remain willfully ignorant of of it and therefore they don't seek to change any of it it's all because of fear fear of owning one's personal responsibility to act in a moral capacity and again that personal responsibility can never really be abdicated you can make the claim that you're doing that but actually in reality you cannot actually give your personal responsibility to judge the difference between right and wrong away to any other living being that is yours it is always yours you cannot give it away you cannot separate it from yourself it is part of you so is the fear of taking full ownership of one's personal responsibility to choose right action over wrong action the bottom line psychological factor of why people are in the condition that they're in I would claim that it is not because you have to ask yourself what factor puts that fear in place why would someone become fearful of being an actual psychological spiritual adult why would they not want to be a psychological and spiritual adult why would they not want to grow up out of their infancy mentally emotionally spiritually there has to be a reason for that see the state of spiritual adulthood means you own your responsibility you know that you're responsible for your behavior you know you're responsible for the choices you make and the actions you subsequently take so where does that fear come from and psychologically if we dig deeper into the root factors we're getting closer to the root cause the root cause but we're not there yet we're out what I would call the base of the tree the trunk of the tree the part that is somewhat above ground you know but then it goes under the ground and then the the roots are there underneath the surface that you really that's really the hardest part to see without doing some digging in the dirt okay the trunk of the tree which is almost at the base level is people ultimately hate themselves self-loathing is a gigantic part of the collective human condition people hear me say that and they get very angry they get very offended no no it isn't so how could you say that humanity hates itself folks we don't have developed self-love for ourselves we hate ourselves deep down inside people largely hate themselves and there's a reason they hate themselves this has a reason okay see it's all gonna be psychological conditions until you get down to an event until you get down to an event that was the triggering cause and we're gonna get to that we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] the cold side don't speak between us cold of a catalogue welcome back everyone and listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn on their host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're talking about the underlying psychological framework that is the continuing factors in the current human condition and we were talking about self loathing how people are a self-loathing species how humanity is essentially a self-loathing species people really deep down inside don't like themselves they don't have a personal relationship with themselves they have not done the inner work upon themselves to understand why they behave the way that they behave and this is because of the lack of self respect that they have for themselves you know they have never really turned inward lee turned their vision inwardly that's what respect means to look again from the latin Specht ra which means to look at re means again to look at again to look at the self again that's what self-respect is it means you are reading your inner motivations your reevaluating your behavior your reevaluating the underlying motivations that are deep inside of yourself that drive your behavior or at least have driven your behavior up to that point and then you're saying have I been acting within the bounds of right is this how I should be behaving what does this say about me and the kind of person that I am do I have any right to continue to act this way do I have any right to continue to support the things I have supported just complicit Li tacitly by not doing anything about it or by vocally advocating for it if it's based in coercion or violence you know so many people are complicit in the slavery system just because of their erroneous beliefs and vocalizing them you know somehow justifying other people's bad behavior and somehow making an excuse for it and thinking that it can be turned into a right somehow it's all due to self-loathing people more I keep telling people the condition is the way that it is because more people want it that way than not if more people didn't want it that way than not it wouldn't be that way wouldn't make a difference how much money was offered to someone it wouldn't make a difference how much power was offered to someone it wouldn't make a difference how much someone was threatened none of those factors would play into the equation when you're standing truly in right none of those things make a difference and people want to make excuses over and over and over and over and over for other people's wrong behaviors and wrong thinking it's all because they ultimately hate themselves a people who didn't hate themselves couldn't continue their enslavement not possible folks just think about that statement for a moment really think on it really let it sink in could a people that actually loved themselves continue to allow their own enslavement especially if it were in their power to end it and don't tell me that it's not within our power to end this enslavement because it absolutely most certainly is people are too ignorant lazy and cowardly to get off their rear ends and just do that that's all it comes down to and know everybody wants to be an apologist for this species and there's a reason they're like that they did have not developed self-love they are in a state of self-loathing due to a lack of their own self-respect collectively on a mass scale and that comes from a lack of self respect individually according to law of Correspondence that which is above is like to that which is below well a species that self-loathing means that the individuals that comprise that species are self-loathing until we develop true self-respect we're never going to get out of that condition of self-loathing and therefore we're never going to own our personal responsibility to use our free will to choose between the objective difference between right and wrong behavior and choose willfully the right over the wrong and until that happens the external conditions can not change not only will they stay the same it is an absolute utter impossibility for them to change so get over it what we're really talking about here is what has to happen is people have to develop enough self-love to come out of their ignorance that's what the great work is folks to work with another individual until they do that the great work is no less than just that to work with another individual to help them to turn their sight inwardly to look upon themselves again to develop self-respect to come out of the condition of self-loathing and to want to own their personal responsibility and come into adulthood spiritual adulthood of knowing the difference between right and wrong behavior dispelling willful ignorance and willfully then using the world power to choose the right over the wrong and nobody said it was going to be easy folks I never said that this process would be easy it's the hardest work there is to that's why so few people do it that's why so few people want to do it when you tell them what the work is and what they're actually attacking to change it's not about we're going to shut down this Bank or something like that or we're going to go over here and bring some food over to these people you know or we're going to go over here we're gonna vote for a different political party this is all this is all other cake compared to the deep work that really needs to be done in the human psychology in the human heart and then most of all in the guts in in in the human will Center courage has to be developed persistence has to be developed willpower has to be developed all driven by the heart driven by care people don't want to do that work they look at that and they say you're out of your mind that's the the most difficult thing there is to do is change a human being from a person who is an undeveloped soul to a person who is spiritually developed I want no part of that work no part of it that's what most people say and then they turn around they're their eyes go glassy they turn around and they run in the other direction and what I'm telling you is what our work is to do is to make those people face themselves that's the great work of the alchemists of this world and that is done by the power of the voice if you haven't figured that out yet you're probably still asleep just letting people be the way they are and not being an influence for them to change for the better through first of all you're not only your words but your behavior first and foremost through your behavior in the world setting the example and then constantly reinforcing that with your words being a hypocrite isn't going to make much difference you have to live it first and then constantly speak it now if we look at one level deeper people will say well isn't at the end of it no there's what like I said these are all psychological factors and conditions so far there's an event that you have to get to and see this is why they don't want anybody looking at this presentation this is why they don't want to be looking at the origins of cultural cultural and human institutions no you know that's letting the genie out of the bottle we can't have that if we want to maintain slavery on this world and you know you'll see people coming out continuously attacking this entire thesis you can call it a theory if you want but there's tons of evidence to back it up I'd like to refer to it as a thesis myself you know because it's an explanatory I like to call an explanatory synthesis even more than than a thesis because it's a coming together of all these different factors and showing how they interrelate with each other showing how they've created the current condition that we're in how they it perpetuates the current condition an explanatory synthesis seeking to explain why we're at where we are at there's one more level to go folks to get to the root of the tree of evil and we'll start picking that up in the next section ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening stay with us [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the second hour of tonight's what on earth is happening broadcast I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com we're continuing our extended cosmic abandonment presentation that we've been going through for the past many weeks here on the show and we're talking about the causal factors of evil and the events that led to those factors being embedded in the human psyche nested deep down in the human subconscious and attempting to explain why these factors continue to stay rooted there and drive the human condition of the desire for continued slavery on this planet and yes I said people desire it they desire it more than just about anything else deep down inside of themselves psychologically and if they didn't it wouldn't and couldn't be that way if they didn't want it that way it could not continue to be that way that is a law of the universe folks get is upset about that as you want bang your fists against the table crying your milk over it doesn't make a difference doesn't make one bit of difference you know people get really upset when you say that but it's true that's what you have to understand about how the laws of attraction work if the humanity would not would not continue to desire their own slavery their slavery could not continue because if they wanted to be out of slavery bad enough they would understand the law that is in place in the universe that governs freedom or slavery if they wanted to be free bad enough they would turn their attention to those laws in nature and they would come out of their ignorance and into the knowledge of how those laws operate but they don't want the Associated responsibility that goes along with that freedom and therefore they crave their chains like a baby craves its bottle okay and like I said it's all because ultimately deep down inside were a species who is stuck in a childlike state of self-loathing and I say childlike state because if we look at these conditions that we've already talked about in this show so far willful ignorance the fear of owning personal responsibility self-loathing due to a lack of self respect these are all hallmarks of a particular kind of individual in this world there are hallmarks of a child who has never psychologically really begun to grow up into adulthood an undeveloped being that has not come into knowledge that has not come into personal responsibility that has not come into a true truly developed mindset of a deep personal relationship with themselves and deep self respect they haven't worked on any of those things in themselves that's the hallmark of a child and moreover it's the hallmark of a child who wants to remain a child who doesn't want to come out of childhood and into adulthood and that's exactly what humanity is humanity's being called out of its childhood and into cosmic adulthood and most of humanity wants no part of it oh you want me to say I'm responsible for myself truly absolutely not I'm a child somebody else is responsible for me I'm not responsible for my own behavior I'm not responsible for my own actions how could you dare claim such a thing I don't know a thing I'm willfully ignorant you know somebody else is responsible I just follow other people's orders this is just my job this is just what I do this is just my nature it's not a choice there's no responsibility associated with it yeah okay sure keep telling yourself that folks keep telling yourself that and keep letting other people believe it see that's the thing you may understand what the truth is but you look at the other person who is ignorant who's next to you who's this ignorant as a brick and you say that's not my responsibility to teach them that's not my responsibility to say something to them that's not my responsibility to rock the boat or to create an uncomfortable condition here absolute bull it absolutely 100% is your responsibility if you know to say something and therein lies the problem those who know don't want to take actual real world action to influence other people to change they want to just say oh I know and I'm fine no you're not you're bound by other people's ignorance and until you get up off your lazy rear end and start to influence those people you're going to be continuously bound and enslaved by their ignorance this is what people in the my freedom movement don't understand there is no such thing as my freedom until all are out none are out and that's what people also don't want to hear they think you're gonna magically be some island of freedom unto yourself it doesn't work that way folks you may be out spiritually you may be out mentally but you're going to be in Chains physically as long as others around you are ignorant and until we raise the collective mass consciousness of humanity out of the state of collective self-loathing we are not going to be able to change that condition that's what the great work is to do so when we look at these factors if I could just impress this upon people if you look at these psychological factors that have led to this condition you are looking at psychological factors indicative of a child's mindset any by any psychologist would be able to look at that and tell you that it's so clear it's like you know bright writing on the wall it's like a bright light going off for anybody who's done any modicum of study of human psychology now the question is what makes a child hate themselves if humanity as a species is like a child who hates themselves and therefore has no true self-respect and doesn't want its responsibility to come into its adulthood it doesn't want to know about itself it doesn't want to know about its condition it doesn't want to learn it doesn't want to grow it wants to stay where it's at it wants somebody else to take care of it it wants to get out the easy way it wants to make justifications for its poor behavior all the hallmarks of a frightened self-loathing child and that's exactly what humanity is on a mass scale our species is a frightened self-loathing child well then the question becomes psychologically what creates a frightened self-loathing child really only one thing creates a frightened self-loathing child that's bad parenting you could say oh well the conditions all around you but if adults are making that condition all around for the child it's all bad parenting it's bad adults around them the influence of adults around them is a negative influence because it's programmed and ultimately what we're witnessing through this psychological condition is a child that has actually been abandoned what that's what we're really looking at when we look at the root causes psychological factor that lays under all of those other factors it comes down to a child that has been left to be that way it's been abandoned and therefore it is fallen into that state of self-loathing as a result we'll pick this up on the other side of the break stay with us everyone [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening com we were talking about the root causes psychological factor that has ultimately led to all the other causal factors that has led to the human condition of slavery and the root factor ladies and gentlemen is parental abandonment issues and again when I say parental abandonment issues it does not have to mean physical abandonment and I don't mean every child is abandoned I'm saying humanity on a grand scale on a cosmic scale has been abandoned by our quote-unquote creators has been abandoned by the ones who came here in the ancient human past made us what we are and then essentially decided we don't want any part of this anymore we have our own issues to attend to we came here to use them for what we needed them for and now we're gone and you could make the argument some of them stayed here among us or the progeny of those beings stayed here among us interbred with us you know eventually blend it in with our gene pool disappeared from physical sight but some of their characteristics DNA you know perhaps stayed and integrated and played an influence in human affairs for for millennia but ultimately what we were was a child that was born onto a set of parents that didn't want the Associated responsibility of parenting and I would not make that a blanket statement I would say most of them did not but some attempted to actually be a good quote-unquote parent to humanity but ultimately they failed at that job and they left humanity in a self-loathing condition because when I look at what happens when an undeveloped child's mind perceives that its parent does not want any part of it what happens almost invariably that child turns to a state of self-loathing their mindset turns to a state of self-loathing almost invariably it's what drives so many adolescents angst an improper behavior from the kind of self-loathing that leads to addiction you know to just acting out in a completely unchallenged without any associated personal responsibility whatsoever continuing to live in an ignorant way not putting any emphasis on self-improvement not putting any emphasis on wanting to know or to grow to learn you know and that's what so many people are like in society because of bed physical parenting one-on-one you know at a lower level I'm talking about now at a cosmic level our whole species underwent abandonment like that when the beings that came here created us and then just left left us here in a state that as we talked about in the story of the past was barbaric and essentially we were being ruled over by their progeny the hybrid race that had they had interbred that they went when they interbred with us that they had created what you might call the demigods or what people referred to as the fallen ones the Nephilim you know this story is told in so many allegories I mean we're going to get into that in a future show I'll do a whole show just on allegories that talk about this ancient story and it just veiled the veiled allegory and it's just the retelling of this ancient story I just re-watched one I saw in the theaters originally but I just rewatched it last night and it was just I feel a brilliant retelling of this story it was the movie Noah if you just watched that movie with fresh eyes after understanding the story of cosmic abandonment it'll make perfect sense to you because in that movie the Bing that is referred to as the Creator quote-unquote is the is n ki is the and as he was known in the Sumerian tales and legends that is the N key being or the N key faction of these beings these extraterrestrials or extra dimensionals or whatever you want to refer to them as and then the other group of Watchers who helped you know drive humanity toward a more barbaric technological civilization and help the the the descendants of Cain rule with an iron fist was the Enloe faction you know that the that's what you're witnessing the creator is n key in that allegory you know it's not the god of creation that's what that they want to try to tell you that it is even the gold plays a role in it and I believe they call it Zohar in them in the movie you know it's it's just unbelievable how thinly veiled some of these allegories even are and people still can't see it you know told you right in the movie these other beings came they interfered with our development the creator basically cast them down as a result well what do you think that interference was it was changing our genetic code it was in breeding with this species even after they had modified the genetic code they they became the Fallen ones at that point the Nephilim which comes from the hebrew 'no fall which means to fall and then some of them wanted to basically make man you know have dominion over the earth you know through their technology and through their their habits and their worldview and that was who they called the descendants of Cain and then some of that that negative and evil faction of of beings helped the that ruthless faction of beings helped those humans do that and taught them those ways and then some of the quote-unquote creators progeny his group who or his faction and Key's faction if you will it was the set of beings that helped the the descendants of Seth Noah who was just Ziusudra in the Sumerian epic you know people don't even look at that like there's it's the exact same story only told in much more rich detail you go to the sumerian and akkadian mythos and you have the tale of Ziusudra who is the biblical noah it's the same being it's the same story only it's three thousand years before that time or more maybe four well religionists won't explain that because their religion is the right one it doesn't have any origin it doesn't come from anywhere it's just the inspired Word of God and that's the end of things you know so much easier to believe that then actually look into what may have actually occurred here in the ancient past that a lot of these scriptures were trying to tell us about and then also understand there's another aspect of it that is out gorica it's a combination it's a mixture it's all of those things it's not one-dimensional it's you know dimensional but you can't tell that to a religiously minded person because they have their belief their faith and that's it evidence be damned looking for the actual truth be damned it's about what I believe has nothing to do with with with facts or knowledge it's just my belief I like how people say I don't believe this story of cosmic abandonment well who cares I could care less what you believe go go good luck with that and good luck to you and enjoy the rest of your journey in life and whatever you're gonna do I could care less whether you believe it or not it's either true or it's not there's either either evidence to support it or it's not it's either what happened or it isn't does it require anybody's belief it's called look into it for yourself before you make that judgement pick this up stay with us [Music] you know today destroys the night 95 today welcome back everyone this is what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're talking about cosmic abandonment parental abandonment issues nested deep within the human psyche collectively leading to the condition of self-loathing the fear of owning personal responsibility and coming into true adulthood as a species leading to willful ignorance and finally fruiting in following orders coercing others doing violence unto others not respecting others natural rights and ultimately slavery these are the roots of the human condition whether we want to admit it or not if we're being honest with ourselves and when I say abandonment it doesn't have to be physical like I said it could be psychological abandonment it could be spiritual abandonment it could be emotional abandonment it's a parent not doing what is required for the further development of the child which is their responsibility as that child's mentor you know and when the events in our ancient past happened us left us in this complete deep psychological condition of self-loathing we essentially wanted to do everything that we could to project outward our need for someone to come and be our parent that's why we developed the desire for all of these institutions so-called protection you know so-called serving the people taking care of the people we want somebody to do that for us some external entity this magical entity we're going to create with all these abilities that none of us actually really has all these rights that we don't really have you know we're going to imbue it with that this magical force this magical thing this body of other people you know that has special rights they're going to be the all-knowing they're going to be the all-powerful they're going to be the ones that are going to be our parents they're gonna be the ones that are gonna give to us what we need they're gonna show us the way etc and so forth all because that parental figure was lacking and we could never really come out of our own infancy on our own through our own personal strength through our own interconnection to the true self to the higher power in the universe the true creator not the fake quote-unquote gods so-called gods that claim to be our gods our creators I'm talking about the real creator of the universe the real force of underlying intelligence and goodness in creation no we didn't want to try to make that connection and through our own willpower climb up out of that state of self-loathing we want to project outward we want to project outwardly and say somebody else has to take care of us even if we have to create that being for ourselves and that's what man has done through religion through the state through money through government etc always trying to create its God its parent to take care of it to take care of humanity for it instead of us developing the will to care for ourselves anything with that that might require knowledge that might require effort that might require kindness that might require generosity that might require willpower I can't have any of those things we want somebody else to do it for us that's why we always want to we want to crush through religion we want to crush through the state it's a joke it's a big laughing joke that's on us and you know who's playing it on us we are nobody else is doing it to us we're doing it to ourselves that's the real irony that's the real laughing joke of the whole situation so the question that I posed at the beginning of this show on slide 111 which we have not moved from and that's fine like I said this will take as long as it takes to get through I have plenty of time you know we'll take as many shows as we have to to work our way through this material in an extended way and break it down in light of our troubled past and the origins of all of our modern institutions can we now form a psychological framework through which to better understand the behavior of certain groups of human beings generalizing now we're going to look at some types of people groups of human beings general types and we're going to ask the question does this fit the psychological profile of an abandoned child that doesn't really want to grow up of self-loathing people who don't want to own their own personal responsibilities of willful ignorance or even a blind faith that they do know something but really they're not following the truth they're just following their institution that they propped up as mommy or daddy and so I'm gonna go I'm there's going to be in this section and you know I won't finish this probably this week will probably continue this next week but there is going to be a lot of vitriol thrown about caustic bitter speech vitriol the ITR IOL vitriol look it up it means caustic bitter speech biting speech venomous speech and some people don't want to hear this well whatever then - now you know they want to think with their emotions I can't say anything vicious that isn't true right no that's not possible I can't launch an ad hominem attack on somebody else because it's true because these people don't deserve any real respect until they develop it for themselves you can't give respect to somebody else ultimately you have to have it develop it inside for yourself first before you can give it and these people are not only can't give respect to another person they themselves are really unworthy of respect themselves because they act the way that they act every one of these people is a child blanket statement the people who fit into this psychological profile the groups I'm going to talk about are all undeveloped beings they're all childlike beings that have never really spiritually grown up and the reason for that is because they all externalize their power to another entity and in many cases it's completely imagined entity so let's start with the worshipers of scientism the super super left-brained individuals out there what I would call the rigid skeptics the rigidly skeptical and in many cases this is just a belief I want to say something about pure skeptics rigid skeptics I have healthy skepticism the skepticism is very important and I would never discourage it I'm not talking about normal healthy skepticism asking questions wanting to get answers going to where the truth leads that's real skepticism that means you're not believing anything I don't believe anything people keep asking me what's your belief what's your beliefs what's your beliefs I don't have any beliefs I don't have a religious belief system I don't need one the only system that I pursue is truth which leads to knowledge and then belief is not required I said at the beginning of this podcast there's only one belief that has ever required the belief that the truth exists and you can know it and you can come to know it because no creator would put an an unsolvable puzzle before humanity and then torment them with it endlessly about what our purposes our reason for being with the nature of reality how good and evil are at work in the world how natural law works it's all knowable it's all knowable if you don't accept that those things are knowable you are a believer you're a believer that the universe was essentially created to endlessly torture people I never put having anything that can be known and that's called salep season and that's what essentially rigid skeptics really are they don't believe there's any such thing as truth ultimately when they're pressed when you get down to it with these people they are SOL abscissa dirty word to them it's the devil to them you know the wor very word truth is the devil to them because they want to be in a position of continuous relativity with everything else they want to see everything as shades of gray and that means they're never actually truly responsible that's what a solid cyst once they want haziness and fuzziness in everything they want everything to be able to be disproven not to be true because they don't want the Associated responsibility that comes with definitive knowledge that's ultimately the out that they are seeking we'll explore this more on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn we'll be right back [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio I'm gonna be taking your calls next hour so I'll give the call-in number once again to join us here on what on earth is happening the call-in number is 803 one three ninety four forty three once again toll-free 800 three one three nine four four three two wrap up in this last section for this hour I was on slide number 112 talking about rigid skeptics I'm talking about unhealthy skepticism the belief that anything that falls outside of the non mainstream idea of science is somehow not true that there's only one source for truth and that is mainstream scientific research and anything that science quote-unquote science won't touch is not true cannot be true you know I call this and many other researchers like David Icke of course calls this scientism - I think it's a good word - coined for this because it is a belief system it is not real science a real scientist that true scientist goes wherever the truth leads and then publishes that result worshippers of at the altar of scientism don't go wherever the truth leads they go wherever the money leads wherever the person who's promising to continue to fund them allows them to go you know I call them the paradigm protectors you know they're the gatekeepers of the established scientific paradigm that's still based in ancient outmoded and proven false Newtonian notions of how everything in nature works including the human body and mind you know who absolutely left-brained imbeciles like Stephen Hawking you know think and people actually like worship this guy and read his writings and think he's so wonderful when he says free will is dead philosophy is dead people are basically automaton flesh robots or how about this guy on the image 112 a fill class akka total shill for the government you know who founded UFO researchers for basically his entire life you know didn't do any of the research himself didn't look at any of the evidence just ramp it D bunker you know debunkers fall into this category they never actually looked at the evidence or address the evidence you know they just want to they just want to attack someone else and it came out later that this guy was on the CIA payroll for almost the entire time that he was putting debunking forward against the UFO community the UFO research community now that begs a question why would the Central Intelligence Agency of the United States have a vested interest in trying to detract attention away from the validity of the

UFO phenomenon by hiring shows like this proven he was on the payroll the CIA to do what he was doing so then that begs the question why why would the CIA not want anybody researching the possibility of extraterrestrial interaction with humanity oh there's a very good and valid reason because they know all about the extra-terrestrial interaction with humanity already and they want that covered up and locked down tight so nobody can really understand the truth of it because it has all to do with our origins as a people and the origins of our civilization and the origins of the institutions of slavery and they don't want anybody to understand the underlying reasons those institutions are in place you know I mean it's just absolutely unbelievable the things that people will do for money against their own species like this absolute piece of garbage who is now dead and in hell if there is such a place but you know what the hell that he lived in through his whole life was his own sick mind which is hell enough you know and moving to the next slide 1:13 I'd like to put a tag line if I'm going to launch an ad hominem attack against these different groups of people who I think are perfect slaves they're perfect examples of what a good slave behaves like you know I'm gonna give them a little tagline a little saying that goes along with them so here's what fill class and all the other rigid skeptics the left brain imbalance worshippers of scientism their tagline with what what they're they're you know talk bubble next to their imbalanced head would say is I'm skeptical about everything unless the government or a government funded scientists say it's true then I'm a true believer because that's all there is today folks there's you think real science is being done you're absolutely joking and kidding yourself I'm not saying everything that comes out of the scientist science scientists you know paradigm or the whole field of science the world of science is to be completely and utterly dish trusted I'm not saying none of it is real none of it is true what I'm saying we're not really pursuing as a people real science anymore as a culture as a species we are pursuing what I call government-funded science which means whatever the government doesn't want discovered it pulls the funding for whatever it doesn't want put in a manifestation it pulls the funding for then how are these peeps I anticipate our own pocket are they gonna hold fundraisers know all the science quote unquote that's being done is all done with stolen tax dollars that is allotted for certain grant monies you know that these science begged the government on a yearly basis for that's that's half of what they do half of what they do isn't even the research it's writing the grants it's begging the government for the money to do the research that they want to do and telling them why it has they feel it should be done and then what the results gonna be they're telling them in advance what we're going to do this for what the results going to be is that real science you somehow know the result in advance and then you're gonna go and beg the person for the money to do this so that they get the results that they want out of it and if they don't they pull the funding that's how science works today folks if you don't understand that that's how it works you're a naive clueless person that is how science works I'd like to get a call from scientists scientists out there call me you tell me it doesn't work that way and I'll tell you you're full of crap okay cuz I that's exactly how it works exactly how it works now I know one will call into dispute that you know and if you do you're lying you're absolutely lying because you want to believe you're not part of that and you're somehow part of true science you're joking with yourself you're lying to yourself and you're playing the joke on you whether you understand that or not so let's move on to another group to just lay some vicious vitriol out to because these people deserve this and you could call it as left-brained as you want you could say whatever you want about it the bottom line is I'm gonna say what other people won't say okay because they're loath to say because who sensibilities they might offend I'm not here to be liked or to win a popularity contest I'm here to tell the bitter truth the next group of people on slide number depicted on slide number 114 who are cosmic children okay and again just going back to the rigid skeptics whose daddy to them you know who's the parent well the parent is the actual institution of science itself you know that tells me what's real I don't have to go anywhere I don't have to look at anything that exists outside the walls established by the scientific community no no no that tells me everything I need to know and it's all it's all known and safe in that bubble and anything that conflicts with that well we just ignore it we throw it out we discount it right off the bat without looking into it is that the mark of an adult is that an adult mindset no it's a child's mindset who's scared of what they might find they don't want to overturn the applecart you know they don't want to rock the boat you know no because then what happens all the other children start to hurl us assaults verbal assaults n' and and viciousness toward them you know the other children join in the chorus they join in the chorus of attacking that person for being different you know they don't have an ounce of courage these are all cowards you're cowards rigid skeptics and people who are deep in the left brain mode of scientism you're cowards you don't have one drop of real courage within you at all at all plenty of other groups to launch a vitriolic attacks on next week folks so we'll continue that your calls on the other side [Music] welcome back everyone we're into the third hour of tonight's broadcast you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm as promised for the third hour we're going to be taking your calls no taboo topics over here on what on earth is happening you could call and talk about anything you want to bring up if you want to ask any questions that's fair game is well if you want to talk about the cosmic abandonment presentation or any of the concepts brought up of course that's what we've been talking about over the last several weeks all of that is fair game so let's go to the phone lines and let's hear from Robyn in Missouri Rob and you are live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark a brother yeah how you doing so yeah hey good show as usual so what yeah yeah what I was looking forward to talking with you tonight was just certain weather modification and you know what is going on in this country at the moment so I want to ask you what what is the weather currently like there in Philadelphia how is your summer been it has been reasonably cool we've had a very mild very non humid summer that is not really very typical of this region of the country for sure you know it's kind of like a nice change as far as I'm concerned I don't like the intense heat but it's definitely out of the usual for certain yeah yeah it's not a big surprise me at all moving in northeastern Missouri and I would describe the situation just like in Philadelphia we are usually accustomed to really hot summers really humid but this year it's been a remarkably cool summer very humid but still it's just very cool and it's just fun very unnatural and this is most certainly been the trend in this country at the moment so there's obviously something going on right now climatically that is very unnatural sure then using different weather modification techniques scale or scaler modification to lower slowly over time the Jetstream air and they've been pushing that I feel artificially they've been pushing that south for the last couple of decades so we may be seeing the effects of that you know in the real world now you know with much colder winters and much milder summers mm-hmm yeah and this is a topic that not a lot of people are talking about in regards to a lot of the conspiracies going on right now but California is the drought that's going on in there right now is pretty darn catastrophic and people are not paying attention to it but California in the southwest right now in the United States are going there was such a bad drought right now and all the rain and by leaving in a lot of rain in the past couple weeks in northeastern Missouri so it's like literally all the rain from the southwest is being siphoned and put towards the central and eastern United States so you have this huge dichotomy going on right now yeah we've had a lot of rain here over the last week a lot of been very overcast and cloudy days as well yeah you know I think part of this is a food you know affecting the food growing centers of the United States particularly California is going to have a devastating impact on food supplies and prices in the end up in the coming years so I think that's part of the agenda to further weaken the United States and you have to maintain an open and skeptical mind regarding their ability to actually physically manipulate the weather that they're at their command through covert technologies and we know that these things exist they're out there the extent to which they're there have been using them remains to be seen but of we very well could be seeing the effects of weather modification already and hardly agree with you but there's one other part of the equation that I think we have to add to this as well okay and you're right in saying that California is one of the biggest crop producers of the United States so if they get hit hard the entire states get how hard yeah so if people cannot grow enough food to sustain themselves the United States they are gonna depend on the government in the Han coming years which is a huge part of it absolutely also part of it also is if you destroy California it's one of the biggest honeybee population centers the states too so what they're trying to do is not only destroy the crop but they're trying to destroy the honeybee population pollinate rose which are ultimately required for yeah they're growing in Trenton strengthening of crops and food supplies absolutely yeah and you know once pollinators go you know the the entire food chain human food chain essentially follows shortly after yes people understand that just how critically important bees are and just one more point Charlie pond um I work for the US government last year for an entire year working with native bees so I personally work from the government funded projects working on saving the bees I can personally verify that you are absolutely correct that the scientists and and the government responds these scientists are totally fake and and they can totally pull away the funding for these projects whenever the heck they want to and that is what they've been doing and they don't care and the money they are putting forth saving the bees right now is nothing more than public image so what people know that okay they do care but they are only doing it just enough do that public image but they do not care and I have to stress that absolutely Robin great points that you brought forward thanks so much for the call and you know Robin is absolutely right you think about it if government money is funding science can you rely on the accuracy of that kind of science being done and the results that it's bringing forward and looking at that and saying that's absolutely the truth that is exactly you know orderly results and and specific good results that we're getting from that process when ultimately the driving force is coming from government money you know from what they want to see done with that research I would have to say that would be the best reason to be highly skeptical of those results that you're getting through that kind of quote-unquote science so once again really great points they're brought off by Rob and thanks for the call let's uh let's move forward and let's hear from James in California James you're live on what on earth is happening welcome yeah hi mark what an honor to speak with you you I just want to say how much I appreciate your program and it's really changed my life and thank you thanks for quiet I use what you know what I'm learning I'm using with others I mean I meant bringing this message out that's honest all about so I'm really grateful on itself it's really changed my life well anyway I'm just really it's a privilege to talk to you and I'm gonna meet you in October at the yeah event oh great you're coming out to Connecticut awesome yeah just for you you know you're you're the man all the C's I never I have a question I've been wanting you to talk about and I really would like for you to explain this because I think your explanation of some occult things are so they're really been helpful but I haven't heard you speak about HTV you know Blavatsky and her theory of evolution and what the following angel and is for me that's confusing because I I'm not quite you know sure like what the message is here with all that yeah so that's one thing sure I'm sorry no that's okay god you can continue oh and I get on top of that question just to talk about like how the writings have been used by the occult elite could be her writings are so significant yes I really should do a whole show on theosophy one day yeah maybe we could uh maybe I could put that together at some point with Bob from Cincinnati I've done some kind of a cult specials you might say with Bob so it's something I might look into in the few but um yeah Blavatsky x' work is actually really great and you know contribute so much to the overall understanding of the occult and how it's been used by these elitists and her work in many cases was a warning to try to warn people that there were sorcerers out there in the world that we're using these occult knowledge to their benefit at everyone else's expense I'll continue to explain that on the other side of this break folks stay with us [Music] [Music] the cool side that we don't hear speak it's a while between ups you know real so we keep pretending that there's nothing wrong if Kol decides to walk welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm taking your calls and the third and final hour of the show for this evening we were talking to James in California and he was asking about Helena Petrovna Blavatsky 'he's work and her view of the occult and I was explaining that she her work really does serve as a warning in many ways of how this occult knowledge can be used to the detriment of humanity if people remain willfully ignorant and other people who have a lot of willpower but don't have a lot of compassion can use that knowledge as a weapon to gain a tactical advantage over those other people who remain ignorant of it Blavatsky x' work deals a lot with Vedic teachings in ancient Eastern teachings from the Indus Valley and she talks a lot about cycles you know time cycles and you know how essentially of tendencies in nature kind of tend to repeat themselves in waves and she talks about you know the route races of humanity as she sees the origins of human beings and she also her work was also really a very perverted and twisted in many ways by later occultist darka cultists who really paved the way for the third reich and nazi germany I mean if you look at you know Blavatsky is often talked about as influencing that and she absolutely did not you know that's definitely a very you know dimensional and immature view of her occult teachings and work and trying to paint her somehow as as the bad guy you know when she was warning about people like this like guido von lits but von list and Lance Laban fells and and you know uh sabaton Dorf and other dark occultists that came out of pre the pre nazi germany era that took her work and basically twisted into this you know racist ideology that had to do with purely genetics and blood and didn't really have to do with the knowledge that she was talking about so you know it's it's a very similar thing to how some of Crowley's work is viewed as all bad you know it's the same thing from people who don't understand what the occult really is they don't understand how it has more than one aspect to it and they don't understand how a lot of the people that they perceive as just you know dimensional somehow bad guys really were you know explaining that there's more than one side to this and trying to make people see it in a more mature light it takes really a lifetime of study and deep reading and you know comparative studies in order to understand this and order also understand hey from some people's perspective also back then you know they had a limited view and weren't aware of some things that we're aware of now and vice versa so you have to really read a lot of older occultist writings from this multi dimensional point of view and understand that you have to take certain things that they talked about with a grain of salt because of the worldview back then and you also have to you know understand that they were coming at this from their own particular unique perspective and not every single thing that they were talking about will have been right but it also doesn't mean that one thing you hear that you disagree with and that paints them as the bad guy or the agent or the devil etc you know it takes a very mature perspective and understanding to understand a lot of occult writings from in in that kind of way and that's why so many people don't really get the occult and don't really look into in a deeper way because they want an easy answer there as it is with all of these occult writings there is no easy answer you have to read deeply into it you have to take what resonates with truth and natural law and move forward with that and if other things don't really um you know resonate with truth and you know leave them at the door and move on you know and most people can't do that it's it's like an all-or-nothing for them they disagree with one thing somebody says then somehow they were they were the devil they were deemed demonic mind and a bad influence these people were looking for the truth from their own perspective as well and let me tell you something many of them did way way more than anybody is doing today with the amount of writing that they put down and preserve for future generations you know that's the one thing I keep saying to people I know this is kind of a long-winded response but I hope it's kind of the gist of this is getting through the main thing is put the work out there yourself you know if there's something I get emails all the time from people you know hey mark cover this talk about this this is what I think is important well I think that's wonderful you think it's important go and talk about it yourself especially if you have knowledge on it if you have knowledge on it that's what you should be talking about make that your speciality make that your forte and go out there and put that out to people I'm not here to take requests from people for what they want me to talk about I'm here to talk about what I feel is important but since James brought this up I think it is a very important topic and it is something I would like to cover theosophy is something I haven't explored in depth as a specific occult school of thought on its own it's something I probably should look into doing and so at some point in the near future maybe after my Connecticut seminar so James really great question I hope that I answered it for you and let's move on and hear from Raphael in Indiana Raphael you are live on what on earth is happening welcome back to the show oh hi Mark thanks for taking my call have some mom this one thanks for taking our time on this current presentation and covering all encompassing aspects that relate to cosmic abandonment it's pretty amazing and pretty insulting yeah I kind of kind of took a preview of what the next sliders who's gonna be and one of them is um I think it's supporters of slavery yes and today on the way home from my the grocery store I turned on the radio and I heard a snippet of something that's going on and the incident would first and hand up basically there was actually supporters on the side of the police officer yeah and it kind of I thought of exactly when you talk about today war is somebody guns down a citizen in basically cold blood and there's people out supporting this what wouldn't they support I mean you know hey not they supported the people supported Nazi Germany they supported the Gestapo they supported the SA the store mob Thailand they supported the SS the Schutzstaffel well one they support what what form of slavery wouldn't people support is my question it's not what form would they support it's what what and they support that like I said they love it they love it they can't get enough of it because you know what there is deep-seated racial motivation underneath a lot of this I mean you hear reports the KKK is coming out and supporting the police just because the person they shot was an african-american individual you know it's like this is how sick people are they'll so they don't understand it's a state versus you issue has nothing to do with race it has nothing to do with beliefs it has nothing to do with anything except people who believe that they are your authority and God versus you that's what this issue is about and they can't see it they're so blind because of all of their other divide and conquer strategies that have been played against them and those programs that are running in their mind and their ego identification and their ego attachment and their little petty role in life as my my race my color my religion my Creed my plate you know of geographic region of the country my nationality etc and so forth and they can't understand as a result of all that dividing they're absolutely being ruled they're they're being completely enslaved and they can't see it and they would even support their enslavers that are eventually going to be there murder you know that's how naive these fools are an essential link I don't know if you got a chance to look at it but oh this past week and I saw it was a article and I was a posting I guess somebody posted off basically it's a social media post that won a st. Louis police officer commented on his Facebook and basically he his quote was basically the protester should have been put down like rabid dog the first night you know people don't think that the general viewing let them try is all I have to say to that and they'll find out what will happen we'll pick it up right from there folks stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to water on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio we're taking your calls in the final hour of the show we were speaking in the last segment to Raphael in Indiana Raphael you were talking about slaves who love their own enslavement you want to wrap up with that topic yeah I actually I just I found it actually cut disturbing actually comical same time work you know you have these supporters supporting their own enslavement you get a caller last week and mention the same thing it's like they they love their own change and they don't even know it yep it's exactly true and they keep supporting violence that is done to the people by the state because somehow they are find dis pleasurable or displeasing some aspect of somebody else's life you know so therefore we're going to advocate for violence to be done unto them you know when even if they're within their rights by the state you know you see this going on in so many different ways in society you know from one racist group attacking somebody else who's been attacked by the state just because you know that person is a different race than them too you see things like this going on interpersonally in people's lives like you know a a divorcing couple you know the the the the father might report on something you know that he does that he isn't because he's going through a divorce and he might report the the the mother of the child to the state for some reason because he wants to get custody you know petty things like this go on and people bring the state into their lives they love it they love the presence of mommy and daddy in their lives because they're too childish too immature to resolve their differences for themselves in a way that is you know operating within the bounds of natural law and right behavior and therefore they want mommy to come in and solve the the conflict or daddy to come in and solve the conflict and that's the state is all too happy to acquiesce to those demands and come in and take control because that's all it's ultimately about and essentially these people are they're saying Master I beg you to come and keep me on the plantation that's all they're saying they and they love it they love it because they're children who have never grown up never taken responsibility for their own lives and want to be kept under control that's what they want you know so I think you're right on point but by seeing this dynamic Raphael the the only question becomes is what are we individually going to do about this it's and we have to bring this message to these people's ears and help them to understand that bringing the state in any instance is not the right thing to do it's actually the thing that all that could possibly do is lead to more enslavement and more destruction you know and it's going to all come to a head eventually I mean I'm you know I'm not looking forward to even seeing what's gonna happen if this when this cop goes to trial what happens if he's let off scot-free which is bound to happen because I'm telling you that's what they want they want to see some kind of massive up you know uprising or civil unrest so that they can declare martial law but at some point what are people what are people are their backs are gonna be against the wall what are we gonna let happen we're gonna let cops start turning into the Gestapo with the right to just shoot people at random because they feel like it because they disobeyed that's what they're basically telling you that in the open don't disobey a cop or we will kill you that's what they're coming basically out in the open they're trying to externalize that and come forward and say we're gonna use deadly force if we're disobeyed you know and that has nothing to do with the rule of law at all at all that has that's called tyranny and at some point if it is the start does start becoming like that there's only one option and that is physical resistance you know and people don't want to hear that they want to think there's never a time for that there is a time for that and that time is rapidly approaching it's rapidly approaching unfortunately I don't want to see it come to that but you know at some point when the people's backs are up against the wall to a certain extent there's not going to be any other recourse you know and I really loathe to see the day when it when that begins because when it begins it's gonna be very difficult for anybody to turn it off so you know let's hope it doesn't come to that let's hope we can get it done through the mind which is the way it really has to be done for it to be a true lasting peaceful revolution you know it has to be done in the realm of psychology it has to be done in the realm of the human mind and the human heart when we get it done that way then it'll be lasting and not one shot has to be fired you know so Raphael thank you so much for the call all right let's hear from David in Ontario David you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hi mark hi everyone I just don't know what exactly I'm do so many things I'd like to talk to you about but basically I guess the one thing you mentioned you're right in part in the last point but you've mentioned them with regards to to like how science restricts new ideas that Minds people's minds goes here in the last point like the minds of the scientists actually restrict fundamentally fundamental change in their perceptions right and it's very difficult I know that's my father went through us he was a geologist in Ontario so he worked for the government so he was a he believed in the socialist state yet through the government that I'm not saying that I advocate that anymore I used to I don't anymore but when you come up with a theory that contravenes people's perceptions if it isn't for somebody it comes along and says you know if he was kind of lucky because his professor actually in 1975 said well SUSE actually had he got this right so and he furthered that thesis and has gone out is how the show how this idea works but it's that's not the norm like you were saying it's not the norm not the way science has done really know but usually they got rigidly cling on to the existing worldview or paradigm and refused to let it go regardless of what evidence is shown to the contrary because they already have investment in the existing paradigm even if it's false they have physical investment they have mental investment they have investment as far as their prestige is concerned their social statuses concern money their lifestyle all of it all of it tenure you know in all those factors I in yeah I uh I read a book a while back and I hold you in the same respect as I hold some of these authors I read a book by David Icke he called and the truth shall set you free and he said phenomenal book everybody should read this book definitely it led it is like one it's like what we've said about if this is a tapestry and you've explained at a story over these 160 something podcast which I'd listen to the mall and I've come you know so anyways and things like he can't he came to he basically contradicted something that I was like Paula I've learnt this how can you contradict Darwin you know and so I looked into bibliography because that's what she do right and yet in there hey there's got that this guy he looked at auntie Taylor in the minds of men Darwin in the New World Order and I read his books I had to go to the University of Toronto he's a professor there he wrote this book and I went there to pick it up in the 90s and I read that and and you really can't I can't follow I can't believe the way I can understand how social Darwinist has come out from this idea because I do not believe that Darwin has the author of this book in T Taylor says that he cannot support Darwin would not support his own pieces based upon not having found in the geological the archaeological evidence is not there to support it nor that I think Darwin have supported the twisting of his ideology into social Darwinism the way that it was done by the elites of his day namely the GALT and family and others you know you have to understand that they took his thesis and they ran with in a way that was they were going to apply that to their genetics and their right to rule over the rest of humanity that was the reason they took that theory and tried to turn it into a body of law that everybody would believe in unquestioningly you know that was their primary motivation for doing that because they wanted a scientific basis for their quote unquote superiority and their quote unquote right to rule over the rest of humanity exactly I want to ask you a question in regards to a couple of words my daughter is a university student and she taking literature so she's very intelligent very eloquent in her her words and and as you say and as I understand now that word Smith's and and sorcery it's all done with words it's not like something ethereal think it's actually this is how it's done right words and that she said on Friday and they were talking like talk about I talk about all things that I find interesting and this is the subject I find interesting and it all also be punishing I can't say how much you put things into perspective in your podcast for me but she said that she looks at intelligence as a verb and I agree with her it should be looked at as a verb because if you're not using it you don't have it that's all you don't you really what is language if it's not put into effect and applied in the world for the right reasons exactly then what is it it's just words we have to convert it into action in order to be able to use it to apply in our lives David gray call thank you so much for the call ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio last segment of the show for this evening let's go back to the phone lines and hear from Nathan in Arizona Nathan you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hey Mark - oh this is Nathan hey how you doing great I've got a surprise for you tonight okay this is the single most important thing I've learned in my entire life and it's a game-changer and I'm assuming that you don't know about this because if you did you would be talking about it okay go ahead talking about it is a spiritual discipline about controlling the male reproductive cycle and females have a reproductive cycle everybody knows about this it's the menstrual cycle but nobody's talking about is the male reproductive cycle time between ejaculation now what you want to do is increase that time and there's the mainstream science media and other people like to talk about how it's if you don't ejaculate every day you'll have prostate cancer another problem I think that's misinformation if you can master this discipline and it years of practice have any benefits including courage self-respect self-confidence you'll be a dominant alpha male you'll be physically stronger your voice will be louder and lower you don't need sex anymore and you're not obsessed with it all the time women will no longer have a power over you you'll be smarter you'll be more motivated it'll be easier to spread the truth you'll be more attractive females you'll be better at six you'll last longer you'll be better at tantric sex which is sex without ejaculation you'll develop the balls to stay no too weak people literally develop the balls to say no you'll be an unstoppable force if you can master this so what I'm talking about is stops masturbating stops having sex and ejaculate and that's inevitable it's going to happen if you're in a relationship so what you need to do is delay delay it wait a few weeks and it's all about self-control this is the ultimate way to develop self-control you know this porn uh pornography is incompatible with this technique so you have to throw that off and or else it'll totally screw up your discipline so mark have you ever heard about this I have actually heard this technique I know that some of this comes from older Gnostic teachings and some of it comes from tantric teachings and you know I can't speak to necessarily that this is going to be the thing that's going to be the most effective way to you know increase your willpower and you know your drive to actually learn the truth and then live the truth in your life I'm not saying it would do harm to that but you you seem to think it's the number one thing that somebody can practice I mean I'll tell you what before I learned this I was one of the self haters that you're talking about earlier in the show and this happened to come out of that that self-loathing minds yeah it was like a total 100% 180-degree switch is like a turning point in my life once I figured this out and if y'all don't believe me do your own research there's not a lot of information out there one website is reddit.com slash are slash no fat that's n OSAP and these people is a community of people who have seen this truth but they only see half the picture they all they all agree that masturbation is bad but they seem to think that a jack ulation is okay as long as you're having sex with an actual woman that's that's wrong it's the ejaculation you want to increase the amount of time between Jack ulation this pen this comes out of the notion that the male seed carries creative energy with it and therefore to save that is to store that creative energy and that creative potential and power within the individual you know my take on it is kind of like it's more of a more physical thing whereas you know I think that ultimately deep down inside it's all about the the mental and spiritual material that we have to work with that's the real ultimate generative potential within us again I'm not debunking this or sighs I have only cursorily looked into this but I am go I do tend to look into it a bit more because I've heard a few different sources and you know I think it's something that uh you know there could be benefit to yes there's a definite I can tell you from experience and you need if you don't believe me you need to try it on you and that's the research that you need to do is it's very very tough discipline and especially it's harder for men who are non single and you have to access the SEC but you know I have a girl for now and I've been working on this and I'm averaging about one week or two weeks or are you familiar at all with the teachings of the occultist or spiritualist named Samuel on they or no I I've only encountered knowledge about this in very small amounts and I remember being a traditional writing about it but it's hard to dig knowledge about this I could point you in one direction from where I've originally heard about this years ago it was studying some of the writings and teachings of again the occultist samuel on viewer now again take all occultism with a grain of salt take it every researcher or writer with a grain of salt you have to take what you resonates with truth and bring that out and then leave the rest at the door of as I said earlier but he kind of puts forward and teaches a specific branch of older gnostic esoteric gnostic tradition and he's really gone deep into like bringing forward a lot of the esoteric symbolism of the Tarot out as well and he talked about this you know the saving of seed and you know the the benefits are of it and everything like that so somebody I would say if you want to look into some esoteric research on this it's probably the only source and occultism I've come across I know again some gnostic sects practice this as well and it seems to be coming on in some of the alternative health and mental benefits community as well so it's starting to definitely look into and I want to thank you for bringing it to our attention okay thanks a lot yeah you got it I encouraged everybody to try this out especially if you have women problems and if that's the thing that's keeping you from from doing the great work that's that's the distraction this will solve your problem very into it thanks a lot Martin keep a good work Thank You chef you got it you take good care all right i'll final caller of the evening let's hear from Ivan in Phoenix Ivan you could take us out welcome back to what on earth is happening hey Mark thanks for having me on I she had to go back into the regular slot here at the end to wrap it up now it's a tradition right I guess so yeah so that means I got to speak quickly and I had quite a bit to talk about real quick about the Ferguson stuff yeah and Missouri what I've noticed right off the bat was the suppression of the sake of masculine we see all the adults and even the children with their hands up ma arms on shoots oh right oh right off the bat getting that subconscious mind going into submission submission hands up in the air that's the thing that stood up for me right away and then movies real quick I know I mentioned to barb I had sent you guys a message or going to see Lucy in theaters that one I recently did see that I didn't go into the theater to see it I downloaded it and I thought it was great the quality that I got of the video wasn't so awesome but the movie was very good and I'll probably check it out when it comes out on blu-ray and you know watch it and you know get the full effect of it then but I thought the all the themes in it were very profound definitely it is yes it is and then another one that came out last weekend was the giver I'm gonna go see that that one I saw the previews of and it looked so good I do intend to see that in theaters because that just looked like about it was the importance it emphasized the importance of knowledge how knowledge was only being kept by like one man and how everybody else's mind had fallen into a complete sameness and you know how knowledge would be the key to taking them out of that and and liberating their minds so I definitely think that there were some really powerful themes in that movie and I do intend to check that one out I think that's a very positive allegory from just the previews that I've seen yes and it's funny that knowledge is what's mentioned also at the T and Lucy also yes absolutely Ivan thanks so much for taking us out this evening ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this edition of what on earth is happening just remember there are only two mistakes that you could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way thanks for listening everyone we'll see you right here next week [Music] you

2015 I am no longer the main event organizer as I was for the first two for your mind conferences I've told people that I've stepped down from that capacity as the event organizer I've handed that off to others who are helped with the event previously and they are currently planning for your mind 3 in 2015 I don't have a venue right now I don't have a confirmed set of dates I've been told that it is more likely than not going to stay in late April that could change but right now it looks like that's going to be around the time period but I don't have any more specifics all I know is that it is confirmed that there will be a free your mind 3 conference in 2015 more likely than not at the end of April again don't hold me to that that could change but if you want to check out more details that will be forthcoming there are already about 10 speakers that have given their word to confirm that they will be taking part in for your mind 3 so you could check out more information on this great upcoming conference next year at WWE your mind conference calm one other quick announcement there is a donation button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening dot-com website if you feel that you've received value from the information that I've shared here on the water on earth is happening radio show and on my website through my podcasts and my videos you could feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so like that I can continue it into the future and with a lot of those donations what I'll be doing is actually hopefully by sometime next year I don't have an exact date on this either but sometime in 2015 I am hoping to release a book entitled what on earth is happening so every little bit any donation that you can help out with does help and it will help to toward those goals so with that having been said oh I do want to mention one other thing real quickly before we begin the information for tonight I do have a personal commitment next Saturday night September 6th so I will not be broadcasting next Saturday September 6th live I'll be having the network host a play a rebroadcast of the show next week I will be returning to the air live on Saturday September 13th two weeks from today so I just wanted to mention that right here at the top of the show I want to point everyone's attention to the what on earth is happening calm website where as always when I do live shows there are images posted underneath the player on the radio show page if you click the radio show tab if you're not already there listening to the show from there underneath the player there's images for tonight's show image one and two one there are numerical links you can click on it'll bring it up in a kind of like a a presentation format or like a slideshow format I should say now image one was the demystifying the occult seminar poster of course demystifying the occult I should have mentioned is hosted by pattern recognition time that's Arthur Kaposi's organization and that's image number one image two was just the graphic from the free your mind conference website so we'll be getting into the material for tonight right after this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting stay with us [Music] you know the day destroys a nice night divide today tried to run welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com I was telling everyone before the break that underneath the player four on the radio show page of what on earth is happening calm you can follow along with the images for the the presentation for this evening you'll see under images for tonight's show cosmic abandonment slides part one and two their numerical links you can click on the image as I say which slide I'm moving to and I'll follow along with the concepts and ideas presented in these slides so we left off last week on slide number 113 I'm going to be starting today with image number 114 which is listed in cosmic abandonment slides part two what we were talking about last week is an understandable framework a psychological framework through which we can better grasp the behavior of group dynamics people who behave in certain group dynamics collectivists is really what we're talking about here we're talking about people who basically form themselves into groups because they're ultimately lacking a sense of true individuality or true self development what you might call soul development these are people who really are childlike because they have never really truly mentally emotionally psychologically and spiritually grown into adulthood as an individual and they are in total identification with group dynamics and these are the people who are essentially destroying our world destroying humanity destroying the earth destroying our ability to live and coexist peacefully on this planet at all and it is because of the underlying psychological dynamics which we identified that are going on in them unaddressed because they won't do the inner work upon themselves as individuals which cannot be done by anybody else it can only be done by the individual and since they're so hopelessly identified with the group dynamic these people are caught in a cycle where this these underlying psychological dynamics are killing them or crushing them crushing their spirit and yet because of the group dynamic that they're trapped in there never identifying those causal factors psychologically and confronting them and addressing them identifying them and then working to heal them so we looked at the dynamics of willful ignorance the fear of owning one's own personal responsibility to choose right action over wrong action once the difference is clearly understood and the reason for those dynamics of ignorance and the abdication or the claimed abdication of personal responsibility is due to an underlying sense of self-loathing due to a sack of a lack of self-respect inside the individual a non developed sense of self respect and then underneath that there are parental abandonment issues which are the causal factors going on ultimately these people are childlike in their psychological development because for the very reason that in their own past they were essentially left at the doorstep so to speak psychologically mentally emotionally spiritually by their own parents and as we were talking about last week this dynamic plays out not only on an individual scale on the level of the individual it plays out on a cosmic scale it plays out on a global scale at the level of the speed CAES okay we are a species that has undergone cosmic abandonment by our quote unquote parents again the whole cosmic abandonment presentation is about the beings that came here on our very ancient past and ultimately created humanity and were largely responsible for our entrance into this psychological state okay so we were left in a cosmic sense as a species by our cosmic parents we were abandoned and what we're looking at now is what kind of effect that this have on people such that they cling mercilessly to this group dynamic of collectivism and this you know these types of group behaviors that we're talking about that we're trying to explain why people fallen this be a group dynamic thinking so last week we looked or we began looking at some of these groups and I said that I'm gonna be basically complaining about them if you will or pointing out how these you know insane dynamics work within these groups in a very bitter way I'm not happy about it these are the people who are enslaving humanity ladies and gentlemen I don't have to be happy about it okay I'm going to speak about it with vitriol okay vitriol is acidic bitter criticism biting speech venomous speech okay and are these are in many cases what I'm saying ad hominem attacks sure but that doesn't mean they're not true ad hominem attacks can be true it's not just you know trying to launch an ad hominem attack to take away from from truth that someone is speaking as a logical fallacy but that doesn't mean that a logic that an ad hominem attack cannot be launched it isn't also true so you know you're gonna hear me saying things that might offend people and make people upset as I've said from day one go ahead and get his offended as you like the things on true nonetheless so last week we talked about who I call the worshipers of scientism who these are often atheists who believe that they don't have a belief system okay they're that delusional that they actually have a belief that they don't have a belief system that's how rigidly left-brain that they are that they could actually do mental gymnastics and try to work things out logically like that okay you know these are people who are absolute religionists when it comes to science when it comes to government-funded science they think that is the arbiter of truth in in the world in nature and that whatever government-funded science says is just unequivocally true you know it doesn't make a difference that the government funds the results that they want to see and then mercilessly puts down results that are somehow the antithesis of what they want put out there to the public you know that they don't if they don't want the public to know about it it doesn't get any funding it doesn't get any grant money but yet these rigid skeptics these scientific thinkers would dare to say that's real science and somehow that's going to produce logical orderly true results okay has nothing to do with science whatsoever not in the slightest bit so on slide number 113 I was you know basically saying I'm going to give to each of these people kind of like a tagline or like a soundbite to them you know that you could just kind of identify with them and you know kind of like gives you the the fundamental picture of where their thinking is that the rigid skeptic is saying I'm skeptical about everything unless the government or government funded scientists say it's true then I'm a true believer you know because that's the origin of their belief system you know they don't even on there so in the left brain and they so accept the notion that only science is is the arbiter of truth that they can't even understand how much of a religion they are trapped in as a result of thinking in this kind of totally imbalanced left-brain way so we'll pick this up looking at these groupthink dynamics on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing the extended cosmic abandonment presentation as we have for the past many weeks on this program and we are on slide number 114 I'm continuing to talk about different groupthink psychological dynamics and groups who identify with continuing to willfully be ignorant continuing to willfully attempt to abandon their own personal responsibility the claim of the abdication of personal responsibility to truly on your own know the difference between right and wrong and it's all a childlike dynamic and the next group I'd like to talk about that does this is are people who are the worshipers of religion I mean because look we've already gone off on a tirade against quote-unquote scientists people who are rigidly skeptical and left brain and think that you know there is no higher power than man and you know only that which comes out of science could ever be true quote-unquote science it's not real science it's government-funded science that basically puts out the results that Big Daddy wants people to know about and then suppresses everything else so let's go to the other side of the equation the the blind believers the ones who have bought into cultural religion I'd simply call them religionists or you know as a little moniker these are children pun intended you know it's these are people who are like childish group you know collectivist mindset people okay they're children they they also haven't grown up psychologically mentally and spiritually I call them children of the quote gods and when I say quote gods I mean these are children of these ancient beings who came here and created all the world relate they created all the cultural religions ultimately again we talked about this in the section called the story of the past again this section is called the story of the present we're applying what we learned in the story of the past in this extended presentation format to help us to understand why do people think the way that they think in the modern world you know so when we understand that these are children of the gods stories of the gods dynamics of the gods religions that they invented that the the quote-unquote gods the anunnaki the Nephilim etc invented for Humanity to keep them in line and to create a social stratification hierarchical society that would make humanity fall in line that would it would not only divide them make them easier to control and conquer it would help them to fall in line and essentially enslave themselves so that they would be much more easily ruled and much more easily controlled compartmental II and hierarchically all right it's it's it's a strategy that has been used over and over and over and over again and you could do it with you know politics you could do it with money you could do it with religion they do it with all of these things and people are still not psychologically sophisticated to understand the tactic that is being used against them and has been being used against them since the dawn of humanity so these are people who really don't want to think for themselves they want to believe in what they've been taught believe in what they've been told not really truly understand the difference between right and wrong because let me tell you something most religionists do not most religionists do not understand natural law they do not understand the true objective difference between moral rights and moral wrong you know and just by the fact that so many people who believe in religion also believe in government right there that hat shows you they don't understand the difference between right and wrong because government is of course based on coercion based on the claim of ownership of other people based on the claim that the group of so-called lawmakers are ultimately God that own other people that are that are their masters and they have some kind of a moral right to issue commands while they're their subjects or the people under their quote jurisdiction have some kind of a moral obligation to obey their commands that they call laws because they wrote them down whether they have anything in common with the laws of morality or not you know and all these religionists actually believe in this thing called government right there that proves proves outright definitively proves that they do not know the difference between right and wrong behavior because they're supporting coercion and slavery by there but very belief in government you know so that I mean that's all you really need to know about religionists you know you need to ask them one question do you believe in the validity of government period and if the answer is yes you immediately know they don't know the difference between right and wrong right they're they're they're religionists taught them ultimately nothing about morality because they're children who want to believe in something to believe that there's something out there watching out for their better interests you know that loves them and cares about them that all they have to do is somehow prostrate themselves before that force and somehow it's gonna magically take care of them and absolve them of all the responsibility to learn and grow for themselves now because that might require effort reading personal work inward introspection of the self we can't do any of those things god forbid you know that might involve work can't have that it's all about just a belief system you know it's all about what you believe you believe this and then suddenly you're saved it's the biggest crock of garbage that has ever been peddled to humanity and it was peddled by humanity's Creator quote-unquote these sick twisted beings that ultimately came here and made a slave race that's who peddled us this garbage called religion and all these people these children still leave in it a bunch of children is all they ever have been are now and ever will be for as long as they continue to have these beliefs they don't want to know truth truth is is a dirty word to these people just like it's a dirty word to most scientists you know all the left-brain atheists they're just as utterly retarded children as these people are so let's throw the insults the ad hominem attacks around equally okay no you know we won't spare anybody okay we'll distribute all of the vitriol equally amongst the both the left brain and balanced and the right brain imbalanced okay because these are the people who are continuing slavery so they both richly deserve it just as much as the other group and again you have to understand folks it's not just all about just you know lashing out okay and I could make it sound like that and dress it up a little bit like that for effect but the point here is these are sick people these are mentally ill people these people are just as mentally ill as those left brain scientism worshippers okay they're just this childish they're just as in need of help ultimately these people need help because they're not well they're spiritually sick this is a spiritual illness just like the scientism worshipers have okay there'd it's just a different form of brain imbalance ultimately it means that the soul is sick within these people because they don't even understand what real spirituality means what it really means to be a spiritual moral being means to not believe in anything it means to know the truth about morality not to accept some dogma based on some you know somebody's arbitrarily chosen guidelines that may or may not have anything to do with real morality with with moral law you know has nothing to do with believing a thing and these people are stuck in this childish notion all I have to do is believe and accept believe and accept that's the right brain imbalance just like the skeptic says I'm not gonna believe in and accept anything these people are saying I'm gonna believe and accept everything my religion says you can't you see how it's the same kind of imbalance except toward a different extreme neither one of them says I'm going to go wherever the truth leads that's what science ostensibly claims but does it actually do that in practice no it goes wherever the money goes see and ultimately that's what religion does too because let's let's face it folks both of these things are ruled by the monetary system if we're being honest with ourselves and most people are not most people are absolute liars to the self constantly on a 24-hour basis you know they don't want to admit how much money control science and money controls religion you know they want to think somehow we're all affected by that my little group here is unaffected by that dynamic all the other religions may be affected by that but hey not my religion not my science not my field you know it's the one that's pure and uncontaminated all the other ones are impure and totally contaminated by that dynamic of greed and envy and jealousy and power you know but not mine totally pure it's a child's mentality folks we'll pick this up on the other side of the break don't go anywhere you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Applause] [Music] we uh [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing with the extended version of the cosmic abandonment presentation we're talking about different groupthink dynamics that are driven by willful ignorance the attempted abdication of people's personal responsibility due to their own self-loathing and set lack of self respect due to underlying abandonment issues whether they be physical emotional spiritual okay and you're talking about religion here ultimately okay it's all about religion it's all about false belief systems that drive people's wrong thinking doesn't make a difference whether it's the cultural religious kind whether people accept science quote unquote as I call it scientism as a religion whether they've you know accepted the New Age movement as their religion or if they believe in the ultimate religion the monetary system money you know as something that's real you know the ultimate religion it's all religion religions the thing that's enslaving the world folks if you can't see that you're completely blind you haven't woken up yet at all at all zero if you don't understand that religion is the problem religion is the thing that blocks truth from being received by the individual that's what it ultimately does and that's why it comes from the Latin relig re which means to tie back or to hold back or what's it trying to hold you back from truth it's exactly what all religion is trying to hold people back from whether it's the cultural form the scientist scientist mik form the the new-age form or the monetary form or hey oh we forgot one huh we're gonna get into this next how about the government form of religion that's one of the biggest religions in the world the religion of authority I'd say it's probably the second biggest religion on earth next to money you know let's not leave anybody out here anybody who has a belief system that holds people back from truth and holds this species from basically moving forward in consciousness and ascending out of slavery let's we need to include them all in here they're all the problem every one of those people is the problem okay and it's all because of these reasons they want to remain willfully ignorant so they can claim to abdicate their personal responsibility to know the difference between right from wrong and willfully of their own accord and their own free will choose the right over the wrong and this is because ultimately they hate themselves because they have never really done any personal work or introspection upon themselves truly in any kind of a deep meaningful way and ultimately the reason that they hate themselves like that is because they feel personally abandoned in some way shape or form once again it does not have to be that abandonment issues I'm talking about do not have to be physical ones it doesn't mean your mother or your father left you when you were young physically walked out on you it means we're all suffering from some form of abandonment whether it is on a personal level on a mental level on a psychological level on an emotional level on a spiritual level or on a cosmic level the species of humanity is suffering it on a cosmic level but and that resonates within us over time you know this is why we're a species who doesn't want to think for ourselves we've we depended on the quote-unquote gods for so long you know telling us what reality was telling us how we should be what we should do how should we should behave what we should believe in for thousands upon thousands of years as a species what do you think that does to people what do you think that does to an entire species of beings passing down that dynamic generation after generation after generation after generation oh it produces a really great outcome as you can see what we've got right now religion is ultimately the problem folks and that's really what we're talking about here if the truth be told every single one of these groups these group think dynamics I'm talking about is a form of religion okay so let's move to slide number 115 and what's the tagline for the cultural religious followers you know the people who get on their knees and bow down to a God thinking that God somehow wants their obedience you know menudo learn the real god of creation wants you to learn and understand natural law moral law the difference between right and wrong because that's what will most readily accelerate your own development in consciousness so that you can take the reins of your own personal development from that point and move forward to wherever it is you want to move to wherever it is you want to go next it's there for your maximum growth and development natural law are not prison conditions or not prison boundary conditions they are there for the support of learning of growth of development of consciousness so what's the tagline for the children of the gods their tagline is we believe what we're told to believe that's so much easier than developing critical thinking skills the tagline of all religion it's all about belief that means I don't really have to do any work to discover truth okay truth be damned this is all about a belief system I could just believe what I'm told to believe by the people who passed this religion down to me and then thinking goes out the window not even ever needed never even need to develop those skills okay truth who cares about that you know I have my belief systems that were given to me and it's done and and if you're honest with yourself that's what religion is folks that's exactly what religion is and again the people who have religion in their lives are going to get offended by that you know I get emails from people telling me I don't I claim that I say that there is a God of creation and they're insisting they're trying to tell me what I think in my own mind what I think what I accept what I know what I believe and they say you don't accept God well that's your opinion because I don't accept the God you believe in see that's what a religionist does it says you have to accept the God I believe in I accept I'm not telling you you can't have your notion of what God is as a matter of fact I tell people as long as you believe there's a higher power that is setting the laws of morality in motion in in order in effect in the universe you could think of God as whatever you want to think of it as who cares it's none of my business what you think of as God but when you start saying everybody has to believe in and accept the God I believe in an accept then then I have a problem because unfortunately that is almost always small and petty and all too human like for my tastes anyway you know it's it's the always the other way around with man inventing his gods instead of God really you know bringing humanity and into the universe which again I don't really think that was done by the God of creation I think that was done you know through the force of creation ultimately by beings that had already existed within the creation who became imbalanced themselves and then created a mirror image of themselves in many ways which is why it said that we are made in the image and likeness of the Gods you know it's like like father and mother like child you know as above so below the principle of Correspondence is at work in this dynamic just like it is in any other and we're doing many of the same things that our cosmic parents did so let's move on and look at the next group dynamic that we want to talk about here and this is government or what I call belief in slavery support of slavery okay people who believe in government are supporters of slavery if we stop euphemized you know saying I think government there is legitimacy or validity - it is a euphemism euphemism means a word that you use to describe something to make it sound better than what it really is that's what a euphemism is okay you can look up the term euphemism all right it's just saying it's calling something by a different name to not make it sound so bad as it really is so when people say I believe in government what they're really saying is I support slavery let me just say that again unequivocally and this is not my opinion this is 100% eternal truth if you understand what government is when somebody says I believe in government I think government is legitimate I think government should continue to exist what they are 100% definitively saying whether they are aware of it or understand the truth of this or not is that they believe in slavery and that they support slavery and that they think slavery should continue to exist and is somehow legitimate we'll pick this up on the other side of this break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening don't go anywhere [Music] Oh between us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting i'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're continuing with the extended variant of the cosmic abandonment presentation that I originally gave back in December of 2013 here in Philadelphia we've been covering this material for the past many weeks on the show and will continue to do so we're talking about different groupthink dynamics can we understand the behavior the choices of different groups of people who are totally trapped in groupthink and religious thought like the belief in money the belief in government the belief in cultural religion the belief in scientism the belief in the New Age movement etc by having a handle on the psychological framework that ultimately underlies evil that underlies what makes evil possible and what makes it possible for people to continue to condone and support evil in their own thought processes and their own behavior we identified those factors as willful ignorance stemming from the fear of taking full ownership of one's personal responsibility stemming from issues of self-loathing due to set due to the continued lack of self respect within people and then that ultimately stemming from what I would call the causal Durov at all deep-seated psychological parental abandonment issues going on in the childlike mindset of this person who has experienced all this and I think there is no better example to highlight and illustrate the childishness of this mindset then the belief in government and I mean the abandoned child mentality there's no better when you understand the belief in government as the belief that is made possible by a child who has been abandoned that is crying out and looking for government to fulfill the role of the missing parents okay it it goes off like a bomb in your head when you really understand it okay if you can really psychologically grasp this dynamic you'll be so much better and more enlightened for it okay when I've explained this to some people they've said it made so much sense to them that it was like an epiphany like a grand Epiphany like awakening in their mind that yes this is what government actually is in people's minds it is the the proxy of a missing parent that is being filled in psychologically by the person who is the believer in this entity that we call government so let's just start looking at this from different political perspectives I understand the left-right political perspective is an illusion it's all the same thing it's all slavery as we've said many many times on the show I get that that our listeners should get that by now okay but if you just look at why people break down into largely two groups okay and you have people on the left wing side the Democrat you know the the political left so to speak and then you have people on the political right the conservative the you know whatever party were looking at it from the perspective of the dual two-party illusion which is at work everywhere throughout basically the world that props up this false left-right paradigm political system in the whole Western world essentially okay there's always two there's always two major parties that come to prominence and then war against each other well there's a reason there's not more than two there's a reason it always ultimately comes to largely two parties that's because there's only two parents a mother figure and a father figure so each party is ultimately playing the proxy role psychologically of the parent the missing parent in the relationship between the parent and the child so we can illustrate this when we look at the people in the group think dynamic of belief in government what's who I call not only just believers in government but supporters of slavery as I illustrate here in the first slide in this section in slide number 116 so we're going to look at the left winger okay of the two party political false left-right paradigm system we'll look at the left winger also called the liberal or the Democrat where the neoliberal however you want to break it down it doesn't matter these are just words you know it's just you know all describing the same basic dynamic going on at work in the mind regardless of the name you call it what does this type of person that is totally trapped in this kind of group think once what are their motivations what do they want government to be so you have to ask to understand the psychological dynamic going on inside a person's mind like this the question that has to be asked is as a believer in government or a quote-unquote supporter of slavery what do they want the controlling dynamic the government to be what is it that they want from government what are they always asking for government to do what does a left-winger in politics want government to be what do they wanted to do they wanted to tax everybody more so that it can redistribute wealth so that it can provide for things for people to act as a caretaker for people to do things that people should ultimately be doing for themselves to essentially be something that the people can be dependent on see they don't want independence they want the people to be dependent on the government they want the government to be the people's caretaker they want it to provide services for people for it to be the thing that ultimately takes care of people in in every aspect of their lives from cradle to grave that is what the political left-wing or Democrat liberal neo Libya honest with ourselves this is the role they want government to fulfill in society so they're asking for it to be essentially the caretaker of the people the caretaker of society the one that nurtures and cares for the people like a mother like a nurturer an archetype of mother figure that's what this political party or persuasion ultimately once government to be and the services it wants it to provide so these are the people who are have motherly abandonment issues or what I simply label you know a little bit scathingly in slide number 117 mommy issues these are people who are dealing with mommy issues the people who are more toward the left wing Democrat liberal persuasion are ultimately psychologically dealing with motherly abandonment issues deep down inside and what they want government to be is the role of the missing parent in this form of the archetypal mother figure because they wanted to be the caretaker and nurturer of society who ultimately provides for society's needs they don't want people to be adults in dependent on this other nurturing entity that somehow is beneficent and wants to provide for people wants to care for them don't you know that's what government wants it isn't there to control us mommy's not there to control us mommy's there to care for us and give us everything we need whenever we need it don't you know that we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm and in the last section we were talking about the believers in government the supporters of slavery as I call them to stop euphemized the term government as people who are ultimately playing out deep-seated psychological parental abandonment issues through their creation of a proxy see this is what is done psychologically when something is deeply missing and the person doesn't have it in their lives they'll they'll create a proxy for it external to the self you know to look toward this external power to be that thing that they're missing in their own self in their own lives you know so that they maybe they may have been lacking in some form doesn't even have to be physically that the parental figure of the mother the nurturer the caretaker in some form in their lives and therefore they want government to fulfill that role they want an external power to come in and act as a proxy and take on that dynamic in their lives and so this is what the political left always does they want government to be the caretaker of the people from cradle to grave these are the people with motherly abandonment issues once again does not have to be physical absence of the mother it could be emotional abandonment mental abandonment spiritual abandonment not actually caring for the inward needs of the child and ultimately they want government to be this nurturing mother that cares and basically takes care of that of the the society from cradle to grave these are the people with mommy issues as I call it in refer to it in slide number 117 now moving on to slide number 118 in this presentation as I've said before I'm not going to attack one half without attacking the other you know but well I'm an equal opportunity offender okay we'll get to everybody will offend everybody's religion in due time okay so let's talk about the opposite side the other believers in slavery I mean government you know the supporters of slavery you know the Republican Party the right-wingers the conservative types the neo cons if you will in in you know their neoconservative form well what do these people often want government to be you know when you say well to a right-wing uh you know right more right-wing political supporter what do you think the role of government should be you know they have very different roles that they want government to fulfill in society do they want it to tax people more and more and more no they don't want it usually to do that you know they they want it to fulfil completely different roles they don't want it to redistribute wealth they don't want it to take care of everybody from cradle to grave what they usually want it to do is to be the protector so you have the nurturer the caretaker you know the one that provides in this in the sense of it's actually going to actually bring to people the things that they need to provide for their needs you know in this sense they want it to be the protector you know the one that can provide in a different way for the needs of the child Society in this case in their mind is the child government is not the mother figure government is the strong protecting father figure to the conservative to the political right-winger to the Republican you know they want they think that its role should be to keep people safe as if that's not the right of people on their own already naturally inherently to keep themselves safe and it as if that is not somehow their own personal responsibility to provide for that now they want government to do that for us so we need a strong police force we need a strong army we need strong military we need a strong government that's the only thing that's gonna keep us safe from outsiders from the all the people that want to get us from the bad guys from the boogie men yeah we need a strong father figure that archetype of fog father figure who maybe wasn't around to keep them safe or maybe didn't provide for that role you know maybe it didn't keep them safe from all the bad ideas infecting their mind I would say most certainly didn't do that whoever their real physical father was in this incarnation certainly couldn't have done that for them to grow up that way you know but that's the role that they want government to play it's not the nurturer it's the protector it's not the archetypal mother figure it's the archetype or father figure so you know it's the same thing except the different extreme again since there's two parents one of these groups psychologically identifies with the mud the the the archetypal mother figure that's the role that government's going to play through proxy and the other political extreme on the political so-called political spectrum it's going government's going to fulfill the opposite role in proxy the archetype will father figure so moving to slide 119 what do these people have they have fatherly abandonment issues daddy issues these are people with daddy issues daddy wasn't there for them in some way to protect to act as the protector well now we can make government fulfill that role it can police the whole world and keep everyone safe from cradle to grave like the archetypal father figure it's missing in their lives you know it makes so such perfect sense don't you know you know that'll lead to true freedom so you know these are the people who are suffering daddy issues and don't even know it in many cases don't get me wrong folks I mean these people will deny this till the day that they die you know you could bring this to their attention show them everything show them all the signs of it and they'd still tell you you don't know what you're talking about you're wrong because in their minds they actually believe that they think for themselves they actually believe that they don't have these psychological issues going on deep within their psyche nested deep down inside of them at a subconscious level they would tell you that's not there and I'm telling you it doesn't make a difference whether they know that that's there or not their belief system in what they say they believe gives it away that tells you what's going on inside of them immediately they don't need to admit it they don't need to understand it they don't need to speak it out there in the open it's inside of them whether they know it or not you know they just don't have enough knowledge of human psychology to even understand what's going on inside of them that's why I tell people like this I could tell and I understand how much this offends somebody I get it I get it somebody with more advanced knowledge of human psychology can tell someone else more about them than they know about themselves and that frightens people and I don't set people and it makes people very angry and mad especially when what you're really trying to do is help them because they don't think they need help they're that sick a mentally ill person like that doesn't believe they need psychological help when somebody really knows a whole lot about human psychology and what's going on and another person based on what they support based on what they say they believe you know I know more about what's going on inside of these people than they know about themselves and I'm willing to come out and state that and make that claim because because it's true they've never looked into human psychology one bit in their life they've never looked in a mirror inwardly we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn we're continuing with the extended cosmic abandonment presentation we're talking about the psychological dynamics and underlie the thinking that goes on in different group dynamics in the human species and we've been talking about believers in government you know whether they be of the left-wing or right-wing persuasion they always want more of it they always want it to somehow act as the parental figure in society because they have this poison worldview that people somehow can't take care of themselves or that our society would be completely chaotic should the people of this world not actually remain slaves and actually take charge over their own lives what they are are supporters of slavery whether they understand that or not where anyone else does that's the truth of the matter and they all have psychological abandonment issues underneath the surface nested in the subconscious mind the left wingers the political liberals the Democrats have mommy issues going on under the surface while the right-wingers the Republicans that conserve so-called conservatives have fatherly abandonment issues daddy issues going on under the surface but you know we've left a major group out of this the men are kists don't you know there is such a thing yeah there's such a thing as believing in only a little bit of slavery yeah you can believe in that you know you know the libertarians the constitutionalist the min arcus you know I used to be I used to go really light on these people and not really anymore you know because enough information has been put out there about what government really is through coercion and violence and if you say that you believe that there should be rulers only a little bit you're still a supporter of slavery whether whether you want to admit that to yourself or not doesn't really make a difference you know so I'm though I no longer worry about whether I offend these people let's just throw them right in there with everybody else that you know can get as offended as they like regarding the truth because there's no such thing as just accepting a little bit of slavery either you're free or you're enslaved and there's no in the middle you know and what these people are saying is I think there should just be a little bit of slavery I think we should only have some rulership externally by somebody else just a little bit you know what it's just a matter of finding the right mixture you know of determining just how much slavery and violence there should be you know I mean it's it's unbelievable and sad it really is because it shows you how deep mind control really goes how subtle it is and how entrenched it is it's so entrenched people still can't recognize when they're under it you know and what I call what I say that these people are really doing psychologically is that they are they're identifying with other people's parents see they're saying wow you know Jimmy's parents don't beat Jimmy the way my parents beat me you know they I get beaten seven days a week Jimmy's parents only beat him four days a week so Jimmy's slave masters that there are a little bit nicer to Jimmy there a little bit better to Jimmy well that's something to aspire to I'm gonna go I want to be a member of a surrogate member of of Jimmy's family and and then I'll live with Jimmy and only get beat four days a week instead of seven you know I mean that really this is what it's like folks if we're being honest with ourselves you know that's what the men are kissed once he wants his parents to abuse him less frequently than the other children's parents abuse them or he could look at another parent and say well they don't beat me they don't beat him as badly or as often as they beat me so it would be nice to move to that you know that's all it is it's the same thing it's like a slave on a plantation looking at the planned eight plantation next door and saying boy I'd really love to live on that slavery plantation because the owners only whip their slaves every other day instead of everyday you know comparison of slavery is insanity it's all slavery what you should really want is for it all to end unequivocally all of it not some of it all of it but these people can't get to that point in their own minds somehow they're so conditioned maybe it might even be more dangerous than the conditioning of status because they actually believe somehow that government must continue in some form it may not be as godly to them as it is to the the neo-cons or the NiO limits gonna be if it's just controlled if it's just reined in a little bit it's somehow gonna be beneficent it's gonna be benevolent well violence and slavery don't work that way folks it's the total mistake that the founders of America made that they didn't just abolish it completely and not put anything in its place that's like saying I'm going to abolish this form of evil but I'm going to put this form of evil in its place will you still put evil in its place and what does evil do it wants to accrue more power and more and become bigger evil and that's all it ever does and that you know that's what happened here and people can't understand it you know they can't grasp it the only way to get rid of evil is to abolish it completely and then beyond vigilance against it and not ever let it come in not ever let it get a foot in the door ever again and that can be done but it requires a whole lot of will and true intelligence and care and effort and hard work and determination and persistence you know and responsibility above all else of him humanity wants no part of any of that stuff you know so what are these people what's their tagline what's this group dynamic tagline the men arcus well I say that they fear going all the way quote-unquote they're not in truth they're still an illusion you know I don't care how much nicer that illusion is than the hardcore forms of evil of totalitarianism it's still a form of evil you know that they don't want to go all the way because they're afraid of being called an anarchist oh I'm afraid of being called somebody who doesn't believe in masters over other people wow what a crime and terrible shame that is I that I'm an anarchist I don't believe in rulership of other people externally you know whoa I need to be embarrassed about that you know and that's what these people are so they call themselves men arcus you know I only believe in a little bit of the archons right to rule the Masters only believe in masters over other people I only believe in masters over slaves a tiny bit it's a joke it's a joke it's a bad one it's a bad joke you know but that's ultimately what these people are you know so I'm I know only want to have conversations with them to you know to even try to let let them see hey you know you you're one of the tenth pictures you pitched your tent on the side of the mountain as you were going up to the to the absolute peak you know and you said that peak frightens me I don't know what's on the other side of it you know what's on the other side is real freedom but I I'm staying right here on the side of the mountain you know I went up two thirds of the way three quarters the way I'm done now you know that's what these people are saying they're the tenth pictures on the spiritual journey they went 75 percent 80 percent and they said I'm done that's that's what they are people who fear going all the way you know so let's look at another psychological dynamic that that goes on within groupthink the group think hoards okay you know we're looking at different different you know sets of the the the hoard groupthink dynamic going on in humanity there's so many we can go on and on with this well let's look at the media on the other side of this break we'll pick that up after we come back ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic rod casting we'll be right back [Music] you know today destroys the night today [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio we're continuing to go through some of these psychological groupthink dynamics that are rooted in willful ignorance the fear of owning one's personal responsibility due to self-loathing and a lack an inherent lack of self respect ultimately stemming from parental abandonment issues of one kind or another and the next group we were about to discuss is the mainstream media the people who actually work as professional liars paid Liars to put out government propaganda you know and to be repeaters for the state as people like gerald Celente call them kind of in a funny way the prostitutes I've heard some other people refer to them as the Horus pondan's instead of correspondents the Horus pondan's and it's true I mean that's what these people are they are paid lying whores that have basically put their themselves out there for money to lie for other people and that's all they are and some of these people are actually delusional enough that they actually believe since their sick twisted way that somehow they're giving people hack your word information or telling them the truth I mean it's a it's an even bigger joke than the men arcus if you ask me you know these people absolutely have no self-respect whatsoever will do anything for a paycheck you know as it says here in this little meme you write what you're told thanks corporate news we couldn't control the people without you you know Big Daddy you know telling them here's what you do you do this I'll reward you you know just like a child you know you just do what you're told you follow orders ultimately we're seeing a pattern here really all of these people you know all support the same pattern it's a religion it's not having to think for yourself that's what religion is all about folks not actually using your own inherent Creator given ability to discern and to judge and to understand the difference between things for yourself no we can't do that because that involves work and effort and patience and persistence and willpower and care driving it ultimately we can't have that I just want somebody else to tell me what to do we're seeing this over and over I want somebody else to provide for my needs I want somebody else to be responsible for me I want somebody else to protect me what kind of people in society act like that children children who aren't mentally psychologically emotionally and spiritually grown into adults they have not arrived that maturity into adulthood you know that's what we're talking about here in all of these dynamics you see the same commonality immaturity childishness some wanting somebody else to take your responsibility for you wanting to be told by someone else what to do so you could just do it and then be rewarded for just doing it for just following orders for just going along and that's the mainstream media is no different their tagline I'm too much of a lowlife coward to tell the truth because that's all these people are they're cowards one and all one and all I'm too much of a lowlife coward to tell the truth says the mainstream media so-called journalists prostitute I repeat lies for a paycheck that's it that's all they do paid repeaters the next group of groupthink dynamic that constitutes a religion and another childish mentality the New Age movement the New Agers I mean I've attacked these people odd nauseam through my new-age BS presentation and my streetwise spirituality presentation and seminar I mean you know my little quote tagline for them is the hopelessly naive these are the people who are so right brained and balanced they think everything's okay in this world you know they think you just need to meditate and make yourself accept all the evil you know just stand down accept everything it's all good it's all just an experience there's children being raped and murdered it's just an experience oh somehow maybe their karmic debt from a past life warrants that treatment and so they're gonna sit back and do nothing to stop it no slavery somehow warranted it should be allowed to continue you know it's all super over-the-top feminine imbalance they don't respect or understand or acknowledge the sacred masculine part of the dynamic of awakening of enlightenment where both of those dynamics need to be in place the Sacred Feminine and the sacred masculine they don't have that developed you know this is an imbalanced child the children of religion are all imbalanced toward the right brain and these people are no different many of them don't have any social boundaries because they're so right brained you know it's just it's it's a hallmark of pure immaturity and never having actually really grown up and taken on one's personal responsibility to the truth and they're no different than New Age you know they belong to the religion of standing down we'll just ignore it we'll ignore all the suffering that's going on in the world we're ignore all the coercion and the violence will never speak up against Daddy you know what this is what the New Age movement actually really is this is the child who's been abused by the father figure and has identified with its role as victim and therefore closes down goes deep within itself and never talks about the abuse that it's continuing to experience that's what the New Age movement is psychologically if you just think about what I just said there listen to it think about it ask yourself how much sense this makes you compare the New Age community to a child who has been abused relentlessly and they don't want to they feel that they are powerless to actually rise up and challenge the abuse directly with the sacred masculine dynamic and say I will not be abused anymore this will stop by any means that I need to use to make it stop okay they won't do that they're the abused child who sits back and says I don't talk about the abuse that comes from Daddy I just accept it I accept I can't do anything about it and I take it and I go within I make a little world for myself inside my abuse like partitioning off you know a section of the personality or the brain of the mind and I'm just going to stay in this little partition and pretend that all that abuse isn't really going on or that it doesn't matter do you think about it that's exactly the dynamic that the New Age movement propagates that's exactly what they're doing it's an abused child that never wants to stand up against its abuser because it has identified with the victim role and believes somewhere down in the subconscious mind it always must be that way and I have to accept it so they're silent on all the coercion in the violence of this world you know we don't talk about their tagline on image number 124 I'm sorry 125 we don't talk about the abuse that mommy and daddy put us through you know if you ignore it it goes away on its own don't you know that you ignore all the negative that's what the New Age is telling you to do you know don't look at that don't look at what's really going on in the world oh yeah even if you see something bad it's just an experience you just have to ignore it let it go don't try to correct anything don't try to teach anybody the difference between right and wrong oh those are all just relative you know how it's saying that something is right or wrong that's a judgement yeah you're damn right it's a judgement yeah it's it's called discernment and judgment which have to be used to understand the difference between things that are good for our evolution and development and things that are not good for our evolution and development it's called being an adult it's called part of what being an adult is is understanding the difference between those things and the New Age movement doesn't want any part of that they want to be that little abused child that sits there and doesn't talk about the abuse you ignore it it goes away on its own yeah how's that working out for you ladies and gentlemen your calls on the other side of the break you're listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn don't go anywhere [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm as promised I'm going to take your calls for the duration of the show as long as of course there are enough callers to take if we somehow run out of calls to take then I'll go back to presenting but looks like we usually fill up the phone lines and tonight shouldn't be any different so let's let me give a call in number for people who want to call in the callin number is eight hundred three one three nine four four three once again toll-free 800 three one 394 43 no taboo topics there never are on what on earth is happening call and talk about anything you want ask any questions about anything that I've covered up to this point concerns speculations comments anything is fair game so let's go to the phones and let's hear from Josh in Virginia Josh you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hey Mark thanks for taking my call I just like to touch on the topic of cremation of care yes I think it's done almost daily by people even in the Liberty movement who when they speak the words what and I do yep like you say it's victimization and it's it's self-defeating and what you're doing is saying that you are powerless and you were hopeless and the truth of the matter is if you would just listen to the inner spark the divine nature of oneself you would know the truth and if you were had the courage to take actions that align with that then there would be no you know things would evolve as they should that's when I think it's I think it's a shame that people have become so you know under this mind-control because it is true from birth we are taught to live a certain way in a certain system that denies what we truly believe for ourselves and if we could only get in tune with that energy and we might be able to live in a prosperous bountiful world that is unlimited and the whole neuroses are the psychological abuse and humanity like you've been talking about in the cosmic abandonment series has taken I mean it's almost insurmountable and we are a long ways from evolving to our true potential which could be limitless absolutely and that is the true gift that we are given and to deny that it hurts I mean I woke up crying the other morning I mean just at the state of the world I mean it's hard it's hard to even deal with the the depth that humanity has fallen to you know Josh um these are really words of wisdom very profound what you're saying because our potential is so great we are not powerless you know we can make it change happen we can affect things in this world you know through our freewill and what you're saying really resonates with me and I find to be very very true you know if I I say to people all the time if people really knew who and what we were up against there is no way they would not take any action you know I constantly get I'm going to talk about the kind of people you're somewhat referring to you know that don't really take any action or even maybe say that they know what's going on in the world and you know then you ask them or what are you doing and they say well hey what can I do if they really knew who the people were that I'm talking about that are really manipulating the world you know if they really knew what was really going on for real truly in their own mind in their own experience they would be doing as much as someone like myself if not more because there's no way you would sit back and not take any action I constantly constantly every day just about get an email from somebody that says to me you should talk about this you should cover this this is what I think is more important than anything you're talking about you should be talking about it you should be aware of it you should be telling people about it and I say to people if you really think that's important what are you doing to get that message out there you know I'm going to talk about the things I feel are the most important for people to understand if you think something else is more important than that and you have knowledge of it by all means please go and put that out there to the world in the way that is the most distributed and free so that most people can hear about it I get people who who email me and say I know more about this this this and that than you do well that's wonderful I never claimed to be an expert on everything I never claimed to have knowledge about every single aspect or facet of what is taking place in the world I consider myself a generalist that has a little bit of knowledge about try to have a little bit of knowledge about as much fields of interest as possible so that I can understand how they are interrelated and how they are all affecting each other you know I tell people I ask people well if this is what you've studied right and this is what you know a lot about and you think everybody needs to know more and more about it I type the person's name into a search engine or I ask them themselves in their email that they send to me I write back and I'll say could you please your site that you've talked about this knowledge and this information where have you covered it instead of saying something to me in this long-winded email that I have ten thousand of that I'm never probably never gonna get to read the whole thing okay when I look for information I don't do it in my email box okay I want a link where it's archived where I can go and I can get in-depth knowledge on it okay you do that through there's there's a methodology of doing this in the modern world it's called the internet maybe people have heard about it out there you know and you putting knowledge up on boards and websites or maybe you write a book okay you know books are still out there - people are still writing those you know and I ask people will where is all your knowledge about this what are you doing to share it and you know what always comes back it's the same thing every time it's a shame because I'm expecting something different still I'm expecting somebody to come back and say oh I'm sorry I forgot to attach my website address in the first correspondence with you I forgot to tell you about my book here's the link on Amazon or on Barnes & Noble or whatever okay it never happens it's always the same thing with the people who want to tell you what you should be covering it's the same thing every time it's a big goose egg it's a big not nothing zero you know they never put themselves out there because it has everything to do Josh with what you one word you mentioned that this is all ultimately about courage right courage courage to put your own name out on the line mark passio is my given name my given birth name I don't use any aliases okay I have put my address out there in in the presentation that I've done in the past I don't care who knows what I'm doing or saying I'm not going to run I'm not going somewhere else I'm staying right here I'm gonna speak the truth and people write to me about other things they say how can I get spiritual protection what candles do I have to burn mark should I buy certain kinds of in census should I have certain statuettes or certain symbols around me know where spiritual protection comes from is standing in the truth in your own courage that's a shield of protection it's not going to come from anywhere else and I hope people begin to understand that I really it's my wish for people to begin to understand that so Josh I want to thank you for the call really profound insights there and something for people to think about deeply so thank you ladies and gentlemen stay with us more of your calls on the other side we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we're taking your calls in this hour the toll-free number to join us 831 394 43 let's go to another caller let's hear from Bubba in Colorado you're live on what on earth is happening you could erode our introduction that's incredible we want to do more and it's all over the Internet like you said thousands of links 10,000 like Google and Yahoo search typing 13 letters b ub b a SC o UT r eb and you'll see on twitter link it in that YouTube covers it as a matter of fact that comment you made about that new it's right there on the top of our Twitter page it's links to YouTube we've taken over all these YouTube sites we did it and you'll see that our emblem the vulture it's everywhere once you set up a scout Reb it's everywhere it's all over the Internet 10,000 links all right well let me stop you from um what kind of information do you cover oh it's called the destruction of Soviet ization of America what are you really discussing short amid eased aside for you that's Soviet ization it's called the stabilization it's good it's definitely happening in in this country for certain no question about it I don't get it as a combination of corporate fascism and what as you refer to as Soviet ization you know social socialism and creeping communism etc definitely well we got this to the joint Jesus death we're on there document in public view and people are denying seeing it it's called Germans corner it's been there three and a half years DoD live milk you'll see Bubba Scout Reb and it's right there what we're saying link to twitter.com board / Bubba Scout rep with why because they've altered Twitter to where you go to the one with tweets and reply we're getting everyone around the world knows about this and America is stupid with the comments we're getting even from the people who don't speak any Chinese and there's Indonesians around the world and of course Europeans because they're all english-speaking so why aren't you fixing this we can't we give the number of chairman Dempsey's office they know who we are US Army War College approves us their command staff it's all on the Internet thousands of link you can dial seven zero three six nine seven nine one two one 24/7 and all you have to say we want both Gao treflan for Colorado well I I certainly agree you know there's a there's a lot of things that people could be doing to get information you know that's what it's ultimately it about you know it's about taking real world action developing the courage to take real world action to put information out there for other people so that they can become educated and get out of the mind control that they're basically under to accept this tyranny that's growing in this country and every other so every little bit that somebody can do contributes to the effort and that's all people have to do is get involved get on the playing field put information out there you know hopefully it's good information and it gets people to wake up and see what's going on and you know that then that information travels and it becomes more distributed so if anybody's out there doing something for themselves and putting the information out there for themselves I'm all for that so I want to thank you for the call and now let's move on to another caller let's hear from Ryan in Indiana Ryan you are live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show thank you Mark I had just bought myself a sensory deprivation tank very interesting I am somewhat familiar with them I've never actually participated in you know stepping inside and experiencing it I know what they're for have you used it and if so what's been your experience yeah Mike was total totally losing really the realization of physical self and I was you know they of all I could describe it as is complete love just surrounded by love and when I got out I felt like I was being reborn when I went in the float tank I went in on crutches I had to bring my ankle a wee 3 4 and for the next few days after the float session I walked on my foot at this if I had never sprained it hmm interesting and it's a saltwater tank yes 800 pounds of epson salt and 11 inches of water interesting so kind of almost puts you because of the deprivation of the five senses it almost puts you right into a state of meditation upon laying in it definitely yes and basically what what on my research it many people achieve alpha or theta brainwave states which those brainwave states are only found supposedly in children and in people have meditated for years and I wanted to know if that had anything to do with pineal gland activation EEG coherent or higher self realization I think it very well could and you know I think meditation is one way to foster that should it be used in a balanced way to balance the brain and not take it into super right brain imbalance but to bring it to the middle to that state of what you just talked about global zeg coherence which is coherence across the two hemispheres of the brain through the corpus callosum and development of both brain hemispheres simultaneously so I think this certainly can be a methodology that is used to do that and to keep it there I think all of us could probably benefit from stepping outside of all of the the deluge of electromagnetic frequencies and sensory over-indulgence that we're hit with sensory bombardment 24 hours a day in our culture here in the West so I definitely think it's something that people should consider it of course not everyone has the resources to get a sensory deprivation tank but you could do it in your own way by simply quieting the thoughts and you know practicing a simple form of meditation that is completely free and available openly to everyone you know it's something that I've talked about in the past on the show and it's one of the three modalities of thought along with concentration and contemplation which also should be practiced in concert with the meditative form of human thought so people don't think of these as forms of thought in many cases but they indeed are you know being able to to stop the mind to stop the chatter of the mind can often be very important to to achieving balance with within the mind and the brain and it's something that I definitely think people should look into in their own way in a way that is available and comfortable to them because you know there's many different ways and methods of doing it so I'm glad to hear that this method worked out for you and you know hopefully you know you'll continue to use it to maintain that balance mm-hmm one last thing can you describe to me in any way your understanding we use in green speech or your comprehension of Latin the word meditation and the word hypnosis sure meditation simply means to bring to the middle to take to the middle okay so what you're doing is if there's a form of left brain imbalance of chronic left rein imbalance you're balancing that out by bringing the state of coherence to the middle of the brain to the equal Union between the left and right brain hemispheres I'll continue that on the other side stay with us everyone [Music] [Music] the cooler side that we don't dare speak [Applause] there's a while between us it'll rip so we keep pretending that there's nothing wrong there's a cold of sides I can't go wrong welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening we're taking your calls in this hour we're talking to Ryan in Indiana he wanted me to break down meditation and hypnosis as words etymologically or in green language and I was saying that meditation actually derives from Latin Medi and I mean it means ultimately to bring to the middle Medi in Latin is the middle or the center and what you're trying to do through meditation is if there is a left brain imbalance to bring that imbalance to the middle which is a state of coherence and union between the left and right brain hemispheres instead of a chronic left brain and balance one of the things you have to be careful of is not to go too far into right brained imbalance by the overuse of it because like anything it has a proper use and then it can be AB used if not used in a way to promote and maintain balance the word hypnosis comes from Greek roots hypo in Greek means under okay and then gnosis is knowledge so this is one one way of looking at it is to be under Neath of knowledge okay so it's something that is knowledge that is underneath something like meaning the subconscious so you're you're going into you know you're being put into some sort of a suppressed state of consciousness Wow and you're underneath the waking of knowledge were active consciousness another way of looking at hypnosis is suppression of a certain kind of spirit or a certain kind of feeling so or influence so people can look at like you know let's say the desire to smoke tobacco products or something like that as that's the influence of something the desire for something and what you would do through hypnosis is to suppress that influence so it could be the suppression of the influence of something and that could mean a positive suppression of influence or a negative one where you're trying to suppress real knowledge from coming up from underneath the surface and keep somebody down that's a negative form of hypnosis which you can look at something like television as so I would not see hypnosis as a unit dimensional phenomenon or uni-dimensional practice it's something that again it's like a cult knowledge it means knowledge that's beneath the surface you know if you understand how to access or put somebody into those states of consciousness it depends on the wielder the person who's using that influence their state of consciousness that is going to determine the outcome whether for good or for ill so that's my take on hypnosis and my breakdown of the words and I hope that answers your question let let's move on and let's hear from will in Florida will your live on what on earth is happening welcome mark yes your take my call I want to say thanks for using your your personal time to amass and share this information it was an extreme effort it's ongoing you know it's something that doesn't stop so you know that's another thing people have to understand when you do this work it's not like oh it's just done one day and you're there you know it's ongoing so I I I thank you that you appreciate that that time and effort that I've put in and I you know I want to thank anybody else that's out there that's doing that great work yeah very much so I have two questions on tube different topics of that's right go right ahead Oh with regards to the Anunnaki if they were the ones that are pulling our strings you know they they interfere with our evolution do you think they would really just abandon us like that or do you think they're still pulling our strings via the political spectrum I have mixed thoughts on that I think for the most part they did want to leave this place because for many different reasons it wasn't a hospitable environment for them that they didn't enjoy being really physically here on this planet according to certain accounts I think that they would much rather have been on their world rather than here on an away mission doing something that they didn't really want to do but they felt needed to be done but at the same time all of the time that they spent here you know they were treated differently than they would have been treated on their planet like I said met you know for many weeks they were being treated as gods here so they got kind of got used to that and they liked that dynamic while they may have been in an in an inhospitable place physically the the dynamic that they experienced with their quote offspring was like being worshipped as a god so they got used to that I think that it is quite possible that the certain contingencies of them remained behind in a covert fashion and when I say covert I mean it doesn't necessarily mean that you know that they had to even remain outside of this planet and you know be watching over it or something like that many of these beings integrated with humanity through inbreeding through actual physical inbreeding with our species and then over time I think their knowledge and experience just got you know became occult acknowledged you know and that they actually blend it in with us over time I think many of their bloodlines may still be here amongst us living as a human being but not you're not able to see the external characteristics or traits in a physical difference they look like fully human that's also very possible I think it could be a mixture of both of these things as well I mean I'm not saying it's any one particular thing going on I think that it very well could be that you know these beings may be monitoring our progress and seeing how their quote experiments or their quote young are doing from time to time that could also be possible so do I think they just up and left and had nothing to do with us no but does this still constitute an abandonment situation yes it does because it isn't like they really taught us truly the difference between right from wrong because hey did they really know it themselves by their actions by what they did you know all of these are questions that need to be pondered and asked then again I don't really come down any with any hardline position one way or the other as to the extent to me that the original beings are still here with us or not it could very well go either way so I know that's not really a hard line dancer or a committed answer but that that's kind of where my fault on that is it's not it's not taking a hard stance either way yeah I don't think we have a possibility of knowing that answer so that's good you can get really right now well hey maybe if they initiate some kind of overt contact we might know that answer you know in a big way subtly but that's highly unlikely that they're going to do anything to just reveal them solves to us because I don't think many of them really want humanity to fully understand the depths of their involvement with us that's just my take okay okay so you had another question yeah this one's an overly debated topic so considering the harm done and do what you will principle mm-hmm I don't think I've ever heard your stance on abortion and yeah I'm through mindfulness knowledge I've been on my stance is kind of slowly changing so I was just curious yes I've talked about it I think briefly but never went into depth I do consider it against natural law and I don't condone abortion I do think it is a wrongdoing okay that's what I figured yep awesome all right thank you you got it great thanks for the call well from Florida let's hear from Chris in Arizona Chris you are live on what on earth is happening welcome to show hey Mark yeah thanks goodness doctor I'm sure you're okay yes I can yeah father listen serious for a couple weeks and for the most part I could say pretty much agree with the lottery and see if not most of it my journeys been pretty interesting coming out of fundamentalism fundamentalist Christianity for the last 10 years being raised as a you know in a kind of a mixed home Protestant Catholic all that kind of stuff taking it real serious and then transitioning from that seeing different layers of the onion so to speak peeled back over the years and uh but one of the things that has always fascinated me there's always been real difficult to swallow it was the whole Genesis account you know specifically Genesis 3 the whole fallen falling this is humanity all right and when you run in the nuts just you but definitely your work and a lot of others who talked about how up that that whole dynamic can be seen from a completely different perspective really not a theological one at all but more of a anthropological one or even of ancient daily and all that kind of stuff it really really took me uh you know by surprise but then it's more I listen to you the more I read about it it's my own research so more plausible it became so I suppose say thanks for all that you do I appreciate it I think you're really a well balanced I think you're you're on to something alright I'm gonna thank you for maintaining an open mind despite you know basically the belief system that you grew up in and I'm not even going to say there isn't some core truth to all religion I've talked about that in the past when I've talked about religion and Astro theology and the underlying you know core principles of morality that are integrated into these religions but often covered up you know in the process of belief will put this up on the other side stay with us folks [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening to wall on earth is happening this is the last segment of the show for this episode we were talking to Chris in Arizona who was saying that he started seeing some of the biblical teachings that he had been accustomed to during you know his uh his religious teachings in a different perspective as a result of you know looking at the story of Genesis and examining different research from different people who were looking at this from perhaps a completely different perspective on that it could have been non-human entities that were dealing with humanity and you know not the quote the quote God of creation being told about in these these accounts and I was saying that I just think that that's you know speaks volumes to his open-mindedness and willing to go to where the evidence and the truth leads instead of just buying dogmatically into a set of faith-based teachings and I'm not trying to say all religion should just be totally and completely thrown out because there are core truths that lie at the heart of some religious teachings that are about morality and are about treating each other with respect and decency and you know it's not to say you know just abandon all of it and just live as beasts of the field I've never said that from day one on this show it has always been about seeing the core truth that lies at the heart of different traditions but leaving all the rest of the faith-based trappings that are just there to get people to conform and follow and go along and believe what they're told you know so Chris I just wanted to say I have respect for your open-mindedness and willingness to to go there and do some research for yourself did you have anything else for us yeah yeah I did I one person forty thinks thanks mark what should the questions that I had for you is that I've heard you speak multiple times about the the archons the the God lowercase

G engineers were to read called yes but I've also heard you differentiate when you talk about the the creator guy right Apple T and it seems to me that you have an idea that whatever that entity is that entity is good absolutely yeah I don't know without any question my mind at least you know you could say that maybe my faith or my belief or you know what I feel at the core of my being but absolutely I think that that force if you will being intelligence whatever you want to refer to it as is here for is is experiencing itself through all of the multi-faceted life forms that are exist within creation and is learning and growing itself and is here is actually providing the laws that the nurturing laws of creation for the betterment of the beings in this universe not as any kind of a mechanism of control or slavery which is what the dark occult thinks of that force that's why they're in rebellion against it you know they think it's all there to as a controlling agent in this world view of if we can't do anything we want including hurt other people without consequence then that's got to be some kind of a force to trying to control us they want to be able to do whatever they want no matter how ruthless were evil without consequence which is the overturning of natural moral law in creation which is wanting to be God so you know I absolutely agree with what you said I do feel that that force not only exists but it is something that is good that's great yeah and my world to ask was where did you is that just tacit knowledge you kind of just intuited or was there something along your wife journey that happened to you that gave you that idea or yes I suffered in and often my ignorance and ego as a former Satanist suffering I'm suffering snapped me out of that ignorance intense suffering which is what I tell everybody that asked me how I got on to the path of truth compared to the path of illusion and ego that I was going down the answer is enormous suffering did that for me which is why in many cases that kind of enormous suffering can be a gift you know and in my case it was I just heard the message that the universe was saying at some point and decided I'm gonna go to where the truth leads and my life has turned around in quality and gotten better and better ever since check out my podcast a lot of that some of those personal anecdotes are in there if you go back to podcast 1 and listen forward you'll get the big picture of what I'm talking about if you do do it if you go through the information that way not just snippets here and there or videos here and there from YouTube but the heart of the information lies in the podcast I'd encourage you to check those out oh yeah I'll definitely do that one more thing this at the perfect time is always of the essence with me I got I got three kids we got a ten the five and a three-year-old understand so it was difficult but I did want to ask you about that number one do you have any kids a number two is there anything that you would be doing as a father in this day and age differently if you knew that maybe I may be way too big is a question but as a dad what can you do for your kids if there's one thing you could say above all out I do not have any children and I've essentially made the decision not to because of the quality of this world and how you know it seems to be deteriorating by the day but you know my advice for parents or potential parents is teacher children all about natural law that's the number one thing that you can do to a child is to from the time that they are born start beginning to talk to them about morality and natural law the non-aggression principle combined with the self-defense principle in a balanced way and if you do that I think that's what real parenting is ultimately all about those lessons real adulthood is about those lessons and then you can't give any better gift to the next generation and to teach that very essence of morality to our young that's my advice man that best incredible you said that I use word but that's almost prophetic because one of the reasons why I've listened to you for so long and haven't decided to turn the channel so to speak was because of what you talked about natural wall because when I heard you talking about that I look to use some of your slides those are the things I've been just intuitively telling my son especially if he's 10 right and he's the oldest and I'll them you know daughter he's 5 for years as far as consequences go we've talked so many times without consequences and it seems like that for some reason it's something not not a lot of people really seem to hammer on and so you you you never Sherman I just really appreciate how you elucidate that so clearly how there is a consequence for our actions there's so much of the New Age stuff out there that basically says what you want and right oh no strange as though it's originally about the laws of morality learning them yourself teaching them to others that's what the great work is that's what we're here to learn and understand and live and put put into practice in our lives Chris I want to thank you for the call and for going to where the truth leads yourself so that's what it's all about my friend take care alright well do one more caller let's all go with tradition and let's wrap up with Ivan from Phoenix Ivan happy birthday hey Mark I don't even know what to say you've had quite a few very good callers tonight they brought up concepts ideas and you know explaining what you're putting out in such a good way that I'm like well I guess I don't need to call it picking up on this good well hey I decided to bring you in I went outside of the call queue a little bit other callers please forgive me for that but it is Ivan's birthday today so I figured that you know we'd put them on the air and let him take the show out which has been a tradition over the past few weeks so what do you have for us today my friend well I had quite a few things but I got all my track listening to these callers today they brought a really excellent excellent thing I'm talking Ivan isn't it true though seriously this show has the best callers out of any rate Oh show in the world period I mean I can't even believe it myself it's amazing the quality of callers that call into the show blows my mind yeah I'd agree with that because you listen to other shows even other shows host they're kind of in the affects realm all the time nine times out of ten effects effects effects realm where as the callers to this show nine times out of ten are in the causality right so it makes bringing in calls that matter and not just beating around the bush kind of stuff you know that's exactly correct yep and yeah Ivan I'm sorry then the the break music has called us we're coming up to the end of the show but I just wanted to say happy birthday my friend and thanks for for calling in you know making it on the show and bringing up that great point ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes that one can make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here in two weeks from today thanks for listening good night everyone [Music] [Music] to be continuing of course to cover the extended cosmic abandonment presentation cosmic abandonment is an extended audio series that deals with the connection between the interference theory of human origins as I like to call it with the current human condition and tonight on the show we're going to be talking about how we can look at the group dynamics of certain different groups of individuals in the world who are what you might say part of the problem who you might say are part of the problem and why they continue to remain in that kind of state of inactive consciousness and looking into the ancient reasons that humanity was plunged into a state of unconsciousness and you know how that explains so much about why people behave the way that they do in the times that we are living in so that's coming up on this edition of what on earth is happening I will be taking calls in our number three of the show tonight so if you want to call in and discuss anything that we've covered thus far into the topic that we're going to be talking about this evening I was interviewed on the show truth warrior hosted by David Whitehead on the truth frequency radio network on Monday September 8th 2014 last week we covered that that one of the main topics was the interference theory of human origins we talked a little bit about the origins of government and religion and money the the social institutions essentially that control humankind and keep us in slavery we talked about the belief in authority about order followers and how they come to be you know in that state of consciousness and we talked about taking you know caring enough to take right action to create to start influencing people and creating positive change in this world so that interview is up on the what on earth is happening calm website in the news section and it's listed in the latest news on the left-hand side of the site I will be conducting an all-day seminar live one-time-only all-day seminar called and issues will be covered in this all-day seminar I also will be breaking down the esoteric symbolism of the Major Arcana of the Tarot Dec in the second part of this seminar so this is coming up once subtitle of true awakening vs. New Age nonsense so that the full title of this seminar is going to be streetwise spirituality revisited true awakening versus New Age nonsense so the the main a body of information that I'll be presenting will be done on November 22nd and then there's going to be a second event I don't know if it'll be hosted in the same venue I actually don't have the venue information yet that's still being confirmed but it is going to happen November 22nd and 23rd so the on the 23rd will Beacon it will just be me and the crowd for an extended question-and-answer session so it'll be like two events the seminar will be on the first night of the of this two-day seminar and then there will be an extended question-and-answer session so I could really get into fielding people's questions about this material on the second evening November 23rd that'll be Sunday November 23rd so actually this is a two-day event I will have more exact details coming up on the water on earth is happening calm website and on this radio show very very shortly as soon as I have that information it will be posted to the website and it will be announced on this show so look for coming up in the early next year ladies and gentlemen stay with us you're listening - what on earth is happening right here on rbn we'll be right back after these words [Applause] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting before the break I'd had a few event announcements I just have a couple of more quick things before we jump into the material for tonight there is a donation button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening dot-com website if you feel that you've received valuable value from the information that has been shared on both the water on earth is happening comm website and radio show you can feel free to make a voluntary donation to help support my work so that it can continue into the future and that having been said I want to direct everyone's attention to the website on the radio show tab of course if you're listening there live underneath the player for the broadcast for tonight you'll see images for tonight's show alright folks I apologize for that interruption it appears that my my own internet connection went offline there for a while and I apologize for that it looks like my service provider has been having issues today it's not the first time that it went down it went down earlier today and then came back up but it looks like there may be some intermittent issues there so I apologize for that interruption I'll just jump back in where I left off I was about to tell people about the images for tonight's show they're listed under the player and you'll see the cosmic abandonment slides in two parts we've already covered part one of these slides but we were well into part two we were talking about again the kinds of group dynamics that we observe in the world and we were asking the question that if we look at the the events that happened in the ancient past that were directed and influenced by non-human entities that had inter action with humanity and really were responsible for the origins of humanity as so many ancient texts talk about in light of that information in light of that ancient knowledge could we do we can we put together a better psychological framework through which to understand groupthink dynamics and groupthink behavior that we observe in the modern world so many different kinds of groups you know all the different kinds of status whether they're leftist rightist or you know min arkose religionists rigid skeptics and scientism followers scientism worshipers you know uh people who join with the state through mainstream media you know indoctrination and propaganda New Age religion estava talking about these uh hopelessly naive type childish type of people who buy into the New Age mumbo jumbo and then and the New

Age variant of spirituality which doesn't have anything to do with real spirituality at all and they kind of want to ignore the negative things that are taking place in their reality and think that they could ignore reality and somehow prosper you know and somehow change it for the better through ignorance and you know they think if they ignore the abuses that are going on in the world somehow you know will magically be able to create something new and better and all those abuses will go away on their own and you know last week I kind of ended the show trying to explain to people it just simply doesn't work that way the dynamic of consciousness and the laws of the universe just do not work that way without confronting the problem and working through it we're never going to heal it you know you can't ignore it and have it go away on its own it just doesn't work so you know the the next slide that we were going to move to in this presentation was slide number 126 so last week we ended on 125 so I'm going to move to slide 126 this evening and talk about another group dynamic that we see all too much of in the world today and these are the people who claim that they are very knowledgeable regarding what's going on in the world and yet they are inactive they are not actually truly motivated to do anything to create change in the world and we'll pick up from there on the other side of this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] to the other side welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn on your host market a CEO my website what on earth is happening calm before the break I was talking about the kind of people who claim to be knowledgeable about the dynamic that is taking place in our world and yet their act actually completely inactive they aren't really doing anything to try to change that dynamic they'll just claim to be knowledgeable about it and say oh I know what's going on and yet you know they're not really doing anything to try to end slavery they're not certainly not doing anything to try to reach other people to reach their minds with information you know to gain their attention and put out information that is structured you know so that people can understand it readily you know and they don't want to do the great work you know they want to complain about how other people are doing to explain things you know they want to they want to critique everybody else see you know you know what a critic is folks a real an actual critic of somebody else's work who says who tries to pick apart you know other people's work instead of doing their own you know you could define a critic as someone who is so bad at X fill in the blank ok that they essentially make their life's work to complain or nitpick about someone who is actually doing X fill-in-the-blank and that's the same thing as the the blank that was filled in in the earlier part of that equation that's what a critic actually is you know if you really think about it that's what it is a movie critic is someone who has no talent in making movies or does so badly at doing something like you know using creative energy to make movies and tell stories that what they have become is somebody who does nothing but nitpick and complain about the way other people make movies you know an art critic is the same thing they couldn't cut it as an artist themselves so all they have to do is critique what other people do are actually doing in the realm of art you know a literary critic it's the same thing there are terrible writers who couldn't make it as you know someone in literature so they ended up just critiquing someone else somebody else's work and making that their life's work they're ultimately truly bitter human beings bitter people who don't really actively engage in anything in the world they're Watchers you could say there are people who just watch life like it's some movie on a screen you know and it's anything but that and they want to they want to complain about how other people are doing the actual work that they're doing but yet they're doing nothing so I mean I'll give you a few examples and again I call these people the armchair quarterbacks you know and the the image on slide 126 I think brilliantly portrays this little statue there with a fat guy with a beer in his hand in one hand and a remote control on the other hand on a reclining on a recliner in his living room with a football down you know on the floor watching the game on television and complaining about how you know you know somebody complaining about how somebody is is playing the game yet has you know never been able to actually get on the playing field himself so you know that's what that's what this is ultimately all about it's about people who want to sit by who want to watch and who want to complain about people who are actually doing something you know I I've recently coined the term the semi aware armchair quarterbacks because it isn't that they're they're not knowledgeable about anything they're semi aware in other words they have some of the knowledge about what's going on they have you know bits and pieces of the puzzle here and there but ultimately they're not truly fully aware they're not really fully enlightened so you know that's a little you know uh anagram if you spell it out semi aware armchair quarterback si aq the semi aware armchair quarterbacks are sacks si aqs okay and you could just use your imagination as to what I think they're sacs of you know but you know all all humor joking aside these people really aren't helping the dynamic of the world at all you know all they're really doing is trying to detract from somebody else's work or try to make themselves feel better because they'll delve into the minutiae of somebody else's work and say oh hey this little tiny aspect you didn't get right or oh you you put this huge article up here and you spelled a word wrong or you you you know you use incorrect grammar here in in the 32nd paragraph of this you know of this essay here you know and it's it's utterly missing the point these people utterly miss the point they're not on the playing field you know they're not actually out there trying to create real world real-life change because that's too hard work for them to do you know they're just lazy people who want to complain or want to nitpick somebody else's work you know it's goes to this old adage to know and not to do is not to know so are they really truly knowledgeable and that's why I put knowledgeable in quotes on this slide they claim they're making the claim that they're knowledgeable but when knowledge isn't backed by right action what it is really a telltale sign of is that the person doesn't really have any depth of knowledge they have periphery knowledge that's why I call them the semi aware armchair quarterbacks they don't have real deep awareness okay because if they had real deep awareness they would be on the battleground they would be on the playing field they would be exposing evil in the world they would be out there publicly not hiding behind a keyboard as a keyboard commando not making a youtube video with some with some you know text overlays not even using their own voice or something like that you know if you knew the real evil the real extent that evil is active in this world and has this world in its grip and you really wanted to change that dynamic you would already be on the field doing this work if you really knew that's why I say the people who aren't doing that do they really truly deeply know the answer has to be no because I'm telling you folks if you knew this level of psychopathy that owns this world and if you knew the people that that I've been in the presence of and I'm telling you it like I've said myself I've never categorized it as high-level dark occultism it was what I admittedly called the girl-scout level of the dark occult okay compared to where it goes compared to the level that this hierarchy of evil goes to okay and just at that level it shook me so to the core that I knew I had to get involved in this spiritual war on the side of good by exposing it and turning the light on it shining a light on it and making people aware of what's out there and you know whenever I get people emailing or complaining or writing in a forum or whatever or sending me an email about I didn't do this right or I don't like the way you cover this or I don't like your delivery here or this and that doesn't make a difference what they're complaining about the person you know sends me their name through their email address or I could leavin look up their email address or whatever okay will you you put their name into a search engine and invariably it doesn't matter what search engine you you happen to like or use you put their name in there and most of the time these people's full name will be on you know the email header okay and invariably you know the kind of results you get absolute zero nada goose egg nothing there is none of their work out there shared with the public they have no website they have no book they have no audio series okay they have no documentary no video no allegory that they've put out no artwork zero the people who complain the loudest about other people's work don't have work of their own that they've shared with the world that they've shared with humanity they're claiming to have knowledge they're claiming to be so knowledgeable about the dynamic goes on enough to say you don't have this aspect right you don't have this component right you need to do this you need to point this out you need to research this or that well where's their work that's my question and invariably whenever you look up these people there is nothing out there there's zero out there with their name on it they have shared nothing they have put nothing out there for other people to take in at all at all what that tells me is two things it tells me one they're not so knowledgeable as they would claim because if they were knowledgeable okay they'd feel the urge to share what they know with others that's what drove the whole one on earth is happening series that's what drives all my presentations I've been filled with such information to a point where it has to go someplace it's flowed in and now the energy has to flow back out into creation into the universe into other people and so I have felt a desire to share it you know that's what being really in touch with the creative force is you know being really in touch with knowledge and wisdom is you've taken it in and then it has to go somewhere it has to flow out you know but with these people who are the chronic complainers about everybody else's work they've shared nothing themselves which tells me they don't really know anything we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening right here on rbn stay with us [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on the Republic Broadcasting Network I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening comm we were talking about people who claim to be knowledgeable yet really don't publicly share their information they don't want to put themselves out there for other people and open themselves up to critique you know they don't want to do the work that it takes to logically structure information so that other people can readily absorb it and understand it you know slides don't make themselves presentations don't make themselves audio series don't make themselves there's a lot of organizational work that goes into it there's a lot of creative work that goes into it you have to learn about the organization of information and how to present the information in a clear and concise way so that other people can grasp it you know and that's hard work that's not something that you just you know suddenly do or that it suddenly comes together on its own you know and most people don't want to get involved in teaching they don't want to they don't want to become a teacher for other people you know they barely want to learn themselves and these are people who basically they've learned a little bit and it's that old adage you know a little learning can be a dangerous thing you know because they haven't really gone into the deep waters of knowledge and wisdom and when you go into those deep water as you recognize that once you have become knowledgeable you have a personal responsibility to share what you know with others that's what real wisdom is about and these people don't have any real wisdom because they're not really interested in sharing anything they just want to absorb more they want to take more in take more in take more in and don't get me wrong folks I'm not even saying I was at a place like that in my life I've talked about it and shared it publicly many times okay I was at a point where I was just taken in more and taken him more never was the kind of person that would you know bother to spend the energy to write to somebody you know that even if I liked a whole bunch of their work and I disagreed with one little aspect of it and trying to convince them and you know you're wrong about this and don't cover it this way and you need to change this or that about your presentation or your presentation style I never did that I just accepted it and said you know what didn't feel right to me or what I you know had information contradicting it that I you know felt it to be not correct I just left it you know and that's it but I was still at a point where all I was doing was taking things in and not putting much back out until I met a woman in the state of Virginia who basically told me what makes you think you have a right to do that and it hit me like a ton of bricks it hit me like somebody hitting me in the face that statement you know it was like well I don't know you know she's like what are you doing with all this knowledge that you are carrying around with you in that head of yours and I said well not really much other than taking more in and the the answer came back what makes you think you have a right to do that as if it was like I was abusing what I had been given literally and it made her her statement resonated with me and again she didn't say it in all that nice of a way it was more like a kick in the rear end like get to work you know you've become somebody who can be a teacher now get to work because that's what your responsibility is and you know like I said it hit me like a lightning bolt and it was responsible for me starting to put information out there and now that's what I'm trying to do I'm just trying to pass that lightning bolt along that energy you know because there's so many people out there who are pretty knowledgeable and you know what they're doing Zippo nada zero you know you here's how you can gauge really I feel and again people will say oh this is too harsh or you know it's not an accurate assessment or gauge of what somebody's doing I personally feel that it is to put put your name into Google or into any search engine you like okay start page you know if you don't like Google or Bing I don't care what search engine you use wrap it in double quotes put your first and last name inside of double quotes so it searches for that phrase into a search engine and hit returned and see what comes back and you'll know whether you're putting information out there for other people to absorb okay that's all it really takes in the modern world to know who's putting information out there publicly alright and you know if no valuable information comes back that can really transform the world and help to end the ignorance of humanity and thus to end human slavery then that person who's the name who's wrapped in double quotes there is not engaged in the great work sorry to inform you of that or to burst your bubble okay that's the gauge in the modern-day you know so you know people want to want to debate that they want to disagree with that but I'm just here to try to tell you like I said I'm not here to win popularity contests I'm here to tell people the harsh truth of the reality of the matter okay and the reason people don't want to get involved in that fight is because they haven't developed the courage or the skillset to actually get on that battlefield and actually wage that war they want to sit on the sidelines and think somehow they're watching is going to contribute to the outcome it's it's it's part of this whole New Age nonsense too that we are here to be observers we're not here to be observers folks we're here to be active participants in this spiritual warfare that's going on here on this planet and hopefully to tip the scales toward the victory of good over evil you know but you know people will constantly debate that and and think that you know what you're saying is too too harsh mark you know you're too harsh on other people no I'm just trying to tell people like it really is so I I again in these little sections these little ad hominem attacks that I'm going through all these different group dynamics of the people who are really holding humanity through their inaction through their either their action or their inaction you know in in the cases of people who are dominators and people who are involved in the system and are supporting slavery and supporting government etc you know and are actively involved in the control system dynamic through their actions they're supporting slavery and then you have people in the New Age movement in religion the armchair quarterbacks through through their inaction there's enslaving humanity so I give people a little you know vitriolic quote you know of what they're really saying to the world without actually saying it and after each section when I go through the person involved or the group involved in these groupthink dynamics I apply this little vitriolic freeze to what they're really about you know and slide number 127 has this phrase regarding the semi aware armchair quarterbacks ok the sacs and here's their here's their their little saying they say I know all about what's going on in the world can't you see how well I'm putting all that knowledge to use as I sit in my armchair and drink my beer and change the channel on my remote control can't you see how how wonderfully I'm putting all the knowledge I've taken into my mind to use in the world to actually change the dynamic here on earth yeah it's doing so much good let me tell you you know I mean I don't know how I could really possibly be more vitriolic about this I mean if you can't hear the total acidity and bitterness and sarcasm etc in my voice I don't know what to tell anybody you know it's so clear to me how I feel about people who act like this their children I mean it all comes back to that tree of evil folks the people who are engaged in those dynamics ok who aren't really doing the work upon themselves and even if they have done a limited amount of work upon themselves aren't putting information out there for others to influence others because they don't really understand how the great work works ok they're children they haven't grown up they're part of the dynamic that's keeping humanity enslaved ok underneath willful ignorance the fear of owning personal responsibility underneath that self-loathing due to lack of self-respect because of some kind of parental abandonment issues these people don't truly love themselves they don't think that they're good enough they don't think that they're worthy they don't want to work upon themselves enough to actively engage in the spiritual dynamic that we have truly come here to engage in which is to affect the minds of other people once we understand the truth ourselves to help them to understand the truth so we can all end slavery on this planet ok and that's what these people ultimately want no part in doing because they're too worried about nitpicking somebody else's work it's the attitude of a little child ok that's all it really is that's all we're talking about here people who have not grown up mentally emotionally and spiritually as I've said that's what this section is ultimately about ok so let's move on to I would say this is the last group I'm gonna really launched a acidic vitriolic attack against and ultimately I would say that this group is the number one responsible group that is creating the slavery dynamic on earth that they're the people if one group of people you had to point the finger at you had to point blame at okay and there's another thing New Agers don't want you ever say they want to eradicate that word from the English vocabulary there's no such thing as blame to a New Ager okay nobody is ultimately responsible for what's going on not really you know we'll pick this up on the other side of the break folks stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back we go [Music] welcome back everyone they're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting we're into the second hour of the show for this evening I'm your host mark passio my website is what on earth is happening calm we've been talking about the different group dynamics that keep humanity enslaved you know we've talked about religionists we talked about rigid skeptics the people who worship at the altar of scientism of government-funded science we've talked about people who believe in the legitimacy of slavery because they believe in the legitimacy of the state you know believers in government you know regardless of what they're a political flavor are conservative liberal men are kissed as if there is such a thing we've talked about people who take part in the farce that is mainstream media we've talked about the very naive childlike mentality of the New Age movement community we've talked about the knowledgeable yet inactive people that I refer to as the semi aware armchair quarterbacks who critique everybody else's work yet put none of their own out into the world for people to learn from and now we're moving into what I would call the dynamic that truly creates slavery at the highest level and if there is one group of individuals that bears the brunt of the moral culpability meaning the moral responsibility or blame for what is happening on the earth right now to our species meaning the enslavement of humanity the continued and perpetual enslavement of humanity it is the group of people known as the order followers those who act without first verifying that the action that they are going to take with their own body is in harmony with natural law or is actually a right in other words as opposed to a wrong behavior they should not be enacting toward another being and this group the order followers is who I call the least mature these are the least developed beings on earth they are the people who have not matured mentally emotionally psychologically and most of all they have they are the least matured spiritually out of any other people and any other groups of people on the earth the order followers the people who will listen to somebody else's orders again without first determining for themselves on their own through knowledge whether the behavior they are about to take is a right or a wrong and yet they will just do the behavior for whatever justifications they will come up with in their mind are the actual most responsible people for the enslavement of humanity and the continuation of that enslavement so you know I should just really say the continuation of that enslavement really that's what they're the dynamic they're taking part in because even if you want to say humanity was made as a slave species okay through no fault of our own did we come into that condition what keeps us in that condition is people who are willing to follow orders and again it I want to make it clear here it does not matter the justification doesn't make a difference why you thought it was okay to perform an action that was actually or wrong see this is where the rest of humanity who aren't order followers and who see the problem in order following still have to come to grips with what's really going on in this group of people the problem here is that people want to make excuses for the order followers this is what we are all too predisposed to do it seems okay we want to say well why did they follow that order why did they feel that it was necessary for them to perform that action what were they thinking what kind of wrong thinking process was going on in there what kind of illogical thought processes was happening and I'm not saying don't look at those things that's very important to understand psychologically those dynamics okay to understand what people in these completely wrong ways of thinking have going on in their minds how they're the wheels are turning inside their cobweb brain okay it's important to understand the ways that they're thinking I'm not saying don't look at that dynamic however what I'm trying to get people to grasp and this is one of the hardest things to get people to understand is that those things ultimately do not matter when it comes down to the result that natural law processes bring to Humanity in the aggregate okay I know that's a mouthful but really try to understand and follow what I'm saying here okay it's highly important as a matter of fact it's so important I am definitely going to make an entire presentation about nothing else but order followers at some point in in the future more likely than not I'll just you know as a brief aside briefly talk about this I'm probably going to beginning to step away from some of the approaches that I've been doing for a while first of all because some of times they you know they just get long in the tooth and you get tired of doing the same exact thing and I want to change up the approach and see if different things work you know and you can get tired doing this too and I don't want to burn out completely because I've gotten to a point where I felt like I was burning out and I I want to sustain what I'm doing and reach new people okay and have more of an impact so people may notice I've pulled back from radio interviews on other people's shows to focus on the material I'm covering here on this show and to focus on my own presentation work and traveling to other places to you know interact dynamically with people live in person and in other venues and I'm gonna kind of continue that policy and I really don't want to do more more than like one maybe two interviews and us on other shows of a you know that are not my own radio show and it's not that you know I'm trying to you know just you know not do this anymore it's it's just I want to keep it fresh and at some point you begin to tire of saying the same things over and over and over again in such you know continuous progression so I've done the whole interview circuit I guess you could say the whole round of interviews on other radio broadcasts and I fully appreciate all the people offering me to come on to their shows you know they don't have to extend that invitation to me but they they have and I've accepted and done many shows I'm kind of tapering that off a little bit and keeping it as a slow you know progression where I do maybe one or two a month but the other thing that I want to Alta mately do is [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn i apologize before this last break my internet connection fluctuated again and i was down for the last several seconds of that last segment hopefully things will stay up this time and we won't have any continued interruptions but once again I apologize for that so let me go back to the material regarding order followers and what I was saying about how I was going to begin to try to try some different approaches about how I try to reach people and I think one of the things that I'm going to do instead of travelling as much to a lot of different places because it seems like what ends up ultimately happening in those instances is the transportation industries that are ultimately compliant and complicit with the state in their control mechanisms end up making a whole lot of money and I really this is my problem with conferences as well where you have to pay to bring all these people together and I'm not saying it doesn't have an extraordinary effect there is a compromise there somewhere but ultimately when you give a whole lot of resources and energy to these companies that are really doing nothing but being complicit in their enslavement of humanity you have to start to ask yourself is there another way of doing this and we have the digital technology to reach more people than we ever could in physically in person and I know people like to interface with people in person and see them and meet them and get a feel for them but it's I think ultimately we can reach more people doing things locally and sharing it online so this is one of the things that I really want to start moving toward and focusing on you know I could do some presentations here in Philadelphia again like I was in years past and host them here and record them both you know with audio and video or even if I just did audio recording and then put my voice to my slides of the live presentation I've done that in the past like for the streetwise spirituality seminar the first one that I gave which was in I'm sorry not not not streetwise spirituality my new-age BS revisited presentation that I gave in Asheville I put my digital slides with full animation and motion to my voice that was recorded at that seminar I could do things things like that and then share that widely and freely online and reach a whole lot more people than just the amount of people that could come to a live physical seminar just like we reached a whole lot more people with the free your mind videos then actually attended those conferences you know two hundred and fifty people may have attended year one maybe three hundred three hundred and fifty year - but you know millions of people ultimately those videos reached in the aggregate numbers of all those presentations combined and you know how many people shared them with other people so it's it's a numbers game and I think we have to use you know every means at our disposal for reaching new people not just preaching to the choir in person and I think digital media is of course the way of doing that and you know getting that digital information into as many people's hands as possible with the intent and helping to share the intent with them that this information needs to be shared as widely and freely as possible with whoever needs to see and hear it so with that being said I am in the future planning on giving a presentation here in Philadelphia I don't have a time a date venue set just as yet but I will soon that is going to be exclusively about the dynamic of order following and order followers themselves and how they are ultimately the people who are the most responsible for the continuation of human slavery and I'm going to get into all the dynamics about why do they do these things what's going on in their psychology what are they feeling what are experiencing what are they undergoing what happened earlier in their lives that made them behave like this well what kind of trial hood childhood traumas could they be wrestling with what kind of personal dynamics could they be wrestling with you know we'll get into all of that but then I'm gonna really talk about natural law and I'm gonna talk about the way people misunderstand how natural law applies to order followers where it doesn't it doesn't it's not like a person sitting there with natural law is not like a person sitting with someone like with a clipboard with their personal history and all the the dynamics that are going on in their mind and the reasons why they might possibly take the behaviors that they're taking it doesn't work like that this is this is people who try to overly personalize laws of nature okay and they see karmic consequence as something that is more like how a person behaves where a person might look at someone else's decisions and say well could you explain to me what your motivating factors were for behaving like that okay natural law does not work like that ladies and gentlemen if you think it works like that you don't understand what natural law is at all at all and again I I make an extrapolation I make a I try to liken this to physical laws if a person who is not knowledgeable about how gravity works to pull you know a an object of a certain amount of mass toward another object of a certain amount of mass in in a case like a human body that is going over the edge of a cliff toward the center of the gravitational mass of the earth okay and therefore resulting in a bad day for a person that goes over the edge of that cliff gravity doesn't sit there and like a human being say well hey there's a two-year-old child toddler wandering over toward the edge of this 300 foot tall cliff and she just doesn't know any better this little girl you know she just doesn't really know what she's doing and if she steps off the cliff because she wonders what's on what's at the bottom of this ravine and I don't really understand that you know setting my my foot toward the edge of that ravine and you know taking a step over the edge is gonna have result in me having a very bad day this girl just simply doesn't understand how though that law of gravity that law of nature operates well gravity doesn't sit there like a human being and say but but she doesn't understand but she she can't possibly comprehend this it doesn't care it's a law that's in effect in the universe well the laws that govern behavior are no different than the laws that govern physical dynamics physical interaction of matter they're no different than that they're impersonal laws they are not personal interactions in consciousness like the interaction between one person and another person that's a personal interaction the laws of nature that deal with the consequences of behavior spiritual laws moral laws what I simply refer to as natural law does not care about the why regarding what you chose all it cares about is that you chose a specific way of behavior a specific modality of behavior was chosen well then it goes into the computer program and it says well hey if you press the a letter on the keyboard of the universe the letter A has to be displayed on the screen of the universe that's it and if this behavior was chosen this is the result that's going to be displayed in creation this is the result you're going to get back from creation period the end it doesn't make an exception it doesn't it doesn't care about why you chose that you know it's just like if you add heat into a system you you put your adding heat into it thermodynamically it doesn't care about why you added it into the system when you program code into a computer it doesn't ask you are you fully aware about why you're coding this this line of code the way you are it just accepts the input and it gives you back the output invariably we'll pick this up on the other side stay where this folks [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm in the last few segments have been talking about order followers and how they're simultaneously the least mature and the least developed spiritually out of all the people of humanity yet they are the most morally culpable and the most personally responsible for the continuation of the dynamic of slavery here on the planet Earth of human slavery here on earth and I was saying that I'm going to make it you know a big part of my future work to really focus on the dynamic of order following and because people really do not understand how order following and natural law interact in nature you know they don't grasp this they they think that it's some kind of a personal dynamic and it looks like my connection is down once again I'm not sure if I'm coming through over-the-air or not but it looks like my connection is either breaking up seems like I'm having nothing but technical issues tonight I apologize for that again folks it looks like my internet provider is still having issues but I'll just jump right back into talking about order followers being the most morally culpable people for the continuation of human slavery and how people who even look at the dynamic of order following have to come to a higher-level understanding about how about--how order following works in conjunction with natural law that it isn't a personal force at work in the universe it's an impersonal force natural law and it does not it does not use human rationalization and justification to determine why you chose the behavior that you chose all natural law quote unquote looks at okay what I'm really saying is it's not even looking at anything it's a computer program it's it's a computer it's not a computer program it's a computer okay it's like a computer you input something into it and it is processed and then it gives you a result as an output that's all that's all natural log does so you're programming something into it by the behavior that you take and it doesn't ask why just like there's a computer ask why are you coding this particular line of code even if it's an absolute jumbled garbage of nonsense that a compiler wouldn't even recognize and you would just get absolutely bad output on the screen no it does not care you can write all the bad code you want in a computer program is the computer is going to allow you to do it just like it will allow you to write flawless code into it okay it's there to accept the input that's what natural law the dynamic of natural law is there to do it's there to accept the input of your behavior and then depending on what input what you input it's going to give you a particular consequence or output period and there's nothing personal about it this is actually a gift of the creator of the universe called free will we are free to input into the big computer called the universe whatever we wish and to get back the result from the universe depending on what we input or encode it into it programmed into it period and this is what people do not understand about the dynamic of order following they think that the universe God creation whatever you want to call it okay sits there like a person with you know a file on someone and says well you know Thomas here has a wife and four children and he has to make a certain amount of money to support these people and so he's going to take his job as a good little obedient order follower of the state and suppress and oppress anybody that the state that his superiors in the state tells him to go out and suppress or oppress and so therefore I'm going to take into account you know that he did this because he felt he had to put what he was backed into a corner this was the only way he felt he could make money you know and this is the only way he could support his family natural law doesn't do that folks ever it says is this the dynamic of behavior that this being chose to put into creation well then BOOM here's more of that dynamic that's it if the and if this is contributing to slavery overall in the aggregate well then that's what you're going to get back as a result period doesn't care it's not it's not like a person that sits there and tries to figure out can you explain to me why you did what you did and then maybe I'll have some leniency on you it doesn't care and you know what this is one of the things that I get the most flak the most resistance from people on this is what because the ego doesn't want it to work that way in nature this is the force of the ego the ego once there to be some justifications for why people follow their orders it wants to be some reason why we can excuse these people wants to be some reason why the morality the laws that govern morality in the universe are not absolute it's trying to look for the relativistic out and there is no such thing it doesn't exist in nature okay all right had another drop out there I'm just gonna continue where I left off so um again this is just like any other physical law trying to explain how these laws of consciousness work they're just as unwavering and they're just as absolute anywhere in creation and this is what the ego doesn't want to be true what people ultimately want is for that not to be the case they want to be the arbiters of truth and they want to say that somehow creation looks at the justifications and the reasoning that was going on in your mind however flawed that so-called reasoning may be the flawed justifications that are running through the minds of people for why they chose certain behaviors okay so I have to do more work really clearly exposing this dynamic and that's going to be the the focus of my upcoming work stay Weathers folks we'll be right back [Music] and we're back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm a lot of technical problems tonight that's ok folks we will applaud through it if we have to you know willpower will prevail and no matter what happens they're not going to stop me from getting this information out there you know whether it's just a technical glitch or whether it may be some kind of a deliberate effort regardless of what the case may be I'll trod on OK and we'll plow through it if we have to but the information is getting out there one way or another so going back to this covering this dynamic of order followers if you look at what an order follower really is okay and this is again I've put a lot of images here together over the next many slides from slide number 128 through slide number 137 so it's just multiple images of different order followers in their regalia in their cult uniforms because let's face it that's what really we're talking about our cult members okay we're talking about people who are psychologically infantile completely spiritually immature beings that really haven't developed any critical thinking skills for themselves they may think they do it from an intellectual point of view but in reality they don't really know how to undergo to go through the process of truth discovery within their own minds to actually go through that process of taking in information processing it weeding out the logical inconsistencies and the inconsistencies that are violations of natural law against other beings and then choosing behaviors that are actually within compliance with the laws that govern right and wrong behavior so they don't really do that what they do is they listen to someone else what they were told and they say yes I will perform that behavior I will perform that action and that's all they do so there there's no processing stage okay there's really no input of information they're not processing that data they're not weeding out logical inconsistencies they don't go through that process of truth discovery at all they believe and accept that someone else has authority over them and then they actually then simply move from taking the order from receiving the order that someone else communicated to them through words directly to behavior directly to action regardless of whether they've processed that command and decided whether it is in harmony with morality or not that's what the definition of we're following is is not going through that processing stage and determining for yourself based on the knowledge of the difference between right and wrong behavior whether the command you were just given is right or wrong and I've gone farther than this and said to people I don't care whether you're given a quote/unquote moral order if if somebody like orders you help those homeless people over there and you go and do it just because someone in a perceived position of authority commanded you to do it not because you recognize that it was the right behavior to take it's still an immoral behavior it's still I don't care whether the result is good folks if the result is good the actual following of the order was still immoral because what did you do in the following of that order you abdicated your personal responsibility that no one else can take from that you can give to no one else you attempted to abdicate a gift of creation that you cannot actually abdicate to another being called your free will decision-making process to determine for yourself whether that action was right or wrong and then take it based on that knowledge not because someone else told you to take it in the performance of the following of any order whether it is quote a moral order or quote an immoral order does not make a difference whether the person what the intention of the order giver was even I'll even go so far as to say the intention of not only of the intention of the order follower doesn't matter the intention of the order giver doesn't matter this is that word the New Age community and the religious community have it completely backwards and completely wrong because what they want to say is the most important part of this dynamic and this interaction is the intention and what I've been trying to explain to people from day one on this radio show in this podcast is the intention of a behavior does not matter at all at all all that matters is did you take the behavior or did you not take this particular behavior if the end result was something that harms another being and you took it that's all that matters that's it and that's called a wrongdoing and there's going to be consequences for that behavior the end it works flawlessly 100% of the time all the time that way and the problem here is folks the ego has a problem with those absolutes it doesn't want to think that there's any such thing as absolutism anywhere in the universe it wants to think everything is hazy everything is fuzzy everything is shades of grey everything is relative and I'm here to tell you that's not how the universe functions okay and I'm not asking you to believe me it's not that way because I say it's that way it's not my opinion that it's that way laws of nature nothing to do what I prow feel about anything my opinions my likes my preferences for years and years and years I had to admit that I was wrong about how things worked until I really learned the way it does work you know because that's what the ego is it's that force that sits between you and truth that sits between you and universal law that says it can't be this way I don't want it to be this way I'm uncomfortable with it being this way oh I can't accept it it's that way well who cares what you think is the way that it operates either works that way or it doesn't work that way it's not in a matter of opinion like gravity's not a matter of opinion mathematics isn't a matter of opinion hey all Common Core mathematics might be a matter of opinion I'm sorry you know in Common Core they state it may be valid that 4 times 3 equals 11 or the 2 plus 2 equals 5 it's just a matter of reasoning about how you got to that answer and we'll accept the wrong answer as being valid you know this is the kind of completely illogical lunacy that goes on in the indoctrination of schoolchildren in the modern day through this ridiculous thing called Common Core you know and it's the same way that the human just justification process works in the human ego you know it says I'm just gonna reason and try to work out why it was okay for me to perform this immoral evil behavior and somehow that'll make it okay that'll convert it into a right and too many people want to give these people license and they want to give them clearance and they want to give them some kind of acceptance for why they chose the behavior that they chose as if I was just following my orders is some kind of a valid excuse as if I was for I was a being led by I was I was a member of the cult I was brainwashed would you let off a member of a cult who went off and started murdering people and you just say oh he was completely brainwashed he was a member of a cult he thought that he was doing the right thing because the cult leader told him it was acceptable with with that fly you know now of course it wouldn't you say did you perform this immoral behavior then need to be held responsible for it just because people wear a uniform and somehow think that they undergo whatever political or you know military rituals and they're wearing some special uniform with some occult regalia symbols on it that somehow makes them excuse for the immoral behavior that they undertook or because they were listening to the perceived authority figure whether he's called the Pharaoh or the king or the or the you know the Fuhrer you know know or the dictator what's the difference who told you why it was okay for you to do that thing that harmed somebody else all that matters is did you do it period and that's what these children do not understand let's let's just say with these people clearly are not my opinion about who or what they are it's what they actually are these are self loathing children who don't have any true self-respect whose mommy and daddy didn't pay enough attention to them when they were growing up so they have either mommy issues or daddy issues who don't want the true personal responsibility which isn't something that they can actually abdicate or give away in reality they don't want the responsibility to choose themselves through knowledge the difference between right and wrong behavior and so in that willful ignorance they want to say I'm gonna do this because someone else somebody else commanded me to do it ladies and gentleman your calls on the other side stay with us we'll be right back you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn [Music] you know today disguise the night today ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm and we're into the third hour of the broadcast for this evening we've had some technical difficulties but we're plotting our way through it as we always will and you know it's not going to deter us in any way whatsoever as promised I'm going to be taking your calls during this hour of the broadcast the toll-free number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three once again the toll-free number to join us one eight hundred thirty one three ninety four forty three and before I go to the phones in this segment I just want to wrap up this segment that I almost completed during the last segment of the show by saying I want people to look through the slides with the order followers on them and I want you to start from slide 128 and proceed through slide number 137 and I'm gonna end tonight a presentation section on slide number 138 okay which is the quote for the order followers but I just want you to look at the end of the eyes of the people and that I've presented in these slides and just tell me if you have the discernment to recognize what I'm saying as the truth that these are people who are psychological children you can see it in their eyes when you look at it they're looking for approval they want to make mommy and daddy proud of them and mommy and daddy in this case is the state they want to be like all the other good boys and girls standing in a line straight up uniform looking perfect absolutely no individuality nothing in the eyes certainly nothing going on between the ears okay these are people who if you talk to them and engage them one-on-one think they're intelligent beings when they have not one drop of true intelligence among them all they could have intellect left brain into but that doesn't mean that they have one ounce of true intelligence or wisdom among their whole population okay and just look into their eyes in these slides and you can just see the faces of children what you're really looking at is a child emotionally you know yeah and and what I just want to end up looking at is why do these people want to continue to be the people who suppress the spirit of freedom freedom on earth what would motivate and drive xiety for that and the old teal answer to that question is they don't want what a personal responsibility that goes along with the personal responsibility that goes along with determining for themselves what the difference between right and wrong behavior actually is and what that dynamic is is wanting to remain in / in permanent childhood because that's what a child wants a child doesn't want that personal responsibility for themselves so these are people who have never grown up emotionally they've never grown up psychologically mentally in knowledge and they've certainly never grown up spiritually in their understanding of what's really going on here on earth so my quote for them and again that's my challenge to people just look through these slides look deeply into the the faces of the bings you see in these slides as they're looking into the camera that took the image of them and tell me if you cannot can or cannot see that what you are actually staring into is the spiritual essence of a child and an angry child at that a child who hasn't absolutely learned any lessons a child who wants to remain a child who doesn't want to grow up even though they're on verge of adolescence you know it's a child who doesn't want to listen to reason a child who doesn't want to better itself because it doesn't have any knowledge it has no knowledge within it so what my very harsh and vitriolic quote is toward the order followers of this world is quote what I'm the the words I'm putting to them that they are actually speaking to the world whether they understand that this is what they're saying to the world or not is quote we are the house slaves we would rather enslave our own species ourselves included because they're taking part in the enslavement of humanity they're not separate from that you know they're being enslaved as a result of what they're doing them and their children and their children's children we'd rather enslave our entire species including ourselves rather than grow up rather than develop real courage not what we think of as courage not what we think over them we're some kind of big bad men which they're not at all they're little punk boy children that don't have any at all one drop of real courage within them because real courage would say no I will not partake in immoral behavior real courage would say no I'm not going to allow all the immoral things that are done in the name of my so-called Brotherhood of other gang members to go on unchecked you know and I'll just keep my mouth shut and go along with whatever I'm told to do and whoever's other crimes I'm told to cover up now they don't have any real courage zero none not one ever ever courage to shoot somebody with a gun because of some crime they're committing that's not what real courage is ultimately about because you're told to do it by the state I don't care what seemingly heroic deed they're doing in the name of the state it's not real courage folks real courage is standing in truth no matter who understands it or not real courage is speaking truth no matter who is opposed to it or not no regardless of how extreme other people think it is because of how flawed their thinking is real courage is being in the minority of one if you're on the side of right regardless of how many other people oppose you if they're on the side of wrong that's what real courage is and these people don't have an ounce of it among the lot of them never have okay so they'd rather enslave themselves rather than grow up develop real courage and think for themselves that's what they're saying to humanity whether they understand that at a conscious level or not it doesn't matter so really take heed in those words really take them into your consciousness and moreover it a little bit and think about it think about what I've said and share that with an order follower put it in their face you know don't be naive and shy and and gun-shy about it you know and timid this isn't the time to be timid as we're losing our freedom as a species these people need to know there's no excuse there's no justification for their criminal behavior these are thug criminals that don't care about the difference between right and wrong one day in their lives even though they'll say they do they don't know the difference between it alright so I just wanted to say that emphatically to end this section in the next few weeks we'll cover other portions of this presentation including some very important researchers whose work people should know about I'll be providing some links and possibly some actual materials from them regarding the interference theory of human origins and then in upcoming weeks we will talk about fictional and creative allegories particularly in Hollywood mu that deal with these dynamics of cosmic abandonment so I just wanted to you know get that out there to complete this section of the presentation even though I cut into call time a little bit so let's see we have about one minute remaining so I'll go to your calls in the next segment again I feel it was worthwhile to take up that that time in this first segment I know I have some callers holding on the line and I know you're very anxious to get your points across on the air so I just wanted to wrap up that section with explaining this last part about the the groupthink dynamics of order followers where they're coming from and what ultimately their behavior is saying to humanity [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting well I finished my presentation segment for this evening so let's go to the phones for the duration of the show let's hear from Ray in Boston ray you are live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show well great by the way I've listened a big fan of listen to probably thousands of hours of your presentation at this point I appreciate that I feel like I know you but I want to get down to the brass tacks which is how do we deal with the outliers how do you feel like see my my my thought is is that you know you're trying to change people's consciousness and it seems to me and that consciousness has to change before you can really deal with people and like not everyone's gonna get on board you know what I mean so like how do you deal with people that are psychopaths how do you deal with people that are mentally ill how do you deal with people that are just not on board with you know this you of reality how you deal with that how do you how do you how do you incorporate that into like how you know how you go about your daily life yeah a very very important question they're not not not an easy answer I wish I did have an easy answer to that is regarding primary Psychopaths and the mentally ill if the bulk of humanity were able to come out of their brainwashing and reach a higher level of consciousness and reach an understanding of truth those individuals would not have to be quote-unquote dealt with as much as we would think the morality that would be being lived within and displayed so to speak by the bulk of the population would practically negate those forces in the world and I'm not saying there wouldn't be effects that they could create but they would be so mitigated that we would not even talk about their effects it would be like a mosquito you know one mosquito compared to right now we're being all you know it's like a it's like a absolute bludgeoning by you know a deluge of beings that are completely stuck in low-level consciousness because of where we're at you know because of the level of unconsciousness that that humanity is trapped in and how we affect that is ultimately at an individual level you have to reach people that through the knowledge that they've already taken into themselves and have gone somewhat part way you can start to pull them over all the way to the the higher and deeper levels of truth and that's what things like this radio show progression are about you know and other people can start doing that they could put their own presentations together they could put their own videos together their own documentaries their own podcast series ultimately it's about creating but my ultimate answer to this question is you counteract the on the dynamic of unconsciousness through the act of creation that's what the ultimate force the counteracts this negative dynamic is see I had to create artwork and arrange things in my way maybe I didn't create every single aspect of it I pulled things from here and there to make slides in and make my presentation dynamics and aesthetics the way that they are but that's an act of creation making the poster reaching out to people you know the just the the style that you speak in you know putting that out there record you know if it's media creation ultimately create it's a form of art you know what regardless of what you want to call it you know you're you're reaching other people's consciousness through a form of media okay and you could do this in person from your lips to their ears but you can only reach so many people that way if you that through the dynamic interaction that we have with others through this medium called the internet we can reach consciousness that is far removed from us that we never would meet in real life how many people's lives have I possibly affected that I've never met never met and will never meet in my natural lifetime or theirs yet we have a bond and a connection like you said you feel like you know me we do know each other all the people who care about truth ultimately know each other that's the real true family that's operating here on earth that we're trying to take other people into the fold of this family you know the it's the real humanity the awakened human spirit of people who care for truth and care for the difference between right and wrong and want to be on the side of right not in an appearance not because they think they are but because they really definitively know they are through knowledge that is objective and is unwavering and unchanging you know the the laws of nature that the knowledge of the difference between right and wrong that's that constitutes that the people who know that constitute of family they constitute a dynamic interacting group of individuals who are working to change consciousness on earth they're doing the great work they are they are the true workers that are performing the great work here on earth to end slavery so that's how we have to do it through creating media we create we put it and put it out there in any way that you have the talent to do it write a book write a story write a fictional allegory write a screenplay paint a painting make music that deals with these themes but make a podcast make a documentary it doesn't matter how you do it create something put it out there for others in a way that they can understand and period that's ultimately the answer again house each individual does that that's their own you know contribution to the work but you know that's what we ultimately have to have to work toward is you know using our creative abilities to put the truth out there to others and again it doesn't make a difference who's ready to hear it or not admittedly some people are very unconscious and not ready to hear the truth doesn't make a difference plant the seed in their consciousness by unwaveringly and unapologetically speaking the truth in their presence a seed of truth that is spoken aloud cannot be unheard and maybe it will sprout later down the line we do not know that you know but if you don't speak it out there to them you can't say that you actually put that seed out there possibly for for growth and development later on so great question ray I hope I've partially answered that and I admit it's a tough thing to do but we have to get on that playing field and get to work doing it let's hear from CJ in Los Angeles California CJ you're live on what on earth is happening welcome I'm sorry CJ in Iowa yeah I'm from Iowa sorry it looked like on the screen it looked like LA but it was IA my apologies hey no problem hey thanks a lot for all the great work you're doing thank you that's all the kind of the New Age that

I've been kind of going through it's really great to finally stumble upon this information so it's mine expanding it I can't thank you enough I appreciate that greatly my question is concerning your resources because when I started getting kinda into meditation and some of the New Age stuff that was one along with it I came across Rahm da yes and how does Rob Das and well his guru is Maharaja how does well Rob docile yeah with Timothy Leary he had it Ron Dodd fit in the whole picture well I've looked at a lot of ROM dasa's work and I wouldn't necessarily just throw him and group him in with like New Age gurus I do like some of the work that he's put out there regarding transcendental meditation and calming the mind and being able to really listen to the voice of truth by getting your own mental chatter and mental noise out of the way so some of the things that he's discussed regarding meditation I take as valuable I'll continue telling you my thoughts on Ram Dass after this break ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] [Applause] we go [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn we're taking your calls for the duration of the show CJ was asking me before the break what I thought of Rahm daus's work and I was saying that regarding the information he covers about Transcendental Meditation I find it useful and I kind of pretty much will take some of the information that people like this put forward regarding spiritual practices in the realm of quieting the mind getting in touch with the inner self exploring the world of deeper consciousness within and take that but then if they don't really go farther in their understanding of what's going on in the world you know I'll take that part that I feel does do good and does resonate and does you know help people to advance spiritually through that practice and then you know leave the rest so to speak it's like we don't have to agree with every single thing or every aspect of somebody's work to feel that they're putting out something that makes a valuable contribution so I think his work on meditation is very valuable I've never told people that meditation isn't something that should be practiced or engaged in it is very transformative if it's used correctly if it's used properly and in a state of balance to balance the mind but not take us too far in a state of right brain imbalance with that having been said someone who really doesn't understand the occult aspects of what is going on in the world often takes a more right-brain imbalanced bent to spirituality and again that's where it becomes something that you have to be careful with because again in my streetwise spirituality seminar out of all the things that I could have chosen the number one factor of what it means to truly be on awake being what was my number one factor for what being awake really means a being who is truly awake in this world understands the occult they know what occult information actually is what it contains how it is used who who uses it the reasons they use it for okay and they are working with that knowledge and they are trying to expand that knowledge to more people to more people's minds so it levels the playing field and it it stops hiding this critical knowledge of ourselves and the laws of nature that we so desperately need to understand deeply if we're going to change this planet for the better if we're going to change our species for the better okay so the number one factor in my opinion that makes a person awake is that they understand the occult and that's something that you will not hear from any other researcher that is talking about consciousness that is talking about spirituality that is talking about what it means to be awake I've never heard one other bit person say that as a true factor of what it means to be a spiritually enlightened human being that you understand what the occult really is so essentially my seminar coming up in Connecticut next month early next month October 4th in Manchester Connecticut it completely expands and unpacks that very first factor that I talked about in streetwise spirituality well if the very first factor in what it means to be awake truly is to know about the occult all of these people who claim that they're enlightened gurus and enlightened teachers of humanity that are involved in any other aspect of consciousness or awakening or you know however you want to word it whatever you want to call it how many of them have deep occult knowledge how many of them are really involved in the exposing of occult knowledge to the masses of people in the world how many of them really know about the dark side of the occult and how that's controlling the world right now and and how that knowledge can be used in a very disempowering way if people are ignorant of its techniques of that knowledge and how these techniques can be employed I'd say the vast majority of these so-called spiritual teachers have no clue about the occult you go to a New Age Expo you go to a spiritual Expo not one person there that I've ever really run into deeply knows about the occult certainly not the dark aspects of it certainly knows nothing about Satanism and dark luciferianism at work in the world you know zero zero so that's this is an extended answer to this question about what I feel about certain quote you know spiritual gurus or whatever who I would say I I will take the information from them that they have correct and that they work with in in a good way and then I will also look at the overall well-roundedness of their information and say well do they have the whole picture and sadly the answer usually comes back they have part of the picture but they haven't gone all the way there one of the people that I call and I don't want to make it such a vitriolic thing they're people who haven't gone all the way there they're part layers or half wires you know it's just that it's just a name to call it it's a label admittedly it's a label okay not trying to beat up on them or say that they're all their information is worthless you have to take their information and see in terms of the big wider picture and in many cases a lot of these researchers and teachers don't have the whole picture but the aspects that they do cover in many cases they do a good job with those so I can kind of consider ROM Dawson in one of those in in that kind of category I hope that answers your question let's hear from Derek in Cal in Colorado Derek you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show it it's Eric's not Derek Eric I apologize I'm all over the place tonight technical issues you know issues with my my um you know production value tonight but hey the information is still there Erica sorry about that you're live on the show what do you have for us this evening hey thanks you know I thought I called in with uh with an idea of what I wanted to talk about but what you have just been talking about is actually basically the specialty subject of the study of my life so and you have played a huge role in this and basically which you were which you were just saying that there's a tremendous amount of useful valuable information in you know the current spiritual and religious circles out there I have a master's degree in religious studies from Naropa I lived in the Buddhist monastery for two years with a lot of people who were constantly talking about liberation and about becoming free from conditioning and I will corroborate your opinion at least in mostly traveling Buddhist circles there is no knowledge of the occult no there is no I mean it was just dramatic I mean how focused these people were on ending suffering and I was looking around and actually you know your teaching has been absolutely a lightning bolt in my life of integrating both of these sides but I'm not only not a vehicle but not of you know what we know about like how the economy is structures here creates a bring in you know how people are just following you know wildly delusional visions of how humans are living on earth yes and they absolutely avoided it if you brought it up it was very much hammered down and that's not what we're about here that's not you know right so look can we try to focus in on what this dynamic really is that you're bringing up here because I think this is very powerful what you're stating and explaining to people it's something that I have personally witnessed you've clearly witnessed it what can we really say about what this dynamic is what is ultimately being de-emphasized what are they ultimately trying to tell people we don't really need to focus on can will you get to the heart of it um you know I have to sort of feed back to you the answer you've already given to this and I think even Buddhism I mean I think these things go back to the very beginning of protecting centralized hierarchical controlling power through controlling what you know controlling human behavior getting people to march in line and then pay their taxes and pay their their tithe to the church and and to get people basically to abide in a framework of obedience the service controller I totally I totally agree with what you're saying there the essence that I wanted to just hit upon real quick before this nest next break catches us okay is what is ultimately being suppressed here Erik is knowledge knowledge of the actual events that are going on hidden knowledge and how beings of lower consciousness who wish to control our species are using that knowledge to control us that's what these religious gurus in many cases do not want people to look at and the question would have to be asked if they are truly for the liberation of our species is why would they not want people to look into those vistas of knowledge we'll pick this up on the other side of the break ladies and gentlemen stay with us [Music] the cool side that we don't dare speak it's a while between us little rim so we keep there's nothing wrong welcome back everyone final segment of what on earth is happening for tonight we were taking your calls I want to thank Eric in Colorado for his great insights that he brought up in his call regarding occulted knowledge and its de-emphasis in you know religious and new-age traditions and let's see if we can squeeze in a couple more callers before the end of the show let's let's hear from Thomas in Toronto Thomas you are live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show oh I'm sorry Thomas looks like he dropped off the call I apologize for that let's saw if you want to try to call back in I'll tail put you to the head of the queue let's hear from Kevin in Illinois Kevin you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi Marc I just wanted to start off by saying like many others how much I appreciate your willingness to put out the truth to everyone thank you I actually wrote down those in favor and I already answered the questions with all the other previous colors so I'm just going to give an informal here and obviously I experienced when I first listened to you sure um so it was actually I was looking longer presentation on YouTube and I I think it was when your talk of the masculine am in line and I experienced something I only described as like get rid of ego death I lost my sense of self Wow interesting I said wow that's very interesting that you know that particular piece of information had such a profound effect upon you yeah I mean I was also thinking about like other works you can incorporate and when I was looking at that I was a vote and I this is me remember looking outside the window and I just found nature nothing else I found out people trying to like govern me I saw more government like looking her back and I realize it was all in my head the government everything I saw the control you through looking I'm thinking that are you thinking that they have authority and that triggered this is just trained of us and it eventually but after like a minute or so led to me thinking hey Danny this knows actually really terrifying but I'm glad I had that experience because I think it's kind of like your worldview began to crumble in that moment about what you thought reality was actually about I mean am I correct on my off about that no that's exactly it it changes completely before it's like before experiencing does I didn't even need by any of those I was really an ass was it just that I flipped completely after like a minute was in pain now I think we all have different moments where it's almost like a bolt of lightning hits us it's like where we could almost put our finger on where we really started to grasp things you know for some it's like the the realization that what we are here to do is learn and grow in awareness and consciousness in truth for some it's like that real understanding that what's being done to our species is to try to control and enslave us that's what it was for me you know and then I immediately continued to try to search and learn more about the truth of what's really going on when I realized that this was about the enslavement of our race the enslavement of our species and I mean permanent enslavement that shot my consciousness you know like a rocket ship you know almost out of my body out of my out of the confines of where it was it was an amazing thing to know to definitively know such a thing you know that that negative realization was like the greatest gift that could ever have been possibly given to me because my life changed so much practically in that moment you know and you know it's it's a different trigger for different people but ultimately I think there's something that always just speaks to the center of us that the spark of consciousness within us that you know says I've been slumbering and then it somehow ignites that that spark and it becomes a flame and then there's no turning back there's no turning back from that point you can't put that fire out you cannot close that box you cannot go back to sleep you cannot unhear or unlearn what you've already learned so Kevin I want to thank you for sharing that personal anecdote about you know you're your own quote/unquote bolt of lightning that happened in your life and I'm glad I could play a role in that and that's what it's all about folks it's about influencing others in the way that you just heard and I get people emailing me every day telling me that I was part of that process and I couldn't be more thankful that I was able to help people in that way and this is all I'm asking other people to step up and do help the one come forward and help us do this work help the people who are already putting the truth out there by contributing to that chorus of voices we need help we can't do this by ourselves we're not powerful enough to change the consciousness of this planet on our own in the numbers and the limited numbers that we're doing the great work in we need help we're asking for help come over and become a teacher learn so much that you know this material well enough that you can teach it that's ultimately what I'm asking people to be a part of so Kevin I thank you for that call really a powerful powerful information they're powerful personal anecdote I can't thank you enough let's uh let's hear from jonathan in Kentucky Jonathan you are live on what on earth is happening welcome it's a very I got the last end of the call today or tonight I should say as I did an episode 166 that was the veteran that called in if you remember yes I do I have a listening what you're speaking of and can i express what what I feel not much what I think I'm sure they're important so of not only your work and people call and thank you callers and myself included we need to have people and take us from your work off and I'm sorry Thomas you I'm sorry Oh Jonathan you you were breaking up there a little bit can you repeat that last segment that you started getting into I said we need to have all the callers need to be having people calling us thanking us for all work instead of all of us calling and thinking one individual sure that's exactly really powerful that I couldn't have expressed it better myself you know get on the battlefield start taking part in this transformative change effort and then you don't you don't need to go and give out accolades to other people I mean I'm very very very appreciative of all my mentors that helped me awaken and come to the truth about what's going on in this world in this life and I couldn't express more gratitude to them but it's like I'm not gonna make that my focus I said I looked at everything that was going on I looked at what I had come to know and I said now what can I do to contribute to other people becoming aware of this how am I gonna communicate this in my own personal way in my own personal style I'm not just gonna leave it up to others I'm gonna get involved in that process that's what I'm asking people ultimately to do that's stepping into true courage that's real wisdom because you're putting that knowledge into real-world action and that's what converts it into true wisdom so absolutely powerful Jonathan what else you have for us you spoke of spark and I was kind of thinking within myself that the purpose or maybe the reason we're here is you think the Wardour spirit could be that spark and that we incarnate here this planet because if it doesn't stop in this dimension it could be reverberating into the universe through something very dark I think they are here too we are here to grow that spark people like look at it like oh we already have a soul maybe what we're here to do is truly develop a soul you know to work upon the soul to make it grow to make it expand to make it take in different experiences and truly learn and grow from those experiences you know that's what soul development is all about and that's all ultimately what I feel we are here to do to learn and to grow in consciousness and to work upon that soul matter you know so absolutely you know that that is that is the the essence of why we are on this planet to begin with you know and this is like a huge school it's a school in spirituality it's a school in natural law it's a school in consequences of behavior it's a school of truth you know to learn learn through the the actual hands-on hard-knock experience of doing things wrong and then learning from those mistakes the the catches the trick is we have to learn from the mistakes not ignore them not try to pretend that they didn't happen we're not trying to sanitize everything so that mistakes can't happen that the suffering that takes place could be one of the biggest gifts of all if our minds are open to understand from that suffering what it was that we did wrong and then to correct those behaviors so thanks so much for the call Jonathan thanks for all the callers the best callers in talk radio are right here on this program ladies and gentlemen that's all the time we have for this week remember there's only two mistakes you can ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here next week thanks for listening everyone good night [Music] [Music] [Music] [Music] specific topics for the show this evening it's anything that you guys want to call in and talk about so once again the number to join us the toll-free number to join us 800 3 1 3 9 4 4 3 I've been mostly going through the cosmic abandonment presentation over the last several weeks on this radio show and I really didn't have too much time to prepare a radio show for this week because I've been really working feverishly on the information that I'm going to present this coming Saturday in Manchester Connecticut so I've been really putting the finishing touches on my presentation and you know getting it up to speed for next Saturday so you know that's why I kind of decided to do a call-in show this evening but there's no shortage of things that we could begin discussing until I wait for some calls to start coming in and you know one of them is the continued an insidious infiltration into our society of the New Age movement and how dangerous so much of their ideology is I mean I can't tell you how much I encounter New Age thought and in a very negative capacity not you know some of the truly positive things that some aspects of this community can put forward that are in balance and that are beneficial but I mean the really completely way right-brained imbalanced things that so many teachers and adherence to this movement to this culture if you will constantly put out there as I've talked about before one of them is solid season this idea that there is no such thing as absolute or objective truth one of the biggest and most dangerous proposition in a lot of the New Age community and again when I say New Age movement I'm not talking about one particular thing folks it's a conglomeration of different beliefs and practices and traditions and it it's a very diverse culture of individuals and groups out there that comprise this movement for people who insist on thinking when I talk about the New Age movement or the New Age community you have to understand I'm not talking about one thing it's a loosely conglomerated grouping of individuals and traditions as I've said that generally puts out concepts that are somewhat consistent with each other and there's the break music coming in for the first segment we'll pick this up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you are listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic Broadcasting stay with us we'll be right back [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening here on your public broadcasting I'm your host mark Cassio my website what on earth is happening back home so not sure why the break music is extending so far usually it diminishes when I start to come back in hopefully those of the network and can do something there we go okay so tonight on the show we're gonna take your calls throughout the whole show I the callers will make the show I don't have any callers on the line yet but we will be going to them so let me give the call-in number once again the call toll-free number to join us tonight 800 three one three nine four four three once again sorry folks my connection dropped out again I'm believing more and more on a weekly basis that this is a some form of a deliberate attack because and I say that not conspiratorial II but my internet connection is normally completely rock-solid and it has been all week with no dropouts and then the moment I get on the air connection failures begin to happen so to me that's not a coincidence to me you know there's somebody out there doesn't want to hear what I have to say doesn't want other people hearing what I have to say because they know it's having an impact you know and it's not gonna stop the only thing that'll stop that is a bullet to my head and that won't even stop it because I'll be back in this prison and doing the same thing speaking truth to end slavery so good luck getting me out of here or silencing me it's not gonna happen clowns it isn't gonna happen okay so with that being said bear with me if there's any more connection failures or drop outs and you'll understand why that's happening so I was talking about the ideology of moral relativism which comes out of this New Age notion of Solace ISM the idea that there's no such thing as truth because if there's no such thing as truth then there can't be any such thing as right and wrong because what are right and wrong going to be based on if not true information if not truth if not objective reality okay so you you hear this over and over again by people who buy into this religion and it is a right brained religion that's what the New Age movement is you know I see people making blog posts making you know comments and social media sites all the time comments and YouTube videos etc that there's no right and wrong it's all just a matter of perception it's all just an experience and right and wrong or just antiquated concepts and antiquated ideas you know nothing could be further from the truth you know these people are brainwashed they have bought into a total right brained religious system that is holding their consciousness back from reality these people are in a daze they're they're drifting off in some kind of a spiritual haze okay they're not grounded whatsoever and you know another thing that I really want to focus on and I'd like to take some calls on it if people have you know something to say about this topic is that another thing that I see coming out of the new-age community relentlessly and I mean they're pushing this and you see this on a daily basis coming out into the mainstream consciousness more and more and more and it's one of the most deadly vicious insidious ideologies that can possibly be adhered to okay it is the thing that is going to destroy human rights faster than any other line of reasoning or thought and it is not reasoning at all it's flawed thought it's flawed ideology and it's this idea that there is no such thing as ownership that all ownership is an illusion that all ownership is left brain attachment that all ownership is something that is a construct made up by man that is clinging on to attachment and it wants something more than he or she really does truly have a right to or something to that effect and let me tell you something that I see this I saw it a lot in the past but now these people who were propagating this religion are so hammering on this idea and they have so many people buying into it and believing it you they have useful dupe Schill idiot children morons believing in this pure nonsense and yet is that an ad hominem attack yes you bet you it is and like I said before some ad hominem attacks are true it's not to try to take the focus away from what I'm saying because I'm gonna sit here and explain exactly why there's ownership I'm ROH explain exactly why this is the most dangerous religious idea that there is no such thing as true ownership and it all comes down to an understanding of rights it all connects in with relativism it all connects in with right brain imbalance and with solecism okay it all connects in with this idea of fuzzy logic that there's nothing that's definitive that there's nothing that's truly objective and it's all right brain imbalance and I'm not telling you go into the form of left brain and balance either and try to become some kind of a Dominator or a rigid skeptic that doesn't accept anything spiritual that's not the right way of going about things either there's balance is called for balance is needed balance is required if we're going to get out of this prison that we're in you know so it's not about shifting into the left brain and saying I need 100% absolute rigid scientific proof you know peer reviewed by the scientific community you know and and backed by you know government funding to believe in anything you know to accept anything as being real that's not what I'm saying I'm not saying go be a Dominator and want to push everybody around because you think you own everything okay rights and natural law are ultimately about knowing what we own and knowing what we don't own ladies and gentlemen that's the balance that is to be struck that's the balance that is to be a and okay through knowledge and this is what these people don't have who I'm referring to these this new age community the new cage movement is more like it you know that's what it really should be you know coined the new cage movement because it's a prison for the mind it's a cage for the mind it's a cage for your thoughts all rights are based upon ownership all rights are based upon knowing what we own and what we don't own hence when you make a violation of rights you are infringing upon what someone else owns in the form of life freedom rights or property that's what a wrongdoing is is a violation of those things is a violation of ownership that's what sovereignty is about sovereignty is self ownership you know the argument is always made by the super right brain and balance people folks the argument is always made that because we live in a spiritual reality because oh at a quantum level matter really isn't physical okay and of course I understand this I'm not debating that okay but the argument goes this right-brain argument goes because it's a spiritual reality in matters like a quantum fluctuation in the spiritual reality and it's not really solid it only has the appearance of solidity to give us an experience here so that we can learn and grow in the physical / spiritual domain that because matter isn't truly solid that somehow since and since we understand that we live in a spiritual reality that we are spiritual beings having a physical experience that that somehow means that there's no such thing as ownership because everything in the physical reality is transient and can never be permanent just because there's no permanence in the physical okay and yes everything is a construct within the ultimate spiritual level the ultimate spiritual domain level of reality I'm not debating that I recognize we're living in a quantum hologram you know that's what this place is that's what the whole universe is it's a quantum hologram you're living in a constructed experience and it's there to provide learning and growth capabilities learning and growth opportunities for the individuated soul matter the individuated soul consciousness that is here that forms the the everything that forms the at the all the one okay we're all part of that agreed and understood that doesn't mean that there is an individual ownership within that construct that doesn't mean because I can't own something eternally that I don't own it while I'm using it while I'm inhabiting this body it is my property I own it you know and I I covered a lot of this information in the natural law seminar and in the natural law section of you know the the podcasts the radio material but I just feel it's so important to go over this again especially since I'm waiting for some calls to come in not really sure why they haven't already usually as soon as I give the callin number the lines are jammed maybe the networks having some problems but no problem I mean you know anybody who knows me knows that I could talk forever so there's no shortage of material for me to discuss even though I haven't prepared a show I'll continue along the lines of talking about the absolute devastation of human consciousness that's being wrought by the New Age community in our world sounds like a plan to me until some calls start coming in but you know this idea that because I'm not my physical flesh body is not eternal that and it's going to pass away and die and turn to dust and you know eventually to absolutely nothing that somehow that means I don't own my body now in the now in the physical construct in which we live and this is a completely utterly bonkers concept it's a bunk concept again it's a concept that's brought about by the brain becoming so imbalanced toward the right hemisphere that people think matter is insignificant okay and again the those who are extreme skeptics and extreme left brain and balance think matter is all there is spirit is insignificant or non-existent and those who are super right brain and super right brain dominant and imbalanced believe that matter doesn't matter okay to deliberately you know cause upon their okay they think that matter is meaningless somehow that's that somehow anything that you talk about regarding matter or things or objects or the body is somehow attachment alright you know it's very very wise ancient wisdom that I I can't quite remember the philosopher who said it maybe I'll think of it but an Eastern philosopher once said that attachment okay is not about not owning anything okay or I should say release from attachment is not about not owning anything that releasing from attachment and releasing from ego doesn't mean that you don't own anything it means that nothing owns you okay a big difference between those two ideas you know and this right brain new-age variant here of this right brain New Age ideology claims that any form of ownership is attachment okay and that's simply not the case okay ego is not there to be totally purged ego is a tool through which we learn and grow and have an experience in the physical domain okay it's not there to be completely purged okay it is there to be understood how it is to be used as a tool of interaction in the physical domain and through the knowledge that we gain in that domain we learn about what our property truly is what we do actually owned and use and have ownership of while we're in the physical domain while we're in the body and what we don't have a right to own or try to use and coerce when doing so means that we are are treading into someone else's rights treading onto someone else's rights so this whole right-brain imbalanced thought of any form of ownership is a form of attachment and ego is absolutely untrue as a matter of fact the understanding of ownership is the absolute basis for the understanding of rights if you do not understand what you own and what you don't own then that means you don't understand truly what a right is and you don't understand truly the difference between right behavior and wrong behavior welcome back everyone I apologize once again another internet dropout and again I'm becoming convinced that this is a deliberate attack to try to keep my voice from reaching people but we do have callers the calling lines are full so let's start going to the phones once again the calling number 800 three one three nine four four three anything you want to talk about no taboo topics let's hear from Tom in Toronto Tom you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hey Mark how's it going yeah I know tonight I'm just gonna make it quick I'm talking about orchestral music okay and the orchestra and it's relevant to ceremonial magic so New York astre there are four sections there are the woodwind they're the string there are the brass and the percussion so each of those corresponds to one of the four elements and lastly you have the conductor and he has a conductors wand or magical wat so it's really very similar to ceremonial magic in that you call upon or element in order to you know achieve an effect right oh the strings would correspond to water and when you listen to strings music a very emotional style yes brass would correspond to fire so if you look like trumpet or trombone creates very heroic sound with the percussion that corresponds to earth and that gives a very what's the wick action he sounds he should be like shamans would play the drum at a ceremony in order to get people dancing how to increase the energy in the area and finally the woodwinds correspond to the air and that's I guess the intellect so you can see all them being conducted by the magician but the magic wand right very interesting oh absolutely and and music is such a prime influencing factor for so many people you know it really is shifts the amenities it changes our flights yeah even if you don't speak the language you'll understand music and if it like go anywhere in the universe like you go to Mars CBS ABC all the notes the other thing good communicate with hello other like better because it's all based in vibration and that's universal sound is a universal right the beta ring yeah yeah very very very very interesting topic you know as a person who's been around music and I've been involved with music my whole life that's something that resonates with me very strongly so great great concept to bring oh yeah anyway people should really take in consideration how when they go to an orchestra and how they feel during after you know it's uh probably had a lot to do with how the ancient cathedrals were built because they made them to be sound resonating buildings and it harnessed a lot of that sound for spiritual purpose sorry I dropped out there for another moment those I was saying that this connects to like the Cathedral builders and how they built the ancient cathedrals to be sound resonating structures and they did that to contain these vibrations and direct them in certain ways that would have an effect upon consciousness of the people that were in that building in that environment so another way that music has been used as a channeling mechanism to have a profound effect upon human consciousness absolutely Tom great call very profound you know idea of you know talking about the the way that the different elements of the orchestra correspond to the different elements of nature specifically in occult traditions of earth air water and fire haven't thought about that too much in that way myself but it most certainly makes sense to me so thank you for that let's hear from Elaine in California Elaine you are on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hi mark yeah I have a couple of thoughts actually and down but that I've always wanted to run by you but the first one is you know the old saying I'm mad as hell and I'm not gonna take it anymore well Maya might thought my question is when you look around you listen to people conversations what they're doing what they're watching what they're saying it has the appearance people just they're not quite getting with the program here no and what concerns me is even some of the top top conservative or patriotic Servat of alternative talk shows and things like that huh I'm serious now I am NOT a rocket scientist and I believe that the pen is mightier than the sword and all that kind of stuff but why is that we don't have people shouting from the rooftops at this point in time with all the stuff that is coming our way in big-time evil why is not that the mention of stop paying your taxes as a solution to the ballonets that's going on in DC I agree no but I can't be one of the only handful that have thought of that as it may be of that oh wait I've talked about the complete illegitimate II of all forms of taxation from pretty much day one on this show and I think it's absolutely something that people should do to the extent that it is within their ability and sorry you had another small drop out there Elaine can you hear me and my backup okay sorry I was saying that I think that's an excellent idea that you know I've talked about the legitimacy of taxation in general for any purpose for any reason corporate personal or otherwise from day one pretty much on what on earth is happening and I think that's one way that people give their energy and complicity to the the system of control and I think if they refuse to do that by refusing to work in any position that withheld taxation for the state then you know that would be if we did this in mass the whole system would shut down but we could shut the world down if we agreed to do that in mess you know let's have nothing flowing anywhere and then let's see how the the so-called masters like that you know the whole point is is people are ultimately complicit they're complicit at some level to what is going on like you said they're not man enough to get involved and here we go another drop out can you hear yep people yeah yeah can you hear me I can now yeah okay if people can't tell that this is a deliberate effort you know to try to silence me then and it what is what it is folks is a validation of everything I've been saying that's that's what they're doing so thank you for that thank you you know all the people on on the back end who were launching these attacks yeah make another thought sure it's absolutely a gentleman named Ralph ring I'm sure you've heard of him he worked with a protege of Nikola Tesla and that can be not in the late 1980s I believe it was they have invented craft that runs on consciousness market appears to me that the human race if they would just break had the cojones excuse me have the guts to break their chains we could all live free and beyond what we could ever imagine the technology the imagination has already put it out there what are we waiting for people are in fear of true freedom that's what it really ultimately comes down to they love their chains and when you say this to people they get about people to people who are partially awake can you hear me now okay when you when you say this to people who are partially awake they kind of get angry because they don't want to believe that the majority of the human population loves their slavery they want to remain childish immature spiritual babies because what that means is they're not responsible for anything this is what the whole thing is about the rejection of personal responsibility and only spiritual children reject their own personal individual responsibility and that's what we we are the human race is largely a child race that has been abandoned by its cosmic parents which is what the whole cosmic abandonment thesis and presentation is entirely about and so they're looking for surrogate parents they want people to provide structure and you know tell them what to do so that they don't have to think so that they don't have to own up to their own personal responsibility to choose right overall they don't [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm the interruptions to the information I'm trying to put out there to the public continue and the only thing I want to say about this is what does it say about the kind of human being that we try to stifle an individual who is trying to promote human freedom and end slavery that they would take a paycheck to try to do something to thwart that individuals efforts and take their voice off the airwaves secondly what it definitively says about the people who hire little clown infantile children to do that job okay is it validates everything I've been saying since day one of this radio broadcast and anybody's mind who is listening and who has a modicum of common sense they will understand that what I'm saying is true so let's go back to the phone lines and continue let's hear from Joe in is it Los Angeles or Louisiana Joe you're live on what on Earth Day happening in Los Angeles welcome yeah hey thanks mark I'm Somme I do have a quote I do have a question for you so it yeah you're you are being attacked you should hear it on Arnon it's just it's just continuous music over and over again that you're poor dispatcher or whoever does the phone you can't get through I mean it's this is an attack yeah to the credit of my producer Manny he's doing a great job trying to deal with this and mitigate it and you know again clearly this is a deliberate effort and it's not going to dissuade me in any way so you know do your worst and the whole point is is I want to thank the people doing it because like I said all they're doing is validating my message so great job thanks for helping me you know Oh totally and and that's exactly it you let me just let I do have a question for you but let me just have a few bitches know what you have no idea what's coming for you first of all your $33,000 a year that you're making listening listening to the Bush cabal to do their bidding it's gonna be worth nothing in a few months that's why all these wars are going on you ding-dongs because Russia and China started a new bank called Grinch and that's gonna end the Fed and end stuff very quickly why do you think there's all the desperation to fight cause these wars these shootings these are all false flags you are done so hold on to that 33000 better yet convert it to gold do something because it's gone it's gone they're becoming more any more desperate aren't they I mean it's desperation you know that's the sign that's the sign of an entire paradigms death pangs that's what you're witnessing here folks these are the DEF pangs of a paradigm that is dying and these people are desperately trying to scramble and hold on to it and they have their little minions there they're willing house slaves that want to go along with their agenda you know they'll always be people like that but you know it's it's pathetic really is what it is and you know we can't let that dissuade us from speaking truth mark yes it is not and I will speak on behalf of your listeners because I I sense it in their voices we don't care I will sit on these headphones I will listen to all the music all the commercials because it does not dissuade the spirit of me connecting with you and your listeners huh stuff guys you've already lost that's right fun you cannot break the bond nor the knowledge and love that this man Mark Cassio has been giving up himself he has permeated through the states through the BS because you know where you guys fouled up the internet you fouled up and you did it Olympic ceremonies and all your stuff to try to make it focus bs man and you know what it's too late we are reached we're reached and what Mark said goes I'll put a bullet to the head I'll come back to the next life because you know why most of us know this life is a recycled life for most of these sheep oh there's a few licit no go ahead kill me I don't care you know what my life my life is not recycled it's up at the three the sets despereaux's number three understanding the death card I know that there's renewal kill me you can't take my knowledge stick of false Ebola vaccine to whatever you try use to hold me down doesn't matter when I die I take it all with me and I come back give it back to you because I truly love you don't hate you I love you you cannot break the spell of Mark Cassio now I do have a question sure alright Joe thank you so much for that and I totally agree that's what this is all about is coming together and standing within the spirit of truth and once you're in that power nothing's going to stop you you know and it doesn't make a difference like you said if we are taking even out of the physical domain that nothing passes the power nothing transcends the power of the human spirit ultimately and that because that's our ultimate essence you know so nothing is going to stop this truth from breaking forward and getting out there and ultimately transforming this place it's too late so here's my question sure interview it with with Andre Weber it was your very last entry Alfred Weber yes from from exo politics.com that's right that's right you let a little bit of a cat out of the bag and I have to hit you up on it okay what what happened to you you said there's a little kernel around a minute an hour and 10 minutes in you said I have first-hand experience with with ET sure I'll talk about that a little bit not with actual beings but I had a very very close encounter you might say what people might call a close encounter of the either second of the second kind not not the third because that involves the witnessing of beings of non non terrestrial beings which I did not have but I had a daylight sighting of a craft at close distance at close range probably within 300 feet maybe less and I'll tell you a little bit about it since you asked that's a good topic to get into it's something I don't usually talk about that much on this show but I did have an experience while I was working in Philadelphia and a former job I worked as a technical support technician in the University of Pennsylvania years ago and I was it was the middle of the day about 2:00 p.m. in the afternoon on a on a fall afternoon it was October mid-october and it was a very bright out it wasn't cloudy it wasn't raining it was a clear weather clear visibility and I was on the ninth floor where I had an office in one of the buildings on the Penn campus the the School of Medicine and I looked out my window and coming through the medical the School of Medicine campus there was a small craft and I say small because when people think of UFOs they usually think of pretty large objects and it was not a ball of light it was not a series of lights it was not anything that morphed it was a solid craft unlike anything of Earth origin that I have ever witnessed it was so black that no light reflected off of it at all it was like a black hole okay literally I'll pick up this description on the other side stay with us folks [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm we were talking to Joe in Los Angeles before the break and he asked me if I had ever had any encounters with what might possibly be non-human intelligence and I was talking about a former UFO sighting that I had I believe this was back in 2006 or 2007 and I was talking about the experience of he heard me briefly allude to this on an interview that I did with Alfred Lambeau Mont Weber from exo politics.com I neglected to mention this at the top of the show perhaps I should now real quick if you go to the news section of my website or look at the latest news section on the left-hand side of the site you'll see that I was interviewed on XO politics.com September 24th and that interview is posted it's a video interview with alfred weber who was one of the speakers at both for your mind conferences a really great gentleman who's put out a lot of research and information and done a lot of activism to better this world and he interviewed me a few weeks back pre-recorded interview and it just went up live this week so people can definitely check that out and check out Alfred's site at XO politics.com but the caller asked me about if I have any sightings and I was starting to get into the story I was working one day when I used to work at the University of Pennsylvania I was on the ninth floor where my office was of a research building and I looked out the window and I saw a black craft floating by silently now my window faced a hospital Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and there was always helicopters landing on the roof of that building and the amount of sound that that generates is just enormous it practically shook the windows in the building where I worked and it's undeniable when there's any other type of craft going by in that vicinity any type of you know earthly craft this craft was about the size of a SUV I would say if I had to make a general estimate of its size you know maybe the size of an explorer or something like that and it was so black that no light reflected off of it like make a you know a black square in a computer program like in Photoshop just make a square and then fill it in completely black that's how black it was impossible even blacker than that if there is such a thing I mean it was like looking into a void which is very uh unearthly and otherworldly in and of itself you don't usually see materials like that it was as if this machine or whatever it was um had the ability to completely absorb light in every spectrum and nothing reflected from it and the shape was like a bird believe it or not and I always give people who I talked about this sighting with the example of if you're familiar at all with the television series Star Trek The Next Generation not the original Star Trek series but the next generation the Romulans use a craft the Romney people the aliens known as the Romulans use a craft called the warbird and if you take that shape of the warbird and just make it like completely solid with no holes or no you know openings in it at all and you shrunk it like significantly down to like the size of a large car or a small truck this is the type of drone craft that this was and it floated from the North Northwest to the southeast I would say at a very very slow speed and I say floated because that's what it was like it wasn't like this was being propelled it wasn't like a rocket or anything like that moving fast it was floating silently as if it was on a cloud of air you know and just drifting almost like a balloon would drift except this thing had the most peculiar shape to it and the most peculiar properties that it did not reflect light in any way and it floated maybe you know at about ninety to a hundred feet in the air and at about a distance of about 250 to 300 feet from the window where I was at maybe less and it then proceeded out toward the southern direction toward South Philadelphia this building where I was at is in University City which is in the western part of the city just of the Schuylkill River and I immediately tried to grab for my cellphone again I had a pretty primitive cell phone back then you know one of these flip style phones from that era and it had a low pixel density digital camera in it but that's all I had where I was at in the office where I was at so I went and I reached for that to try to get a recording or a picture of it and as I reach for the phone I realized the battery was dead it had drained and I did not have it plugged in so I could not take a picture and so what I've immediately did to get the experience quote documented I guess you could say is I immediately called barb and while I was on the phone you know I called her in a state of excitement and I said hey I'm having a UFO sighting right now and it was still happening I was on the phone telling her what was going on while I was still still had my eyes on the craft and it's floating and making slow steady progress toward South Philadelphia which is you know toward the the area where I live but not quite that far and it then stopped and floated stationary over an area of the city here in Philadelphia then the neighborhood known as Gray's Ferry because I could see landmarks from that area that I passed by often on the way to work when I worked at Penn and this craft just stayed stationary in the sky like it just stopped and hovered completely silently again I never heard any noise from it at this point it would have been too distant probably to hear any noise coming from it if it was emanating any sound but it stayed floating for probably a good minute or two and I was talking to barb and telling her what was happening she was suggesting all possible alternative explanations for what I was witnessing and I'm like no you don't understand this is like nothing I've ever seen I know what general generally just about every aircraft possible would look like that would come through this area this is nothing like and not even remotely similar to anything like that so for a brief moment while I was talking to barb I heard my glance and looked down at something and as soon as I went back to that area with my eyes the craft was gone it had vanished completely I didn't see it move off okay I didn't see it go up go you know to another area of the city it just completely vanished from my sight as soon as I took my attention away from it for a split second okay that was my experience it's very bizarre I can't explain it I can't tell you what that was I can tell you what it was not through a process of apophysis or elimination or saying what it was not that I can do it was not any earth craft I've ever seen or know of or know about it was not any technology I know of or know about or have ever witnessed or seen so you know when people say oh you were just witnessing a secret military aircraft okay well what are they flying secret military aircraft in the middle of the day in a populated area of of West Philadelphia University City and again no one else saw this you know III I looked you know in in both directions down the hallway there was no one there who seemed to have witnessed it I went to a couple of adjacent offices there was no one in them I went downstairs to the to the there's a restaurant and a like a big Lobby down in front of this building I went down there to see if anybody had seen anything no one was looking up at the sky both indoors and outdoors no one was talking about anything and I mean I went down immediately after this after I hung up the phone I said I'll call you back I went immediately got on the elevator went downstairs to see if anybody had seen anything out out there when this happened you know and you know obviously doing it you know so as not to you know draw a whole lot of attention just going out there and seeing hey is anybody looking up at the sky is anybody talking about anything that they might have seen was nothing unusual whatsoever so that was that was my close encounter and it definitely changes you when something like that happens ladies and gentlemen you're listening - what on earth is happening we'll be right back after this break stay with us [Music] welcome back everyone and listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio on a night plagued with some vicious attacks by those who don't want to hear the truth or to have it spread to others that's fine we're going to plod along as we must we're taking your calls this show you make the show anything is fair game no taboo topics again there never are here a toll-free number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three I just want to wrap up this story about this sighting and just bring a couple of quick points to people's attention regarding you know certain cliches that are often brought out when somebody sees something like this and the first one is well are you sure it wasn't a military secret military craft well you know isn't that's still the biggest news in human history pretty much you know hey if military have craft like that okay that can float hover completely silent propelled with some form of anti-gravity technology why are we still driving around in combustion engine cars polluting the earth confined the 2d space jam-packed on roads all kinds of moving components expensive etc when this kind of clean and clearly exotic technological propulsion and transportation methodology it clearly exists if that were the case and why doesn't the public know about it so what they they have a right somehow to develop this for weapons of destruction but the public doesn't have a right to possess that same technology for transportation and whatever other means we might be able to use it for that still that cover-up still wouldn't be the biggest story in the history of the world you know I just have to laugh at people when they bring this up as if oh that's that's nothing you know it's just military back to bed you know it's utterly ridiculous it's an utterly ridiculous justification even if it were that now do I have to keep an open mind that maybe this is some sort of black ops project you know black budget project I should say absolutely you know maybe they're working on light bending or refracting technology maybe they're working on some type of cloaking technology who knows you know obviously it was anti-gravity propulsion of some kind because it made zero sound I mean none no air currents disturbed to the best of my ability to tell so you know that pretty much is really what I wanted to get at you know the people who kind of bring up this cliche of well it probably was just military well even if it was that's still a huge huge deal and people should be talking about it I personally if I had to make a an assessment and a best guesstimate I would guess that this was not of human origin personally from what I witnessed I don't think humanity even has technology like that now people say oh we have technology hundreds of years from the breakaway civilization that's operating on this planet yeah maybe so but even if that were one of ours and somebody you know human being we're piloting it I don't really think we got that we developed that technology on our own personally that's just my take you know people are free to disagree with that but I feel that that was something that was of a narcotic nature let's just say okay and when something like that is done in the dark I don't really think that it's for good purposes quite frankly I don't have a good I don't have a good feeling in general about the entire alien quote slash UFO phenomenon in general because I think that they have interfered with people's personal sovereignty on this planet we could get into discussions about abductions possibly at some future point I haven't really covered that material as of yet it certainly interconnects with the cosmic abandonment thesis and information and again I want to provide a little bit more you know evidence to support that whole thesis in coming weeks you know before I move on and to differ talk different topics of discussion but in general I don't think this phenomenon is something that has our better interests at heart it may certainly be simply self-interested and operating according to its own agenda but I definitely don't think it has our betterment in mind that's just my take on it there again would be people who highly disagree with that I think that good works are done in the light of day and dark works are done in secrecy and darkness okay just my take on it let's move on to another caller Joe before we move on I want Wonder's say thank you to Joe the the last caller because the comments that he made were are very encouraging and very heartening and I really appreciate you know the things that he said so let's move on to hear from Mike in Kentucky Mike you're live on what on earth is happening welcome Mike are you with us come on yes there you go you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the shaft and interesting audio problems you've been having indeed you mentioned something way back before we started taking callers and I think it's a foundational principle that a lot of people are that that's a great way to pull the foundation out of legitimate government in this land is the idea that property is fundamental to the natural basic rights that we have or if you don't have property or the ability to own property right then what do you have I mean that's well the question becomes what then are you by definition you're a serve your property is your speech your speeches your property a a an on property owner is a serf living on the land you know just in that land is somehow just entrusted to them as a landlord a Lord would entrust a feudal serf to to a piece of land but if they don't do the bidding of the master of that land then you know they somehow lose the ability to live on that you know well are we serfs on the land or are we sovereign individuals are we slaves you know that a master is keeping on a plantation well I reject that outright wholesale I reject that you know that we are somehow legitimate serfs or legitimate slaves there is no such thing as the legitimacy of serfdom or slavery it's always a legitimate because it's always based on coercion and violence which are against natural law and our wrongdoings and and therefore I can't see how anybody who claims that they want freedom or claims that they want to understand rights you know could possibly not grasp the idea of the legitimacy of ownership in the physical domain and again it doesn't mean folks like I was saying it doesn't mean that I own something forever I don't own this computer forever I don't own you know this printer forever I don't own this this hard drive forever this lamp forever but while I'm using them they are my property I am in stewardship of them if you want to use that terminology it's it's splitting of the hairs okay you nobody can own anything forever so to talk about concepts of forever are meaningless it's it's just meaningless it's it's it's drivel really is what it is it's it's it's getting involved in semantic debate as opposed to looking at the reality of the situation from a simplistic point of view and that is we own our bodies we own the things that we acquired lawfully without harming somebody else and are using and that includes property living space etc okay that these are legitimate claims you I can't make the claim I own all the water in the world or I own all all the water in the city of Philadelphia that's not alleged McClain because other people needed to survive hey I could say the water in this house which I am using right now is my property okay I've bottled some some water in this house so I have it for my personal usage that is mine I have staked a claim to it because I am using it and intending to use it over the next few days so that's my water somebody would not have a right to just come in here and take it you know it's the same it's the same thing with anything else if you don't understand what property rights are you don't understand any rights you know then you're getting involved in you know going down the dangerous trail the dangerous path of allowing for the violation of rights to take place if you don't understand understand property you know people give this example oh the Native Americans here had no concept of property and I tell people really you don't think that they did you think if one of the Native American people went into the tepee of a husband and his wife and tried to throw them out of there in the middle of the night that that those two people wouldn't have a problem with that because that's what property is they're using it they're using that space [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening we're into the third hour of the show despite a couple of setbacks the show continues on we're taking your calls tonight the toll-free number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three we were talking to Mike in Kentucky who had brought up the point of how central the concept of ownership is to understanding and preserving rights keeping them you know and I was saying that people who don't understand the nature of true property of what we really own and what we do not own of real ownership cannot truly understand natural law that's why people who think this way should go back and listen to my natural law seminar watch that seminar look at the slides go through it slowly if you have to take your time with it take take it over several days or a week okay I get into the concept of ownership and what it is what constitutes ownership you know it's the its rightful acquisition without violence to someone else and then it's actively using it on a continual basis and then it's being responsible for it and if you're if that applies to a thing you own it hey that's why I own my body there's a reason it's not just a statement or a claim there's reasons to back it up okay and they make perfect common sense if we think about them on a natural law level on a level regarding is violence being done is coercion being done or not okay and then that makes the difference between us understanding what we own and what we do not own and I want to thank Mike from Kentucky for bringing up that point it's something that more people really really need to think about it a deep fundamental level and understand completely so Mike thank you for the call let's hear from Chris in Las Vegas Chris you're live on what on earth is happening welcome well good evening mark and what an interesting evening you've had so far husband hasn't it we know as Mike was speaking I think it was George Washington that said that private property and liberty were inseparable and mutually interdependent you could not have one without the other I agree also you it's just an interesting evening here there's so many things I'm saying you're working on a land patent case where land was stolen by the bar down in Louisiana from a bunch of tribal family members had had it from the Spanish land grant and they did it in the absurd or a not jurisdictional location to have struck them so I'm helping fight some people fight for the land get it back what was stolen by the bar several hundred acres should be quite interesting so I wish you luck with that oh and also you have noticed since you've been having such flack we know that we're over the target if we're catching off the flack and even catching lots of the night that's right the truth is the first casualty of war and the Empire of Lies and so you're obviously seeing great interest in that respect and that's okay you know it's something that I guess I'm gonna have to accept and make some contingency plans for and you know all it does like I said is it helps me because it's validating my message to everyone out there you know and they'll hear this archived in the podcast and it'll make them think you know about everything I've said in the past and how now this is coming under attack deliberately quite blatantly and clearly and you know it's gonna validate it's going to only serve to validate everything I've said to this point so you know like I said they could do their worst you mentioned you were going to go to an occult conference and speak on those topics here in the near future and we might talk about the actual etymology the word term occult which means secret knowledge I think that's it hidden knowledge that is all the occult comprises it's hidden knowledge of how the human psyche works and operates and it's hidden knowledge about how the laws of nature operate both in the realm of the seen meaning the physical laws and in the realm of the unseen meaning the spiritual laws that govern creation let me share a couple of things that you may have some knowledge of but you may not know quite all that I'm going to share with you this evening I think you probably know where the term Isis actually came from its reiteration not considering its original pharisee pharaoh ancient Egypt or Kemet utilization for the ancient demon goddess of war destruction and fertility but we know it was reformed in the I think up late 1990s or so by Mossad from the British mi6 which I think stands for Mossad in Israel and of course the 69th star the star ball chamber of Satan and so if you've given that then we've got this new iteration of this new terrible terrorist group that's even worse than Isis they call Horus on and my inspired interpretation tells me that it's actually car Horus on or car Horus shot on like Hajj upon which is Satan or Lucifer and of course Horus was the concert of Isis and so it's not without pretty interesting suggestions that the same people that have these dollar bollocks agendas of looking to these ancient demonic gods and goddesses to trait they're frauds and the American public in these false flag pretense events would carry out the same cohesive connection or LexisNexis to their storylines it's an interesting interpretation and you know I've talked a lot about the ancient Commission pantheon of gods and goddesses are here on this show and you know Isis I look at as a goddess figure that represented truth and love not so much that you could look at different goddesses and incarnations as having a negative aspect but I look at this whole thing as yet another symbolic attack on the goddess energy in general as attacking a care as attacking truth as attacking love as attacking higher consciousness to keep people in fear and one of the things I think we really have to be vigilant about is the possibility of new false flag attacks coming to keep the consciousness of the people rooted in fear and they're doing this by propagating on the media that this group is so huge and has so many you know sleeper cells and has so many assets at their disposal when you know I mean we really didn't hear about these groups that much even only a year ago and one of the things that I do agree with is that that you said is that these groups were all really ultimately created by intelligence agencies we're talking about intelligence agencies of the United States of Britain of Israel coming together to form these very sick twisted militant forms of Islam but we really did this we created this our intelligence agencies made this so that they can continue to justify their existence and continue to justify the imperialist military incursions into these other lands and to seize their resources and and oppress their people so you know interesting interesting interpretations Chris and I want to thank you for the call and I wonder something yes sure thanks for you we know that Eric Holder resigned on Thursday yes if you gotta consider what the true nature of the months are and if we look at the actual months and the new neurological relationships we know that the month preceding October which is the eighth month is September meaning the seventh month of course we had the two fabricated months by Pope Gregory and the Julian calendar and they added July and August or Hadji just this all right so if you give this September is actually the seventh month not right then the 24 25th which was Thursday is 7 and 201 4/7 so Eric Holder hit the jackpot I got free stuff ha ha ha quite interesting Chris thanks thanks for that they're all about numerology aren't they [Music] you know today this ties a nice night divide today tried to run welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening we're taking your calls for the duration of the show let's go right back to the phone lines and let's hear from Brandon in Boston Brandon you are live on what on earth is help is happening welcome hello Brandon you're live on the air Brandon are you there yep okay there he is okay wrong yeah okay no worries what do you have for us this evening all right yeah first of all I just wanted to give a kind of a flat moral relativism sure go ahead yeah I want to give any now cuz that I've fought this battle for a long time and I lived in an area that was rabid with post-modernism and feminism and relativism and you know I might have even fallen into that trap of he had all these new-age books like the dancing movie masters that was and the DAO of physics and things like that things that wanted to equate God with quantum physics and the problem of that is that that's just one interpretation that's the Copenhagen interpretation of quantum physics works just one interpretation of looking out of that old movement I think that's why Einstein said that God doesn't play dice that in fact relativism only applies on the quantum square scales not to be a thought applied on the human scale another way I would entire arguments I'd say people have often say to me well there is no truth there is no good and and they say well I said well is that is that statement true mmm-hmm it kind of stopped them in the track and if it's true then there is truth there's no loss and that Falls there's nothing in smile ism another way I'd do that and that's just truth so let's go the morality elephant each seminars philosophy to feminists and stuff like that there'd be a guy or two in the class and I said well there is no true there is no real good or evil come on in Chris Walden okay there's no but what is it then most based on it's all based on power you know true real good and evil bait is based on who has the power at the time and you can see it in history how its ways from one what's good in one age is bad in another age okay I'd say okay well right now I have the power I'm gonna separate the class into two groups men and women and all the men I'm gonna get A's all the women are gonna fail well that's what's did it immediately from the that's unfair mm-hmm nothing because if you're in power and you get to make up what's right and wrong well then that's right isn't it yes and it's in fact that it's rooted in extreme narcissism it's basically saying what is truthful is truthful for me that's right I call this the arbiter of truth syndrome that's my personal little branding or coining of this mentally diseased condition that people have fallen into that they believe that humanity can somehow be the arbiter of truth that we get to decide which what is true and what is not true instead of through opening our perceptions and taking in what's really there discovering what is true for ourselves yep so you know and that you know some really great books on this it's just um sheis Lewis is the abolition of man he says about relativism he said it will surely damn our souls and were and in the world and Bruin and damn our souls okay he an oxonium czar on you know they're not really they don't really exaggerate that much but it so and then you know you have people like you know where Ellis it is just stuck in as possible I call a Boomer itis because it seems to take hold with the goomar aviation that will the Peter who were plopped down in front of the television by the so called greatest generation after that generation a fault World War two and then thought everything was just peachy keen in the whole world and they rested on their laurels weren't vigilant whatsoever were completely asleep at the switch while this country was taken from the inside by both Nazism and communism and they plopped their children down they accepted all the new technological innovations that came into their lives around that time and said well we'll need to really truly raise our children and plop them down in front of a TV fed them TV dinners and the state took their minds in short order I might add and if people think that's too harsh of a of a judgment to pass upon both the so-called greatest generation and the baby boomer generation well guess what look look around and take a look at where we're at right now okay that's a result of people being asleep at the switch varial they're the most I think the baby boomer generation the reason why we're stuck at the where we at where we are at right now baby blue magenta the so-called greatest generation has they would also include the cities well I'm the greatest generation I'm talking about World War 2 era and then they're there their children the next generation would be considered the baby boomer generation well I'm talking about those two generations being largely responsible for where we are at now in human history at least in the United States you know it's uh it's um it's something that many people don't want to talk about and I'm not just pointing fingers saying oh it's all just that group of course a lot of people bear responsibility for it but really the the powers that should not be slammed through so many agendas during that time period and just slipped it right by people's minds in both of those generations because like I said they were just completely asleep at the switch they were distracted they were you know raised on television particularly the baby boomer generation they were raised on TV the propaganda worked so well on them because it was fresh it no one had analyzed it no one had understood how it worked and they they took their minds at a very very deep level most of them now I'm not making a blanket statement not saying all of them were taken but the vast majority for certain yeah and you know I know it's just reading that um Mussolini and Mao Zedong they're their moral relativist oh sure oh that's a it's a cornerstone of both of those ideologies cornerstone of both of those political ideologies is moral relativism absolutely oh I mean it's a very really is the most dangerous thing out there I'm glad you're fighting that good fight mark and I'll be in Connecticut absolutely I'm glad you're fighting it as well keep up the great work Brandon Brandon thanks so much for the call let's hear from Frank and Montreal Frank you're live on what on earth is happening welcome okay hi Rachel by the way first time I heard of you is when you were getting an interview in Montreal from people from that radio h200 yes great show oh my yeah and so you got a couple of new listeners there Franco humor and his crew yes great yeah pretty glad you went there I'd like to I'd like to ask a question about the sick sick sick nature of time it's something that you've talked a little bit about but I would I would like to have a little bit more precision about how past events could repeat today if it's something that actually happened that the time is actually 60 nonlinear how can we how can we eat today in what's going on today Frank this is a great question I'm glad you've asked it it's something I do want to clarify more and talk a little bit more on so when when people say time is cyclical I think that gives a wrong impression in most people's minds that events somehow are doomed to reoccur and that's not the case I would say that time has a cyclical quality to it but it itself is not cyclical and I'll pick up what I mean by that on the other side of this break stay with us folks welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm Frank from Montreal asked a question before the last break for me to clarify my understanding of the cyclical nature of time I said it's not so much a cyclical nature as that time has a cyclical quality to it and let me finish explaining that see it's not so much that events recur and were somehow doomed to repeating the same things over and over again it's that tendencies seem to keep being put before us and if we don't learn from the events that we collectively have experienced in a in a past cycle then the results will more than likely more likely than not be repeated and be the same and often maybe even worse because we did not get the lesson that was intended for us as a species to learn during the previous cycle these are what some researchers have called choice points in time okay and we have an opportunity to evolve during those choice points you know because we have an opportunity to learn from past mistakes and to understand the pattern that have been inherent to this cyclical quality within time okay so again you cannot take this to mean that time is a circle you have to look at it like time is a spiral staircase you know if you get the lesson you're going to go up around or a notch up the spiral and if you don't you're going to get bumped down one okay and it's going to look similar but the events will be still different you're not doomed to repeat them unless as the old saying goes you don't learn from history you don't learn from the previous cycle you know that the saying is not humanity is doomed to repeat history the saying is humanity is doomed to repeat history if we ignore its lessons and that's what you know the preservation of knowledge is all about passing that down the future generations so they don't make the same mistakes that we have made so that instead they learn and grow from those experiences I hope that clarifies it I don't really know you know any other way of putting it to make it more clear so I hope that's you know somewhat understandable and I want to thank you for your call I want to try to get in some more callers before the end of the show let's hear from Mike in New York Mike you are live on what on earth is happening welcome my friend I'm mark thanks for take my call I'll always grant later from you I just wanted to bring up a real quick book for the abduction we're talking about maybe getting sued down the road dr. Paula Horner has some great information and I thought she'd be worth bringing up the topic but I wanted to really bring up the the fact that you you had said mostly humanity really does have a tendency towards self-hatred yes and that that ultimately is our biggest down that's what's stopping us from moving forward or up that staircase if we really do get over I think we'll have a better shot at accomplishing anything else that we're looking to do sure ultimately you know if you history most of society's downfall due to its delusion delusional self hatred or egotistical you know upward Babylon is a great example all of that if it's really you know self-love is a tough thing sometimes I think hey that's the key to everything because how can you project love outward if you don't truly love the self if you're doing things that are harmful and detrimental against the self can you truly love someone else can you truly project the spear or essence of love to anyone else you know it's all about self-respect and self-love that's where all love flows from it has to start at the self and project out from there that's right people want to know where the confidence comes from it comes from sometimes working your hardest you may be sailing sometimes but ultimately you know if you don't give up and you strive towards better you will accomplish it you work enough hours that anything you'll get good at you'll get good at it alright doing a being a 3d artist as a hobbyist sometimes it can be very very tedious the software changes that the years go on you know sometimes if the money is in it sometimes there's not you know and you really do it for the love and and really if you spend a good five thousand hours or more you'll get better and unfortunately if you don't want to put in that work you're never going to get that it's all about practice it's all about persistence it's all about willpower you know willpower in conjunction with care in conjunction with creativity you know that's what will get us there you know we don't want to develop that then you know stagnation is the order of the day and ultimately you know slipping backwards you know ultimately entropy and chaos will take over you know again like I said true care and true will are the ordering principles within creation that's what the force of centra P is ultimately about the counteracts and counterbalance is that force of entropy and chaos at work in the world that's amazing you know it you watched you're truly putting together you know through these podcast what really needs to be said especially you know now today at this time in our society reincarnation I think plays a big role in that cyclical thing that we keep feeling and you know seeing and throughout history or feeling in the back of our mind it pops up again and again maybe in your life deja vu I've had that before you know you were being very honest a about a story that you shared about you know experience you had with some sort of craft and you know I throughout my life I've seen you know shadow people or or or animal like all 30 years that can move very fast you know I throughout my life I've seen it it almost like it was second nature and I realized that one point yeah you know other people didn't really see them until I started watching you know so much TV shows and realized that it was out there but essentially that's what that's what got me on my road you know back in the I was there probably 90 somewhere it's a huge phenomenon it's a much larger phenomena than most people would even believe I mean looking into that whole concept of you know shadow or dark figures were working in this world and seen at the periphery of people's vision in many cases it's a huge phenomenon that goes out in the world especially depending on where you are in locations that can play into it but it is it is without a doubt like well like I've seen them I've seen them be able to move object you know with a lid on a toy chest when I was younger you know that there are you know and you knew younger you don't even realize what's happening you know and all the sudden you look back at Excel is so young and I said oh my god that's exactly what happened you know but they're not your life you know you can if you don't have don't hold on to your humanity and that that's really what separates the ability to really love and have action you know without explanation sometimes or for yourself or others you have to have that that's that is what separates us and if we don't let them take that from us so we don't willingly give it up we can develop it into power to good powers that could really uplift humanity instead of using power for the tool to bring people down exactly Mike absolutely profound insights as always that you bring to the show whenever you call in thanks so much my friend great to hear from you everybody thank you you too all right let's hear from Kerry and Rob in Philadelphia Kerry and Rob you are on the air on what on earth is happening welcome guys if you want to lower the radio a little bit or whatever device you're listening on Kerry and Rob are you there I don't delay been a roller coaster ride right well I mean you know this Swami hangs out in the the chat room during the show and he'll have been going in there outstanding because what we decided as these things were occurring some got very frustrated but myself and a few others said look the whole intent of this is to drive listeners away breathe simply sit here shoulder to shoulder no matter what happens right until the end of the program then we win absolutely Swami stay with us through this break and I'll let you continue on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening here on rbn we'll be right back [Music] [Music] [Music] welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website wall on earth is happening wanted to congratulate you you know you're not you're not getting hit with the flack until you're over the target that's right you know like I said it's just gonna lend more validation to my message the more that this keeps happening and you know it's all too coincidental to be accidental as far as I'm concerned I mean it's uh this is something that I feel is deliberate because it's happening just at the time I go on the air when I have had no problems with this connection over the past several weeks you know only during the time that I hit the airwaves but like I said it's gonna ultimately work against these cowards these anonymous cowards who take a paycheck to try to stifle a message of truth it's gonna work against them because in everybody's mind who listens it's gonna validate my message from day one and I just wanted to cyber high-five yes and tell you how excited I am to be standing shoulder to shoulder with you in the upliftment of human consciousness absolutely and it's a pleasure that you are in our company sir oh also one to share with you do to your inspiration this Swami will be taking on a raw juice raw juice max great great I wish you the best of luck know I'd be here to help you with that endeavor thank you so much and and you know one of the reasons I mean one of the greatest reasons I'm doing this is because you took took up the challenge to do it and what about real hope that's right the whole thing to simply replicate the very same thing with this you know and I'm due for another one I'm gonna have to do another one pretty soon and you know reboot as they say and perhaps within the next few weeks I'll start one myself oh all right thanks again mark for doing what you do and being who you are and all you've gone through all you go through and all that is yet to be gone Swami the same here we appreciate you my friend take care alright let's hear from Ivan in Phoenix Ivan your live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show you're a minute today as opposed to the very last minute yes it's unusual I took your call a little bit early except not quite at the very very end of the show so we have some time to chat what do you have on your mind this evening my friend all right this connects a lot of dots here so you're talking about cosmic abandonment and basically the interference with man within our ancient history this ties this connect a few things for me real quick here and it disclosed through vegetarianism and carnism okay I would suggest I don't know if you've mentioned this in the past or not but I would suggest that man was vegetarian or vegan that's the one who ate naturally the natural foods the foods that don't need to be processed or modified you know you can just grab a banana grab an apple pick some cherries take anything that comes from the earth and you can eat that naturally and you're fine then we have the interference or what the Bible says let us make man in our image not human but man in our image marry and that ties in with something I heard a few years ago that David Icke mentioned a researcher was looking into the origins of I forgot some religions and stuff and came across 70,000 years ago was the furthest he can go back about reptilians or serpent and that was something about you or that Q was was the name and so now we take that concept and man was made in whoever's image maybe that was these serpents or or reptilian and then man became human and then from that point on that's where you get all these carnivores saying what the body needs to eat meat don't can't you tell how you know good it feels when you eat meat everything and that's why I would suggest wealth because it's we're down the line of this interference yeah we were manipulated or modified to require this meat because you know as natural as it is to just eat the fruits and vegetables I don't know I don't see these carnivores you know right now I'm still corn for but I'm look trying to change that and my consciousness I'm that willpower I'm trying to develop that and and kind of use my sacred masculine to use force and I know do the right thing and stop eating that we aren't carnivores don't go to a cow and just take a bite out of it we don't rip a chicken leg off and take a bite out of it we don't bite let sink our teeth into a pig a thief so if it's as natural as eating these fruits and vegetables that we just picked up anywhere and eat why don't we do that with the me because our our I would say from the neck up our body recognizes that we're not supposed to do that don't include the taste buds are meant to construct we don't take red meat all bloody and and everything I mean yummy no we need to put you know spices and we need to marinate it we need to cook it to a nice color and very nice nuts so that's all men to stuff that's right it's acceptable these so like the old saying goes if people had to kill the animals that they eat there would be a lot more vegetarians in the world exactly yeah so that that's something that all these extra ducks here was you know the food and preparing it and and these interference that ties into you know supports what you were talking about the interference sure it's a man and human it's a very interesting theory that that may have been actually genetically programmed into us through the modifications that these beings may have made to early man that's one possibility I'd like to just suggest another alternative hypothesis or possibility if the earth was at one point not at the angle of its axial rotation with respect to its plane of orbit around the Sun that it exists now which is at a twenty three point five degree tilt with respect to that rotational plane with with that orbital plane around our Sun if it was at one point perfectly straight up and down with respect to that plane of orbit if it was at a zero degree angle we would have a perpetual state of spring in all areas of the earth basically except the most extreme parts of the the poles and you would have a huge temper temperate zone capable of supporting all kinds of vegetable plant and vegetable life throughout the course of the year year round there would not be extremes of summer and winter and that means food would grow everywhere abundantly in both hemispheres of the earth in northern and southern hemisphere year round you wouldn't have this season of death and decay and pushing people into survival mode and looking for alternative sources of of energy and food like hunting animals okay so I think perhaps environmental pressures brought about by a cataclysmic event possibly even one that was created by these beings that came here in the ancient past with their technology because if they were some sort of a type to civilization you know they may have even had technology free energy technology that would have been capable of creating a pole shift but there are some researchers that talk about possibly the possibility of a galactic gravity wave created from a Seaford explosion I've talked about briefly some of the work of Paul Laviolette in this regard I think people should read his book earth under fire you could also check out Allen and delayers work Cataclysm in that regard that may have changed our dietary habits but that's all the time we have for this edition Ivan I want to thank you as always for your call ladies and gentlemen I'll be in Connecticut next week looking forward to seeing everybody out there I'll return live to the air in two weeks from today you've been listening to war on earth is happening ladies and gentlemen remember there's only two mistakes you could ever make on the path to truth not starting and not going all the way we'll see you right here in two weeks for tonight's broadcast is Jay Parker Jay Parker was born into a multi-generational satanic family and received monarch trauma-based mind control as a child for the first seven years of his life Jay was subjected to satanic ritual abuse in a large cult setting Jay now speaks on recovery and healing methods for satanic ritual abuse survivors he discusses in detail neurological and biological discoveries related to satanic ritual abuse in his talks Jay reveals a specialized holistic approach for satanic ritual abuse healing so that that's going to be my guest coming up this hour and through the whole show we'll be taking calls during the third hour of tonight's broadcast Jay and I will be taking your calls let me give the callin number if you want to get in the call queue the calling number to join us in the third hour of the broadcast tonight 800 three one three nine four four three once again the calling number 800 three one 394 43 I want to start with a couple of quick event announcements the demystifying the occult seminar that I did on Saturday October 4th last Saturday went very very well it was very well attended we had about a hundred people there in Manchester Connecticut over double what we did the year before I want to send out a very special thanks to art and crisp posey for their organization of this event I want to thank Richard Grove and the entire tragedy and hope communications crew for coming out and filming in a very high broadcast quality the entire day the whole seminar and we're going to have that out on video shortly probably within a couple months or so I mean you know it won't you know we'll have the footage will have to be edited and the slides will have to be put to the footage but it will be forthcoming soon for people to check out on my website and my youtube channel so thanks to everyone who made that event very very great also thanks to barb for helping out for running the merchandise table and you know a lot of people came out and really were very very attentive had a lot of great questions I got in a lot of great discussions with people and you know it was just a great day all around what can I say I think it went off entirely without a hitch and it was a really great meeting new people up in Connecticut once again so thanks to all who attended and thanks to all who made the day a huge success another event announcement quickly I have coming up the free documentary screening and discussion evening that Barb and I host here in Philadelphia as part of the truth freedom prosperity group this this coming Thursday October 16th we will be meeting at the Guarin Recreation Center the Guarin rec center is at 1600 Jackson Street in Philadelphia the corner of 16th and Jackson streets and this month we will be showing the documentary film called building the Machine a movie about the Common Core State standard initiative and its effects on American children's education Common Core is the largest systemic reform of American public education in recent history and has become one of the most controversial and yet on heard of issues in America this documentary building the machine is the first every and ever investigative documentary about the Common Core State Standards and you know young people who know what I talk about and have been talking about on this show regarding mind control and indoctrination techniques will know that I don't have a very good opinion of the common core initiatives I think that they are part of outcome based education which goes back to the Prussian indoctrination methodology and the Nazi mastery learning outcome based education and the type of outcome based education that the Soviet indoctrination system was based on this is just bringing those purely fascist and communist education methodologies into the United States and it serves as nothing but a mind-control method for the young and this documentary takes a more a little bit more moderate of an approach by just basically talking about what the common core is people and that people most people have never even heard of it because it was kind of like you know slammed through in all the states without even really the people who were voting on it knowing what it was and you know it tries to just educate people about what this is going to do to the overall basic mindset of children should it be fully implemented so that's what this documentary is about once again this documentary screening is free to attend Thursday October 16th 7 o'clock p.m. start time at the Guarin recreation center 16th and Jackson streets in Philadelphia for more information you can go to truth freedom prosperity org unfortunately it looks like I'm going to have to be canceling the Kansas City seminar that I had planned for November 22nd or 23rd we really haven't secured a new venue unfortunately and it just to me doesn't seem like there's going to be enough time since the original venue fell through to restructure this and promote it in enough time so barring any kind of a miracle more likely than not I'll be canceling that a presentation in Kansas City to be quite honest I really want to kind of restructure what I've been doing recently and come up with a new attack plan or strategy and I think that's going to involve some more small seminars here in Philadelphia perhaps with one or two other people involved and hosting things locally and recording that to get out there on video on you know my website and my youtube channel that seems to be I think a better approach than doing a lot of the type of traveling that I've been doing of late and I think it'll help me get things out there in a more concentrated and focused manner plus I want to turn my attention to trying to get the potential book edited and out in production hopefully by sometime in the first half of next year so I want to turn my attention to that as well another real quick event announcement I have is regarding the free your mind 3 conference coming up in April of 2015 it has been told to me that the conference will be taking place in early April of 2015 similar to the first for your mind conference I believe the dates that they have planned or pretty much locked in were April 10th 11th and 12th of 2015 so that is a Friday Saturday and Sunday the 10th 11th and 12th so I don't want to announce the the venue I do know where the venue is going to be but I'm gonna let the organizers announce that officially for more information on the free your mind 3 conference you can check out the website free your mind conference calm ladies and gentlemen we'll be right back with our special guest Jay Parker stay with us welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on our PN I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest coming up Jay Parker satanic ritual abuse survivor real quick there is a donation button on the left hand side of the what on earth is happening dot-com website if you feel that you have received value from the information that's been shared here on the water on earth is happening radio show and website feel free to make a voluntary donation help support my work so that I can continue it into the future another quick thing there are images associated with tonight's show you can check them out either with the podcast for this show this will be show number 171 or if you're listening live you could check them out at the water on earth is happening calm radio show page just go to the website click on the radio show tab and underneath the player for tonight's broadcast you'll see images for tonight's show and you'll also see Jays images some memes that Jay wants to discuss and talk about tonight on the show as part of our discussion so they're listed as a numerical links you can click them to bring up a slideshow with those images so I want to welcome my guest Jay Park or Jay welcome to the show well thank you Mark it's good to be back on what on earth is happening and I just want to congratulate you for your fine presentation in Connecticut and working with Richard Grove excellent work yeah like I said I think it was a good learning experience for those who attended like like I said as part of the seminar it was a introductory material it was kind of rudimentary I really was doing this more for the people who will watch it online even more so than for the people who attended it live for people who are expecting you know really super-high level material into deep occultism perhaps they may be a little bit disappointed because like I said it was introductory material but that's what it was intended to be for people who really don't have a good understanding of what occult knowledge is at all to begin with just to kind of whet their appetite and get them interested so that they could do further study and research on their own and again demystify this whole topic well it's amazing to me that we live in a world that is so mind-control that you really can't even say the word occult without getting a hardcore emotional reaction that 90% of the people will just turn away and say to you I don't want to hear and that's the way anything about the occult is in this country there's just such a taboo about talking about you know the ancient spiritual and religious history of this world you know there was only handful of people that are really looking at this information yeah I agree you know to just go back to what you were saying at the very beginning of that little segment there one of the attendees came up to me during a break at the seminar and said you know I'm really happy to be here and to get to speak with you but I wish that more people would have come with me he was telling me that he invited so many people to come and check out the seminar and as soon as they heard the word occult you know they would ask him well what's the topic gonna be what's the speaker going to talk about and he said it's called demystifying the occult and he said as soon as people heard that word they immediately like you know turned off and said I don't want anything to do with that that's all bad that's all evil and nothing good could come from me learning anything about that like you said that's almost the perfection of mind control is to actually turn the meaning of a word the very definition of word into something that it was never intended to mean or be and have that connotation be so strong in someone's mind that they cannot even fathom or conceive that that word can mean something other than what they actually believe that it means in their own mind that's the one of the ultimate form of mind control through the obfuscation of the meaning of words and Orwell is rolling in his grave but it's nothing on the show mark we talked a little bit about what we're gonna do for the next three hours and I'm going to with you quickly go through some of the memes I set up in the slide shows sure we'll do that the first hour let's say the second hour we're gonna talk about some occult make it really and third hour we'll take some calls that sounds like a great plan to me so I'm going to get right into it I'm gonna come out swinging tonight as I do on my radio show sra today on blog talk and to get a grasp at where America is right now you need that you know who can fathom all the money that's being spent in Washington all the waste all the insane corruption and nonsense but I said this me Mom to try to get wrap your head around what is literally happened in America in the last say you know since 9/11 alright let's say since 2003 okay now in the 2008 banker bailouts okay and those bailouts continued for years okay the Federal Reserve and the American people gave the bankers approximately seven trillion dollars in cash now from the Afghanistan and Iraq Wars America's spent roughly five trillion dollars and the hundred and twenty five billion a year spent in cancer therapy in America which of course is nonsense compared to cannabis oil treatment which basically takes chemotherapy and throws that ring in the trash all right both costs wise and effectiveness chemotherapy is only 2.1 percent effective after five years in America so you're using radiation chemotherapy and surgery and it's only 2% are alive after five years so that's a good bang for your buck huh oh so all I have to say is you know it's one of my pet peeves I mean you get into it more but then I guess people still trust these priests in the white lab coat you know when that's their odds that's their chances given the so-called state of the art you know treatment technology well it's sad to say but there was a suppressed study that was done in 2003 it finally hit the media in 2010 and I saw it not too long ago he cross my feed and basically in Australia chemo and surgery and radiation is 2.3 percent effective after five years and in America it's 2.1 percent and so what what I'm talking about by showing you these pictures of these two towers these blue glass towers and what they are are Liberty Place towers in Philadelphia now up until the building of the Comcast Center in Philadelphia these two buildings were the tallest buildings in Philadelphia and I believe Pennsylvania now these towers basically cost at the time in 1990 around both of them around six hundred million dollars biting we're coming up to a break hold the thought right there and we'll pass up on the other side ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening my special guest this evening Jay Parker we'll be right back welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening here on Republic broadcasting I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm J I'll let you pick right up where you left off you were showing an image and talking about the Liberty Place towers here in Philadelphia and I believe you're going to you know draw kind of like a parallel to how much this bailout really uh was the equivalent to well what I'm talking about here I'm trying to just do a in-your-face analogy here okay America spent seven trillion dollars in banker bailout and that's not even including the backup guaranteed loans I'm talking about seven trillion in cash to the banks in the oh seven Oh a crash and then we have five trillion dollars for Afghanistan and Iraq that's a hell of a good investment right and then we add another trillion dollars wasted in chemotherapy surgery and radiation in the last ten years and it's actually a lot more than that because we're talking about a one hundred twenty five billion dollar a year industry in allopathic cancer treatment because you know we haven't found the cure yet as Susan Korman says we're still looking but I just want to show you these two buildings in Philadelphia which were up until the Comcast Center the largest buildings in Pennsylvania if you take those trillions of dollars and add them up you have thirteen trillion dollars okay and those thirteen trillion dollars would build you thirteen thousand Liberty places 13,000 of those two buildings so you got 26,000 towers 26,000 towers and that's just three scandalous misuses of American financial life in the last 10 years while average citizens are starving in the streets without you know two cents to rub together to even feed themselves in many cases and you know these people who are absolute criminals white-collar criminals get bailed out because they're too big to fail you know absolutely but if you want to know why this country's going down the shitter faster than a torpedo we have to watch the language because we're going out over AM and FM well I don't do that again no worries all right if you want to know why then just think 26,000 towers okay because 13 you could have built 13,000 of those Liberty Place Twin Towers amazing so let's go to the next mean because willing to get through these in an hour and then start talking about some occult stuff now mark I want you to read this mean and see if you can get through it without screaming today the richest 85 people on earth own more wealth than the bottom half of humanity some 3.5 billion people so 85 people on the earth imagine that own more wealth than the other the lower income 3.5 billion people put together as author Naomi Klein rates quote we are witnessing a transfer of wealth of unfathomable size it is a transfer of wealth from public hands from the hands of government collected from regular people in the form of taxes into the hands of the wealthiest corporations and individuals in the world and this is what I'm trying to get into your head tonight for the first hour on what on earth is happening that as George Carlin says the game is rigged and nobody seems to care well you need to start caring and get active you're already radioactive from Fukushima so you might as well get active this is serious this planet the society the ecology we're in deep trouble here and we need you to take a moment and really get your head into the mindset that unless we wake up and we unite against these satanic oligarchs we're not gonna have a life and you know you can kiss your Ebola goodbye and what I'll add to that little meme there is the saddest part of this reality of so few people controlling so much and making decisions about what happens to the lives of so many people is ultimately the quote order followers of this world are working for them and are doing their bidding when they're in there in that lower bracket that lower bottom of humanity that these people completely rule over and they're still willing to do these people's bidding when these people don't care about them when they are ritualistically mocked by them when they call them the dead and they call them their pets and their dogs these order followers will still do their bidding for the measly grub and pittance of a paycheck that they're given to do this dark work it's it's it's absolutely maddening and it's sad at the same time because these people have no idea who they're really really truly serving if they did many of them wouldn't continue to do the work as an order follower that they do but unfortunately they're so ignorant they don't even know who's bidding they're really doing and that's absolutely true that's why you myself many other people in the free your mind group are constantly out there trying to wake people up that this is a consciousness driven holodeck and everything you think everything you feel everything you do comes together and creates this reality but here's another meme that I want to shove in people's face okay the legal system in America is run now 100% by bar lawyers lawyers who have passed the bar to pass the bar means that you are of the temple bar in the City of London it means you are I for an aging that's why in the beginning of America lawyers were forbidden to hold public office and this is a great meme and says this five-story cayman islands building okay houses 18,857 companies call it home that's the pong station of 18,857 companies okay in that five-story building in the Cayman Islands you and I okay do not have an incorporation in the Cayman Islands so we don't pay taxes but the oligarchs who have taken over our government since especially since the coup d'etat of JFK okay I've just turned all the tax code all the regulation against the small and moderate businessman and entrepreneur and it's all going to the biggest multinational corporations and I'll give you one more mean on this financial stuff I'm shoving in your face and you'll love this okay banks collected over 30 billion in overdraft fee's lei Cheerilee another way of saying that is banks took 30 billion dollars from people that had no money 30 billion dollars in overdraft fees and if you've investigated how banks are jug juggling your account so that they can get overdraft fees if you're on a tight budget they actually will hold deposits up and then hit you with an overdraft fee they've actually been known to do this to actually mess with your accounts so they can hit you with an overdraft fee but thirty billion dollars you know what 30 billion dollars a year can buy the world I'll tell you what it can buy 30 billion dollars is the exact figure it would take to end hunger in the world and yet these vampires keep leeching leeching from the people who have the least while thirty billion dollars with feed and stop starvation will pick it up on the other side you know today disguise the night night diva today tried to run welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest tonight Jay Parker the images that we're talking about could be seen at the what on earth is happening dot-com website on the radio show page or with the podcast for tonight again this is podcast 171 Jay you were talking about some of these issues about worth wealth disparity disparity in the United States and how you know the top you know very very very small percentage less than point zero one percent of the people you know basically owned all the wealth in this country and throughout the world really and the bottom billions of people really have nothing and yet they're they're still trying to squeeze every last little bit out of you know people who are at the very bottom of society as if you know they don't already have enough this is a to mental disease so absolutely we're talking about really sick predators and of course they are Illuminati product or as many of them many of them are pedophiles many of them are possessed are conically and we are dealing with people who are so sick and we're going to talk about the occult in the second hour and I just wanted to come on and do some hard-hitting slap in the face financial reality to start the show off people think that this country has fairness and this is one of the most financially in equitable unfair societies in the world I mean it's just the wage disparity in America is worse than any other Western country CEOs compared to average workers in the company in America make vast amounts of more money than their counterparts overseas and I'm just I'm sick of it I mean we in America have thrown away 13,000 Liberty places in economic energy in the last ten years 13,000 Liberty places that's 26,000 high-rise towers folks there's a huge buildings that's a lot of Union jobs I mean folks you cannot take that kind of financial energy and throw it in the ocean if you do that you end up where we are today with an unemployment rate of 23% and everything is going down the tubes so the next meme I want to do uh say we're gonna get a little bit more philosophical to finish this section of the show out is the next meme is a slide five yes to learn Hugh Brule sover you simply find out who you're not allowed to criticize and that's Voltaire and nothing could be more true in today's society mark I would say the people who ultimately rule over people who are people who don't who Pete other people don't even know exist you know they don't even understand about the dark occult at all they don't even understand about this old religion that is these people's religion you know and their whole belief system their mentality the tenets of their ideology they know nothing about that you know they're they're they're so well entrenched in the shadows that that they have people believing that they don't even exist which is really one of the things I want to talk about in the next hour is the groups of people who still don't understand that dark occultism is what needs to be understood to understand the ideology and the force that's ultimately ruling this planet and they're still in denial about its existence very existence you know so those are the people that we have to understand are ultimately ruling this society and of course you can't criticize them if you don't even understand that they exist and that they're well organized and they that they have an agenda that they're carrying out so well what what I'm saying by this mean mark is and you could take it on several levels but simply you're not allowed to criticize the bank's because that's class warfare and we're a classless America you're not allowed to criticize Israel because that's ungodly and so on and so we can't criticize the church you know you can't absolutely criticize the the politicians now how dare you speak out against our wonderful president you know he's trying to make such great change happen in the world you know wow I'm hooked on the hope you so next me ms6 image number six yes go ahead read this one well it's the words of George Washington government is not reason it is not eloquent it is force like fire it is a dangerous servant and a fearful master I mean I would go farther than that and I would say government is violence it's not just force you know force I again I look at as a positive element it's using the ability to create physical change or use physical power to defend oneself that's what forces government is violence it is the unrightfully usage of physical power in order to coerce constrain you know or compel somebody to do something that they don't want wish to do you know voluntarily it's the opposite of voluntary interaction which is what violence is and and that's exactly what he says in the beginning of that statement government is not reason it does not reason with you it is not eloquent it is a sledgehammer and a gun all right so get it through your because Washington certainly understood what government really was so you still don't have enough of a critical mass of people understanding that government on its face from it's very inception the very conception of the idea of government is a complete fallacy it is illegitimate on its very face and most people still don't understand that and they want to get into these arguments about how much government should be use or how much government is necessary when the answer is all government is violence and slavery therefore all forms of government no matter how minimalistic will always altom utley lead to chaos and therefore they should never even be put into effect in the first place or even conceived of as an idea that is something somehow good for us that could lead to order when you're using violence you can't get to order it's not possible because it goes against natural law so you know I think the the founders understood this at a low level but not at a high enough level to put it into practice that's why you know while they came over here and secured a modicum of a free way of life for the people they made the mistake of going past what they had done with the Declaration of Independence and forming a new government they should have left it at you know we're free people were independent this is an independent land and try to come over here and rule us and find out what happens to you as a result you know that's what we need to say as a people and when we get the second American Revolution done we need to resist the temptation to ever bring this ridiculous notion of government into this land again and we need to be a shining example of a land without a government without a coercive and violent behavior towards people for other countries to then set an exam you know to set an example for other countries well our situation here is one of a people who systematically have been born and bred in ignorance and as long as you have ignorant you have freedom so let's go to the next one sure image 7 yep so this is one point by a Milton Friedman if you put the federal government in charge of the Sahara Desert in five years there be a shortage of sand Milton Friedman yep couldn't said any better myself but we have bombs to rain down on other countries you know we always have an abundance of those you know last year they were trying to shut down parks because we were the government was out of money and this year they're just raining bombs from drones down on you know on Syria on you know other other lands wherever they they feel like waging a UH you know an attack on other sovereign people and and you know nations you know wherever they think well we'd have to fight Isis oh yes that's the goddess and you know that's what this ultimately has been about for about two thousand years it destroying the Divine Feminine in the world and it's just amazing people still can't see the symbolism when the name is right in their face you know the well they don't know about what now ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening my special guest Jay Parker will be back stay with us welcome back everyone listening to what on earth is happening here on republic broadcasting i'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening dot-com my special guest this evening jay Park a ritual satanic ritual abuse survivor and Jay is also the host of his own radio show called SRA today which he hosts every Sunday evening on the blog talk radio network Jay let's continue with some of these memes into this hour and then we're gonna have a brief discussion on the occult before we take people's calls in our number-3 so we were we got past about half of them and we were on getting ready to move to meme on image number eight which was about gun control well I just want to say that a free people own firearms that's my slaves do not own firearm and that's all it comes down to folks I couldn't have said it any better than that myself the bottom line is slaves aren't allowed to defend themselves with any weaponry and only free people can keep and use any arms for personal and civil defensive purposes bottom line that's what they're for that's what they exist in the world for for defensive means and the only kind of people that are not allowed to own a weapon to defend themselves are called slaves period the end you know and this meme says it all you know because government would never turn on its own citizens you know that's why we should have more gun control we should take take the guns away from people so only the government and the police forces have guns a great great wonderful brilliant idea you know there's still people who listen to this show Jay who are ant gun which it's amazing you know one of the things that I want and by the way this image is showing Japanese internment camps during you know the World War two period here in America right here in America we had internment camps of whole racial communities of people you know as if that could never happen here it already happened past tense you know people just are that ignorant of history that they don't even understand this occurred here on this land but I want to just say that one of the closing statements that I made during my demystifying the occult seminar in the question and answer session somebody asked about the defensive use of physical force to beat back the attack that we have been undergoing for you know hundreds of years if not thousands of years on this planet this species you know has been undergoing by our interspecies predator psychopathic friends called governments of all ages you know when I feel that a question about self-defense my closing statement really in the question-and-answer session was anyone that does not own firearms is a very particularly at this point in our nation's history and the road that we seem to be heading down is a very very very stupid human being and I said it just like that to the crowd there in Connecticut and I said get his offended as you like people you know and I'll make that statement right here on the air tonight anybody I would say owning firearms is so important if if you have to not eat for days to have enough money to scrape enough money together to buy some form of defensive weaponry I don't care if you have to sell your clothes I don't care if your children won't eat for a couple of days you need to scrape that money together and get yourself something to defend yourself that's an you know if you can't hear the absolute imperative tone in the sound of my voice that you're never gonna get it you're never gonna understand you know that's where most people's head is that when it comes to this especially the New Agers especially the super ripe brain people among us you know I won't take more time I'll let you say what you want to say on this Jay but I think that I just know it's clear I started this show tonight telling people 26,000 skyscrapers worth of economic energy was thrown away in America in the last ten years it was a bank thrown out of the minds of the top one door hangover selling this place yeah yes thrown to the Rothschilds and the Rockefellers and DuPont's but I'm saying this that you've got to get your head around the fact that we have 300 trillion dollars worth of derivatives which is bad financial bets in the marketplace financially today and when this derivatives market blows up and when the BRICS of nations okay totally tanked the dollar which is coming a year from now the Brits of nations which is Brazil China Russia South Africa India when they develop their own International Bank of settlements they will no longer use the US dollar and you're going to see he'll freeze over in America well that's you're not armed good now that's when we'll have hyperinflation food you know won't be able to be purchased except for sky-high prices and it'll be the where Marwood public in this morning right and then the people will be slobbering at the mouth for some kind of a savior to pull us out of this and you know they'll go right it run right into the arms of a new dictatorship at that point because they still don't understand how why the healthy places around gone with the nice uniform let's move on to the next meme and you know this is something that I want to get first of all folks the gun issue I have not stopped you know I'm not going to stop covering that when I finish my cosmic abandonment extended presentation to of the thing themes I'm gonna relentlessly hammer on is the absolute imperative of understanding the importance of firearms ownership and above all else someone are just relentlessly hammer on the dynamic of order following and how it is ultimately it's the ultimate evil in this world and I'm gonna get into you know the whole mindset of order followers where that comes from what these people are thinking deep inside their subconscious mind and you know how to help get them out of that mindset and things that we can do to actually formulate strategies to reach these people so that's coming up in you know future you know works on this show and in my future presentations but another thing that's very near and dear to my heart that Jays been talking about endlessly is the medical use of cannabis which really needs to be exposed and more people need to understand that the curative properties of this wonder plant really need to be grasped and understood by people globally so Jay this next meme number nine is about you know cannabis is healing properties well simply stated mark the medical allopathic system in America that does chemo surgery and radiation for cancer therapy

500,000 Americans roughly die every year from cancer ah the average cost the chemo ranges from $60,000 a year to a hundred and forty thousand dollars a year unbelievable if cannabis oil treatment was commercially produced it would according to Rick Simpson from Phoenix tears CA our website you all need to go to to get information and get Richard in his book on cannabis oil treatment for a myriad of diseases cannabis oil chores all forms of cancer it cures hepatitis C it cures Lyme to cures Crohn's disease that your seizures really helps diabetes epilepsy get Rick Simpsons both for 995 it's an e-book at Phoenix tears CA and start putting the mean on your social media that cannabis oil chores and cancer and many other diseases and the book Jay is talking about is called cure for cancer the Rick Simpson protocol it's about rick simpson's suggested usage of 95 to 98% pure THC oil so we're coming up to another break folks stay with us we'll be right back with our special guest Jay Parker wake up from your sleep ladies and gentlemen if it's your soul you want to keep truer words were never spoken and that's what this is altima Thalia bout getting to the point of real awakening streetwise spirituality true enlightenment understanding both the non-aggression principle and the self-defense principle and not backing down from either one of them my special guest tonight Jay Parker satanic ritual abuse survivor and whistleblower and we were going through some of the memes that he wanted to discuss this evening we were talking about cannabis and how it's a cure for a laundry list of diseases and this the truth about this is attempting to be suppressed by the medical and pharmaceutical industry all I have to say is you know I've met people personally who have been cured from the usage of high THC concentration cannabis oil it does work it can heal late stage cancer and more people really need to understand about it right now even underground treatments for this stuff can be as little as a couple of thousand dollars which is nothing when it's compared with the immense healthcare costs of traditional so-called treatments that do nothing but indiscriminately attack cells both healthy and cancerous alike and you know you're rolling the dice with that kind of so-called treatment so I guess well can I say this up rolling is dice I mean if you were to roll the dice in the casino Marne you you baby circle you have about a 50/50 shot well you better odds then roll the allopathic cancer treatment dice and you've got a two point one percent chance which is a loaded set of dice to say finally just say the least it's what it is is we're gonna get you sick and we're gonna make you a customer until we kill you and the doctors all go by this Rockefeller approved protocol as well as a found outside my font of information it's about monkey that's right and all I have to say is with Simpson at Phoenix tears dot CA you need to go there get his book you can go and get a medical card in California or again Washington Colorado if you're out of state just go to one of the THC F clinics with your doctor's report of your element you know you can find them on the web THC F clinics and if you're out of state you can fly to one of these states you can get medical marijuana you can go see the rower and get oil and get treated before we move to the next is about $2,000 right now for a standard cancer there and probably I'm laying down it becomes commercial worldwide it will go down to $100 Wow that's what Rick Simpson says unknowable the difference is a hundred thousand dollars for chemo or a hundred dollars for cannabis and you by getting the word out and telling season Susan be Corman and these other frauds out there hell no we're not listening to your lies anymore and we're not listening to your corruption and getting the truth out you should not let anyone you know die of cancer child all person middle-aged you can go out west get a medical marijuana card if even if you're out of state and go through the system in these states of California Oregon Washington Colorado and get cured in like 90 days from the worst cancers it's just five hundred thousand people a year in America roughly die from cancer and it's needless another another thing I just want to put out there is the hype about certain types of cannabinoids like CBD being effective in cancer treatment it really isn't the case THC high concentration of THC is what's required in the extract of the oil extract from the cannabis plant from the cannabis indica plant even more so than the sativa is what's required in this oil so you want a high indica strain if possible and the the tetrahydrocannabinol is the act of healing ingredient not CBD so THC is what you want in cannabis oil absolutely and which Simpsons book talks about why you want to use indica rather than sativa indica is sedative it's healing it's calming and basically go to Phoenix tears CA and become an activist for this wonder drug stop sitting on the fence and saying it's not my problem the reason why thirteen trillion dollars okay worth of money got wasted in America the last ten years is people gave their power away and said it's not my problem I can't do anything about it if we all start to say enough is enough it will change well let's go to the next one yeah look like would you read that more let's move on to the next meme this is image number ten for people following along um it's a quote by John Lennon when I was five years old my mother always told me that happiness was the key to life when I went to school they asked me what I wanted to be when I grew up I wrote down happy they told me that I didn't understand the assignment and I told them that they didn't understand life interesting quote well well the thing is I I think that quote sums up our education system in our society very succinctly because he's looking at life from a poor of consciousness and they're looking at life as from a point of being a robot yeah their their value system that they're trying to indoctrinate children with is the the path to making money is the real value in life that's it and what you do to actually make money in society you know that's your value system that labor you have is you write your the work that you do is who you are that's you as you're doing is consciousness there's no such thing as eternal consciousness go back to sleep yeah and when Lenin is saying to be happy here he's not saying just to pursue pleasure he's talking about contentment because there is peace there is harmony there is you know the lack of violence in society you know it's in conjunction with you know the value system of truth love and freedom you know that's what I feel is his you know overall intent when he's using the word happy here doesn't mean hedonism so you know I think he's on target with what he's saying that you know ultimately hey that's our goal is truth love freedom and that's what contentedness and happiness will ultimately come from so yeah until you until you look at the person in the mirror and get on your Center path and face your subconscious and face the programming of your society and make adult decisions about who and what you are based on reality and knowledge you're simply just playing a tape that has been programmed into you in the first five years of your life and then you can change that this quote just you know perfectly highlights the kind of indoctrination that people receive in school so I guess let's move on to the next meme which was a quote from nassim haramein image 11 even an extremely small radius even at the extremely small radius of an atom still contains some 99.999 9% space and I'm just I tell people this that when you really look at the physics of our reality we are in a sea of energy and our consciousness is energy welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio tonight my special guest Jay Parker satanic ritual abuse survivor and whistleblower Jay were wrapping up a few of these memes you wanted to talk about we were on a quote before the break hit us from nassim haramein that even the extremely small radius of an atom still contains some 99.99999% space empty space you know this is about the seeming solidity of matter but yet at the base level everything is simply energy and vibration well Nikola Tesla that's all I have to say and why I put Nessie Mountain mine here is I always try to get people to get knowledge and viewpoints from really great teachers and that see me remind the physicists his work is someone you should check out and you can go to the resonance project.org I believe it is by Google Ness in our mind and you can see his stuff on YouTube and it'll really open your mind so once you read this Tesla quote mark sure I've seen this mean before by the way this is Nikola Tesla's most suppressed quote were on image number twelve in Jai's images and J's memes quote from Tesla only the existence of a field of force can account for the motions of the bodies as observed and its assumption dispenses with space curvature all literature on this subject is futile and destined to oblivion so are all attempts to explain the workings of the universe without recognize the recognizing the existence of the ether and the indispensable function it plays in the phenomena my second discovery was of a physical truth of the greatest importance as I have searched the entire scientific records in more than a half-dozen languages for a long time without finding the least in anticipation I consider myself the original discoverer of this truth which can be expressed by the statement there is no energy in matter other than that received from the environment I guess Tesla's talking about the vacuum of space or what people have called the ether of the etheric field absolutely and Tesla understood that we are in as Nassim Harriman says a super infinitely desk dense superfluid of energy and I'm telling you right now we should have free energy we should have so many things like anti gravitation I'm sure that the elite already do but hopefully as we keep pushing for free energy and antigrav will break through here but J hey what wasn't the existence of the ether completely disproven by the Michelson and Morley experiments you know you keep hearing that logical fallacy and you know that whole you know absolutely repeated mind-control technique you know that the this experiment that was set up like you know to collect this information about the ether was set up like you know to detect the existence of you know particles blown by the wind on a windless day you know that doesn't mean that there is no gas that there is no the wind doesn't exist just because you didn't pick it up as you are expecting to pick it up the way you set the experiment up because there was no wind on that day this is how they basically kind of set this Morley experiment and that is lame that totally decides now one of our favorite people from the past century Adolf Hitler said make the lie big and repeat it over and over again so you know very interesting I know Tesla was a very huge supporter of the idea of the ether and asunción go back if you go back and look at the turn of the 19th to 20th century those geniuses that like Fermi and other people like Tesla I mean just an incredible array of Jesus both in America and in Europe and the ether was talked about and written about all over the place and what we have here with the ether and now that's why I recommend Nassim hair mine because he'll show you the physicality of the 64 grid tetrahedron and it the vacuum of space is full of energy and all I have to say is you know Tesla and nasty hair of mine to people you need to know yeah the the video I recommend from Haramain is blackhole WH o le that's a really great seminar that he or a documentary that he put together regarding the the way that the structure of the the vacuum of space and how much potential energy that etheric field contains and he has continued you know we did a film called crossing the event horizon and this guy is probably one of the few honest physicists out there because if you have read the book by Rupert Sheldrake sign set free you will understand that our major scientific communities are controlled by Illuminati dark and they're not letting the truth out it's a religion unto itself hence why I and other researchers refer to it as scientism it's a belief system in and of itself let's wrap up with these last couple of quotes and then we'll move on into a discussion of the dark occult good so I want you to read this one this is by Malcolm X this is image 13 the media is most powerful the media is the most powerful entity on earth they have the power to make the innocent guilty and to make the guilty innocent and that's power because they control the minds of the masses I couldn't have said it better myself as most people would rather die than think you know that's what it all comes down to they don't want personal responsibility to truly understand the difference between right and wrong behavior and that's why they continue to ideologically support violence that's why they continue to act like slaves and engage enslaved think mentality and you know they're just you know at this rate they they just they don't even want the truth they don't want to hear it you know they want to exist in their little childish mentality which is all about victim mentality what was me what can we do they're too powerful etc and so forth and it's all just a little babies child mentality of I don't really want to take responsibility for myself grow up and actually do something about this scenario that's playing out I'd rather be a passive spectator and just you know watch the world pass by instead of actively becoming involved in trying to change other people's mindset because that's the hardest work there is to do is get up in people's mind and try to change their mental state by working with that dark matter and those logical fallacies and those completely that complete ignorance and lack of understanding and bringing the light into that darkness by force if you have to by continuing to engage in talking to them about things they don't want to talk about by continuing to bring it to their attention relentlessly that's the great work ladies and gentlemen and that's what people don't want to do because they recognize the power of this signal that poisonous signal coming in from the media and coming in from bad food and just bad information and people don't want to get involved in cleaning up all that garbage that's going on in between people's ears and in their body you know they don't want to get involved it's a sanitation job is what it really is to make the world sane again you've got to become the garbage man of the world and you got to work with the dark twisted diseased matter that is in other people's minds and souls that's why the great work is so unpopular because of the very strength of the media and how much it has people's minds on lock down you know so very powerful quote there you know by someone who I think understood the importance of action personally absolutely and and what why I put Malcolm X here and you know I want people to really think about what happened in the 60s in America and really just sit and contemplate for a few minutes about the assassinations that went on and what the men that got murdered by the CIA in the FBI you know really stood for and then look at our society today and realize that the coup d'etat of 1963 and Jack Kennedy's murder by Lyndon Johnson and the CIA really and truly destroyed America and we got one more route sure this is the last one image 14 it's about nine eleven well all I can say is if you believe that airplanes can fly into the twin towers and make them turning to dusk you've been watching too many cartoons yeah you know I've endlessly gone through you know the whole 9/11 fear-based mind-control operation and you know how this was a total scam you know my background in mechanical engineering I've brought it onto the show and went in physics equations to prove this hoax but we'll pick this up on the other side folks stay with us welcome back everyone you're listening - what on earth is happening here on rbn I'm your host Marc passio my website what on earth is happening calm my special guest this evening J Parker J we were just wrapping up with the last meme in your collection here of 14 images it was about 9/11 being a you know essential stage show to promote fear and institute draconian measures in the United States the things that we saw were an even inconsistency with you know weren't even consistent with the laws of physics and people still buy into this event and bring it up as the hallmark event for the reason we need to continue all these draconian policies that we've implemented here in fascist communist America well absolutely and the reason I like this meme is it's really cuts right to the bone of the heart of the issue the official story is against all the laws of physics and if you can look yourself in the face and believe something that denies the basic laws of Newtonian physics and you're okay with that do me a favor leave the planet now for people that want to go back in my archive of podcasts again I broke down with my mechanical engineering background I actually bored people by bringing all of the numbers involved in the buildings into the into account and plugging them into the basic physics dynamics equations you know the Newtonian equations of rectilinear dynamics and solving those equation to prove that the official story was impossible according to the actual known laws of physics so you know people can go back into your cave and bring that show up if they just search on the page when they look at the podcast section for 911 I went into a I took a whole show to basically break that down so I guess also also you broke down the occult aspects of 9/11 that story video there's another that's even more important Jimmy there's another thing people don't understand as hell you know the the the societies that ultimately were basically planning this whole agenda and had planned this event for decades before this they were using all kinds of occult symbolism and you know numerology in this event and that's you know that's they stick to this plan that they're very predictable in that regard because they love their symbolism they love their you know playing with numbers they love putting this out into other people's face because they feel one of their dark principles if you want to look at it like that of their ideological tenets is that if you tell people what you're doing even if it's telling them wordlessly through symbol or through numbers then you have somehow gotten there implied consent you know because they haven't said no and not to say no is to tacitly say yes in their ideology in their mentality and so that you know somehow in their mind relieves the burden of karma that would ordinarily come down upon them for taking these actions or directing these actions they don't actually take the action they get their order following house slave dogs to do it for them but you know in their mind because they told you in a wordless occult way then somehow that you know alleviates the burden of karma that would ordinarily come down upon them because they did say it in some form it's all a little bit deeper not to because what they like to do is get people to actually see the truth and then automatically choose denial and the propaganda they've grown up with yes so they see the lie like john f kennedy's assassination or Robert Kennedy's assassination right Robert Kennedy had four bullets in them from the back Sirhan Sirhan was standing four to six feet in front of him so none of the bullets that entered Robert Kennedy's body could have been from Sirhan Sirhan yet the American people stood by and allowed Sirhan Sirhan to go to jail for Robert Kennedy's murder and this is an act of cowardice and act of compliance that you know Slee think people do and so basically you know that they're not even trying to make it difficult to figure out who did it and why I mean it's right in your face and why did we attack Iraq and Afghanistan for the oil okay yeah when when these so-called hijackers were all from Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates but we got in two completely unrelated countries but Jay you know this brings up this you know you getting into the topic of denial brings up really what I wanted to get into we may go into this a little bit in the first segment of the next hour which by the way I just want to quickly give the calling number I we will be taking calls for myself and Jay Parker in our number three then call a number to join us next hour 800 three one three nine four four three once again 831 three ninety four forty three what I wanted to segue into with that you know topic of denial that you brought up is how many groups of people are still in denial about the existence of dark occultism in general and will never touch the topic of the occult world they don't want to believe that they live in a world that is governed by a dark religion by dark religious ideology see they want to think there's so many groups of people that want to blame the entire problem with what's going on in the world on one particular aspect of things they want to say oh it's all the bankers that the bankers are the ones who are the problem of the world it's all a financial problem if we could just reel in our control over the money the world is gonna be a great place to live in we're gonna have everything figured out and it's all going to turn around then you have another group of people oh it's just the political you know class of people we just got the wrong people in office you know if we just get the right people into political positions get them voted in get all these bums voted out you know get the right people in political office everything's gonna turn around it all just work itself out you have the people who think it's all just you know religion controls it all oh it's it's the Catholics or its you know the the Jesuit Order you know they're the ones who were behind all of it and you know if we just you know get in their route out there these sick religionists you know then okay then everything's going to be fine you have people who think it's just a you know racial group of people oh it's all the Jews that are causing all of the problem of the world you know we don't want to look at political Zionism or Talmudic Zionist belief systems we want to just blame Jewish people and say it's all their fault you know we want to say you know it's other religious groups you know it's the Islamists radical Islam is the core of the problem with the world was look and we we have to fight that ideological war and fight them over there before they get us over here all of these people are in denial about the old religion by the old religion I'm talking about the dark occult the cult of the Black Sun the dark solar cult priests class that is about the hoarding of high-level knowledge the hoarding of occult Sciences the hoarding of ancient psychological knowledge about how the deep recesses of the human subconscious mind work and berate the hoarding of the knowledge of how natural law functions to ultimately govern the consequences of our behavioral decisions and the actions that we perform toward others you know this is the knowledge that this dark religious priests class has and holds over the heads of the people of this world and they use it as a weapon for those who they keep an ignorant of these laws of nature and of the deep aspects of the human subconscious mind and the motivational factors that drive human beings you know they don't want us to have that self-knowledge they don't want us to have the knowledge of natural law this is why I call these things the most occulted subjects the most occultic knowledge on the face of the earth and you know I just want to say the people who still are in denial of the existence of dark occultism that don't want to understand that ultimately a dark and global religion that has a hidden priest class in operation throughout all of the institutions on the face of the earth is what's really controlling things they are a tight-knit operation of very different orders and societies that work like a spiderweb Network throughout the world where one hand washes the other and they work together toward a common goal we're going to pick this discussion up on the other side of this break in the first segment of the next hour ladies and gentlemen you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back welcome back everyone to our number three of tonight's edition of what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my website what on earth is happening calm the networks website Republic broadcasting org my special guest tonight Jay Parker Jay before the last break we were talking about the fact that so many groups of people still are in denial of the world of the occult particularly the old religion that I simply refer to as the dark occult why do you think people are still in this level of denial and still are in such a level of mind control that they can't even hear the word a cult and understand that it means hidden knowledge and that they just want to shut down glaze over and you know go into this you know hiding mode practically when they even hear the word occult let alone try to understand how these groups have worked together in tandem which with each other to carry out the control agenda that's playing out right before our eyes well it's pretty simple mark what you have to do to get the handle you know what happened to humanity is basically you have to see what happened to education in the Western culture through the Frankfurt School and through outcome based education once critical thinking was removed from the classroom and replaced with outcome based education and the German Prussian model of repeat after me and don't think basically we ended up with people that don't have any critical thinking skills and don't ask the question why is this person telling me this information what is their benefit in me believing this and you really have to look at the history of cultural manipulation by the oligarchs and when you start to study history and start studying the bankers which is just part of what the oligarch control dark occult is you will see the bankers in America for instance in 1912 bought 25 of the largest newspapers in America and turned them from being you know newspapers that reported the news to newspapers which reported propaganda and they took over the education system they used the tax system to slowly take over the pulpit and we have a society now that basically is controlled top and bottom and to learn about the control of society because people need to know that they're programmable it's it's a hard thing for people to face but if you listen to Bruce Lipton's work wisdom of yourself you would know that in the first five years people are in hypnagogic trance right and they're taking all their in culturalization and whatever their culture tells them that becomes the word of god to them whether you grow up in a religious family or not that first five years six years your life before you ramp up and get a normal full mind consciousness and have all your brainwave patterns that becomes your subconscious it runs 98% of your thoughts and deeds in your life and wisdom of yourselves like Bruce Lipton goes into what the ramifications for a human being is in their subconscious and so what we have in our society are people who are steered by the Illuminati's Tavistock Institute for human relations and dr. John Coleman wrote a excellent book on this and until you read that book until you start to look at Bruce Lipton's work on how the human brain develops in the first five years you're not really even going to want to get on the center path and start to learn and become your own person because you're not gonna see the need for it because you're going to be a zombie undermine control and still in collectivist mentality yes all right now one of the things you brought up was program ability this is something that I've been repeatedly focused on in my work when it comes to human nature and it's a hard pill for a lot of people to swallow that we are a programmable species with that having been said the importance of understanding the programmability of the human being especially at a young age cannot be understated but I think to balance this we still need to understand that people are still responsible for their behavior even if they receive soft programming soft mind control like what what I would call soft forms of mind control this still doesn't excuse us for the responsibility over our own behavior it means that we have to still critically gauge the way that we have fed been been receiving information and then filter that information and come to a conclusion about whether it is inherently consistent with itself this is still a capability that people have but they don't use they don't use because it's much easier to just go along with the programming by rote like an automaton like they've been trained to do it's much harder to resist your training and you know want to break free from that confined set of protocols and parameters that you've been given to operate under because with that those protocols and parameters are saying to your not only your conscious but your subconscious mind is hey you're not responsible we are we're the ones who gave you these orders we're the ones who programmed you like this and told you that all you have to do is listen to us and so we'll be responsible for the ramification of the results of your behaviors you're not ultimately responsible for that we are you know the ones who are your order follow or order givers ok the ones who are your programmers and it's not true they can make that claim all they want but ultimately people are still responsible for the behaviors that they carry out and this is one of the central cornerstones of my work and it's again it's one of the reasons people don't like to hear what I have to say in many cases because so many people want to believe that in the final equation human beings are not ultimately responsible for the behaviors that they themselves carry out they want to pass the buck and the responsibility on to someone else and well I let's claim this is only a claim that can only be made but it's never true in reality in reality we're ultimately responsible we can make the claim that we can advocate that responsibility but we can't actually in reality abdicate that responsibility to anyone else it always belongs to us well this is where you're way off base because I was just following orders you know the the idea of my job right yeah it's just - my job I didn't make this along now the thing is this is a huge thing that is throughout all of society today and it's been systematically programmed into people for the last three or four generations is that you can take your world culpability and pass it away to someone else and say well the politician made me do it that the law maybe do it this that and the other thing you cannot in reality take away your responsibility for your own actions absolutely and again this is going to be one of the things I'm going to relentlessly hammer upon in coming weeks months and years in the water earth is happening material so Jay I think was really worth taking this extra segment to get into some of that material ladies and gentlemen your calls coming up on the other side stay with us you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening I'm your host mark passio my special guest this evening Jay Parker satanic ritual abuse survivor and whistleblower Jay are you ready to go to the phones and take some calls yeah mark I just want to talk briefly before we take a phone call you cannot give the number out now just say a few things sure toll-free number to join us 831 394 43 I just want to thank you again for having me on it's always a pleasure to be here you know I love to come in here and you know try to spot people upside the head we're at a point where 40% of the ozone layer is gone from geoengineering spring and if this continues some scientists say we'll have no life in the northern hemisphere of the planet in 15 years so keep that mind that the aluminum barium and the HAARP that used to manipulate the jet stream and change the weather patterns is destroying the planet but also I just want to say this one little story I grew up in Arden Delaware which is in a cold pedophile village that worships the marquee of hell 90% of the children I grew up with in the 60s in Arden Delaware work richly satanically abused and many of them went into the cia's monarch mind-control program that I was in now what I'm saying is Arden was founded in 1900 along with their sister community Rose Valley Pennsylvania people like John lash the Gnostic scholar are still in denial about 10 trails they're still in denial about satanic communities in the world but let me send this one little nugget my Illuminati muddler who worked for the DuPont he said to me as she was training me to be Illuminati when you see a town or a city that has T o n in the end of its name that's off so think of Wilmington think of Trenton think of Boston t o n now it doesn't mean the entire city is a cult the entire town is a cult what it means is key people in the founding of that society were dark occult and I say to everyone I've said in my talk with Alfred Weber which is on the web that there are 34 million dark cultist in America today roughly 10% of the population it's not just the elite Rockefellers DuPont's and Rothschilds it's the cops it's the teachers it's professor's they like their little wordplay their symbolic wordplay you know they're dark optimists so we're gonna add a ton to the end of you know the names of these towns there you go and what why bringing this up is when you look at Philadelphia look at the statue of Billy Penn on top of City Hall in this right hand yes a scroll which my mother said means and this is the freemason symbol for having dark occult hidden knowledge that in his left hand Billy Penn has a bag and as my mother told me every warlock has a bag and if you think Billy Penn the Quaker wasn't a warlock you better talk to my mother and the darkness I grew up with because they knew he was Jay I'm gonna personally revisit some of this symbolism and put together a presentation about the name bill in general like here in Philadelphia the occult symbolism of City Hall is so obvious maybe I could do an entire presentation on that one phallic symbolism zodiacal ashraf theological symbolism in the middle of city hall the hypercube octagon symbolism is all over it crushing the different races of the world there's reptilian symbolism inside it's unbelievable it's just a modge podge of dark occult symbolism absolutely all over that building so that's something I want to do in the future duh let's uh let's see what some of our callers have to say and again no taboo topics here on this show there never are anything you want to ask me or J is open and fair game let's go to the phones let's hear from Robin in Missouri Robin you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show hey guys so all of these quick as possible so I want to hear your input on a quick story that I have and it's pretty important for my community where I'm living right now basically I'm certain beyond a doubt that there is a satanic this information agent lurking around in my area right now polluting the minds as much community members so what I want to do is work out my story to you really quick and then I want to hear what you have to say about it cuz it's it's pretty crazy sure so is that okay yes sure okay so I live in Missouri in very local rural rural area with Amish and Mennonites are on everywhere so it it's there are three communities living in this area who are intentional communities and eco villages and we're all part of this network of living sustainability sustainably and living with one another above in the land and you know a lot of the people in the area are very conscious people and they're aware from the trees anything's going on the world but they're still naive to a lot of the manipulation going on right so if you go ahead you know your mind focused on this location imagine the shire in the Lord of the Rings basically where I'm at that's what it looks like so there's this guy who's going around and he's he's not been around for a long time but he's basically trying to convert people that idea that climate change is the it's caused by human and he's repeating information to people trying to convince them over and over again he's repeating this stuff like it's his job and he's asking people how much water they're saving and all these things I have no no doubt in my mind that he's a spy and this past May we had a party on Mayday where all of our three members got together and had a party to celebrate the coming of spring and you know we danced to music he attended wearing goat's clothes so he dressed up his pants and he I was playing a flute and I know that's possum and symbolism I know and he's trying to spread satanic philosophy and subconsciousness I really I know what this guy is doing so I want to ask you all and you go further he works on people computers that's his job he fixes through his computer so he has access to his data and looks at what they're doing and there are children and the area that he interacts with so this is some serious stuff so I want to ask you how fast can I approach my community members and bring the subject up in a way where they don't just dismiss it right away and think I'm crazy this is serious I need these community members to understand what's going on so that's that's why I wants it changed you like to respond to that well I mean we all know that when it comes to agenda21 issues like global warming and climate change the government is spending billions of dollars in buying agents and getting the word out and these sounds like a spy to me I mean I'm just telling ya and you know not too many people are gonna get dressed up as pan on Beltane okay so right there I mean I got a little bit of a spiritual hit when you said that I was like well doesn't sound too good you know yeah sounds like you know he's a dark occultist and he's probably working for the government but what you can do about that is if you want people to wake up to you know the occult reality probably one of the things you would want to look into is the work of Michael twos Ariane along with Mark Paseos work but Michael caesareans work dealing with the aging history in ogv or we gotta go to already we'll be right back folks welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening my special guest tonight is Jay Parker we were taking your calls toll-free number to join us 800 three one three nine four four three Jay I'll let you wrap up your comment on Robin from Missouri's comment well Robin uh you know when you mentioned II was dress says pin at the Beltane I got a little flutter in my spirit and I'm definitely thinking in dark and cold but he sounds like a government agent and so he's an agenda 21 boy he's toeing the company line about sustainability and the fact that human beings are bad with their co2 and global warming now the issue of climate change and what's going on with the weather you need a lot of true information and someone who doesn't have an axe to grind whether it's an oil man or whether it's a quote-unquote communist environmentalist and the website you need to go to to get ammunition and truth about climate changing about what's really going on with the ecology is a website called geoengineering dot org geoengineering doors Engineering watch dr. Joe sorry geoengineering watch.org it's run by Dane Wigington geoengineering watch.org has a radio show at I guess it's 3:00 p.m. Eastern Time every Saturday for an hour and go to geoengineering watch.org and look at their information and you'll really get a understanding of the chemtrails and HAARP situation and what's really going on with the ecology these people that run this website only care about saving humanity much like Mark and myself great comment Jay let's move on and let's hear from Jonathan in New York City Jonathan you're live on what on earth is happening with our special guest Jay parkour welcome when did I prefer you to be addicted I am did yours where did I work for you to be a dick Jonathan are you there going once going twice gone let's hear from Eric and Colorado Eric you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show Jay mark how you guys doing tonight doing well good I'm so glad I got through Jay I have huge admiration for your work every time I think that I'm serving with mind control I'm growing up in a supposedly normal loving reasonably stable American family I think about what you've overcome on your path and it creates a great admiration for me and great inspiration speaking of inspiration I've been meaning to call the show for a couple weeks now mark I've been in touch with Ivan from Arizona oh yes I start meet up here called free your mind Colorado awesome I'd love to see these grips spring up all over the country yeah so we have we're going to be meeting the first in third Thursdays of the month here in Denver at a coffee house called Stella's popular coffee house which is sort of midway between north and south in Burnet row area I'm actually I should be living little ton was a last for me tonight OUP you'll be happy to know my occult family an uncle lived there also so enjoy I'll just go door to door and see if I can find him and ask him but so anyway we're gonna meet the person through Thursdays at Stella's and it is on the meetup comm site under free your mind Colorado I feel like no I discovered you guys through tragedy and hope started your work market has literally changed my life I prom there aren't other people in Denver that are aware or and so surely imagine that place to show it though this is a phenomenal idea you know you know people should take an example from someone like Eric and someone like Ivan you know put together a group in your area find like-minded people meet once or twice a month you know get together talk make a strategy to reach other people give out DVDs and and you know presentations you know this is grassroots effort this is how you reach out how you find other like-minded people and then how you branch out and spread the word to other people in your community and this is how you try to influence people's minds you know you have to get together with each other physically in person it's a great idea Erica I wish you all the luck in the world in starting this group I hope it goes great for you well Erica G to Facebook I do well if you're not a friend of mine definitely give me a friend's request and we'll do some chatting and I'll talk T again knob you know I was really help hold with an email of you know what he's found successful and you know so I you know it's interesting at my co-organizers there's a good friend of mine a lady I know quite well and you know I turned her on to to mark and like just watching I mean it was completely inspiring like you know she was sort of right there yeah it's not quite ready and just watching this sort of upward spiral and people take this kind of what I really call it like a bath in the truth right you know like this on going like wow pretty much thing after thing after thing like is verifiable in your own experience and you're not like looking to start a church or be a guru or having people send money or any you know just like this stuff is all free you know like all three like you don't need to believe him you don't need to sign up for anything you know all just there for free you need to listen to it as long as you're going to stand it and you know ask yourself a few questions so that's right I hope and you know what that this like I said this is what real grassroots effort is all about it isn't about you know waiting endlessly you know to take action it's about putting something together you know reaching out to other people and let it be what it is and take on a life of its own and you'll build it you'll build the effort you'll reach new people up new people will come in and become involved you know and you just keep pressing forward with a little bit of patience and persistence and you know you'll see that you'll you'll reach new people and you'll you'll change lives that's what this is all about and we're talking about Eric we're talking about a quality of life issue turn the TV off and turn your mind on Eric I want to you know thank you for your personal efforts and you know stepping out and putting something together and making something happen we need more people with that kind of courage we need more people with that kind of dedication to actually get up and do something so you know I totally applaud your efforts thanks goes to you and maybe when the book is published we'll do a road trip out west and you can hit Arizona and Colorado sounds good we will say Oh Eric thanks so much for the call let's move on to Alex in Florida Alex you're live on what on earth is happening welcome hi mark thanks my caller hi hi do you believe that the dark occult is managing countries like Russia as well in China it's our curiosity I'm sometimes wonder it's I personally believe there is strong in those countries as they are in the United States or any other countries I think it is ultimately that it's the force that's running at the highest level of all institutional bodies in the world because it came out of the ancient world and the knowledge that came out of the ancient world that was left here by again this cosmic abandonment idea this thesis that other beings came here in the ancient past with very advanced knowledge very advanced sciences very advanced you know knowledge of genetics biology psychology etc knew everything there was to know about us because they essentially you know bioengineered us and they basically left this priest class in charge when they no longer wanted to be here and went back to wherever it was that they ultimately came from that was the abandonment of this species and this priest class was this you know cabal of people with high-level knowledge that had been entrusted to them by these people left quote-unquote in charge as the authorities to govern were administrate this world that was left in a state of basic disarray and the people in chaos and confusion and they took that knowledge and they ran with it they understood that that knowledge if it was held very tightly within their own circles and held out of other people's hands could be converted to a very large power differential in society and that's what started the original secret societies the intelligence networks you know the all the institutional bodies of the earth began as a result of that knowledge disparity in the poppy being very concentrated in the hands of this priest class and very absent in the hands of the general population it was the origin of dark occultism and that spread to all countries not just some but everywhere across the face of the earth that's why we're in the situation we're in now we've never come out of that level of control I'll let J give his take on that on the other side of this break folks you're listening to what on earth is happening we'll be right back we go welcome back everyone you're listening to what on earth is happening this is the last segment for this edition of the broadcast my special guest Jay Parker we're taking your calls toll-free number to join us 831 three nine four four three Jay your take on Alex from Florida's question regarding whether the dark occult has presences in all other countries well if you look at blad amir putin you'll see pictures of him with a yarmulke on russia deals with the Rothschild Vatican central banking system there is no difference we put the communist meaning the CIA and the Rockefellers and our oligarchs put the Communists in power in Red China so there's only a handful of countries that are outside of the central banking globalist dictatorship and that would be North Korea Iran Syria and I think there might be one other country there was that that changed Cuba last yeah Libya is gone now so all I have to say is there are all different flavors of criminal gangs and occasionally they have wars to settle gangster disputes just like mobsters in Chicago in the 20s and 30s yep internal turf wars basically yep but basically there's probably a thousand really eight hundred five hundred topic cultists and there's a book out called super class and it gives the story of the two hundred thousand people that basically rule this world I recent college study came out and said that on a double-decker bus a London double-decker bus you could put 80 people on that literally owned half this planet yep all right let's move on let's hear from Robert in Missouri Robert you're live on what on earth happening welcome hey greetings guys um you know I'm living here in st. Louis and right now this city is under such severe divide-and-conquer of mine and control with these uh police shootings you know and this it's just it's it's fascinating to be here and watch the divide between along racial lines yes yep it's amazing that any white people could be so racially charged and belief believe in this nonsensical ridiculous idea of a division of races and humanity that they would actually like have good little house slaves support what the police are doing in this country that they would actually get behind a police state system it's a disgusting disgusting ideology that these people have and you know anybody whose race is just completely and utterly misses the point of what's going on on this world come absolutely misses it entirely they have no idea what's going on they haven't grown up there's still a little little child who is in this mimimi I identify with my tribe ideology and they have no idea how they're completely owned they're completely ruled and as long as they're in that mentality they're going to be ruled you know and people in there and until I got I'll need to wake up and understand it it is a divide and conquer strategy and they're falling for it hook line and sinker well it's a hybrid version though because they've got the blacks in st. Louis ready to strike out any in any way they can the frustration levels so high you know we know this the n-double-a-cp was started by Jacob Schiff Paul Warburg rabbi Stephen wise a bunch of Jewish supremacists to use the african-american population as a bludgeon as a weapon system in many cases you're dealing with a lot of ignorant people that are being manipulated themselves you know but to you know the whole point here is ultimately the government is still doing things that are completely against human rights and they keep pressing and pressing and pressing I would just give you an example every single time I travel I'm selected out of line because I have a beard and because if you look at some of my features I could look Egyptian or possibly Middle Eastern not just Italian you know I my my you know heritage goes back to southern Italian descent so that's mixed into you know Egyptian in North northern Africa etc I could be seen to have some somewhat feature a feature set like that every single time they try to claim it's a random process oh you're being randomly selected to be taken out of line and have your bag you know dust it down for some explosive material or whatever it's not a random process clearly these psychopathic were following house slaves have been told racially profile these people racially profile man anybody that looks somewhat middle-eastern or or or you know other questionable descent or heritage pull them out and make an example of them there's nothing random about it it's called racism that's what's going on there it's called selecting people because of their feature set not because you know anything about them because you know anything about their intent because you have any belief that they may do something that's harmful to somebody else I'm a peaceful person traveling and you want to pull me out of line because of how I look because I have a beard and long hair and I had I might look you know a Middle Eastern were Egyptian you know well you know markets like this the Fox News proud that can serve as yards this is the almost D strongest form of mind to nettle out there as this Islamophobic a thing that's been wrong the you know your regular old Republican type of person because they're ready to commit genocide on the entire Islamic world you know over these fake to headings and the rest of this card like I said well like I said earlier in the show it's everybody trying to blame some kind of a subclass of people that they have some kind of a distaste for when they can't see that the ultimate master nations and manipulations are going on behind the scenes by this priest class that Jay and I simply refer to as the old religion or the dark occult until you understand what that group of people is and what their ideology is you don't know what's going on on this planet Jay your take on this as long as you're divided you're conquered and as long as people are at a partial level of awakening and not all the way awake not in a state of true spiritual streetwyze spirituality level of enlightenment of understanding both the highest principles of creation which are the Sacred Feminine and non-aggression principle combined with the sacred masculine principle of self-defense people are still ultimately asleep until they understand natural law at a high level they're ultimately asleep you know it's called as long as we abide in partial darkness we will continue to be conquered and being divided is being conquered as Jay just said I want to thank you for your call Robert let's try to squeeze one more call in here if we can Jay let's go to Jonathan and Kentucky Jonathan you're live on what on earth is happening welcome to the show and we have limited times get to your question quickly thank you I'd like to know do you have a mailing address or pedo box that we can send donations to I've gone on your website yes I can yes we can you can contact me by email in the contact section there is an email link to request sending a donation by mail just send me an email through that link and then I will reply with the mailing address to do so okay I have a quick question for Jay this is a spiritual encounter I had I had a Jersey I'll make this quick I had a dream of a serpent was coiled around my arm and bit me and sent energy to my heart and right before it hit my heart I consciously woke up in my bedroom and seen the tree of life symbol and my face and immediately as I was aware of it and it was aware of me being aware of it it disappeared my lamp fell over and I heard a thousand knocks of like people knocking above my head and underneath my bed others chime in on that before J does I would say you had a very powerful Kundalini experience in symbolically and that's a
